The news in brief

The supply fell 8 per cent in the last three months because consumers and businesses are saving instead of spending, the Fed says.

"We can't force people to spend money and nobody else can either," said a spokesman for the Federal Reserve of New York. "Some claim that if we open the spigot, it will flow out."

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (UPI) - New Zealand's largest active volcano, Mount Ngaruhoe, erupted unexpectedly Wednesday, tossing 30-foot boulders into the air like marbles and showering ashes onto towns up to 20 miles away.

There were no reports of injuries but two Australian tourists trapped on the mountainside when the eruptions began said they narrowly escaped death as they staggered down around the falling rocks.

(UPI) - Americans earned less money in January, the government said Wednesday, and Chrysler Corp shareholders were told they would not get a dividend for the first time since the Great Depression.

at the Graduate in Stockton for a year and a half before managing the San Luis Obispo Graduate, which opened Jan. 10. He has worked at all five Graduates.

According to Winchester, all the Graduates basically have the same floor plan and decor, although the San Luis Graduate has two bars; one for beer and one for wine.

City Council may donate to Poly event

The City Promotional Committee unanimously agreed, last Wednesday night, to recommend that the city council contribute $250 to the Poly Royal fund. The proposal will be submitted to the city council for approval Mar. 2.

As has been the case in past years, the Poly Royal Committee asked that some city money be appropriated in order to sponsor a statewide Poly Royal advertising campaign.

According to Frank Bianchini, general superintendent of Poly, such a request is justified because the merchants of San Luis Obispo benefit directly from Poly Royal.

Bianchini explained that last year, an estimated $38 million was poured into the local economy by the 180,000 people who attended the springtime festivities.

If approved, the $250 would be spent only to cover the travelling expenses of the Poly Royal Queen, and to aid in the publication of promotional posters and brochures.

The Queen is sent throughout the state in order to disseminate literature and information about the Poly Royal celebrations.

Bianchini said that, not including publicity expenses which are covered by State money, it costs about $22,500 to put on Poly Royal.

While admitting that in relation to the total cost of Poly Royal, the $250 is not a large sum, Bianchini emphasized that the city money is the production of a successful event.

Extra profits of bookstore are explained

Student complaints about campus bookstore prices and policies seem to increase at the rate of inflation.

"What students do not realize," said Al Amaral, executive director of the Cal Poly Foundation, "is that well over $1 million of bookstore profits have now gone into the construction of the University Union."

Students who feel ripped off probably do not know that the Foundation, of which the bookstore is a member, is a non-profit organization. Under the present lease agreement with the state, the Foundation must pay rent into a year in the University Union as rent for the bookstore. Any revenue attained after the rent payment is placed in a reserve fund to insure the bookstore will remain in business in event of severe losses.

3116 rejected; cut fees instead

Editor: I recently had the opportunity to hear ASI President Scott Plotkin speak on the upcoming AB 3116 referendum. Although arguments in favor of maintaining the present student body fees are well taken, I believe that there are some important facts that should be considered.

Of the $198,000 the ASI received this year from student body fees, approximately $190,000, or 46 percent, was used for a very small minority of the students.

A significant part of this money was spent on things as simple as buying meals for various athletic teams, covering travel, hotel and food expenses for the CPU band ($2,000 for one trip to Pinnacle Point) and financing similar costs incurred by the rodeo team and various agriculture judging committees.

Meanwhile, the money spent on services for the general student population (films, concerts, lectures, etc.) accounted for less than nine per cent of the budget! (13,600 for one trip to Pomona party for the students of the Paso Robles School for Boys.

All transportation will be provided for the Feb. 10 party from 6 p.m.-11 p.m. Interested students contact Robert Bonde, Student Community Services Coordinator, in the University Union Rm. 317, 954-3764.

Plotkin claims that our sub-standard level of extracurricular activities will continue if ASI fees are reduced. But this need not be the case. If our student government officials would pump some manpower into producing well planned concerts and the like (instead of root beer chugging contests), they may be surprised to find that they can actually make a significant amount of money.

I suggest Plotkin and company stop spending time and money financing the virtues of a "YES" vote on the AB 3116 referendum and pass their priorities when spending our money. A "NO" vote will most likely bring our officers to action.

If the time is taken to make these adjustments in spending habits, we students will not only save a few dollars come registration time, but student services offered us can be expanded to include all of us and not just a selected few.

So do yourself a favor...vote "NO" on AB 3116 and reduce ASI fees as much as possible.

Ronca misuse

Editor: Finally, we see the light. John Ronca wasn't objecting to the Mustang Daily printing political endorsements. He was objecting to the Mustang Daily printing views other than his own.

I, for one, definitely oppose the propaganda campaign that is being waged against us over AB 3116, and I think John Ronca should be kicked out of office for his covert and unethical misuse of his office. I think the School of Business and Social Sciences would give serious thought to whether Ronca's unethical behavior is the type of philosophy they want representing them.

Finally, I call on everyone to save and force SAC to recall Ronca's motion and, instead, to support the Mustang Daily against the chancellor's office.

Contact your representative and let him know how you feel. They do as we command, not as we dictate. If you believe in some typo of freedom, then do something.

Scouts need help

Help is needed to organise and run Boy Scout Troop 111 until the end of the academic year. Troop 111 is a handicapped troop. They meet at Chris Jasper School, 31 Grand Ave., on Wednesdays at 18:30 p.m.

This rewarding experience does not require any special training or skills. Anyone interested in aiding underprivileged and physically handicapped children contact Robert Bonde, Student Community Services Coordinator, in the University Union Rm. 317.

Prof blasts latest articles

Editor: Pardon my reactionary, old-fashioned, conservative value, but shades of Hefnerism, what happened to the essential morality of our campus publications? In the past few weeks of Outpost and Mustang Daily, we have been subjected to a reaps declining standard of decency in printed matter.

First, the Gay Student's Union is championed, then water-bed pleasure and homosexuality are featured in "sensitive and understanding" Outpost articles, and the Lampsseo editor (who admits to being lazy, greedy and uncouth) becomes a legitimate representative of constitution and now—in the Feb. 10 Mustang Daily—we find an advertisement for a sexual sadist anime as a device for women. And irony of ironies, during this time President Kennedy has been criticized in editorial cartoons for his moral standards.

Tell me, if this published material is representative of healthy campus moral standards, what do we call cheap? According to your standards, all meaningful relationships have to start with sex. And if I am too shy or have a personality defect that keeps me from understanding the opposite sex, I can just say a few dollars come and start on a tactile basis with him. And if that doesn't work, there's always that stimulating gadget advertised in the Mustang Daily—maybe it works for men too.

Is there no end to this downhill slide? Am I more Niemandtlter simply because I don't believe that meaningful relationships must begin with a gentle awareness of a person's subtle, half hidden, individual identity which reveals a sexual sadist anime as a friendship growth. When this happens, it's only a mutual attraction strong enough to support a long term commitment that can lead to additional fulfillment in the very process of creation, which is the most desirable form of the fasioned heterosexual marriage.

I'm sorry, but the short-run promises,支持 are merely cheap substitutes that destroy both the individual in the participant as well as the society that tolerates such activities. We need a long term commitment that can lead to additional fulfillment in the very process of creation, which is the most desirable form of the fasioned heterosexual marriage.

So I pray—yea, literally—that our campus publications will grow out of its adolescent preoccupation of basic body functions and lift their sights to the more noble things of life. Let's abandon the secular ideals just because they are more difficult to attain. You may mock at those who hold to the Bible as the instruction manual. God gave us the creation for healthy living (both physical and mental), but compared to your recent publications, scriptural morality is like a breath of pure, fresh air.

Brown signs bill, faces demonstration

It was, as Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr. said, an historic occasion. Not only did the new governor sign his first bill but he also had his first confrontation with demonstrators.

The occasion was Brown’s initial appearance before the California Newspaper Publishers Association (CNPA) annual convention in San Francisco.

Before an estimated standing-room-only crowd, at the Hilton Hotel, Kathy Cade of the “Free Press Committee” confronted Brown with a list of demands.

The committee is promoting the sentencing of Ines Garcia, who was given a five-years-to-life sentence on Oct. 1 for second-degree murder. In her defense, Mrs. Garda said she killed the man because he raped her.

In confronting Brown, Cade demanded that he pardon Mrs. Garcia; grant her reasonable bail until her case is finished; and establish an ethically balanced commission to review the murder or manslaughter conviction of all women prisoners in rape cases.

In response, Brown pledged to visit prison facilities for women in the state to see “that the law is fairly and equitably applied.”

He did promise, however, to study the Garcia case and give the committee a response in two weeks.

After Cade’s departure, Brown told his audience, “It doesn’t take demonstrations, or yelling to reach me. Come to Sacramento and meet me in a quiet way so we can discuss any problems.”

Before he launched into discussion with the publishers, Brown had his first bill signing ceremony, where he signed into law a bill allowing private businesses to receive specified income tax deductions.

In his remarks, Brown urged the publizers, “It’s not an evasion when I ask for more time on a question, but just the truth.”

When asked why he failed to make a customary appearance at the convention’s Governor’s Banquet, Brown said he had spent the evening in his office reviewing milk pricing legislation. “Besides,” he added, “I don’t like to sit up there and have all of you watch me eat.”

In response to a question, Brown explained his policy of having no advance texts of his speeches. Reporters with an advance text are not covering a speech, he said, but simply “following along on something written somewhere else by someone else.”

Rocky warns of quick cure for economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller warned Wednesday there is no quick cure for the nation's economic ailments, even if Congress acts quickly on President Ford's program.

Speaking at a morning breakfast of businessmen and later to the nation's governors, Rockefeller said the nation must go through a period of belt tightening, and Congress must overhaul many costly programs before the economy can be turned around.

"Face it, we're in tough times," Rockefeller said. "It's going to take time, it's not going to happen overnight. For too long Congress has been passing legislation with wonderful objectives without realizing the long term implications," he said. He added that even if Congress acted quickly on Ford's economic program, or adopted one of its own, it would not bring a rapid end to inflation, recession and unemployment.

But Rockefeller said he was "very optimistic" that the country had the "natural resources to pull us out of this. It involves additional changes, and nobody wants change. They want to go back to the good old days," he told a national Chamber of Commerce meeting. "But just to give you an example, we can't go back. The days of cheap energy are gone. We have to face reality." Later, he told the National Governors Conference that big, costly, overlapping government unaware of all it is doing has led to a growing sense of frustration among Americans.

One of the reasons he resigned as governor of New York state last year, Rockefeller said, was that "less and less was I able to be responsive to my own constituents both in terms of decision-making and the operations of government."
The Black Student Union (BSU) is having a special meeting today, Tuesday Cal Poly's university level in Science Room. The meeting is to discuss future concerts, offices, and the BSU Queen Pageant.

"The sights and sounds of India," a special slide presentation by the student chapter of the American Institute of Architects (A.I.A.), will be shown at 11 a.m. today in the Cal Poly Theatre.

The slides, taken by faculty member Sharad Atre, emphasize the famed Indian architectural style. The presentation is open to the public free of charge, and is the second in a series of presentations by the A.I.A.

A preliminary list of students eligible for preferential registration is posted in the foyer in the library. This list includes students who completed 228 units at the end of fall quarter AND are currently or have previously enrolled in introductory art or art courses.

Students should report any omission to the Registrar's Office, Adm. B19, before March 18.

The talent of Richard Aylin, a senior in Graphic Communications, were used in creating the theme symbols of two exhibits at Cal Poly. The first symbol used the effect produced by looking at the ends of a group of books placed in a stylized sunburst pattern. The second symbol is a fabric design and will be used in a promotional manner for an exhibit scheduled for next quarter.

Both of these designs will be among the exhibits of Second Annual Graphic Design Show beginning Monday Feb. 26 in Room 311 of the University Union.

A public preview and reception for the artists will be held at the Art Center on Sunday, Feb. 22, from 2 to 4 p.m. All persons interested in volunteer service as gallery assistants for the non-profit organization are invited to attend the coffee and critique session being held for the gallery assistants at the Art Center Monday, Feb. 26, at 10 a.m.

Baker might make a run for President

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) -- Former Howard Baker, the man who considers himself a "trial heat" for the presidency, says he is convinced that a primary race against President Ford would not harm the Republican Party.

The Tennessee Republican, who has speaking engagements in eight states over the next two months, said he expects to make a final decision on entering the race by late summer or early fall.

"This is not only a trial heat in terms of seeing the reaction of the country, but it is also an experiment in finding out what the reaction is here in Tennessee and last but certainly not least to see what my own reaction is," Baker told UPI in an interview.

Baker, who announced recently that he may seek the GOP nomination regardless of whether President Ford seeks office again, said he did not think a primary between himself and the President would be damaging to the party.

"I don't have the slightest doubt that President Ford and I could compete without rancor and anger and divisiveness," Baker said. "That was one of the factors I took into account when I decided to stop being coy and to make a final decision on entering the race by late summer or early fall.

"I think that others ought to do the same thing," Baker said. "If they have any significant, any substantial interest in contending for nomination, they ought to say so.

Baker, who will have another national forum as a member of the Senate select committee investigating the CIA, said he has not yet determined under what conditions he would run for the presidency.
Netters in rare loss to UCSB
by JIM SWEENEY

It was a rare afternoon for coach Ed Jorgenson’s tennis team Tuesday. They lost.
Up against a more experienced UC Santa Barbara squad, the Mustangs dropped a tough 6-5 decision in their season opener. It was the third match for the team Tuesday. They lost.

Hollywood couldn’t have come up with a better finish for the California Collegiate Athletic Association than the one shaping up.
With just two weeks left, only one game separated five teams with a possibility the race might end in a five way tie.

Poly title hopes get jolted, 73-64

The Matadors combined a hot shooting first half, converting 14-30 from the field, with a cold shooting Mustang first half. The Mustangs found the range on only 9 of 28 attempts and found themselves down by 13 at halftime.

Intramural rodeo Friday
The annual Winter Intramural Rodeo, hosted by the Cal Poly Rodeo Club, will be held Friday, at 8 p.m. in the Collett Arena.
A $1 donation towards the Rodeo Club will be collected from participants and spectators to raise money for the club’s annual banquet and the Poly Royal Rodeo and Western Dance in April.
• calculate a common antilog (10X) with a single keystroke.

Now $125.00 buys:
More power than our HP-35. 32 pre-programmed functions and operations vs. 23 for our HP-35. The HP-21 performs all log and trig functions, the latter in radians or degrees. It's our only calculator short of the HP-45 that lets you:
• convert polar to rectangular coordinates, and back again (->P, ->R).
• do full register arithmetic (M+, M-, MX, M÷).
• calculate a common antilog (10X) with a single keystroke.

The HP-21 also performs all basic data manipulations (10 +, -, ×, ÷) and all pre-programmed functions in one second or less. In sum, it's designed to solve tomorrow's problems as well as today's.
Smaller size. 6 ounces vs. 9 ounces for our HP-35.
Full display formatting. The display key (DSP) lets you choose between fixed decimal and scientific notation and lets you control the number of places displayed. (The HP-21 always uses all 10 digits internally.)
If a number is too large or small for fixed decimal display, the HP-21 switches automatically to scientific. It never confutes a smaller number with zero.
Finally, if you give the HP-21 an impossible instruction, the Display spells E-r-r-o-r.

• You can evaluate any expression without copying parenthese, worrying about hierarchies or re-structuring beforehand.
• You can solve all problems your way—the way you now use when you use a slide rule.
• You solve all problems—no matter how complex—they step at a time. You never work with more than two numbers at once.
• You see all intermediate answers immediately. The HP-21 executes each function immediately after you press the function key.
• You can easily backtrack when you err. The HP-21 performs all operations sequentially.

Mustangs kick UCSB

The Gauchos didn't win a single match as the Mustangs won their 11th straight dual to wind up the season with a 17-0 record.

With UCSB the owner of a 1-8 record, Coach Vaughan Hitchcock decided to water down his starting line-up and moved Mark DiGirolamo, Bruce Lynn and Cliff Hatch up a weight. Dave Duke gave Gary Casey a rest as he filled in at 190.

The evening was to mark the return of Mustang heavyweight Randy Hudson, who missed the better half of the season with an injury. It was anti-climactic though, as Hudson's opponent, George Merton, forfeited with an injury.

Hitchcock finished the Medals of the 20-3-1 record, as he won a 14-4 decision over Gauccho Gay Feneske at 190. Warner's team high 23 wins was two short of the record held by Glenn Anderson.

DiGirolamo, Hatch and Duke added to the evening's excitement as they each pinned one of their opponents. Hatch recorded the quickest fall of the night as he pinned 177-pound John McHale in 1:39.

Ogil filled in at 190. Record, Coach Vaughan Hitchcock decided to water down his starting line-up and moved Mark DiGirolamo, Bruce Lynn and Cliff Hatch up a weight. Dave Duke gave Gary Casey a rest as he filled in at 190.

The contest will pit the top two teams of the conference. Carl Toney, returning Roadrunners leading scorer, contributing 14.3 points a game and grabbing over 7 rebounds as a wing. The Mustangs will counter with Ogil and sophomore Gerald Jones at guard. Tom Flavin at center. Dave Burkel and either Dave Erickson, or Mills at forward.

Ogil is the Mustangs leading scorer with 15.8 average followed by Jon Hand in 13.5 points a game. The Roanoke teams have 3-3 conference records with only three games remaining. Cal Poly Pomona and UC Riverside are atop the CCAA with 5-2 records and Northridge is sandwiched in between at 3-3.
