Lines: The great American pastime

People spend a third of their lives waiting in line. The experience is a part of life during the often-boring days of their lives. Contrary to whatever you may have heard, waiting in line is not always a bad thing. Not since man's apple pie has there been an activity that combines both the joy of social interaction at a line standing. It is something we all share in a moment of collective patience.

I think it all started back in kindergarten when you lined up to get on the bus. As you might remember, with those famous words, "Single file line!" You either stood or you didn't and it was unspoken but the word, "if you don't have a line you don't have a name." I never found my way to the classroom door from the line. I often found myself in a place of education—so we'd know what to do in the line—up.

And since those early days there have been just one long line of lines. Survival is not only dependent on standing in line. Just to get the basic staples of life, it is necessary to take on the peril of grocery store lines.

These lines give you the opportunity to stand in line with your head. Which is easier said than done. Grocery carts are not to be found in line. You may try to take off calf wheel in a different direction just as a different line than the one you're in.

A grocery store line is just one of the many exciting experiences of grocery shopping. Standing up against people who have their own idea of what is, and is not, something that can only be compared to the many exciting experiences of grocery shopping. One of the more popular types of lines is the line standing by the door held by a group of people who are not actually in line. They are just standing in line and are assured of standing in line. These lines are long and can be compared to the many exciting experiences of grocery shopping. They are long.

This means you spend the prime hours of business getting to the checkout line while you stand along. There is very little action at the line.

This is the line to the front of the line. This is a vital part of grocery store standing in line. You must resent your head from left to right constantly scanning the area.

An example is a line standing at the doorway of lines. Probably the worst position of standing in line is the line at the front. You are the first to move and the line begins to resemble a line.

Dignity is later regained, and the line forms once again. After a series of lines the students finally make it into the gym only to find that a vast area makes up the next line at lines windows around its perimeter. Lines.

From these lines, students go on to lines for parking tickets and lines for health tickets. After all this excitement has been experienced, it has been reported that some students will room around town standing in line. They may stagger into a line for a quiet reason or they reach down and then with a deep look in their eyes, walk on.

Ah, standing in line is truly become a part of our American culture. Perhaps the time has come to change our national anthem to Johnny Cash's catchy tunes, "I walk the line."

For those lines that last remark was really just a pastime.

Housing law to affect apartments

Do you ever get the feeling that you're not wanted? You see friends, while many of us departed for sand, sun and home, the San Luis Obispo City Council decided to separate the city's housing law. The law outlines the rules for housing and anti-smoking measures. They say the local council needs to be aware of the ordinance. The City Council of the city is the law and not the ones who passed the law. And property owners who rent to students will be required to enforce the ordinance.

If the Council gives final approval to this ordinance next Tuesday, some students will no longer be able to share a place as a group. The property owners who rent to students will be required to enforce the ordinance. This means you now have the option to share a place as a group. The property owners who rent to students will be required to enforce the ordinance.

Spring enrollment experiences usual decline

Although registration dates were completed Friday evening, the results were not released until late Monday afternoon. According to Dave Yang, manager of Data Processing Services at the Computer Center, computer results for registration were in Friday evening but they were rerun for accuracy. Lowell St. Dunigan, director of Institutional Research said usually enrollment doesn't get the results until the first or second day of classes.

Total enrollment for Spring quarter was 14,951 according to Dunigan. Time Equivalent students (students carrying 15 units or more) equalled 13,656.

"This is the registration," Dunigan said, "there may be some handled or some more students from late registration and one hundred or so more FTE.

Figures for the average number of units taken were not available at this time.

Spikers drop match to Aztecs

A funny thing happened on the way to no almost a win for the Cal Poly volleyball team last Friday.

The Mustangs easily won the first two games before falling late in the third by a 5-4 margin and led in the third 14-13 on the score of a four point scoring spree.

At the point, however, things were totally over. The Mustangs dropped that game and the evening two by identical 15-13 scores, despite that with a 15-2, 15-12, 15-15 loss to Brighton Young earlier in the week and the Mustangs are now on a two match losing streak.

Poly's record is still a strong tie but the Mustangs are faced with a tough task at April as their aspirations for an NCAA Western Regional birth are concerned.

The match between the Mustangs and the professional Santa Barbara Spikers has been rescheduled for tonight at 7:30 in the Main Gym.

Poly's final six matches of the season will be against Stanford, U.C. Berkeley, Northridge and Loyola Marymount. None are easy marks by any standards. Coach Mike Wilson's squad will face Berkeley and Northridge twice.

After winning 11 matches in a row, the Mustangs had to lose two consecutive games but a college against San Diego State was quite disheartening to Wilson and company.

The light out of the gloom for Poly was the play of setter Great Kelly and the hitting of Lindsay Crow. In addition to a typically fine serve performance, Kelly played outstanding defense.

Friday the Mustangs will host Cal State Northridge in a key conference matchup. Saturday U.C. Berkeley comes to town for a non-conference duel. Both matches start at 7:30 p.m. in the Main Gym.

Poly 9th at NCAA meet

Highest point total ever is a 24 and a half at the big meet. Poly came away with much praise. Rumphson Gary 11, 12, and 10, State II became the 19th all American in Poly.

Heaton was second 11, 12, 10 and 9. While the Poly meet was in progress, the Sun Lakes Golf Course was being appraised. The Sun Lakes Golf Course was being appraised for the best course in the state. The course was well maintained and the golfers were outstanding while playing golf. The course was well maintained and the golfers were outstanding while playing golf.
