Graphics department tests new press

The new Heidelberg press was initiated Oct. 22 in Cal Poly's graphic communications department. After the presentation, senior GRC major Tom Freed and department technician Lee Brown demonstrated how the station wagon size machine works, by printing several posters for members of the audience. "There is special significance beyond the mere presence of this piece of equipment," Freed said, referring to the new press. "Heidelberg technology indicates that the print media is alive and well." The new four-color computerized printing press donated to Cal Poly by Heidelberg West was dedicated to the department on Oct. 22 by Dr. Harvey Levensen, department head, and by Herbert Roper, president of Heidelberg West.

"The Heidelberg press is the largest single gift ever received by the graphic communications department," said Levensen. "Heidelberg has contributed much to the growth and development and vitality of the printing industry, and today Cal Poly is the recipient of such quality." The graphic communications (GRC) department head presented posters printed by the new press to several Heidelberg representatives, as about 50 GRC students, faculty and staff members applauded.

"Cal Poly is the foremost training institution in the printers' west of the Rocky Mountains, if not in the whole United States," said Heidelberg West's president.

Roper also announced to the GRC students that his company will begin sponsoring an annual two-week European study program next year, to be awarded to a Cal Poly graphics student. Explaining Heidelberg's donation of the $700,000 press to the department, Roper said, "We believe in education. Cal Poly is the only university in the nation to have received that kind of press from Heidelberg, emphasized Levensen.

On Thursday, Oct. 25 at 11 a.m. an informational meeting about the London Study Program will be held in the Cal Poly Theatre. Jon Ericson, dean of the School of Communication Arts and Humanities, explained that the curriculum of the program is aimed at providing general education courses for students. As a result, students who participate in the program will not fall behind in their required courses. They will be able to graduate as they planned. The program is sponsored by Cal Poly in cooperation with the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS). AIFS is a nationwide organization founded in 1964 to provide comprehensive overseas study and travel programs for students and teachers.

Students will be housed in the Kensington area, which is the cultural center of London. Within walking distance are the Royal Albert Hall, the Royal College of Art, the Victoria and Albert Museum, and many other London attractions.

"The students will live in old Georgian townhouses and there will be two to four in a room," said Ericson. "These townhouses were constructed in the late 18th century and they're like nothing you've dreamed of here.

Classes for the London Quarter will be located on the campus of the School of Continuing Education in Kensington Square. The square was built in the late 17th century and its different buildings are largely provincial — this program will not fall behind in their required courses. AIFS is a nationwide organization founded in 1964 to provide comprehensive overseas study and travel programs for students and teachers.

The estimated cost for the London Study Program, in addition to regular Cal Poly quarter fees, is $2,490. This price includes: air transportation from Los Angeles to London and return at $620; AIFS program fees at $179; and the optional British Life and Culture course and Tour of Britain at $475. A meal plan, which is part of the program fee, will be provided for students. It will include 10 meals (5 breakfasts and 5 lunches) per week, Monday through Friday. All meals will be prepared by the students' own responsibility.

Fall for another ceremony

Sometimes it seems like a college student’s life is full of pressures that won’t stop.
Passing that next history midterm, paying November’s rent, getting through the quarter...and getting that diploma in four, short years.
In order to graduate on time — in June — students sometimes have to overhaul their schedules, taking 17 or 18 units a quarter while also working part-time.
With a graduation ceremony held at the end of Fall Quarter, in addition to the June ceremony, many students would have a great burden lifted from their shoulders.
They tend take less units and spend more time getting a quality education knowing that they had another opportunity, other than June, to graduate.
Donald Coats, commencement coordinator, has recommended a Fall Graduation to President Baker, and the reactions were favorable.
Coats is now waiting for an endorsement from the Student Senate and the Academic Senate before going ahead with plans for a fall ceremony.
We encourage the two senators to endorse the proposal.
Some students have no problem getting through their department requirements in four years or getting a degree. But in many cases, it takes up to one, two, three or more extra quarters.
What a relief it would be to know that if one didn’t have all the necessary graduation requirements finished when June rolled around, there would be another chance.
Many of the students who take an extra quarter to graduate don’t come back in June because they lose interest or have jobs that they can’t leave.
Accroding to Coats, only 15 percent of the people who graduate in December go through graduation exercises in June.
Holding an additional graduation ceremony would also ease the crunch of space at the June ceremony.
Every student who graduates is no matter how long it takes them.
Coats said he expects up to 425 students will want to participate in a fall ceremony.
Education Secretary T.H. Bell recently criticized colleges for having low standards of education requirements, which is evident in the low scores of many college graduates' Graduate Record Examination.
Bell suggested that all undergraduates, no matter what their major or minor, take two full years of liberal arts courses, even if it takes more than four years for them to get their degree.
Perhaps the reason students are not scoring very high on their graduation exams is because they feel so pressured into graduating in four years, that they do not put the effort into their non-major classes.
It is reasonable to expect every student to have a broad background of knowledge, technical and creative majors alike.
But, it is unreasonable to expect students to become knowledgeable in two years worth of general education and master their professional skills in just four years.
We should not be penalized for taking longer to graduate.
And depriving that person from a graduation ceremony with his family and friends present is unfair.
Tonight the Student Senate will decide whether or not to have a fall commencement.
We hope they will think about: relieving the pressures of the students who can’t finish school in twelve quarters; the students who can’t come back for a June ceremony; and helping to ease the overcrowded June ceremony.
We hope the Student Senate endorses a Fall Commencement.

Stenner Glen employee lists crime prevention steps

I am writing in response to several articles in which you informed the public of the assaults that occurred at Stenner Glen. A casual glance at these articles would lead the reader to believe that Stenner Glen has a problem with this type of activity, but the contrary is true.
Stenner Glen is currently the largest off-campus student housing facility. The high concentration of college students proportional to the increase of likelihood of crime. We realize this and therefore provide an extensive security service which includes nightly lockup of the buildings and security guards which patrol the complex.
The articles in the Mustang Daily included all the horrifying facts of this violent and emotional crime, but your staff avoided a follow-up to see what has been done about these assaults.
In light of the incidents, several steps were taken to apprehend the assailant and deter any future assaults. They include:
1. Increased tenant awareness of the seriousness of the problem.
2. Sexual Assault workshop sponsored by Stenner Glen and the San Luis Obispo County Rape Crisis Center.
3. Extra hours the student staff volunteered to patrol and watch for suspicious characters.
4. Stenner Glen cooperated with the local police department to set up an extensive undercover operation.
5. Several of the student staff members assisted the police in apprehending a suspect in the case, at approximately 2 a.m.

As a member of the Stenner Glen editorial staff, I am writing in response to several articles that have appeared in Mustang Daily about crime prevention efforts at Stenner Glen.

Poly debate team wins awards
Students last eight rounds

By KAREN ELLICHMAN
Staff Writer

At its second forensics tournament of the year, the Cal Poly Debate Team won awards in San Diego and Sacramento. The winning round and final rounds on Oct. 20 and 21 said the assistant debate coach.

Deputy Dean of Students and science major Barb Wimpey and pol宜昌 was here. Weekend hard work second place in the junior division. The team showed difficulty in Krause. The two students dropped, to a team from Cal State Nor­ california in the quarter-finals and five-three record during preliminary rounds in Sacramento.

"I think most people don't they would take an award at a debate tournament after eight rounds of competition," said Stan Friedland and speech communication lecturer Bach." Wimpey is doing especially well.

"We're taking mainly novice and junior level teams to that competition," said Stan. "And we expect to have teams in semi-final and final rounds in both divisions, if they don't in fact win the tournament.

The competition was good at San Diego. With one team placing second and another clearing the preliminary rounds, there is no reason to believe that Cal Poly's performance is not indicative of how the team members will do in future rounds. That's two weeks in a row," he said, referring to the four-team award-winning performance last week in Sacramento.

Krause said the Debate Team will travel to the San Juan Diego Invitational tournament in Washington on Oct. 27 and 28.

"We're taking mainly novice and
junior level teams to that competiton," she said. "And we expect to have teams in semi-final and final rounds in both divisions, if they don't in fact win the tournament.

Story of a lonely protester, in search

He had been here for more than a month. He stood alone on a platform, a young man, wearing a harrowed protester from his crinkled script.

"There is no reason or logic for the protest," he went on. "Nuclear war is inevitable if the government continues to..." Stan Friedland kind of like this one. He was in a row," he said, referring to the small tents he had seen set up on the hill near the campus.

"I'm doing a speech again and again. What's a sign?" Stan thought.
The police officer was reading him a statement. He was confused, amazed.

"We have power in numbers. We were once a nation of pioneers.
and armament," Stan looked around at the empty park. He thought he should revise the speech a bit.

Six agree not to work on US contracts

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — Six past and present employees of National Semiconductor Corp. have agreed not to work on government contracts for three years in a settlement stemming from the company's admission of fraudulently testing military chips, the U.S. Defense Department says.

The Defense Logistics Agency, an oversight and procurement agency within the Defense Department, said the six individuals did not admit to any wrongdoing and none were charged with criminal violations.

The indictment stemmed from the inadequate testing of military chips from 1978 to 1981. The chips sold by National have been used in a wide range of aerospace and military equipment, from fighter planes to walkie-talkies to space shuttles.

On Monday, National said that it eliminated all government duties and postnatal care.

In March, National pleaded guilty to a 44-count indictment, including counts of mail fraud and making false statements to the government, and paid $1.75 million in penalties and fines.

For the job

in sciences

By ROSEMARY COSTANZO

Kohorst agreed with the view that early education may be a factor in so few women going into engineering. "By the time they get to college most women aren't exposed to as much mechanics as most men," she said.

"I have seen several women in the counseling center who have had difficulty after graduation. "Corporations are definitely looking for women," she said. "Employers are always looking for underrepresented groups."

"One of the most significant developments in higher education and research in the last 20 years has been the increasing participation of women. They have increased in terms of both absolute numbers and in comparison to the participation of men," the study said.

"Women now outnumber men on college campuses across the nation according to the latest Census Bureau study. Women accounted for 52 percent of all college students as of October of 1983, the study said.

The select few at Harvard University's all-male "finals clubs" means a lot of money and mystique are being spawned, as Harvard offensive linesman Kirk said Tuesday. The university believes that this inconsistency between full acceptance of women and the discrimination of the clubs.

If the nine all-male clubs do not agree to admit women undergraduates after a Nov. 6 meeting, Harvard may make a symbolic—but extremely significant—gesture by severing ties to them, essentially stating that they do not belong to the university community, Epps said.

Today, 200 of the school's 3,800 male undergraduates are members. Harvard has 2,679 female undergraduates.

Reagan protestors spray UCSB in night day-glo graffiti spree

GOLETA, Calif. (AP)—At least 40 splashes of bright orange graffiti, most lambasting President Reagan, were found on the campus of the University of California at Santa Barbara, and officials refused to believe students did it. Someone also sprayed an Isla Vista police patrol car Monday.

"Somebody should be held culpable for this, and I don't think students did it. That's my opinion. I just don't think students would do this to their own home," said Chris Ferdinandson, manager of building maintenance and grounds.

He said there were 43 to 44 separate graffiti that would cost about $5,000 to clean up. "This is about the worst I've seen since I've been here," Ferdinandson said.

Apparently anticipating an investigation, the culprits left no spray cans behind to be used as evidence. Found were such slogans as "Death to Reagan," "Republican Ethics Greed War-Bigotry," "Hey, Republicans, When the Bombs Go Off, You'll Blow Up Too" and "Consume, Consume."

"The administration is of course busy responding and cleaning up the mess," said vice chancellor Edward E. Birch. "I would like to believe that it's not the work of students, because the immaturity level that is associated with this type of activity is far below that that we feel is the level of the university student."

He added: "Hiding behind painted slogans in the dark of the night certainly doesn't reflect what we in the educational community would like to ascribe to." Birch said investigations have no leads in the case.

In an editorial, UCSB's Daily Nexus newspaper called the slogans "pseudo-leftist day-glo drivel" and commented: "It is much easier to go on a midnight graffiti spree than to stand up in the daylight, express an opinion and be responsible for it."

It too expressed hope that UCSB students weren't responsible for the defacings.

"We can only hope that it was the work of well-informed pre-adolescents," it said Tuesday.
WASHINGTON (AP) - A group of clergymen called on both presidential candidates today to denounce the Armageddon theory - the belief in a final battle between good and evil - as a perversion of Holy Scripture and a danger to the security of our Republic.

At a conference today, they said that President Reagan had, on at least nine occasions, expressed such a belief, which they said is held by fundamentalist Christian groups.

They said they had no evidence that Walter Mondale, Reagan's Democratic rival, believes in the New Testament prophecy of Armageddon.

Thomas Gumbleton, auxiliary Roman Catholic bishop of Detroit, told reporters he wanted Reagan to repudiate the belief by the "Christian right" that a nuclear war is inevitable and imminent - a view that he said "rules out the possibility of reconciliation that could lead to peace."

The press conference was sponsored by the National Institute, an ecumenical group that has been critical of Reagan Administration policies in Central America.

The institute said about 100 Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic leaders have signed the statement.

Sponsors circulated some 200,000 signatures in the past by Reagan which they said showed he seemed to accept the Armageddon view.

Last October, Thomas Dine, an executive of the National Public Affairs Committee, said that Reagan, in a telephone conversation, told him, "I turn back to your ancient prophets in the Old Testament and the signs foretelling Armageddon, and I find myself in the generation that's going to see that come true."

But last Sunday, during his debate with Mondale, Reagan was asked if he felt the country was heading for a nuclear Armageddon.

"I have never seriously warned and we said must plan according to Armageddon," he said.

Jerry Falwell, founder of Moral Majority, said he was a telephone conversation today that a belief in Armageddon would not affect the way people vote.

San Diego (AP) - The wife of Mayor Roger Hedgecock says she feels no shame over her husband's criminal indictment nor a civil suit seeking massive penalties for alleged campaign violations.

Cindy Hedgecock said in an interview with KOGO Radio that the months have been hard since the revelation of her husband's ties with the fallen J. David & Co. investment firm, his indictment.

San Diego (AP) - For years, Kristina Smith has camped out on Colorado Boulevard on New Year's Eve to get a good view of the Rose Parade. This year, she'll get a different perspective as the first black Rose Queen.

FRESNO (AP) - The United Farm Workers union picketed 20 Alpha Betas in San Francisco and California asking consumers to boycott the stores because of their ties to a Salinas lettuce producer.

The picketing that began Monday in Los Angeles, San Jose, Salinas and other areas was an extension of a boycott launched in February 1979 against the growing chain in Chicago and other American Stores.

Martinez charged that both store chains, owned by American Stores Co., failed to bargain in bad faith with the UFW.

Spokesmen for American Stores, Alpha Beta and Sav-On refused comment on the boycott Tuesday.

Martinez charged that the boycott campaign will be expanded to other store chains in Chicago and Philadelphia, Martinez said.

"I'm very excited. It's been an honor," said Martinez, who is a UFW delegate.

"They include swimming, cooking, hiking, reading and aerobics," she said. "I enjoy the morning hours."

"I just like to keep in shape and stay fit because it makes me feel better about myself and the skin I'm in." She graduated from John Muir High School in 1982, attended the University of California-Berkeley for a year, then transferred to UCLA. She hopes to transfer UCLA next year and pursue a career as a broadcast journalist.

As for boyfriend, "Yes, I do like having him around. I'm looking forward to it as much as I am," she said.

After the parade Jan. 1, Ms. Smith will attend the Rose Bowl game with the rest of her court.

Legislator wants 'Harry'

POTTS (AP) - A British Prince Henry should be christened "Harry," the name his parents love, but they won't be using it, the member of Commons seeking support for his suggestion.

The 6-week-old prince, third in line to the British throne behind Prince Charles and 2-year-old Prince William, was named Henry Charles Albert David by his parents, the queen and Diana. But Buckingham Palace has rejected the idea.

"Henry is a swashbuckling, dashing and robust name which is in the tinse with the 1980s," said lawmaker Henry Greenway.

"It's the name his parents have given him, but I have never seriously warned that he's heading for a nuclear Armageddon," he said.

But the church and the country will not be able to fight it off. The country may end in a battle between good and evil, and the more recent Fair Political Practices Commission action.

"There have been days when it has been horrible," she said.

But she said even if her husband of eight years loses his bid for re-election, there would be no regrets.

"It is worth it," she said. "I have a husband who loves his job, and he really likes what he's done for the city."

"I'm very excited. It's been an honor," said Martinez, who is a UFW delegate.

"They include swimming, cooking, hiking, reading and aerobics," she said. "I enjoy the morning hours."

JUDGES CAN'T PERFORM WEDDINGS IN PARK

Potts said he was frequently asked to marry visitors to the nation's capital, and didn't know if he could.

The state law, passed in 1967, says "any judge" can marry people in the park, but not in the park. The judge's session.

The earlier law, dating from 1951, said only state judges could perform marriages.

Floods drive many from homes

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Flooding following increased rains killed one person and drove dozens from their homes today in southern Louisiana, and Gov. Edwin Edwards activated the National Guard to help evacuations in the hardest-hit areas.

"Virtually everything in the city is flooded," said police Chief Steven L. Davie in New Iberia. "We have had over 100 calls from people in flooded areas asking for help.

"We've had at least 80 families waiting for the trucks," said Joseph Valenti, Civil Defense director for Iberia Parish. "We've had over five inches or rain in the past three hours," he said before dawn, "and it's still raining.

The heavy thunderstorms also prompted evacuations in Vermilion Parish towns of Erath and Abbeville.

One person was reported killed in St. Martin Parish when a car was swept off a road by rushing waters. Two others, trapped in the car, were rescued by a fire department snorkle. Identities of the victims were not immediately released.

Valenti said New Iberia police, sheriff's deputies and Civil Defense personnel put dump trucks to work helping to evacuate people.

Ceremony marks bombing anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Children prayed for peace and an end to terrorism Tuesday, a year after the bombing of the U.S. Marine barracks in Lebanon killed 241 American servicemen. The somber ceremony at Arlington National Cemetery was attended by 241 American servicemen.

The ceremony, at Arlington National Cemetery, was one of a number of remembrances around the nation of the attack last Oct. 23 which caused the highest death toll of U.S. servicemen from a single incident since World War II.

About 500 people, including Barbara Bush, wife of Vice President George Bush, attended the ceremony sponsored by No Greater Love, a non-profit organization founded 13 years ago to help the families of American prisoners of war in Vietnam.

The program was highlighted by the dedication of a tree, a 14-foot-high Cedar of Lebanon, which had been planted last May in a section of the cemetery where a number of the Beirut dead are buried.

The ceremony ended, dozens of children dressed in costumes of peoples around the world, passed by the tree with roses symbolizing their hope for unity and an end to terrorism.

John Knipple, whose son, James, was one of the Marines killed in the Beirut attack, said the day was a commemoration of all the victims of terrorism around the world.

"Their passing leaves a void which neither time nor praise can fill," he said. "The magnitude of the tragedy in Beirut stunned and shocked a world already becoming immune to single acts of terror.

Carol Schak of Hillshboro, N.J., mother of another victim, Jim Langen, said, "It's really unbelievable. It's just like attending his funeral all over again.

Poly loses to UCLA, beats Northridge

The Cal Poly women's soccer team suffered its first loss of the year this weekend in Los Angeles Saturday at the hands of UCLA, but came back to beat Northridge Sunday, 1-0.

The Mustangs were 3-0 going into the weekend, but after two weeks off without a game, said head coach Scott Steinmetz, "we weren't able to work our offense into our UCLA's defense."

Lisa Best scored Poly's only goal in the 4th loss.

Poly came back on Sunday and beat Cal State Northridge 1-0 with Jennifer Drum scoring the only goal. Despite walking away from the weekend 1-1, Steinmetz said it wasn't one of the team's strong weekends.

The team was down coming off the loss, he said. Adding the team should have beaten Northridge by a larger margin.

Cal Poly's next home game on Nov. 10 will be against UCLA and Steinmetz said "when UCLA comes to see us, I don't think we will have any trouble outscoring them."

Poly drops down to No. 3

Even though the women's volleyball came away victors in two matches last weekend, one loss the women suffered cost them their No. 1 position in the national volleyball poll.

The loss against 15th-ranked BYU in Utah on Saturday brought the Mustangs down in both the Tachikara Coaches poll, where they are now ranked 6th and the NCAA poll, where they went from No. 1 to No. 3 this week.

The team will play in the UCSB Tournament this weekend against unranked Santa Barbara and Loyola Marymount and 7th-ranked Nebraska. The next home game will be against Fresno State, Oct. 30.

Halloween run with costumes held next week

A Halloween Costume five kilometer fun run will be held Oct. 30 on the Cal Poly campus. The Fun Run will be a twilight run, starting at 5:15 p.m. in the University Union Plaza and going up to the Swine Unit.

The run is being sponsored by the Cal Poly Recreation Sports and runners are encouraged to wear costumes—prizes will be awarded for the best in both men's and women's divisions, along with a prize drawing at the end of the race.

A special centipede division is another new attraction in this event. A qualified centipede must include at least four members who are connected in some way, plus a head and a tail.

The Fun Run will be on campus along Perimeter Rd., traffic may be slowed down between 5:15 and 5:45. Runners will continue along perimeter Rd. to the Agriculture Engineering Building where they'll turn right towards the Swine Unit. Recreation sports said runners should be prepared to slowdown and watch for runners.

Free custom designed T-shirts will be given to every entry and a post-race party will be held at Ocean Street Subs with Halloween Discount prices.

DeBartolo might purchase Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Edward DeBartolo Jr., owner of football's San Francisco 49ers, says that he is now "50 to 70 percent interested" in buying baseball's San Francisco Giants.

DeBartolo, in New Orleans for an National Football League meeting, talked of his interest in the Giants in interviews with reporters from the San Francisco Examiner and San Jose Mercury News.

"I'm thinking down the line with cable television. With pay sports, if you control two major franchises in this area .. you can make it work," he said.

Bob Lucier, owner of the Giants, put the National League club up for sale recently. DeBartolo said a first that he was only mildly interested in buying the team.
