Mike Johansen admires a painting in the Cosmic Landscapes art show at CU 101.

Line and verse joined in October exhibition

As exhibition of ink drawings and poetry titled, "Cosmic Landscapes" will be on view in room 22 of the University Union during the month of October.

The showing features the art work of Ronald Morgan, assistant professor of architecture and poet Glenna Lanstel, wife of Martin Lanstel.

Money masters

The All Finance Committee— the body which prepares the annual budget which under which student body funds are spent— has vacancies for seven members.

At the committee's Monday night meeting, it was reported that members are being sought from the university's academic schools in the following numbers:

- Engineering, one
- Communicative Arts and Humanities, two
- Human Development, one
- and Science and Math, two.

Students interested in matters financial should leave their names in the committee's mail box in the Student Activities Center of the University Union.

The committee meets in regular session at 7:30 p.m. on Monday in Union room 200.

In order to accomplish its maximum projected enrollment of 18,000, campus administrators are aware that there will be some definite student limitations. Right now they are working on solutions to scheduling, housing, and financial problems that have surfaced.

Flexibility is one of the major solutions in combating student dissatisfaction, according to Registrar Gerald Pendle. He summaries the complaints by realizing that you can't please everyone.

"We have to meet the needs of the majority. Not all of us can have it, 10, 30 and 110 class sizes. Students will have to learn to compromise and be prepared for some types of scheduling," he said.

"It's the problem of higher education. Money isn't available to four-year colleges anymore.

Since we don't want to change the quality of our education, we're trying to have to work within our limitations."

Executive Dean Douglas Gerard also notes the student limitations problems which could make the student in the construction that is planned for the campus.

The major portion of future construction includes about $800,000,000 worth of instructional facilities including new English, science, agriculture, home economics, and child development buildings.

The planned construction will help to alleviate some of the future growth problems, but Gerard admits that right now the classroom situation is tight.

"We are required to schedule some rooms on a 14-hour week which means that they must be in use five days a week from eight a.m. to five p.m.," he said.

Although administrators are still looking for other solutions to scheduling problems, they are also turning their attention to the on-campus housing situation. "The dorms are filled," said Robert Bostrom, director of housing, "but I was able to handle all the students. I didn't have to turn any of them away."

In order to place all of these students in the housing situation that they wanted, Bostrom had to be very resourceful. He placed about 400 to 500 students in study rooms.

"The study rooms are just as big as regular dorm rooms and have the same furniture," said Bostrom. "The major disadvantage is the portable closet.

The students will be moved around when room is available, but it's fortunate that many of them may want to stay where they are, instead of moving around again.

No complaints were heard from the residents about the lack of study facilities. The dorm residents seemed happy about the whole situation, according to Bostrom.

"The student population is an increase in the dorm population over the past two years.

English Department Head Willard Pederson said, "I personally think it's a fine thing for a student to stay at the university as long as he wants, provided he is supporting himself." Andrews, though, pointed out that students should not be supporting themselves. According to Andrews, an incoming student's education runs close to $1,800, with the student paying approximately $600 in materials and services fees. The remainder of the tab, including fees for facilities is picked up by the state's taxpayers.

Education Department Head Wallace Stastney agreed.

(Continued on page 2)

Career students curbed

by JEANNE WESB

State trustees action to curb the university's use of so-called "professional students" has met with varied reactions here.

From a student's reaction of "It's against the whole educational concept of what a school is," to Academic Vice-president Della Andrew's statement of "Hopefully those new regulations will serve as one means of improving students' survival rates," thoughts seem to vary according to which side of the financial fence the respondent is on.

Exactly what the State University of New York at last week was to adopt new educational policy regarding for handling a variety of problems in designing him.

Included in that policy was a statement relating to students who repeatedly withdraw from courses, fail to progress toward an educational objective or are deemed unqualified.

The policy states, "An undergraduate or graduate student may also be placed on probation or may be disqualified by appropriate campus authorities for unsatisfactory scholastic progress regardless of cumulative grade point average or progress points. Such actions shall be limited to those arising from repeated withdrawal, failure to comply with an academic objective and non-compliance with an academic requirement."

Vice-president Andrews emphasized the policy does not require progressions or degree, only an educational objective.

"What I tried to do is rule against those students who make no attempt to achieve," he said. E.R. Owen, electronics and electrical engineering department head.

"I'm not sure philosophically that it's all that wrong because professional students may keep out other students by taking up space," Andrews said.

"Looking at it from an economic angle," he said, "we're not going to educate people who want to go out and get jobs, but not those who just want to make a profession of being a student.

Student Brad Brown agreed the state wants to educate job-oriented people, but added, "What's money compared to mental advancement?"

(Continued on page 3)

Oldster aides

Volunteers to help senior citizens in Morro Bay are needed by Student Community Services. Students with their own cars, "could games with or help write letters of senior citizens. Applications will be accepted from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, or until the positions are filled."

Bay is located in the Activities Planning Center at University Center in room 101. (Continued on page 4)

The Mustang Daily Daily is published Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays by Mustang Daily during the school year. Subscription rates are $4 a year, $4 for two years. Advertising office is in room 101. Editor-in-chief is Tanya Willard. The Mustang Daily is published under the auspices of the California Polytechnic State University. It is distributed on campus without charge. Rights reserved. The views of the editors and writers do not necessarily represent the views of the university.

Volunteer drivers needed by Student Community Services. Students with their own cars, or who can drive others, are needed to transport senior citizens around the county.

The Mustang Daily is the voice of the students of California Polytechnic State University. It is published Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays by Mustang Daily during the school year. Subscription rates are $4 a year, $4 for two years. Advertising office is in room 101. Editor-in-chief is Tanya Willard. The Mustang Daily is published under the auspices of the California Polytechnic State University. It is distributed on campus without charge. Rights reserved. The views of the editors and writers do not necessarily represent the views of the university.

Volunteer drivers needed by Student Community Services. Students with their own cars, or who can drive others, are needed to transport senior citizens around the county.

The Mustang Daily is the voice of the students of California Polytechnic State University. It is published Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays by Mustang Daily during the school year. Subscription rates are $4 a year, $4 for two years. Advertising office is in room 101. Editor-in-chief is Tanya Willard. The Mustang Daily is published under the auspices of the California Polytechnic State University. It is distributed on campus without charge. Rights reserved. The views of the editors and writers do not necessarily represent the views of the university.

Volunteer drivers needed by Student Community Services. Students with their own cars, or who can drive others, are needed to transport senior citizens around the county.

The Mustang Daily is the voice of the students of California Polytechnic State University. It is published Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays by Mustang Daily during the school year. Subscription rates are $4 a year, $4 for two years. Advertising office is in room 101. Editor-in-chief is Tanya Willard. The Mustang Daily is published under the auspices of the California Polytechnic State University. It is distributed on campus without charge. Rights reserved. The views of the editors and writers do not necessarily represent the views of the university.
Letters to the Editor

Dee Editor,

I wish to express my dismay at the taste of the artist who drew the cartoon associated with the TG editorial in Monday's Daily. For those of you who don't recall what I'm referring to, it was a cartoon of a Joe Cool and a police officer standing with a billy club, a pig insignia on his cap and little feet looming around him, the officer saying "Cool!" Great! The article goes on to great lengths to point out how tolerant the Police Department has been. They are upset with public urination and defecation and "under-collage-age drinkers," (note, it's not under 21) and all complaints are valid. They have never gone out of their way to break up these gatherings. On the contrary, they have tried to work with ALL and DFC, "bending over backwards" to come up with a workable solution to please both the students and the neighbors who had the misfortune to live near the TG area. So why they should be degraded in this fashion?

Jim Larson, DFC president, said, "If only people would understand that all ages we could make it without all these problems."

Chris Veidler

KCP initial suggestions not false information

Editor:

Mr. Craig Reynolds letter in Monday's Mustang Daily letter, everyone is entitled to their own opinions but most enlighten concerning KCP final are based on information that is utterly false. Mr. Reynolds brings up the point that KCP could use some improvement. I'll be the first to admit that and so will the station's staff. However, despite the fact that President Kennedy holds the licenses for KCP (thus making it a Cal Poly station), it is a little known fact that we are a PUBLIC Education station and we are required by law to serve not only Cal Poly but the entire community of San Luis Obispo. We cannot orient ourselves exclusively toward the Cal Poly campus because the law says that we have to serve the entire community.

As to the question of professionalism, most of the people who work at KCP are all professionals who plan to make broadcast journalism their bread-and-butter. Mr. Reynolds, down our professional standards be established at KCP so that we graduate have some criteria on which to base the standard they develop during their professional careers? That's common sense. It would be to that group who is working at a complete and utter waste of information and informs you. If you would, I suggest that you have a bigger problem than being misinformed.

As to who gets consulted as to what programs people want to hear, we are at this station making constructive suggestions.

If you want a say come and tell us. We will listen.

Eleanor, Steve Wims

TG cartoon hit for critical cop representation

Dear Editor,

I wish to express my dismay at the taste of the artist who drew the cartoon associated with the TG editorial in Monday's Daily. For those of you who don't recall what I'm referring to, it was a cartoon of a Joe Cool and a police officer standing with a billy club, a pig insignia on his cap and little feet looming around him, the officer saying "Cool!" Great! The article goes on to great lengths to point out how tolerant the Police Department has been. They are upset with public urination and defecation and "under-collage-age drinkers," (note, it's not under 21) and all complaints are valid. They have never gone out of their way to break up these gatherings. On the contrary, they have tried to work with ALL and DFC, "bending over backwards" to come up with a workable solution to please both the students and the neighbors who had the misfortune to live near the TG area. So why they should be degraded in this fashion?

Jim Larson, DFC president, said, "If only people would understand that all ages we could make it without all these problems."

Chris Veidler

THE TENNIS OUTFIT

671 Santa Rosa Street
San Luis Obispo

10 AM - 5:30 PM (Mon.- Sat.)

Dunlop & Wilson

ALL STUDENTS

WITH I.D.

10% DISCOUNT!

ALL STUDENTS

INCLUDES

FREE Nylon

Patching

FREE

"I LOVE TENNIS"

BUMPER STICKERS!

THE MOST READ BOOK ON CAMPUS

IS NOW ON SCREEN!

THE HARRAD EXPERIMENT

Harrad University... where free, liberated relations between coed students are encouraged!

HARRAD 7:00 9:10:30
LADY KUNG FU 8:45

"LADY KUNG FU"

ALSO

SALE

sale (all) n. [< ON

2. opportunity to

1. a s

3. auction 4. special

reduced prices

be sold

ONLY 86c

SALE

ng, disposal; auction, sale; list prices.

Flgur, eyelashes, and eyebrows; eyebrow; pans, wiper; ticker; trade, merchandising, retail, deal in;

bargain basement price, 66c

ONLY 86c

SALE

sale; trade, merchandising, retail, deal in; 66c

bargain basement price, 66c

ONLY 86c

FL CORRAL

RUNDHOUSE

546-4754

El CORRAL

2. opportunity to

1. a s

3. auction 4. special

reduced prices

be sold

ONLY 86c

SALE

ng, disposal; auction, sale; list prices.

Flgur, eyelashes, and eyebrows; eyebrow; pans, wiper; ticker; trade, merchandising, retail, deal in;

bargain basement price, 66c

ONLY 86c

SALE

sale; trade, merchandising, retail, deal in; 66c

bargain basement price, 66c

ONLY 86c

FL CORRAL

RUNDHOUSE

546-4754

El CORRAL

2. opportunity to

1. a s

3. auction 4. special

reduced prices

be sold

ONLY 86c

SALE

ng, disposal; auction, sale; list prices.

Flgur, eyelashes, and eyebrows; eyebrow; pans, wiper; ticker; trade, merchandising, retail, deal in;

bargain basement price, 66c

ONLY 86c

SALE

sale; trade, merchandising, retail, deal in; 66c

bargain basement price, 66c

ONLY 86c

FL CORRAL

RUNDHOUSE

546-4754

El CORRAL

2. opportunity to

1. a s

3. auction 4. special

reduced prices

be sold

ONLY 86c

SALE

ng, disposal; auction, sale; list prices.

Flgur, eyelashes, and eyebrows; eyebrow; pans, wiper; ticker; trade, merchandising, retail, deal in;

bargain basement price, 66c

ONLY 86c

SALE

sale; trade, merchandising, retail, deal in; 66c

bargain basement price, 66c

ONLY 86c

FL CORRAL

RUNDHOUSE

546-4754
Career students... (Continued from page 1)

term "professional student," saying graduate students seeking advance are classified as professionals.

The trustees action applies both to undergraduate and graduate students.

"The State University and College system needs to provide opportunity for a broad range of individuals to enroll in courses of special interest to them," Schroeder said. "This could be done now through concurrent enrollment in extension courses."

"We need a fairly open system where people may enter to pursue recognized goals and serious work and withdraw at the close of the quarter to pursue employment or other, and return at a later date without penalty," Schroeder said at present the matriculation fee acts as a penalty to students seeking this course of action.

In view of declining enrollments in other parts of the state, timing of the trustees action was questioned.

Dean specialized the action may have been initiated in years past when getting into a college was harder.

Although reactions varied, not many of those contacted were surprised by the regulations, due to the small number of students involved.

"I expect this regulation to affect very, very few students at Cal Poly," Andrews said.

Peaterson agreed, "In my opinion the number is just not great enough to draw on at Cal Poly, at Los Angeles or San Francisco State it would be a different picture."

There you are, a $9.95 bill and $1.38 in your pocket. The merchant eyes you suspiciously: uh-oh, another no-cash kid.

You smile to yourself as you whip out a Bank of America College Plan check (only $1 a month, the summer is free, and all the checks you can write!).

He hesitates, he still doesn't know you. So you reach in your pocket and pull out your ace—your BankAmericard?

The merchant relaxes, Thank you sir, come again.

Your credit's established, thanks to BankAmericard and College Plan Checking—welcome company just about everywhere. And they're just two of the six College Plan services available to students.

Be known by the company you keep.

BANK OF AMERICA

College Plan Available Only At:

Barbara Elston, Student Relations Representative
University Square Office, 972 Foothill Blvd.
San Luis Obispo Office, 908 Higuera St.
The Mustang football team, ranked seventh in last week's UPI poll, takes a week of well-deserved rest this week after beating the second-ranked California College Athletic Association game against the University of California at Riverside 20-17. It's 10 pounds heavier than last year.

The Mustangs get back into action on Saturday, Oct. 15 at 7:00 in Mustang Stadium when they take on their California State Polytechnic University at Pomona. The Cal Poly Pomona game will be an emotional clash between two traditional rivals. The Pomona Broncos have not beaten the Mustangs in their last six meetings and they have some old scores to settle. Leading the Broncos will be quarterback Mika Coulson, a senior, ranked fifth in total offense with 915 yards per game.

There were, however, some cheerleading statistics, as the Mustangs ranked nationally in three team statistic departments, as reported by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the CCAA Athletic Association and the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The Mustangs ranked nationally in three team statistic departments, as reported by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Sports

J.V. Football barns, 1:00, Whittier College, 2:00, Thursday, UCR Stadium vs. Thursday, UCR, vs. San Diego State. The Mustang football team, ranked seventh in last week’s UPI poll, takes a week of well-deserved rest after beating the second-ranked California College Athletic Association game against the University of California at Riverside 20-17. It’s 10 pounds heavier than last year.

The Mustangs get back into action on Saturday, Oct. 15 at 7:00 in Mustang Stadium when they take on their California State Polytechnic University at Pomona. The Cal Poly Pomona game will be an emotional clash between two traditional rivals. The Pomona Broncos have not beaten the Mustangs in their last six meetings and they have some old scores to settle. Leading the Broncos will be quarterback Mika Coulson, a senior, ranked fifth in total offense with 915 yards per game.

There were, however, some cheerleading statistics, as the Mustangs ranked nationally in three team statistic departments, as reported by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The Mustangs ranked nationally in three team statistic departments, as reported by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Sports

J.V. Football barns, 1:00, Whittier College, 2:00, Thursday, UCR Stadium vs. Thursday, UCR, vs. San Diego State. The Mustang football team, ranked seventh in last week’s UPI poll, takes a week of well-deserved rest after beating the second-ranked California College Athletic Association game against the University of California at Riverside 20-17. It’s 10 pounds heavier than last year.

The Mustangs get back into action on Saturday, Oct. 15 at 7:00 in Mustang Stadium when they take on their California State Polytechnic University at Pomona. The Cal Poly Pomona game will be an emotional clash between two traditional rivals. The Pomona Broncos have not beaten the Mustangs in their last six meetings and they have some old scores to settle. Leading the Broncos will be quarterback Mika Coulson, a senior, ranked fifth in total offense with 915 yards per game.

There were, however, some cheerleading statistics, as the Mustangs ranked nationally in three team statistic departments, as reported by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The Mustangs ranked nationally in three team statistic departments, as reported by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Sports

J.V. Football barns, 1:00, Whittier College, 2:00, Thursday, UCR Stadium vs. Thursday, UCR, vs. San Diego State. The Mustang football team, ranked seventh in last week’s UPI poll, takes a week of well-deserved rest after beating the second-ranked California College Athletic Association game against the University of California at Riverside 20-17. It’s 10 pounds heavier than last year.

The Mustangs get back into action on Saturday, Oct. 15 at 7:00 in Mustang Stadium when they take on their California State Polytechnic University at Pomona. The Cal Poly Pomona game will be an emotional clash between two traditional rivals. The Pomona Broncos have not beaten the Mustangs in their last six meetings and they have some old scores to settle. Leading the Broncos will be quarterback Mika Coulson, a senior, ranked fifth in total offense with 915 yards per game.

There were, however, some cheerleading statistics, as the Mustangs ranked nationally in three team statistic departments, as reported by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The Mustangs ranked nationally in three team statistic departments, as reported by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.