Skin suffers from sun

By LAURA CHRISTIAN
Daily Mail Writer

Skin suffers from sun exposure, Dr. Carol Hayes, Dermatologist, said Wednesday. "The sun's rays can cause skin cancer, so it's important to protect your skin.

Skin cancer is caused by overexposure to the sun's rays. The skin is the largest organ in the body, and it is the most vulnerable to damage from the sun.

Skin cancer can be prevented by using sunscreen, wearing protective clothing, and seeking shade when the sun is at its strongest.

Early detection is crucial for skin cancer, so it's important to inspect your skin regularly for any changes. If you notice any changes in your skin, such as a mole that changes in color or size, or a sore that doesn't heal, you should see a dermatologist.

Skin cancer can be treated with surgery, radiation, or chemotherapy, depending on the type and stage of the cancer. It's important to act quickly to ensure the best outcome for your health.

Skin cancer is preventable and treatable if caught early, so it's important to protect your skin and seek medical attention if you notice any changes.

EDITORIAL/OPINION

Cooperating for fairness in housing

Controversy surrounding the city's new housing policy has led to a great deal of discussion. While some people believe the policy is fair and reasonable, others have expressed strong opposition. The current policy is intended to promote fair housing practices in the city.

The policy aims to provide equal opportunities for all residents to live in safe and decent housing. It seeks to address the needs of low-income families and ensure that everyone has access to decent living conditions.

The policy includes several key components. It mandates that landlords must not discriminate against any individual based on race, religion, or any other protected classification. It also requires that housing providers must comply with fair housing laws and regulations.

While there are some concerns about the policy, many believe it is a necessary step towards creating a more equitable housing environment. As such, it is important that all stakeholders work together to ensure the policy is implemented effectively.

Camps cater to kids

Desiring the seemingly endless array of summer activities for kids, Parents recently sought the service of a camp director to manage their kids. Parents were most enthusiastic about the idea of their children being involved in such activities.

"I'm sure we'll be able to find an experienced camp director," one parent commented. "I feel that this will be a great opportunity for our kids to learn and grow." Another parent added, "I think it's important that our kids have the chance to experience different activities and develop new skills.

However, some parents expressed concerns about the quality of the camp directors. They questioned whether the directors would be qualified and experienced enough to handle the responsibility.

"I'm not sure if we can trust these directors with our kids," one parent said. "I think it's important that they have the necessary qualifications and experience to ensure the safety and well-being of our children.

Letters to the Editor:

Dear Mustang Daily,

I recently attended a conference on climate change, and I was struck by the urgency of the issue. The need for immediate action to address climate change cannot be overstated.

Global temperatures are rising at an alarming rate, and this has significant implications for our planet. The effects of climate change are already being felt around the world, with rising sea levels, more frequent and intense weather events, and other environmental issues.

It is crucial that we take action now to mitigate the effects of climate change. This includes reducing greenhouse gas emissions, investing in renewable energy sources, and promoting sustainable practices.

We must work together to address this global challenge and ensure a better future for generations to come.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Budget appeals allowed

All ASI-funded clubs are eligible to appeal through a budget appeals committee. The committee did not say if it will appeal the budget allocations they received from Finance Committee. All clubs that would like to appeal must attend the budget appeals meeting on Wednesday, April 26, at 2 p.m. in the ASI office, said Larry Robbino, ASI Business Manager. The Finance Committee will only vote to appeal a club in its budget.

Robbino asked all clubs to first contact the ASI office. That way we can tell you when the appeals will come up as school has to wait all night, he said. Robbino said he expects part of the appeal to be, "the Student Senate does not know as much about the budget as the Finance Committee," he said. "The Senate may be an easier mark from which to get money."
Pablo Cruise to come

The good ship, Pablo Cruise is coming to Cal Poly.

The four-man Bay Area group, popular for its tight musicianship and strong melodies, will sail into the Main Gym Friday, May 5 at 8 p.m.

For Pablo Cruise, the third time was the charm. "Go, Rico!" the band's third LP., produced two hit singles, I "Peaches In The Rain" and " Hanson Donna Dwyer.

The album also went gold. Due to the success of the third album, the band's first two albums, "Pablo Cruise" and "Live," have made re-entries on the chart. Tickets are $5.00 in advance, $6.00 at the door and can be purchased at the University Union Box Office. No one under 18 will be admitted.

Excitable boy exposed

By STEVE THORN
Daily Research Editor

Rolling Stone called its latest Record "One of the best albums of the year." If you haven't gotten it yet, hurry. There is a right on target, Warren Zevon has a winner.

"Short People" was the obvious one, but finally thirty-year-old Zevon, who for the past year and a half has been the in-demand session musician, is releasing his own album, in London, a single which has been touring the national passways.

Zevon's background is a very colorful one. Born in Chicago, Zevon moved to California at an early age, losing the hope of a college education becoming the new Americana (and he'd) window when he discovered punk rock. "Zevon took out the rock 'n' roll on the road" and the song is a tribute to a fellow artist.

The style is encouraging. Zevon's songs, as well as his music, are geared towards the audience. Zevon's style is a mix of rock and roll, with a touch of country and western added to it. His songs are recorded on a budget, but they still sound good, and make Zevon a cult favorite.

Two years later, Zevon's second album "Excitable Boy," was released. This album is a departure from the earlier style, and a more deliberate bloom to the listener. The sound quality is improved, and Zevon's voice is more subtle. The album was received with a lot of critical acclaim, and Zevon's name became synonymous with the new Americana style.

As in the past, the jacket of the new album无tion includes a new artwork, which was created by the artist himself. The artwork is a reflection of the music, and reflects the themes of the songs. The album was released in 1978, and was a huge success. Zevon's name became synonymous with the new Americana style, and he became one of the most popular artists of the 1970s.

Poly splits with UCSB

BY ANN PRATT
Daily Sports Writer

The Mustangs went on a big-time losing streak with a doubleheader defeat at the hands of the Gauchos on Saturday. The closer loss, however, as the Poly bats were unable to fault a walk-off hit, was by the Gauchos, 9-4, to win the doubleheader.

Center fielder Jim Perry (.385) scored all three of Poly's four runs in game one when he slugged a moon-shot double to center field in the first inning. Then bunted a payers hit over the left field fence in the third.

Second baseman Mike Bliss (.303), led the Mustangs in the second game, driving in three runs with a triple out of the bullpen in the third inning, with a triple on for Poly's lone two runs.

For his home run to beat them, the Mustangs had a 4-3 lead over the Gauchos in game one, and left it there. The Gauchos, with a lead down the stretch, took the win by the final score of 5-3.

Dave Klingman, who took home almost $1.4 million as a player, and will be signed with the Chicago Cubs in batting, started. Oscar Gamble, who'll be collecting paychecks from the Dodgers until he leaves, is deferred payments on his $2 million contract.

Gilde, who cracked the $2 million contract barrier, is in a two with California, batting .277 with five homers and 11 RBIs in 15 games.

Meanwhile, the deals with Texas, has been a disappointment. The 28-year-old closer for the Rangers batting .286 with five home runs and eight RBIs in 15 games.
