Fiery forges wrought handcrafted masterpieces of twisted steel long before 1958 when the first course in horsemanship was offered here by Ralph Hoover.

Today, and for the past several years, students at this university have been learning to master the art of horsemanship, under the skillful guidance of Gene Armstrong.

The door of the horsemanship unit open at 8 a.m. each weekday and close at 9 p.m. The students' rigorous daily agenda begins with a one to two hour lecture, followed by a demonstra-

HELP WANTED

WOW training to begin

Job hunting can be an endless task, but it doesn't have to be. Mike Lowden, Week of Welcome (WOW) general chairman, has promised to give a job to anyone who wants one at the WOW counselor recruiting rally Thursday night.

Will it pay? Not with money maybe, but it might pay with satisfaction in helping others.

The rally will begin at 7 p.m. in room 204 of the College Union. WOW, an on-campus group designed to help orientate new students to this college, needs counselors. Lowden said he felt about 120 students participated in counselors in the WOW program. However, many of them will graduate this June. This is why WOW is recruiting now.

However, WOW counseling will be offered next fall, because the program has two more orientations scheduled for this school year. Lowden said each program will last only one day and will include registration orienta-

Kissingins talks one more time

(UP) North Vietnam's chief negotiator was on his way to Paris Tuesday for more private talks with presidential adviser Henry Kissinger on the beleaguered Vietnam peace agreement.

Community source hinted the new round of private contacts, as called for by President Nixon, might start as early as this weekend.

In Washington, White House sources said Kissinger probably would leave for Paris late Wednesday or early Thursday and added 'we'll let you know' when the meeting between Tho and Kissinger takes place.

As the war for land control in the event of a cease-fire continued in South Vietnam, Hanoi said negotiator Le Duc Tho was willing to meet Kissinger for negotiations and would deal with additional guaranties sought by South Vietnam against resumption of fighting after a cease-fire and against a Communist attempt to seize power in Saigon.

Communist diplomat spokesman said Tuesday Chao Kuanhua, China's ambassador to the United Nations, will arrive Friday for an official visit.

Embassy officials would not discuss the reason for Chan's trip, the first he has made outside China's admission to the United Nations.

Hanoi radio, in announcing that the war was willing to meet Kissinger for negotiations and not just to sign a cease-fire agreement, warned that North Vietnam will not step up the war if the United States prolongs the talks or delays signing.

Three items are slated for SAC meeting tonight

Only three items are listed on tonight's abbreviated Student Affairs Council (SAC) agenda. Business items include code revisions and approval of ap-ments.

The tone discussion item concerns the feasibility of adding permanent tee markers in the Collet Area.

According to All Vice Pres. Danny Johnson, the construction of permanent stands would enable the scheduling of horse shows and other events in the Collet area.

Weekly reports from Finance Committee, Codes and Bylaws Committee, and Publisher's Board are also scheduled.

This agenda was subject to change at yesterday's SAC Workshop.

No SAC meeting will be held next week due to the Thanksgiving holiday.
Day care: where did all the protest go?

Whatever happened to the petition carrying several hundred signatures of students opposed to a campus day care center?

Apparently, not much. Beginning Winter Quarter students will be paying for babysitting whether they have children or not they have children. The bill for supervising 25 children at a time in the day care center will come to $8,000 for two quarters. And that $8,000 will come out of ASI coffers unless federal funding is found in the next few weeks.

The program met with stiff opposition when it was introduced last year. Letters to the editor flourished as married students and singles argued. A survey of financial centers met with overwhelming agreement. Several hundred signatures of student opponents were gathered. A petition calling for a general election to decide the issue gained more than enough signatures, but was ignored in the heat of last-week marathon Student Affairs Council meetings.

Editorial

On November 8, 1979, the California Legislature reconvened to finish the 1979 legislative session. They will have little more than a month to act on all pending legislation. Several bills are important in our area, but one stands out—Senate Bill 4, being carried by Senators Way (R) and Rodda (D). This bill provides for a 10 percent increase in parking fees on campus.

CU tries to give ‘most access to most students’

By dividing the lounges, rooms, etc. for a few specialized interest groups, the access to those students would be greatly hampered by cutting down the space available to them.

When a group of students or an individual wishes to use their College Union, they should have access to all the accommodations available and not be told that they have no choice.

No one on the CUBQ would disagree that it would be nice if every club, committee and group could have their own office space. But, that should have been thought of on the drawing board. We have just as much space and we have to work within it, so the problem of satisfying over 900 campus groups is not a simple one.

If it is possible to satisfy a special interest group without stepping on the toes of the students, then the CUBQ will do it. Otherwise, we must ask ourselves, “is it fair?”

CU tries to give ‘most access to most students’

Editor:
John Forster and John Ewan have pointed out the need for more support for the Collette Union. Indeed, the College Union has been one of the most efficient and productive areas of the College Union, providing a variety of services to students.

By dividing the lounges, rooms, etc. for a few specialized interest groups, the access to those students would be greatly hampered by cutting down the space available to them.

Lost and found

up for grabs

A large accumulation of unclaimed items from the campus lost and found will be sold this week. The books, clothing, silverware, jewelry and other property that have been collected over the years will be sold to the highest bidder in room 118 of the College Union today and Thursday.

Bid will be accepted between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. today and between 8:30 a.m. and noon on the second day. The high bidder may claim purchases Friday.
"I hope the demons use your pelvic bone to scrape the slime from their porches," threatens the Madonna Vampira.

The Madonna, Lady Jewela and Doctor Maloula all star in a contemporary mystery series the "Fourth Tower of Inverness." The program is aired on campus radio KCPR at 11 p.m. every Saturday. "The program is about all the freaky things that happen to him. There aren't too many of these type of broadcasts on radio anymore," he said.

"The Fourth Tower" is a 13 week series produced by ZBS Media and sponsored by Grunt Records.

The letters ZBS stand for Zero Bull Shift and the 12 people who make up the group live on 60 acres in the middle of the Hudson River and the Champlain Canal, according to a recording industry magazine "Record World." ZBS spent the first year getting organized, avoiding predators and formulating ideas, all with the purpose of producing radio series which would help to raise the level of consciousness of all those who heard it.

Their main project has been the formulation of a college radio network because they say that college radio is more open to their type of creative broadcasting than commercial stations usually are.

The deadline is near for scholarships and loans

The California State Scholarship and Loan Commission has set the postmark deadline date for undergraduates to file the California State Scholarship applications as Nov. 30. The deadline for graduates is Dec. 15.

Students that are in need of financial assistance for tuition and fees and who have already taken the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board may apply. Graduate students may get application forms from their college. Undergraduates must write Sacramento for applications because the Financial Aid office is out of forms. In April, the Commission will award 11,300 scholarships for undergraduate college students.

Christian Science talk to explore values, rights

Mr. James Spencer, a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will deliver a talk entitled "Where do our rights come from?" Spencer will relate several experiences in the overcoming of loneliness, sickness, prejudice and restrictions.

Spencer, a graduate of The Principia College, Black, Illinois, was a lieutenant in the Marine Corps during the Korean War. Later he served for three years as Chaplin with the United States Army, and then for ten years as Christian Science Minister for the Armed Services.

Since 1951, he has devoted full time to the healing ministry of Christian Science, and in 1971 he became a recognized teacher of Christian Science.

The Christian Science Organization is sponsoring Spencer's lecture. All students and faculty are welcome to attend. For further information contact Steve Kraske at 544-1222.

The best horse is a barefooted horse, provided he can go barefooted correctly. However, shoes are often needed to correct faulty conformation and assist the bone in growing constructively. Shoes can slow down the wearing away of the wall (hoof's hard extremity) and keep the horse in shape for a longer period of time. As well as providing protection, shoes can improve or cure a diseased condition, or offer traction as in the case of a jumper or stockhorse. A horse shod for any other reason, though, simply doesn't need shoes.

Looking back on his learning experiences, Armstrong recalled that the most difficult aspect came in becoming fluid and not having to think about what step was to be done next. Shoewing had to become second nature.

Through 34 years of hiring highly skilled and professional teachers, who have dedicated themselves to help others help the horse, this university has remained among the nation's leaders in the school of horseshoeing.

International culture on display

Nigerian Night, Thursday, November 18, at 8 p.m. in Tanaya Lounge will be the opening program of monthly meetings of cultural exchange in which international students on this campus will present programs about the culture of their countries. Sponsored by the International Student Section of the Women's Club, the students will feature a film on present day Nigeria, arts, crafts, and music of their country, and refreshments typical of Nigeria, according to Mrs. Douglass. Generous and Mrs. Robert Walters, co-chairmen of the section. All interested students, staff and faculty, as well as community people are invited.

The purpose of the International Student section is to make students from other lands welcome and a part of the community. Activities in addition to the monthly programs include the Host Family program, the International Lounge, and cooperating with the student organization, People to People.

The Host Family program is open to all international students who would like to develop a close friendship with an American family. In this relationship the family does not provide board and room, financial assistance, nor elaborate entertainment, but as the relationship develops, hopefully the student will be considered an "occasional" member of the family.

Arrangements to participate in the Host Family program may be made by coming to the International Lounge, Building 60 on this campus, which is open from 10 to 1 to the afternoon daily. Volunteers who staff the lounge will help with the Host Family arrangements, help students with English, and visit with students about special problems.

The People to People program sponsors a coffee hour every Friday afternoon from 3 to 4 in the International Lounge. It is open to all students and offers a fine opportunity to get acquainted with students from other lands. According to Mrs. Judy Brar, president of People to People.

More muscle is needed to win tug o' war meet

The first annual tug o' war between this school and Cal Poly, Pomona is shaping. Contestants from this university are still needed.

Steve Cox, Campus Affairs Commissioner at Pomona, mastermind behind this new campus rivalry is asking for students on campus to volunteer to comprise the team. An equal number of contestants will be on each team. The losers will be pulled through a "delightfully appropriate mess," tentatively set at 100 gallons of jell-o, which Pomona will provide.

The competition will take place November 18 on the Cal Poly, Pomona football field prior to the football game between the two schools.

Ernie King, SAC representative for Human Development and Education and coordinator of this college's tug o' war team, said, "This could really turn out to be a good thing. I really urge club members to contact me if they're interested." Interested members are asked to call King at 634-8007, or to sign up with Peggy Kepp, secretary for the A.S.I. Officers as soon as possible.

Opera scenes open at Cuesta

Scenes from Gilbert and Sullivan's Savoy Operas will be produced by Opera a la Carte, at 8 p.m. Saturday November 18, in the Cuesta College Community Auditorium.

The program, headed by Richard Sheldon, founder of Opera a la Carte, will include scenes from "H.M.S. Pinafore," "Ruddigore" and "Patience."

The Los Angeles based company will also present "Cos and Bux," a one act comic opera by Sir Arthur Sullivan.

Tickets cost $1.50 for adults and $1 for those under 16. Tickets are available at Arroyo Drug Company, Alasacadero Pharmacy, Brown's Music and Gabby Hook Store in San Luis Obispo and at the Cuesta Community College Services office.

College hour goes classical

Music faculty member Clifton Swanison, of this campus, will join with his wife Jane, and other community members, faculty, and students in presenting a program of chamber music during college hour, Thursday.

Swanison will perform with Virginia Wright, also a member of the Music Department faculty of this campus. They will play William Byrdeman's Duo for Clarinet and Double Bass.

Mrs. Swanison will join with Barbara Hoff, accompanist for the Mozart Festival Chorus of last year, in presenting a sonata written by Hindemith for a French horn and piano.

Mrs. Swanison was engaged to record the signature and incidental music for several of the Mary Tyler Moore and Bob Newhart television shows.

Hitch a bus to downtown

The Community Advisory Board, newly established, has implemented a new service to students. Walt Lamberti, manager of Tropicana Village, has donated the Tropicana bus for any one desiring a ride to the downtown area of San Luis Obispo or to the Tropicana on Thursdays.

The bus will leave Tropicana at 10 p.m. going downtown Union and then to downtown. The bus will pick passengers up at the Mission at 9:15 p.m. returning to the CU and then to Tropicana, all at no charge.

CCAA TOURNEY

Polo meet to be here

By MIKE SMITH

The Mustang water polo team will be hosting the 1972 California Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament this Friday and Saturday at the Man's Pool. Starting time for both days of the tournament will be at 8 a.m.

Among the five schools entered will be the defending 1971 champion California State University at Fullerton, along with California State Polytechnic University at Pomona, University of California at Riverside, California State University at Northridge, and the Mustangs.

According to Wayne Welk, the CCAA director, "Fullerton has a better chance to win this tournament, they were number five out of eight teams in last year's National Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament. But the Mustangs beat them so it should be interesting to see what they have done.

The Mustangs did beat Fullerton 6-3 earlier in the season and the Titans were again favored by that time. According to assistant coach Dave Wens, "we could have beaten the Titans 7-3 but we missed some easy shots which will be seen again." Also earlier this season the Mustangs played Northridge in which they lost the close game 9-7. A missed penalty shot, which seems to some kind of a curse for the Mustangs this season, was Wallace won't use legs again

New Orleans (UPI) — A neurosurgeon who helped remove a bullet from Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's spine says he doubts if Wallace will ever regain use of his paralyzed legs.

Wallace was the victim of an assassination attempt in Maryland May 18 in which he campaigned for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"At first we were a bit optimistic since the governor's spinal cord was not completely severed," Galbraith, who is attending the 86th annual convention of the Southern Medical Association, said Monday.
