Group claims state colleges are slighted

Funding policies called unjustified

BY TOM MCGARRY

Controversy is growing as a group from the California State University and College Employees (CSUC) is trying to win more money for the system from the State Budget Task Force (SBTF). The committee for Equal Treatment in Higher Education (CETHE) is saying that the SBTF is continuing to publicize its belief that each student who attends a State University of California (UC) institution receives close to twice as much as do students who are enrolled in comparable programs at a state college or university.

According to CETHE co-founder J. William Acala, "Leakage and disparity in funding is due to the lack of comparable budgeting methods between the two systems of higher education in the state. He contends that, the California State University and Colleges (CSUC) system is analogous to 'shortchanged' $10 billion. Calling the budgeting techniques used in the SBTF, the systems 'unjustified,' CETHE is attempting to place the alleged financial inequities.

However, University of California administrators along with other education interest groups are in opposition to CETHE's view. UC Vice-President C.O. Corday said that any differences between the UC system and the SBTF are partially justified because of the UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s, and the fact that the SBTF is not considering UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s. Corday stated, "We've no quarrel with the UC system in 1974 to finance state colleges (CSUC) system is an attempt only that it would fall between low and middle income groups."

UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s is partially justified because of the UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s, and the fact that the SBTF is not considering UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s.

CETHE co-founder J. William Acala, "Leakage and disparity in funding is due to the lack of comparable budgeting methods between the two systems of higher education in the state. He contends that, the California State University and Colleges (CSUC) system is analogous to 'shortchanged' $10 billion. Calling the budgeting techniques used in the SBTF, the systems 'unjustified,' CETHE is attempting to place the alleged financial inequities.

According to CETHE co-founder J. William Acala, "Leakage and disparity in funding is due to the lack of comparable budgeting methods between the two systems of higher education in the state. He contends that, the California State University and Colleges (CSUC) system is analogous to 'shortchanged' $10 billion. Calling the budgeting techniques used in the SBTF, the systems 'unjustified,' CETHE is attempting to place the alleged financial inequities.

According to Corday, the SBTF is partially justified because of the UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s, and the fact that the SBTF is not considering UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s.

"University of California administrators along with other education interest groups are in opposition to CETHE's view. UC Vice-President C.O. Corday said that any differences between the UC system and the SBTF are partially justified because of the UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s, and the fact that the SBTF is not considering UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s. Corday stated, "We've no quarrel with the UC system in 1974 to finance state colleges (CSUC) system is an attempt only that it would fall between low and middle income groups."

According to Corday, the SBTF is partially justified because of the UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s, and the fact that the SBTF is not considering UC's responsibility to train Ph.D.'s. Corday stated, "We've no quarrel with the UC system in 1974 to finance state colleges (CSUC) system is an attempt only that it would fall between low and middle income groups."

Acala stated. "We have found the truth of God" and that it was the intention of the group to continue its style of preaching in order to inform people of the need for religion in their lives.

The Oregon Democrat told reporters that after the new Congress convenes Tuesday, "I will recommend that our committee go into immediate consideration of an emergency tax bill with relief for low and middle income groups." Firm figures to define low and middle income groups depend on the vast array of factors but the committee generally has considered average income, the poverty level, as $5,405 a year for a four-member family, and $9,000 for a two-member family.

He said the cut would include relief for corporations through an "enlargement of the investment tax credit." That credit now allows a business to deduct from taxes owed 7 percent of its investment in certain equipment. Additionally, said Ullman, the measure would include an end to the oil depletion allowance which now provides oil producers with a large deduction in their taxes. He said if controversy over ending the depletion allowance threatens to stall the emergency bill, the provision would be dropped and dealt with in a separate measure.

"The important thing right now is to act quickly to get revenue into the economy," said Ullman.

Cal Poly has been charged with racial discrimination against Mexican-American employees in a suit filed Thursday in San Francisco U.S. District Court by Mexican-American Legal Defense and Education Fund (MALDEF).

The suit alleged that it is the suit that Dr. Manuel Guerra, demoted head of Poly's Foreign Language Department, and Dale Alcala, national director of educational litigation for MALDEF, "has $10,000 in damages as well as reinstatement of the suit.

Guerra was demoted from department head the suit charges, after Kennedy learned he had filed a complaint with the State Equal Opportunity Commission.

In the suits filed in April, 1974, Guerra charged that Dr. Dean Erickson with discrimination in his evaluation as an instructor.

The complaint by Guerra was filed a few days before the negative evaluation he received, said Acala. Guerra alleged the negative evaluation to the Faculty Review Committee, which unanimously rejected Dean Erickson's decision, said Acala.

"We have decided" and added that Dr. Guerra was harrassed on the telephone, dished in pay, his reputation maligned, and that the university is trying to black ball his future employment.

President Kennedy has denied any violation of the school's faculty evaluation process as charges. A further comment on the lawsuit.

SA members approve Meland

A new Finance Committee chairman and a new ASI Secretary were introduced Wednesday night as the Student Affairs Committee opened its Winter Quarter term. Guerra said he was physically threatening in April 1974 by a Cal Poly employee.

The complaint by Guerra was filed a few days before the negative evaluation he received, said Acala. Guerra alleged the negative evaluation to the Faculty Review Committee, which unanimously rejected Dean Erickson's decision, said Acala.

"We have decided" and added that Dr. Guerra was harrassed on the telephone, dished in pay, his reputation maligned, and that the university is trying to black ball his future employment.

President Kennedy has denied any violation of the school's faculty evaluation process as charges. A further comment on the lawsuit.

SA members approve Meland

A new Finance Committee chairman and a new ASI Secretary were introduced Wednesday night as the Student Affairs Committee opened its Winter Quarter term. Guerra said he was physically threatening in April 1974 by a Cal Poly employee.

The complaint by Guerra was filed a few days before the negative evaluation he received, said Acala. Guerra alleged the negative evaluation to the Faculty Review Committee, which unanimously rejected Dean Erickson's decision, said Acala.

"We have decided" and added that Dr. Guerra was harrassed on the telephone, dished in pay, his reputation maligned, and that the university is trying to black ball his future employment.

President Kennedy has denied any violation of the school's faculty evaluation process as charges. A further comment on the lawsuit.

SA members approve Meland

A new Finance Committee chairman and a new ASI Secretary were introduced Wednesday night as the Student Affairs Committee opened its Winter Quarter term. Guerra said he was physically threatening in April 1974 by a Cal Poly employee.

The complaint by Guerra was filed a few days before the negative evaluation he received, said Acala. Guerra alleged the negative evaluation to the Faculty Review Committee, which unanimously rejected Dean Erickson's decision, said Acala.

"We have decided" and added that Dr. Guerra was harrassed on the telephone, dished in pay, his reputation maligned, and that the university is trying to black ball his future employment.

President Kennedy has denied any violation of the school's faculty evaluation process as charges. A further comment on the lawsuit.

President Kennedy has denied any violation of the school's faculty evaluation process as charges. A further comment on the lawsuit.
Now bottle's empty...

Will frats be next in his grand scheme?

The administration on this campus, most notably President Kennedy, is in dire need of a set of New Year’s resolutions. Fair and equal treatment of fraternities seemed to occupy most of the space on the President’s black list. Non-recognition of national organizations is the President’s black list. Non-moral code on them.

for some people, and they are entitled to intend to...it’s just not my thing. But it IS my thing. But it is...to drink is really not the issue here. In fact, the question is a far more dangerous one.

Does the president of a university have the right to dictate student morality and, in essence, take away their right to the "pursuit of happiness"?

The only niche where President Kennedy may have a foothold is the illegality of 18-year-old drinking, an ever-present possibility at TGs. But illegal drinking is an ever-present possibility at bars and during private parties across the state of California—in fact, a probability.

Need the rights of those 21 and over (the average college student is 26) be so completely upended on the pretense of possibilities?

I fear that the virtual elimination of TGs is just one step in a long and bitter battle plan, which may culminate in elimination of the fraternities themselves.

The only thing curtailting that may be Kennedy’s ambitions toward Chancellorship, and his resulting hesitation to trigger any intense student reaction on campus.

Once again, those who belong to fraternities are exercising their individual freedoms by doing so, and the choice to "join or not to join" should not be sniffed at.

Bureaucratic games become dangerous contortions of the Constitution when the administration starts to toy with student rights.

In this case, fraternities are the victims—but who will be next?

by MARJIE NIEUWEMA

---

Editorial

enough of an insult in itself, without suddenly trying to impose one’s own moral code on them.

I’ve never attended a TG, and I don’t intend to...it’s just not my thing. But it IS my thing. But it is...to drink is really not the issue here. In fact, the question is a far more dangerous one.

Does the president of a university have the right to dictate student morality and, in essence, take away their right to the "pursuit of happiness"?

The only niche where President Kennedy may have a foothold is the illegality of 18-year-old drinking, an ever-present possibility at TGs. But illegal drinking is an ever-present possibility at bars and during private parties across the state of California—in fact, a probability.

Need the rights of those 21 and over (the average college student is 26) be so completely upended on the pretense of possibilities?

I fear that the virtual elimination of TGs is just one step in a long and bitter battle plan, which may culminate in elimination of the fraternities themselves.

The only thing curtailting that may be Kennedy’s ambitions toward Chancellorship, and his resulting hesitation to trigger any intense student reaction on campus.

Once again, those who belong to fraternities are exercising their individual freedoms by doing so, and the choice to "join or not to join" should not be sniffed at.

Bureaucratic games become dangerous contortions of the Constitution when the administration starts to toy with student rights.

In this case, fraternities are the victims—but who will be next?

by MARJIE NIEUWEMA
Voter signup dates, times announced

The last day to register to vote in the March 4 San Luis Obispo County School Board election is Feb. 11 said Norma Sherhorn, spokeswoman for the election room of the County Clerk's office.

Those wishing to register may do so Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. until the noon hour, at the County Court House Annex in San Luis Obispo, said Ms. Sherhorn.

The League of Women Voters also is holding a voter registration drive on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Jan. 18, 19, and 20, Ms. Sherhorn said. Registrations will be in San Luis Obispo at the following times and locations:

Thursday and Friday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at The News at 178 figures St.

Thursday and Friday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at U-Dave Market in the University Square Shopping Center, at 181 Marer St., and Searle's Market in the Pooh Plaa Shopping Center.

Foundation: What is it?

A 35-year-old service that aids in class projects, runs the store

The orange sign hanging on the wall near the cashier in the snack bar says FOUNDATION FOOD SERVICE in big, bold letters. But, who is the Foundation and what does it do?

The Cal Poly Foundation started in 1961 and its initial role was the financing of student's agricultural projects. Before 1940, agricultural instructors guaranteed the bank loans students received to finance their projects that ranged from raising livestock to growing crops.

By 1960 Cal Poly reached the site where faculty sponsorship was no longer possible. The Cal Poly Foundation was started.

Today, the Foundation has grown and encompasses many services as campus. The purpose of the Foundation is to promote and assist the educational services of Cal Poly.

According to Al Amaral, the Foundation executive director, the Foundation sees its role as providing service to the students and the university. Each state university has one or more Foundations. However, Amaral feels having just one Foundation provides the same benefits as having a non-profit organization.

The Foundation's primary responsibilities are the operation of the bookstore and food service, as well as financing agricultural enterprise projects. It also manages the custodial facilities, optional health services, and administers gifts and grants.

The Foundation is concerned with the organization of campus conferences and the administration of projects such as a solar energy research project and the High School Equivalency Program (HSP).

Seven hundred students are presently involved in agricultural enterprise projects being financed by the Foundation. Students participate in family supervised projects such as raising flowers, food crops and livestock.

The Foundation advances funds for the projects and revenue from the projects pays for all of the expenses, including reimbursing the Foundation.

Students receive a share of the net profit and the university is paid for the use of its land and equipment. According to Amaral, the purpose of the program is to encourage students to acquire an experience as well as possible fund raising for the school.

However, agricultural enterprise projects are not solely restricted to agricultural students. Several years ago a calf raising project from the Science department was financed with Foundation funds. Many of the most important jobs of the Foundation, according to Amaral, is the administration of gifts. Corporations and individuals can donate gifts of money or equipment to the university through the Foundation. The Foundation's non-profit status allows the donor to receive a tax deduction for this gift. The gift is used according to the donor's wishes.

Here it Operates...

The Foundation is a non-profit organization and it totally sells itself. It is not supported by state funding. Profits that services such as the bookstore make are used for operating expenses and additional excess profits are used for the improvement or addition of facilities and services on campus.

For example, profits from the food service facilities first pay operating expenses and are then used for paying off the debt incurred in the construction of Vista Grande. Excess profits are used for maintaining the auditorium and the bookstore.

Workshops for students sponsored by the Foundation's board of directors.

A no-credit basis will be offered for the workshop "Preparing to Participate in Poly Royal." Sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, these workshops will be on the basis of sign language on Tuesdays at 11 a.m. in Rom. 186 of the University Union beginning January 81.

This course will be taught by letter, signed by the club or organization's president or faculty advisor. In other words, "A workshop will be available to more students. This year has been a sign language for about one year and was first introduced to us when learned it was about 80 percent deaf.

Boo Boo Records

BOO BOO RECORDS

Bought-Sold TRACKED-RECORDED 1113 0508 - 86

1011

Military science Program

NEW STUDENTS A NEW CAREER MAY AWAITE YOU

INVESTIGATE CAL POLY'S

Military Science Program

Military Science Department,
California Polytechnic State University
Telephone... 546-2371

The community calendar

New students from the Mbaab will be on campus to discuss Stanford's San Francisco engineering and interdisciplinary programs on campus. The information session will be held on Stanford campus.

A special showing of Barbara Carter's opera "The Problem of Destiny" will take place Friday at 4 p.m. in the University Union. Tickets are 89 cents each, available at the box office within two weeks.

A feed raising dance will be sponsored by the Black Students' Union tonight at the Royal Inn, sponsored by the Black Students' Union. These events begin at 8 p.m. in the University Union. Tickets for the dance are 84 cents per couple.

A feed raising dance will be sponsored by the Black Students' Union tonight at the Royal Inn, sponsored by the Black Students' Union. These events begin at 8 p.m. in the University Union. Tickets for the dance are 84 cents per couple.

A feed raising dance will be sponsored by the Black Students' Union tonight at the Royal Inn, sponsored by the Black Students' Union. These events begin at 8 p.m. in the University Union. Tickets for the dance are 84 cents per couple.

A feed raising dance will be sponsored by the Black Students' Union tonight at the Royal Inn, sponsored by the Black Students' Union. These events begin at 8 p.m. in the University Union. Tickets for the dance are 84 cents per couple.

A feed raising dance will be sponsored by the Black Students' Union tonight at the Royal Inn, sponsored by the Black Students' Union. These events begin at 8 p.m. in the University Union. Tickets for the dance are 84 cents per couple.
New clashes in Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI) - The loss of Phuoc Long province to the Communists - second this week - from another threatened capital to seek sanctuary across the border in Cambodia, the United States poured in more arms and supplies from big stockpiles in Thailand.

Field reports said refugees were streaming from Tay Ninh City, the capital of Tay Ninh province, which has been seized. The capital is located 50 miles northwest of Saigon and is the next target of the Communists.

Japanese newspaper reports said units of the Third Marine Division on Okinawa were placed on alert to rescue Americans in Vietnam if the situation worsens.

Marine Corps headquarters in Washington denied the Leathernecks were on alert, citing the Congressional ban on American military intervention in Indochina which President Ford has pledged to abide by.

Despite Pentagon denials that a U.S. 7th Fleet force led by the nuclear carrier Enterprise, has been dispatched towards the area, American civilian sources in Saigon and Communist officials report U.S. warships are in the Gulf of Thailand off South Vietnam's southwestern coast.

The sources said the naval force will spend a day or two in the area to "show the flag." The task force will steam southward to the Strait of Malacca to move into the Indian Ocean for exercises with Southeast Asian Treaty Organization nations.

Foreign Minister Adam Malik of Indonesia, one of the four nations with troops in the Vietnam peacekeeping force, said in an interview published in Manila Thursday that exclusion of fighting in Vietnam threatens to again involve the United States.

"Exclusion from any side, once started, cannot be easily contained...it may even raise the danger of America involved again," he said.

UPI reporters said Tay Ninh was in a state of war and hundreds of residents packed themselves and their belongings on buses for Saigon.

Field officers reported some small-scale clashes around the city Thursday.

Police and home guard units were in combat gear and regular government troops dug in on the outskirts of the city of about 75,000 people near the Cambodian frontier, they said. Tay Ninh is about 30 miles south of the Viet Cong's de facto capital of Loc Ninh and about 45 miles from Phuoc Long on a line along the Cambodian frontier increasingly dominated by the Communists.

In Saigon, President Nguyen Van Thieu, looking grim, attended a requiem mass at the Roman Catholic cathedral to commemorate casualties in the battle of Phuoc Long.

The government has ordered three days of mourning and is preparing a demonstration by about 60,000 persons in the capital Friday to denounce the Communist attacks.

It's a new quarter, a new year, and new things are happening at the Church of the Nazarene

Beginning this Sunday, January 12th
9:30 am Two Bible Study Classes
in Fellowship Hall
Study of Miracles in the Bible
Study leader, Ralph Miller
Know your Spiritual Gifts
Study leader, Bob Merrill

Worship Service for all others in Sanctuary
11:00 am Two Bible Study Classes
in Fellowship Hall
The King Is Coming
Study leader, Allen Beauchamp
Study of Pastor's sermon
Study leader, Jim Whitley

Worship Service for all others in Sanctuary
10:30-11:00 am Everyone come to Fellowship Hall for refreshments and fellowship
11:00 am Two Bible Study Classes
in Fellowship Hall
Study of Pastor's sermon
Study leader, Bob Merrill

VETERANS: You have decisions to make.

A decision as to your future in the military
Credit for your military experience. You skip the first two years of ROTC.
Availability of full scholarships on a competitive basis.
$1200 per month. (In addition to veteran's benefits)
You owe it to yourself to investigate.
Call Poly's.
Military Science Program
415-427-546
3396 Johnson Ave.
San Luis Obispo

Correction

The group sponsored by "Guitars" will meet tonight at 7 p.m. in Room 220 in the University Union instead of Thursday night as reported in yesterday's Mustang Daily.
KCPR Top 50 1964-1974 (Pick 5)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Song</th>
<th>Artist</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1.</td>
<td>1.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.</td>
<td>2.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.</td>
<td>3.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.</td>
<td>4.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.</td>
<td>5.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

KCPR will conduct survey of the decade's Top 50 songs

KCPR, Cal Poly's radio station, will conduct a survey during the next month to determine the Top 50 songs of the last decade. "San Luis Obispo hasn't had a top anything in he past 4 or 5 years," said Larry LaPollette, KCPR sports director. "It should be very interesting to see how this city votes for number 1," he said. The survey is not limited to Cal Poly students. LaPollette said. It is to determine the Top 50 for the entire city.

'Airport 1975'

Heston saves the day

by DENNIS MCELLENN

Forty minutes into Universal's star-studded "Airport 1975," Dana Andrews' small plane crashes into a mighty jumbo jet bound for Salt Lake City.

The co-pilot is sucked out of a gaping hole in the jet's cabin. Two other crew members are dead and pilot Efram Zimbalist, Jr. is gravely injured.

The question: Can a crippled 747 be rescued in mid-air and landed safely, thus saving its all-star passenger list?

The answer: Never underestimate the power of Charlton Heston, the man who early in his career found little difficulty in parting the Red Sea.

The outcome of "Airport 1975" is as predictable as its characters and dialogue, which border on the insane.

After the out-of-control private plane crashes into the jet, stewardess Nancy Pryor (Karen Black) contacts the control tower and relays the message of the tragedy.

"Something hit us," she says, barely holding back panic. "All the flight crew are either dead or badly injured. Please help us.

In Salt Lake City, a straight-faced, gum-chewing control tower technician—without missing a beat in his chewing—replies, "We read you. Nancy, stand by."

Despite its bad dialogue and cartoon-like characters, "Airport 1975" is a fast-paced film which won't permit the audience to sleep through the entire disaster. But for all its faults, "Airport 1975" is a fast-paced film which won't permit the audience to sleep through the entire disaster. But for all its faults, "Airport 1975" is a fast-paced film which won't permit the audience to sleep through the entire disaster.
Prof. cites Bible in homosexual group condemnation

There has been a great deal of discussion in the Mustang Daily about the acceptance of the Gay Student Union on campus. It is obvious that some leaders in SAC find the whole idea repugnant. I do not believe I have ever seen any attempts to discuss the basis of homosexuality, and why it is right or wrong.

Faculty opinion

The Judeo-Christian faiths have never approved of homosexuality, but let us look at the basis for their disapproval. In the Old Testament, especially chapters 1-50 of Leviticus, we find the standards revealed by God for decent conduct. What we do not hear today, but is clearly shown there, is that adultery (sexual relations with another man's wife), incest (sexual relations with a man's daughter or mother), sodomy (sexual relations with other animals), and homosexuality were all put into the same category, and all had the same punishment—death by stoning. Because the gay students and their group have developed a public relations program to seek public approval, we will also be forced to approve clubs for incest, sodomy, adultery, and other forms of immorality. God forbid! These students who are homosexuals claim we cannot legislate morality, which is true, but we do not have to approve of immorality either.

For those who are not familiar with scripture, let's look briefly to see if it really says homosexuality is immoral. Leviticus 18:13 says, "If a man lie with a male as with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination; they shall be put to death; their blood is upon them." Furthermore, in the New Testament, Paul, in writing his epistle to the Romans, shows that God first revealed himself to the Gentiles. They acknowledged and bowed down to the image of God. Homosexuality is an abomination to God just as drinking, smoking, gambling, or any other form of immorality is to God. The Romans 1:28-34 we come to the climax of the problem. "Therefore God gave them up to the lust of their hearts, to uncleanness, to dishonor their bodies. For this reason God gave them up to dishonorable passions. Their women exchanged natural relations for unnatural ones, and likewise gave up natural relations with women and were consumed with passion for one another, men committing shameless acts with men as with the women. They exchanged the glory of God for the likeness of their bosom; and they were filled with all manner of unclean things, pursuing their own lusts." For this reason God gave them up to their own passions.

Slide show to feature native flora

A multimedia show on California plants will be shown in the Cal Poly Theater tomorrow night. The three-screen slide show is being directed by producer, Dr. J. Robert Haller, an associate professor of botany at UC Santa Barbara. The free program will begin at 8 p.m., Jan. 11.

According to Haller, the 20-minute show was designed to give a brief survey of native flora and fauna. Each slide course a brief orientation to the "diverse, fascinating and beautiful" world of California plant life.

The program consists of 81 color slides shown on three screens in the accompaniment of popular music. Haller said some of the slides, which depict plants in class work, were shot as long as 10 years ago.

The bulk of them, however, he said, was taken on field trips within the past several years. The program is sponsored by the San Luis Obispo chapter of the California Native Plant Society and the Biological Sciences Department at Cal Poly.

Outpost contest-dinners are prize

Dinners for two at Baskin Robbins, along with gift certificates from several area merchants are up for grabs in the annual Outpost Writing and Photography Contest. Factual stories of all sorts as well as photo essays should be turned in to the Outpost box 881 of the Graphic Arts Building. Contest rules are also available. Professional writers and photographers will act as judges for the contest, and their choices as first place winners will also be published in Outpost. Deadline for all entries is Feb. 18.

Homosexuality appreciated

Physically and psychologically, the time has come to accept reaching the homosexual student as a normal part of our society from within, and to forget that such immorality in early times contributed to the fall of the Roman Empire. Which way will we go?

Robert J. Reid

Professor, Biological Sciences Dept.

LIQUIDATION BY AUCTION

A complete shipment of 800 PERSONAL & ORIENTAL RUGS per person registration fee will continue from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. for the "Up for Grab Auto Cross" at the stadium parking lot (B-10). The 8 per person registration fee will continue from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. for the "Up for Grab Auto Cross" at the stadium parking lot (B-10).

Only those cars with a closed exhaust system and seatbelts will be permitted entry. Helmets are also required but will be available for participants at the course.

Auto rally

The Sports Car Club will sponsor its first autocross of the year, Sunday, at the Delano Diamond parking lot (B-10).

CAREER OPPORTUNITY

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

ENGINEERING FACULTY

Dr. R. BROWN

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

to be on campus TUESDAY, JANUARY 14

Graduate study information All Engineering disciplines M.B., Engineer, Ph.D. degrees

Contact Placement Center 846-2301 for appointment
Oklahoma trounces Poly wrestlers; OSU up next

If Vaugh Hitchcock had known how his wrestlers would be coming off three straight losses he probably wouldn't have scheduled Oregon State for tonight.

Hitchcock's wrestlers will have their work cut out for them as they try to rebound from a 27-6 thumping at the hands of Oklahoma Wednesday night, their third dual meet loss in a row. They had previously been beaten by Oklahoma State and Navy 14-11.

Oregon State is definitely no soft touch. The Beavers are a perennial Pac 8 and NCAA power. Last year, an off one by OSU standards, they finished eighth in the NCAA after a fourth place in the Pac 8.

The possibility exists the Beavers may be a little weary by the time they hit San Luis Obispo. Tonight's match will be their fifth in as many days. They have a 2-3 mark with their only losses coming to Oklahoma and tough Portland State.

In last week's rankings the Beavers were rated 17th and Cal Poly 11th. An interesting individual matchup should come at 180, where Rodger Warner will pit his 11-1 mark on the line against undefeated Doug Ziebart. Ziebart will be out to revenge a 5-2 loss to Warner last season.

Other Beavers to watch are freshman Mark Eveson, who pinned Oklahoma's defending NCAA champion Rod Kilgore his first collegiate outing Monday. And if it comes down to the last match heavyweight Larry Bleilberg should have an advantage over Poly's mini-heavyweight Mike Bodine.

The Oklahoma contest was an interesting Individual with both hands. He's also good all-around player.
Mustangs open defense of title

The Mustang basketball team just doesn't know how to make things easy.

Ernie Wheeler's defending USC charges open their league schedule tonight facing a task that has proved impossible in the past: Beat UC Riverside on their home court.

Friday's win over the Highlanders has been a rare accomplishment for the Mustangs, who generally have a managed only two wins in 11 tries against the always tough UCR team. The Mustangs will take an 8-3 record and the second ranked defense in the nation into the 8 p.m. contest, as well as confidence garnered from a championship season.

Wheeler is optimistic that his team can finally leave Riverside with a victory under their belts.

"I don't think we'll be intimidated by UC Riverside like we were there last year when we had a young team. It's very difficult to play the Highlanders there because they have a small front line and everything is made up to them. We've played some very good games there but not the last two years," said Wheeler.

The match-up should be a low scoring one. Poly's second ranked defense is allowing an average of just 8.1 points a game, with the Highlanders having been held only 44 markers in a game.

However, it is possible that the Mustangs are about to turn the corner and score a little more firepower than UCR, at least on paper. Guard Gary Ogata is clocking at 19.8 points a game. The other guard, John Gage, is washing the note for a 13.7 rate and center Tom Fletch is chipping in about 10 points a night.

High point man for UCR has been defensive specialist Reggie Sims, a 6-5 guard. Larry Hardaker, the other backcourt, is hitting for 4.7 marks.

In line or draw, the Mustangs still have to visit the Broncos of Cal Poly Pomon in the near future. That doesn't figure to be an easy task either. Bronco head man Don Hogan has four redshirts who became eligible January 1. Last Friday the new men helped Pomona to a 5-0 upset of Division I Independent power Cal State Los Angeles.

Among the newcomers are 6-6 forward Levi Williams, a transfer from Los Angeles South-West JC and Joe Stills, 6-5 junior guard from St. Louis and Arizona Western JC. Against Los Angeles Stills contributed 14 points and Williams 10.

The Bronco leading scorer is forward Paul Newton, a 6-4 forward with 15.3 average. He also leads in rebounds with an even 10 per game.

Oedipus auditions set for Sunday; players needed

Auditions for the play, "Oedipus," will be Sunday 6 to 10 p.m. and Monday 3 to 8 p.m. in Rm. 212 of the Music Building.

"Oedipus," a Roman version of the Greek classic, "Oedipus Rex," is to be performed as a musical drama. People are needed as technicians, players and rock musicians, who play electric guitar, synthesizer or drums.

The play will be directed by Pat Chen with David Chickiew as music director and Aline Dettie as the choreographer.

Try for auditions to be in room 212 in the Music Building at the time mentioned above. For further information call the Drama Office at 544-2480.

Students receive $500 awards

Burroughs Corporation awarded two Cal Poly students scholarships to assist in their careers.

Recommended by Cal Poly faculty members, Timothy Hammond of La Habra and Jeremy Ligon of Santee, both received $500. The funds cover education expenses and provide experience in the students' career objectives.

Classifieds

Announcements

Country western Dance music by Nashvile Express Saturday night. And that doesn't figure to be an easy task either. Bronco head man Don Hogan has four redshirts who became eligible January 1. Last Friday the new men helped Pomona to a 5-0 upset of Division I Independent power Cal State Los Angeles.

Among the newcomers are 6-6 forward Levi Williams, a transfer from Los Angeles South-West JC and Joe Stills, 6-5 junior guard from St. Louis and Arizona Western JC. Against Los Angeles Stills contributed 14 points and Williams 10.

The Bronco leading scorer is forward Paul Newton, a 6-4 forward with 15.3 average. He also leads in rebounds with an even 10 per game.

Oedipus auditions set for Sunday; players needed

Auditions for the play, "Oedipus," will be Sunday 6 to 10 p.m. and Monday 3 to 8 p.m. in Rm. 212 of the Music Building.

"Oedipus," a Roman version of the Greek classic, "Oedipus Rex," is to be performed as a musical drama. People are needed as technicians, players and rock musicians, who play electric guitar, synthesizer or drums.

The play will be directed by Pat Chen with David Chickiew as music director and Aline Dettie as the choreographer.

Try for auditions to be in room 212 in the Music Building at the time mentioned above. For further information call the Drama Office at 544-2480.

Students receive $500 awards

Burroughs Corporation awarded two Cal Poly students scholarships to assist in their careers.

Recommended by Cal Poly faculty members, Timothy Hammond of La Habra and Jeremy Ligon of Santee, both received $500. The funds cover education expenses and provide experience in the students' career objectives.