Foundation bails out athletic scholarships

By KEVIN H. FOX

Staff Writer

A $90,000 advance to the athletics scholarship program was uncovered yesterday when KIM MILLER, 109, a student at the University of California, Los Angeles, was arrested. According to Tucker, in his letter to the Foundation Board of Directors, "This is a serious problem, and we need to address it immediately." Tucker said that the problem was discovered when a student was charged with assault after an altercation with a Campus Police officer.

Asbestos problems in Poly dorms being taken care of by Donald Munro

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.

Poly students angrily caution about basic telephone charges

By LISA MCKINNON

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.

The advance, which was re¬ ceived through President Warren J. Baker, will be used to repay an advance the foundation gave to athletes in 1983 and to fund scholarship commitments through the end of this year.

Lori DeMatteis, student on the hospitality management program from Associated Students Inc. President Steve Cogswell, who was one of the three students involved in the decision making process, said, "We are very concerned about the situation, but we need to address it immediately." Tucker said that the problem was discovered when a student was charged with assault after an altercation with a Campus Police officer.

Asbestos problems in Poly dorms being taken care of by Donald Munro

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.

Poly students angrily caution about basic telephone charges

By LISA MCKINNON

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.

The advance, which was re¬ ceived through President Warren J. Baker, will be used to repay an advance the foundation gave to athletes in 1983 and to fund scholarship commitments through the end of this year.

Lori DeMatteis, student on the hospitality management program from Associated Students Inc. President Steve Cogswell, who was one of the three students involved in the decision making process, said, "We are very concerned about the situation, but we need to address it immediately." Tucker said that the problem was discovered when a student was charged with assault after an altercation with a Campus Police officer.

Asbestos problems in Poly dorms being taken care of by Donald Munro

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.

Poly students angrily caution about basic telephone charges

By LISA MCKINNON

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.

The advance, which was re¬ ceived through President Warren J. Baker, will be used to repay an advance the foundation gave to athletes in 1983 and to fund scholarship commitments through the end of this year.

Lori DeMatteis, student on the hospitality management program from Associated Students Inc. President Steve Cogswell, who was one of the three students involved in the decision making process, said, "We are very concerned about the situation, but we need to address it immediately." Tucker said that the problem was discovered when a student was charged with assault after an altercation with a Campus Police officer.

Asbestos problems in Poly dorms being taken care of by Donald Munro

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.

Poly students angrily caution about basic telephone charges

By LISA MCKINNON

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.

The advance, which was re¬ ceived through President Warren J. Baker, will be used to repay an advance the foundation gave to athletes in 1983 and to fund scholarship commitments through the end of this year.

Lori DeMatteis, student on the hospitality management program from Associated Students Inc. President Steve Cogswell, who was one of the three students involved in the decision making process, said, "We are very concerned about the situation, but we need to address it immediately." Tucker said that the problem was discovered when a student was charged with assault after an altercation with a Campus Police officer.

Asbestos problems in Poly dorms being taken care of by Donald Munro

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.

Poly students angrily caution about basic telephone charges

By LISA MCKINNON

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.

The advance, which was re¬ ceived through President Warren J. Baker, will be used to repay an advance the foundation gave to athletes in 1983 and to fund scholarship commitments through the end of this year.

Lori DeMatteis, student on the hospitality management program from Associated Students Inc. President Steve Cogswell, who was one of the three students involved in the decision making process, said, "We are very concerned about the situation, but we need to address it immediately." Tucker said that the problem was discovered when a student was charged with assault after an altercation with a Campus Police officer.

Asbestos problems in Poly dorms being taken care of by Donald Munro

Two Cal Poly students waiting for a $10 refund from Pacific Bell for services they never asked for have installed and wound up paying with their own money for any additional charges. Tucker, an ASI assistant manager of the Pacific Bell office, said he would be notified if any further charges were added to their bills.
View From the Hill

Republicans party all night for Reagan’s win

“First you have to go straight, then you just stay to the right and you will see our short-haired Republican in a dark grey suit, Figure 1,” I said, as I wound my way through the crowd to the grand ballroom at the Shoreham Hotel. It was election night in Washington, D.C. and I had winded my way into the Republican victory celebration. Working for a liberal democratic, I had no chance of getting a much coveted interview. But I had learned that one must be assertive.

I had great intentions of showing up at both the Republican and Democratic parties, just to see what they were like. But regrettably, I never made it to the Capitol Hilton. I had a feeling that a lot of people never made it to the Democratic victory party.

My two friends and I had dressed up like Republicans that night, wearing our best dresses, belts not too high, necklines not too low, and makeup not over done. We walked into the hotel lobby and there, as if the daughters of diplomats. We bypassed the end of the bar and worked our way through a crowd who were peppered with people who had no invitations. They had pink invitations.

In Washington, D.C. and I had wound my way through the crowd, as if the fourth wall had a better hearing, “American’s back”.

Reader says homosexuality is sinful and is right.

“First you have to go straight, then you just stay to the right and you will see our short-haired Republican in a dark grey suit, Figure 1,” I said, as I wound my way through the crowd to the grand ballroom at the Shoreham Hotel. It was election night in Washington, D.C. and I had winded my way into the Republican victory celebration. Working for a liberal democratic, I had no chance of getting a much coveted interview. But I had learned that one must be assertive.

I had great intentions of showing up at both the Republican and Democratic parties, just to see what they were like. But regrettably, I never made it to the Capitol Hilton. I had a feeling that a lot of people never made it to the Democratic victory party.

My two friends and I had dressed up like Republicans that night, wearing our best dresses, belts not too high, necklines not too low, and makeup not over done. We walked into the hotel lobby and there, as if the daughters of diplomats. We bypassed the end of the bar and worked our way through a crowd who were peppered with people who had no invitations. They had pink invitations.

In Washington, D.C. and I had wound my way through the crowd, as if the fourth wall had a better hearing, “American’s back”.

Editor

The letter to the editor urging people to recognize alternative gay lifestyles has prompted me to comment on it. The way the writer was misinformed about what the Bible and Christianity says about homosexuality.

First let me say that nobody is born gay anymore than a person is born to walk on all fours. People are born with is sin — that tendency to go against the will of God and do what is contrary to what He wants us to do. We are all born with sin. There is only one cure for it, the sin offering of Jesus Christ. The sin in our lives can take on many forms of which we are unaware. Read the first chapter of the book of Genesis and you will see that although they knew God, they neither glorified him as God nor gave thanks to him, but their thinking became futile and their foolish hearts were darkened. Therefore God gave them over in the exercise of their hearts to sexual impurity for the degrading of their bodies with one another. They exchanged the truth of God for a lie. Because of this, God gave them over to shameful unnatural ones. In the same way the unconfessing natural relations with women who are women, men commit infidelity just for one another. Men committed in- deed acts with other men, and received in themselves the due penalty for their perversion. Although they knew God’s righteous decree that those who do such things deserve death, they not only continue to do the same but even approve of those who practice them. As you can see people are not born gay, they are born stubborn and foolish. God just says, “You want it, OK you can have it.” But it is not right and it is not natural!

I don’t know how sound too hard because I know that this sin is no different than any other Homosexuality. It cannot be accepted into the Christian church. But homosexuals can, when they acknowledge the truth of God and accept that His ways are right and the sin in our lives is wrong — all of the sin, not just sexual.

Believe me, I am not condemning homosexuals or anyone else dealing with sin. Because you see, for fourteen of my twenty-five years I have struggled with homosexuality and relationships. After dealing with it through my teens I was married when I was nineteen. Thinking I would problem would go away. I never tried to justify the feelings I knew I were not right. Even after reading what the Bible said, common sense told me that man was created for woman, and woman for man and nature to create homosexual sin.

With just barely believing in God, I was about as far from the capitol building and relationships. After dealing with it as a Christian, in five years I have struggled with it. But though they knew God's will, I was married when I was nineteen. Thinking I would problem would go away. I never tried to justify the feelings I knew I were not right. Even after reading what the Bible said, common sense told me that man was created for woman, and woman for man and nature to create homosexual sin.

I went wild. I just shook my head. I found my way to the basketball, cabins, and read the typical propaganda. All I needed was to learn about American President on his victory. He is the most conservative native of America. An elder woman was dressed like Republicans that night. Profiles 84. I didn’t want to sound too hard and I was born with is sin — that tendency to go against the will of God and do what is contrary to what He wants us to do. We are all born with sin. There is only one cure for it, the sin offering of Jesus Christ. The sin in our lives can take on many forms of which we are unaware. Read the first chapter of the book of Genesis and you will see that although they knew God, they neither glorified him as God nor gave thanks to him, but their thinking became futile and their foolish hearts were darkened. Therefore God gave them over in the exercise of their hearts to sexual impurity for the degrading of their bodies with one another. They exchanged the truth of God for a lie. Because of this, God gave them over to shameful unnatural ones. In the same way the unconfessing natural relations with women who are women, men commit infidelity just for one another. Men committed in- deed acts with other men, and received in themselves the due penalty for their perversion. Although they knew God’s righteous decree that those who do such things deserve death, they not only continue to do the same but even approve of those who practice them. As you can see people are not born gay, they are born stubborn and foolish. God just says, “You want it, OK you can have it.” But it is not right and it is not natural!

I don’t know how sound too hard because I know that this sin is no different than any other Homosexuality. It cannot be accepted into the Christian church. But homosexuals can, when they acknowledge the truth of God and accept that His ways are right and the sin in our lives is wrong — all of the sin, not just sexual.

Believe me, I am not condemning homosexuals or anyone else dealing with sin. Because you see, for fourteen of my twenty-five years I have struggled with homosexuality and relationships. After dealing with it through my teens I was married when I was nineteen. Thinking I would problem would go away. I never tried to justify the feelings I knew I were not right. Even after reading what the Bible said, common sense told me that man was created for woman, and woman for man and nature to create homosexual sin.

With just barely believing in God, I was about as far from the capitol building and relationships. After dealing with it as a Christian, in five years I have struggled with it. But though they knew God's will, I was married when I was nineteen. Thinking I would problem would go away. I never tried to justify the feelings I knew I were not right. Even after reading what the Bible said, common sense told me that man was created for woman, and woman for man and nature to create homosexual sin.

I went wild. I just shook my head. I found my way to the basketball, cabins, and read the typical propaganda. All I needed was to learn about American President on his victory. He is the most conservative native of America. An elder woman was dressed like Republicans that night. Profiles 84. I didn’t want to sound too hard and
View of life beginning at conception is supported

Editor:
There may be more than one way to look at any issue, but there is only one correct way to look at the sanctity of human life. Sarah Weddler's philosophy on human life is unclear because she was unable to answer the question of when human life begins. To help her answer this question, let's look at a logical illustration that demonstrates my position that human life begins at conception.

On Oct. 10, 1983, the Chicago Tribune printed an article stating facts that support human life at conception. If an unborn twenty-four week old child is aborted and lives, and then is killed, it is considered murder—ask Dr. Raymond Showery—he spent fifteen years behind bars for committing such an act. Dr. William Waddill was accused of choking to death a twenty pound girl following a saline abortion, went through two long trials, but neither jury could reach a verdict if he actually committed the act. Dr. Kenneth Edelin who allegedly stalled in completing a hysterectomy abortion to make sure the baby was dead, was the first found guilty of manslaughter.

Today, our Supreme Court and people that support abortion have bound themselves with an inconsistent ideological philosophy that leaves them no room to support their claims. It is a tragic irony that physicians can be charged and convicted for murder in killing a baby outside the mother's womb just minutes after it is perfectly legal to kill the same life inside the mother's body.

"The Supreme Court's 1973 decision legalizing abortion rested on assumptions about scientific facts that may have been dubious even at the time. Since then, new medical technology and neonatal intensive care centers have made it possible for babies to survive after much shorter pregnancies than envisioned a decade ago. The inevitable result will be that more infants are going to survive abortion." If human life can survive this "ultimate complication" of abortion, life must begin where it all starts, at conception.

Although we have a right to choose our morals and religion, we do not have the right to abridge the freedom of others in our choice. If we are free to choose on abortion, we are denying mother persons their right to choose.

Glenn B. Hammill
Accounting

CORRECTION

The Friday, Nov. 9, Mustang Daily editorial incorrectly made reference to the Development Office. The intent was not to blame this department.

UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP
GRAND RE-OPENING SPECIAL

Come celebrate during McDonald's of San Luis Obispo Grand Re-Opening under new ownership. With it goes the promise that you can always be assured of quality food with the quickest and friendliest service possible...everytime. And what better time to test us than right now.

Offer good through November 18, 1984
Limit 5 Hamburgers or Cheeseburgers per visit

790 Foothill Blvd., San Luis Obispo
From the state...

Salvadoran rebels to debate politicians

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Top officials from El Salvador will meet face-to-face with rebel political leaders here Wednesday to debate the guerrillas' program for their nation's bloody civil war.

The rare debate, the first such confrontation since El Salvador President Jose Napoleon Duarte held his historic talks with rebel leaders in October, was being monitored by the Center for the Study of International Development, a Santa Barbara-based political research institute.

It will be conducted in English and broadcast live on National Public Radio starting at 10 a.m. PST from the studios of public television station KCET, which will carry a videotaped two-hour special on the debate at 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Center President Allen Weinstein said the meeting may also serve as a new round of talks involving participation by both sides and the Reagan administration.

Weinstein said the State Department granted visas to all rebel leaders who requested except Ruben Zamora of the Revolutionary Democratic Front, the FDR, the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front, an umbrella group which under the five major guerrilla organizations operate.

State Department spokesman Brian Carlson said Monday that little progress was reached "based on personal advocacy of violent acts." Zamora has made anti-American statements.

However, Zamora intends to join the debate via satellite. He has been charged with sporadic killings.

Weinstein said the FDR was the last guerrilla group to be invited to the meeting.

The information Miller is refusing to release is from FBI files for a private investigator and of embezzling $1,700 in FBN funds that were used to pay a confidential informant.

The information Miller is alleged to have sold to the private investigator was primarily from the state Department of Motor Vehicles and FBI investigations, the documents say.
By KIM MILLER

Campus

Carnegie Foundation interviewing for book

Purpose of college being researched at Poly

By LISA LONG

Extension courses available

Cal Poly Extended Education offers courses on weekends and evenings to accommodate students who cannot attend morning and afternoon classes.

The extended program offers credit and non-credit courses, said Assistant Director David Sorenson.

Adults are encouraged to enroll in the credit courses most frequently, said Sorenson. College students are not eligible for non-credit recreational and leisure courses, he said.

Health Center Q's & A's

Trench mouth, birth control discussed

The Cal Poly Health Center Peer Education Counselors welcome your questions related to sexual health and nutrition.

Q: What is trench mouth?
A: Trench mouth is a form of periodontal disease. It is a bacterial infection that is usually related to a combination of poor diet, lack of rest, poor dental hygiene and stress.

Q: What causes trench mouth?
A: The causes of trench mouth are not well understood. Some of the factors that may contribute to its development include poor nutrition, stress, and a lack of rest.

Q: What are the symptoms of trench mouth?
A: The symptoms of trench mouth include swollen gums, bad breath, and pain when eating or brushing your teeth.

Q: How is trench mouth treated?
A: Trench mouth is typically treated with antibiotics. Mouthwash and other oral hygiene products may also be prescribed.

Q: How can I prevent trench mouth?
A: To prevent trench mouth, you can improve your diet, get enough rest, and maintain good oral hygiene.

Q: Are there any other common forms of periodontal disease?
A: Yes, there are several other common forms of periodontal disease, including gingivitis and periodontitis.

Q: How can I learn more about periodontal disease?
A: You can learn more about periodontal disease by consulting with a dentist or by reading books and articles on the topic.

Heard will talk to President War­ren Baker, the Provost, and faculty members.

Irving Spitzberg, former General Secretary of the American Association for University Pro­fessors, spoke recently of low faculty morale. "There is a perception," he said, "that things are bad and getting worse." Whether or not Cal Poly is the exception or the norm is not a question that can be answered yet.

Sorenson said that some of Cal Poly's practices may become recommenda­tions for other colleges to adopt, for example the WOW (Week of Welcome) tradition.

Some schools say they are too big to do that, but Cal Poly is a relatively large campus and it seems to be successful here," he said.

Heard and his fellow researchers visit one or three colleges for two weeks each. "I do 35 interviews at each place. After the interviews are finished, Heard will return to Washington D.C. to prepare his report. The reports on each different school are about 80 pages long.

Students who would like to be part of the study may contact Heard at extension 2154. "All the faculty probably knows about the Carnegie Foundation. It is more difficult to meet students. They may be busy because they don't know who we are."
Beauty fulfilled

By KEVIN H. FOX

Joy and fulfillment is experienced not at the end of the trail but each step of the way—Lynn Wilson

Ten years ago, Lynn Wilson was confined to a wheelchair and told she may have less than a year to live. A victim of multiple sclerosis, she could not walk and her vision was failing. She could only dream of the beauty and majesty of the mountains her husband Jim would describe to her.

The doctors had done all they could, but Lynn was unwilling to accept this condition as her fate.

After years of personal determination and intense work, Lynn was able to finally see the mountains she had heard so much about.

Last summer she and husband Jim traveled, photographed and experienced the John Muir Trail.

Stretching from the Yosemite Valley to the base of Mount Whitney, the 220-mile trail represents a cross section of the Sierra Nevada mountain range.

Lynn had set several goals for herself when she was confined in that wheelchair and she has now fulfilled them all.

“What started out as a labor of love has mushroomed into a large project with new things developing daily,” said Jim Wilson.

“In addition to help meet Lynn’s goal of seeing the mountains, we wanted to put together a photographic essay of the John Muir Trail. It had never been done outside of a variety of trail guides in black and white,” he added.

The Wilson’s have put together a slide presentation of their three month trek into the diverse back country titled “Sierra’s Sunrise.”

The show combines the photographs by Jim Wilson and poetry by Lynn Wilson. It is backed by a variety of musical themes.

The pair took 2,200 pictures and have included 498 into the 48-minute program.

“We recently showed the program to the Chief Interpreter at Yosemite National Park and they offered to buy a copy from us,” said Jim. He noted that they will donate the rights of the program to the park, which will pay for the cost of duplicating the material.

The park will be showing the “photographic and poetic epic of the John Muir Trail” throughout the valley next season.

Jim Wilson said that the show has a purpose, but it is an understated one. “I’m not a preacher. I don’t want to start a religion,” he said. “But I want to make a point that man has this wonderful place to experience. But if we don’t take care of it, it won’t be around for our children or grandchildren.”

The photographs present a variety of looks at the wonder and power of nature. “I included a lot of wild flowers to show the beauty and fragility that nature represents. I also included shots of raging rivers to show the power and force that is also found in the beautiful country,” he said.

A book from the slide show is currently in the works, as are a set of posters, which will be available soon. The book will be out in May.

In a program accompanying the slide show, the Wilsons write, “Sierra’s Sunrise” is intended to give those who have experienced the wilderness an alternative of it; give those who have not, an incentive to experience the John Muir Trail; and give those who cannot, an opportunity to see that which is beyond their capabilities. It is also our intention to teach those who use the wilderness to use minimum impact techniques to lessen mankind’s influence on the natural processes of it.

We, as the intelligent ones, need to realize that we do not have the right to alter nature for our own convenience.”

For more information about the slide presentation, posters or book, call the Wilsons at 543-4345.
Fans emigrate to Elvin for fun times, not new songs

By MICHAEL STUMP

It was a dark and stormy night outside, but inside the Old Port Inn bar Thursday night, Elvin Bishop was just stormy.

His song "Sure Feels Good Feelin' Good again" started the evening out cheerfully, even though he arrived an hour late for his 7 p.m. show.

But the soaring music of Louis Ortega, a local folk guitarist, and a couple of cocktails were enough to keep the 100 some fans content until the main event.

Bishop's jazzy-up country style hit the downstairs bar like a rocketship caught in a time warp. No new tunes were introduced this night, but the fans did not mind. They wanted to see the man in the overalls and the frizzy hair, with that same sly grin. None of which has changed in years.

Old favorites like "Down By the Arkansas Line," with Jerry Hank dominating on a quite less than new marinated saxophone, continued to provoke enough excitement for some to do a little dance on the patio. Other songs such as "Don't Ya Lie to Me," and "Cadillac," combine a fiddle lead with the bass and rhythm guitar, which has a clear country sound, but sure ain't no Okie music.

Bishop's second appearance at the Old Port provided more than his country type music. After playing a regular as he called himself, "When you go to see Elvin Bishop, you don't go to listen to music, you go to have fun." After playing, "Stalin: Watermelons Off the Vine," which continues, "sweet and juicy like that girl of mine," Bishop walked down into the crowd with his guitar in his hand. With down-home congeniality he sat on one lady's lap, played a couple of notes and then proceeded to the bar. The bartender did not ask Bishop what he wanted, Bishop was handed a bottle of Budweiser, the usual.

On his way back to the stage Bishop was greeted by a lady with a flower. She was dressed in a feather boa and draping to her seat, but Bishop grabbed her hand and strutted his guitar, at the expense of her slight embarrassment. The last song was the classic, "Gone fishin'," with more instrumental blues as the finale.

Most likely it was an enjoyable, but short, evening for the people who are the regulars. According to his roadie, Bishop had been inspired by "real down to earth country and blues."}

NEED AN ELECTIVE COURSE FOR THE WINTER QUARTER?

CONSIDER THESE:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Code</th>
<th>Course Title</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ENV E 422 Environmental Radiation Surveillance (2)</td>
<td>Radiation sources, biological effects, protection. Sampling and analysis techniques. 2 lectures. Prerequisites: ENVE 325, PHYS 133, CHEM 122. Meets MW 1200-1300 in Room 12-203</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ENV E 428 Meteorology (3)</td>
<td>Weather instruments and meteorological phenomena. Relationships between air pollution and meteorology. 2 lectures, 1 laboratory. Prerequisites: PHYS 122 or PHYS 132*. Lecture: MW 1500-1600 Room 21-010 Laboratory: F 1900-2000 Room 21-019</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ENV E 324 Air Pollution (3) Schedule Code * 60270</td>
<td>Causes and effects of air pollution on the individual, the community and industry. Prerequisites: Junior Standing. Meets New General Education Requirements. Meets MWF 1600-1700</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*See University Catalog for complete description.
If you have questions contact Dr. R.M. Cota, Civil and Environmental Eng, Office (415-1)
AEROBIC BLAHS!

Jazzercise

- Dance Aerobically
- Total Body Workout
- No Contracts
- Drop in Anytime

Challenge

- Mon/Wed/Fri.
- 4:15 PM
- Old San Luis Jr. High Gym
- Expires 1/26/84

MIDWEEK SPECIAL:

Small cheeseburger, tossed green salad & fresh tortilla chips...$2.00

Every

4-7pm

DARK ROOM

1037 Monterey Street

Next to the Fremont Theater

543-6511

KELTY SLEEPING BAG BUY OUT

We have bought the remaining inventory of these models from Kelly's warehouse and are passing the savings on to you

SAVE FROM

$35 TO $57 OFF

AFTER SALE PRICES

LIMITED QUANTITIES SO GET IN EARLY!

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>MODEL</th>
<th>KELTY</th>
<th>FALL</th>
<th>STYLE</th>
<th>AFTER SALE</th>
<th>SALE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Montana</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>Dakota</td>
<td>Long Mummy</td>
<td>$115</td>
<td>79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laramie</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>Dakota</td>
<td>Long Feather</td>
<td>$128</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mirside</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>Quilted</td>
<td>Reg. Mummy</td>
<td>$156</td>
<td>108</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mira</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>Quilted</td>
<td>Long Mummy</td>
<td>$142</td>
<td>112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Big Horn</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>Quilted</td>
<td>Long Mummy</td>
<td>$179</td>
<td>124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nukka</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>Dakota</td>
<td>Long Mummy</td>
<td>$180</td>
<td>132</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* Temperature may vary due to use of user

KELTY TRAVEL PACKS

KELTY YANKEE CLIPPER

Features large outside pocket, smaller hidden pockets, 1130 cu. in. capacity

Reg. $170

114  99

KELTY CHINA CLIPPER

Features exterior stuff sack perfect for sleeping bags

Reg. $175

119  99

NIKE HIKING BOOTS

APPROACH

LAVA DOMINO

* Great leather and Cordura hiking boot with Oora-Tai

Sold in ’83 for $40.

2 PAIR FOR $40

Copeland's Sports

962 Monterey Street, SLO

543-3663

Hours:

Mon-Sat 9:30-5:30

Thurs. 9:30-9:30

Women lose to Santa Barbara

By JILL PERRY

Although volleyball coach Mike Wilton was speaking about Saturday night's volleyball match when he said, "There were a lot of ups and downs out there. That's what's exciting about this job, I guess," he could have been speaking about the entire four-game weekend.

Three wins and one loss during the weekend gave the 36th-ranked Mustangs a respectable 3-1 season record. If the spikers can continue their current recovery as they head into an ominously-succulenced pair of matches for Friday and Saturday, they may still have a chance at landing one of the top four positions heading into the playoffs.

The women are set to play two home games this weekend against Loyola Marymount, Friday and No. 2-ranked University of the Pacific, Saturday. Both games will be held at 9 p.m. and there is no cost to Cal Poly students with valid ASI cards.

Wilton and the team members are hoping to maintain their improved performance apparent in the three-game sweep against the University of Nevada at Las Vegas, when the spikers traveled to Las Vegas for the second win against the Rebels during the long Veteran's Day weekend, Monday, 15-13, 15-10 and 15-10.

Before Monday's game, Wilton had nearly given up all hope for a chance at a decent position before the playoffs. The spikers struggled through two wins and one loss.

Please see SPIKERS page 10
Kickers lose to UCLA for second time

Except for UCLA, the Cal Poly women’s soccer team has handled every team they have faced this year.

The Bruins had handed Cal Poly its only loss of the season before last week and last Saturday in Mustang Stadium the Mustangs got a chance to even the score. But just what head coach Scott Steinmetz a “real physical game,” Poly lost 2-0.

“It was a rough game,” he added. “They were a little more aggressive to the ball.” He said the Mustangs have “a lot of injured players. That kept hurting us. They had plenty of energy, kept the intensity up and we couldn’t keep up with them.”

With the loss the Cal Poly record dropped to 8-2. The Mustangs picked up a win for the win column after receiving a forfeit from Cal State Northridge. The two were scheduled to play Sunday, but Northridge decided not to play.

The Mustangs will begin postseason play this weekend with the state playoffs next weekend, tentatively scheduled for UC Riverside. Poly will probably face the Bruins again in the tournament, this weekend, and even though they have not been able to beat them, Steinmetz said Poly can “match their talent. Under different circumstances, Poly could have easily beat them.”

The Mustangs lost a close game against UCLA this weekend. The Cal Poly women’s soccer team will enter the state playoffs 8-2, losing twice to the Bruins.
SPIKERS
from page 8
against statistically inferior teams and Wilton was obviously dissatisfied with the team's performance, especially after the loss to 19th-ranked UCSB on Saturday,
8-15, 16-7, 11-15 and 11-16.
"I felt really frustrated because my team was self-destructing and I didn't know what to do. I couldn't believe what was happening out there. We lost all our confidence out there and needed to communicate better," he said.

Communication was the key, and as noted by outside hitter Ellen Bugalski, it was conspicuous by its absence in the matches against not only UCSB, but Irvine and Las Vegas, Thursday and Friday.

"I think we're having a problem communicating. We are not six people out there together. I think the loss was good for us, it teaches us a lesson. We just need to sit down and communicate," she said.

Although unranked in the national volleyball polls, UC Irvine was ranked fourth in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association's volleyball report behind Cal Poly, DOP and UCSB, and posed more of a threat to Cal Poly than was expected last Thursday.
It was close, 12-16, 16-3, 12-15 and 15-8, and the spikers' performance was definitely
"it was a flip-a-coin night. At some point in the game, Assistant coach Craig Cummings said the outcome was uncertain because of the Mustangs' inconsistent playning.

Then the team's performance improved for the match against UCLA. When the Mustangs won in four games, 14-16, 15-6, 16-1 and 16-14. "I think we were better than last night," Wilton said after the final game Friday night. "We had established some good dominance in the fourth game and we just continued getting too relaxed, instead of keeping it and taking it to them.
I think that's something we better start learning to do," he said.

Wilton is looking forward expec­ tively to the matches this weekend and is hoping to see the typically large and loyal volleyball fans in the gym. "This won't be a three­ day weekend so I expect to see a lot of people in the gym. We're gonna need everyone out there to support us. It's going to be a real barbaric battle," he said.

He noted that if the Mustangs win those two games and the last two games before the playoffs, against 17th-ranked Pepperdine and 4th-ranked Pepperdine, next Tuesday and Wednesday, he has no doubt in his mind that Poly could end the season high in the national polls.

"If we beat Pepperdine and UCLA next week there's no way we could be excluded from the top four at the end of the season," he said.

Carol Tschasar watches while her teammate hits the ball up against Santa Barbara. The Mustangs lost to Santa Barbara on Saturday, but won three of their four weekend games.

Claudia Hemmersbach dives for the ball. Mustangs stayed at No. 5 in the NCAA poll.

Mustang Daily Wednesday, November 14, 1984

OPEN HOUSE
SATURDAY NOV. 17

Free aerobics all day!!
Bring a friend... one day only!!

AEROBICS CLASS TIMES:
8:00, 9:15, 10:30, 12:00, 3:30, 4:45, 6:00

Come try out our NEW AEROBIC FLOOR!!!

Call now to reserve your space... 541-5180

3546 Higuera Street, SLO

Above:
Claudia Hemmersbach dives for the ball. Mustangs stayed at No. 5 in the NCAA poll.

Below:
Carol Tschasar watches while her teammate hits the ball up against Santa Barbara. The Mustangs lost to Santa Barbara on Saturday, but won three of their four weekend games.

SUNSET TEACHERS (R) PLUS THE WILDLIFE (R) ALWAYS $5 A CARLOAD SUNDAY SWAP MEET

VICTORINO'S PLAZA SALON STUDENT SPECIALS ALL STYLE CUTS $8.00 ALL PERMS $30.00 2040 PARKER ST. SLO 544-4400

Above:
Carol Tschasar watches while her teammate hits the ball up against Santa Barbara. The Mustangs lost to Santa Barbara on Saturday, but won three of their four weekend games.

Below:
Claudia Hemmersbach dives for the ball. Mustangs stayed at No. 5 in the NCAA poll.

SUNSET TEACHERS (R) PLUS THE WILDLIFE (R) ALWAYS $5 A CARLOAD SUNDAY SWAP MEET

VICTORINO'S PLAZA SALON STUDENT SPECIALS ALL STYLE CUTS $8.00 ALL PERMS $30.00 2040 PARKER ST. SLO 544-4400
Sports

Mad dogs keep down the Aggies

By ROSEMARY COSTANZO

The junior varsity football team did some Aggie Stompin’ this weekend.

The Mustangs were victorious in the first JV matchup between the University of California, Davis and Cal Poly Saturday afternoon in Mustang Stadium.

The Mustangs, quarterbacked by Chris Dunn and Adam Grosz beat the Davis Aggies 18 to 3, and while the freshmen Mustangs may lack in experience, they make up for it in personality.

The defense has been dubbed the ‘Mad dogs’ and their sack attack was led by Brett Kacura, who performed a somersault before entering the field each half.

Not only did the Maddogs keep Davis out of the endzone, they chalked up a few points themselves.

David Graves scored a touchdown on an interception and a blocked punt in the fourth quarter resulted in a safety for Cal Poly. Sinclair Miles also snagged a stray Davis ball.

A connection from Dunn to Mike Anderson brought the Mustangs to the five yard line late in the first half. The Mustangs couldn’t come up with a touchdown but Art Gonzales scored three with a field goal.

In the second half Mustang Ted Hitkokp carried the ball in for the only offensive touchdown of the game.

The varsity football team finishes up their season next week when they host Cal Lutheran.

Raiders problems increasing after loss to Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — When the Los Angeles Raiders’ renowned Monday night magic fails them, they better start worrying.

After their 17-14 setback against Seattle Seahawks, they have to be wondering today if they’re even going to make the National Football League playoffs this season — much less win another Super Bowl.

It just might not be the Raiders’ year, conceded quarterback Marc Wilson.