ISRAEL RETALIATES

Libyan 727 shot down

TEL AVIV (UPI) - Israel said its Wednesday raid deep into Lebanon against the alleged hideouts of those responsible for the Lod airport and Munich massacre was a "preventive action" that forestalled similar attacks.

"The action was taken against persons who were being trained and equipped to go into the wide world and kill us," Foreign Minister Abba Eban said.

"The action saved the lives of many who could become victims of those killers.

"It's part of the Israeli policy of taking preventive action," Eban added.

Eban made his comments only hours before Israeli fighter-interceptor planes shot down a Libyan Boeing 727, killing at least 76 persons, according to Tel Aviv reports. Israeli military reports said the airliner was downed after it refueled the jet fighter pilot's orders to land when the plane strayed over Israeli-occupied territory in the Sinai desert.

Referring to the raid into Lebanon, senior officials said, "We have information of quite a number of planes, quite detailed and we believe that at least some of them were postponed by this raid.

"Refusing to give details, he added: "I would say that it's a logical assumption to believe that such an action has forestalled quite a number of terrorist actions, spectacular or not." The officer said the targets, two locations on the northern outskirts of Tripoli 138 miles north of Israeli territory, had a "long history" of serving as training bases for attacks abroad.

TENSION have no place to go

Editor:
The students of Cal Poly are being subjected to an energy crisis. Activities once available to them are now next to nonexistent.

A student builds up much tension and frustration during the school week. There is a vast, combustible energy churning within him. If this energy is not vented and released, a highly unstable situation can result.

Remember the "TODAY"? It once served as a helpful release of student pressures. But the "TODAY" is now extinct, how will the student release his energy?

A recent discovery, "The Crazy Horse," will soon be closed by the same anti-fun people who closed the "TODAY.

Is the power of those opposing forces greater than the energy of the student? If so, students beware! You may soon see more of your sources of energy evaporate; stolen like the sun takes the dew from the morning lawn.

Hogan's Goat' actress sparks joy and sorrow

Josephine Finn (Miss Sampio) sparked life into the slightly static production Sunday. Miss Sampio's portrayal ran blood deep, beautifully delineating the full scope of the passionate Irish woman's character.

While other actors in the San Luis Obispo Theater, Inc., production over emphasized their Irish dialects and vocally trampled on their lines, Miss Sampio danced over the intricately written, prose script with finesse. Her emotional transitions, from unrequited love and rage to despair and regret, were natural and with every gesture calling time in Another actress who wasn't bungled by the complex prose was Carol Sampio for her wonded palette. Her character was a spirited woman deeply in love but driven by her vocation.

Though not the most substantial role in this two-act play, written by William Alfred, "Hogan's Goat" was William Alfred's "Hogan's Goat" was reviewed Sunday by the Monterey Street Theater, 159 Monterey St. Two more performances are scheduled at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Admission is $1.75 for students, $3 for the general public and $1 for senior citizens. Tickets are available at the door.

Somehow, all the intangible joys and sorrows of the Irish heritage into one bottle and sold it to Carol Sampio for her weekend performance in "Hogan's Goat."
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department filed a civil antitrust suit Wednesday against the 4,400-member National Association of Securities Dealers and 13 other defendants, charging a conspiracy to control the mutual funds trade.

Also named in the suit were three mutual funds, their principal underwriters and nine of the largest securities brokerage firms in the nation.

Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst said the eight-count suit charged violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

Assistant Attorney General Thomas E. Kauper, chief of the antitrust division, said the alleged conspiracy had effectively prevented development of a "secondary market" in mutuals.

The suit alleged that the dealers conspired to prevent brokers from dealing in mutual fund shares among themselves or from processing sales between customers at competitive brokerage rates.

A secondary market, Kauper said, could involve brokers handling sales between brokers or between customers and would involve competition in commission rates, which does not exist under the present system.
Run to produce funds

For every lap of the track that is completed by students, a penny will be given to the March of Dimes by those pledging donations. Businessmen and residents of the community are urged to pledge money to this worthwhile cause.

The Functional Living Program is sponsored by San Luis Obispo Coastal Unified School District and Functional Living Incorporated and utilizes both public and private funds to provide a comprehensive rehabilitation program for mentally and physically handicapped adults of San Luis Obispo County. The current program includes students earn foosball titles.
