More than just a class--a watery new world
Alcohol in moderation

There is no doubt that when history comes to pass judgement on the decision we made last Nov. 3, it will have its judgement on some very difficult and most significant problems. Time, of course, will give us the answer to the righteousness of Jimmy Carter's decision as President. But, whatever has taken place in the first month, is any indication to us what we can expect from his administration in the next four or eight years, we may be in for some pleasant surprises.

Author Coman Nolan is a second-year journalism major and a member of the San Luis Obispo Democratic Central Com. mittee.

Carter has raised the eyebrows of a great many Washington observers through his quick and forthright foreign and domestic policy. First came the pardon of all non supporters conclude in agreement was an "incredible mistake."

Next came an open appeal to the government of the Soviet Union for the absolute and total liquidation of all nuclear weapons from the planet. An idealistic pledge no doubt, but it was also a needed plea. I question the intelligence of the architect who designed the front stairs of any world wide holocaust which now dominates international relations. Carter swiftly removed restrictions keeping badly needed natural gas from the East Coast of New England states. He has started the wheel moving toward relations with a nation less than 60 miles off the Florida coast—Cuba. He recently stopped the sale of the Peruvian's "conclusion, blood stabbing" drone and has pledged not to sell these instruments of war to any nation.

Carter's appointments to his administration demonstrate his desire to include and involve individuals from all walks of life in the government. Men like Andrew Young, a former southern black congressman who is now his ambassador to the United Nations, Sam Brown, a former anti-Vietnam activist who is chairman of ACO TION and Max Cleaveland, the new Veterans Administration director who is a Vietnam vet and a triple amputee, are living testimonies to the new spirit of involvement of people and groups who have rarely been cared for, much less solicited to help solve our nation's problems.

But perhaps one of Carter's greatest actions in his first month of office was what he started to do for the day of his inauguration—specifically to de-imperialize the office of the President. Carter took the oath wearing a business suit, not a tuxedo. Instead of riding through Washington in a bullet-proof limousine he walked and his local inauguration hill came to be a shock ing $2 million less than what had been spent by Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew just four years earlier.

When history does pass judgement on Jimmy Carter, it will really be passing judgement on us. We elected him. But at this point, only one month into his administration, let us take comfort in the words of one congressman who, in response to a newswoman's question said: "Three years ago I met this man from Georgia who told me that he was going to run for the Presidency of the United States, would win the Democratic nomination in the first ballot at the national convention and then would go on to defeat the incumbent Republican in the general election. I didn't believe him. Now this same man tells me he is going to keep this nation out of war while at the same time ensure unemployment and increase national productivity. This time I think I'm going to believe him."

A vote of confidence in Pres. Carter

There are those who argue that the Carter administration is a 180 degree turn from the foreign and domestic policies of the Nixon administration. I argue that it is a 360 degree turn. There is no doubt that the American public is ready for a change, and who is to say that change will not be for the better. Jimmy Carter is a man with a purpose. He will not be sidetracked by the dirty carpet at the entrance of the student union. He will not be sidetracked by the melting of the cement. He will not be sidetracked by the beginning of the fiscal year. Let us, in the words of one congressman who was elected just four years earlier, commit to the new administration and give it a chance to work its magic. The American people need a change and what better place to start than this very university? A vote of confidence in Pres. Carter is a vote for the future.
A proposal for the formation of two coordinating groups to study common university, city, and county problems by Cal Poly Pres. Robert E. Kennedy has been met favorably by San Luis Obispo city officials. Kennedy's recommendation would be a Tripartite Liaison Panel and a City-County-University Staff Planning and Coordinating Council. The proposal was made in a letter received Feb. 16 by the San Luis Obispo City Council.

The Tripartite Liaison Panel would consist of three persons from each the city, county, and the university. This group "might propose actions to be undertaken by one, two, or all three of the agencies," Kennedy wrote. He also proposed the three members of the panel not be "elected officials of the city or county but appointed by these bodies."

The City-County-University Staff Planning and Coordinating Council would be made up of three selected staff persons from each of the segments. According to Kennedy, it would be a working level liaison group which could deal with realities of coordinated planning.

This group would formalize and expand upon existing staff level coordination between Douglas Gerardi, Poly's executive dean, and Rob Strong, the city planning director, the President explained.

San Luis Obispo City Councilman Keith Gunner, who called for immediate action to be taken in the forming of a relations board between the city and Poly early in February, said Kennedy's proposal is reasonable.

Gunner, a candidate for mayor in next Tuesday's election, made a proposal last month for a relations board to be composed of a San Luis Obispo city councilman, a Poly administrator and a student, a person from the city planning commission and five people from the public at large.

He said then that this type of relations board was badly needed to work out numerous problems between the city and the university. Many of the problems he saw were connected to Poly's growth. Namely housing shortages, high rents and lack of parking.

In response to Kennedy's recommendations for a coordinating group, he said he believes there can agree on the group's organization, and said the president's idea of involving the county in decisions has a merit.

The councilman suggested that the group at first convene the second, third and fifth council supervisors districts be appointed by the county supervisors to the board.

Gunner also wants to be certain Poly students "play a major role in" the coordinating groups.

"I want to make sure the relations board is not an institutionalized body composed of strictly hierarchy members (that) this will be a board, the city and the county. I want it to be grass roots organizations," he said.

Kennedy and Gunner have agreed to meet and discuss the issue sometime early this month.

San Luis Obispo Mayor Kenneth Schwartz, who is also Poly's director of the School of Architecture and Environmental Design, said he is not sure how effective Kennedy's proposal will be.

Schwartz, however, said he does not see a need for a relations group between the city and the university as strongly as does Gunner.

"I have never had any difficulty, in being able to sit down with university officials and talk things out," said the mayor, who is running in next Tuesday's election. (Continued on page 8)
Handicapped have fun getting wet in the pool

by MARCIA MEIER
Daily Staff Writer

Physically handicapped children from Chris Jespersen School are learning to swim with the help of Cal Poly physical education students. On Tuesdays and Thursdays, the kids are bused over from Chris Jespersen to Clamshell Gym at 11 a.m. for half an hour of instruction and fun in the water. The children have various handicaps including cerebral palsy, a disease which affects the motor areas of the brain, hyperactivity, severe arthritis and brain damage.

A physical education instructor at Cal Poly, Tom Lee, is the coordinator of the program. "The students who work with the kids are from my recreation classes and this is part of their lab assignments," Lee says. The program originated about six years ago when one of Lee's students, John Rutherford, a P.E. major, came to Lee for a senior project idea. "We had already been working with the children in a noon time recreation program," Lee said, "so we decided to try working with them in the pool."

Since then, students have been helping the kids learn how to swim every quarter except summer. "The emphasis is on a psychological, therapy fun approach," Lee said. "There have been quarters that we've worked closely with the physiotherapy people from Chris Jespersen."

As the beginning of the quarter, the students go over to Chris Jespersen to meet the teachers and orient themselves to the children's special needs and problems. Each student is assigned to one child with whom they work throughout the quarter. Lee notices the students are a little apprehensive at first, but after the first few meetings they become totally involved with the kids.

Brian Roberts, a P.E. major, is in his second quarter working with the kids in the pool. Roberts plans on going into special education, physical therapy or working with handicapped children for a career. "It's very rewarding. I think you have to be a special kind of person to work with handicapped kids."

A number of parents have told Lee the program is beneficial to their children. The kids build up confidence and open up more. The swimming also helps with physiotherapy and range of motion to keep muscles toned.

The children are a little afraid of the water at first, says Lee, but after the initial fear it dissolves the kids become uninhibited and seem to love the time they spend in the pool.

Joe Bonchonsky, who heard about the program from some friends, says Todd, the boy he works with, has a sense of humor and he's easy to get along with. Gracie McCall, a teacher at Chris Jespersen, says the kids love McCall has been teaching at Chris Jespersen for three years. She teaches the children who are ages three to eight years old. The children are a little better at the end of the term, Lee adds. Brian McCullough, a student at Cal Poly, says the kids love the program.

Joe Bonchonsky, who heard about the program from some friends, says Todd, the boy he works with, has a sense of humor and he's easy to get along with. Gracie McCall, a teacher at Chris Jespersen, says the kids love the program.

"The children who swim in the program can be anywhere from three to 21 years old," said McCall, "their handicaps may range from severe to mild."
Reduction rates
- Bowing - three games for $1.99
- Bowling - 90 cents per hour
- Bowling Ball prices reduced - drop .30 each hour of operation

Special Attractions
- "Union Burger" - Big and Cheap! (Buger Bar)
- "Union Sundae" - Lots of Cream for Little Dough!
- "Ice Cream Bar"
- Wheel of Fortune - Winners every hour! (Games Area)

Events
- Flower Sale in Plaza - for that special person
- Craft Show in Craft Center - Enter your art in "X-ploring Xpressions" contest
- FREE DANCE with Country Pleasure!! Chumash Auditorium, March 2, 8-10 p.m.
  (Need ASI Card or University ID)

A WHOLE LOT WILL BE HAPPENING, $00000000 COME WHERE THE ACTION IS - THE UNION
by SCOTT CRAVEN
Daily News Writer

With a little more than a minute to go in the Mustang-Cal State Bakersfield basketball game Saturday night, an announcement came over the public address system. It was an announcement that Coach Ernie Wheeler jumped off the bench thrusting his fist in the air, the Mustangs ran downcourt while congratulating themselves, and the partisan crowd fill the gym with cheers.

The announcement, Cal State Bakersfield defeating the Highlanders held the Mustangs without a bucket for six minutes left in the first half.

"It was the lack of defense in the second half," said coach Tom Wood. "They had guys open and we couldn't stop them. We got behind and started pressing it.

"We just jelled together and played better baseball than they did. We measured bunt and hit-and-run. Dan [Winden] did a good job of calling the shots," said the Mustangs swept the sweep, the second in California Athletic Association crown in four years.

"We just didn't talk out there," said Keys. "We weren't helping each other out. They kept coming down the middle and we let men go." Poly had a chance to redeem themselves the next night and they did it in impressive fashion.

"We were ripped," Those were the words of Poly coach Dave Miller after he summed up his team's Saturday performance against Fresno State. The Mustangs were walloped 115 and one-third to 11 and two-thirds.

Poly was without the services of injured starters Brian Keys and Billy Jackson. "Whatever you eliminate the NCAA runner-up and the California Collegiate Athletic Association 400 meter champion from your team, you're bound to suffer," said Miller. "The next two relay, the 100, 200 and 400 were all affected by their absence. We still may have won, but the scoring certainly would have changed.

"We had some bright spots for the Mustangs," said Coach Dan Marple. "Huey Long was a double winner in the 60 and 200 yard run, claiming 4:10.8 and 20.2 respectively.

Anthony Reynoso contributed a first and a second on the Mustang cause. The distance runner took the mile run in 4:10.8, just 1-100 of a second better than the second place finisher, Bob Deato of Fresno. Reynoso finished second in the three mile run, timing 14:50.8, just nine tenths of a second off the winning time posted by Mike Jurgenfuss of Edmonton. Both times turned in by Reynoso qualified officially for the NCAA College Division Meet to be held May 26-28 in Fargo, North Dakota.

Other Cal Poly runners that ran in the distance events were Jim Warrick with all time best of 2:29.5 in the mile, Brian Williams, 10.1 in the 100, Brian Harper Darius Kruser and Dick Parr with marks of 10.9 and 11.3 in the 100 and 400 meter relay teams of Paul Spenner, Long, Williams and Lloyd timing 41.8. Miller was still not pleased with his team in the field events.

"I definitely was not pleased with how we did at the meet from these areas," Poly's Dave Hinde told the Daily. "Vic Kurdsik with a 51-10 V-C lead and Ray Miller with a 7-1 lead in the high jump are two of our big gains.

The winner of the 400 meter sprints travels to the Southern states while Poly travels to Springfield, Ill., to compete for the national title.

Poly nine sweeps Irvine

"We just jelled together and played better baseball than they did. We measured bunt and hit-and-run. Dan [Winden] did a good job of calling the shots," said as the Mustangs swept three games over UC Irvine during the weekend.

The sweep, the second in as many weekends, was obvious, as the score was 6-1, 8-1 on Saturday, and 15-7 on Sunday. The wine put the Mustangs in first place in the California Athletic Association.

In Saturday's contest, Paul DeArdisia hinted how the game was turned out as to his the first of two home runs of the day in the first inning so break the scoreless tie.

The Mustangs, added to their lead in the third inning as Gary Williams doubled and scored on a sacrifice by Matt Malina.

In the fourth inning, Cal Poly was again out for blood, as Danny Gans reached first base on an error, followed by a single by Mike Costa. Erik Peterson sacrificed the runners over a base, and Gans scored on a grounder hit by Tom Mosich which was thrown away at the plate trying to get Gans. Williams followed up with a two-run double to make the score 5-0.

Before allowing Irvine to score any runs, the Mustangs again reached positive in the sixth inning as Smith reached first base on a fielders choice, stole second and scored on a single by Malina to make it 6-0.

In the second game Saturday, all of the scoring done by (continued on page 7)

Helping Gerald Jones make his encore in San Luis Obispo by helping the Mustangs celebrate their CCAA championship as they run down the field. (Daily photo by Dennis Steen)
SPORTS SHORTS

Swimming

Two school records were broken at Cal Poly as the California Collegiate Athletic Association swiming championships closed performances third out beak Poly's old standard of W4, .

... , Lowfd by a Mullin s dou­

r!IXIX1j ,n*m*» ott... "We've qualified nine... funk's time of 2:08.1 in... J9,n' rratched on an • Mike Costa walked, ...

 basse bball

and a three run home run by... make the... Wilburn to score three runs, ...农民工 games against Irvine Friday...

University of San Diego at... Schroeder led the Mustangs... Bay... hit for 25-4 record and UCLA it now... weekends with Santa Barbara with a prac­

... Cal Poly men's tennis... Her's game will also begin at... weekend will see a... for 24-7, saw the... the best... "One of the Irvine coaches... have no choice... we were the best... They have tact... and still look the best so far...

Last week three of the Mustangs quit the team, and... was a little concerned... of having a team decision (win or lose) it will... be an individual placing in the... Watters will be wrestling for themselves, as... they will be wrestling more than the... for the entire team.

Head—Coach Vaughan Hitchcock hopes his entire... "I would like to qualify 10... but probably 10 and eight and 10 will qualify," Hitchcock said.

Wrestlers will get more than one shot to wrestle, as... dual competition. Some may... to hundreds, two may... is one and the... to three times, and the max­... would be four times.

Varsity wrestlers who placed in... include Matt Giorgi, Benjie Williams (134), Ross McKinney (145), Ron Wescott (165) and Sybil Thomas (177) and Chris Anaya (190).

The tournaments will be held in four sessions, the first... the weekend will be held Friday at 5 p.m. Friday night wrestling will get underway again at... 7:30 p.m. The times remain the same for Saturday's matches. Prices are $5 for four sessions, or $2 per session. Tickets may be observed from mail boxes this week. AdmU-

... to Santa Barbara with a prac­

... three game series with the... It is the last two matches broken a... in regionals last year and...... ed in regionals last year and..." said Coach Dick Anderson.

"It is the best we've ever had."

Volleyball

Taking three straight sets from the Cal Poly Pomona Broncos, Ken Preston's volleyball team moved its record to 4-4, Saturday night at Pomona.

The Mustangs scored 15-8, 15-7 and 15-4 victories over the Broncos in preparation for their meet against Stanford here Thursday. Rick Houser and Andy Schroeder led the Mustangs with eight and seven kills respectively.

Poly took three of four... for Irvine Friday to take that... that was the preliminaries to the... the Cal Poly Northridge men's game. Northridge dropped the Mustangs 70-58.

The following evening the Mustangs played host to Poly Pomona in the California Athletic Association... The Broncos showed why they are in... at least Mary Stulland's team 106-89.

Some ironic notes. Jill Orrick set a scoring record in... she scored 29 points. However, Becky Parker caught fire on... Saturday night as she scored 50 to become the new record holder.

Tennis

The Cal Poly men's tennis... second session. Northridge came to town Friday night for the game... third out beak Poly's old standard of W4, .

... , Lowfd by a Mullin s dou­

r!IXIX1j ,n*m*» ott... "We've qualified nine... funk's time of 2:08.1 in... J9,n' rratched on an • Mike Costa walked, ...

... to Santa Barbara with a prac­

... three game series with the... It is the last two matches broken a... in regionals last year and..." said Coach Dick Anderson.

"It is the best we've ever had."

Volleyball

Taking three straight sets from the Cal Poly Pomona Broncos, Ken Preston's volleyball team moved its record to 4-4, Saturday night at Pomona.

The Mustangs scored 15-8, 15-7 and 15-4 victories over the Broncos in preparation for their meet against Stanford here Thursday. Rick Houser and Andy Schroeder led the Mustangs with eight and seven kills respectively.

Poly took three of four... for Irvine Friday to take that... that was the preliminaries to the... the Cal Poly Northridge men's game. Northridge dropped the Mustangs 70-58.

The following evening the Mustangs played host to Poly Pomona in the California Athletic Association... The Broncos showed why they are in... at least Mary Stulland's team 106-89.

Some ironic notes. Jill Orrick set a scoring record in... she scored 29 points. However, Becky Parker caught fire on... Saturday night as she scored 50 to become the new record holder.

Tennis

The Cal Poly men's tennis... second session. Northridge came to town Friday night for the game... third out beak Poly's old standard of W4, .

... , Lowfd by a Mullin s dou­

r!IXIX1j ,n*m*» ott... "We've qualified nine... funk's time of 2:08.1 in... J9,n' rratched on an • Mike Costa walked, ...

... to Santa Barbara with a prac­

... three game series with the... It is the last two matches broken a... in regionals last year and..." said Coach Dick Anderson.

"It is the best we've ever had."

Volleyball

Taking three straight sets from the Cal Poly Pomona Broncos, Ken Preston's volleyball team moved its record to 4-4, Saturday night at Pomona.

The Mustangs scored 15-8, 15-7 and 15-4 victories over the Broncos in preparation for their meet against Stanford here Thursday. Rick Houser and Andy Schroeder led the Mustangs with eight and seven kills respectively.

Poly took three of four... for Irvine Friday to take that... that was the preliminaries to the... the Cal Poly Northridge men's game. Northridge dropped the Mustangs 70-58.

The following evening the Mustangs played host to Poly Pomona in the California Athletic Association... The Broncos showed why they are in... at least Mary Stulland's team 106-89.

Some ironic notes. Jill Orrick set a scoring record in... she scored 29 points. However, Becky Parker caught fire on... Saturday night as she scored 50 to become the new record holder.

Saturday but came back later in the day to hand the Sacramento State an 8-1...

Cal Poly was damped again, 9-6... Monday in the Jack A. Edwards... and Avonuo. ... will get underway again at... 7:00 p.m. The timet remain...

Some ironic notes. Jill Orrick set a scoring record in... she scored 29 points. However, Becky Parker caught fire on... Saturday night as she scored 50 to become the new record holder.

Tennis

The Cal Poly men's tennis... second session. Northridge came to town Friday night for the game... third out beak Poly's old standard of W4, .

... , Lowfd by a Mullin s dou­

r!IXIX1j ,n*m*» ott... "We've qualified nine... funk's time of 2:08.1 in... J9,n' rratched on an • Mike Costa walked, ...

... to Santa Barbara with a prac­

... three game series with the... It is the last two matches broken a... in regionals last year and..." said Coach Dick Anderson.

"It is the best we've ever had."

Volleyball

Taking three straight sets from the Cal Poly Pomona Broncos, Ken Preston's volleyball team moved its record to 4-4, Saturday night at Pomona.

The Mustangs scored 15-8, 15-7 and 15-4 victories over the Broncos in preparation for their meet against Stanford here Thursday. Rick Houser and Andy Schroeder led the Mustangs with eight and seven kills respectively.

Poly took three of four... for Irvine Friday to take that... that was the preliminaries to the... the Cal Poly Northridge men's game. Northridge dropped the Mustangs 70-58.

The following evening the Mustangs played host to Poly Pomona in the California Athletic Association... The Broncos showed why they are in... at least Mary Stulland's team 106-89.

Some ironic notes. Jill Orrick set a scoring record in... she scored 29 points. However, Becky Parker caught fire on... Saturday night as she scored 50 to become the new record holder.

Monday in the Jack A. Edwards... and Avonuo. ... will get underway again at... 7:00 p.m. The timet remain...

Some ironic notes. Jill Orrick set a scoring record in... she scored 29 points. However, Becky Parker caught fire on... Saturday night as she scored 50 to become the new record holder.

Tennis

The Cal Poly men's tennis... second session. Northridge came to town Friday night for the game... third out beak Poly's old standard of W4, .

... , Lowfd by a Mullin s dou­

r!IXIX1j ,n*m*» ott... "We've qualified nine... funk's time of 2:08.1 in... J9,n' rratched on an • Mike Costa walked, ...

... to Santa Barbara with a prac­

... three game series with the... It is the last two matches broken a... in regionals last year and..." said Coach Dick Anderson.

"It is the best we've ever had."

Volleyball

Taking three straight sets from the Cal Poly Pomona Broncos, Ken Preston's volleyball team moved its record to 4-4, Saturday night at Pomona.

The Mustangs scored 15-8, 15-7 and 15-4 victories over the Broncos in preparation for their meet against Stanford here Thursday. Rick Houser and Andy Schroeder led the Mustangs with eight and seven kills respectively.

Poly took three of four... for Irvine Friday to take that... that was the preliminaries to the... the Cal Poly Northridge men's game. Northridge dropped the Mustangs 70-58.

The following evening the Mustangs played host to Poly Pomona in the California Athletic Association... The Broncos showed why they are in... at least Mary Stulland's team 106-89.

Some ironic notes. Jill Orrick set a scoring record in... she scored 29 points. However, Becky Parker caught fire on... Saturday night as she scored 50 to become the new record holder.

Saturday but came back later in the day to hand the Sacramento State an 8-1...

Cal Poly was damped again, 9-6... Monday in the Jack A. Edwards... and Avonuo. ... will get underway again at... 7:00 p.m. The timet remain...

Some ironic notes. Jill Orrick set a scoring record in... she scored 29 points. However, Becky Parker caught fire on... Saturday night as she scored 50 to become the new record holder.

Saturday but came back later in the day to hand the Sacramento State an 8-1...
The Pacific Coast Railway Bridge is one of two Avila Beach historical sites under consideration for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Sites. If the two sites—the other a Chumash Indian Cemetery—are selected by the State Historical Resources Commission for placement in the Register, they will become federal properties which would not only control development but also provide some maintenance and preservation. (Daily photo by Jan Ramsey.)

by WENDY B. HILL
Daily Staff Writer

The Pacific Coast Railway Bridge and a Chumash Indian cemetery site in Avila Beach are two of 27 California historic sites recommended for nomination to the National Register of Historic Sites.

The bridge, located just below the San Luis Bay Inn in Avila Beach, was brought to the attention of the California Historical Resources Commission by the South County Avila Beach Historical Society last year, when many of the nation's historical landmarks were getting a face-lift for the Bicentennial.

The nomination of the Chumash Indian cemetery site located a half-mile west of Avila Beach is the result of efforts by the Central Coast Indian Council. The nominative document supported an archaeological investigation and reports by Archaeologist Bob Gibson of the Los Angeles County Museum.

"Through pressure by the Council, the Port of San Luis people decided to have an archaeological investigation on the site, beginning the last week of December," said Gibson.

Receiving recognition in the National Register makes the central California sites eligible for federal funds under the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966.

"The cemetery is only 500 years old," Gibson continued, "but the actual occupation site goes back at least 5,000 years. It (the site) is so extensive, I estimate it would cost $4.5 million to excavate it." The California Historical Resources Commission meets Friday and Saturday in San Marino to approve the nominations. The National Register officially recognizes a building or site for its historical, architectural or cultural significance. More than 500 historic buildings and sites are now listed.

Members of the seven-member commission are appointed by the Governor, representing the fields of history, archaeology and architecture.

KCPR—Hits new snag; Remote control breaks down plagued by a problem typical of beginning stations. He (Schwartz) said the set itself was applauded as the "most charming intellectual. The characters enthralled the audience throughout the play, but the actors failed to develop the characters' personalities and growth as the play progressed. The supporting roles provided a strong foundation for the players. Those performances were often clearly thought out and accomplished with very few lines and less stage-time succeeded in portraying well-rounded characters. Dom Potter as Eddie, Brock's crusty counselor, was an example of an actor who made interesting use of some unique characteristics.

Overall the show entertained. The audience laughed and applauded freely. The actors performed with energy and seemed to enjoy the time spent on stage. The audience responded with equal enthusiasm.

The set itself was applauded as the "most charming intellectual. The characters enthralled the audience throughout the play, but the actors failed to develop the characters' personalities and growth as the play progressed. The supporting roles provided a strong foundation for the players. Those performances were often clearly thought out and accomplished with very few lines and less stage-time succeeded in portraying well-rounded characters. Dom Potter as Eddie, Brock's crusty counselor, was an example of an actor who made interesting use of some unique characteristics.

Overall the show entertained. The audience laughed and applauded freely. The actors performed with energy and seemed to enjoy the time spent on stage. The audience responded with equal enthusiasm.

The set itself was applauded as the "most charming intellectual. The characters enthralled the audience throughout the play, but the actors failed to develop the characters' personalities and growth as the play progressed. The supporting roles provided a strong foundation for the players. Those performances were often clearly thought out and accomplished with very few lines and less stage-time succeeded in portraying well-rounded characters. Dom Potter as Eddie, Brock's crusty counselor, was an example of an actor who made interesting use of some unique characteristics.

Overall the show entertained. The audience laughed and applauded freely. The actors performed with energy and seemed to enjoy the time spent on stage. The audience responded with equal enthusiasm.

"Education Preparation for a Business Career

City officials like Kennedy plan

"We're hoping to get the money in a week or two," Rief said.

"There is money on this campus, you just have to pull on the right shirt sleeves," said the remote control unit, which was "on its last leg." Rief also said the unit is beyond repair.

"It forces us to spend time broadcasting, news shows drop off from six to five a day, Pacific Concert (6:30 p.m.) and Friday (8 p.m.) will be dropped and those people who do the work here," added "We're being asked for a replacement a unit, and we've been waiting for administration that it was on its last legs a real isn't for those who listen to Radio Hill who work here."

"It forces us to spend time broadcasting, news shows drop off from six to five a day, Pacific Concert (6:30 p.m.) and Friday (8 p.m.) will be dropped and those people who do the work here," added "We're being asked for a replacement a unit, and we've been waiting for administration that it was on its last legs a real isn't for those who listen to Radio Hill who work here."

"It forces us to spend time broadcasting, news shows drop off from six to five a day, Pacific Concert (6:30 p.m.) and Friday (8 p.m.) will be dropped and those people who do the work here," added "We're being asked for a replacement a unit, and we've been waiting for administration that it was on its last legs a real isn't for those who listen to Radio Hill who work here."

"It forces us to spend time broadcasting, news shows drop off from six to five a day, Pacific Concert (6:30 p.m.) and Friday (8 p.m.) will be dropped and those people who do the work here," added "We're being asked for a replacement a unit, and we've been waiting for administration that it was on its last legs a real isn't for those who listen to Radio Hill who work here."

"It forces us to spend time broadcasting, news shows drop off from six to five a day, Pacific Concert (6:30 p.m.) and Friday (8 p.m.) will be dropped and those people who do the work here," added "We're being asked for a replacement a unit, and we've been waiting for administration that it was on its last legs a real isn't for those who listen to Radio Hill who work here."

"It forces us to spend time broadcasting, news shows drop off from six to five a day, Pacific Concert (6:30 p.m.) and Friday (8 p.m.) will be dropped and those people who do the work here," added "We're being asked for a replacement a unit, and we've been waiting for administration that it was on its last legs a real isn't for those who listen to Radio Hill who work here."