Evaluation foul charged

Some instructors may have violated the guidelines set up for student evaluation of their performance in class.

This charge came recently from a student on the non-member Ad Hoc Student Evaluation of Faculty Committee, a body created to oversee the student rating system.

"We've heard of possible violations of these guidelines," said Pamela Brown, one of three students on the committee.

One of the guidelines, cited by Miss Brown, called for in the classroom, with the evaluation of the classroom by students.

Students are being asked to cite specific examples of violations, as well as suggestions, to Box 840 in the A.S.I. Office or simply call Roundhouse 944-3081.

"If these violations are true, we'd like to have on record a list of those who did not abide by the standards. We want this to be a fair evaluation," said Miss Brown.

Peru speaker to talk Monday on Latin road

Former Peruvian President Fernando Belaunde Terry scheduled to speak yesterday was canceled due to the declared official day of mourning. A new date has been set for Monday at 8 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium. The foreign official's presentation will include pertinent topics on foreign affairs and the importance of road transportation in developing nations. Admission is free.

According to Rich Dentler, Academic Council will be representative, concern over the dual registration situation has been voiced by Dr. Edward E. Dean of Business and Social Science. Many students are not taking classes at Chumash College while enrolled at the University.

Dr. Timothy M. Barnes, Academic Senate representative to B.C. informed the council that dual registration reduces the number of full-time equivalent students (FTE) and therefore reduces the number of faculty positions.

In other action, B.C. approved the concept of an elected representative brochure and a dual registration to open up the number of full-time equivalent students to the full-time equivalent faculty positions.

According to John Holly, Student Roundhouse Director, the brochure will include pictures, names, A.S.I. box numbers and other pertinent information.

W-2 forms now ready

Statement of Earnings (W-2) Forms for all university employees are now available from the Payroll Office, 3rd floor, Administration Building.

Those for state staff and faculty will be mailed within 15 days. Pick-up for student employees is in the Accounting Office.

The brochure will be mailed. Statements not picked up by noon Jan. 31 will be mailed.

SAC favors dual enrolling

A resolution opposing the dual enrollment was introduced by Student Senate Council (SAC) Wednesday night.

The resolution was approved by Mike Stenson from Business and Social Science passed by a vote of 18-4 with one abstention.

Benson's resolution opposed the prohibitions of dual registration and "any restrictions which might be imposed on students at Cal Poly for dual registration."

In addition, the opposition posed "flagrant abuses that may arise from dual registration."

Benson's resolution does not endorse the concept of dual registration. It opposed any restrictions which might be imposed on a students right to enroll in classes at another institution while enrolled in classes at this University.

Wanted: student replies on faculty evaluations

We, the undersigned, are the student representatives on the Ad Hoc Committee for Faculty Evaluations. This committee met last summer in order to set up guidelines for the up and coming faculty evaluations, in particular, for the Fall Quarter evaluation, 1973.

Well, Fall 1973 has come and gone and with it went the first university-wide faculty evaluation by students. This Winter Quarter the same Ad Hoc committee is meeting again with a new purpose, that of reviewing what happened with the Fall 1973 evaluation.

What we now need to know from you, the student body, is:
1. Your general reactions to the evaluation, both good and bad, concerning such things as the questions, forms, procedures, etc.
2. Any ideas you might have to improve the evaluations as a whole, or for particular schools.
3. Report any irregularities or violations of the guidelines set forth by this committee.

The first two points are self-explanatory, but the third point does require some explanation. Violations are as follows:

1. Instructor didn't have an evaluation Fall 1972.
2. Instructor didn't provide class time for evaluation.
3. Instructor was present in the room during the administration of the evaluation.
4. Any irregularities that you feel might have prevented effectiveness and/or fairness concerning the evaluation.

Student aid is praised

Editor: Please let me use your pages to publicly express my admiration, respect and gratitude to the many, many students at this campus who so generously, unselfishly and voluntarily performed numerous acts of public assistance and private kindnesses in the recent devastating flood.

I personally witnessed many incidents where students went out of their way to render assistance at the risk of great personal discomfort, and in some cases danger to themselves. I saw students helping other students and faculty to remove personal belongings, cars and pets to safety, or out of the reach of flood waters. Others shared their lodgings with those who had been booted out of their own. Still others helped direct traffic or provided food, hot coffee or greater comfort in what may have been a very clay turn in their lives.

Since the decision of the California Legislature changed the name of this institution from "college" to "university", the CU Board of Governors felt it was their charge to decide on either a more appropriate title for the building or to leave it as is. The Board admirably searched the student body for input inorder to make a representative decision as to what the title should be called. From all the input devices, four names stood alone and seemed to be logical choices for the Board to choose from. They were: College Union (as in), Student Union, University Center, and Student Center.

I received, no, not from the University Union mentioned. Let me take you to the meeting of Thursday, January 11, 1973, of the College Union Board of Governors when the name change was on the agenda and to vote.

It all began when the Chairwoman started the gavel to the meeting of the Board. Now we will move on to the next item on the agenda—Name Change. It was a heated discussion, total paralysis prevailed within the council chambers.

The Board didn't return from their Fall Quarter meeting until the Chairwoman Walters threatened to leave the night in the chambers and Handle all business before the Board.

Finally, Mike Beanland took some leadership and moved to change the name from College Union to Student Union. This motion, the first of many to come, was defeated by the body. Next it was Thomas's turn. He moved to change the name from College Union to University Union. A lash started the council chambers. No one ever thought of that name before. Well, this isn't the occasion to change the motion to the change to University Union was defeated. (I remember this is what this name is to be.)

After the questionable defeat of University Union, another motion was recognised on the floor. This was Student Union. A motion to another name was made and a new motion to leave the name of College Union as is. The Board should have stopped right there. Although this motion was defeated it still made a decision by no decision. And the name today would be College Union.

But Mike Beanland wasn't going to quit yet. He decided to have the building named just plain of "Union", Nies. By Mike. Of course this motion lost. With shoulders shrugged, the members looked at the new log and in frustration and in union said, "What do we do now?"

The ingenious Mike Pizano thought the only way to solve the problem was to vote by the preferential system. The preferential voting method places value of 1st, 2nd, and 3rd choices, and then redistributes the value totals. As you might recall, the Student Affairs Council of last year realized this system of preferential voting was not a representative method as it was a determinate of the majority. A person or name who received the majority of votes for first place might not be elected. So they took the issue before a vote of the student body and the student body also concurred with BAC and thus established the new system.

The problem of singing in a cantil of sardines

Editor: I would like to comment on the recent critique of Gordon Lightfoot's concert given in Tuesday's issue of the Mustang Daily. In my opinion, the concert was not well performed, but it wasn't Gordon Lightfoot's fault. It's true that he didn't put in the personal touch found in most live concerts, but a college gymnast is not a singer's ultimate dream for a concert hall.

His type of music is directed mainly toward a small, informal type of audience—found in places such as the Soda Bar in San Jose, or the Boarding House in San Francisco. A gymnast packed like a can of sardines is far cry from the two places just mentioned. A cramped audience, of whom at least one-quarter are going through a nicotine fit, just doesn't give a positive reaction to a singer.

This leads to my question; why doesn't Cal Poly have a concert hall? Even more necessarily that the school should construct a new building, but I think a genuine effort should be made to find more adequate surroundings for upcoming events.

Roland Peveto, instructor in dairy and poultry science, has been named to the youth committee of the Pacific Egg and Poultry Association. The association represents poultry production, processing, and distribution interests in the western states. It has a membership of approximately 100,000. Its major objective is promoting the well being of the industry. Peveto has taught at this university since 1956. He represents higher education on the committee which advises the Board of directors of the association.

Peace received quietly

Scholarships to be given for agriculture students

Peace in Vietnam may or may not mean the end to the five-year ordeal for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Estes Jr. of Williamson, N.C. They said they wonder whether there would be "a full accounting of all the missing in action" that will tell them whether their Navy lieutenant son, Walter Jr., is dead or alive.

One of the most gratifying experiences we've had was the sight of all you Poly People helping us during the Flood! Guys were everywhere where help was needed... pulling cars out of mud, pulling people out of mud, manning the hoses to fight the fire... Thanks to your spontaneous and generous help, the flood damage was confined to property only! People survived! God bless you, everyone. And heal those of you who suffered from the Poison Oak... Thanks to your help, the flood damage was confined to property only!

Women's Glee to hold first concert of '73

Braving illness and flood-induced rehearsal delays, the Women's Glee Club will present its first formal concert of the 1973 season at 5 p.m. Sunday in the Hetz Building of the First Presbyterian Church located at Marah and Morro Streets.

The club has compiled a program promising a great deal of variety in listening pleasure. Light-hearted American folk songs mingle with religious tunes and a beautiful love song in German.

The men's Quartet and the women's Sextette, two specialty groups from within both of the major Glee Clubs, will also perform. There will be no charge for the event, and the public is welcome.

The Women's Glee will also be performing at a College Hour Concert in February.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The first Americans freed from prison camps in Southeast Asia will fly out of Hanoi aboard a U.S. Air Force jet within 15 days after the cease-fire agreement is signed Saturday, Henry A. Kissinger said Wednesday.

Defense Department sources said the initial family reunions will probably take place within 10 days of the first releases.

Under terms of the cease-fire, the first returnees will include persons who are seriously ill, wounded or maimed, old persons and women. Most will be military personnel but some could be civilians.

Officials at the Defense and State Departments have identified 487 U.S. military personnel and about 40 American civilians as prisoners of war in Southeast Asia. An additional 1,333 servicemen and 11 civilians are listed as missing. Some of them may be captives.

The only two American women on the list are missionaries—Dr. Eleanor Vietti, a Houston physician who was taken prisoner in 1965, and Betty Ann Olsen of Meadowbrook, Pa., who was captured during the 1968 Tet offensive.

"We don't know whether they survived," a State Department official said of the two women. "It's been a long time."

Some of the military prisoners have been captive more than eight years. The Defense Department lists 473 POWs in North Vietnam, 108 in South Vietnam and 6 in Laos. Kissinger said those held by the Communists will be released in groups at about 15-day intervals throughout the 60 days allowed for repatriation.

"American prisoners held in Laos and North Vietnam will be returned to us in Hanoi," he said. "They will be received by American medical evacuation teams and flown on American planes to places of our own choice, probably Vientiane Laos."

Kissinger said those held captive in South Vietnam would be turned over to U.S. authorities at several sites. He did not elaborate on how many sites there were or where they were in South Vietnam.

That would mean perhaps four groups of 30 POWs each handed over at Hanoi and many smaller groups released at other sites. International control teams will supervise these releases, Kissinger said.

Defense sources said the first release date has not been set because of the need to get the international control teams in place, which could take up to 48 hours after the cease-fire signing, and Hanoi's need to gather the prisoners.

Officials said that Clark Air Base in the Philippines will be the main processing center. They said the released POWs will remain there about 10 days for medical examinations and treatments, outfitting with new uniforms and an initial debriefing.

Then, unless they are too ill to travel, the POWs will be flown to one of 30 military general hospitals in the United States. For most, that will be the time and place for the family reunion.

Officials said every effort will be made to send serviceman to the hospital of their own service nearest their hometown. Their families will be taken to the hospital at government expense.

Some of the military prisoners could be civilians.

Pay-pot buster to speak on consumer protection

March Pong, assemblywoman from Alameda County, will speak on a subject which is fast becoming one of the most important topics in America: Consumer Affairs and Consumer Protection. Her talk will take place in Chumash Auditorium at 10:00 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 1 and there will be no charge.

Ms. Pong has long been noted for her actions in promoting consumer protection legislation in the California Assembly. Indeed, she has even achieved a bit of notoriety in the field for her efforts to pass legislation which would ban pay toilets in the state.

State longest bikeway!

Bike riders pedal along the California Aqueduct between Tracy and Los Banos, the initial section of what the state envisions as "the longest bikeway in the world." Opened on an experimental basis last year, the 67-mile-long bikeway may eventually stretch the 444-mile length of the aqueduct from the San Joaquin Delta to Southern California. The project was launched by the State Water Resources Department in cooperation with bike-riding clubs. The initial 67-mile section runs from Bethany Reservoir near Tracy to San Luis Dam near Los Banos. The resource department is tentatively scheduled to start a second section of the bikeway next spring. It would stretch 100 miles in the Antelope Valley from the south side of Tehachapis where tunnels bring water across the mountains to near Victorville in San Bernardino County (UPI PHOTO)

Matmen, cagers set for twinbill

By Mark Cooley

It’s do or the game tonight for Ernie Wheeler’s Mustang basketball squad when the cagers travel to meet Cal State Bakersfield in a crucial California Collegiate Athletic Association doubleheader.

The cagers then return home Saturday night for a return match with the University of San Diego and a Monday night game against Cal State Hayward.
Saturday’s game begins at 7 p.m.
and is the first half of a basketball-writing double header.

Saturday’s battle against Cal State Hayward began in the final moments of last week’s contest. The Mustangs were ahead by a single point with less than five minutes remaining in the game. In Bakersfield, the Mustangs will be playing the CCCA league leader.
A match with the University of San Diego’s Toreros begins at 7 p.m.
and is the first half of a basketball-writing double header.

Northridge has not won a game in league play and is in last place.
Wheeler’s Mustangs have the record while the Mustangs are a half-game back at 14-0. Only three other members of last year’s squad, which logged a 19-4
dual meet record, won the University of Pacific Invitational and appeared ready tor conference action.

The Mustangs are returning.
Three other members of last
year’s squad, which logged a 19-4
dual meet record, won the California Collegiate Athletic Association championship
and finished fourth in the NCAA tournament are returning.

They include Harold Erardi, Dennis Scullion, and Jerry Johnson.

Senior Forward Billy Jackson will try to end his scoring slump tonight against Cal State Bakersfield and the University of San Diego.

Wheeler denies charge on benching of player

Mustang basketball mentor Ernie Wheeler has charged as a lie a remark concerning a black basketball player made at last week’s student Affairs Council meeting.

The remarks, made by Fred Johnson, charged the head mentor with benching and sending to the showers a black player after the player had returned an insult to someone in the stands.

"It’s an outright lie," Wheeler said on his scoring slump. "At no time in my four years of coaching here has such an incident happened."

But the problems occurred.
Disciplinary problems hit the squad and forced Wheeler to suspend two players for a week, causing them to miss two games.
In those two, the Mustangs barely squeaked past Cal State San Bernardino and were then defeated by Idaho over the University of Pacific.

A Christmas break brought relief to the roundballers. They have denied such a situation ever happening.

Nutters to try one more time

The Mustang tennis team will try again to tackle UC Santa

The event was scheduled last week for 1 p.m. but was rained out.

Two-year All-American Dan that returns all the key members last year. Lambert was runnerup in singles competition in the NCAA national meet last spring.

Three other members of last
year’s squad, which logged a 16-6
dual meet record, won the California Collegiate Athletic Association championship
and finished fourth in the NCAA

Grapplers set; battle UCLA

Several Mustang wrestlers will receive stern tests tonight and Saturday when UCLA and the University of Oregon invade the men’s Gym to challenge the grapplers.

Tonight’s match features UCLA’s Bruin’s at 7:30 while the Ducks from Oregon face coach
Vaughn Hitchcock’s squad
Saturday in the second half of a basketball-writing doubleheader beginning approximately at 8 p.m.

Gary McElrath will have two tough matches facing him.

Three grapplers ready for East-West pairings

The Mustangs' top-rated College Division wrestling team earned more places on the East-West Classic to be held Feb. 5 at Lehigh University in Bethlehem, Pa., than any other school in the nation.

Three members of the heart of the grapplers' potential lineup have been named to the West team chosen by Bill Nelson, University of Arizona coach, who will guide the West team. Mustangs selected were Larry Morgan (196-04) at 148, Glenn Anderson (177-05) at 150 and Allyn Cooks (161-1) at 146.

They will be paired against two national champions and a runner-up in the East squadron. Morgan draws Michigan State's NCAA champion Tom Milkovich. Anderson will be paired against two-time All-America Tom Was at 126. Ohio University choice was Russ Johnson at 177 pounds but I remember Hubbard beating our Lee Terre 84 and Terre went on to place third in the university nationals that year. "I figured that I had a pretty good chance of making the team if I stayed undefeated through our matches with Oklahoma State, Oklahoma and Oregon State," Anderson continued.

A third team mid-season All-American last season, he did just that by beating Oklahoma State's Larry Winnard, 8-1, Oklahoma's Paul Darrough, 6-4, and Oregon State's Gordon Lamm, 16-1, despite fact he was not coming off an atrophy of the.

Cooke and Schalles actually will be meeting for the second time. Their last meeting, however, was in Junior World freestyle competition in the summer of 1988. Cooke won impressively but that was in a different type of competition and both wrestlers have matured considerably in four years. "The key to making the team was beating Oklahoma's Alan Albright," Cooke noted.

Other members of the West team are Arizona's Dale Brumit at 138 and Oklahoma's Jeff Calland at 187.

Clarion is the only other College Division school besides the Mustangs to place wrestlers on the all-star team. In addition to Schalles, the Pennsylvania school will be represented by 187-pounder Bill Simpson.

Michigan's picks on the East squad were Jim Brown at 113 and Hubbard. Ohio University choices were Russ Johnson at 177 and Barry Reighard at 190. Rounding out the squad are Mike Frick of Lehigh at 126, Bob Medine of Penn State at 182, Milkovich of Michigan State at 148 and Joel Kaulin of Hofstra at heavyweight.

Morgan said he was "amazed to finally meet Milkovich. When I was a freshman I had a broken hand when we met Michigan State in a dual. Then as a sophomore when we went to East Lansing Tom was cut with a bad shoulder. Michigan State was supposed to wrestle us in San Luis Obispo last season but their budget wouldn't permit it. I've always wanted to meet him and now I'll finally get the chance."

The undefeated Anderson's current ranking was, "I'm honored to be selected to represent the West. I only hope I'm not overrated and can prove I deserve the honor by doing a good job in the match against Hubbard."

"When we met Michigan in a dual in 1971 I was wrestling at 136 pounds but I remember Hubbard beating our Lee Terre 84 and Terre went on to place third in the university nationals that year."
