Nadas' recital began

1974 Mozart Festival

by CATHY CARRIER

The lights dim and a hush goes over the crowd. The stage is lightly decorated with a piano and stage lights. The audience begins to claps. A man, dressed in a black suit, white shirt and bow tie, appears from the side of the stage and bows. He walks to the stage and takes a quick bow, then sits at the piano and begins to play.

So began the 1974 San Luis Obispo Mozart Festival, Wednesday, July 31 in the Cal Poly Theatre. Vastan Nadas' piano recital made Mozart's Fantasy in C minor, Sonata in B-flat major, and Bach's Aria with sly variations, come alive.

During the recital's two hours Nadas became one with his music. He fell every note and every piano key became a part of his soul.

Construction of utilities is underground

A $1,000 augmentation proposal approved by the State Public Works Board during July was announced by E. Douglas Gerard, executive dean of Cal Poly. This will get the ball rolling to start a new utility tunnel through Pepper Lane. The tunnel will be built by Pacific Underground Systems, Inc. of Stockton. Most of the work will begin at Pepper Lane, west towards the baseball field. This will be necessary to accommodate the new Mustang substation, which will be built on the temple site. This will be required from Mustang Stadium Also in Pepper Lane, the intersection of Mountain and Jerry Way will be made a manhole area.

The tunnel will run under the stadium and end near the proposed Mustang Administration Building. Once this project is completed, the university will be able to increase its electrical capacity with underground conduit system and eliminate future problems with overhead power lines.

The work will begin this fall. The project will be completed in December 1975. The total cost will be around$600,000, according to Gerard.

The contract will be about $130,777. The most noticeable construction work will be on the North Outer Perimeter Road. With a 12,000 volt primary electric circuit originating at the Mustang subtraction, an underground conduit system and manholes will be required from intersection of Mountain Drive and North Outer Perimeter Road. West to the baseball field. Mustang Perimeter Road will be the largest, east to the stadium. The tunnel will originate which will end at the site of the new architecture classroom building.

Hopefully the underground power cables and telecommunications lines will make Mustang Perimeter Road be com­mon before the start of classes Fall Quarter.

Chemistry grant awarded

The Chancellor's Task Force on Innovation with over 160 proposals submitted by the 19 California Universities and Colleges System. According to Dr. Venerable, the program is designed "to train chemistry than in traditional classes since January 1973. The program employs Dr. Terry Brathwaite's "Multiple Processing Methodology" in terms of teaching individualized large-group sections in the beginning chemistry classes.

This program first started at Monte Vista High School in Danville, California. Under the direction of Dr. Terry Brathwaite, the method proved successful.

Cal Poly veterans will no longer have to write to their congressman to complain about their 'notice of their difficulty to get paid on time and paid the amount of$1,000.'

The cards are valid through the school year. Fowler said that last year approximately 70 local merchants and services at a discount to veterans The discount program, he said, fosters community relations and helps students ease their financial problems.

Student clubs haven't had the opportunity to bid to sell the cards on campus. For the past two years, Sigma Delta Phi, the fraternity that brainstormed the discount idea, has sold the cards. The committee must also decide how profits from the card sales will be distributed to participating merchants and ASI.

Currently under consideration is a proposal to allow 50 percent of the profits to be retained by the merchants and 50 percent to be sold to the remaining 40 percent. The issue was to have been decided as a business item last night.

The committee July 31 also renewed a new campus club, the Filipino Students Organization, that had been approved last quarter by the Student Affairs Council.

The action had not been recorded in the minutes of the BAC meeting, how­ever, the club belongs, it must be official­ly approved by student govern­ment.

In other discussion, ASI Vice President Mike Hurriecs recommen­ded to the committee that the ASI Codes and Bylaws be revised. The present, codes and bylaws, he said, are vague and not specific and haven't been revised since 1966.

Today is also the deadline for submitting a petition to take a course for credit or non-credit.
Teacher exam dates set

Four different test dates for the National Teacher Examinations have been announced by the Educational Testing Service. The dates are November 8, 1974, January 25, April 8 and July 19, 1975.

The Educational Testing Service, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers the testing program, offers the test for college seniors preparing to teach school.

Testing for prospective teachers includes the Common Examinations, which measure professional preparation and general educational background. Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers. They are also used by several states for license certification of teachers. Some colleges require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examinations.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or the Counseling and Testing Center, Administration, Rm. 811, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

The “Bulletin of Information for Candidates” contains a list of test centers, information about the examinations and a registration form. Copies may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments or directly from National Teacher Examinations, Box 811, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, 08540.

Defaulted loans hurt defenseless students

Senator John Tunney recently introduced a bill that would protect students from being stuck with federally insured student loan programs when their schools close.

Tunney said, “Under present circumstances, when an institution closes its doors, the student is left holding the bag with a loan to repay and without the product: his education.”

“This is an intolerable situation for thousands of students who find that whether by illegal practice or lack of funds, the institutions they attend are forced to close, often mid-term,” Tunney said.

Tunney’s bill would provide that federal student loans, federally insured student loans or veterans education allowances could be paid to a vocational or proprietary institution, unless it has been in existence for less than ten years; or unless the school provides to those students who were enrolled the option of applying the funds paid as a reimbursement for those students for the unused part of the loan.

The second portion of Tunney’s bill would cover institutions that have closed down. Senator Tunney directed the Secretary to forgive the federal loans that were defaulted to the institution as a result of the legislation.

According to Tunney, the federal government has been held responsible for over 118,000 defaulted student loans which amounted to $165.5 million of taxpayers money. California alone had 80,000 defaulted loans paid by the government amounting to $65.9 million.

Tunney said, “Only a percentage of these defaults were the result of an institution closing. However, one such instance is too many and neither the student nor the federal government should be forced to clean up after an educational institution that has shirked its responsibility of educating. Too many students are being blindly duped into attending new vocational and proprietary institutions by misleading sales tactics and other abuses.”
