Black heritage honored

The third annual Black Heritage Week will be held Feb. 11 through Feb. 17 at this university. The theme is "Black Ecology," and various events have been scheduled.

"The programming is designed to give the students and community a chance to experience black students as people, and to provide them a chance to experience black culture on a first-hand basis," said James N. Smith, student chairman of the Black Heritage Planning Committee.

The first scheduled event is the Miss Black Heritage Pageant on Sunday, Feb. 11, in the Little Theater, at 7 p.m. Admission is $1. The seven contestants in the pageant are all from Calit, and they include: Veronique Arbeau, a freshman from Berkeley, decorated queen; Brenda Brown, a freshman from Richmond, first runner-up; and Brenda Brown, a freshman from El Monte, Miss Black Heritage.

Malva King a freshman, home economics major from San Bernardino, is the majorette and sophomore from Compton, Alta Morea is a sophomore, business major from Compton. There will be a Black Art Exhibit, which is representing black culture of today.

The exhibit will be on display from Monday, Feb. 13, through Saturday, Feb. 17 in Room 101 of the Union.

A concert featuring "War" is Friday, Feb. 11 in the Men's Gym, at 9 p.m.

A banquet and fashion show will be held Feb. 16. The dinner and entertainment in the Union Plaza during College Night Thursday.

The performance Thursday was managed by MECHA, Ethnic Studies, MEP, and the Chicano students and was a prelude to the Cinco de Mayo.

Review Board funds defeated

The possibility of loss of some student-oriented programs which are now funded by the administration, caused Student Affairs Council (SAC) to reconsider its past decisions.

Dave Everett Chardner told SAC Wednesday night, that a resolution from the Student Executive Cabinet that the admission charge and is geared toward to recind the motion.

Tiny Lester (Engineering and Technology) followed by a question and answer session, public with no admission charge and is geared toward saving and is not in the dry analysis. He attributed this to the fact that people withdraw from the institutions individuals who move up the hierarchy because they feel that they are not needed there. "If you are going to excel, he advised, "do your best, and you can personally guarantee that you're going to try." Gestures toward the person who excels in the eyes of society," said Dr. Bruce C. Ogilvie, a deeply motivated man who is experienced in all areas of society.

Krishna's mellow vibe rewarding, says expert

Some obtrusive thoughts on the "spatial consciousness" will be discussed today at 1 p.m. in the Union Room 100 and tonight at 7 p.m. in Room 811 by Nrdgynadana das Goumari, a "the master of the senses" in the "innermost position in the field of Yoga."

Nrdgynadana, a former award-winning scholar and teacher of Vedac literature at the University of California at Berkeley, speaks in carefully thought-out analogies that are hard to dispute in conveying his ideas. He is experienced in all aspects of yoga, meditation and philosophy.

Nrdgynadana explains the Krishna idea as not a religion and states all to be at least sample it, for by just looking at honey you can't taste it, the "sweetness is in the dry analysis." He defines the spirit of man as being "fully absorbed in higher consciousness."

This consciousness, or soul, creates the body "for material purpose," he said, "It is a tangible force or energy "like electricity." This is the idea of Karma, the spirit leaving the body (when we die) and developing another body.

The presentation will be followed by a question and answer session, public with no admission charge and is geared to provide the individual "potential for knowledge," he said. "I understand each other a little better by expanding our minds and increasing our love."

Suggestions included prohibiting out-of-state travel by athletic teams unless they have a "definitive agreement or a substantial guarantee from the outside merchants and some of their own creations. The show is headed by Landon Powell and Sandra Oker.

WABINGTON (UPI) - First Lady Pat Nixon quietly resigned a position as honorary chairman of a day care center near her home nearly a year after her husband had visited a child care bill that the council supported, it was learned Wednesday.

"After her initial two days of running day care centers and being photographed she had nothing else," said council spokesman Janet Swenson.
Enjoy the Credibility Gap in the past and thought we would take the chance and risk the buck. A few minutes past 8 p.m. the doors opened and we hurried in to find our uncomfortable plastic seats. About 10:15 p.m. I went out to get a cup of coffee but was told that there was no sugar, maybe later.

The lights dimmed and a local folk singer came up on stage. He talked and sang and talked and sang and sang on and on for about an hour. I came to see the Credibility Gap, who were supposed to be on around 8 p.m. It was now 9:30, our butts had been on the seat and I had lost my sense of humor. Well, the Gap finally got going and to top off all this terrible business of an evening, the show. We finally gave up about ten, thoroughly disgusted, and left the Union for the last time.

Cow Poopia U. is now consistent with all its endeavors, consistently irrelevant, inadequate, and most of all incompetent. It has failed to educate most of us properly and now it fails even to entertain us right.

Maybe it's time to do away with Cow Poopia U. since it doesn't seem able to do the job. What do you think?

This is for all students who paid for a red sticker to put in the window of their cars, to allow them the privilege of parking on campus. If you have ever tried to find a parking place for a 9 a.m. class you can sympathize with me. I find it all very ridiculous to come to school 15 to 30 minutes earlier just for the purpose of finding a hummer of a place to park.

27 POWs will be released

(UPI) — The United States expects the first American prisoners of war to be freed by Sunday, but the fate of more than 1,800 missing servicemen may be unknown for a long time, a Pentagon spokesman said Thursday.

Pentagon sources said Thursday the Viet Cong had indicated plans to release 17 of the 81 Americans it holds prisoners in South Vietnam. The sources said the indication was that the POWs would be released Sunday night at 27 miles north of Saigon. The POWs will be released by helicopter and from a U.S. aircraft carrier in the South China Sea.

The release of the POWs is expected to bring out our man who are missing in action.

What is RAT?

There seems to be a rumor about, that the RAT Committee is nothing but a front for the diabolical underground organisation known to most of you as PINK FANONYMOUS. One and for all we would like to dispel this ugly rumor by unconditionally admitting that it is true. Now that this difficult matter is settled, the RAT Committee would like to remind you that in the near future we will be conducting our first frisbee tournament. The date and other details will be released as soon as the RATs agree to them, so start signing and get in practice. Also, we have our Second Annual Yo-Yo Tournament set for college hour, March 1 in the University Plaza; and lastly our box surprise. Ready? After every tournament or game that RAT sponsors, the winning contestants, their scores and prizes will be posted in this box for all to see ....... example-

Get it? It's the new way to get your name in the Mustang Daily (and we hope it will entice more members to enter our tournaments)! That's RAT's share of this week's Poop Scoop, we'll have more next week. Beets can't wait, right? Sure.

RAT also wants to remind you about the APU Region 13 Tourney on Feb. 24. Schools from all over the state will be competing here. In such events as: bowling, billiards, chess, football, table tennis, and many others. Step by the Games Area and watch the competition.

ASI Program Board is now looking for an artist to do layout and art work on the quarterly activities schedule, handed out at registration. This position is open to any person who has artistic ability and who is able to keep deadline dates. Our present artist would like to have the new artist work with him this quarter to get a feeling of what the job is and how things work. Next year we are planning on having these schedules printed and each schedule takes about two weeks to layout, this is usually started around the seventh week of courses. The artist is paid and we may be able to work in class credit in some majors. All students interested should stop by the Activities Planning Center, SU 207, and ask for Sandy Donovan or Lee Schmitt, we have names and phone numbers in ASI Program Board mailbox no. 1.

Weekend full of sports

Mustang fans will have a busy weekend as four Mustang teams are gearing up for weekend Volleyball, basketball, wrestling and baseball dot the busy schedule.

Action begins today when the volleyballers host Cal State Hayward in the Men's Gym at 3 p.m. The Mustangs will be seeking their first win after dropping matches to UC Santa Barbara and to the Bahamian YMCA.

At 8 p.m. today, Barry Harr makes his debut as varsity baseball coach when the Mustangs host St. Mary's. Today's single game will be followed by a doubleheader Saturday at noon. All games are set for the baseball field by the old track.

This year's baseball team has potential hitting strength but the pitching staff must prove itself. If pitching comes through, it may be a better year for Barry and his group.

Basketball takes over the scene tonight when the eager challenge league-leading Cal State Bakersfield. Game time is set for 8 p.m. Bakersfield beat the Mustangs two weeks ago, 77-70, in the Roadrunner gym. But that game was not decided until the last five minutes after being tied at 80 apiece. Another tough game can be expected as the Mustangs have improved on their defense recently.

Providing the varsity tilt will be a freshman encounter between the two schools at 8:45 p.m. Steve Humann's Colts will attempt to keep its perfect conference record when they host the Roadrunners.

The following night, both squads travel to battle with UC Santa Barbara in nonconference matchups.

Mustang wrestlers close out the busy weekend with an important clash with Cal Berkeley. The match is set for 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Men's Gym. The match will determine the top wrestling school in California. The Mustangs own the top spot but will receive a serious challenge from the rapidly improving Bears. Also on the line will be the Mustangs 119-game win streak over California schools during an 11-year period.

On Monday, the grapplers close out their home schedule with a conference match with UC Riverside at 7:30. Intramural mat championships will precede the Mustang-Highlander match.
