No One Was Anti-Climaxtic

Climax Blues Members (top) Peter Haycock, Derek Holt And (bottom) Colin Cooper Get It On Sinai Technicians

Authorisation by Congress to station 200 volunteer American civilian technicians at surveillance stations in the Sinai to monitor the Israeli-Egyptian disengagement agreement was an urgent step toward peace.

Although Egypt signed the protocol to the agreement Sept. 22, Israel has been waiting to implement it. Opposition to sending even American civilians to the Sinai stems partly from a fear that the United States is repeating the mistake it made by sending military advisors to Vietnam.

However, this is not the case. The military advisers were dispatched quickly to tell the South Vietnamese how to fight the Communists. When this failed, the advisers began fighting each other.

The civilian technicians will be in the Sinai to monitor the peace as bipartisan observers.
They should light break-out, they will be retursed to the United States. American combat forces should not be used.

Invesigations

Researchers say students are taking their studies more seriously now than in recent times. There's a lot of truth to this at Laney Community College in Oakland.

Black activist Angela Davis has filed suit seeking $75,000 damages for being denied a teaching job at the college. She claims she was discriminated against in employment and the district reneged on a contract to hire her.

Following Suit

Professors say students are taking their studies more seriously now than in recent times. There's a lot of truth to this at Laney
Community College in Oakland.

Black activist Angela Davis has filed suit
seeking $75,000 damages for being denied a teaching job at the college. She claims she was discriminated against in employment and the district reneged on a contract to hire her.

Inmates’ Plea

Editor

The whole point of writing this letter may be poignant at least considering the present circumstances.

Our names are Alvin Laquan Amequa Holmes and Marvin Lowell Smith and we are two black men presently incarcerated at Solitary Correctional Training Facilities.

Our purpose for writing this letter is to appeal to someone who may be interested in developing and sharing what hopefully will result into a fulfilling pen-pal relationship.

Our names are Alvin La-
quan Amequa Holmes and Marvin Lowell Smith and we are two black men presently incarcerated at Solitary Correctional Training Facilities.

Our purpose for writing this letter is to appeal to someone
who may be interested in developing and sharing what hopefully will result into a fulfilling pen-pal relationship.

Our names are Alvin La-
quan Amequa Holmes and Marvin Lowell Smith and we are two black men presently incarcerated at Solitary Correctional Training Facilities.

Our purpose for writing this letter is to appeal to someone
who may be interested in developing and sharing what hopefully will result into a
fulfilling pen-pal relationship.
Breakfast and dinner, too, with Stenner Glen's punch meal card. We give you 40 punches (in your card of course) for $30 bucks. You can eat anytime you want and as much as you want until your card is punched out. We have meal plans to fit any appetite - from 5 - 19 meals a week. And your per meal cost can be as low as $1.20! McDonald's prices with the menu and quality of a restaurant.

The other secret ingredients that make our food so tasty are: nice people, good music, special dinner surprises, and inexpensive prices. We're right next to campus, so stop by for as much lunch and dinner as you can eat sometime soon. Your taste buds and your budget will thank you for it.

OUR $30 PUNCH-A-LUNCH

Boogie Hits Chumash, Climax Blues Band A Hit

by BLAIR HELSLING

Well-lubricated by Guinness ale and Cour beer, drummer John Calhoun, guitarist Pete Haycock, and sax player-guitarist Colin Cooper of the Climax Blues Band spoke with Mustang Daily just before their set in Chumash on Sunday night.

The band is on its eight right tour in two and a half years, which has to be some sort of record for traversing the American continent in so relatively little time.

Playing Cal Poly between a date in Fresno and one in Los Angeles, the band members were glad to be seeing new parts of America: "something we've had rom-for a long time," in Cooper's words.

Our conversation was punctuated by Haycock's drumming on Cuffley's practice pad, periodic clever interjections by Cuffley on various scraps the band has gotten itself into, and Colin Cooper's asides to Haycock regarding his relative youth and abilities as a guitarist.

All told, you couldn't find a friendlier trio of Limeys in any pub.

Daily: Is the extreme tax situation in England hurting you like it is so many other British artists?

Cuffley: We don't have anything to tax. The band tours England and Europe, but we don't make any money at it. We haven't really made money anywhere yet, at least not enough to tax.

Daily: How much American television have you done? How did you like it?

Cooper: We've done 'Midnight Specials,' and a 'Don Kirshner's Rock Concert.' The thing about it is—it's supposed to be a live gig, right? But you go out and play your set twice just for the sound balance and the camera shots. Then they bre-

(Continued on page 4)
The pre-law advisory committee of the School of Business and Social Sciences will hold a general orientation meeting on Thursday, Oct. 16, at 6:30 p.m. in Room 212 of Engineering West. The meeting will provide a forum for pre-law students to obtain information on law schools, law school application procedures, financial aid requirements, and the law school admissions test, and for undergraduate pre-law curriculum planning. All interested students are welcome to attend.

The High School Equivalency Program (HEP) is in need of tutors for Education III. For 2 units, with only 3 hours of weekly tutoring time. Tutorial assistance is one of great value to the student who wants to go to a high school diploma. Most had dropped out of high school to work in the fields as farm laborers, or to help in the home. The students taught for the G.E.D. attainment are Social Science, Natural Science, Grammar, Literature, and this year, English as a Second Language.

The High School Equivalency Program (HEP) is in need of tutors for Education III. For 2 units, with only 3 hours of weekly tutoring time. Tutorial assistance is one of great value to the student who wants to go to a high school diploma. Most had dropped out of high school to work in the fields as farm laborers, or to help in the home. The students taught for the G.E.D. attainment are Social Science, Natural Science, Grammar, Literature, and this year, English as a Second Language.

For further information, contact Dave Cantu at the HEP office between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 132 California Blvd. in the Palm Royal Apartments adjacent to Cal Poly or call 546-6188.

Saturday, November 1 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. the statewide Chicano Law Students Association will be sponsoring a law day for Chicano applicants. The UCLA School of Law will be the site for the day's activities. The purpose of the conference will be to provide information concerning admission requirements and financial aid application processes to those attending, in addition to providing a forum to answer any questions applicants may have concerning law school as an educational alternative.

The program will include an introduction to law school requirements in general, information on and application for the LSAT, presentation by the law school representatives from various schools concerning their own programs, as well as question and answer period. Anyone interested in further information can write to:

UCLA School of Law
405 Hilgard Ave.
Los Angeles, Calif. 90024
(310) 825-7485

The Outings Committee will meet tonight at 7:00 p.m. in the University Union 210.

All students, faculty, and staff are invited to attend and discuss possible trips for the coming weekend.

For further information, contact Jair Pomo at 544-7815.

Walking enthusiasts and sightseers are invited to join members of a new group sponsored by the Sierra Club. The group is initiating two-hour walks through San Luis Obispo to encourage people to rediscover their feet and their beautiful town.

The first meeting will be on Friday, Oct. 13 at 6 p.m. at the Mission. The route will be decided upon at that time by the group. The walkers will meet first and third Friday of the month.

For further information contact Phyllis Snyder at 544-7815 or John Austin at 544-3015.

Records at Big Discounts!
Save up to $3.00!
Major label LP's? Top artists!
Hundreds of records! Come early for best selection!

EL CORRAL

These students can make your banking easier.

These students are bankers. Just a few of the more than 50 Student Representatives employed and specially trained by Bank of America to help other students with their individual banking problems. One way they help is with the College Plan®, a complete banking package just for students. It's quick and you get Bank of America's® unlimited checkwriting, special low-cost checks, our monthly Timesaver Statement, overdraft protection, and more. All for just $1.50/month, with no service charge at all during June, July or August. Why not ask your Student Rep about the College Plan? It'll make your banking easier.

At CS Polytechnic College — San Luis Obispo, just ask to see Marlene Heinrich University Square Office
927 Foothill Blvd. — 544-0600

Depend on us.
More California college students do.

BANK OF AMERICA

The Climax Blues Band's arrival was welcome, even if they left a bit early. Students had hoped to cancel a date here at the last minute in 1974. The audience was big, the band was hot, and the encore was well deserved.

SLO Students Need Tutors

If you have 2 or 3 hours of free time during the week, you might consider being a tutor. It is a great opportunity to get involved with a student who is having difficulty in a certain subject; this student has a snowball effect on your attitude change the life of a child or young adult who is turned off with a certain subject; this subject has a snowball effect on your attitude. From that involvement the individual begins to see different personal goals. They learn that you are there to help, that you care, and that your positive influence is critical to their personal goals. They start looking at education from a different perspective, and consider that college may be an alternative.

Student Community Services (SCS) is seeking student volunteers to tutor junior high and senior high schools, who have become disenchanted with the educational system and are looking for an alternative.

In many cases the individual, one-on-one attention that a college-age tutor is able to give is enough to enable failing pupils to catch up with the rest of their class, and even excel, according to Robert Bonds, SCS Coordinator.

"Many times the teachers have large hands and can't give the individual attention these kids need," says Bonds.

Experienced or inexperienced tutors are needed to tutor for the educational system and are looking for an alternative. The students are needed to help walk in the fields to farm America to help other students with their college work it becomes easier. Bonds says, "Once kids have received this additional support, their self-esteem grows.

SLO Students Need Tutors

If you have 2 or 3 hours of free time during the week, you might consider being a tutor. It is a great opportunity to get involved with a student who is having difficulty in a certain subject; this student has a snowball effect on your attitude change the life of a child or young adult who is turned off with a certain subject; this subject has a snowball effect on your attitude. From that involvement the individual begins to see different personal goals. They learn that you are there to help, that you care, and that your positive influence is critical to their personal goals. They start looking at education from a different perspective, and consider that college may be an alternative.

Student Community Services (SCS) is seeking student volunteers to tutor junior high and senior high schools, who have become disenchanted with the educational system and are looking for an alternative.

In many cases the individual, one-on-one attention that a college-age tutor is able to give is enough to enable failing pupils to catch up with the rest of their class, and even excel, according to Robert Bonds, SCS Coordinator.

"Many times the teachers have large hands and can't give the individual attention these kids need," says Bonds.

Experienced or inexperienced tutors are needed to tutor for the educational system and are looking for an alternative. The students are needed to help walk in the fields to farm America to help other students with their college work it becomes easier. Bonds says, "Once kids have received this additional support, their self-esteem grows.

SLO Students Need Tutors

If you have 2 or 3 hours of free time during the week, you might consider being a tutor. It is a great opportunity to get involved with a student who is having difficulty in a certain subject; this student has a snowball effect on your attitude change the life of a child or young adult who is turned off with a certain subject; this subject has a snowball effect on your attitude. From that involvement the individual begins to see different personal goals. They learn that you are there to help, that you care, and that your positive influence is critical to their personal goals. They start looking at education from a different perspective, and consider that college may be an alternative.

Student Community Services (SCS) is seeking student volunteers to tutor junior high and senior high schools, who have become disenchanted with the educational system and are looking for an alternative.

In many cases the individual, one-on-one attention that a college-age tutor is able to give is enough to enable failing pupils to catch up with the rest of their class, and even excel, according to Robert Bonds, SCS Coordinator.

"Many times the teachers have large hands and can't give the individual attention these kids need," says Bonds.

Experienced or inexperienced tutors are needed to tutor for the educational system and are looking for an alternative. The students are needed to help walk in the fields to farm America to help other students with their college work it becomes easier. Bonds says, "Once kids have received this additional support, their self-esteem grows.

SLO Students Need Tutors

If you have 2 or 3 hours of free time during the week, you might consider being a tutor. It is a great opportunity to get involved with a student who is having difficulty in a certain subject; this student has a snowball effect on your attitude change the life of a child or young adult who is turned off with a certain subject; this subject has a snowball effect on your attitude. From that involvement the individual begins to see different personal goals. They learn that you are there to help, that you care, and that your positive influence is critical to their personal goals. They start looking at education from a different perspective, and consider that college may be an alternative.

Student Community Services (SCS) is seeking student volunteers to tutor junior high and senior high schools, who have become disenchanted with the educational system and are looking for an alternative.

In many cases the individual, one-on-one attention that a college-age tutor is able to give is enough to enable failing pupils to catch up with the rest of their class, and even excel, according to Robert Bonds, SCS Coordinator.

"Many times the teachers have large hands and can't give the individual attention these kids need," says Bonds.

Experienced or inexperienced tutors are needed to tutor for the educational system and are looking for an alternative. The students are needed to help walk in the fields to farm America to help other students with their college work it becomes easier. Bonds says, "Once kids have received this additional support, their self-esteem grows.
Student On Trustee Board: Move Pleases Poly Leaders

by JANET McBRIDEN
Daily Staff Writer

While it is a significant advance," he said.

Members of the California State University and Colleges Student Presidents Association (CSUCSPA) are now allowed to speak on an issue before the board during its meetings.

Trustee Roy Brophy feels such input is adequate. According to the LA Times, Brophy theoretically asked: "How much input can an undergraduate student offer?"

The final decision on the naming of a student trustee will be made by Gov. Brown, but the selection of candidates has been left to the university's student presidents and representatives from the 19-campus campuses.

Speculation on how the candidates will be selected ranges from a system-wide solicitation of applications to the nomination of one student president of the system's student presidents.

Whomever is selected will have full voting rights and will be a complete equal to all members of the Board. The new law requires the student trustee be at least a junior and retain in good standing as a student for the one-year term.

According to Dean of Students Everett Chandler, on any board of trustees the majority will inevitably be made up of people who have been away from school for a long time. "Students deserve to have someone to speak for them," said Chandler. "A student trustee will increase chances for input but I think the actual power is diluted because he'll be only one out of 89."

Reflecting this position Hurtado said, "I don't know what we're supposed to do about the majority still are not students."

"We're not trying to take over or change anything," he added.

Architecture Programs Accredited

Accreditation of two architecture programs offered there has been announced by the National Association of Schools of Architecture.

The five-year Bachelor of Architecture Scholarship

Gary Stone, a Cal Poly architecture student, has been selected as the "William Bruce Grass from Allen and Miller Architects of Santa Ana," and was chosen for the scholarship due to his academic ability and outstanding qualities.
If it rained all the time, electricity would be cheaper.

PIGME operates from sources of primary energy – oil, natural gas, nuclear power and hydro. In the study, the team considered electricity as the primary energy source and the rest as secondary energy sources. They considered the efficiency of each energy source to determine the most efficient one.

The electric power system is connected to the internet, and the demand for electricity fluctuates over time.

Diversity: Other sources of energy

Oil and natural gas have become more prevalent in our energy mix in recent years. However, their extraction is expensive and they are finite resources.

The majority of the study’s demand is met by the electric grid, which is connected to the internet. The team considered the efficiency of each energy source to determine the most efficient one.

Thomas Vise: Shadowing Poe

(Daily Photo by Dan Courtright)

News In Brief

WASHINGTON (UPI) - An effort to roll back part of the reform rules for selection of the Democratic National convention delegates flopped unexpectedly Monday.

The proposal, brought before the 22-member Democratic executive committee by South Carolina party chairman Don Fowler, failed for lack of a second and didn’t even get debated.

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) - A leftist assassination squad murdered three persons in a crowded working house and the army killed two guerrillas in the latest political violence reported Monday.

The death toll in the country’s internal warfare reached 556 for the year.

EUREKA (UPI) - FBI agents and police searched Monday for a pair of bank robbers who got away with $77,500 by stripping a "bomb pack" to the bank of a bank president and threatening to blow him up by remote control.

Two robbers wearing masks and armed with automatic rifles invaded the home of Herbert Rasmussen, president of the Bank of Lolea in the nearby town of Lolea Saturday. They fastened a backpack on him and told him it contained a bomb which they could detonate by remote control.

WASHINGTON (UPI) - An alliance of Democratic women was formed Monday to try in part to get a woman nominated for the presidency or vice presidency.

Gloria Steinem, one of four spokeswomen for the new alliance, said few politicians think there is much chance for a female presidential candidate now. But she said, "It is clearly time when a woman as vice president could be nominated successfully."

PINE RIDGE S.D. (UPI) - A series of electrically timed explosions damaged four buildings and a transformer installation in this Indian reservation community Monday, a frequent focal point of Indian unrest.

Robert W. McMullen, acting Bureau of Indian Affairs law enforcement chief, said the four explosions began about 6 a.m. and continued at 10 minute intervals. The buildings were empty at the time and there were no injuries.

BIA officials speculated that the bombings may have been linked to the fact that Monday was Columbus Day, the date when the nation traditionally observes its discovery by the White Man.
Kite Revival...

Interest Soars In Age Old Sport

by STEVEN SEYBOLD
Daily Half Writer

High blustery winds at Laguna Lake Park Sunday proved to be quite an opponent to the crowd of kite enthusiasts at the first fly-in off the ground.

Despite the cold north wind gusting up to 25 miles an hour, over 70 people gathered to watch the first monthly fly-in of local kite enthusiasts.

By 5 p.m., the partly clouded skies were filled with box kite dragon, Delta wings, box kites, jet wheels and McFar ligatures. The colorful aerial paraphernalia looped and dived into each others' life lines with decreasing effect.

The promoter of the event, Mike Taylor owner of Ktten Kite, was happy with the success of the event despite wind specifications, and his damaged investments.

Taylor manipulated his kite box kite into a high speed dive saving it at the last second as it looped back into the sky, while saying, "We had about a hundred kites up but the wind is so strong we've lost a few."

Taylor then admitted that he had lost "...about 30 kites today." He was last seen disappearing into a field to rescue his downed Terra Pyramid.

Dave Whiter, owner of the Allied Arts Kite Shop in Haywood Park was flying the largest kite of the aerial convention, the seven-foot Delta Wing.

Struggling with his 200-pound test kite line, he fought the wind for control and said, "Kite flying isn't a passive or horrid activity. It's a spiritual thing—looking up and seeing, instead of looking down."

Kite flying is catching on and a renaissance of interest is apparent as more and more people try their hand at kite flying at the Laguna Lake fly-in.

One person, who asked not to be identified, summed up his feelings about kite flying with children, figuring it as a children's game and that any adult seeing and flying with a kite would be considered immature.

"But hell, it's really a blast. I mean flying kites isn't all what I thought it was—a boring game for someone who doesn't have the brains to do something else. It's a challenge of skill against the elements—a pleasant fight with the wind. It's a great release mechanism for a lot of the tension I build up from school."

Of the fly-in he had this to say, "It wasn't as successful as I thought it would be but as far as I'm concerned it was tremendous. From what I've seen of the enthusiasm here today, I'd say that kite flying is going to be as big around here as skate boarding."

Poly student Cyndie Carroll launches her kite during the fly-in held at Laguna Lake Park. Gusty winds hampered the kite enthusiasm but the event was considered to be an overall success. (Daily photo by Tony Hier)
Cal Poly's Ben Shaw (record from left), Steve Osborne (middle) and Jim Clabaugh (far right) converge on the ball. Shaw scored the only goal of the game as the Mustangs defeated Fresno Pacific, 1-0. Poly is now 1-1 in CCAA action and 2-1 overall. (Daily photo by Shawn Riley)

Mustangs Lose To Reno

By JON MASTINGS
Daily Staff Writer

When Cal Poly's football team is playing in Mustang Stadium, most students are in walking distance from the game. But what happens when the game is a sellout or the Mustangs are playing on the road?

If you are a real fan, you can listen to the game on the radio. All Mustang football games are carried on KVEC radio in San Luis Obispo. This may not seem too impressive, but radio sports coverage is a luxury most schools Cal Poly's size do not enjoy.

But if it was enjoyment you wanted last Saturday, you would have been better off listening to KCPR. Cal Poly played their worst game of the year in a 16-0 loss to a weak Nevada Reno team.

Weak in the sense that Reno is the poorest team the Mustangs have played to date. If you were bored listening to the game, imagine what it would have been like traveling all the way to Reno to see it.

The Mustangs broke one of football's cardinal rules in losing a game they shouldn't have. They were caught looking past the Wolf Pack and it is more than likely will cost them a trip to the Division II playoffs.

The loss dropped the Mustangs record to 2-2 with the CCAA schedule starting this weekend. Cal Poly will have to win the rest of their games impressively if they plan to be involved in any post-season action.

But winning the rest of their games appears to be a pipe dream, at this point. If the Mustangs plan anymore games of any resemblance to the Reno game, winning any games at all could be a dream.

The Mustangs could not get their awesome ground attack out of the starting blocks against Reno. Not only was perimer running back Gary Davis held to under 100 yards, the entire Mustang rushing total was under the century mark.

Poly accumulated one-fourth of their total yardage on one play in the fourth quarter. With Nevada leading 16-0 and the Mustangs frantically trying to get back in the game, Cliff Johnson scrambled around long enough to find Davis open in the flat. The senior tailback carried 49 yards for the only Mustang score.

Rich Robbins then ran the ball into the endzone for a two point conversion. But Poly didn't have enough time to make up for their previous mistakes. The Mustangs set up all of Reno's scores with costly fumbles.

This Saturday, the Mustangs will host Cal State LA in their first conference game of the year. There is still time for Joe Harper's bunch to regroup and capture a CCAA title and possibly a berth in the playoffs. But if there are anymore Reno flashbacks, Cal Poly isn't going to have much of an audience — radio or otherwise.