Form follows function

Closed books are fair game

ASI resolutions within legal bounds, attorneys say

By Len Arends
and Amy Hooper
Staff Writers

ASI is within its legal rights not to disclose all its budget information, according to ASI official and outside attorneys.
The ASI Board of Directors decided to keep the budget figures for its Program Board "in confidence." Resolution #93-18, "If you're bidding for something and everybody knows what everybody else is bidding... then you'll lose," she said. "So it's not smart business practice to disclose it." Erica Brown, chair of the Program Board Oversight Task Force Committee, authored the two resolutions.

"These concerns were brought up by the concerts committee, because they are the ones who directly deal with the artists," Brown said. "They would be the ones directly affected by it if the amount of the artists were posted all over." ASI releases budget totals, but does not disclose figures on specific expenses within those budgets to the general public. All information is available to Cal Poly students upon request.

Deirdre Flynn, chair of ASI Board of Directors, said revealing complete budget information about Program Board's Concerts Subcommittee would "destroy any competitive advantage we've have in holding for performers to come to our campus." She said revealing ASI's bid for a performer would allow other organizations to undercut its offer.

ASl Vice President for Finance Shawn Reeves said even though it is a public and non-profit corporation, ASI does not have to release all of its information.

"You know, there's a limit to what we have to release," he said.

ASI Executive Director Roger Conway said ASI is exempt from some state laws, such as the

"Here in the (California State University), we're separately incorporated entities."

Roger Conway,
ASI Executive Director
California Public Records Act. That law mandates public access to records of both state and local agencies.
The act also contains a list of exceptions, one of which applies to ASI, according to Conway.

He said that because ASI is only an auxiliary of the state, it may withhold information at its discretion.

"Here in the (California State University), we're separately incorporated entities." See RECORDS, page 5

Way to go!

By Amy Hooper
Staff Writer

Cal Poly students Dan Eltman and Jim Van Order displayed their entry in Design Village this weekend.

Cal Poly students Dan Eltman and Jim Van Order displayed their entry in Design Village this weekend.

Hospitals brace for new diagnosis

By Matthew Hoy
Staff Writer

The Clinton administration has promised every American citizen the right to affordable health care. But fulfilling the promise will radically change the way the American health care system works, one local hospital official says.

While no formal plan has been released, the basics of the proposal have become common knowledge among hospital administrators.

"The old incentives were initialization or hospital centered," said Tom Salerno, CEO of San Luis Obispo's French Hospital.

The new Clinton administration will make it more person-centered.

"The hospital will no longer be the core or center of the American health-care delivery system."

Salerno said the new system will be "managed competition," where insurance providers compete to purchase blocks of patients.

Salerno said he envisions a future where only the extremely sick and those undergoing complex surgeries will go to hospitals.

Hospitals will basically see SEE HOSPITAL, page 5

Hart to speak at graduation

By Amy Hooper
Staff Writer

Cal Poly spring graduates will listen during commencement to a man known in Sacramento as "Mr. Education." State Sen. Gary Hart, a Democrat from Santa Barbara County, will speak at both commencement ceremonies in Mustang Stadium on June 12.

Hart recently said he will not seek re-election when his term expires in 1994 nor will he run for Bill Honig's former post of state schools chief.

He cited a desire to spend more time with his family for his decision to get away from the rigors of campaigning and politics.

The Clinton administration will force radical changes on the way they do business.

Hospitals will be basically

"Managed competition," where insurance providers compete to purchase blocks of patients.

TODAY
A local hospital official says the Clinton administration will force radical changes on the way they do business.

TUESDAY
SO doctors, are they willing to pay the price for universal health care?

WEDNESDAY
A cancer patient's struggle to stay alive without medical insurance.

TODAY
A local hospital official says the Clinton administration will force radical changes on the way they do business.

TUESDAY
SO doctors, are they willing to pay the price for universal health care?

WEDNESDAY
A cancer patient's struggle to stay alive without medical insurance.

TODAY
A local hospital official says the Clinton administration will force radical changes on the way they do business.

TUESDAY
SO doctors, are they willing to pay the price for universal health care?

WEDNESDAY
A cancer patient's struggle to stay alive without medical insurance.
U.S. wants European support for military action in Serbia

Secretary of State Warren M. Christopher said he was hopeful but said the approval of an international peace plan Sunday by the leader of the Bosnian Serbs, and continued trying to alley British qualms about using force to end the ethnic war in the Balkans.

In Washington, President Clinton released a statement calling approval of the peace plan a "positive step." But he said he will continue planning for military force in case the Serbs "do not act in good faith."

"We will judge intentions by actions," Clinton said in the statement.

Administration officials are concerned that Bosnian Serb leader Radovan Karadzic's signing of the international peace plan in Greece was an empty gesture to avoid military action from the West.

"The developments in the ... process are a positive step, but we have yet to determine whether the Serbs are serious about peace," Clinton said. "We will make that judgment based upon their actions on the ground in Bosnia."

Meanwhile, Senate Republicans Leader Bob Dole of Kansas said Clinton had decided on allied aerial attacks on Serbian positions and permitting weapons to get to the outgunned Muslims in Bosnia-Herzegovina.

Dole said on ABC's "This Week With David Brinkley" that Clinton had decided to tell him the two steps were the key elements in the new strategy Christopher was pressing the European allies and Russia to endorse.

Clinton spoke twice by telephone to Clinton and then announced the United States would not be deterred in trying to round up support for military measures against the Serbs.

Secretary of State Christopher said that the Serbs had agreed to a draft peace plan in the past to end the fighting but then backed off with the war.

Clinton decided on Saturday to take U.S. strategy in a new and more forceful direction, although he released few details.

While Christopher was en route to London, Karadzic approved the plan to end the fighting and to establish 10 ethnic provinces in the former Yugoslav republic.

E-Retty Prime Minister John Major prefers economic pressures to air strikes.

He was to join, Chancellor for dinner Sunday with Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd and Defense Minister Malcolm Rifkind.

Deep feelings for 'Cheers' probed

A respected polling organization has settled a bar-room bet over whether most Americans would rather have seen "Cheers" character Sam Malone marry Diane or Rebecca.

The answer: Neither.

Forty-eight percent of those polled by the Times Mirror Center for The People and The Press said Sam should have stayed single in the long-running sitcom, with 21 percent for Diane, 18 percent for Rebecca and 11 percent for neither.

"The developments in the ", process are a positive step, but we have yet to determine whether the Serbs are serious about peace," Clinton said. "We will make that judgment based upon their actions on the ground in Bosnia."

Meanwhile, Senate Republicans Leader Bob Dole of Kansas said Clinton had decided on allied aerial attacks on Serbian positions and permitting weapons to get to the outgunned Muslims in Bosnia-Herzegovina.

Dole said on ABC's "This Week With David Brinkley" that Clinton had decided to tell him the two steps were the key elements in the new strategy Christopher was pressing the European allies and Russia to endorse.

Clinton spoke twice by telephone to Clinton and then announced the United States would not be deterred in trying to round up support for military measures against the Serbs.

Secretary of State Christopher said that the Serbs had agreed to a draft peace plan in the past to end the fighting but then backed off with the war.

Clinton decided on Saturday to take U.S. strategy in a new and more forceful direction, although he released few details.

While Christopher was en route to London, Karadzic approved the plan to end the fighting and to establish 10 ethnic provinces in the former Yugoslav republic.

E-Ritty Prime Minister John Major prefers economic pressures to air strikes.

He was to join, Chancellor for dinner Sunday with Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd and Defense Minister Malcolm Rifkind.

President Clinton
Spring sniffling on the rise

Allergy sufferers make mad rush to the Health Center

By Monique McCarty
Staff Writer

'Tis the season to be sniffing, sneezing and suffering.

The allergy and hay fever season has officially begun, according to Cal Poly Health Center pharmacist Darrell Bennett. The health center has experienced an increase in the number of springtime allergy sufferers. More red-eyed students have paid visits to the Health Center to take away their symptoms, Bennett said. "We will provide therapy to students' symptoms," Bennett said. "We will provide therapy to where it would effect studies."

"I get them every year. Each year they are not as bad as they were the year before," Ponce exclaimed. "It is the worst when they are debilitating, sniffing, sneezing and general yuck."

"I heard a few years ago, that if you buy local honey and eat one teaspoon a day, you will become immune to local pollens," she said. "This is because the bees use local pollens to make honey. I have not tried it yet but, I wonder if it really works."

"I think this year has been the worst for me. Due to the heavy rains there is a lot more foliage and pollen in the air," she said. "Last year, my throat hurt so bad and I could hardly breathe — my lugs were killing me." Paxton said. She said she had been told of an unconventional remedy for her sneezing.

By Heather Crookston
Staff Writer

Cal Poly volunteers flock to area Special Olympics

Lauri Kirk's main events are the 50 and 100 meter walk, while Erick Paxton prefers the 25 meter walk and the softball throw. Paxton and Kirk and are not ordinary athletes. They're special athletes who competed in the Special Olympics last Friday.

The event, held at Morro Bay High School, had more than 350 participants and 800 volunteers, said Mary Ellen Gibson, the area director for the Special Olympics. One hundred and fifty of the volunteers were Cal Poly students, she added.

"I have the best job in the world," Gibson said. "I love it. It is so rewarding. They give me their first to work at something that has a positive effect on everyone's lives."

The athletes, ranging in age from 7 to 70, came from all over San Luis Obispo County. Some are in schools with programs tailored for the developmentally disabled, and others work in the community. Special Olympics gives the general public a chance to interact with the athletes," Gibson said. "It helps break down the barrier that exists."

Most athletes had a "buddy" volunteer that helped them prepare for Special Olympics. Paul Hapganian, a "buddy," said he took his athlete out to the track on the weekends to help him practice the 100 meter walk.

"It's fun to see these guys so carefree," he said. "It's good for them."

Social science junior Rod Serensen said about 20 people from his fraternity, Sigma Pi, volunteered. "There are a lot of Poly students here," he said. "It's good to be involved in the community."

Randy Musterer, an animal science sophomore, said this was his first time volunteering. "It's rewarding," he said.

It was aeronautical engineering senior Vince Silva's second year as a volunteer. "It's rewarding," he said. See OLYMPICS, page 5.
My parents, on the other hand, are living life like they were before the robbery. My dad isn't ready to spend thousands on an intricate security system, nor is he ready to stand watch at this house 24 hours a day.

Both my parents were feeling violated and sad that the collection go ahead. They listed that someone was in our home, and that the robbers had left.

The little bit of money that was left was shared with those strangers who found nothing wrong with coming into our house, there was something I'd never leave it open, it finally dawned on him that someone had been robbed.

I guess one good thing came out of the robbery — it was a huge reality check for me. Sure, everyone knows that your home is turned over, or that their clothes were taken.

Getting robbed brought out a side of my dad that I'd never seen. He was talking about a restraining order he had put in place. He said that, when he was disappointed, we all want people to understand and love him by his actions, but he never told me verbally.

Most important, the robbery taught me that nothing material is more important than the lives of my loved ones. A $500K worth of hard work is no longer a worry, as I want — I’m perfectly happy devoting my 7-year-old four-door Mazda, and I’m very thankful that both of my parents are still alive.

Lisa Iruguin is a journalism senior. This is her first quarterly reporting for Mustang Daily.

Correction:
The article “Scott leaves for new job” in the Friday, April 30 edition of Mustang Daily named Roger Swanzen as the temporary successor to Hazard Scott’s position as vice president of student affairs.

This statement was inaccurate; no decision has been made as to who will fill this position until a permanent replacement has been found.

Also, the same story stated Scott will be leaving the university in June. Scott will leave at the end of July. Mustang Daily apologizes for the errors and any inconvenience they may have caused.

ASU Daily.© 1992-1993. All Rights Reserved. No editorial material may be republished without permission. This publication is not responsible for any errors or omissions. Mustang Daily reserves the right to edit letters and commentaries for accuracy. Mustang Daily apologizes for any inconvenience caused. Mustang Daily apologizes for any errors and inadequacies that may have been caused.

Editors in Chief: Peter Hartlaub, Mindy Hacle
Executive Editor: John Higbee
Opinion Editor: Bryan Bailey
Arts & Features Editor: Katherine Gill
Sports Editor: Cam Inman
Comedy Editor: Carolyn Nielsen
Photo Editor: Sherry Guitler
Illustrator: Matthew Hubal

Mustang Daily is the student newspaper of Mustangs Daily. Copyright 1992-1993. All Rights Reserved. This publication is not responsible for any errors or omissions. Mustang Daily reserves the right to edit letters and commentaries for accuracy. Mustang Daily apologizes for any inconvenience caused. Mustang Daily apologizes for any errors and inadequacies that may have been caused.

Mustang Daily apologizes for any errors and inadequacies that may have been caused.

Surprise Wednesday, April 28, ASI Special Events and Films is sub- committee of ASI Program Board showed “Aliens” in the Cal Poly Theatre. ASI Special Events and Films decided that “Aliens” was to be our last hurrah of the year (other than the weekly Plaza Shows) and we wanted to make it a special oc- casion by showing it in the Cal Poly Theatre. The collection of ASI Special Events and Films were bought by surprise that night by the huge response towards this movie by the Cal Poly student body and staff. We then had the 1,000 students, staff and children who showed up and made this not only a special night but also a memorable night for us. In fact, the 10 p.m. show sold out, and in order to accommodate the nearly 200 in- dividuals who were going to be denied a ticket for the 10 p.m. show, we added a special midnight showing.

The purpose of this letter is to apologize to those who were turned away from the 10 p.m. show and were unable to attend the midnight show. I regret the inconvenience that we have caused you.

Finally, I would like to thank the Cal Poly Theatre and the ASI Ticket Office staff for working an extra two hours (and that was two hours beyond midnight).

Dante K. Kazan
ASI Special Events and Films Chair

Mustang Daily Policies

Comments and reporter's notebooks are the opinions of the author and do not necessarily reflect the viewpoints of Mustang Daily. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial staff. Letters to the editor should be typed, less than 250 words, and should include the author's name, phone number and major or occupation. Because of space limitations, shorter letters have a better chance of appearing in Mustang Daily.

Letters should be between two and three pages (between 800 and 1,000 words), double-spaced, and turned in to the opinion editor's box at Mustang Daily. Commentaries are welcome from students, faculty, staff and members of the community; submission does not insure publication. Mustang Daily's opinion staff reserves the right to edit letters and commentaries for length, accuracy and clarity. Submissions to the opinion page or inquiries about Mustang Daily can be made at the Mustang Daily office, Graphic Arts room 282. Electronic mail submissions can be made via bhailey@trumpet.calpoly.edu.

Correction:

The article “Scott leaves for new job” in the Friday, April 30 edition of Mustang Daily named Roger Swanzen as the temporary successor to Hazard Scott’s position as vice president of student affairs.

This statement was inaccurate; no decision has been made as to who will fill this position until a permanent replacement has been found.

Also, the same story stated Scott will be leaving the university in June. Scott will leave at the end of July. Mustang Daily apologizes for the errors and any inconvenience they may have caused.

Philip L. Fetzar
Associate Professor
Political Science

In "The sports of summer" (April 20, David Polk says, "the sport of girls begin to manifest the homosexual tendencies of females. Be alert for any of the following signs: Do you feel like wearing plaid shirts with Dockers? Have you recently cut your hair shorter than usual? Have you found yourself enjoying a Jill Knight show?)

Does writing a commentary such as "The sports of summer" make one feel like a bigot?"
HOSPITALS

From page 1

critical care centers," he said. "But the rest (of the medical procedures) will be done in outpatient centers." Salerno said French Hospital is in the process of moving toward the future.

"We have developed an integrated system (of patient treatment)," he said. "We have acquired an ambulatory outpatient surgery center, and we are in the process of acquiring urgent care centers."

Salerno said the new system will be an innovative change from hospitals as people have come to know them.

"Since Benjamin Franklin had the first hospital in Philadelphia, hospitals haven't structurally changed," he said. "All we have done is add boxes. We've added another special department."

Salerno knew the focus of hospitals also will change.

"The old was illness focused," he said. "The new will be wellness focused."

"Wellness" is a form of medical care aimed at preventing sickness and averting the more expensive costs of treating patients once they get sick.

"The incentive is to keep (patients) healthy," Salerno said. "You only have a certain pot of money that you have available that you get no matter what services you do." According to Clinton administration officials, the new health care plan would:

• include a basic benefits package available to everyone
• have health benefits which would follow people from job to job
• not deny benefits due to an existing medical condition
• allow participants to choose their own doctors
• include government-imposed ceilings on health costs

And those costs are skyrocketing, according to Salerno. This year, about $812 billion will be spent on health care nationally. Salerno projects that, at the current rate, the figure will rise to $2 trillion by the year 2000.

Salerno said the old system of Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement to doctors and hospitals doesn't work. And to him, the reasons why are painfully obvious.

With Medicare and Medicaid paying doctors and hospitals whatever it costs them to treat a patient, there were no incentives to keep costs down, he said.

So when the inflation rate in most industries was rising in the single digits, the medical sector was undergoing double-digit inflation.

That was until the Reagan administration took steps to curb the rising costs, Salerno said.

"Up until the early 1980s, the government would pay (hospitals) according to our costs," he said.

According to Salerno, in the early '80s, "Medicare said: 'We don't care if you're more of those prices rising in double digit (inflation). So we're going to pay you a flat rate per diagnosis. You broke your arm. Your arm's gonna give you this much."

That flat rate offered by the federal government typically covered somewhere between 80 percent and 90 percent of the total hospital costs, Salerno said.

* The Los Angeles Times and Newsweek contributed to this report.

OLYMPICS

From page 3

"It's a big day for them." Conway said. "We are under the review of the state, but we are really required as an incorporated entity to set our own policies."

"We have developed an innovative change for the volunteers and it gives them an insight into another world."

Kirk, an Olympian who attends the Escuela Del Rio School, said he was really excited about competing in the Special Olympics and she had been practicing very hard for her events.

"It's nice that people do Special Olympics," she said. "It makes me feel good."

Patton said he was also excited. "I practiced every year I got a chance," he said.

Arroyo Grande athlete Gabi Lopez took first place in the 100 meter walk. With a huge grin on her face, she said she "liked winning."

Gibson said there are gold, silver and bronze medals in all the events. "But each athlete, whether they get a gold medal or not, has won through challenging their disability," she said.

RECORDS

From page 1

corporate entities," Conway said. "We are under the review of the state, but we are really required as an incorporated entity to set our own policies."

"We have standards that we have to follow that are slightly different than what the state follows."

Conway said ASI's attorneys rendered a formal opinion a year ago regarding the California Public Records Act, saying it doesn't apply to ASI.

"What we attempt to do is to comply with the spirit of it just the same," he said.

Other lawyers agreed with Conway's assessment. "ASI is not defined as a government entity under the CPRA," according to Ed Davis, of Pillsbury, Madison and Sutro. That firm represents the San Jose Mercury News. The newspaper frequently goes to court in cases dealing with public records access.

"But I don't agree with their position," Davis said, citing himself as a strong supporter of open records.

Reese Allison, legal counsel for the California Newspaper Publishers Association, said ASI is "not required to publish anything, just to make it available. That's all there is to it."

Mustang Daily is asking YOU to participate in the Mustang Choice Awards. Fill out YOUR ballot and put it into the box at the U信息系统 Desk or the Mustang Daily office in room 220 in the Graphic Arts Building. All entries must be received by Friday, May 14 at 4:30. Results will appear in the Poly Royal Edition on May 20.

Happy Hour
Bar
Sandwiches
Burgers
Mexican Food
Coffee
Study Place
Dinner with Mom and Dad
Breakfast
Yogurt
Music Store
Grocery Store
Liquor Store
Best Bargain
Pizza
Video Store
Best Dinner Date
Dining After Midnight
Sorority
Fraternity
Italian Food
Movie Theater
Bike Shop
Gym
Chinese Food
The Best thing would be if:
Surf Shop
Seafood

Swanton Pacific Ranch Open House Day Saturday, May 8

Leave Ag Circle @ 7 am, back @ 7 pm

• Find out about taking classes while on an internship
• See our Distance Learning System
• Take part in ranch activities for the day
• Have a BBQ lunch

Find out how you can be a part of this unique experience Summer or Fall quarter.

Sign up at the College of Agriculture Dean's Office Bldg 11, Rm 211

FOR MORE INFORMATION, CALL LISA at 541-2087
STOP CSU BUDGET CUTS NOW!
TAKE ACTION--WRITE THE LEGISLATURE
JUST WRITE IT
ASI WILL DELIVER IT

LOCATIONS & TIMES TO WRITE ON DROP-LETTER ENVELOPES
130 Phase- TUE: 10-3
Ag Bridge- T: 11-3
Library- I.W.- 1-4
Dexter- T& R: 10-12
Science- K: W: 11-3; R: 3-5
131: 2T/A: R: 9-4
Campus Store: W: 8-11

TOP 5 REASONS TO WRITE:
5. Takes no time.
4. We'll deliver it.
3. We have a sample letter.
2. It's OUR education at stake!
1. It's time for a student voice.

RECENT COLLEGE GRADS
Many openings with Fortune 500 Companies in the San Francisco Bay, L.A., Orange County, San Diego, San Luis Obispo.
• Medical Pharmaceutical
• Management & Sales Trainers
CALL MANAGEMENT RECRUITERS OF SAN LUIS OBISPO (805) 541-1424 (805) 541-1451 (Fax)
Fax Paid by Employer

The beach.
Are you ready?

Call
HEALTHY CONCEPTS
Creative Weight Control
1500 Marsh
San Luis Obispo
541-3438
(Formerly Diet Center)
Weight loss, speed of loss and weight maintenance vary by individual.

MAY 4

COUPON EDITION
★
Look out for Mustang Daily's Coupon Edition to SAVE, SAVE, SAVE!
He's Finally Leaving!

Hooray! Mustang Daily's current editor will relinquish his position and motor his skinny liberal butt out of the county at the end of the quarter. Consequently, Mustang Daily is searching for an editor-in-chief for both the summer and the 1993-94 school year. Candidates can apply for one or both positions and are required to turn in a cover letter, resume and proposal to Peter Hartlaub, current editor of Mustang Daily. All is due on May 11, 1993 at noon. Proposals must be no more than five pages, double spaced. All Cal Poly students are welcome to apply. Questions? Call Peter at 756-1143.
Poly literally distances itself in CCAA race

Three pitchers toss complete games lead out of a 11-8 record two weeks ago. But the big bad wolf — CCAA opponents — blew their lead down too.

At first place lead with a 15-9 season. But the big bad wolf — Cal State Dominguez Hills' victory over his team will pump up the Mustangs runs in the first, third, fifth, sixth and eighth innings to surmount a 11-2 lead. The Mustangs added three in the seventh, and the Tors squeezed Seaze for four runs in the same frame.

Everyone batter in the lineup contributed a hit in the make-up game of a March 26 rainout. Centerfielder Ben Boulware went 3-for-5 including his 25th of his career and sixth of the season. His five strikeouts moved him three strikeouts ahead of all-time record. Not more than one run was scored per inning in the game, but Mustangs runs in the first, third, fifth, sixth and eighth out numbered those of Cal State Dominguez Hills. The Tors scored in the first, third, and eighth.

The second game was two-riffle for second baseman Duke Dodder. The Bakersfield senior went 2-for-3 with a double, two walks and two runs. In Saturday's first game the Tors scored the third Mustangs' pitcher over the distance. Scott Mallahan scattered 10 hits in nine innings and allowed three earned runs.

In the second game Tony Mangano led the Mustangs' pitching efforts. The Mustangs trailed 2-0 before producing three runs in the fourth to go up 3-2. A seven-run outburst in the sixth gave Cal Poly an 11-5 lead. Simich led the Mustangs' 20-hit performance as he stroked two long doubles and blasted a two-run shot over the right-center field fence in the four-run seventh.

Grant Munger and Boulware also contributed. Munger hit two doubles and went 3-for-4 with two RBIs while Boulware knocked in two runs and hit 4-for-5.

Phil James had his consecutive-game hitting streak end at 15 after he flew out to center field in the eighth; totalled five.

In the series' finale Saturday, James took the mound for his first start of the season, allowing the only run of the game in the third inning.

It was the first time in 120 games Cal Poly had been shutout, with the Mustangs' last no-run game coming in a 5-0 April 12, 1991, loss to Cal Poly Pomona.

The Mustangs rallied in the final inning, loading the bases with two outs before Scott Ferriera popped out.

Cal Poly hosts Cal State San Bernardino in a two-game series with first pitch coming at 12:30 p.m. on Friday and 3 p.m. on Saturday. The Mustangs close out the regular season May 14 and 15 at UC Riverside.

Four Cal Poly athletes recorded victories at UCLA's Kevin Berkowitz Invitational Satu-

The recruits continue to march Cal Poly's way as four Mustang athletes have recently signed high school and community college players to letters of intent.

The men's basketball team is bringing in a new recruit who should help the Mustangs with their inside game. Leo Williams, a 6-6, 190-pound forward-center, signed a letter of intent last week to transfer to Cal Poly from Diablo Valley College.

Cal Poly's tennis teams have also signed four new faces.

Four Mustangs win at UCLA

Four Cal Poly athletes

Recorded victories at UCLA's Kevin Berkowitz Invitational Saturday.

Team Captain from San Luis Obispo was the fastest relay team in 1:34.22, while Team SLO Roadrunners took third.

Saturday, the sports' professional triathletes battled in the long-course race, which was won by Anthony Naughton and Donna Peters.

Candace finished second in the 800 in 1:52.07 as UCLA's Bert Jones won in 1:41.17. Brain Dwayne Camille easily won the third 100-11, but Cal Poly's Jennifer Peters placed second (159-11).

Jennifer Lacovara finished the 3,000 in 9:50.6 to put her third behind two BYU runners. But Cal Poly is scheduled to have this weekend off and next competes in the California Collegiate Athletic Association Championships May 14-15 at UC San Diego.

Cal Poly's Brian Adamick triumphed in the pole vault by clearing 17-4 3/4, and Chris Thurston took fifth.

Oliver, Schmidt fare well at Wildflower

By Cam Inman

Sponsor Director

Cal Poly triathlon club member Barry Oliver took fifth place in the 12th TriFed National Collegiate Championship Wildflower Triathlons and Festival at Lake San Antonio.

Oliver, a mechanical engineering senior, finished the triathlon with a time of 9:35.25.

The Wildflower's first three-winner with victories in 1988 and 1990, and other male pros were hampered at the nine-mile mark of the run and walked a mile off-course.

Brent Jones won in 1:41.17.

Naughton and Donna Peters. Hell led a first through fourth Mustangs sweep as he won in 1:34.26. Kevin Berkowitz was second, Casey Candace third and Scott Hempel fourth.

In the high jump, Aaron Maddock cleared 6-10 9/10 to take first, and fellow Mustang teammate Gabe Marrone placed fourth.

Cal Poly's Robin Campina won the women's high jump, soaring above 5-5.

Cal Poly's Brian Adamick triumphed in the pole vault by clearing 17-4 3/4, and Chris Thurston took fifth.

RECRUITS SIGN LETTERS WITH POLY

The Mustangs rally in the final inning, loading the bases with two outs before Scott Ferriera popped out.

Cal Poly hosts Cal State San Bernardino in a two-game series with first pitch coming at 12:30 p.m. on Friday and 3 p.m. on Saturday. The Mustangs close out the regular season May 14 and 15 at UC Riverside.

Four Cal Poly athletes recorded victories at UCLA's Kevin Berkowitz Invitational Saturday.

Team Captain from San Luis Obispo was the fastest relay team in 1:34.22, while Team SLO Roadrunners took third.

Saturday, the sports' professional triathletes battled in the long-course race, which was won by Anthony Naughton and Donna Peters.

Candace finished second in the 800 in 1:52.07 as UCLA's Bert Jones won in 1:41.17. Brain Dwayne Camille easily won the third 100-11, but Cal Poly's Jennifer Peters placed second (159-11).

Jennifer Lacovara finished the 3,000 in 9:50.6 to put her third behind two BYU runners. But Cal Poly is scheduled to have this weekend off and next competes in the California Collegiate Athletic Association Championships May 14-15 at UC San Diego.

Cal Poly's Brian Adamick triumphed in the pole vault by clearing 17-4 3/4, and Chris Thurston took fifth.