Newly elected city councilmembers sworn in

By Heidi Linkenbach

Newly elected councilmembers Peg Pinard and Jerry Reiss were installed in a brief ceremony Tuesday night before the City Council meeting. The ceremony also acknowledged outgoing councilmembers Glenn Deane Dovey and Vice Mayor Robert Griffin. Pinard and Reiss were elected early last month from a field of 10 candidates.

Dovey did not seek re-election. Dovey originally planned to run for mayor, but missed the filing date. "We are losing two strong individuals with strong personalities and philosophies," said Mayor Ron Dunin. Dovey added a special thanks to Dovey for hearing with him through heated and tense meetings. "Your love of your job and this community must not be forgotten." Dovey said. "I've enjoyed serving the city. I'm leaving with good feelings because I have good memories and I am happy with leaving my duties to the newly elected officers." Griffin was not present at the ceremony. Pinard and Reiss were presented with certificates of election, as was Dunin. "I will make a promise to you to do my best, but I'll ask for something in return - that you continue to give me the feedback that you gave me during the election race," said Pinard.

San Luis Obispo gains a melodic identity

A song of pride, a song of joy; 'Good Ol' SLO' is official

By Heidi Linkenbach

Lucille Janisse won a nine-year battle Tuesday night, when the City Council unanimously voted to make her song, "Good Ol' SLO," the city's official song. "In 1979, I presented the song to the council and they accepted it as a song of San Luis Obispo, but that was not sufficient," said Janisse. "In order to be meaningful, 'Good Ol' SLO' must be the official theme song of the city. When I have an idea that I think is a good one, I usually stick to it, I've been patient for a long time." Janisse began thinking of a song for San Luis Obispo because other cities have their own songs. "There are songs for other cities, like 'I Left My Heart in San Diego,'" said Janisse. "I wanted to capture San Luis Obispo from the streets of San Luis Obispo to capture the spirit of the town. Below, Bookworm in the city library.

Course to prepare Poly students for prelaw exams set for winter

By Donna Taylor

A surprising number of Cal Poly students plan to pursue a career in the legal field — up to 80 students take the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT) every year.

Law school upon graduation from Cal Poly interest several students from all majors, said John Culver, political science department head. "Our department has a prelaw concentration, but I encourage people interested in law to take a rounded mix of courses," said Culver. "Law schools assume that students have a familiarity with many areas, from sociology to how arguments are resolved. Business law and other legal-sounding courses are important, but Shakespeare is just as valuable." Mark Stewart, a Santa Barbara attorney and part-time Cal Poly business lecturer, will teach a six-week LSAT preparation course beginning Jan. 5 for $275 per student.

"I see two main reasons why Cal Poly students are interested in law," said Stewart. "One is that this campus has a lot of bright students who are looking for a unique challenge. The other is that they want to make a lot of money. The fee for the course is a small investment in a big future." The LSAT tests analytical abilities and reading comprehension in a four-hour, essay/objective format. Stewart said that a student's score will determine what law school he or she will be qualified for. The bar exam is not taken until after three years of law school, and passage of it is the "legal ticket" into a law profession.

Free Food

for the needy and homeless is our goal. Today is the second to last day of the KCPR/ Mustang Daily Canned Food Drive, held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the U.U. Plaza. The drive will benefit Grass Roots II, a non-profit organization which provides aid to the needy. Bring a can of food (preferably not garbanzo beans!), toys in good condition, or holiday decorations and baskets, and get a free KCPR bumper sticker and $1 off a KCPR T-shirt. The drive also donates a donation barrel at Woodstocks Pizza until Christmas.

A Day in the Life

On Thursday, Nov. 19, a Cal Poly photojournalism class hit the streets of San Luis Obispo to capture the spirit of the town. Below, Down Jackson caught some young scholars listening to the Bookworm in the city library.
The great melting pot is at the boiling point

'Hatred and bitterness can never cure the disease of fear; only love can do that.
Hatred paralyzes life; love releases it.
Hatred confuses life; love harmonizes it.
Hatred therapy; love illuminates it.'

-Martin Luther King, Jr.

D. R. King spoke these words more than 20 years ago. Our country has made revolutionary advances in science and technology since then.

But I'm sad to say we haven't made such long strides in the areas to which Dr. King dedicated his life.

Color has separated a large portion of our nation since pre-Civil War days. But through nonviolent protest, King rallied people to decrease the gap between races and dreamed of one day where everyone would be on an equal playing field.

He successfully led the fight against segregation through the Montgomery Bus Boycott and also obtained civil rights legislation after the March on Washington in 1963.

He was one of the most influential and inspirational leaders of American history, as well as a hero to millions. But he's not even listed as the eighth-string fullback, the girls didn't think I'd make any male friends — all the guys would be wound-up surf punks, jealous of my natural surfing ability and stunning good looks.

I knew I would work this way.

...But something funny happened.

I decided to pick the prettiest group of Californians and fit in. I got my long hair chopped, bought a bunch of bright clothes with straps, do and funny patterns, and wouldn't tell anyone what kind of car I drove. I even began using words like 'buff' (it means naked in Oregon), rad and bitchin'.

The problem is that I felt like an asshole. I wasn't any happier and I still wasn't smothered in some fabulous blonde babes.

It wasn't until I was expected to work for my grades!

I believe this holds true today.

Instead of tolerating an apathetic administration? I'm not really sure of what kind of future we will always exist in this world, but I also hope Americans will become concerned with the struggles of all people, instead of wondering why they are forced to deal with.

During his presidency, John F. Kennedy often spoke of the civil rights movement and its impact on everyone in this country. He said, "Those who do nothing to bridge the gap should not be offended because I am white."

I am embarrassed and angry when I hear racial slurs and derogatory remarks made by people who assume I won't be offended because I am white.

Letters to the editor

What's wrong?

Editor:

Does the United States have 360 bases in over 40 countries and more than a third of military personnel stationed abroad? What do they do? How are they used? Why aren't we doing more to bridge the gap instead of tolerating an apathetic administration?

I am not really sure of what kind of future we will always exist in this world, but I also hope Americans will become concerned with the struggles of all people, instead of wondering why they are forced to deal with.

But this is the very attitude that many exhibit when they think of a Californian. The state of California has a unique character and culture. It is a place where innovation and creativity flourish.

Damp weather, vandals cause delay in frost-fighting tests

BRENTHWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Scheduled outdoor testing of a genetically altered bacteria designed to combat frost was postponed Wednesday, two days after vandals dumped salt and ammonia on the targeted strawberry patch.

A spokesman for Advanced Genetic Sciences, the Oakland-based company conducting the tests, blamed both damp weather and the vandalism for the postponement. Trevor Suslow said the Frostban test would be rescheduled later.

The company had said previously that the experiment, the second in a series, would test the ability of the laboratory-created bacteria to keep the leaves of strawberry plants from freezing under cold and wet conditions.

Union angry at call for maids to do their work on all fours

BOSTON (AP) — Chambermaids at Boston’s luxurious Copley Plaza Hotel have been ordered to put aside their mops and start scrubbing floors by hand, angering union leaders who say washing floors on hands and knees is demeaning.

“A maid is a maid, and that’s just what she has to do,” said Alan Tremain, president of Hotels of Distinction, which operates the Copley Plaza for owner John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co.

He said the hotel maintains its reputation by being “a hands-on business, with a lot of attention to detail. The minute the bags are carried from the car, they are given to a bellboy in the lobby. The silver is polished when it’s put on the table.”

Authorities seeking identities of suspected Asian terrorists

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — Officials sought the identities Wednesday of an Asian couple who took poison rather than be questioned about a jetliner that may have been bombed. The woman revived for a time, but said nothing.

The man died of the poison concealed in the filters of cigarettes in a pack the woman carried. Both carried forged Japanese passports and were detained Tuesday at the Bahrain airport before boarding a flight to Rome.

They flew from Baghdad to Abu Dhabi on the South Korean jetliner, which disappeared Sunday near the Russian-Thai frontier with 115 people aboard. A search continued Wednesday for the Boeing 707, which South Korean officials believe was destroyed by a terrorist bomb.

SERRA CLOSER TO SAINTHOOD

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A church committee has decided Father Junipero Serra performed a miracle, moving the California missions founder a step closer to being declared a saint by the Catholic Church, it was reported.

The Vatican's Congregation for the Causes of Saints decided Tuesday that Sister Mary Boniface Dydra had been healed of the neurological disease lupus erythematosus after Serra intervened with God on her behalf, said Father Noel F. Moholy, Serra's chief backer in the United States, in an interview with the Los Angeles Times.

If Pope John Paul II accepts the congregation's decision, Serra will be beatified, the second step to being declared a saint.

In the first step, the Pope in 1985 declared Serra "venerable," a designation that means the church believes the 18th-century Franciscan lived "a life of heroic virtue."

To be elevated from beatified to canonized, a second miracle must be verified.

Francisco, "Chicago," "New York, New York," and I think that SLO should have one too," explained Janisse.

Mayor Ron Dunin received a letter from Congressman Leon Panetta in support of making the song the city's official tune.

"Except for the 2,000 to 3,000 people who have heard this song, most of the friendly people in this city don't know it exists," said Janisse. She is hoping citizens and civic organizations accept it and use it occasionally to foster civic pride and identity.

Councilman Allen Settle made the first motion to approve the song.

"Nine years is enough time for someone to wait for their song to be approved," he said. "Nobody else has approached us with another song to be considered."

Janisse has spent close to $1,000 for orchestral pieces and tapes, printing costs and arrangement of the music. However, no city money is to be made available for the song's performance, promotion, distribution or any other expense incurred by Janisse in connection with the song.

"My song is a song of love," she said. "Let it be sung with pride and joy."

CONDUCTED A SURVEY THAT PROJECTED 700 ENTRY-LEVEL POSITIONS BETWEEN SAN DIEGO AND SAN FRANCISCO FOR PEOPLE WITH A BACHELOR'S DEGREE IN SCIENCE AND A BACKGROUND IN BIOTECHNOLOGY.

"YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE A BIOCHEMISTRY MAJOR TO GET INTO THE PROGRAM," SAID JACOBSON. ANYBODY WITH A REASONABLE SCIENCE BACKGROUND CAN TAKE THE MINOR, HE SAID. CANO AND JACOBSON SAID THEY HOPE STUDENTS IN AGRICULTURE AND ENGINEERING WILL CONSIDER THE MINOR.

"ADVANCES IN AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS ARE MORE LIKELY TO COME FROM THIS FIELD THAN ANY OTHER," SAID JACOBSON.

T he minor requires 24 units. Core courses make up 14 to 15 of the units, with the remaining nine to 10 to be chosen by the student's major department.

Core courses are in biology, chemistry, and zoology. They emphasize molecular biology, tissue cultures, genetics, immunology, and immunology and serology. Courses also cover genes in micro-organisms, gene splicing, the manipulation of genes, and the extraction and molecular cloning of DNA.

Cano said the courses expose students to new genetic techniques. Developing the technique is the first step, he said, and the second step is making the tech...

"Kicking Cocaine Is The Hardest Thing I Didn't Have to Do Alone."

I thought cocaine was one of life's little rewards. Then, it became my life.

Whidt ever think a little line of coke would lead to a full-blown addiction? Not too many do. Especially the people who use it.

Our chemical dependency program has a special plan just for cocaine dependencies. We know that the reasons someone chooses cocaine—the invincible feelings of strength, power and brightness—are also the feelings that make it difficult to quit and get help.

Cocaine can easily go from recreational use to wreaking havoc with your life; finances, career, family, friends and health.

Questions about cocaine? Call us. We'll answer confidentially and carefully. Remember, kicking cocaine is something no one needs to do alone. We can help you or someone you know regain control of life.

"It is so important to maximize your LSAT score," he said. "The better your score, the higher rank of school you can get into, and the better your options in entering a career as an attorney."

Rhonda Harris is chairperson of the Undergraduate Law Association on campus, which supplies law school-bound students with information regarding the legal field. ULA also supplies the LSAT to interested students twice a year at Cal Poly.

"I think the club gives members a good idea of what they’re getting themselves into," said Harris, a political science senior. "The ULA is largely made up of political science and business majors."

She added that not all law school-intent students want an entire career as an attorney, and often become lobbyists or legislators. Personally, Harris has long aspired to be a member of the bar, and has narrowed her choices to the respective law schools of Santa Clara University, Hastings and UC Davis.

Senior agricultural management senior Sam Chuck is interested in corporate law involving agriculture industries.

"I saw a need for legal support for farmers, who traditionally think a handshake means everything, and are often taken advantage of on the business side of their work," he said. "I’m heavily active in politics, so I had no real strong need for political science classes."

Chuck plans to apply to 20 different law schools.

"Cornell, Northwestern and Georgetown are my preferences, but I thought I’d better apply to as many as possible," he said. "Cal Poly is not really the type of school that gears toward legal curriculum, but more toward preparing students for the working world right after graduation. Overall, though, I think Cal Poly has given me a broad-based education to tackle law school."

OPENING THIS WEEK!
Clean up your appearance with our variety of men's shirts, sweaters, and ties. We have a wide selection to choose from, so you're sure to find the perfect outfit. Don't miss out on this great opportunity to upgrade your wardrobe.
Our three-year and two-year scholarships won't make college easier.

Just easier to pay for.

Even if you didn’t start college on a scholarship, you could finish on one. Army ROTC Scholarships pay for full tuition and allowances for educational fees and textbooks. Along with up to $1,000 a year. Get all the facts.

For further information call Major Larry Stayton at 756-2769 or visit at Dexter Hall, Room 115.

merits in the field include a bacterium that makes strawberries resistant to frost, and a substance for use against Dutch elm disease in trees. And the Food and Drug Administration has just approved the use of TPA to dissolve blood clots in heart attack and stroke patients, said. But it is very expensive and not routinely used because it costs $4,000 per injection.

Certain uses of biotechnology are extremely controversial on moral and ethical grounds.

"Everything you've heard about diagnosing diseases has used the tools of biotechnology,'' said Jacobson.
