Cagers leading conference

by ROBERT DRUMMOND

The Mustang basketball team is off to the best conference start in Poly history as they swept two CCCAA games last weekend. The guards won five conference games in a row giving them a Nixon counsel reveals costs for Watergate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's Watergate defense cost $500,619 to public funds over a six-month period and involved lawyers drawn from the government agencies, J. Fred Bushardt, counsel to the President, said Monday.

Bushardt dismissed the costs associated with Nixon's Watergate defense in response to a letter from the Walter P. Mondale Committee, which had asked Bushardt's reply published.

Bushardt's reply was a detailed from the Defense Department, Nixon's legal staff, to the Office of Personnel Management, including five full-time lawyers, to the four full-time lawyers on the President's legal staff, and the Department of Agriculture, Housing and Urban Development, and the Department of Justice, Agriculture, Housing and Urban Development, and the Federal Communications Commission to help Nixon's legal staff.

The Mustangs, who are 13-7 on the year and have won 12 of the last 14 games coached by Leon Pinky Williams, enjoyed one of the finest Poly basketball teams ever.

The Mustangs showed both sides of the coin this weekend by playing good basketball one night and then playing poorly the next. The Poly guards overpowered Cal State Northridge Friday night, 84-69, and then squared by Cal State Fullerton in an overtime thriller Saturday.

Team explain, John Parker, enjoyed one of his finest basketball games ever and led the Mustangs in both contests. Parker pumped in 16 points and grabbed seven rebounds against Northridge and came back for the next night to hit for 13 points including a last second overtime hero shot that beat the Fullerton Titans.

The Saturday night battle with Fullerton was one of the tightest games yet for the young Mustangs.

The contest was a battle of defenses, as most Poly games are, and was close right up to the buzzer. Two halves of tough basketball came down to the last minute with the Titans leading 46-45.

With less than two minutes on the clock, Curtis Wright hit his only basket of the game to close the gap to 46-47. The Titans quickly turned the ball over and Gary Orgill, playing one of his best games, drove to a layup that tied the game.

Parker grabbed the ball for over a minute and worked for the last shot. With a second遗留他们把球投向通往顶点的通道。Jim Johnston, a forward who scores more points than letters in his last name, began to work on 11-footers and had his shot come up.

The Mustangs will play after the 10th victory of the year Saturday night, when they will host Chapman in the Men's Gym.

Holley selected for city position

by BOBBITT DRUMMOND

California Polytechnic State University
San Luis Obispo
Volume 6 Number 9
Tuesday, February 5, 1974
Four Pages Today

NEWQUEEN—Barbara White was selected Sunday night to reign over Black Heritage Week.

Queen to reign

Barbara White, a freshman business administration major from Montecito was selected as the queen of Black Heritage Week Sunday night in a gala event at the University Union Ballroom.

The selection was made Sunday night from 7 to 9 p.m. in the University Union Ballroom. The event featured a variety of entertainment including music, dance, and a beauty pageant.

Barbara White will serve as the official representative of Black Heritage Week, promoting awareness and understanding of African American culture and history. The pageant included contestants from various student organizations and cultural groups, showcasing their talent and cultural heritage.

The event was attended by students, faculty, and staff, providing an opportunity for all to celebrate and honor the contributions of African Americans.

Queen to reign

Barbara White, a freshman business administration major from Montecito was selected as the queen of Black Heritage Week Sunday night in a gala event at the University Union Ballroom.

The selection was made Sunday night from 7 to 9 p.m. in the University Union Ballroom. The event featured a variety of entertainment including music, dance, and a beauty pageant.

Barbara White will serve as the official representative of Black Heritage Week, promoting awareness and understanding of African American culture and history. The pageant included contestants from various student organizations and cultural groups, showcasing their talent and cultural heritage.

The event was attended by students, faculty, and staff, providing an opportunity for all to celebrate and honor the contributions of African Americans.

Queen to reign

Barbara White, a freshman business administration major from Montecito was selected as the queen of Black Heritage Week Sunday night in a gala event at the University Union Ballroom.

The selection was made Sunday night from 7 to 9 p.m. in the University Union Ballroom. The event featured a variety of entertainment including music, dance, and a beauty pageant.

Barbara White will serve as the official representative of Black Heritage Week, promoting awareness and understanding of African American culture and history. The pageant included contestants from various student organizations and cultural groups, showcasing their talent and cultural heritage.

The event was attended by students, faculty, and staff, providing an opportunity for all to celebrate and honor the contributions of African Americans.

Queen to reign

Barbara White, a freshman business administration major from Montecito was selected as the queen of Black Heritage Week Sunday night in a gala event at the University Union Ballroom.

The selection was made Sunday night from 7 to 9 p.m. in the University Union Ballroom. The event featured a variety of entertainment including music, dance, and a beauty pageant.

Barbara White will serve as the official representative of Black Heritage Week, promoting awareness and understanding of African American culture and history. The pageant included contestants from various student organizations and cultural groups, showcasing their talent and cultural heritage.

The event was attended by students, faculty, and staff, providing an opportunity for all to celebrate and honor the contributions of African Americans.

Queen to reign

Barbara White, a freshman business administration major from Montecito was selected as the queen of Black Heritage Week Sunday night in a gala event at the University Union Ballroom.

The selection was made Sunday night from 7 to 9 p.m. in the University Union Ballroom. The event featured a variety of entertainment including music, dance, and a beauty pageant.

Barbara White will serve as the official representative of Black Heritage Week, promoting awareness and understanding of African American culture and history. The pageant included contestants from various student organizations and cultural groups, showcasing their talent and cultural heritage.

The event was attended by students, faculty, and staff, providing an opportunity for all to celebrate and honor the contributions of African Americans.

Queen to reign

Barbara White, a freshman business administration major from Montecito was selected as the queen of Black Heritage Week Sunday night in a gala event at the University Union Ballroom.

The selection was made Sunday night from 7 to 9 p.m. in the University Union Ballroom. The event featured a variety of entertainment including music, dance, and a beauty pageant.

Barbara White will serve as the official representative of Black Heritage Week, promoting awareness and understanding of African American culture and history. The pageant included contestants from various student organizations and cultural groups, showcasing their talent and cultural heritage.

The event was attended by students, faculty, and staff, providing an opportunity for all to celebrate and honor the contributions of African Americans.

Queen to reign

Barbara White, a freshman business administration major from Montecito was selected as the queen of Black Heritage Week Sunday night in a gala event at the University Union Ballroom.

The selection was made Sunday night from 7 to 9 p.m. in the University Union Ballroom. The event featured a variety of entertainment including music, dance, and a beauty pageant.

Barbara White will serve as the official representative of Black Heritage Week, promoting awareness and understanding of African American culture and history. The pageant included contestants from various student organizations and cultural groups, showcasing their talent and cultural heritage.

The event was attended by students, faculty, and staff, providing an opportunity for all to celebrate and honor the contributions of African Americans.
Letters

Bilingual Scrape

Editor:

The article on Dr. Guerra's speech, "Bilingual-Bicultural Education, Why?" by Mark Grezzi was a fine job of interpretive reporting. However, I found a few points in Dr. Guerra's talk that were missed by Mr. Grezzi.

Dr. Guerra cited that of 1.98 million enrolled in Bilingual Education only 17 million has been resolved. He also pointed out there are no aptitude tests in dealing with the "predominant's monoculture." Perhaps Dr. Guerra emphasized the Spanish speakers' inability to survive in our society, but the less human potential through ignorance of another's linguistic and cultural background is inexcusable in our society, which relies on the resourcefulness of the human.

Besides pointing out the history, and differences of ignorance of another's language and cultural, the "predominant's monoculture" has been resolved. He also pointed out that on one can help you very much except an official representative. Senator Cranston is especially effective because he is on the Committee On Veterans Affairs.

Dr. Guerra's main point seemed to stress a necessity for Bilingual Education.

Tom Deiters

V.I.A. blues? vet urges go to Cranston

Private meeting: only staff invited

Editor:

V.I.A. blues? vet urges go to Cranston

Department family member added that Linda if she minded leaving the meeting and her response was: "No... and she shortly got up and left.

Linda's letter to the Editor would lend one to think Dr. Kennedy handled her in a dehumanizing fashion. I believe anyone in attendance at the meeting will attest this was not the case, and it was the Department who asked her to leave and not Dr. Kennedy.

In concluding this letter may I mention this letter may be geared to letter of concern? During this academic year the Dean of the School of Communications has repeatedly brought up the matter of poor attendance by students of the School Council Meetings. Overtures in the students for such attendance has been requested but with no apparent success.

With this in mind may I be quiet to point out a very positive note about Linda James? She is the Student Representative on the Communication Department's weekly meetings. She has never missed a meeting, department's weekly meetings, and has made valuable contributions when requested, and she is an extremely dependable person.

James R. Keeler

K'Neill Road, Speech Communication Department

What is your Lifestyle?

You are invited to attend this free Christian Science lecture given by Charles W. Ferrari, CSS, an authorized teacher of Christian Science.

Time: 11:15 a.m. Sun., Feb. 1, 1984

Place: University Union Room 905

This lecture is sponsored by the Christian Science Organization at Cal Poly.

The Annex

Sat. Day & Wed.

Hot Sandwiches 10am.-5pm.

Pastrami, Corned Beef, Ham

Lottery & Donut Shop

Mustang Daily

Advising: Assistant management editor, Randy Kuyper; managing editor, Bill Probst; business manager, Paul Probst; art director, Dan McGinty; editors, Veda Kruse, John Goodwin, Tom Brooks, Ken Oliva.

Nikon

Enjoy the advantages of the famous

Nikon 35mm System

LIST PRICE

$398.00

LIST PRICE

$446.00

(Subject to stock on hand).

This store shows you now!

Nikon

Sony

CAMPUS CAMERA

764 Niguel

DOWNTOWN SAN LUIS OBISPO

543-3847

Campus Parking Laws Often Broken

The immediate problems facing the All Traffic Management Committee are those of parking permit distribution and enforcement of campus parking laws, said Joe Tbash, representative. Senator Cranston feels that the present permit system is inadequate and cited the recent increase in two-way traffic as evidence. "We're making a general plea for ideas students might have concerning permits to get to the hill," Mike Nardy said.

Permit laws often broken

The immediate problems facing the All Traffic Management Committee are those of parking permit distribution and enforcement of campus parking laws, said Joe Tbash, representative. Senator Cranston feels that the present permit system is inadequate and cited the recent increase in two-way traffic as evidence. "We're making a general plea for ideas students might have concerning permits to get to the hill," Mike Nardy said.

Permit laws often broken

The immediate problems facing the All Traffic Management Committee are those of parking permit distribution and enforcement of campus parking laws, said Joe Tbash, representative. Senator Cranston feels that the present permit system is inadequate and cited the recent increase in two-way traffic as evidence. "We're making a general plea for ideas students might have concerning permits to get to the hill," Mike Nardy said.

Permit laws often broken

The immediate problems facing the All Traffic Management Committee are those of parking permit distribution and enforcement of campus parking laws, said Joe Tbash, representative. Senator Cranston feels that the present permit system is inadequate and cited the recent increase in two-way traffic as evidence. "We're making a general plea for ideas students might have concerning permits to get to the hill," Mike Nardy said.
Pacific Stereo Introduces a New Service Agreement

To Fully Protect Your Stereo Investment for Five Years

Pacific Stereo's new Five-Year Service Agreement comes in writing with each complete music system; it provides free parts for 8 years and free labor for 3, and it also goes far beyond any manufacturer's warranty in reducing both inconveniences and expense to you, should something go wrong.

When you buy stereo components, you're not just purchasing pieces of furniture; you're making an investment in good sound for many years to come. As with any major investment, you should get some sort of protection for it, and Pacific Stereo's Service Agreement gives you the best. We'll keep your music system sounding like new for five years from the day you purchase it. It's more than Wall Street or can or just about anything else you can name.

We can offer such a no-nonsense Service Agreement because of our extensive investment in service facilities and parts. Each Pacific Stereo store has its own modern service department, so you won't have to pack up on offending component and ship it back to us, just bring it in, and chances are, we'll do the rest. It won't only remedy the specific complaint, but check out all other aspects. If, say, one of the controls on your receiver doesn't function, we won't only fix that, but also look out for other alignment. Even a slight misalignment can severely affect the sound, and usually it only takes a minute or two. We've also added a three month or more, so we maintain a complete parts inventory on every component we carry, arcl/and/and it's a bill of rights.

We know, however, that you don't want the hassle of being without music for even a short time, so our Service Agreement covers that as well. The Agreement includes a Loaner, and you can use it to borrow a piece of equipment from us (free, of course) to fill in for yours while it's being repaired. The Loaner Voucher also forestalls this potential disappointment of your receiver going dead the afternoon before your big party.

How much can our Five-Year Service Agreement be worth to you? The average service call on a receiver is about $40, so if you only had to take it in once you'd save at least that (not to mention the possibly subsequent trips our complete service procedures might prevent). Of course your music system may never need any service, but if it does our Service Agreement is a good thing to have in hand.

We can offer such an agreement on complete music systems because we strive for components, which are designed in music reproduction, not furniture. Each component can be and is designed to perform its task optimally in its price range, without compromises for space or Mediterranean styling. Hence they do the job better and more reliably, and they're easier to repair when something goes wrong. We're including our Five-Year Service Agreement in every music system we sell, both in this store here; while the 1194 system doesn't match the 1196 one in all respects, it's made just as well and offers just as much value for the price. Additionally, with the Pacific Stereo Five-Year Service Agreement.

Better Than Any Console at Any Price

Component music systems in the $600 range can offer some pretty advanced electronics, such as the dual power supply of the Harman-Kardon 620 (all of which is internal to the 620 has its own power supply, so one side is responding to a sudden musical peak like a symphony orchestra, but the other side is still full power on. In addition to the twin power supplies, the 630's amplifier has an extremely wide frequency response, and the combination will give you very clean, crisp sound that's perfect for the ADC speaker). The 630's power output is 80 watts, rated from 20 to 20,000 Hz, but does not mean the most sensitive method of testing power. The 650 also has an excellent tuner section and all the features you need for complete control over your music. The price is $359.95 (a walnut cabinet is extra).

Advanced engineering also distinguishes the ADC XT 10 speaker system. It has a powerful patented 4th order crossover and is exceptional at handling music at high frequencies. High frequencies sort through a flashbeam, and the one-two combination is a good stereo effect. But well-designed speaker systems, like the XT 10, spread the "beams" out over a wide angle, so you can get a good sound anywhere in your room. And advanced crossover systems have a very smooth sound, open sound to them. The XT 10's normal size is $125 a pair.

The recent player in Garrard's excellent new Model 70. One of its most important features is the famous Garrard Synchro-Lab motor, a device that combines the absolute speed accuracy and low rumble of a synchronous motor with an induction motor's high starting torque. (This is important in a change because it has to maintain speed even with a heavy load of records). The Model 70 also utilizes Garrard's two-point sound support, a design that is safer for the records and more convenient for most listeners. The Model 70 comes with a base and an Empire 979/9955 elliptical cartridge for $104.95.

To maintain these components separately, you would pay:

Harman-Kardon 620.................................................................$129.95

Garrard 70 with base and Empire 979/9955..................$159.95

ADC XT 10 (pair)..............................................................$325.00

Total .................................................................$649.90

You save $60.30 by purchasing the complete system.

Our $199 System Is Not an Appliance

Even our least expensive music systems are still high fidelity components designed to give you the best possible sound for the money. This one is a case in point; its price is only $245, but it's not even a stereo with a subwoofer or a pair of speakers for under $200, let alone a system with price tag of $900 or so. The Quadraphonic 324's are surrounded speakers, the kind that is designed to give the trapped air in a sealed enclosure as a spring, enabling the cone to reproduce low notes cleanly and without a "bounty" added. The 324 are two way systems that normally sell for $69.90 a pair; since they're component speakers, you can put them anywhere you want to get the best sound out of a corner. The heart of the system is the TransAudio 3201 AM/FM stereo receiver. If we rated its power output at the lowest 260 watts, the 3201's (6 RMS) are near and they're quite suitable to drive the Quadraphonic speakers. The 3201 has a stereo-less tuner section, and there are phono inputs for adding a tone selector to your system whenever you want (monitoring capability is Included). The 3201's five-year service agreement is also included.

The final component in the system is the BER 380A automatic record changer. It has a reliable, high-speed mechanism, and it comes with a Brush Motor magnetic cartridge; magnetic cartridges are the only type that are rated for high fidelity sound. In fact, we don't even sell the ceramic-cartridge found on most portables and consoles. The 360A also comes with a base, and its price is $44.95.

To purchase these components separately, you would pay:

TransAudio 3201............................................................$149.95

BER 380A with base and Brush motor..................$44.95

Quadraphonic 324 speakers..............................$144.45

Total .................................................................$339.30

You save $6.30 by purchasing the complete system.

Limited Edition Model 70

Making better tapes can be considerably less expensive than buying pre-recorded tapes. It's possible to make high quality, high performance Tape 3200s has the performance and features to let you have the best possible tape-recorded music. It's a three-motor, direct-drive high-fidelity tape recorder. And we've done it for you. The 3200 is available in a special edition Model 700 that's been limited to only 500 copies. 3200s are the first Model 700 to be purchased with the 3200 best offer.

West Hollywood Montrose 90021

Our New Brooklyn Bay

Making your own tape can be considerably less expensive than buying pre-recorded tapes. It's possible to make high quality, high performance tape. The new TEC 3200s has the performance and features to let you have the best possible tape-recorded music. It's a three-motor, direct-drive high-fidelity tape recorder. All tapes are recorded in one claimed week on a $69.95.

And we've done it for you. The 3200 is available in a special edition Model 700 that's been limited to only 500 copies. 3200s are the first Model 700 to be purchased with the 3200 best offer.

West Hollywood Montrose 90021

Our New Brooklyn Bay

Making your own tape can be considerably less expensive than buying pre-recorded tapes. It's possible to make high quality, high performance tape. The new TEC 3200s has the performance and features to let you have the best possible tape-recorded music. It's a three-motor, direct-drive high-fidelity tape recorder. All tapes are recorded in one claimed week on a $69.95.

And we've done it for you. The 3200 is available in a special edition Model 700 that's been limited to only 500 copies. 3200s are the first Model 700 to be purchased with the 3200 best offer.
Women’s team: a split weekend

The women's basketball team split a pair of games over the weekend, but will have another chance to improve next weekend when the Mustangs will play the same two teams.

On Friday night the Mustangs lost to UCLA, 64-62, but came back on Saturday to defeat Cal State Northridge. Sharon Chatman's team shot a poor 42 per cent from the field and 42 per cent from the free throw line on Friday. The two teams were tied at the half but the Bruins were stronger in the second half and came up with the nine point victory.

High scorer for the Mustangs was Liz Kaough who hit for 10 points.

UCLA was not as sharp as expected but the Mustangs committed 17 turnovers which seemed to balance the height between the two teams.

On Saturday afternoon the Mustangs came back to trounce Cal State Northridge, 86-68. Even though Chatman's team shot 89 per cent from the field, the Mustangs won the game at the charity line. The Poly women shot an, outstanding 74 per cent at the free throw line. Although the Mustangs, like UCLA, did not have a tremendous advantage in height but still gave the Mustangs trouble.

Chatman was extremely disappointed at her team's inconsistency of shooting from the outside rather than working the ball in. Northridge's 9-4 zone defense was nothing special, Chatman says, but the Mustangs seemed to play a very loose defense.

Liz Kaough led the Mustangs in scoring, thrashing in 13 points. In the past Chatman has had trouble with her offense, but now it seems that the strong point of the team is beginning to fade. Chatman uses a tough man-to-man defense rather than the standard 8-4 zone defense that the Mustangs have seen after week. The coach feels that over the weekend the defense has become too lax. The team will work on the defense this week in preparation for the rematch Friday and Saturday. Chatman has found success with the man-to-man the past and will not change it to a zone unless the defense gains in a point. where Chatman has no other choice.

Offensively, the Mustangs made only 19 turnovers against Northridge, but the shooting at the Mustangs was worse than before.

Chatman says that the Mustangs cannot continue shooting from the outside and hopes to hit close to 10 per cent of their shots. The coach feels that if the team can work the ball inside the shooting percentage will improve and so will the points total.

The Mustangs treat the in San Francisco on Friday for the Rainbow Games and some work with a school record.

The rails rely team of Jerry Heimann, Dave Johnson, Terry Odom and Curly Byrd ran to a school record of 1:15.8. The old record stood at 1:17. The Mustangs defeated Francey Paddie for the victory.