U.S.-China new relations

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The United States and China announced today they will open "liaison offices" in each other's capitals, a step short of full diplomatic relations, to arrange a vast expansion of trade, scientific, cultural and journalistic contacts between the two countries.

White House adviser Henry A. Kissinger said that as a further diplomatic relations, to arrange a vast expansion of trade, scientific, cultural and journalistic contacts between the two countries.

White House adviser Henry A. Kissinger said that as a further extension of good will, Premier Chou En-lai had informed President Nixon that China in the next few weeks will release two American pilots down and captured when they penetrated Chinese territory during Vietnam bombing raids.

nsessor Henry A. Kissinger also said that as a further extension of goodwill, Premier Chou En-lai had informed President Nixon that China in the next few weeks will release two American pilots down and captured when they penetrated Chinese territory during Vietnam bombing raids.

Kissinger briefed reporters and congressional leaders at the White House at the same time that Washington and Peking issued a joint communiqué declaring the "end of the war.

The communiqué, which was drawn up by Kissinger, stated that the two countries would "seek further normalization of relations.

It was a significant step, since the Communist aided power in 1949 that China and the United States had not been engaged in working contact, and the first time that China has had its official representation in the capital of a country which recognizes the rival Nationalist Chinese regime in Taiwan.

PLAY REVIEW

Women of every size, shape and shade, and more

by TONY BANTOS

(Note: The Speech Department's production of Clara Belle Lane's "The Women" was reviewed during dress rehearsal Wednesday. Performances of the play, which opens Thursday, are scheduled at 8 p.m. today and Wednesday in the University Theatre. Tickets are $2.50 for students and $3 for the general public—are available only at the door.)

Whoever thinks quality always refers with numbers should take a good look at the Speech Department's presentation of "The Women." Instructional Director Murray Smith had 40 women of every size and shape crawling out of the woodwork to add sex to Playwright Clara Belle Lane's coterie of barbs, innuendoes and guff. And what really turns a writer's eye green is that Mrs. Lane's literary cup didn't overflow.

A playday sponsored by the Cutting and Reining Club of this campus will be held Saturday with classes starting at 9:30 a.m. in the arena behind the horse unit.

All events will be open to the public. Morning events will include showmanship, barrel racing, cutting, western pleasure, and trail.

Afternoon events will be a run, ride, and lead race, keyhole, egg in spoon race, clover leaf barrel, trot race, goat tying, ribbon race, and team penning.

Entry fees are 50 cents per event, $1 per team, or $6.50 for all.

The lunch bruk will feature hamburgers and fries with all the trimmings for $1.35 per person.

Tickets for Ball tickets may be purchased at the All in a law suit but just reaffirm its position on dorm reform. An amendment to the resolution concerning amending the education code to read leases instead of license agreements will be used as a contractual agreement between the state and passed.

 Cadets selling tickets for Ball

Tickets are still available to the East Annual Military Ball to be held in the Madonna Inn Wine Court from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday.

The Ball, which is open to the public, is sponsored by this university's chapter of Pirotubber Club. It features a steak dinner from 7 to 9 p.m., and dancing continuously thereafter.

Admission is $15 in hand and $15 in cash, including tax and tip for the dinner. Admission to the ball only is $15 per couple. Tickets are available at the Union Information Desk.
Army ROTC pays.
When you're in, and when you're out.

Army ROTC pays you $100 a month during your last two years of college. But the money, handy as it is, isn't the real reason you should enroll in ROTC.

There is a bigger payoff. The one that comes after you've earned your degree and commission. After you've served your country as an officer. That's the time you'll know the true value of Army ROTC.

When you begin your civilian career you'll find you have the combination that just about guarantees success—a good education, fine tuned with military management and experience. Let us tell you about the options.

Craft Center

The craft center which is located in the basement of the College Union, carries a variety of equipment which can be checked out free to all students. Come in and do Ceramics, Leather Works, Jewelry Casting, Woodworking, or just about anything that we can help you with.

Our friendly Supervisors are willing able and ready to assist the crafters in whatever he or her needs are. Our hours are 11-11 Monday-Saturday, and 11-11 on Sunday.

ATTENTION ALL CRAFTERS—If you care about the Craft Center, and its future then take time to visit the Craft Center and fill out a survey that the Craft Center Committee has prepared. We are located in the lower floor of the University Union, so drop on by and find out what is going on.

Yo-Yos in the UU

Yo-Yo's in the U.U. will occur at 11:00 a.m. on Thursday, March 1st as RAT spins off its Second Annual Yo-Yo Tournament, assuring a very exciting University Hour. Entry blanks and rules are available at the University Union Recreation Center Desk. Entry fee is 50 cents (up 10 cents from last year due to inflation) and the first, second, and third place prizes are currently top secret because we haven't decided what they are yet (last year's first place took in a $10.00 gift certificate). As a reminder, the frisbee Olympics is set for early Spring Quarter—details to be announced. And lastly, the announcement of the Spring 78 Pie-In-Your-Eye-Stomach-Stuffing Pie Eating Contest. Fellow students, this is a spectacle you won't want to miss—fellow gluttons, this is a contest you won't mind losing! So, if you were thinking of going home Spring Quarter, DON'T! That's RAT's weekly poop scoping in town wherever you are unless the rope looks like it's going to snap; if that's the case, cut it first.
