Area merchants predict robust business weekend

By Natasha Collins
Daily Staff Writer

With the hotels in San Luis Obispo fully booked, the Chamber of Commerce is having a difficult time answering phone calls and finding accommodations for the thousands of people expected at Cal Poly for the second annual Open House this weekend.

"All the rooms in San Luis Obispo are full," said Terry Bothwell, an information specialist from the Chamber of Commerce. "We were anticipating about 7,000 rooms in San Luis Obispo have been filled for more than a month, people have been arriving and we've turned people away for over a month," Bothwell said.

SACRAMENTO — Henry Voss resigned as state agricultural secretary Tuesday, saying that a controversy over his failure to report income from farming interests was hurting his department.

Voss, who has headed the 2,000-employee, $200-million Department of Food and Agriculture for six years under two gubernatorial administrations, was considering a campaign for the Republican nomination for governor.

"The controversy must be removed for the Department of Agriculture to continue effectively. (Remaining) would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California. It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his con­fidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family­ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

SACRAMENTO — Henry Voss resigned as state agricultural secretary Tuesday, saying that a controversy over his failure to report income from farming interests was hurting his department.

Voss, who has headed the 2,000-employee, $200-million Department of Food and Agriculture for six years under two governors, denied any wrongdoings by the Fair Political Practices Commission to continue so it would clear his name.

"I'm not going to go on where he got that bad advice, where he got that bad thinking," he said, adding that remaining "would be effective. (Remaining) would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been sloppy" about disclosing potential conflict-of-interest situations.

The Republican governor issued a written statement Tuesday accepting Voss' resignation "with regret, and with gratitude for his service." But Wilson's statement adding that "remaining would be unfair to agriculture and unfair to the people of California.

It's time for the department to move forward. It's time for me to bow out of public life and return to the farm," Voss told a news conference.

He said neither Wilson nor anyone in his administration asked for his resignation.

"He pressured me of his confidence. He did whisper, the best he could, his total support," Voss said of meeting Monday with the governor, who had surgery last Friday on his right vocal cord.

Wilson last week said he was "not pleased" with Voss' failure to disclose income from two family-ly agricultural businesses and that it appeared that Voss "has been slopp
Aid needed for local family

The San Luis Obispo Firefighters Association is seeking support to aid the Diaz family. The family's home was severely damaged in a fire April 11. The family is now without a place to live and they are in need of everything from appliances to furniture. The association is seeking donations. For more information, call Mike Ward at 781-7380. If you would like to make a cash donation, contact Great Western Bank on Chorro Street in San Luis Obispo. The account is called the San Luis Obispo Firefighters Association for the benefit of the Diaz family.

TODAY

Resume and Cover Letter Workshop • The workshop will be held in Career Services, Room 224. Sign up in advance. 1-2 p.m.

Co-Op and Summer Job Workshop • The workshop will be held in Career Services, Room 224. Sign up in advance. 2-3 p.m.

College of Engineering Council Meeting • UU 220, 5 p.m.

Lecture on American Indian Month • Joe and Margie Talouga, Chumash tribe members, will speak on "American Indians as Mascots," Bishop Lounge, 6 p.m.

THURSDAY

Interview Skills Workshop • The workshop will be held in Career Services, Room 224. Sign up in advance. 11 a.m. to noon.

"Islam in America: Should we fear it?" • Sponsored by the Islamic Society of San Luis Obispo and the Muslim Student Association, Bldg. 52-E27, 8 p.m.

Get Extra Credit!
The Golden 1 Credit Union's Student Pack of financial services is designed to provide full-time university and college students with the best and most-needed financial services. Once you're a member of The Golden 1, you can apply for the Student Pack and get the extra credit you deserve with the following products:

The Golden 1 Student Pack Report Card

A Low-Cost Student Visa® Card in Your Name! - Plus a 1% rebate

A Checking Account with no monthly service charge and your first box of Custom Image checks FREE – Plus a $20 line of credit for overdraft protection!

A ATM card for accessing your accounts or getting cash 24 hours a day at ATMs throughout the state.

Membership in The Golden 1 Credit Union is open to all California state employees, faculty, staff, and students of the University of California and California State University systems and to members of their families. To learn if you're eligible, call us at 1-800-448-8181.

The California Farm Bureau, which Voss headed for eight years before his appointment by then-Gov. George Deukmejian, issued a statement praising Voss and saying that it was "a travesty" that Voss was forced to resign.

"Henry Voss, we thank you for your service. We are saddened by your decision but understand it and wish you well," Farm Bureau President Bob Vice said.

OPEN HOUSE: Visitors desperately search for places to stay

According to Jonni Biaggini of the San Luis Obispo Chamber of Commerce, this is a really big event . . . one of the really big events of the year for both Poly and the county. The large crowds to cause any unusual problems for the community.

"It was a busy weekend last year," Gardiner said. "We don't foresee any problems this year however. It should be a normal spring weekend and we've scheduled a normal work force."

"The town is going to be taken over," Bothwell said. "This is a really big event . . . one of the biggest of the year."

Even though large crowds can often equate to problems for local law enforcement officials, San Luis Obispo Police Chief Jim Gardiner said he is not expecting the large crowds to cause any unusual problems for the community.

"There was no intent to mislead. There was no intent to hide," added Voss' attorney, Ben Davidian.

Davidian said Voss' amended statements of economic interests would reveal considerably less than the $450,000 reported in news accounts, which he said came from a misunderstanding of Voss' share of family businesses.

The amended statements released Tuesday did not give exact dollar amounts of his farm income, but reported three sources of farm income in excess of $10,000 each, which is the highest income bracket for disclosure, in three years, and two sources in excess of $10,000 in the other three years.

Voss said he did not believe that two other department officials who also failed to declare smaller amounts of farm income should resign, because their errors were also unintentional and their expertise is valuable.

The California Farm Bureau, which Voss headed for eight years before his appointment by then-Gov. George Deukmejian, issued a statement praising Voss and saying that it was "a travesty" that Voss was forced to resign.

"Henry Voss, we thank you for your service. We are saddened by your decision but understand it and wish you well," Farm Bureau President Bob Vice said.

OPEN HOUSE: Visitors desperately search for places to stay

According to Jonni Biaggini of the San Luis Obispo Chamber of Commerce, this is a really big event . . . one of the really big events of the year for both Poly and the community.

"Open House is a wonderful event for both Poly and the community," said Bothwell. "It should be a good weekend for everyone."
From page 1

From page 1
carnage" and claimed that law enforcement sources said he had no plans to kill black students to stop Freaknik.

That spurred Councilman Michael Bond, who is also black, to comment: "I personally do not believe that the atrocities people committed are responsible. The main reason is that they are predicted to happen."

Mayor Bill Campbell, a black man who has heard himself called "an Uncle Tom" and worse in recent weeks, early on imposed a silence on the incident. Morton was reimbursed by the city's insurance agency, and City Hall politicians agreed to pay $12,000 in fines to the Hard Rock Cafe chain.

"It was an accounting error," Morton said, "not a personal error," Morton said, "not donating more to him than what the law allowed."

"It was a matter of concern to him not to do anything that would violate the law," said Woo, "not to pay the law."

But Morton did, in total, contribute $9,250 to Woo, Councilman Kate Holden and council candidate Daniel Pritikin in 1993.

That followed a Jan. 30 letter from presidents of Atlanta's six predominantly black colleges to all school systems discouraging Freaknik.

Some popular restaurants will close this weekend, many resid­ents say they will leave town, and the National Guard has rescheduled some monthly drill sessions to this weekend.

"I really feel it's overkill," said Charles E. Jones, chairman of the Georgia State University's African-American Studies Program. "It shows a lack of sensitivity to racial dynamics."

There are more parallels for Atlanta in the 1989 experience of Virginia Beach, Va., where a crackdown on black college stu­dents coming for Freakfest touched off riots.

"We can only hope the outcome will be different here," Jones said.

Patrick, the Florida A&M stu­dent who is news editor of The Florida A&M newspaper recently sampled opinions from around the country and found that the furor over Freaknik "just made students want to go more."

"Like it or not," he said, "Freaknik lives."

DONATIONS: Technology is rapidly changing

From page 1
system is unique because it is the first full-color water system.

According to the graphic com­munication department, "It requires nothing but water for processing," Levenson said. "This is more expensive."

This is also true of the new technology.

"It can't be used in place of cameras. The main advantage is cost. It is less expensive."

According to University Graphic Systems (UGS) employee and graphic com­munication senior Adria Buch­wit, the department will be using the DuPont system for proofing.

Not only has the department been bombarded with donations, but new technology has changed the face of the cur­riculum.

Asking to Levenson, the technology in the Graphic Com­munication Department is rapid­ly changing. Because of this, Cal Poly graduates will have experience working with both old and new technology, Levenson said.

While the department still uses the older equipment be­cause the industry uses many types of technology, other more technologically-advanced equip­ment has been donated to the department.

The Japanese company Shinan, known as Screen in the United States, donated $240,000 worth of cutting-edge equipment to the university.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner for larger paper and higher-quality photos.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner to the university for larger paper and higher-quality photos.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner for larger paper and higher-quality photos.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner for larger paper and higher-quality photos.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner for larger paper and higher-quality photos.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner for larger paper and higher-quality photos.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner for larger paper and higher-quality photos.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner for larger paper and higher-quality photos.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner for larger paper and higher-quality photos.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner for larger paper and higher-quality photos.

According to Levenson, the department is now using scanners in place of cameras. The department also gave a $240,000 Scitex scanner for larger paper and higher-quality photos.
Top 30 Reasons why Captain Janeway is cooler than Kirk or Picard.

(For the unwashed heathens among you, Catherine Janeway is captain of the Voyager, the first Intrepid class starship.)

29. Voyager will never have to be saved by a brat (re: "Trekker, please offer your support," April 17).
28. If she ran across a Greek god, she wouldn't need him (re: "Feminists do nothing," April 10).
27. Janeway's not afraid to use diplomacy, and she still obey her (re: "Food for nothing?" April 18).
25. Her chief medical officer is a full Vulcan.
24. Her chief security officer is a full Vulcan.
23. Janeway takes orders from nobody.
22. Some nightgowns and late-night emergencies.
21. Her chief of staff is not a woman.
20. She would never get captured by the Borg.
19. Janeway doesn't need a toupee.
18. Janeway would never get involved with a green-haired alien. Or several of them.
17. Her Vulcan would never get his brain stolen.
16. Her chief security officer is a full Vulcan.
15. She gets along with a certain pun.
14. Voyager has a cloaking device.
12. She's in touch with her feminine side.
11. Her Vulcan would never get his brain stolen.
10. She's in touch with her feminine side.
9. Voyager's red alert doesn't bleet.
8. Janeway is not secretly attracted to her chief counselor, and Voyager's morale is still higher than.
7. She will throw her officers in the brig.
6. She would never get captured by the Borg.
5. Janeway would never get involved with a green-haired alien. Or several of them.
4. If she were a stolen planet, the Borg would still be paying for school 20 years from now.
3. Voyager was even closer to Starfleet Academy.
2. Jesus was God in human form (John 1).
1. Voyager is cooler than Kirk or Picard.

Conflicting views cannot be equally true.

4. The only way to God is through Jesus (Acts 4:12). Someone who takes these axioms to be true (assuming our system is the universe) cannot take another contradictory set of axioms to be true and expect any progress. Since no other belief system can take these axioms to be true (for if it did, it would be Christian), Christianity cannot be said to be tolerant of other religious views. This does not mean Christians should not listen and learn about other beliefs. Indeed, part of loving one another is attempting to see through another's eyes and understand their viewpoint. But to say two systems that contradict each other (such as Thesenia and Christianity) both valid in a logical absurdity. Either one is true, or they are both false.
You're invited ... Saturday, April 22, 1995
to Cal Poly's Second Annual Open House

"Avenues of Innovation... Roads to Discovery"
9:00 am to 4:00 pm
Open to students, alumni, parents, supporters, and the community
Admission is free!
Parking will be a challenge. We strongly encourage you to walk, ride a bike, or ride the bus.

Opening Ceremonies 9:00- 9:30 on Dexter Lawn with President Warren Baker and San Luis Obispo Mayor Allen Settle

Information Booths located on Dexter Lawn; near Ag. Science Bld. 11; and by the Mustang between Administration and the University Union.

Carnival: over 150 club and organizational booths with food, concessions, educational displays, and fun located throughout the campus

Mainstage events on Dexter Lawn happening all day

Special Events: Rodeo, Guest speakers, Talent shows, Bandfest

Student Affairs and University Union Plaza fair

OPEN HOUSE OFFICE
UNIVERSITY UNION 209
CAL POLY STATE UNIVERSITY
SAN LUIS OBISSO, CA 93407
805/756-7576
MONTANA: Four-time Super Bowl Champion considered one of the greatest quarterbacks ever to play the game.

From page 8 and Dwight Clark, executives from the 49ers and Chiefs, friends and relatives.

"Joe Montana had a gift for the game of football that made him one of the greatest quarterbacks ever, and perhaps the best of all time," NFL commissioner Paul Tagliabue said in a statement. "He epitomized what it means to be a winner and the best at what you do. He created memories that will live forever in NFL history."

Steve Young, the man who took Montana's job on the 49ers, wasn't invited. But if he felt snubbed, he didn't reveal it. "I've had nothing but respect for Joe for years," Young said from his home on the eve of the ceremony. "Our relationship was kind of like an older brother, younger brother thing. In the backyard, we'd be competing hard, bloodying our noses, fighting for dominance. Look, let's face it, we both wanted the same job. We both wanted to play. We're competitors. But when the games came, we were always pulling for each other and working with each other. In all the years we were teammates, we never had an argument or even a cross word between us."

Calling Montana the greatest quarterback he'd ever seen, Young said the retirement announcement was an occasion to think about what Montana meant to football.

"It's a time for me to reflect on all those great moments when I was standing on the sidelines with my jaw open, staring at something impossible he'd just done," Young said. "I'd be completely amazed by the way he could find an open man, or see a crack in the defense, or take the team on some last-minute drive. There was no one who could do that like him, time after time."

Four NFL championships, three Super Bowl MVPs and an armful of records might be enough to qualify Montana as the best quarterback ever.

Montana's comebacks from injuries — his medical chart is thicker than his football gear — were always amazing, but his escapes from seemingly labored through. His camaraderie with younger brother thing. In the backyard, we'd be competing hard, bloodying our noses, fighting for dominance. Look, let's face it, we both wanted the same job. We both wanted to play. We're competitors. But when the games came, we were always pulling for each other and working with each other. In all the years we were teammates, we never had an argument or even a cross word between us."

Calling Montana the greatest quarterback he'd ever seen, Young said the retirement announcement was an occasion to think about what Montana meant to football.

"It's a time for me to reflect on all those great moments when I was standing on the sidelines with my jaw open, staring at something impossible he'd just done," Young said. "I'd be completely amazed by the way he could find an open man, or see a crack in the defense, or take the team on some last-minute drive. There was no one who could do that like him, time after time."

Four NFL championships, three Super Bowl MVPs and an armful of records might be enough to qualify Montana as the best quarterback ever.

Montana's comebacks from injuries — his medical chart is thicker than his football gear — were always amazing, but his escapes from seemingly impossible he'd just done," Young said. "I'd be completely amazed by the way he could find an open man, or see a crack in the defense, or take the team on some last-minute drive. There was no one who could do that like him, time after time."

Four NFL championships, three Super Bowl MVPs and an armful of records might be enough to qualify Montana as the best quarterback ever.
ARRESTED?

Have you, a member of your family, or a friend been charged with a DUI or other criminal offense? If so, we know what you're going through and we can help.

For more info, or if you have urgent legal needs now, please contact us at...

DRINKING/DRIVING DEFENSE CENTER

1014 Palm Street • San Luis Obispo • (805) 543-7085

BEAT THE RENTAL RUSH III!

• Join now and be the first for summer/fall rentals
• Updates daily
• Apts., Houses, studios
• Mention this ad receive 5% off in April

Classified Computer • 543-0321

Fast Custom Printed

GRADUATION ANOUNCEMENTS

On Your Stationary

Pricing Starts As Only
$22.50 for Announcements

OGDEN'S Hallmark
894 Foothill • University Square
543-3305

College Clubs

Campus Clubs

Coffee and Open Mic Night

WEDNESDAY 7-10PM BLD 16 PM201

NEW UNITED MOTOR MANUFACTURERS

NUMMI

THURSDAY APRIL 23 1995
6:00PM IN BS 267

Potluck Committee

Gaming Committee Planning Meeting
Wednesday 8pm Bld 26 Room 504

Free Pizza & Soda

PORTUGUESE CULTURAL AND SOCIAL WED APRIL 19 BLD 25 RMN1 6-7PM

SCE

Nominations for 95-96 Officers
Conference Recap, Retirements
7:00 Meeting Thurs 1:15-1:45

SKI CLUB

Meeting Wednesday Bld 00 7:00
Look for OPEN HOUSE Booth
Trips include sisters ski and conventioneers trips
Trips to the US and Canada妆

The Cal Poly Ski & Snowboard Club will be giving free clinics and lessons during Spring quarter.
No home bound riding esp. now. Men's and Women's clinics available at 1pm-5pm of dates listed below

WANA LEARN ABOUT THE WEB?
FIND OUT WHAT ALL THE HYPE IS ABOUT AT THE NEXT SF MEETING
CHECK HERE FOR TIMES & LOCATION

Announcements

"HOMECOMING" INVOLVEMENT

Attention all interested students! Applications available are in the Career Center office. Due 4-16

PEPPER SPRAY

Get your Defense CA legal pepper spray and pepper spray on the lot! Discount on POWER LINE (805)783-1111.

PEPPER SPRAY

FREE FIREARMS ASSIST

Over $50 in private sector grants
All students are eligible
No experience necessary, parent's income. See below for more information

Religious, Civic, and Voluntary
Cash for college, 100% grants, no experience, 50%

FAX 100 S pixels only

EASIEST, FASTEST, EASIEST,

FOR FREE, SEE THE "HIPPIE GLOBAL BANK"

SPECIALS

FAMILY OWNED.

FOR SALE

1995 FENDER MUSTANG FOR SALE

$500 CALL 549-9525

FOR SALE

1990 HONDA CIVIC LX GREAT SHAPE!

$7000 OBO MORE INFO 545-9716

NEW CARS TO TRADE-IN OR LEASE

Rental Housing

60 CASA ST TOWNHOUSES NOW TAKING APPLICATIONS FOR SUMMER/AT-A-LAH Non-Smoker Quiet

College Garden Apartments

SAN LUIS OBISPO
Where You'll Receive Quality at an Affordable Price

Private Garage with parking

Nearby Restaurants

Basketball Court

Laundry Facilities

Close to Cal Poly

$79-267

1ST MONTH RENT (with a signed lease)

864 E. Chorro St

544-3582

DOWNTOWN 3BD 2BA CONDO SHARKEY POOL SPA PARKING 5/15/95

FEMALE ROOMMATE WANTED

875 S. II MAIN ROOM FEMALE USE ONLY

FEMALE ROOMMATES WANTED

520 S. MAIN ROOMS NEAR POLY, WALK TO POLY, GAS, TRASH, PAY CALL 541-2856

For Sale

PANASONIC VS-C PALM CAMCORDER

$3000 VALUE, W/ BOX, $1750 OS

FOR SALE IN CALIFORNIA

A P R I L 1 0 - 2 2
1 0 A M - 4 P M

JOSTENS

COLLEGE GRADUATION CRESTS

A L A S K A SUMMER EMPLOYMENT-Fishing

Prim. Starlings Only

On Our Shelf

GMAT 72 Pts

LSAT 7.5 Pts

CLASSIFIED

TO ADVERTISE IN MUSTANG DAILY CLASSIFIEDS, CALL 756-1140
Sports

By Steve Wilstein
Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO — Words and emotions mean so much, but they are not Joe Montana's style.

No regretting.

Bang him up and he'd bounce back. Give him the ball and he'd run it at 90 yards to negotiate and hell, I can make a worse one. He left lesser mortals to figure out.

For two decades, from Notre Dame to the San Francisco 49ers to the Kansas City Chiefs, Montana played with a rare combination of grace and grit that made him not only a four-time Super Bowl champion, but one of America's most beloved athletes.

No one could do anything except give up, until now.

With his wife Jennifer and their four children at his side, with thousands of fans watching an outdoor plaza to say goodbye on a cloudy Wednesday, Montana retired at age 38 in a nationally televised ceremony.

Looking youthful in a brown suit that the wind threatened to blow off by a breeze off San Francisco Bay, Montana thanked the San Francisco 49ers for being his home as they chanted, "One more year, Joe!"

"I really have to say, over the years, you fared and the crowds at Candlestick have overwhelmed us many times, but this beats it all," he said. "I thank you all from the bottom of my heart."