Off-campus housing aid

by WILLIAM OWENS

There's a new housing aid program in the process of emerging on campus this year which will, if established, provide students with information leading to off-campus housing, according to ASI Vice Pres. Denny Johnson.

The new housing aid program will attempt to assist any student desiring information concerning the rent, floor space, and the requirements of residency for any house or apartment renting to students.

Until now, the only housing aid organization on campus was the Student Housing Association, which dealt only with those students desiring information leading to on-campus living.

"The new program is needed," says Johnson, "because there's a lot of students and a lot of housing off-campus, but no coordinating agency in between. Students have a right to a housing office concerned with the off-campus housing that is available."

The new housing aid program, which would require the hiring of a full time secretary and part time student director, is expected to cost approximately $10,000. Thus far, funding from ASI and the Student Affairs Division totals $600.

Johnson said that the ASI has, and will, help out (the new program) as much as possible, but "the administration will just have to give a little more money for the program.

Johnson also indicated that the city may also be able to aid in the new program financially.

Hillside 'P' maintained

The "P" on the side of the hill will continue to be maintained by Rally Committees for as long as the majority of students are in favor of it, according to Greg Whits, Rally Committee special events chairman.

In a survey conducted last May by Rally Committee, an overwhelming majority of students questioned were in favor of maintaining the "P." According to Schults, questionnaire were distributed to all clubs and committees on campus last spring, and the response was strongly in favor of preserving the "P."

The survey was conducted after the "P" became the object of controversy and vandalism last year. Those in opposition to the structure included ecology groups and people concerned with the appearance of the hill. Most responses which favored the "P" mentioned the structure's involvement in tradition and school spirit.

The committee is now planning to repair the excessive damage done by vandals to the structure last year and to maintain it indefinitely.

BART crash: injuries minor

Fremont, Calif. (UPI) — A sleek new Bay Area Rapid Transit District train Monday smashed into a sand barrier at 90 miles an hour, then dropped nose-down to a parking lot below, after failing to stop at the end of the line.

Five persons were hurt - none seriously - in the first accident on the $1.4 billion transit system which went into partial operation three weeks ago. The first car, in which the two-car train plowed through the sand embankment at the end of track, then plunged through a chain link fence and plowed its nose into asphalt parking lot 10 feet below.

The 800,000 car ended up as a 90-degree angle, with its front end in the lot and the back end at track level. The second car remained on the track when the train was uncoupled. There are four student and four of the passengers in the first car suffered minor injuries. The

7 candidates to speak out

Seven candidates for the San Luis Obispo County Board of Supervisors will speak to the concerned public Thursday from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. in College Union Room 238.

Speakers slated for this event are Emmons Blake and Dr. Richard Kroeja from District 5; Ann Butworth Caldwell and Hans Heinmann from District 1; and Kurt Kopper, Dr. George Harper, and Clid Whatchel from the third District.

Thursday's program, sponsored by Speakers' Forum, will be conducted by Carl Wallace, member of the E.O.P. organization, and will provide those attending the precious chance to find out where the candidates stand on the main issues, and to ask questions of personal interest.
The Gay Student Union battle packed the courtroom, but the people there for the most part weren’t the students who are paying the price of the case.

Close to $5,000 has already been set aside out of ASI fees to support the GU suit. Some say that’s a waste of the students’ money. That’s almost $25 cents from each student, a fair price for a circus admission ticket. Too bad so few turned up to catch the show.

Edward Belasco, state attorney general, and counsel for the state in the case, apparently, he was having difficulty keeping anal and oral copulation separated in his mind.

Belasco asked witness after witness what sexual acts homosexuals participate in—other than what was apparent from the testimony. As the entertainment came to an end, the judge asked for written summations of each side’s arguments.

Included in the case is a demand for the state to pay the attorney fees if the ASI wins. Unfortunately, the student loses either way—directly through his student body fees or through the multitude of taxes he pays to the state.

Plan to attend the finals in November. Unless you’re a gay student, it may be the only way you ever get your money’s worth.

Birth control

"Birth Control and Pregnancy" will be the topic of a speech by Dr. Arnold tonight in room 109 of Drexler Library at 8 p.m.

The speech is sponsored by the Poly Student Wives Club, and is part of their regular meeting.

Project tries to catch staff

A standing committees of Student Affairs Council which will be monitored by the campus health service is now forming. The first meeting will be held tonight at 8 in room 119 of S.B. Hall.

According to Skip KsUay, the originator of the plan, the program is essentially an information system which will allow students to find out what is possible in student government at this school.

KsUay has compiled and indexed each letter significant to this university system. His index includes all laws and regulations authorized by the trustees and chancellor, the college administration and the ASI.

The purpose of the program is to identify and list the offices of the operational committees of the ASI by rapidly providing accurate information concerning all possibilities.

The only qualifications required for committee membership are student standing, interest, and the desire to be heard.

Aiding transfer students

by BRUCE ULLMAN

Dr. Robert O. Valpey, dean of the School of Engineering and Technology, has been appointed to a state-wide committee whose purpose is to make life easier for the junior college transfer student.

"It's a pretty traumatic experience for a transferring student to discover that Bang— he loses all of his credits of work at a community college," said Valpey, referring to the problem of transfers.

The Ad Hoc Committee on Technology Education of the Articulation Conferences, the committee's purpose is to assure that junior college students in technical majors are properly prepared for their transfers to four-year colleges.

"I think it's an opportunity for me to serve the state and students in improving the relationships among the various sectors in technical education," said Valpey.

Recently, the committee has been expanded to include the private sector of colleges in the state.

Valpey came to this university in July after having been dean of engineering at California State University, Fullerton, for several years. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois, where he earned his doctorate, as well as the University of Colorado, the U.S. Military Academy and Cornell University.

In addition to being a former member of the engineering faculties at both the U.S. Military Academy and the U.S. Air Force Academy, Valpey was the director of the U.S. Air Force Launch Vehicles Section and Advanced Programs Section at Wright Air Development Center in Ohio.

Mind medicine

It's a fast-paced, complex, frustrating world. Students find this out sooner or later, and many of them are unable to live a normal life as a result of the fears, anxieties, and tensions they develop.

If you are one of those people, the good folks in the Counseling Center are just waiting to make an effort to help you out.

Qualified, licensed psychologists are immediately available, with no appointment, to provide valuable help, Monday through Thursday, from 7 to 11 p.m., in CU Room 214.

Johnson wants transit rapidly

This campus could be benefiting from services of a mass transit system next year.

Articulation Committee vice-president Denny Johnson hopes to see some kind of service, financed by the city, to shuttle resident and non-resident students to and from campus.

Johnson feels that the idea of a transit system has been thought about long enough and that it is time to take definite action. The Community Advisory Board is going to take up the issue in their meeting this week. This board is made up of city and county officials, businessmen and some students who are interested in relations between the city and the school.

Plan Your Football Game

An estimated fifteen-hundred people gathered in Mustang Stadium last Friday night for a County Christian Rally, sponsored by this university's Christian Coalition.

The invocation was given by All President, Robin Baggett, and hymns were sung by the student-voice of the combined youth choir of the Nasser and Green churches.

"You Can Help Change The World" was the subject of the speech given by the featured speaker, Dr. Bill Bright, president and founder of Campus Crusade for Christ, International.

Citing the account in the Gospel of Luke where angels heralded the birth of Christ, Dr. Bright told a group of startled shepherds that they had "the most joyful news," Bright told his audience that the news of Christ is "most joyful" because, "That becomes man and dwells among us," and "man, while yet in this wine, received the gift of God.

"Christianity," he explained, "is not a religion; it's a relationship with Christ... which enables us to love and support each other.

As a searchlight on the horizon ascended the heavens, the stadium lights were turned off to enhance the effect of a candlelighting ceremony that closed the rally.

Students pay price but miss the show

The Guy Student Union battle packed the courtroom, but the people there for the most part were the students who are paying the price of the case. Close to $6000 has been set aside out of ASI fees to support the Guy SU for campus recognition. That's almost 20 cents from each student, a fair price for a circus admission ticket. Too bad so few turned up to catch the show.

Edward Belasco, state deputy attorney general and counsel for the state in the case, kept tight control in the beginning with the courtroom, pricing of the case. Too bad so few turned up to catch the show. "But it's written down here in the interrogatories," Belasco said. "Why can't we just stipulate?"

"Because I haven't read through all that stuff yet," Carred blushingly admitted. But Carred made up the lost brownie points when the testimony began, while Belasco's performance went steadily downhill.

Belasco asked witnesses after witness what sexual acts homosexuals participate in — apparently, he was having difficulty keeping his mind.

The speech is sponsored by the Student Affairs Committee of the Associated Students, Inc., of the California Polytechnic State University, and is not intended to be a substitute for professional legal counseling.

At the end of the hearing, Carred hesitated — he wanted to question witnesses on that.

Between the three of them, starting with Kennedy in January 1972 and not reaching Lawson until September, an administrative bulletin changes somehow escaped everyone's attention. ASI offers no-cost legal aid

by CATHY CARRIE

The Legal Aid Committee gives students legal advice at no cost. The idea for legal aid was initiated during former ASI Pro. Pete Evans' 1971-72 administration but never got off the ground.

ASI Pro. Robin Baggett said he and Dean Johnson, ASI vice-president, thought that legal aid was "another student service we feel ASI should provide."

After a month of organizing, there are eight people on the committee to handle student legal needs. Baggett said anyone interested is encouraged to get involved in the committee.

"The more people there are, the more effective it can be," he said. "Students need to work together."

The committee meets at 1 p.m. on Wednesdays in the ASI offices, but if a student needs to he can call Roundhouse at 46-2511, anytime to get assistance.

The Legal Aid Committee gives advice and alternatives that a person may take. According to Baggett any advice given is "not final proof or valid, because we're not practicing law."

Students who go to Legal Aid sign a disclaimer that states, "The legal referral service currently provided by the Associated Students, Inc., of the California Polytechnic State University is not intended to be a substitute for professional legal counseling."

The committees done, however, take the case to any of four attorneys who are specialists in certain fields and they review the case, see if the committee gave the right advice, and determine if the student has a case or not. The legal aid program is run by volunteers at no cost to the students.

Baggett said he plans to expand the program in the future if students legal needs require greater service. According to the ASI president, many schools have "outstanding" legal aid services but they cost money. He said this campus' service is the most efficient and effective way to run the program at no cost.

Cross country depth ruins Fresno State in season opener, 22-35

by CHUCK RAMS

The Mustang cross country team won their first meet last weekend against the Fresno State University Bulldogs. Even though Fresno's Kevin Daughtery won the individual title, the Mustang Harriers displayed great overall balance by placing the next four men. The final score was 22-35 (low score wins).

Terry Lamb, a Garden Grove product, led the assault by running the six mile distance in 26:17. Lamb is a J.C. transfer from Santa Ana and the meet was his first competitive effort for the Mustangs. Following Lamb was Junior Dale Horton (32:33) from El Cajon.

Coach Larry Bridges was very pleased with the surprise performance of Terry Upadac. Instead, from Fillmore, showed great improvement over last year while placing a strong fourth with 32:20. Rich Wallin was very impressively held off a challenge by Fresno's Ken Adams to place fifth at 31:20 and round out a solid group of placers.

Each week Bridges will select a Runner of the Week based on the athletes' competitive attitude and over all placement. This week Terry Lamb will receive that award for his most impressive effort at Fresno.

Next Saturday at 11 a.m. an open run covering 8.3 miles will be held here. Several clubs from California will send representatives, one being the West Valley Track Club, who placed second in the nation last year in the National AAU cross country finals in San Diego.

RATs wanted

Representatives of Cal Poly's Recreation and Activities Committee (RAT) announced last week that new members were needed for that organization.

Meetings are held every Tuesday at 7 p.m. in CU 302A.

Polo team loses a pair

by MIKE SMITH

After handing Hancock College a big defeat last week, the Mustang water polo team came up against two hard hitting opponents and were dealt two jarring blows last weekend by Cal State Hayward University and Stanford University.

Hayward came back with a good third quarter drive, it just wasn't good enough," according to coach Dick Anderson.

The game was even more costly for the Mustangs as junior ace Bill Blanton received an elbow in the cheek which required four stitches to close. Team mate Al Anderson was also hampered by a knee injury.

Jim Clements of Hayward was top scorer of the game with three goals.

On Saturday, Stanford University stopped by on their way back home from UC Berkeley, dealing the Mustangs their second loss of the season, 11-4. Starting without the help of Anderson and Blanton, the locals fell to a 6-4 halftime deficit. "The game seemed close at this time," according to coach Anderson.

In the second half the Cardinale punched in six more goals to the Mustangs one. Poor ball handling and missed shots were the soft spots for the Mustangs as Stanford took advantage of it with their points.

Coach Anderson emptied his bench in the second half to give the reserves a chance to see more action. They made an aggressive stand and passed the ball well but couldn't find the hole for a score," he said.

The Mustangs travel to the University of California at Santa Barbara Saturday.

Tips for saving money and time this weekend:

1. Grocery Shopping:
   - Check store flyers or online for coupons and special offers.
   - Plan your meals to minimize waste.
   - Use reusable bags to save on plastic use.

2. Usage of Public Transportation:
   - Consider using buses or trains instead of driving to save on gas and parking fees.
   - Buy non-expiring passes for a month or weekly to get discounts.

3. Energy Efficiency at Home:
   - Turn off lights and unplug electronics when not in use.
   - Use energy-efficient light bulbs and appliances.
   - Keep your home's thermostat at 78°F during summer and 68°F during winter for energy savings.

4. Sustainable Gardening:
   - Choose drought-resistant plants for your garden.
   - Use compost to enrich soil and reduce the need for chemical fertilizers.
   - Install a rain barrel to collect rainwater for watering plants.

5. Carpooling with Friends:
   - Join or form a carpool for work, school, or shopping to share the cost of transportation.
   - Use ride-sharing apps for spontaneous trips.

6. Local Events:
   - Look for free or low-cost activities in your community like free parks, trails, or beaches.
   - Attend local farmers' markets for fresh produce and hot deals on seasonal items.

7. Use of Public Libraries:
   - Borrow books, magazines, and movies from your local library.
   - Participate in book clubs or workshops to meet new people and learn new things.

These tips can help you save money and reduce your environmental impact. Enjoy your weekend responsibly!
