To vote or not to vote—is that a question?

You should vote today. Your vote can make a difference.

For the first time today the under-21-set will have direct voice in government by voting in a general election. The majority of the California voting populace has realized individuals in their late teens (like Blacks...like women) have minds and are concerned and can deal with political logic. But don’t let a blanket label sway you. If you want to enjoy youth without burdensome responsibility a little longer, enjoy it today. Don’t vote. Your vote can make a difference.

On the ballot today will be 22 propositions and two county ordinances. Some say this is the longest list of the most ambiguous propositions in the history of this state. If you were overwhelmed by the 108-page “Proposed Amendments to Constitution” booklet jam-packed with arguments in favor of, rebuttals to arguments in favor of, arguments against, and rebuttals to arguments against the 22 propositions, and never bothered to read them or simply threw out the pamphlet—then throw away your general election notice, too.

Also on the ballot are 18 choices for the six county, state and national offices. It was important this year to listen to the candidates and yet keep in mind that all campaign promises don’t turn into actualities. And there wasn’t much offered for the moderates this year. No. Don’t vote. Not if you are poorly informed about the candidates or uncertain about your own political philosophy. Remember, your vote can make a difference.

No, all of this “be informed” and voting business doesn’t sound like much fun. It’s a serious matter.

Kite flying is fun. A kite can be supported by any wind lifting it up into the sky. But the power of one vote gets tangled up in other people’s lives. Don’t cast your vote to any political wind just because someone gave it to you and you think you have to do something with it. It isn’t yours alone, you know.

Voting is a right. Voting is a basic, unalienable right—that should be treated as a privilege. If you were too busy being a student and being young to really seek out intrinsic qualities about the propositions, ordinances and candidates, then don’t exercise this privilege.

If you like being young and don’t feel you are ready to vote today, take in a Walt Disney movie instead and help prevent this from turning into a Mickey Mouse election.

If you care, vote today. If you don’t care, then don’t vote. Your vote can make too big a difference.

You've heard of the rivalry between environmentalists and urban planners. Between Affiliates and Parts, Room on Second, Delilah, Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck. Perhaps you even read about the rivalry between Poly and Fresno State.

Paul Tokunaga, ASI Coordinator of Communications, said the contest was held because of a suggestion from ASI Business Manager Roy Gersten to have a new seal for the Associated Students, now that they belong to a university. The winner will receive a $50 cash prize.

Boeing is back.

Aside from informal visits, this fall will be the first time Boeing has been on your campus since 1960. A lot has happened since then. It was a tough period. One which saw the aerospace industry plagued with manpower reductions. It was a period of belt tightening, and finally, accomplishment.

Now the airline industry has turned the cor-nor and jetliner orders are coming faster than we ever predicted. Orders for the 727-200 have passed the 1,000 mark, and the sale of ten 707's to China represents a breakthrough which gained worldwide attention. Boeing continues to pursue vigorously a number of major aerospace programs, including a short takeoff and landing (STOL) aircraft, helicopters, the Airborne Warning and Control System (AWACS), and space vehicles and equipment, among others.

Boeing Computer Services, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary, is becoming recognized as a broad based company with services not only in computing, training, computer system design, programming, and data processing, but also in management, operations research, and management consulting services.

While the major elements of our business continue to be commercial jet transportation and government defense and space requirements, we have begun activities outside these traditional areas. Measured on the scale of total company operations, these diversification activities don't boom very large yet. But we believe they have potential for the future and could represent as much as 25 percent of total sales in a decade. A few of these programs are: 1) people lea dership in analog traffic conditions in our cities; 2) hydrofoils to move people and freight over water faster; 3) 100,000-acre test site where we're growing crops in a desert that has been stabilised with garbage from a nearby city; 4) a pollution control process that has application in desalination and as a treatment of industrial waste; and 5) aerospace programs that can use this planet's natural resources more efficiently.

The point is—today Boeing is a lean, ambitious, and very nimble place where new ideas flourish. Where an attitude prevails that nothing we did before is good enough for tomorrow. An organisation that's building. Strong, Healthy. And devoted to the development of new systems that can help us harness Earth on course and the people who live here healthy.

If this sounds like the kind of company you can grow with, let's get together. The place to start is with your Placement Office.

Pomona calls for a duel

by ROBIN SHEFFIELD

You've heard of the rivalry between the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. Whether it will contain fruit, nuts, or war cream or if it will remain plain. However, President Roben Baggett has said of the challenge: "They don't stand a chance; besides, I hate jujitsu."

Interesteed students are urged to discuss their reactions with their ASI office before Nov. 10.

WOW Week: seeking new improvements

After completing a very successful 1973 fall week of welcome program, and with only a couple of weeks to catch their breath, a group of seizure WOW counselors are already preparing for next year's program.

The goal of WOW is to orient new students to the university in a personal test by satisfying their educational, social, and institutional questions with the same time providing a friendly environment and good old-fashioned fun.

At a meeting in early October the new board was elected. Its members are compiling data to evaluate the fall program and improve upon future welcome weeks.

Members of the new board are: Mike Loudon, chairman; Bruce Brow, first vice chairman; Don Wison, second vice chairman; Linda Ashworth, recording secretary; Gay Drexler, corresponding secretary; and Gary Johnson, treasurer. Don Coates is the President's representative.

Three positions remain to be filled. Publicity and social chairmen are needed along with a historian. Any student with one year of WOW experience, either as a counselor or a counselor, may apply for one of these positions by signing up at the Activities Planning Center. Interviews will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 9 in College Affairs.

For information on 1974 Week of Welcome, contact Mike Loudon at 644-3441 or Bob Walters at 644-3479.

Pomona, has issued a challenge to start a "friendly annual rivalry" between the two universities, in the form of a tug-

The tug-o'-war would take place on the football field before the Cal Poly BLO vs. Cal Poly Pomona game. A trophy, provided by the Pomona campus, would be kept by the winners until the following year.

Co is seeking for one member from each chartered club to comprise the team. There will be an equal number of contestants on each team. The losers, he said, will be pulled through a "delightfully appropriate" maze, tentatively set at 50 gallons of jelly, which Pomona has offered to provide.

No mention has been made as to the flavor of the jelly, or whether it will contain fruit, nuts, or war cream or if it will remain plain. However, President Roben Baggett has said of the challenge: "They don't stand a chance; besides, I hate jujitsu."

Interested students are urged to discuss their reactions with their ASI office before Nov. 10.
King John—thou shalt be judged here soon!

William Shakespeare's King John will be presented by the Speech Department November 9, 10, and 11 in the Cal Poly Theater.

Curtain times are 8 p.m.

Any Shakespearean production is a challenge to young actors and actresses according to the play's director Robin Lake, but this production has a special challenge for excellence in performance.

The play will be entered in the 1972-73 competition of the American College Theater Festival. Should the play receive favorable scores from two of three judges, it will then compete with plays from California, Nevada, Arizona, and Hawaii. Success at this level would send the play off to Washington D.C. for presentation in the national finals next spring.

Lake has edited the play carefully to remove words no longer in use today and some of the more obscure references. The result is an easier to follow play that even the most inexperienced drama fan can appreciate.

Costuming and props have received considerable attention.

Knock, knock! Who's there?

Denny Johnson, ASI Vice-president, will be visiting the dorms once a week to educate the student body on the functions of student government.

Beginning this week, Johnson and Roundhouse Director John Holley will go from dorm to dorm explaining what student government is, why it works, and why it is important.

Johnson said they will explain the number of services—everything from legal aid to tutoring—available to the student.

Get'em now

These ID cards that were not picked up last week are available in Adele Hall, according to Elva Pankey in the ID card office.

Applications are being encouraged in the overcrowded architecture, natural resource management and child development majors. According to F. Jerald Holley, director of admissions, the university will admit students for the 1973 Fall Quarter in all of the 50 bachelor degree programs with decreased emphasis in the overcrowded departments.

Applications received before Nov. 1 and Nov. 30 will be considered equally for acceptance, Holley said. Forms received on or after Dec. 1 will be considered late and will be processed in the order that they arrive after all other applications have been processed.

Graduate study applications are also due within the November filing schedule. Openings exist in all 11 master degree programs with the most opportunities available in education, home economics, engineering, and agriculture, Holley said.

New students will be notified by Feb. 1 as to whether space has been reserved for them here or at another campus of the California State University system.

Netters win a pair

The men's volleyball team of this school turned in an impressive performance against the Harpeth Hall Buccaneers here Sunday, as the 'A' team won two and the 'B' team sandwiched a loss between them. In the first best-of-three series the Mustang "Aa" swept by with two straight victories, 15-3 and 15-8. They came back to repeat following the 'B' game, winning handsomely again in a two-game sweep. The 'B' team had their hands full playing the top Harford six and lost two in a row, 15-8 and 15-10.

Captain Max Sorver was pretty happy with the afternoon and felt the game was a good morale booster for the team. "The team played together more as a unit than a group of individuals, something we will be striving to improve throughout the season," he said.

FACT OR FICTION?

1. You should avoid exercise during your period.

Fiction! The simple rules of good health are always important, especially during your period. Exercise, a proper diet and a good night's sleep go a long way toward relieving menstrual cramps or preventing them altogether. And remember, you're not "sick." So there's no reason not to follow your normal routine.

2. There's no odor when you use Tampon tampons.

Fact. With Tampan tampons, odor can't form. Odor is noticeable only when the fluid is exposed to air. With Tampon tampons, fluid is absorbed before it comes in contact with air; therefore, odor cannot form.

3. You should not bathe during your period.

Fiction! Contrary to superstition, water can't hurt you. Daily baths or showers are a must throughout your period. Shampoo your hair, too. And don't deny yourself the chance to go swimming. Tampon tampons are worn internally, so you can swim anytime.

4. Single girls can use Tampon tampons.

Fact. Any girl of menstrual age who can insert them easily and without discomfort, can use Tampon tampons with complete confidence. Follow the easy directions in every package.
