Board of trustees passes IRA fees

$10 limit imposed until at least 1981

By RICHARD PRICE
Daily Mail Writer

Cal Poly students have paid part of their tuition through the purchase of an income-related activity (IRA) fee.

Designed to support activities on the campus, school bands and student organizations, the fee was approved by the California Polytechnic State University (Cal Poly) Board of Trustees at its meeting this week in Long Beach.

In approving the fee, the board stipulated that it may be raised by 10 percent per year. Students cannot be charged more than $10 per year. Any increases must be approved by a referendum vote by the entire student body.

Aside from the $10 fee, the board also imposed the amount of the IRA fee up to $100 per student on the membership CHUC system. According to Cal Poly Director of Public Information, James McDonald, this means the IRA fee is charged on all student organizations, depending on their membership costs.

Students will begin paying the fee in fall 1979.

Payment of the IRA fee means that student organizations are expected to hold student service fees for themselves. Student service fees are paid by the student organization to the university. If the student service fee is not paid, the organization cannot exist.

According to the CHUC, the students who are paid by the IRA fee are those who do not participate in any of the student service fees.

Students will begin paying the fee in fall 1979.

By REBECCA HENSON
Daily Mail Writer

Cal Poly students have paid part of their tuition through the purchase of an income-related activity (IRA) fee.

Designed to support activities on the campus, school bands and student organizations, the fee was approved by the California Polytechnic State University (Cal Poly) Board of Trustees at its meeting this week in Long Beach.

In approving the fee, the board stipulated that it may be raised by 10 percent per year. Students cannot be charged more than $10 per year. Any increases must be approved by a referendum vote by the entire student body.

Aside from the $10 fee, the board also imposed the amount of the IRA fee up to $100 per student on the membership CHUC system. According to Cal Poly Director of Public Information, James McDonald, this means the IRA fee is charged on all student organizations, depending on their membership costs.

Students will begin paying the fee in fall 1979.

Payment of the IRA fee means that student organizations are expected to hold student service fees for themselves. Student service fees are paid by the student organization to the university. If the student service fee is not paid, the organization cannot exist.

According to the CHUC, the students who are paid by the IRA fee are those who do not participate in any of the student service fees.

Students will begin paying the fee in fall 1979.

PCPA: Hancock College student theater excels

By RICHARD PRICE
Daily Mail Writer

Cal Poly students have paid part of their tuition through the purchase of an income-related activity (IRA) fee.

Designed to support activities on the campus, school bands and student organizations, the fee was approved by the California Polytechnic State University (Cal Poly) Board of Trustees at its meeting this week in Long Beach.

In approving the fee, the board stipulated that it may be raised by 10 percent per year. Students cannot be charged more than $10 per year. Any increases must be approved by a referendum vote by the entire student body.

Aside from the $10 fee, the board also imposed the amount of the IRA fee up to $100 per student on the membership CHUC system. According to Cal Poly Director of Public Information, James McDonald, this means the IRA fee is charged on all student organizations, depending on their membership costs.

Students will begin paying the fee in fall 1979.

Payment of the IRA fee means that student organizations are expected to hold student service fees for themselves. Student service fees are paid by the student organization to the university. If the student service fee is not paid, the organization cannot exist.

According to the CHUC, the students who are paid by the IRA fee are those who do not participate in any of the student service fees.

Students will begin paying the fee in fall 1979.

PCPA: Hancock College student theater excels

By SANDY NAX
Daily Mail Writer

There are some people who feel the Central Coast is somewhat culturally lacking, but high caliber student theater is in the middle of the fish smoking cigarettes and talking. When it was almost time for the actors to appear on stage, some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors.

When the actors appeared on stage, some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors.

PCPA: student theater excels

By SALLY NAX
Daily Mail Writer

While the students of the Central Coast are somewhat culturally lacking, but high caliber student theater is in the middle of the fish smoking cigarettes and talking. When it was almost time for the actors to appear on stage, some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors.

When the actors appeared on stage, some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors.

PCPA: student theater excels

By SALLY NAX
Daily Mail Writer

While the students of the Central Coast are somewhat culturally lacking, but high caliber student theater is in the middle of the fish smoking cigarettes and talking. When it was almost time for the actors to appear on stage, some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors.

When the actors appeared on stage, some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors.

PCPA: student theater excels

By SALLY NAX
Daily Mail Writer

While the students of the Central Coast are somewhat culturally lacking, but high caliber student theater is in the middle of the fish smoking cigarettes and talking. When it was almost time for the actors to appear on stage, some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors.

When the actors appeared on stage, some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors. Some people came to realize that the students were paying the actors.
Another concert goes down the tube

Sunday night, while sitting on the last row of the Chem. Majors' concert, I heard the administration directly putting its foot in the orchestra. They announced the All-Western Music show for March, and then proceeded to announce The Tubes would be coming in February. This was heart-breaking concerts. Just like a real university. It was too bad to be true. Early this week, the administration leveled heavy restrictions on the concert. The restrictions were nationwide: no open contract. No administration was willing to sign any of the contracts, and if the concert was going to run perfectly, the committee was happy. It is believed by the administration that the concert would not be given. The committee believed that the concert would end in failure. The administration believed that the concert would end in success.

Admissions say they didn't care if the concert was good. They had it tightly controlled. That demand was their demand. But their restrictions were far from fair. They also say that the contractor has already proven it can handle a concert. Now there is a word the ad-

It is clear that The Tubes might provide a lot more energy in the auditorium than any George Benson, but that there is no reason the administration to force them. The restrictions of the concert committee only work to the disadvantage of the whole campus and without a sacrifice.

Author: Tony Tranza is a junior major.

The latest dimension in children's toys

Recently, I had to go through the ordeal of finding suitable birthday presents for a couple of small relatives of mine. Now this is harder than it sounds. I haven't been a child for some time now. Frankly, I didn't know what the younger set was freaking out over these days.

Finally, in desperation, I decided to ask my friendly neighborhood toy manufacturer for advice.

"You ask me what's in these days?" said Joe, with a manner so perfectly over the top, you know how popular the dolls and games depicting TV stars are. I nodded my head and listened with rapt attention.

"Logically, the next step in real-life, games and dolls about what is really going on in the world around them. All toys will have to be personalized with the child's name. New life forms as many different planet's from the Earth to Mars will be available."

"Well, do you have suggestions?" I said.

"Do I have suggestions? A big question! Here we have our latest sensation, the Granite Granite Granite. It comes with a year's supply of flowers, a book on training your space pets, and a safe deposit box.

"Lee, what do you think of this idea?"

"Now I know you'll love this!" He held up a circular game board. "This is our Middle East Peace Pledge game. The object of the game is to work out a peace settlement with your opponent while trying to avoid violence and destroy.

"What sort of obstacles?"

"Oh, Famine, terrorism, other Middle Eastern countries, the media, U.S. advice, and in general, everything. There's still peace in the Middle East. Peace Pledge game."

"Maybe a doll would be better, though...."

"A doll? Luckily, I have a few terrific one right here!"

Today is the last day for teams to enter the COLLEGE BOWL

Any four full-time Poly students can make up a team and challenge the world. Teams will be made up of Derikite questions on general topics in competition with each other.

The winning team will represent Cal Poly in San Francisco in March.

Team registration forms are available at the University Union's box office on the Poly campus. CALL 644-3476.

Entry fee is $5.00 at time of entering.

March 1, 1976

Dingy dairy diet

We don't know what to make of the recent report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture which said milk was the dirtiest food. It's called "Dear Nurse and Dad."

The report states that milk is dirtier than food in schools and at home, and that the most common cause is "more under and usually..

We can't fault the idea that feeding cows cattle would make them dirtier. But why would it make the product less sanitary? We agree with those dirtier arguments—and the most is more under and dirty.
Councilman calls for rational action

In his weekly column, the councilman calls for a rational approach to the housing crisis, stating that the current high costs are due tospeculative buying and not genuine need. He mentions that many students are being charged an exorbitant amount for housing that is not commensurate with the quality offered.

Jorgenson, a member of the Council, agrees with the councilman's call for reason. He states that the current housing market is driven by speculation rather than real demand, and that this needs to be addressed.

The councilman also mentions the lack of affordable housing for students, and calls for a moratorium on rent increases until the situation improves. He believes that this is the only way to ensure that students are not forced to choose between living and attending school.

In conclusion, the councilman urges everyone to think rationally about the housing crisis and to work towards a solution that benefits everyone, not just the speculators.

NEWSCOPE

Doc Watson concert

The Oakley Music Hall will be hosting a Doc Watson concert on Thursday, June 21st at 8 PM. Doc Watson is a legendary folk musician known for his unique style and powerful voice. This is a rare opportunity to see such a talented artist perform live.

PALS meeting

The PALS Club will be having their monthly meeting on Tuesday, June 20th at 7 PM. All members and guests are welcome to attend. The meeting will be held in the Community Room at the City Hall.

Glee Club performance

The Oakley High School Glee Club will be performing at the Oakley Community Center on Friday, June 22nd at 7 PM. This is a great opportunity to hear some of Oakley's talented students perform live.

WHEEL ALIGNMENT

ONLY $10.50

Regularly: $15.00

Poor alignment can cost you money on tire wear. Why not let us check and adjust.

Center Camber Toe Road height

Call for appointment 8 am to 4 pm

Madonna Road Shell

OPEN 24 HOURS

204 MADONNA RD.

543-1991 San Luis Obispo
SPORTS

VaUeyuoll team drops first match

By Jim Alvarado
Daily Sports Writer

First match jitters and an out of breath warmup had the Mustangs feeling a little more than the Cal Poly Volleyball team could handle. The Mustangs dropped their first match of the season to the Gauchos 3-2, 19-25, 17-25, 26-24, 11-15, 11-15, 15-11, 11-13. The opening loss to the Gauchos was bittersweet for the Mustangs as they will look to their next match against UCSB on Saturday to try and break their losing streak.

The Gauchos started off with a strong first set against the Mustangs. The Gauchos were unable to maintain their momentum as the Mustangs rallied in the second set. The Gauchos eventually won the first two games with a 15-7 edge in the second game.

Poly finally got its act together in the third game and went on a run behind the strong hitting of Linda Crow, Maria Weygant, and Nick Hauser. That run helped Poly seal early in the fourth game as the Gauchos jumped out to a 9-3 lead. Poly delivered itself, scoring 14 of the last 16 points scored and sent the match to the fifth game limit.

Momemtum on their side, the Mustangs dropped the fifth game as they put down six of the last eight points for the win.

Despite the loss, coach Mike Wilson was fairly pleased with his team's overall performance.

"I thought we started really well after we hit behind early. We showed a bit of muscle and guts," said Wilson.

"We had some concentration problems but when we did concentrate our passing was much better." Wilson noted that his team needs to get back to the fundamentals.

"We need to be a lot more on the court," said Wilson. "Of course, tonight we did give ourselves a little bit of credit." With the win, Poly is 2-0 in the conference and 1-0 against MPSF.

Cagers lose to UCSB, 76-58

The women's basketball team fell at the hands of the University of California at Santa Barbara Gauchos 76-58.

The Gauchos were their own worst enemy as they had trouble with turnovers and making their shots count.

"We were outrebounded 46-36," said Coach Mary Rulon. "We had a second and third quarter where we hit 42 percent of our shots and that hurt us.

The team moved the ball well but it definitely didn't play its best defense Tuesday night.

"I think we can beat them the next time we play them," she said.

All Crocch was top scorer for UCSB with 34 points, second to Oronko in scoring on 14 points. Oronko and Bryan shared honors for rebounding with 7 each.

The Gauchos move to 7-7 on the road and 2-5 overall for the season.

Mustangs hit the road

The Mustangs, who were bumped out of a share of the California Collegiate Athletic Association(CCAA) lead as a result of splitting their games last week, will have a chance to get back into the running with two out-of-town games this week.

The basketball team plays at U.C. Riverside today and then on Saturday at Long Beach State. The volleyball team also leaves this week.

Poly has the best of best playing Riverside on its home court. The Mustangs first win at Riverside came last year when they beat the Highlanders 4-2.

On the way to the CCAA opener last season Coach Wheeler's team divided with因为 this weekend's game on the road and coming home.

"We can afford to play this game like we did earlier. If we can get back to playing Zimmerman or have our shot distribution like best defense, we can win," said Wheeler. "We need to play better defense to have a chance to win this one." Wheeler also said he was very pleased with the Mustangs' effort to bring back the New Mexico State game.

The Mustangs will be at home next Sunday against San Diego State University in a 1 p.m. match.

Mustangs center Paul Mills is a solid offensive threat but the CCAA leader in rebounding with 140 assists.

Wilson said the game will be at 7 p.m. on the road and coming home. The Mustangs are 7-7 on the road and 2-5 overall for the season.

Poly will bring a 9-7 overall record, into the weekend matches.

"CUSTOM LETTERING"

(October Lettering for clubs)

Greece letters and designs to choose from

T SHIRTS, SWEAT SHIRTS, CASUAL SPORTSWEAR, DUFFLE BAGS, LAUNDRY, BEACH & BIKI BAGS ALL IMPRINTABLE

Hours: Mon-Fri 10-6; Thur 10-9; Sat 10-6; Sun 11-5

A TRULY UNIQUE EXPERIENCE