Patty joins kidnappers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Patricia Haarst, 27, a San Francisco broadcast newswoman and former secretary of the Black Panthers, was kidnapped in a stunning turn of events that had stunned the city and the world.

As the story unfolded, Haarst was reported to have been taken to an undisclosed location by two men who identified themselves as members of a radical leftist group.

Haarst, known for her work on the local news program "The Morning Show," was reported to have been abducted while driving her car near the University of California at Berkeley.

Police were called to the scene and a search was launched for Haarst, who was last seen entering a building.

“The people in the city are in shock,” said one police officer. “She’s a well-known figure in the community and her disappearance has caused a great deal of concern.”

Haarst’s friends and family have been at the scene, offering any information they may have to help locate her.

“Patricia is a very special person and we’re doing everything we can to find her,” said her sister, Lisa Haarst.

The FBI has been called in to assist with the investigation, and a large-scale manhunt has been initiated.

Haarst is described as a white woman with dark hair, around 5 feet 6 inches tall, and weighing about 120 pounds.

Anyone with information is asked to call 911 or the local police department.

Poly Phase closes

An "alternative" bookstore, the Poly Phase Book Exchange, will be closing its doors on Friday, April 5.

Open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily, the Poly Phase has been a fixture on the campus for over a decade. It offers a wide range of books on political, social, and cultural topics, as well as alternative music and art.

The store is closing due to financial difficulties, said owner John Smith. "We’ve been struggling for a while now, but it’s time to move on."

The Poly Phase has been a popular destination for students looking for books on topics not typically found in mainstream bookstores. It has also been a gathering place for the local alternative community.

"We’ve had some great years here," said Smith. "It’s been a pleasure to be a part of the campus community."

The Poly Phase will hold a closing sale starting on Monday, April 1, with all items marked down. The store will be open normal hours through Thursday, April 4, and will close permanently on Friday, April 5.

Christen Spokesman

Dr. John Alexander, president of InterVarsity Christian Fellowship-U.S.A., reflected on Christ’s message in a speech in the University Union Wednesday. The former professor said that Christ is filling a spiritual vacuum in today’s society.

The word of Jesus Christ is filling the spiritual vacuum in today’s society and the university world is reflected in the following conversation.

Themes to be made by Dr. John Alexander, president of InterVarsity Christian Fellowship-U.S.A., reflected on what is happening in our world.

We are experiencing a spiritual vacuum. Satisfaction is not satisfied. The door is wide open for a presentation of Jesus Christ.

The soft-spoken former professor at the University of Wisconsin has been a leader in the university for a position eight years, working out of Madison, Wisconsin. In his efforts to maintain first-hand contact with students, he takes occasional field trips around the country. This week he has been visiting California campuses.

"In the university world we are around people who are interested in knowledge and wisdom," he said. "Knowledge relates to the accumulation of information. Wisdom is a bit different—it relates to how we’re all going to use this information. So it’s possible for a person to possess knowledge and yet not be wise."

He said students want to acquire knowledge and sharpen their wisdom, but added that it’s difficult to have a satisfying purpose in life without Jesus Christ.

Russian exile film

A showing of Alexander Solzhenitsyn’s film, "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich," will be shown in Church Auditorium on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Following the movie, there will be a family panel discussion consisting of Raymond Brook, Political Science, a specialist on totalitarianism, literature and civil disobedience; Max Randleberger, History Department, chairman of the InterVarsity; and Steve Steinschneider, History Department.

The film, which takes place in a Siberian labor camp, is a critique of the Stalinist regime in Russia. It portrays a Russian whose people are suffering great agony. Solzhenitsyn received the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1970 for his novel and film, "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich."
Reinecke indicted by Watergate jury

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Watergate grand jury Wednesday indicted Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke on three counts of lying in the Federal investigations into the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. case.

After the indictment was announced, Chief U.S. District Judge Harry Leibowitz ordered Special Watergate Prosecutor John N. Mitchell to present his case to the grand jury next Wednesday. Mitchell said he expected to call 60 witnesses in the case.

Reinecke was charged with perjury in a deposition he took last year in the Federal Grand Jury investigating the Watergate affair. The Watergate grand jury has been investigating the role of the Telcor in the Watergate affair.

The government claims Reinecke perjured himself by testifying that he had not discussed the possibility of the Telcor buying the Times Mirror Co. with the Times Mirror Co. executive, who then became the chief executive of the Telcor.

As we begin our final quarter of publication for this school year, I'd like to tell you a few things about Mustang Daily.

First off, let's get something straight about advertising. One of the most frequent criticisms we hear about Mustang Daily is "We're not making any money!"

We are constantly frustrated ourselves by the cramped space we have to work with. But we have to find a way to support ourselves.

Mustang Daily operates during the year as a loan from you, the ASI. By the end of the school year, we must pay back all of that loan, and since this paper is distributed free of charge to the students, it is produced as a lab export for the Journalism and printing college.

Reinecke, a Republican candidate for governor of California, has said he is in the governor's race to stay. He had sought to clear his name so his campaign would continue.

Reinecke is running for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in California.

Bud Drinkers, can you figure this out?

Ralph bought a frap of Budweiser and invited four friends over to share it. Since he bought two cans of beer for himself, he expected to have two cans to himself, but unfortunately when he returned to the refrigerator for his second, he found it missing. So he poured out the beer, and he asked his friend John, "Joe, that's a lie!" And Bill said, "I didn't drink it." If only one of these statements is true, who really drank it?

As soon as the story was printed, people were flocking to the store, buying Mustang Daily.
