Two bills to direct student fees unanimously adopted by ASI

By Kathy Kenney

Two resolutions aimed at convincing the state to spend student fees on the university were adopted unanimously Wednesday night by the ASI Board of Directors.

The first resolution calls for the state legislature to allocate 100 percent of the student fee increase in fiscal year 1991-92 to the CSU system's budget. Resolution 91-03 was written to offset revenue from state student fees in fiscal year 1990-91 into the state General Fund.

John Grice, an ASI director for the School of Agriculture and sponsor of 91-03, said the main purpose of the resolution is to make sure all of the money from the student fee increase comes back to the CSU system and is not used to offset reductions to the state General Fund. He said even though the money from the fees is earmarked for the CSU budget, that does not mean the state is required to use it for that purpose.

According to the resolution, the state legislature in 1990-91 cut the CSU budget by more than $107 million. In July, the state required an increase in CSU student fee collections by $11.8 million and reduced state support by the same amount. The resolution says the loss of state support made the additional five percent increase in state university fees necessary.

Resolution 91-03 also calls for a couple months of lottery funds for their original purpose. Lottery funds in 1990-91, the resolution states, were redistributed to compensate for reductions in the General Fund budget. As a result, programming previously funded through state lottery

See ASI, page 8

Books, kit missing from library

Public Safety reports that thief used stolen card

By Alex Main

Seven books and part of a film kit are missing from the Cal Poly Robert E. Kennedy Library. Public Safety believes they were taken from the library last week after a student reported losing a stolen Cal Poly faculty staff family card.

The identity of the card owner is being withheld by Public Safety and the suspects have not been caught.

Seven books about psychedelic substances to make changes in their thinking were taken, each worth $20 to $50, and part of a film kit that may be worth as much as $100 were taken, said Sharon Anderson, billing and fines coordinator for the library.

Anderson said the card is owned by a former Cal Poly staff member and entitles her and her family to check out material. Not until a fine was issued was the card reported stolen. The card has been used by a couple in their early 20s since it was reported stolen. The first suspect is described as a thin, tall white man with dirty-blond hair and no facial hair or glasses. The second suspect is a short, heavy, white woman with long dark hair and bangs.

Anderson said that she contacted the owner of the card and that she said her son had lost the card along with his backpack some time ago. She claimed to know nothing about the missing material. The woman said to Anderson, "Will, we're black. Was the man who used the card black?"

Detective Mike Kennedy of Public Safety said Thursday that a couple matching the suspects were spotted once by a student off campus since police issued descriptions, but was unable to identify them.

"We're waiting for them to turn up again," Kennedy said. "They'll probably show up again."

"It's really important to report (if) your card (is) lost," said Jean Andreson, public relations director for the Cal Poly Robert E. Kennedy Library. Public Safety said Thursday that a couple matching the suspects was spotted once by a student off campus since police issued descriptions, but was unable to identify them.

"We're waiting for them to turn up again," Kennedy said. "They'll probably show up again."

"It's really important to report (if) your card (is) lost," said Jean

See THEFT, page 8

City council denies rezoning of two Orcutt Road sites

By David Holbrook

Two local developers failed Tuesday night to get their adjoining properties rezoned for industrial to residential use.

The council deadlocked in a 2-2 vote on the first applicant's appeal of the Planning Commission's action to deny rezoning for a proposed business on Orcutt Road. Vice Mayor Jerry Reiss cited a conflict of interest and did not take part in either of the council's decisions.

The council unanimously agreed, however, to send the commission's report back to staff for deliberation with the developer on a compromise use for the land. The appeal remains pending until the council comes to a majority decision. The property on the corner of Broad Street and Orcutt Road, designated Orcutt I by the commission, will retain its present zoning.

The second site, Orcutt II, also was denied rezoning by the Planning Commission. The City Council upheld the commission's action in a 3-1 vote.

The Planning Commission had considered both applicants' requests jointly and concluded that rezoning to a medium high density residential use was incompatible with the surrounding businesses in the area.

Fire Chief Michael Dolder said that several nearby businesses have sufficient amounts of petroleum and chemicals to endanger future residences on the Orcutt II site in the event of a fire or spill. The Orcutt I site would not be in danger, Dolder said.

Councilmember Peg Prinar said Dolder's concerns are legitimate, but since there is already a residential area on the other side of Orcutt Road, an emphasis should be made on preventing a major fire or spill at the source rather than blocking residential development.

Mayor Ronald Dumin sided with council members Penny Rappa and Bill Roselman to deny the appeal for Orcutt II. Dumin said there could be problems with a state law requiring businesses dealing with potentially harmful substances to make changes in their operations if no homes are built nearby.

Prinar voted to uphold both appeals. She said that existing residential zones are dwindling at the same time that a demand for housing is growing. The two sites on Orcutt Road, she said, See CITY COUNCIL, page 4
Mustang Daily

Opinion

Christine Kohn
Editor-in-Chief

Tara Murphy
Managing Editor

James Foster
Features Editor

Jennifer Smith
Sports Editor

Linda Cole
Business Manager

Cal Eustaquio
Photography

Leslie Morris
Sports Editor

Kim Stone
Arts and Life

Tavares
Sports Editor

Kevin Eustaquio
Art Director

Linda Cole
Business Manager

The newspaper for Cal Poly, since 1916.

U.S. must be sure not to allow a repeat of Vietnam in the Mideast

By M.B. Kennedy

Letters to the Editor

Kid’s museum thanks students

On behalf of the San Luis Obispo Children’s Museum, I would like to sincerely thank the college students of the San Luis Obispo community for their tremendous support through these first months of operations.

From the beginning, the Children’s Museum has been built on community effort, and these first months of operations.

Several organizations and individuals have donated a great deal of their free time to come and see the Museum.

Individuals, as well as volunteer groups from sororities, resident halls and student governments have contributed in excess of 500 hours.

These groups and individuals are to be recognized and appreciated. Your contributions have been a great source of support for the Museum and the students. Together as a community, family, friends and students we will continue to build an educational wonderland for children. Thank you!

Kim Stone
Museum Director

Travel agents do not cheat clients

We were disturbed when reading the article by Paul Fairman titled “Understanding airline jargon,” an inside look which appeared in the Oct. 18 issue.

We understand the desire on Mr. Fairman’s part to explain the meaning of “standby,” but the example he used concerning travel agent “free rides” and the statement that “travel agents issue tickets for flights not confirmed just to make a sale” is very negative and, in general, unfair.

Paul Fairman, being a travel agent, is promoting a negative view of his own profession. Why is he suggesting that a paying passenger might not be able to travel because they are “bumped”?

Approximately 2.5 percent out of 100,000 ticket holders are involuntarily bumped from their flights. This would never be due to a non-revenue (free ride) or a travel agent on a discount ticket.

Paul paying passengers always take first priority.

Understanding the “airline jargon” is not necessarily the important issue here. Choosing the right travel agent is experience, reputation and a willingness to help important factors in this choice.

Most travel agents are not in the business for the financial gains. Their rewards are seeing their clients’ “dreams come true.”

Linda Cole
Travel agencies

Cars must watch for pedestrians

After reading Alison Sherrill’s commentary on the pedestrian issue (Oct. 7) this pedestrian would love to respond.

My biggest pet peeve, Alison, happens to be the casual drivers like yourself who take the notion of “an unobstructed view” with their car because they perceive that the pedestrian is about to cross the street, ensuring the oncoming cars were at a fair, safe distance away, some driver decides this isn’t the case because there was enough space in his lane to go through, they would take the opportunity to harass or bump by. Hey, isn’t that illegal?

From what I understand, the pedestrian has to completely clear the intersection before vehicular traffic can proceed. And farms that used to be the Volkswagen branded on the backside of pedestrians. One night, I was proceeding across the road by the Administration building going to my dorm, and after looking both ways I saw a VW rabbit coming up over the hill. Just as I stepped into the crosswalk, the driver didn’t bother to stop, but I did because she was going nearly 35 mph. The driver wasn’t intent on “cutting me off” or “pushing for anything. Hence, I waited until the hurried “Volkswagen” went past “bank.”

Hey, don’t think I don’t know how you feel. There are some pedestrians out there who think they’re superman and give drivers a devil of a time. But Alison, you’re probably driving a vehicle that weighs nearly 2,500 pounds or more. The juggernaut still can kill at speeds as low as 25 miles per hour and probably even less. Simple physics dictate that even my 200 pound frame is in no match for such force.

So don’t even consider “nudging” a pedestrian with your car. As the old saying still applies, “you can’t drive your car like you wouldn’t be killed.”

Cal Eustaquio
Editor in Chief
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush, as expected, ordered a new round of troop deployments to the Persian Gulf. Pentagon sources put the deployment in the area of 190,000, a substantial addition to U.S. troop strength of 230,000 in the region. Allies from 26 countries have another 70,000 forces in the area.

Said Bush, "We're talking about significant numbers of new troops, and Defense Secretary Richard Cheney — who faced its citizens."

"I find it hard to believe that today, November 8, that he (Iraqi President Saddam Hussein) does not understand that he's up against a determined, unprecedented alliance to liberate Kuwait if Iraq doesn't pull out.

"I'm not the stampeded-out-of-town type," Bennett said, referring to the "dismantling of Kuwait" by Iraq's Aug. 2 invasion and subsequent "brutality" against its citizens. "I find it hard to believe that today, November 8, that he (Iraqi President Saddam Hussein) does not understand that he's up against a determined, unprecedented alliance to liberate Kuwait if Iraq doesn't pull out."

"When he surveys the force that's there ... he will recognize that he is up against just a foe that he can't possibly manage militarily," Bush said.

The Bush administration intends to ask the U.N. Security Council to authorize force to enforce the Aug. 20, 1988, blaze that started near Eagle Bar, about 17 miles south of Hells Canyon Dam.

Noting that no ban on campfires was in effect at the time, Williams ruled that Arnold was not aware of the substantial risk of wildfire during that drought-plagued summer. In addition, he said, the Forest Service's evidence did not prove Arnold had committed a criminally reckless or negligent act.

U.S. Magistrate Mikel Williams found Philip J. Arnold innocent in connection with the Aug. 20, 1988, blaze that started near Eagle Bar, about 17 miles south of Hells Canyon Dam.

Noting that no ban on campfires was in effect at the time, Williams ruled that Arnold was not aware of the substantial risk of wildfire during that drought-plagued summer. In addition, he said, the Forest Service's evidence did not prove Arnold had committed a criminally reckless or negligent act.

Health officials ban nutrition supplement

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State health officials have banned the sale of the nutritional supplement GHB, which has been linked to 22 illnesses ranging from nausea to seizures and coma.

GHB, also known as Gamma Hydroxybutyric Acid, is commonly substituted for L-tryptophan for strength training, body building and weight loss.

State Health Director Kenneth Kizer said state and federal officials are investigating the 22 illnesses linked to GHB, known to cause central nervous system disorders including seizures.

Nutrition supplements banned

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. health officials have banned the sale of the nutritional supplement GHB, which has been linked to 22 illnesses ranging from nausea to seizures and coma.

GHB, also known as Gamma Hydroxybutyric Acid, is commonly substituted for L-tryptophan for strength training, body building and weight loss.

State Health Director Kenneth Kizer said state and federal officials are investigating the 22 illnesses linked to GHB, known to cause central nervous system disorders including seizures.

Nutrition supplements banned

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. health officials have banned the sale of the nutritional supplement GHB, which has been linked to 22 illnesses ranging from nausea to seizures and coma.

GHB, also known as Gamma Hydroxybutyric Acid, is commonly substituted for L-tryptophan for strength training, body building and weight loss.

State Health Director Kenneth Kizer said state and federal officials are investigating the 22 illnesses linked to GHB, known to cause central nervous system disorders including seizures.
Soccer team wins final match, loses bid for post-season play

By Grant Landy

In the end, one simple call decided the future of the Cal Poly men's soccer team. One phone call.

On one end was Head Coach Wolfgang Gartner. On the other was Alan Exley, head of the Western Regional Playoff Committee. And watching, intensely, the entire Mustang team, who were so pumped after beating Division I UC Santa Barbara 1-0 Sunday night before 613 in Mustang Stadium.

Sadly, Sunday's emotional rollercoaster for the Mustangs ended inside of a bleak office room instead of jubilation on the field or with bottles of champagne. Just like that, Gartner put down the phone and the season was over.

"It was upsetting," Gartner said late Sunday night. "Their (the committee's) main concern was whether to take four teams out of the West region. I think they should have taken the best (teams)."

Seattle Pacific, Sonoma State and Cal State Bakersfield all received bids from the committee, who spent 1 1/2 hours deciding.

See SOCCER, page 8
Actions of Cal Poly students lead to two arrests by police

By Alex Main

Two separate incidents, both involving Cal Poly students, led to a pair of arrests Tuesday by campus police.

The first occurred around 1:30 a.m. when sophomore Nicholas Bingham tried to retrieve his bicycle near Mott Gym after it had been impounded by Public Safety. The bike was locked illegally to a pipe surrounding a gas meter and was therefore cuffed with a U-bolt lock by the campus police. Bingham was found trying to cut through the pipe with a hacksaw. Cal Poly of Baja Scott Pearl interrupted him and arrested him for vandalism. The bike is now impounded as evidence. "It costs $8 to retrieve an impounded bicycle," said Mike Kennedy, campus police investigator.

Kennedy said that the suspect mentioned something about spending more than $6 for the purchase of a hack saw and blade.

The second arrest was made after a Cal Poly student apprehended a suspect.

The incident occurred when ag- ricultural science senior Fatai Ekebute had his moped stolen from his home on Foxhill Boulevard Tuesday morning. Around 11 p.m. Ekebute recognized his moped being rid-den by the suspect near the Cheda Dairy by Highway 1. He promptly escorted the suspect, Bryant Dennis, to Public Safety where he accused Dennis of theft. Officer Kennedy then placed Dennis under arrest for the stolen vehicle. Kennedy said Dennis is a transient, and that he is being held at SLO County Jail on $1,500 bail.

NATION

From page 3

have ties to a tobacco industry research organization, documents show.

A seventh member of the panel was appointed upon the recom-mendation of the Philip Morris tobacco company, EPA officials said.

"They've stacked the deck with people who have close ties to the tobacco industry," said Dr. Alan Blum, one of the founders of the anti-smoking group Doctors Ought to Care.

"It's pathetic."

"We were concerned about the appearance of conflict of interest," said Donald Barnes, staff director of the EPA's scientific advisory board. But he said the link between the panel members and the tobacco organization "does not cause any question to be raised about their technical capabilities."

The panel's task is to review the scientific accuracy and ob-jectivity of two forthcoming EPA reports on the health ef-fects of passive smoking.

Six members are connected with the Center for Indoor Air Research of Linthicum, Md., ac-cording to the center's publications.

The center is financed by Philip Morris, R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. and Lorillard Corp., three of the largest tobacco companies in the nation. Its board of directors is made up of employees of those companies, said Pamela Phillips, an ad-ministrator at the center.

OUTDO YOURSELF

You've accomplished a lot to graduate. But you can't rest on your laurels. It's time to put your education to the test, to outdo yourself. At LSI Logic, we've got the projects, resources, and talent for you to do just that.

You see, while you've been in college we've been doing our own stuff too. We're the only company in the world to develop both RISC microprocessor and ASIC technology. And our products dominate the market. Not just at home, but around the world. In addition, we're major players in digital signal processing (DSP) chips, and our involvement in this area is growing every day.

To make certain that you're out-doing others in your field, you'll have the chance to confer with our design centers worldwide. So you'll know that you're on the cutting edge on an international scale. A whole new world of chal-lenge awaits you at LSI Logic. Shouldn't you be contacting us today?

• CAD/Design Automation Engineering
• CAM Engineering
• Circuit Design Engineering
• Logic Design Engineering
• Product Marketing Engineering
• Packaging Engineering
• Test Engineering
• Processing Engineering
• Product Engineering
• Training Sales Engineering
• Microprocessor Architecture/Logic Design/Application Engineering
• Compiler/Operating System Software Engineering

ON-CAMPUS INTERVIEWS
November 16

For immediate consideration, please send your resume to:
Cynthia Sakuma
College Relations Program Manager
LSI Logic Corporation
1551 McCarthy Blvd., M.S. A-162
Milpitas, CA 95035
(408) 453-4900

An Equal Opportunity Employer

ENGINEERS

DON'T:
• wear suits and ties
• show papers
• answer phones all day
• sit at a desk

DO:
• take charge
• work long hours
• assume heavy responsibility
• work outdoors
• make decisions
• face many challenges and risks
• perform data acquisitions and measurements of physical properties of subsurface formations
• interpret that information

ENJOY:
• working with a great deal of autonomy
• acting on an idea and risk carrying it to fruition
• taking pride in a job well done

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING
ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING
(and other engineering disciplines)

GEOSCIENCES
APPLIED SCIENCES

INFORMATION MEETING:
Date: November 14, 1990
Time: 4 p.m. - 6 p.m.
Place: Student Activity Center

INTERVIEWING:
Date: November 15, 1990
Place: Please check with Placement Office

PLEASE NOTE: You must attend the information meeting at the above place and time for an interview. Interviews cannot be scheduled.

Exceptional People
Exceptional Technology.
Worldwide.

SCHLUMBERGER FIELD
Recycle it

THE HAIR DEN

 Presents

 MANICURIST:

 Earlena and Rochell

 OPENING SPECIAL!

 Manicure and Pedicure for $25.00

 Acrylic Set for $35.00

 779 Foothill

 Lucky's Plaza

 THE CREST IS FEATURING

 LIVE ENTERTAINMENT

 "86"

 FRIDAY, NOV 9TH

 BACK SEAT RODEO

 SATURDAY, NOV 10TH

 (9:00 - 12:00)

 18 & OVER / ID'S A MUST

 CREST PIZZA

 179 N. Santa Rosa • 341-2205

 FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1990 Mustang Daily

 SOCCER

 From page 4

 If four teams from one region would be in the best interests of the playoffs, Gartner said. He said the committee chose the third best team in the Northeast region to fill in the last spot.

 "It's disappointing because we only lost to one Division II season this year," Gartner said, referring to Polyl's home loss to Bakersfield. "And most of our Division I matches were on the road.

 The Mustangs played 13 of its 22 regular season games on the road. Seven of their eight Division I matches were away from home. But Gartner doesn't plan to change his schedule that much in the future.

 "If I asked my players if they would rather play the best teams in the country or much weaker teams, they wouldn't want to change," he said. "And look, we play a Division I team at home and we win."

 Gartner hoped that a win over the Gauchos would secure a playoff spot. Tim Hire notched his eighth goal of the year eight minutes into the second half when he drove a shot past Gauchos goalkeeper Ryan Sparre from 20 yards out. Christo Correa broke down the left wing and crossed to Hire on top of the penalty box, and Hire first-timed it into the net.

 Mustang keeper Aaron Jones kept the Mustangs on top with some dazzling fingertip saves and with overall stellar play in the net. The physical match ended 1-0 and Gartner and his team felt good about their playoff chances.

 But it was not to be.

 "The phone call ended the Mustangs' season, and the college careers of seniors Hirc, Mark Mitchell and John Zielenksi."

 Zielenksi, the strong stopper who came to the Mustangs two years ago, saw his season end three weeks ago, when he injured his knee against Cal State Nor- thridge.

 "He (Zielenksi) was a force," Gartner said. "It was tough for him to end the season like he did."

 Mitchell, like Zielenksi, came to Poly two years ago and immediately found himself in the starting lineup. The senior notched two goals and three assists this year and impressed Gartner with his skill.

 "He is a very skillful player," Gartner said. "Mark was a great addition to this team."

 Hire, from Arroyo Grande, finished his career with one of his best seasons ever. The senior forward, along with Henderson, became one of the most dangerous strikers in the league, notching eight goals and eight assists for the Mustangs.

 "After the second half of the season, the team a striker, he was always a danger," Gartner said. "He always seems to work harder out there than Tim."

 Gartner now looks toward the future, which, in fact, looks very bright for his team. This year's emergence of skillful youth from freshmen Henderson, Rich Kucic, Chris Correa and Mike Black will complement the consistent experience of juniors Jim Murphy, Gays Privati, Dave Hatcher and new-comers Chris Fisher, Joe Kirczynski and Jeff Ostman. Jones and Eric Christensen, who started most of the year, will again be competing for the keeper spot.

 From page 1

 funds was eliminated.

 Other effects of budget reduc- tion listed in the resolutions are the reduction of university library hours, fewer classes being offered and overcrowding in classes.

 The second resolution, 91-04, calls for a media campaign to educate the public and alert the state legislature on the consequences of an underfunded educational system.

 Grice said he hopes 91-04 results in more people being educated about what is going on with state funding of higher education.

 Resolution 91-04 requests that CSU, University of California and community college campuses join together to create the statewide campaign in order to get as widespread coverage as possible to inform people about the concerns expressed in the resolutions.

 Also at the ASI Board meeting, an advocate for the Cal Poly Children's Center raised the possibility of a loan for the construction of a new center. Speaking during open forum, Shelly Thornton said the Children's Center was requesting a loan that may include funds from both ASI and the Cal Poly Foundation.

 "The building is really dilapidated," Thornton said. "It is basically a health hazard."

 She says there is concern that the fire marshal will not issue the center a new license when it comes up for renewal in the next two years.

 Shawn Reeves, ASI vice president of finance, said the Finance Committee will be looking into the possibility of the loan beginning this week.

 ASI

 From page 1

 funds was eliminated.

 Other effects of budget reduc- tion listed in the resolutions are the reduction of university library hours, fewer classes being offered and overcrowding in classes.

 The second resolution, 91-04, calls for a media campaign to educate the public and alert the state legislature on the consequences of an underfunded educational system.

 Grice said he hopes 91-04 results in more people being educated about what is going on with state funding of higher education.

 Resolution 91-04 requests that CSU, University of California and community college campuses join together to create the statewide campaign in order to get as widespread coverage as possible to inform people about the concerns expressed in the resolutions.

 Also at the ASI Board meeting, an advocate for the Cal Poly Children's Center raised the possibility of a loan for the construction of a new center. Speaking during open forum, Shelly Thornton said the Children's Center was requesting a loan that may include funds from both ASI and the Cal Poly Foundation.

 "The building is really dilapidated," Thornton said. "It is basically a health hazard."

 She says there is concern that the fire marshal will not issue the center a new license when it comes up for renewal in the next two years.

 Shawn Reeves, ASI vice president of finance, said the Finance Committee will be looking into the possibility of the loan beginning this week.

 THEFT

 From page 1

 Gordon, supervisor of circulations for the library. She also said that use of stolen cards isn't a common occurrence. She said that sometimes two people try to slip
 books past the security alarm system but that the biggest problem is people ripping pages out
 of magazines and books.

 Shop early

 for great gifts

 Beautiful books, calendars, and traditional gifts now on display

 El Corral Bookstore

 FREE GIFT WRAPPING

 31/2¢ Copies

 99¢ Color Copies

 99¢ Oversize Copies

 99¢ Color Copies and 99¢ Oversize Copies

 99¢ Color Copies and 99¢ Oversize Copies

 99¢ Color Copies and 99¢ Oversize Copies

 99¢ Color Copies and 99¢ Oversize Copies

 99¢ Color Copies and 99¢ Oversize Copies

 AGAPE CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP PRESENTS A NIGHT OF REFRESHING AND BLESSING WITH RECORDING ARTISTS

 • CHRISTY JANTZEN •

 She has shared her energetic music and message across the U.S. and Canada! & RICK WAGNER

 Rick is a dynamic local recording artist formally with the continentals!

 •• FRIDAY, NOV. 9, 7:00PM •

 4401 BROAD ST. AT AEROVISTA PARK 541-0777

 Same day contact lens replacement and eyewear for the unique.

 Located

 18 & EYWORKS

 alain miki

 7178 Marsh Street, SLO 543-5200

 99¢ Color copies are 8'/2 x 11, Canon Laser Copies.

 99¢ Oversize copies in black, 20# bond.

 99¢ Oversize copies in black, 20# bond.

 From page 1

 funds was eliminated.

 Other effects of budget reduction listed in the resolutions are the reduction of university library hours, fewer classes being offered and overcrowding in classes.

 The second resolution, 91-04, calls for a media campaign to educate the public and alert the state legislature on the consequences of an underfunded educational system.

 Grice said he hopes 91-04 results in more people being educated about what is going on with state funding of higher education.

 Resolution 91-04 requests that CSU, University of California and community college campuses join together to create the statewide campaign in order to get as widespread coverage as possible to inform people about the concerns expressed in the resolutions.

 Also at the ASI Board meeting, an advocate for the Cal Poly Children's Center raised the possibility of a loan for the construction of a new center. Speaking during open forum, Shelly Thornton said the Children's Center was requesting a loan that may include funds from both ASI and the Cal Poly Foundation.

 "The building is really dilapidated," Thornton said. "It is basically a health hazard."

 She says there is concern that the fire marshal will not issue the center a new license when it comes up for renewal in the next two years.

 Shawn Reeves, ASI vice president of finance, said the Finance Committee will be looking into the possibility of the loan beginning this week.

 THEFT

 From page 1

 Gordon, supervisor of circulations for the library. She also said that use of stolen cards isn't
 a common occurrence. She said
 that sometimes two people try to slip
 books past the security alarm system but that the biggest problem is people ripping pages out
 of magazines and books.