Poly professor wears bracelet to remember captivity, freedom

City Council decides to delay earthquake plan

CSU Board puts lid on enrollment

Enrollment...

A report explores Cal Poly's enrollment demographics and why a large number of students are seniors.

Arts & Entertainment...

Jazz keyboardist Chick Corea and his Electric Band will perform their brand of high-energy jazz during a Monday concert at Cuesta College.

Friday weather...

Mostly sunny
High: high 60s
Low: 50s
Winds n.w. 15 mph
2 ft. seas 4 ft. n.w swells
Gorbachev warns of war if union crumbles

MOSCOW (AP) — President Mikhail S. Gorbachev warned Tuesday that the disintegration of the Soviet Union will lead to misfortune, catastrophe and war, but Russia hastened the breakup by recognizing Ukraine's new statehood.

Saying the country was experiencing a destructive "craze of statehood," Gorbachev urged lawmakers across the Soviet Union to approve his proposed Union Treaty.

"The breakup of such a multiregion community will bring misfortunes upon millions of our people, which will outbalance all possible temporary benefits from secession," Gorbachev said in a statement distributed to lawmakers in all 12 republics, not just those seven who have said they will sign the treaty.

Rebel troops capture Togo's prime minister

LOMÉ, Togo (AP) — Soldiers seeking to force Gen. Gnassingbe Eyadema back to power used tanks and rockets to blast into the civilian government palace Tuesday and seized the reformist prime minister, killing at least 17 people.

Eyadema issued a statement saying Prime Minister Joseph Koffigoh was brought to him for discussions. A radio report late Tuesday said the rebels seized the reformist prime minister, killing at least 17 people.

The report by Togo radio did not say who seized the reformist prime minister.

Boy turns parents in for suspected drug use

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP) — A 13-year-old boy who feared his parents' alleged drug use was hurting their health has turned them in and won praise from police.

The boy, from Menomonee Falls, contacted police last week after discovering drugs in the house. His parents were arrested Wednesday.

"It definitely took courage for the boy to come forward," Menomonee Falls police Capt. Jack Pitrof said Monday. "Our officers assigned to schools say they are seeing more kids coming forward and saying they've seen various things their parents are doing" with drugs.

GOVERNMENT

White House chief of staff resigns from post

WASHINGTON (AP) — John H. Sununu, the combative White House chief of staff whose abrasive style earned him enemies in both parties, resigned Tuesday, telling President Bush he didn't want to be "a drag on your success."

Speculation immediately centered on Transportation Secretary Samuel K. Skinner as a likely successor, although the White House said no decision had been made.

Bush accepted the resignation, effective Dec. 15, and said in a statement that Sununu would remain as a counselor with Cabinet rank through March 1.

Wilson proposes new logging restrictions

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Pete Wilson on Tuesday proposed sweeping logging restrictions that he said would protect both the environment and timber jobs in California forests.

"A decade of conflict is coming to an end, with it we hope the timber wars," Wilson told a news conference held under a pine tree on the Capitol's east lawn.

But some environmentalists didn't rule out the possibility of a campaign fight over another timber protection initiative next year.

Wilson was joined by environmentalists, timber industry executives and administration officials who negotiated the agreement after he voiced the tougher "Sierra Accord."

"The Wilson legislation would impose a 30-acre limit on clear-cutting, down from the current 120-acre maximum, in privately owned timberland. It would also ban clear-cutting in ancient forests."

Lawyer gets 16 years for murdering client

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A former attorney who murdered a client who discovered he was embezzling money from her was sentenced to 18 years in prison.

Norman Russell Sjoberg was found guilty of killing Phyllis Wilks, 55, after she showed him evidence that he had taken $5,000 from her trust account while serving as her attorney, authorities said.

"His social status notwithstanding, (he) is truly one of the most dangerous sociopaths I have ever seen, and I say that based on my 18 and a half years on the bench," Superior Court Judge Lawrence Terry.

Back by Popular Demand... Just in Time for Christmas Shopping!

FACTORY OUTLET CLOTHING BLOW-OUT SALE!

4 DAYS ONLY
Wednesday, Dec. 4th - Saturday 7th
10 am - 7pm

50% - 90% below retail

Jeans
Pants
Sweaters
Shirts

Thousands of items for men and women from department and specialty stores, manufacturers and catalogs.

San Luis Veteran's Hall
801 Grand Ave.
(take the Grand Exit Off HWY 101)

American Express
Report shows freshmen, sophomores outnumbered at senior-dominated Poly

By Mark Marden

Staff Writer

If you're a freshman or even a sophomore enrolled at Cal Poly, consider yourself a rare breed.

A recent report compiled by Institutional Studies shows that of the 15,491 undergraduate students enrolled at Cal Poly, only 2,822 are freshmen and 2,656 are sophomores. On the other end of the scale, 10,013 juniors and seniors roam Poly's campus. Of those, 6,554 are seniors and 3,459 are juniors.

Walter Mark, director of Institutional Studies, said that part of the reason for the disparity is the way the California State University system classifies students.

"The system we're using to designate these levels doesn't fit very well in the curriculum structure we have on campus," Mark said. "It wasn't designed for the polytechnic-type programs we have."

Mark said the class-level designations are based on CSU liberal arts requirements. Bachelor of Arts degrees are based on 180-unit graduation requirements while Bachelor of Science degrees require 198 units or more, he said.

"These classifications were designated under the premise that the CSU is a liberal arts system," Mark said. "There are only two or three BA programs on campus. All the rest are BS or other programs which have a unit level of at least 198 to graduate.

"In the School of Engineering most of their programs.

See STUDENTS, page 9

Parking fines give Poly more than $444,000

By Patricia Egan

Staff Writer

Cal Poly collected $444,179 in revenue from parking tickets during the last school year, said Kimi Ikeda, associate director of budget and planning at Cal Poly.

All money generated by these fines and forfeitures during the school year is allocated for the following year.

Ikeda said that the university is "very restrictive as to how this money is spent."

This year 50 percent of the money was used to cover administrative costs and 50 percent was used on alternative modes of transportation, Ikeda said.

Alternative modes are programs that have been made available to students, employees and faculty so they don't have to drive to campus everyday, Ikeda said.

"They include the Central Coast Area Transit free bus system for Cal Poly riders within the City of San Luis Obispo, ASI bus subsidies that provide reduced bus fare to students and faculty traveling from outside." See TICKETS, page 10
With CAPTURE breaking down, efficient ticketing is not a priority

The issue: The university's decision to spend $30,000 on a new hand-held computer ticketing system, while CAPTURE is in great need of a backup system.

It was an epic Cal Poly student nightmare. "Welcome to CAPTURE...Cal Poly's touchtone user registration system...with action code..." And then there was nothing. The system was down 24 hours — from early morning Monday until Tuesday at noon — 756-7777 was just another busy signal. For more than 500 students it was more than 24 hours of stress and tension. Tear out some hair. Lose some sleep. Pray for tomorrow.

Student Data Systems, which oversees the CAPTURE system, deserves no blame for the failures. Its flexibility by creating additional CAPTURE hours on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday should be commended as a quick response for the convenience of students.

The problem is that like any computer system, CAPTURE will perform most efficiently if it is an important need to Cal Poly.

Cal Poly collected $444,179 in revenue from parking tickets during the last school year, and has decided to spend $30,000 on a new, hand-held computer ticketing system for Public Safety.

CAPTURE is in need of a backup system, and $30,000 is spent on more efficient ticketing. Perhaps the campus priorities are backward.

According to a budget and planning official, 50 percent of ticket revenue goes to administrative costs such as salaries of campus parking ticket writers. The other 50 percent is used for improved transportation programs such as bicycle lanes and safety phone systems.

Nowhere does a computer system for parking tickets fit into this budget.

If an exception is to be made, it should be made for a great student need.

A CAPTURE backup system is that great need.

CAPTURE breaks down. It has problems. It deserves money to improve its system.

Parking ticket writers do not break down. Collected revenue of $444,179 is certainly an efficient. It does not need money to improve its system.

The problem is that the university is not spending $30,000 on a system that is vital, but a system that is secondary.

The will to kill prevailed in this country on September 25, 1991. Shortly after 3 a.m., the State of Georgia strapped down Warren McCleskey — for the second time that night — and sent enough electricity through his body to kill him.

Mr. McCleskey's case embodies an appalling range of failures in our criminal justice system. His death signals a shameful turn away from human rights protection and humanitarian norms. But I believe that some day U.S. citizens will look back with horror at September 25, 1991, recognizing the full importance of Warren McCleskey's execution and demanding that nothing like this happen ever again.

With your help, that day of enlightenment will come before the passage of too many more dark and bloody years.

Racial discrimination and blatantly unconstitutional processes are evident in Warren McCleskey's conviction and sentencing. His final appeal for clemency and last hours were no less confused and hectic.

One spokesperson for the Georgia Department of Pardons and Paroles described the final 250 words and contains the author's name, phone number and major or occupation.

Mustang Daily has the right to edit letters for length, clarity or content. Because of space limitations, shorter letters have a better chance to appear in Mustang Daily.

Letters can be turned into the letters box at the Mustang Daily office. Graphics Arts, 226.

Letters Policy

All letters to the editor should be no more than 250 words and include the author's name, phone number and major or occupation.

The Supreme Court ruled this year in McCleskey v. Zant that judicial "procedures" take precedence over the facts. The court decided that Mr. McCleskey's lawyers hadn't shown sufficient reason for not addressing the issue at an earlier hearing, even though the new evidence had not become available until mid-1987.

The court, therefore, denied Warren McCleskey's appeal on procedural grounds, not on the merits of the case.

Georgia officials chose to kill Warren McCleskey this fall, despite impassioned domestic and international protest. Nelson Mandela called Mr. McCleskey's execution "an outrage to international human rights protection and humanitarian norms."

Mr. McCleskey was the 155th person put to death in this country since reinstatement of executions in the late 1970s.

There will, I fear, be much more killing before the United States joins the growing number of countries which prohibit the abhorrent practice.

Jack Healy is the executive editor of Amnesty International.
By Amy Koval
Staff Writer

I guess Warren Miller is a guy from Southern California who has made feature-length ski films for 49 years running. This I found out last week after I was handed a "sneak preview" videotape of the film "Born to Ski." He remembers when he was young. After teaching two executives how to ski one day, he convinced them to lend him a video camera to photograph skiers on the slopes. Not too long after that, Miller created his first feature-length ski film. That was 42 years ago.

Now, "Born to Ski" follows in typical Miller fashion. It is premised on the idea that Miller is traveling the globe to find people who are as into skiing as he is. Along the way he finds them, but he also finds snowboarders, mountain bikers, windsurfers, rollerbladers, hang-gliders and paragliders.

As usual, Miller narrates as he and his sidekicks bring the scenery of places such as Canada, Chile, Yugoslavia, France, Japan and Switzerland to the screen, and take viewers with them down challenging runs. And of course, there are "crash-and-burn" sequences.

And now, the commentary.

One of my fellow previewers was annoyed. He said that the film, sponsored by Nissan, is indicative of the fact that Miller has taken the corporate bait, and the film does display a big-money corporate flair. The film is also sponsored by American Airlines and Visa.

"Warren Miller has entered Yuppiedom," the political science senior said, explaining that the old Warren Miller would have packed up a Volkswagen van and headed for the wilderness. Now he drives a Pathfinder and sleeps in plush cabins.

But another student disagreed. Warren Miller is still the same, he said, and he still has the same sense of humor. He added that skiers who have never seen a Warren Miller show won't no longer try to him out.

"If Miller has been known for anything, it's his wild adventure and travel in his films, he has must definitely realized his style with "Born to Ski."

Then again, if Miller's audience has come to embrace the idea that he is a bemused, type guy who's into roughing it not only on the slopes but as a type guy who's into roughing it not only on the slopes but as a type guy who's into roughing it, then I'm probably right.

"Born to Ski" is not just about skiing.

As usual, Miller narrates as he and his sidekicks bring the scenery of places such as Canada, Chile, Yugoslavia, France, Japan and Switzerland to the screen, and take viewers with them down challenging runs. And of course, there are "crash-and-burn" sequences.

And now, the commentary.

One of my fellow previewers was annoyed. He said that the film, sponsored by Nissan, is indicative of the fact that Miller has taken the corporate bait, and the film does display a big-money corporate flair. The film is also sponsored by American Airlines and Visa.

"Warren Miller has entered Yuppie-dom," the political science senior said, explaining that the old Warren Miller would have packed up a Volkswagen van and headed for the wilderness. Now he drives a Pathfinder and sleeps in plush cabins.

But another student disagreed. Warren Miller is still the same, he said, and he still has the same sense of humor. He added that skiers who have never seen a Warren Miller show won't no longer try to him out.

"If Miller has been known for anything, it's his wild adventure and travel in his films, he has must definitely realized his style with "Born to Ski."

Then again, if Miller's audience has come to embrace the idea that he is a bemused, type guy who's into roughing it not only on the slopes but as a type guy who's into roughing it, then I'm probably right.
Wide selection of classic clothing for women and men

Ties, Suits, Hawaiian Shirts, Now Carrying Doc Marten's Shoes and Nana Shoes

Hours: 12-5pm Monday - Sunday

Webshop: 1301 Levis
546-9001. 546-6301

Take a Study Break

FLYIN' FREE DELIVERY

One coupon per pizza

TWO SMALL CHEESE PIZZAS $9.99

Additional Toppings Extra

Specialized Schwinn Diamondback

We have San Luis Obispo County's Largest Selection of Mountain & Road Bikes!

198 South Street
San Luis Obispo, CA
(805) 543-4416

2179 10th Street - Los Osos, CA
(805) 528-5115

SLO
198 South St.
543-4416

LOS OSOS
2179 10th St.
528-5115

LSAT GMAT GRE DAT OAT NCLEX NMB

CALL 1-800-KAP-TEST And Say...

"HAPPY HOLIDAYS-STANLEY!"

and receive a $100.00 Discount on the course of your choice!

Offer expires 12/31/01

STANLEY H. KAPLAN Educational Center Ltd.
SLO, Morro parade holiday cheer

By Cindy Lee
Staff Writer

Jingle bells and sleigh bells will soon be ringing in San Luis Obispo and Morro Bay. Ready or not, the Christmas season has arrived.

Morro Bay and San Luis Obispo have planned enough events to fill the shopping days before Christmas with plenty of holiday cheer.

This Saturday, Morro Bay is hosting the 1991 lighted boat parade and Christmas tree lighting.

The Christmas tree lighting begins at 4:30 p.m. at the city park in Morro Bay, located on the corner of Harbor and Morro Bay boulevards. There will be choirs, cookies, a band, coffee, hot apple cider and a special visit by Santa.

Mayor Rose Marie Sheetz will do the honors of officially lighting the tree at approximately 5:15 p.m.

The lighted boat parade will begin at 7 p.m. and will run the length of the Embarcadero. Other recommended spots to view the parade and take pictures are:

- Two blocks from the harbor, at Tidelands Launch, the Morro Bay Yacht Club, where judging will take place, the North Tidelands Pier and the turning point and end of the Embarcadero.
- Other recommended spots include restaurants with balconies along the waterfront.
- The lead boat, a Coast Guard cutter, will begin the parade lineup at about 6:30 p.m. at Tidelands Launch.
- Vicky Alfano, Morro Bay's Cultural Arts and Services Coordinator, said the boat parade is a unique event.

"It's something different," she said. "It's the only event of its kind on the Central Coast."

Not to be outdone by the goings-on in Morro Bay, San Luis Obispo is planning its own set of events to celebrate the Christmas season.

Floats, bands, carolers and Santa Claus will bring the Christmas spirit to life in the streets of San Luis Obispo when the annual Christmas Parade is held Friday.

The parade, following a theme, will wind its way through downtown and end at the 200-year-old Mission San Luis Obispo de Tolosa in downtown and end at the 200-year-old Mission San Luis Obispo de Tolosa.

On Saturday and Sunday, the Mission Plaza will feature local artists and their fine crafts. More than 100 booths of unique gifts and fresh-baked goods will be set up.

For those who are looking for a bit of the performing arts during this busy season, the Civic Ballet of San Luis Obispo will perform its annual showing of Tchaikovsky's Christmas classic, The Nutcracker, Dec. 12-15 at the Cal Poly Theatre.

Another holiday concert, from the San Luis Obispo County Symphony, takes place this Sunday.

Lynn Block, from the Business Improvement Association which is sponsoring the parade, said that from Dec. 9 through Dec. 23 different artists, including puppeteers, string quartets and jugglers, will be performing downtown each night.

Block also said that for the holiday season, between Nov. 29 and Dec. 25, two hours of meter-free parking will be offered downtown.

Purchased One Pair of Glasses at Regular Price... Receive:
FREE 2nd FRAME
From Selected Stock with Purchase of Lenses

STIGERS
OPTICAL IMAGES
"When you care to look your very best."
714 Higuera St., San Luis Obispo 544-3364

Want to cut your holiday food bill?

Take advantage of the tremendous savings on all our quality food items at AMK Cash & Carry!

We feature the finest midwestern grain-fed beef and cut it to your specifications in our own U.S.D.A. plant. You will also find gourmet sausage, cheeses, prepared chicken, goose, pork, and specialty desserts.along with an additional 4,000 items. Ask about our Family Paks!

Bring this ad with you when you visit our store and receive 10% OFF PER LB. on all our quality meats and 10% OFF all of our other fine products.

Not valid with special offers. Expires 12-31-91

A-M-K CASH & CARRY
230 CAPITOLIO WAY • SAN LUIS OBISPO • 544-0975

TUESDAY - SATURDAY 10:30 A.M. - 8:30 P.M.

MANDATORY MEETINGS!!
Wed. 12/11 and Fri. 12/13
8 P.M. CHUMASH

*Booth open Mon - Fri 10 to 2
Call 756-SKIS for more information
Warren Miller is Ski Bum Numero Uno...a combination Jean-Claude Killy, Robert Bedford, Ingmar Bergman and Woody Allen.” - LA Times

At last! Warren is back in SLO!

Fri & Sat • Dec 6 & 7
• 7 & 9 p.m
Cal Poly Theater

SAVE $1.00! Advance Discount Tickets
Copeland’s, Mountain Air, & Cal Poly SW Club Table

Upcoming Events

Thursday, Dec. 5
- "Boyz n the Hood" will show at Chumash Auditorium at 6:15 and 9:15 p.m. Tickets are $3 with a canned good and $4 without.
- The Cadillac Tramps perform at Loco Ranchero at 9 p.m. Tickets are $3.

Friday, Dec. 6
- Four Cal Poly choir groups will perform in the music department’s annual “A Christmas Celebration” at 8 p.m. at the United Methodist Church sanctuary. Tickets range from $4.50 to $6.50.
- Warren Miller’s "Born to Ski" will be shown at the Cal Poly Theatre at 7 and 9 p.m.

Saturday, Dec. 7
- “Born to Ski” shows at the Cal Poly Theatre at 7 and 9 p.m.
- The Cal Poly choir’s “A Christmas Celebration” will be performed at 8 p.m.
- “A Musical Celebration for Children and the Whole Family” comes to the Cal Poly Theatre at 11 a.m. The concert features twin brothers Sandor and Laszlo Slomovitz, known as Gemini, performing on nearly a dozen instruments and leading sing-alongs. Tickets range from $4 to $8.

Sunday, Dec. 8
- Joe Louis Walker performs at SLO Brewing Co. Tickets are $7.
- The Chick Corea Electric Band will perform at the Cuesta College Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tickets range from $15 to $20.

Tuesday, Dec. 10
- The theatre and dance department is announcing auditions for its winter quarter production of the Sophocles’ "Oedipus." Auditions will be held Jan. 9 and 10 from 7 to 10 p.m. in room 212 of the Davidson Music building.

Concerts

Bay Area
- Natalie Cole, 12/4,5, Paramount Theatre
- Branford Marsalis, 12/10-14, The Strand
- Paula Abdul, Color Me Badd, 12/19, 15, Oakland Coliseum
- Jethro Tull, 12/17, 8, F. Civic Auditorium
- TIn Machine, 12/17, 18, Warfield
- B.B. King, 12/28, 29, Circle Star Center
- Kenny G, 12/31, Circle Star Center

Los Angeles Area
- Paula Abdul, 12/5, 6, Great Western Forum
- Branford Marsalis, 12/7, The Strand
- TiVo Machine, 12/12, 13, Hollywood Palladium
- Al Jarreau, 12/13, 14, Colosseum
- Jethro Tull, 12/14, 15, Universal Amphitheatre
- Crowded House, 12/16, Wiltern Theatre
- B.B. King, 12/27, Celebrity Theatre; 12/31, The Strand
- Eddie Money, 12/31, Celebrity Theatre

---

College Book Company Presents

Textbook
In front of El Corral Bookstore
December 9-13, 8:00 am-4:00 pm
On the lawn near Engr. West
December 9-13, 8:30 am-3:30 pm

BUYBACK!
At two locations during finals
STUDENTS

From page 3
have a 216-unit requirement," Mark said.
"So now we’re a whole 30 units more than what that classification system was designed to define."
Mark said many students in the upper two categories would fall out of the upper levels if the system was based on calculating levels by one quarter of the 30 or more unit requirement.
"It would be a more accurate reflection of the time students have left to get their degree," he said.
Also, Mark said, the CSU system requires the number of juniors and seniors to be at least 60 percent of total enrollment.
"The 60 percent rule is intended to give priority to junior college transfer students," Mark
said.
Mark also cited the struggling economy as a possibility for why seniors are taking their time at school to finish up or taking minor courses.

Total undergraduate enrollment: 15,491

Source: Institutional Studies
SLO bike committee wants student input
City group circulates questionnaire

By Jeff Krump
Staff Writer

Anyone who has complaints about biking in San Luis Obispo can air their opinions in a questionnaire being distributed by the City Bike Advisory Committee of San Luis Obispo.

The City Council created the City Bike Advisory Committee to help the council spend approximately $400,000 that the city put aside to improve biking on the area's seismic level.

Marshall said the 10-member committee consists of five city employees and five members of the general public.

The questionnaire is available at Cal Poly's Robert E. Kennedy Library, at the circulation desk and also at the information desk in the Administration building, Anderson said.

Marshall said the surveys can also be picked up at local bike shops and through bike clubs.

“We think a lot of students would be interested in this,” Anderson said.

“Students are a major group but we are also looking at employees who bike to work,” Marshall said money will also be used for education programs and promotional activities.

“We are trying to get suggestions for improvement, dangerous roads, where more rocks could be downtown,” said City Bike Advisory Committee Member Craig Anderson.

Committee chairman Richard Marshall said the city council had a responsibility to its residents to make the area a safe and enjoyable place to ride a bike.

“We believe the public is interested,” Anderson said.

“Just fold it and put it in the mail,” Anderson said. The questionnaires will be collected on December 15, said Anderson.

“We're hoping by January or February we'll see the results of this survey,” Anderson said.

Last year's parking ticket revenue was also used to purchase the new, hand-held computer ticketing system for Public Safety. Administrative costs will also include the maintenance of the new system.

The total cost for the new system was approximately $30,000, said Cindy Campbell, a Cal Poly parking administrator.

Campbell said Cal Poly Public Safety issued 38,377 parking tickets last year.

The other 50 percent paid for administrative costs like partial salaries of cashiers and students who process parking tickets, the cost of having the county process overdue tickets and other miscellaneous costs for supplies necessary to ensure payment of violations.

Despite the decrease in the number of parking tickets issued for this year, Campbell said this year, Campbell said.

The hand-held ticket machines double the time to generate a ticket compared to hand writing them, she said.

The cost for the parking violations of unauthorized hand- issued parking and illegally parking in a bike lane increased this year, Campbell said.

Despite the decrease in the number of violations that will be issued this year, Beds said the revenue generated by the parking tickets on campus will continue to increase.

CITY COUNCIL

From page 3

the city limits, the bike safety program, vehicle enforcement, the escort service that operates in conjunction with campus fraternities and emergency phones to promote safety incentives to people walking or biking to campus.

Last year's parking ticket revenue was also used to purchase the new, hand-held computer ticketing system for Public Safety. Administrative costs will now also include the maintenance of the new system.

The total cost for the new system was approximately $30,000, said Cindy Campbell, a Cal Poly parking administrator.

Campbell said Cal Poly Public Safety issued 38,377 parking tickets last year.

The other 50 percent paid for administrative costs like partial salaries of cashiers and students who process parking tickets, the cost of having the county process overdue tickets and other miscellaneous costs for supplies necessary to ensure payment of violations.

The hand-held ticket machines double the time to generate a ticket compared to hand writing them, she said.

The cost for the parking violations of unauthorized hand-issued parking and illegally parking in a bike lane increased this year, Campbell said.

Despite the decrease in the number of violations that will be issued this year, Beds said the revenue generated by the parking tickets on campus will continue to increase.

TICKETS

From page 3
From page 1

The current proposal calls for an enrollment increase of only about 2,000 students to be absorbed by the Dominguez Hills, Hayward, Northridge, San Bernardino and San Marcos campuses, according to Colleen Bentley-Adler, the public affairs officer at the Chancellor's Office.

All other CSU campuses will not increase enrollment figures next year. Approximately 12,000 qualified students are expected to be denied admission to the CSU system.

After the trustees' latest meeting, Chancellor Barry Munitz expressed reservations about the bleak financial situation facing the CSU system.

"This is a survival budget, one that meets only the very basic educational needs of the CSU," Munitz said in Stateline, a CSU newsletter.

At the meeting, trustees expressed concern regarding the quality of education in the CSU system.

"We have to choose between quality and access in this age of declining resources," said trustee John Kashivahara in the newsletter. "What are we choosing is quality?"

The budget approved by the trustees for the 1992-93 year seeks the state for $1.77 billion, a 7 percent increase over 1991-92.

The proposal has been forwarded to the state for review. The final budget will be unveiled in January.

The minimum growth proposal comes after the combined CSU campuses had to cancel 4,000 class sections this fall, lay off or not rehire 3,000 faculty, deny or approximately 1,000 staff, delay new equipment purchases and defer needed maintenance throughout the system, according to Stateline.

Craig Boisvert
Designer
Spectrum
Award Winner
American Gem
Trade Assoc.

14KT Solid Gold
Italian Chain
$16.00 per ft
Any Style

Exclusive Dealer
NOBILA
WATCHES

Wholesale
Prices!

We love our work...you will too!

Customer Jewelry Design • Unique and Special Wedding Sets • Colored Gemstones

1027-A Marsh St. • San Luis Obispo (Next to Sunset Carwash - upstairs) (805) 546-8706 • 1-800-549-1007 • MC/Visa

SUN MICROSYSTEMS
Product Demonstration
Tuesday December 10th
10am-4pm at the
El Cortadillo Bookstore
Computer Department: 738-3581

SUN MICROSYSTEMS
Product Demonstration
Tuesday December 10th
10am-4pm at the
El Cortadillo Bookstore
Computer Department: 738-3581

THE BOXWORKS...
YOUR ONE STOP SHOP
For Holiday Gift Wrapping
Packaging and Shipping
In The Network
778 Higuera, SLO
545-9940

Boxed Wishes To Go!
Wrap Up Your Gift List In One Location
• Distinctive Gifts & Accessories
• Hostess Gifts & Baskets
• Local Wines & Champagnes
• Cards & Stationery
• Invitations

The Boxworks... We're More Than Just Boxes!

Bar-B-Q and Deli
Open
10 a.m. - 8 p.m.
Everyday!!

Hours: Sun-Wed 7 a.m. - 11 p.m.
Thu-Sat 7 a.m. - Midnight

CORK & BOTTLE SPECIALS

1/2 Pound Hamburger • $2.49

2 Pieces of Chicken • $2.69

Mojo Potatoes • .85¢ for 1/2 lb

44 oz. soda • .99¢

NRM Dept.
Enterprise Project
MONTEREY PINE
$19 any size

RED FIR
(silver tip)
$4 per foot

Begins Nov. 30
M-F: 3pm - 5pm
Sat-Sun : Sam - 5pm

Located on Stenner Creek Rd.
(just off Hwy 1)

1-756-2702
for more info.