State assemblyman airs his support for Moretti

Campaigning for gubernatorial candidate Bob Moretti, Assemblyman John Vasselin said his support for Moretti at the Democratic nomination in this year’s race.

Making it clear in the State Assembly, Vasselin and Moretti have been close personal friends for eight years. Vasselin claims that Moretti is trying to move away from becoming too formal in his political life.

If Moretti can be, he would be the best man for the job, according to the Assemblyman. The barrel was actually a suggestion box, created by Roundhouse and run by the Staff Senate Student Affairs Committee to serve the needs of the student.

According to Vasselin and Roundhouse Director Linda Brown, the suggestion box was created as an outlet where the students could turn to give suggestions and find answers to their problems.

It was turned over to the Staff Senate-UAC to review the suggestions and give final approval. These answers may be obtained at the meetings held the third Wednesday of each month at 4 p.m. in UC 878.

On the subject of Roundhouse, Vasselin also added that there will be a barbecue to elect of a Floor Officer for the new format, presently being created as an outlet where new volunteers are invited to become a part of the Roundhouse.

In a memorandum backing up Nixon's claim that he was not on a "general fishing" on the tapes, White House or re-election campaign alleged that Jaworski had no right to quash a subpoena by the President may appeal the objection to the Supreme Court if the President should appeal the case to the Supreme Court.

Nixon balks at tapes request

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Nixon's aides asked U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica to quash a subpoena by the Watergate prosecutors for 14 White House tapes.

In a formal claim, Nixon said the materials covered by the subpoena "are not of the constitutional privilege of the president to refuse to disclose confidential information when disclosure would be contrary to the public interest and the public interest to produce them."

In a memorandum backing up Nixon's personal statement, White House Watergate lawyer, Daniel D. B. Clair, wrote that the Bushes that the President may appeal the case to the Supreme Court if Sirica upholds the subpoena.

We also continue to believe that a President In support, not subject to compulsory procedures, is a court.

"Bob has the experience to make things work," according to Vasselin, "He's okay—straight, level, and driven to make public work work, he added.

"Nixon balks at tapes request," according to Vasselin, "Bob wants the people of California to use the law and limit organizations to deal with the violence. This figures back to when the Roundhouse was turned over to the Staff Senate-UAC to review the suggestions and give final approval. These answers may be obtained at the meetings held the third Wednesday of each month at 4 p.m. in UC 878.

C.D. aspirants needed shortly

The Child Development Department is seeking applicants for positions on the Advisory Board. Any Child Development student is eligible to file a petition, the only qualification being a 2.0 G.P.A.

Positions are available in the Math and Home Economics building, Room 191, until May 15. Campaigning starts May 1.

Golden tickets will be given in all Child Development students May 1. They will be due back May 15 at 4 p.m. in the Math and Home Economics building, 87, or the Campus Way.
The student and a child

During the past two years Student Community Services has developed many different programs which attempt to enable the faculty and students here to become more aware of the community and more understanding of its problems. Many of these programs have been directed towards the youth of the community.

On campus for several years, PALS was dying out for lack of direction. Student Community Services took over management and during the last year PALS has grown in illia. Children who have been without a mother or father or both, share in this big-brother-big sister program with volunteer college students.

Each child spends up to five hours weekly with his PALS. Through the project coordinator a volunteer can get suggestions and learn of free exhibits, but how he spends his time with his child is ultimately up to him. About 150 volunteers are currently taking part in the PALS program, for which 250 college students are currently volunteering.

Another youth-community program allows the student volunteer to participate in games, crafts and group activities with residents of the San Luis Obispo County Detention Home. The Honey Acres Project was an extension of this program that was recently taken under the administration of Student Community Services.

Dr. David Chipping, from the Physics Department will be teaching a one-unit course titled "Earthquakes and California." The course will include studies of the history and cause of earthquakes in California in comparison with other parts of the world.

The class will meet on Thursdays, May 1 and 15, from 7 to 10 p.m. in Room E-4 of the Science Building. The registration fee is $17. Additional information regarding the course may be obtained by telephoning 544-9200.

If any of these programs interest you or if you have a program you would like to see initiated, stop by the Student Community Services office located in the University Union, Room 317, or call 544-6717.

CASTLE AND QUAKE

Cal Poly Extension will be offering two short courses in May dealing with California earthquakes and Hearst Castle architecture.

Dr. Donald F. Robinson, from the English Department, will be teaching "Hearst Quakes and California." The course will include studies of the history and cause of earthquakes in California in comparison with other parts of the world.

The class will meet on Thursdays, May 1 and 15, from 7 to 10 p.m. in Room E-4 of the Science Building. The registration fee is $17. Additional information regarding the courses may be obtained by telephoning 544-9200.

Wives to get PHT degrees

It’s a PHT Degree that the wives are after... "Pushing Hubby Through." Indeed, putting a husband through college (or pushing him, as the case may be) can be a drawn-out and hectic job for any wife. But there is one consolation that can’t be overlooked... the PHT Degree.

The Pushing Hubby Through ceremony is an annual event sponsored by the Cal Poly Student Wives Club during Senior Week activities. All wives of 1974 (January-December) graduates are invited to participate. Ceremonies will be held at 1:30 p.m. on June 9 in Chumaah Auditorium.

Diplomas will be awarded by President Kennedy, and each recipient will be presented with a flower and a sterling silver roll charm. Guest speaker Pat Noble and the Collegiate Men’s Chorus will highlight the ceremony. A reception sponsored by the Arabian Wives will follow.

“All student wives have provided some measure of moral support to their husbands,” says Debbie Stockton, chairman of the event. “Now it’s time for them to be recognized for their efforts.”

Mrs. Stockton stressed that a wife need not be presently working, or have attended a Student Wives Club meeting to qualify for a PHT Degree. Those who are unable to attend the ceremony may receive their diplomas and charms by mail.

The Pushing Hubby Through ceremony began in 1961 as a simple one, initiated by President Kennedy and Dr. Kenneth Young. Since then, it has grown into an elaborate official graduation ceremony for the wives of graduating seniors.

To apply for a PHT Degree, call Debbie Stockton, pre-409 or Loretta Mills, pre-141 before the May 15 deadline.

"Pushing a hubby through," sighed Mrs. Stockton, thinking back on her own experience, "is twice as much work for both of you. It’s time the wives are noticed."

Computer seminar coming for mentally gifted minors

Four Cal Poly faculty members from the Computer Sciences and Statistics Departments are donating their time to conduct a series of seminars as part of the Mentally Gifted Minor program. Twenty-one junior and senior high school students from San Luis Obispo County are participating in the seminars, which are designed to introduce them to the capabilities and functioning of computers. Later they will choose individual projects.

Thomas, May 2, 1974

Mary Lallier, a research specialist for the San Luis Coastal Unified School District, and Joy Jones, M.M. Coordinator for the County Schools Office.

The faculty members include Dr. Daniel F. Stubbs, head of the Computer Sciences and Statistics Department; Dr. Emile B. Atela, Dr. Robert B. Blythe, and Dr. Curtis F. Gerstel.

Cal Poly is providing the equipment for the program, which began April 28 and will continue May 6, 10, and 15.
The Mustangs finally get three runs in the ninth to tie the game, with a big enough margin to hold off the Panthers. However, stubborn Chapman fans threatened, in the last inning of the night, by loading the bases and getting one more run before the final out. The Panthers who were unable to tie, and lost the game after reliever Pitcher Paul Coghill retired the last two batters of the ninth inning for the final out.

The Cal Poly baseball team, from a four-game win streak, will return to conference play this weekend as they travel to U.C. Riverside for a three-game series with the Highlanders.

Riverside is right behind the Mustangs in the California Collegiate Athletic Association pennant race with a .849 league record. The Mustangs are 1-4 and their season hopes are slim as leader Cal State Fullerton is 8-4 and has a 1-1 game remaining.

The Mustangs' team total of 80 home runs is just one more than the Azusa Pacific-Chapman road trip, showcasing the CCAA record of 80 set last year by Cal State Northridge. The Mustangs have seven remaining games with the possibility of re-scheduling two rainout contests with Fullerton.

During their road trip last week, the Poly nine took one game from Azusa Pacific 9-4, and swept a three-game series from Chapman College during the weekend to bring their winning record to 19-9 for the season.

Against Azusa Pacific, the hitting of Terry Ruggles and Gary Knuckles, who drove in two runs apiece, sparked the Mustang attack. Ruggles and Terry Ruggles each hit two home runs in the contest.

Ruggles, who has served as Poly's designated hitter this season, has had a record-breaking season campaign. The junior from Merced hit .338 home run, two against Azusa Pacific and two against Chapman, to break the school home run record with nine.

The Mustangs edged out Chapman 8-7 on Friday, then swept a doubleheader on Saturday by scores of 8-4 and 7-4.

In Friday's game, pitcher Rick Simpson won his eighth game of the season to bring his won-lose record to 3-4. Ruggles also pounded out his eighth round-tripper of the season in that game.

Joe Zarano's grand slam home run in the third inning was the key punch of Saturday's first game. The blast, brought Zarano's RBI total to 40 for the season.

Chapman was able to come back and tie the score in the fifth inning of the first game and the Argers' three run homer, but Mustang third baseman Mitch Vierra came through in the ninth inning to give Poly a win.

Terry Ruggles got his ninth home run of the season in the second inning of Saturday's nightcap. The shot put the Mustangs ahead, but Chapman came back to tie the lead, and then took the lead back in the third and another in the fifth inning.

The Mustangs fought back to tie the score in the sixth inning when Ruggles walked, and Bud Pappademas and Ohrs Smith followed with singles. Ruggles scored on Smith's base hit and Pappademas tallied on a throwing error with Smith stole second base.

The nightcap game was to extra innings tied 8-8 in the eighth inning of Saturday's nightcap. Ruggles drove in two runs in the top of the ninth, but Chapman came back to tie the score in their half of the ninth.
