There's no place like home, and the Summer Mustang staff writer, Chuck Dunbar, has found one. It’s called the Journey's Inn, and it has become a student hangout.

The Journey's Inn, 2115 S. Broad St. in San Luis Obispo, is a place where the thirsty traveler can find a variety of draft beers and bottled beer. The bar has a variety of drinks, including a large pitcher and glasses for 90 cents. The Journey's Inn also has a variety of draft beers and bottled beer.

One fitting remark about McCarthy's, the night we were there, could be called a student hangout. Another watering hole which appears to be a quiet place to have a drink is Bull's Tavern, 1082 Chorro St. The place had a mixture of young and old on the afternoon when we were there. An old bartender named Eddy described the bar for us. He said young people came in all the time but especially after 10:30 at night.

The bar has a variety of craft beers and bottled beer. Pitchers are $1.75 and glasses are $3.50. It also boasts seven pool tables and three football tables plus an extra long wet bar. The barmaid described the place as mostly a man's hang out with a few guns bringing in their dates at night. It's a weindo night. For some reason on Thursday night, said Eddy, this whole town goes wild, from high school kids to old folks.

The tavern has a long straight bar on one side and large booths on the other. Eddy said the young people danced sometimes in the middle of the floor. Not a bad place to take a date for an after dinner drink. The prices for drinks are reasonable too.

One closing remark about McCarthy's, the night we were there, is that it's a weindo night. For some reason on Thursday night, said Eddy, this whole town goes wild, from high school kids to old folks.
Eligible Student List

A preliminary list of students eligible for fall quarter registration has been posted in the library lower, according to registrar's officials. This list includes students who completed 150 units at the end of spring quarter and who are currently enrolled in introductory senior project courses. Students should report to registration in the registrar's office, Adm. Bldg., before 3 p.m. Thursday.

Also, students who want their summer-quarter home addresses should leave a self-addressed, stamped envelope at the Records Office, Adm. Bldg.

Poly Band Concert

The School of Communication Arts and Humanities will sponsor an "old fashioned" outdoor summer concert Friday night. Wes Smith, band director at Francis Judkins Intermediate School in Plano, will be the guest conductor, along with William Johnson and Graydon Williams of the Music Department, during the second summer concert of the Symphonic Band, Jazz Band, and Dixieland Band.

The concert is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the outdoor amphitheater adjacent to the Cal Poly Tower. All guests will be free and the public is invited to attend and bring picnic dinners, lawn chairs, and blankets.

Photo Exhibit

A photo exhibit dealing with student living will be displayed every day through Friday in Rm. 116 of the University Union. The exhibit will begin at 10 a.m. and run until 4 p.m. all three days.

Capital Punishment Play

A short play on capital punishment by the Portable Theatre will take place today in the University Union Plaza from 3:30-1:00. The play is sponsored by the Student Activities Council.

Free Art Show

"An Even Dozen," an art show, will be featured at the San Luis Obispo Art Center. The show will run with a reception and will continue through September 12. The Art Center is open from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily except Mondays.

Free Concert

A concert under the stars featuring San Luis Jazz and Woodshed will kick off at 7 p.m. The event is free and sponsored by the ASF Concert and Special Events Committee.

Poly Phase Exchange

Poly Phase has announced the operational dates of the Fall Quarter Book Exchange. Used books may be brought in starting September 8th, the first day of registration, at 10 a.m. Sales of textbooks will begin the next day and continue throughout the first week of classes.

Payback for customers selling books through the exchange will be Mondays and Thursdays of the second week of classes. According to Poly Phase Club 15 per cent of textbook sales are sold and nearly 100 per cent will be brought in during early registration. Poly Phase is located in Mustang Lounge in the University Union, and will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. For more information call Brian Cleveland, Book Exchange Chairman at 949-7460.

"I said, 'Hey, who are you?' He said, 'I work for Reagan.' I said, 'I don't think I should do nothing like this,' I said, 'I'm a Ford delegate.'" He said, "If you would turn and work with us, we will pay all your expenses, your hotel, and we will take care of you."

"I told him I did not want to go to Ford and I disagreed with what the people thought for the simple reason I believe in God... and I wouldn't sell my President out." Timothy Sheehan, a Chicago ward committeeman in the Illinois delegations, told UPI the other bribe referred to by Ogilvie had been offered to Ford delegate Eddie Mack Jones of Chicago, Jones refused to comment, telling reporters he had not believed Ogilvie had identified him as the bribe target.

"There is absolutely nothing to it," Reagan responded to the allegations. "It is a falsehood. I am disappointed and disapproved. Frankly, I thought we Republicans were over Monday night's presidential balloting." Reagan had said he would turn and work with us, we will pay all your expenses, your hotel, and we will take care of you."

"I. told him I did not want to go to Ford and I disagreed with what the people thought for the simple reason I believe in God... and I wouldn't sell my President out."

"I didn't own a dollar," Sheehan said, "but I could have."

President Ford's commerce secretary threatened to report the incident to the FBI if a Ford nominee were nominated for the second spot on the ticket. Privately, the Ford organization has been setting certain allega­tions down if Ford won. The Ford people were spreading the word that the Ford people were going to announce their choice ahead of the balloting just before the vote on a presidential nominee.

"If you told me now I'd be in your team, I'd get a lot more votes," he said. Wennie can tell that they will know the final choice before the presidential balloting, it was learned today.

Fear And Loathing In Kansas City

Fear And Loathing In Kansas City New Degree Offered

Recreation administration will be a new bachelor's degree offered this fall, ad­ministered by the Men's and Women's Physical Education Department.

The program will involve courses in­cluding natural resources management, ornamental horticulture, art, drama, jour­nalism, political science, psychology, biological science, architecture and physical science.

About 100 students are expected to enroll in the program, but those enrolled in other un­related fields, provided preparation for professional specialization programs, and lead to graduate study in recreation.
The merger will also place clergy and athletic directors to head the new Co-Ed locker rooms on campus? Well, not quite... The two departments are being combined in order to comply with Title IX, the federal law prohibiting sex discrimination in federally funded education programs and activities. The two departments are being combined in order to comply with Title IX, the federal law prohibiting sex discrimination in federally funded education programs and activities.

---

Ribs, Beer And A Visit From The Other Side

I had walked out of the darkened room and felt the pretense of foreboding and fear? How many times have you walked into a darkened room and felt the presence of forbid reim and fear? All of us have heard of tales and goblins. Ever since we were children, the famous local superstition that the old crone, Sarge, has been out to get you. Say what you will about ghosts and things that go bump in the night, while you are surrounded by scientists and physicists are beginning to study the overwhelming number of reputable people who are afraid of the dark. But also be aware that a growing number of reputable psychologists, clergymen and even physicists are beginning to study the overwhelming facts of life after death. Bishop James Pike called it "The Other Side."

Now you can have the chance to study "The Other Side" and have a delicious bar-b-que meal at the same time, right here in San Luis Obispo.

This Old House on Foothill Blvd is haunted, say the people who work there. The name aptly describes the atmosphere.

The restaurant used to be turned housed that they Woody appearance and the homey atmosphere will attest to that.

According to Jim Hudson, the manager, the prep that converted the house into a restaurant bought the place from an old man about thirty years ago.

The day they opened the restaurant happened to be the day of that old man's funeral. That night the new owners were closing up and they heard a loud pounding on the door. Curiously, they looked out the window to see who it was. Imagine their shock when they saw it was the old man who had been buried earlier.

And that's the just the beginning," said Hudson. "Ya know, this place really freaks you out is during the wind is blowing and the house is creaking. It's really an eerie feeling, just like someone is watching you.

Just note Lisa Ben, the cocktail waitress, walked up and said, "Tell him about Robert and the curtains. That's a good one."

"Oh yeah, this was about three months ago," said Hudson. "Robert, the bartender, was the last one to leave after closing. His car was across the street from the restaurant. Back then there wasn't any street light front so it was pretty dark. He was sitting in his car warming up the engine."

When he turned on his headlights, he saw a white face in the restaurant window looking at him and slowly closing the curtains. "Man, he hauled ass out of there. And this Robert guy just wasn't the type to make up stories like that," said Hudson.

One night after we had closed up," said John Bushnell, a guitar playing folk singer who is currently playing at The Cedars, "I was sitting in the bar with the people playing the instruments and the day that old man started shaking really hard."

"That night the new owner happens to be the event of the appointment of a new director, " said Bushnell, "but we're going to start making a few steps after you have stopped. When the bus comes around the corner and there is no one there, it gives me the creeps."

In the bar areas there is a huge stove fireplace with iron stokers hanging from it. Every customer notices one of the fire pokers was swinging. Bushnell said the customer knew something about psychic phenomena, so we went over and stopped the poker with a key. He didn't this several times explaining that once a person touches it with his bare hand, it will stop. Sure enough, when he touched, the poker with his fingers, it stopped for good.

"The fireplace is the hot spot during the cooler days," said Hudson. "Especially after football games, everybody gathered around the fireplace."

Here are some great drinks. This Old House has excellent bar-b-que'd spare ribs, beef ribs and chicken. There is entertain ment on Friday and Saturday nights, too. The aged, wooden interior with the antiques all over gives the place a bit of old charm. And don't worry about the ghosts."

"I've always heard it's a friendly ghost," explained Bushnell. "Yeah, it's never hurt anybody," said Hudson. "One time we tried to talk to this guy into spending the night here. We offered him three bucks. He wasn't going for it. Man, you couldn't get me to spend the night in that place."

"Come by some night when we close up," said Hudson. "It's gotten weird when you turn off the lights."
South County Offers Clams And Night Life

by Stephan Worscholl

South County offers guests a mixture of wine and long of time to burn. For those who like their drinks, dining, and dancing under one roof, there are a few spots in town that offer live music every night of the week except Sundays. On Monday nights, it is common to see aspiring musician's use any area that offers live music. The Darkroom is an outside patio for drinking.

One of the more mellow places in town is the Mustang of the Quarter. It is the only place that offers live music every night of the week except Sunday. The Mustang is a large, well-lit room that features a bar and a stage on which live music is played nightly. The cover charge varies between $1 and $1.50. It is a popular spot for people to relax while enjoying live music, and beer and wine are available.

Another place in town, or "The Harbor Hut," offers a live band on Wednesday through Saturday nights. The cover charge varies between $1 and $1.50. It is a popular spot for people to relax while enjoying live music, and beer and wine are available.

For a night of great country music, try the Melody Mills, located near the Fremont Theatre, and a bar and dancehall. The Melody Mills has a large dance floor and a live band that plays until the early hours of the morning.

Wherever you are, there is sure to be live music at some point during your stay in South County. Whether you are looking for a mellow night or a lively party, there is sure to be something for everyone.

Panetta Discusses Housing

Panetta is running for Congress in the 18th District. He has been a strong advocate for affordable housing and has proposed several solutions to the housing shortage in California. He has stated that he is committed to finding creative solutions to the housing crisis and will work to ensure that everyone has a safe and affordable place to live.

Panetta believes that the federal government must play a role in funding affordable housing programs. He has proposed legislation that would increase funding for affordable housing and provide incentives for local governments to build more affordable housing units.

Panetta has also been a strong advocate for tenant rights and has proposed legislation to strengthen tenant protections. He has stated that tenants should be able to live in safe and decent housing without fear of eviction or discrimination.

Where It's At

August 19 & 20

DAIRY QUEEN

12 Broad San Luis Obispo across the street from McDonalds

TREAT YOURSELF AND A FRIEND TO THE #1 BANANA SPLIT
Earthquake Hits Manila

MANILA, The Philippines -- A mighty earthquake rumbled across the southern Philippines today, toppling concrete buildings, spawning 18-foot tidal waves and killing more than 500 persons — many swept away from coastal homes.

A strong tremor also shook China Monday night, there were no immediate reports of casualties.

According to the Disaster Center and the Department of Public Information in Manila, reports from flying areas, at least 510 persons were killed, most swept away from tidal waves on the island of Mindanao, 500 miles south of Manila.

They said hundreds of homes were destroyed as the waves slammed into coastal towns.

Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos proclaimed a state of calamity for the region. The quake struck at 11 minutes after midnight (10:11 p.m. EDT Monday), sending hotel guests in the city of Davao screaming into the streets. Many were caught only in their underwear.

The tremor which registered 6.0 on the open-ended Richter scale, according to the United States National Earthquake Center at Golden, Colo., was followed by at least 10 aftershocks.

The strongest, which registered 6.7 on the Richter scale, rocked the mountainous island of Jolo, a sparsely populated island inhabited mostly by fishermen.

There were no immediate reports of injuries from the aftershocks, but Marcos warned residents to be on guard for more tremors in the next two days.

Speaking in a nationwide broadcast, Marcos said 19 persons were buried alive.

Hurtado Trial Decision Near

Former state body pres- ident Mike Hurtado’s trial may be by the jury by the end of the week, according to a spokesman from the public defender’s office, Richard Carsel says the trial may be ready for jury deliberation by Friday. Jury selection began on Monday with both sides questioning prospective jurors under the supervision of Superior Court Judge William Freeman.

Hurtado faces charges of fraudulent voter registration which is a felony offense, punishable from one to three years in prison. Hurtado has pleaded not guilty to the charges brought up by the district attorney's office.

The quake in China was the second strong tremor there in less than a month.

The Royal Observatory in Hong Kong said the quake was centered 133 miles north of Lanuchow, the main support base for the nation’s nuclear and missile testing facilities.

The Colorado earthquake center, however, placed the center in the southeastern province of Shenchuan, 500 miles south of Lanuchow, and said it registered 6.9 on the Richter scale.

Northeast China was hit by a quake July 28 which measured 8.5 on the Richter scale; it was the strongest in the Philippines since Aug. 1865, when a quake of similar magnitude joined the Manila area, killing 500 persons.

The quake in China was the second strong tremor in the world in 18 years.

Reports from witnesses and foreign sources in Peking said hundreds of thousands were killed in the tremor, although Chinese authorities have released no casualty figures.

Fire and Ice" are just one of many groups that provide nightly entertain ment along the coast by Morro Bay.

Here, the group plays at the Breaker’s restaurant in Morro Bay. (Mustang photo by Jo y Berg.)

If Eating Is Your Thing... by Mike McGleehan

In response to this, Taragliu said that those operations which can be performed at alternate times will be. Already he said, "We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

Taragliu commented that it is unlikely that Poly will be affected by the available brownouts to any great extent. Many buildings cannot function without the use of electricity. As examples, Taragliu pointed to the operations of freezing and processing plants and science laboratories.

In the last three years, lighting on campus has been reduced 18-20 percent said Taragliu. If it becomes apparent that this is not enough, plant operations will be cut in those areas where it is permissible.

Pacific Gas and Electric has asked nearly 2,000 of its largest customers to be ready to reduce electric use on short notice if requested.

"We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

PG&E Warns Of Brownouts

"Fire and Ice" are just one of many groups that provide nightly entertainment along the coast by Morro Bay.

Here, the group plays at the Breaker’s restaurant in Morro Bay. (Mustang photo by Joy Berg.)

If Eating Is Your Thing...

by Mike McGleehan

In response to this, Taragliu said that those operations which can be performed at alternate times will be. Already he said, "We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

Taragliu commented that it is unlikely that Poly will be affected by the available brownouts to any great extent. Many buildings cannot function without the use of electricity. As examples, Taragliu pointed to the operations of freezing and processing plants and science laboratories.

In the last three years, lighting on campus has been reduced 18-20 percent said Taragliu. If it becomes apparent that this is not enough, plant operations will be cut in those areas where it is permissible.

Pacific Gas and Electric has asked nearly 2,000 of its largest customers to be ready to reduce electric use on short notice if requested.

"We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

PG&E Warns Of Brownouts

"Fire and Ice" are just one of many groups that provide nightly entertainment along the coast by Morro Bay.

Here, the group plays at the Breaker’s restaurant in Morro Bay. (Mustang photo by Joy Berg.)

If Eating Is Your Thing...

by Mike McGleehan

In response to this, Taragliu said that those operations which can be performed at alternate times will be. Already he said, "We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

Taragliu commented that it is unlikely that Poly will be affected by the available brownouts to any great extent. Many buildings cannot function without the use of electricity. As examples, Taragliu pointed to the operations of freezing and processing plants and science laboratories.

In the last three years, lighting on campus has been reduced 18-20 percent said Taragliu. If it becomes apparent that this is not enough, plant operations will be cut in those areas where it is permissible.

Pacific Gas and Electric has asked nearly 2,000 of its largest customers to be ready to reduce electric use on short notice if requested.

"We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

PG&E Warns Of Brownouts

"Fire and Ice" are just one of many groups that provide nightly entertainment along the coast by Morro Bay.

Here, the group plays at the Breaker’s restaurant in Morro Bay. (Mustang photo by Joy Berg.)

If Eating Is Your Thing...

by Mike McGleehan

In response to this, Taragliu said that those operations which can be performed at alternate times will be. Already he said, "We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

Taragliu commented that it is unlikely that Poly will be affected by the available brownouts to any great extent. Many buildings cannot function without the use of electricity. As examples, Taragliu pointed to the operations of freezing and processing plants and science laboratories.

In the last three years, lighting on campus has been reduced 18-20 percent said Taragliu. If it becomes apparent that this is not enough, plant operations will be cut in those areas where it is permissible.

Pacific Gas and Electric has asked nearly 2,000 of its largest customers to be ready to reduce electric use on short notice if requested.

"We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

PG&E Warns Of Brownouts

"Fire and Ice" are just one of many groups that provide nightly entertainment along the coast by Morro Bay.

Here, the group plays at the Breaker’s restaurant in Morro Bay. (Mustang photo by Joy Berg.)

If Eating Is Your Thing...

by Mike McGleehan

In response to this, Taragliu said that those operations which can be performed at alternate times will be. Already he said, "We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

Taragliu commented that it is unlikely that Poly will be affected by the available brownouts to any great extent. Many buildings cannot function without the use of electricity. As examples, Taragliu pointed to the operations of freezing and processing plants and science laboratories.

In the last three years, lighting on campus has been reduced 18-20 percent said Taragliu. If it becomes apparent that this is not enough, plant operations will be cut in those areas where it is permissible.

Pacific Gas and Electric has asked nearly 2,000 of its largest customers to be ready to reduce electric use on short notice if requested.

"We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

PG&E Warns Of Brownouts

"Fire and Ice" are just one of many groups that provide nightly entertainment along the coast by Morro Bay.

Here, the group plays at the Breaker’s restaurant in Morro Bay. (Mustang photo by Joy Berg.)

If Eating Is Your Thing...

by Mike McGleehan

In response to this, Taragliu said that those operations which can be performed at alternate times will be. Already he said, "We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

Taragliu commented that it is unlikely that Poly will be affected by the available brownouts to any great extent. Many buildings cannot function without the use of electricity. As examples, Taragliu pointed to the operations of freezing and processing plants and science laboratories.

In the last three years, lighting on campus has been reduced 18-20 percent said Taragliu. If it becomes apparent that this is not enough, plant operations will be cut in those areas where it is permissible.

Pacific Gas and Electric has asked nearly 2,000 of its largest customers to be ready to reduce electric use on short notice if requested.

"We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

PG&E Warns Of Brownouts

"Fire and Ice" are just one of many groups that provide nightly entertainment along the coast by Morro Bay.

Here, the group plays at the Breaker’s restaurant in Morro Bay. (Mustang photo by Joy Berg.)

If Eating Is Your Thing...

by Mike McGleehan

In response to this, Taragliu said that those operations which can be performed at alternate times will be. Already he said, "We are trying to inaugurate a program that we can go into it we are lacking any problems."

Taragliu commented that it is unlikely that Poly will be affected by the available brownouts to any great extent. Many buildings cannot function without the use of electricity. As examples, Taragliu pointed to the operations of freezing and processing plants and science laboratories.

In the last three years, lighting on campus has been reduced 18-20 percent said Taragliu. If it becomes apparent that this is not enough, plant operations will be cut in those areas where it is permissible.
Rock Climbers Play With Death

by Dave McRobbie

Tobin Sorenson is suspended under the Shield, a huge rock overhang that dominates the face of El Capitan. (Photo by Bruce Adams.)

Tobin Sorenson is suspended under the Shield, a huge rock overhang that dominates the face of El Capitan. He hung there for a moment, breathing a short prayer, before falling nearly 200 feet to hit climbing partner Bruce Adams.

But Tobin wasn’t prepared for what happened then. Something gave way and he found himself in a free fall, tumbling past Bruce along the underlying marble of the Shield.

Tobin realized he was falling, the elastic safety rope had already reeled in some 60 feet below. He hung there for a moment, tumbling past Bruce along the underlying marble of the Shield.

Tobin’s early experience with hammering pinions into creases a practice that sometimes brought him close to the ground was hard. Bruce, on the other hand, began by learning how to climb—polishing off each face for itself. Together, they practiced and Technique have. Now, Tobin and Bruce spend their weekends teaching beginners how it’s done—the right way. The Tobin Sorenson School of Mountainering, in its fourth month, has trained nearly 20 students the basics of rock climbing.

While their enthusiasm hasn’t changed, the tools and technique have. Now, Tobin and Bruce spend their weekends teaching beginners how it’s done—the right way. The Tobin Sorenson School of Mountainering, in its fourth month, has trained nearly 20 students the basics of rock climbing.

The day of instruction we provide,” says Tobin, “gives you about all you need to do it on your own.” He has also earned income from working with Yosemite’s Mountain Rescue Team, saving stranded climbers and hikers.

But both Bruce and Tobin are quick to say that their motivation for this risky sport comes not from the money they make, nor the glory they receive. “The fame, the people and all the parties became so hollow. We began to feel empty. So we found how Jesus Christ could come in and fill the void.”

They decided not to give up climbing, but rather to use it, as Bruce puts it, as a creative celebration of our limits. “I also admit that because we don’t have anymore, they may have an edge over other climbers, with whom they frequently share their faith. "Rock climbing is like stepping over the line of death and then stepping back," adds Bruce. "But I don’t worry. I put all my faith in Christ."

Tobin and Bruce feel that faith will be travelling with them during quarter break when they attempt to scale the unclimbed face of Mt. Robson, a snow-covered peak in Canada. The rigors of snow-and-ice climbing are more demanding than rock climbing, with crevasses, avalanches and icefalls to contend with. However, Bruce and Tobin agree it is “a blast.”

Apparantely, even the ultimate challenge—Mt. Everest—hasn’t eluded their dreams. "I’m sure eventually I’ll try it," says Tobin, "although I’d have to approach it a little at a time." Bruce claims he would "jump at the chance."

Meanwhile, the two climbers write for hammering pinions, hanging from cliffs, and hoping that somehow the people down there will understand. As Bruce says, "I just want to put my thoughts on climbing into a poem, but I can’t. It’s beyond words."

Chinese Sports Film

The SLO chapter of the U.S. China People's Friendship Association will present the film, 'Friendship First: Competition Second," produced in China by Felix Green, on Thursday, August 25th. The regular public presentation of this film by this local non-professional educational organization deals with sports in the People's Republic of China.

The SLO chapter of the U.S. China People's Friendship Association will present the film, 'Friendship First: Competition Second," produced in China by Felix Green, on Thursday, August 25th. The regular public presentation of this film by this local non-professional educational organization deals with sports in the People's Republic of China.

A 50 cent donation will be requested for the showing of the film in the Meadowpark Recreation Center located at South and Broad streets in San Luis Obispo, on Thursday evening, August 25th at 8:30. For more information call Dennis Land at 541-1149.

Extension Courses

Adults whose "back to school" thoughts are usually limited to getting their children ready for classes can also return to school themselves. The campus examination service, the continuing education service for the area, is offering a wide variety of courses for the adults of the area. They vary in length from week-end to quarter-long classes. Some begin the last week of Sept. and others are scheduled throughout Oct. and Nov., school officials said.

The extension courses may be taken by anyone meeting the requirements or obtaining the consent of the instructor. Formal enrollment in the university is not necessary, officials said. Course fees vary from $22 per unit for lecture courses to $44 per unit for laboratory courses.

FOREIGN AUTOMOTIVE

Specializes in complete mechanical and electrical repair

For those "just right" hair trims or style cuts

UNIVERSITY BARBER SHOP

For Appointment Phone 543-8282
University Square

For those "just right" hair trims or style cuts

UNIVERSITY BARBER SHOP

For Appointment Phone 543-8282
University Square

For those "just right" hair trims or style cuts

UNIVERSITY BARBER SHOP

For Appointment Phone 543-8282
University Square

GET OFF TO THE RIGHT START THIS SUMMER VACATION WITH Don Proctor's

THREE GUYS FOREIGN AUTOMOTIVE

An Honest Shop

AUSTIN

PORSCHE

MG

TRIUMPH

AUDI

'As Good As Any Better Than Most'

FOREIGN AUTOMOTIVE EXPERTS

Quality Work

SPECIALIZES IN COMPLETE MECHANICAL AND ELECTRICAL REPAIR

(free pick-up & delivery)

Open 7 Days/Week
Sunday By Appointment
He's The Bach Of Synthesizer Music

by Stephan Warnhoff

Mustang Staff Writer

There are a legion of synthesizers and a sea of tiny dirt roads in Yosemite Dorm this summer. The synthesizers are composed and the dorm is that of sound of music. Well, actually, Jimmy Carter says prevailing summer from San Diego by student John Mitchell.

"Most people think that I have a Moog or an Arp synthesizer," said Mitchell. "But mine are much more complicated. It took me months to build mine. You have to experiment with your hands on a synthesizer, but mine is a really interesting way to create music." Mitchell's "Baby Buchla" was born in 1971 and has continued to grow ever since, as his synthesisers and the tape recorder he uses are able to create music in his room.

"What I create isn't really music, it's a medium of expression," said Mitchell. "I combine Baby Buchla, the theremin and the tape recorder to create music of my own."

One of the pieces composed for Mitchell is a Nocturne for a Theremin, a haunting piece, and a lighter music called Cahill One. Mitchell claims to play almost anything from science fiction sound effects to Bach on his synthesizers.

Mitchell would someday like to expand his system to include more complicated instruments.

Bicycle Riders Beware

If you plan on riding your bike within the city limits of San Luis Obispo, you had better know the rules.

The city requires that your bike be registered and have a current California registration. Sgt. Stewart of the San Luis Obispo Police Department said that from March through June, the citations have been issued to cyclists riding bikes that were not registered, he said.

Registration certificates and decals are available at the City Clerk's office, City Hall, at the corner of Palm and One. They cost $5 for the first registration and $1 per year for renewal.

"People are being cited for riding bikes that are not registered," said Sheriff Sherwood. "Usually we issue a citation and then we get a really flagrant violation." Stewart said that the city issues as many as 30 citations per month for moving violations.

The Vehicle Code gives cities and counties the option of requiring bicycle registration. The county has not required registration, but the California Highway Patrol. He added that the CHP will still issue citations for riding on freeways, not having the correct reflectors and lights, and for flagrant violations.

The ornaments that are displayed on Sheriff's Office include "very few," said Deputy Sheriff Sherwood. "Usually we let our citizens know we are really flagrant violations." Stewart said that the city issues as many as 30 citations per month for moving violations.

The correct use of cacti and other plants is important, said Lynn Martinson, a 4-H member from Los Osos. She was one of the 4-H kids who did not get much sleep, what with staying up all night and having to care for their animals all day. "But it was great," said Lynn.

County Fair A Success

The San Luis Obispo County Fair had something for everyone this year. Exhibits included everything from baked goods to leather handbags.

The Ornamental Horticulture Club at Cal Poly won first place on an "outdoor scape" in the landscape division. The Cossack and the LeGarde twins, Zohn done ornamental horticulture students, created an indoor space depicting a rancher's office. Old barn riding was used for farming and bookshelves.

Family entertainment was also big on this year's agenda. The Mugugnaus, a group of four brothers and one sister, combined music, song, dance and humor for good family entertainment. The Coasch Riders, seven young people from Elks Creek, California, presented a breath taking exhibit.

The senior and junior agriculture student at Cal Poly ran away with prizes. She was a 4-H member from Los Osos.

Bicycle Riders Beware

If you plan on riding your bike within the city limits of San Luis Obispo, you need to know the rules.

The city requires that your bike be registered and have a current California registration. The price for registration is $5 for the first registration and $1 per year for renewal.

Registration certificates and decals are available at the City Clerk's office, City Hall, at the corner of Palm and One. They cost $5 for the first registration and $1 per year for renewal.

"People are being cited for riding bikes that are not registered," said Sheriff Sherwood. "Usually we issue a citation and then we get a really flagrant violation." Stewart said that the city issues as many as 30 citations per month for moving violations.

The Vehicle Code gives cities and counties the option of requiring bicycle registration. The county has not required registration, but the California Highway Patrol. He added that the CHP will still issue citations for riding on freeways, not having the correct reflectors and lights, and for flagrant violations.

The correct use of cacti and other plants is important, said Lynn Martinson, a 4-H member from Los Osos. She was one of the 4-H kids who did not get much sleep, what with staying up all night and having to care for their animals all day. "But it was great," said Lynn.

County Fair A Success

The San Luis Obispo County Fair had something for everyone this year. Exhibits included everything from baked goods to leather handbags.

The Ornamental Horticulture Club at Cal Poly won first place on an "outdoor scape" in the landscape division. The Cossack and the LeGarde twins, Zohn done ornamental horticulture students, created an indoor space depicting a rancher's office. Old barn riding was used for farming and bookshelves.

Family entertainment was also big on this year's agenda. The Mugugnaus, a group of four brothers and one sister, combined music, song, dance and humor for good family entertainment. The Coasch Riders, seven young people from Elks Creek, California, presented a breath taking exhibit.

The senior and junior agriculture student at Cal Poly ran away with prizes. She was a 4-H member from Los Osos.

Bicycle Riders Beware

If you plan on riding your bike within the city limits of San Luis Obispo, you need to know the rules.

The city requires that your bike be registered and have a current California registration. The price for registration is $5 for the first registration and $1 per year for renewal.

Registration certificates and decals are available at the City Clerk's office, City Hall, at the corner of Palm and One. They cost $5 for the first registration and $1 per year for renewal.

"People are being cited for riding bikes that are not registered," said Sheriff Sherwood. "Usually we issue a citation and then we get a really flagrant violation." Stewart said that the city issues as many as 30 citations per month for moving violations.

The Vehicle Code gives cities and counties the option of requiring bicycle registration. The county has not required registration, but the California Highway Patrol. He added that the CHP will still issue citations for riding on freeways, not having the correct reflectors and lights, and for flagrant violations.

The correct use of cacti and other plants is important, said Lynn Martinson, a 4-H member from Los Osos. She was one of the 4-H kids who did not get much sleep, what with staying up all night and having to care for their animals all day. "But it was great," said Lynn.

County Fair A Success

The San Luis Obispo County Fair had something for everyone this year. Exhibits included everything from baked goods to leather handbags.

The Ornamental Horticulture Club at Cal Poly won first place on an "outdoor scape" in the landscape division. The Cossack and the LeGarde twins, Zohn done ornamental horticulture students, created an indoor space depicting a rancher's office. Old barn riding was used for farming and bookshelves.

Family entertainment was also big on this year's agenda. The Mugugnaus, a group of four brothers and one sister, combined music, song, dance and humor for good family entertainment. The Coasch Riders, seven young people from Elks Creek, California, presented a breath taking exhibit.

The senior and junior agriculture student at Cal Poly ran away with prizes. She was a 4-H member from Los Osos.

Bicycle Riders Beware

If you plan on riding your bike within the city limits of San Luis Obispo, you need to know the rules.

The city requires that your bike be registered and have a current California registration. The price for registration is $5 for the first registration and $1 per year for renewal.

Registration certificates and decals are available at the City Clerk's office, City Hall, at the corner of Palm and One. They cost $5 for the first registration and $1 per year for renewal.

"People are being cited for riding bikes that are not registered," said Sheriff Sherwood. "Usually we issue a citation and then we get a really flagrant violation." Stewart said that the city issues as many as 30 citations per month for moving violations.

The Vehicle Code gives cities and counties the option of requiring bicycle registration. The county has not required registration, but the California Highway Patrol. He added that the CHP will still issue citations for riding on freeways, not having the correct reflectors and lights, and for flagrant violations.

The correct use of cacti and other plants is important, said Lynn Martinson, a 4-H member from Los Osos. She was one of the 4-H kids who did not get much sleep, what with staying up all night and having to care for their animals all day. "But it was great," said Lynn.
Six former Cal Poly football players are still competing for positions on four different professional football teams during the pro season.

Job Market Brightens Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The college class of ’76 should find it slightly easier to get a job than the graduates of the class of ’75, says the College Placement Council.

By the end of the school year, it said Monday, job offers were running 11 per cent higher for bachelor’s degrees, 9 per cent higher for masters and doctoral level.

Still getting a good book from the San Francisco ’76ers is John Loane, Cal Poly’s record setter, is up to his shoulder pads in trouble. Davis is bucking veteran Miami Dolphins great Mercury Morris. No small feat if Davis were his job at running back.

Davis finished his Cal Poly career as the school’s most valuable player with 2,500 yards on 500 carries for 20 touchdowns.

The Mustang kicker holds the school record for conversions and field goals. Thus for the most kicks (54) and for the most returned yards (1,391).

Still working for the Green Bay Packers is Don Milan who subs for quarterback back John Hadl. In 1973, Milan completed 13 of 22 passes for 181 yards, a 66 per cent completion percentage for the Packers. He also threw a 56-yard scoring pass to Steve Cosen against the Chicago Bears.

Also with the Packers are former Mustang fullback John Henson and tight end Ray Hall.

Henson scored a 26-yard touchdown in a Packers pre-season scrimmage recently. Hall broke his thumb on July 5 and has seen limited action.

Former Mustang center Pat Manus is rivalry with veteran Dave Klenford for the strong safety berth with the Los Angeles Rams.

Manus may get a starting assignment in the Rams’ second pre-season game against the Dallas Cowboys.

COPELAND’S SPORTS STOREWIDE SUMMER CLEARANCE SALE

BE THERE WHEN THE DOORS OPEN

THURSDAY AUG. 19th — 9:30 SHARP

WATER SKIS

BACKPACKING

SAVE UP TO 45% ON SLEEPING BAGS

Mead holds the Cal Poly record for the most kicks (54) and for the most returned yards (1,391).

Still getting a good book from the San Francisco ’76ers is John Loane, Cal Poly’s record setter, is up to his shoulder pads in trouble. Davis is bucking veteran Miami Dolphins great Mercury Morris. No small feat if Davis were his job at running back.

Davis finished his Cal Poly career as the school’s most valuable player with 2,500 yards on 500 carries for 20 touchdowns.

The Mustang kicker holds the school record for conversions and field goals. Thus for the most kicks (54) and for the most returned yards (1,391).

Still working for the Green Bay Packers is Don Milan who subs for quarterback back John Hadl. In 1973, Milan completed 13 of 22 passes for 181 yards, a 66 per cent completion percentage for the Packers. He also threw a 56-yard scoring pass to Steve Cosen against the Chicago Bears.

Also with the Packers are former Mustang fullback John Henson and tight end Ray Hall.

Henson scored a 26-yard touchdown in a Packers pre-season scrimmage recently. Hall broke his thumb on July 5 and has seen limited action.

Former Mustang center Pat Manus is rivalry with veteran Dave Klenford for the strong safety berth with the Los Angeles Rams.

Manus may get a starting assignment in the Rams’ second pre-season game against the Dallas Cowboys.