Hay to fight bill's okay to establish student fee

A bill which could establish a voluntary fee for all students in the California State University and Colleges will be receiving a great deal of attention from the California State University and Colleges Student President's Association during the 1973-74 legislative session, according to Joe Hay, Legislative Advocate for the CRUCCPA. Hay announced that his office will be working hard for the defeat of this bill. AB 196, introduced by Assemblyman Ray E. Johnson. According to Hay, passage of the bill would all but eliminate any student-financed programs on the various campuses. This means that such instructionally related programs as intercollegiate athletics, music, art, drama, day care centers, legal counselling, emergency student loans, EOP experimental or free university programs would be without funding.

Hay went on to say that, "If this bill passed, the CRUCCPA students would be in the same situation that plagued the Community College students who were hit very heavily. They are without any substantial student programs or services. In ad­dition, they get ripped off by the state legislature because they currently do not have student legislative advocates to protect their interests which are financed by student fees.

"The only real power CRUCCPA students have is the money they can spend to provide themselves services and programs as well as support representatives in Sacramento which lobby the state legislature and send representatives to the Board of Trustees meetings in Los Angeles," Hay said.

Legal Aid will be temporarily dissolved until March 20 due to a strike, according to chairman John Ronco.

If there are any urgent problems, a message with your name and phone number may be left at Roundhouse and Ronco will deal with them as they come in.

Arab guerrillas to be executed

Khartoum (CPI)—Sudanese officials said the United States Monday that the eight Palestinian guerrillas who killed two American diplomats and Belgian charge d'affaires would be executed. The same amount was established at Khartoum airport where diplomats had gathered as the bodies of the two Americans, U.S. Ambassador Clio A. Noel, 54, and Deputy Chief of Mission George Curtis Moore, 47, placed aboard a plane for the United States. The two diplomats will be buried Wednesday in Arlington National Cemetery.

The wives of the slain American diplomats and the entire diplomatic corps of Khartoum were on the runway, many of them weeping openly, when the two flag-draped coffins were placed aboard the plane with "Auld Lang Syne" playing in the background.

A government statement issued later Monday said, "There will be a trial and murder charges" placed against the eight suspected in the Sept. 18 Japanese terrorist organisation.

In Washington, Secretary of State William Rogers urged the U.S. government to drop a package from the United States Monday that the United States, and abroad, to a target on the ground below. The participants must drop a filled glass container. Points will also be given if the package lands close to the target.

The public is welcome to at­endance.

'T3 Poly Royal:

Deadlines approach for exhibits, carnival booths and concessions

by RICK GOULART

Preliminary preparations for the 1973 annual Poly Royal head into full swing this week with applications due for concessions, exhibits and carnival booths, and culminating in the election of the queen to reign over the festivities April 17 and 18.

The deadlines for submitting names to be in contention for the 1973 Poly Royal Queen were noon Monday.

A queen and her court will be selected from those eligible Thursday night at 6 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium.

This year particular stress will be put on the "availability of each contestant to participate in Poly Royal activities" beginning a month before the event. Previous Poly Royal queens have had conflicting schedules and were unable to adequately promote the event.

The girls also will be judged on their past participation in Poly related activities as well as their personality.

Instead of the large beauty pageant and dinner, as in the past, each candidate will be asked to step before the judges to answer a series of questions. Their responses will help determine a winner. No formal attire will be necessary.

The judges consist of the Poly Royal General Board and one representative from each club and chapter on campus, about 180 strong.

The selection of the queen is open to the public with no ad­mission charge. The new queen and her court will be announced after all votes have been tabulated sometime (Continued on page 8)

Editor: To the self-appointed world seer, Bruce Petrovsky: A concern for our environment is admirable, but are you typical of many in that you either do not take the time to investigate all the facts, or you deliberately manipulate issues to make them appear more pressing than they are? Do you fear your arguments won't stand on the truth?

I am referring to your article in the March 8 Mustang Daily concerning the alleged slaughter of several thousand eagles by Wyoming ranchers. Where do you research your information, or do you? It seems highly doubtful that you do.

Let me refer you to the Sierra Club Bulletin October-December 1971, and an article titled "Eagles: Vanishing Americans!"

First, the article cites a poisoning incident, not shooting, as the cause of the eagle's death. Second, the only mention of thousands of eagles being the estimate of 10,000 eagles killed in the past 15 years in the Southwest, and Wyoming is not commonly included in that territory.

Rather, the Sierra Club's version of the incident you are apparently referring to states that 50 eagles were found poisoned, 16 eagles died from power lines, and 36 eagles were allegedly shot from a helicopter. Consequent reports indicate eagles numbering in the thousands were shot from a helicopter, but this total doesn't quite make one thousand.

It is unfortunate that a very few ranchers have practiced such indiscriminate killings and given the industry as a whole a bad name, but these are a minute minority compared to the large numbers of conscientious individuals and organizations from true conservationists.

A closing comment: The state, the servant of the people, doesn't have the right to make money, as Mr. Duer states. They are run as a service to a large number of students at this school on a break-even basis. It would undoubtedly be illegal under state law and would be subject to invalidation in the courts.

Nevertheless, it is used by the state. What right does the state (the servant of the people) have to ignore its own laws applying to landlord-tenant relationships? By no means does it have the "perfect right," as Mr. Duer claims.

The dorms are not run to "make money," as Mr. Duer stated. They are run as a service to a large number of students at this school on a break-even basis. Unnecessary restrictions on the adult residents of the dorms hardly made it a more valuable service.

Concert band to travel north in mid-March

The campus Symphonic Band is scheduled to perform in nine locations in Northern California for the 1978 concert tour March 18 through March 31.

Conducted by music faculty member William V. Johnson, the 78 musicians will offer traditional, contemporary, and jazz-rock music to assemblies and band concerts at high schools in San Jose, Campbell, Sunnyvale, and Contra Costa.

Performing along with the Symphonic Band will be smaller groups comprised of the Percussion Ensemble, Basso Quintet, the Saxophone Ensemble, the Trombone Choir, the Clarinet Choir, the Clarinet Quartet, and the Studio Band.

The tour will be sponsored by the university's Department of the Arts, Associated Students, Inc.

We'll meet with college seniors and graduate students on some 87 campuses this spring.

They're excited about what new engineers and computer science graduates have to say. About their goals. About their professional responsibility to spaceship Earth.

We're also talking about the opportunities at Boeing this year. And the years that follow.

Frankly, we want the brightest graduates in the country to be interested in and the Boeing environment. To feel a compatibility. And to rank Boeing as No. 1 job choice.

Before we get together, you should know a little about us. Naturally, much of our business is related to the airline industry.

Jetliner orders have come faster than we ever predicted. Orders from the 797-500 have passed the 1000 mark. We've sold ten 797s to China. The 747 continues to be queen of the sky. And we're looking into a brand new jetliner now labeled the 7X7.

Boeing is involved in a number of defense programs, space projects, development of a short take-off and landing (STOL) aircraft, and missile and helicopter production.

Boeing Computer Services, Inc., is concerned with general business and financial systems, medical systems, automated manufacturing techniques, inventory management, scientific and engineering problem solving techniques and computer operating systems.

We have also started programs: on: 1) people movers to help unload traffic problems in cities; 2) hydrofoils to help people and freight over water faster; 3) reduction of aircraft noises; and 4) pollution control processes that have application in desalination and treatment of industrial waste. We are also at work on programs that can lead to a better understanding of this planet's natural resources.

If this sounds like the kind of opportunity you're looking for, let's get together at the Placement Office.

Our interviewer will be on campus next week interviewing A3, EE, ME, CS and IE graduates.

Diamondmen drop pair

The Mustang baseball team ran into a roadblock last weekend as it traveled to U.C. Riverside in conference play.

The Mustangs took the opener on Friday 8-1, but dropped a doubleheader Saturday, 9-0 and 9-5.

The locals now have a 6-6 record and will try to get back on track this week as they face U.C. Santa Barbara at Elks Field.

Mark Riddle was on the mound for the first game and the locals will probably be Carl Hathaway for the second game.

Two tinclades Impressive on Gauchos' oval

Mustang trackmen turned in two outstanding performances against UC Santa Barbara last Saturday in a non-scoring dual meet on the Gauchos' oval.

Freshman pole vaulter Ken Haagen vaulted a 16-4 to win this specialty. Coach Steve Simmons considered Haagen's mark outstanding since the condition of the runway was not in good shape.

Half-cadet Halse Kibbe ran a quick 1:18.2 for the 880-yard run in second place, Simmons was pleased also with Kibbe's performance for the early season.

The Mustang 400-yard relay team of Russ Gimsie, Tony Harris, and John Haley was marked by virtue of disqualification of the Gauchos' team. The Mustang quartet ran a 43.1 while the Gauchos had a 43.7.

Jim Owens and John Beaton gave the Mustangs a two-medal finish in the 1600 meter run. Owens won with a 4:06.8 while Beaton finished in 4:31.8.

Freshman hurdler Walter Mackay easily won the 110-meter high hurdles in 16.8, just a tenth of a second ahead of the second place finisher.

Three Mustangs earned places in the triple jump, led by Kent Taylor's 44.4. Dave Bush was just two inches behind Taylor with a 44.4, while Mike Harper finished fourth at 43.1.

Jim Eddleman and John Wall finished second and third in the 100-meter intermediate hurdles with times of 11.3 and 11.3, respectively.

Twin play

The Alpha-Omega Players, the most active group of touring players in the United States, will present Mark Twain's "The Diary of Adam and Eve" on this campus Friday, March 6.

The program, sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee of the AII, will be presented at 8:00 in the Chumash Auditorium. The play is adapted from Twain's short story humorously depicting the everlasting struggle between sexes. Admission is $1 for students and $1.50 for all others.

Spikers' tight defense earns two more wins

Mustang volleyballers stretched their season record to 7-0 with a pair of wins last Friday and Saturday in the Gym. Playing what coach Mike Pistasracmaga called their "best effort since our trip to UC Santa Barbara," the volleyballers outslugged Santa Barbara City College in four games and Fresno College in three.

Pat Whalley and Harry Ray earned high marks for the Mustangs both nights. Against Santa Barbara they helped the Mustangs jump to a 2-0 lead in the second game, but the Gauchos dropped two of three games for the Mustangs.

Fresno State provided little defense against the Mustangs between led a strong attack for the Mustangs both nights. Against Santa Barbara they
