P.E. CREDIT
Participation pays now

For the first time this university credit will be given for intramural play. It will now be offered as a fall and spring physical education course.

During Spring Quarter the P.E. Department will be expanding their present program with the addition of the intramural class, numbered as 124 X, offered on a pass-fail basis. Students will be eligible to take up to three units and get credit for it.

The type of classes being offered are covered by what the women's staff, men's basketball, coed volleyball taught by the men's staff and men's weight training. Specific times and instructors have not yet been decided, but they will be offered in the afternoon and evenings.

Anyone may still join in intramurals but does not have to feel pressured to join a class.

Dr. Robert Metz, head of the men's' Physical Education Department, said that if this program is successful depending on the surplus of people wanting to participate, and depending on the facilities available, then the program will expand.

The idea came up when AEI Pres. Robin Baggett was trying to find a pleasurable way to meet the P.E. requirements. He is interested in the intramural program and also wanted to promote it. He felt this would be the best way to include it in the academic area so everyone can meet the requirements and also participate in intramurals.

Baggett feels that a competitive atmosphere is essential to provide a healthy environment on campus. Any time students interact with others in a competitive manner it is healthy.

He also feels that this class would be better activity than a regular P.E. class because there would be more action. Baggett spent a lot of time over Christmas vacation presenting the idea to AEI, President Kennedy and Dean Everett Chandler. They are all for the idea.

Baggett came up with the idea and Dick Heston will be applying it. Heston is the co-ordinator for intramural activity and will be setting it up along with superintending.

This course will not be offered in the spring class schedules because right now it is an experimental program and the P.E. Department had to get special permission from Academic Vice-President Dave Andrews. They will be offering it on the add-drop change sheet.

The advantages of this system are: 1) It will be faster and all Presidential votes will be immediate and not bog down in the budget approval process. 2) The Committee of Five will have the financial experience required for a balanced and justifiable budget. 3) The Committee of Five will be readily available to SAC for testimony concerning any aspect of the budget.

The chairman of the committee will also be the co-ordinator for the Finance Committee and three elected members of the students Finance Committee. These committee members will be required to attend all SAC meetings after the 16th of April because the Finance Committee has been presented. The Finance Chairman will chair and coordinate all the committee's activities.

The chairman and vice-chairman of the Finance Committee are not elected by the Finance Committee and will be the representatives of the Finance Committee.

Special teachers to be chosen for yearly award

The Distinguished Teacher Awards will be made again this year. The program was started in 1964. This allows the student to submit nominations for an instructor who has been excellent in the student's opinion.

The instructors names will be submitted to a committee made up of faculty and students who will narrow down the students designated the name of the teacher who they think is the best teacher. The name of the teacher who they think is the best teacher will be submitted to the student association of the teacher who they think is the best teacher.

Withdrawal deadline near

The college catalog states: "Except for college remedial classes, no withdrawals from a course will be permitted after the seventh week of instruction."

Registration is held at 8 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 21, according to Registrar Gerald Panchon.
The orchestra is enjoying another successful year, as demonstrated by Fall quarter's standing-room-only concert. Anyone who has not attended a performance of the Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra has really missed out on some fine concerts. It Is guaranteed that this is one event at Cal Poly that will not be a disappointment.

Admission to this Fine Arts Committee-sponsored event will be $1.80 for students. The program will include Beethoven's Eighth Symphony, Ragtime for Eleven Instruments by Stravinsky, Bach's Third Unaccompanied Cello Suite, and the Haydn D Major Cello Concerto, the latter two being performed by Gabor Rejto.

The Cellist to add his touch

Gabor Rejto is indeed "a fabulous cellist," and the students of Cal Poly will have a rare opportunity to witness his performance with the Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra this Friday at 8:15 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium.

Business interaction series to begin tonight

To promote interaction between businessmen and students, the pilot program of a series entitled the Businessman Interaction Series is scheduled for tonight at 7:00 p.m. in the Tenaya Hall lounge.

Sponsored by the campus chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management, the series purpose is to promote an exchange of ideas between the students and businessmen and to shed light on subjects pertinent to both groups.

According to Joan Carbrey, student chairwoman for the program, the guest speaker for this exploratory session will be Ed Jenks, the director of the Los Angeles branch of the Small Business Administration. After his presentation, the audience will break into small integrated groups of students and businessmen for discussion. This will be followed by a question and answer period to close the meeting.

The complete program will consist of six meetings a year and will cover such topics as Small Business and the Law, The Better Business Bureau, and Motivation of Employees.

This introductory meeting is open to the public. Admission is free.

Baseball streak to four

The Mustang baseball team offensively exploded for 16 runs last weekend as it swept three games from defending Pac Western Conference champion Cal State Hayward.

The Mustangs, who improved their spotless record to 4-0, defeated the Pioneers, 15-5, Friday, and swept a doubleheader, 9-4 and 9-3.

In the first game of the series, Rick Simpson came in to relieve in the fourth inning, stifled a Pioneer rally, and went on to record his first win of the season. Struggling to two runs, the diamondmen tied the game up in the third inning with two runs and put the game out of reach in the next inning as they struck for five runs.

Dave Oliver started the rally with a single, stole second base, and Doug Redick singled him home. Redick then stole second base, was wild pitched to third, and scored on a balk. Joe Vazquez then hit a low line drive home run which gave the Mustangs their third run in the inning. Pete Phillips walked and Larry Silveira capped off the inning by hitting a towering home run which drove in two more runs.

In the first game of the doubleheader on Saturday, Mike Krakow pitched seven strong innings, blanking the Pioneers for five Innings to record the win. Dave Vasquez knocked out 10 runs and 10 hits in the game.

The Mustangs, holding on to a slim 1-0 lead, blew the game wide open in the third inning as they scored five runs. The big hit in the inning were singles by Gary Knockles which scored two runs and a single by Krakow which also scored two runs.

Carl Hathaway completed the three game sweep as he shut out the Pioneers for five innings in record the win. Dave Brunelli manned up for Hathaway and preserved the win for the Mustangs.
