\[ \text{Funds key to stereo campaign for KCPR} \]

Since its meager beginnings in 1969, KCPR, the voice of Cal Poly at 91.5 FM, has spoken without much of the campus getting involved.

According to Blair Helsing, station manager, the stereo project will cost $11,370. "We're going to rebuild our station virtually from the ceiling to the floor," Helsing said. "We'll have a new control board, a new transmitter, a new antenna, and much of the campus is going to be involved in it."

Vulgarity

Edison

Reading Bob Cox's comments (May 16) on the ASI elections is an exercise in editorial obfuscation, vulgarity, and pedantry, another in a series of Mustang Daily scoops this year.

Cox's claim that the "conservatively oriented candidates have had problems, with keeping their campaign material intact from pranksters." Well that's awfully magnanimous of Mr. Cox, especially in light of the fact that his article, a showcase of newspaper stupidity, squarely places the blame on one of the conservative candidates. Politic, oh so politic.

We constantly strive to do our best. Even if you don't agree with us, we aren't going to let you throw stones.

Cox is using the shibboleth of "Vulgar" to gibe Chappell and his supporters to the endless delight of Mr. Hurtado's fans. Quite tsk, since Hurtado is the appointed favorite out of Mustang Daily. I understand, perfectly.

From Cox's article, in a moment of extremely insightful, "Up to now, I haven't pointed fingers at anyone. I'm afraid it's safer to do so. Cox, it's safer same than fingers when you have a newspaper and irrefutable proof. Do you hate all.

Responsible journalism is based everywhere except at Cal Poly, upon facts, not intuition, innuendos, or innuendos. To point your finger is to doubt the middle man or any view. Cox, I do not believe that some students areinded to the "conservative" candidates. I know they are.

"I'm afraid it's safer to do so." Cox, it's safer not to point fingers except when you have newspaper and irrefutable proof. Do you hate all.

Bagger and his main rival Dennis Johnson employed many dirty tricks, including the dissemination of false information about their opponents, personal attacks, and harassment.

While they also claimed credit for popular programs which were initiated during their administration, including the aid of a local radio station owner to run untrue stories about the candidates, they insisted that their opponents were run untrue stories about the candidates.

The next year Baggett and Johnson installed one major program, Roundhouse. They did not accept the veterans, will forward the veteran, who train half time or a portion of a month, depending on the registration date.

Veterans who plan to enter school this summer or fall for the first time under the GI Bill are advised to act promptly if they want advance payment of educational checks.

Veterans planning to enter school should be sure to have a certificate of eligibility, which can be obtained from the nearest VA office.

The certificate must be presented to the school of the veteran's choice. The school, if it accepts the veteran, will forward the certificate and the enrollment information to VA.

Officials explained that if the agency receives this information at least 30 days before registration, veterans who train half time or more may pick up their first check when they register.

The first check will cover training allowances for the first two months, or one month and a portion of a month, depending upon the registration date.
