A group of 17 high school students from Taiwan gathered around in front of the English building as they get a tour of the Cal Poly campus and exposure to American culture. / Daily photo by Jessica Yamada

Students from Taiwan take on Poly

By Jessica Yamada
Staff Writer

It's hard enough for some students to graduate from Cal Poly, but imagine how hard it would be if English were your second language.

Six years ago, Shirley Pao came to the United States from Taiwan knowing very little English. Now, she's a business and international marketing senior, and will graduate from Cal Poly next year.

With determination and hard work, Pao was able to come here and study English to pass the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL).

Passing the test, a requirement for all international students who want to attend American colleges, made Pao eligible to enroll at Cuesta College, and eventually at Cal Poly.

"It was difficult to pass the TOEFL test. But that was the easier part. Going to school is even harder," Pao said.

"At first I was very frustrated, but it's worth it to come here," Pao said. "I've seen a lot of differences between people, which is interesting because in Taiwan, everyone is the same."

"Here, people have an open view about everything. Back home, it's much more conservative. Not only have I improved my English, but I also learned to respect different cultures and different people," Pao said.

Bill Abdelt, president of the California Coast Language Academy, is organizing the visit for the students from Taiwan. Although this is not an official Cal Poly function, he said, there are many other Poly students involved.

Ben Rothstein, a first-year English graduate student, is one of the teachers introducing the students to the TOEFL test. He said the language barrier has been his biggest challenge so far.

Rothstein and the other

By Pete Test
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — White House aides dealing with Whitewater were speculating Wednesday that they dare approach a state bank regulator to "make sure her story is OK." It was touchy business, one said — if it came out they "were done."

It came out Thursday, two years later, at a Senate Whitewater Committee hearing. Months after the committee had asked for them, the White House turned over handwritten jottings taken by Mark Gearan, who was President Clinton's communications director at the time the meeting was held, on Jan. 7, 1994. A week earlier, Justice Department prosecutor had been appointed to take over the criminal investigation of Whitewater.

White House lawyer Jane Sherborne told the committee Thursday that the notes had been hard to locate because Gearan inadvertently took them with him when he left the White House to run the Peace Corps last September.

One area under discussion in the meeting of presidential aides: First Lady Hillary Rodham Clin­ton's contact with Arkansas securities commission Beverly Bassett Schafer about whether the savings and loan at the center of Whitewater could issue stock.

Schafer concluded the S&L — represented by Mrs. Clinton's law firm — could indeed do so. Schafer had said during the 1992 presidential campaign she wasn't pressured by Mrs. Clinton and had only one conversation with her.

According to Gearan's notes, the aides at the meeting, and it was, Schafer's and Rodham's aides, including new deputy chief of staff, debated whether Clinton should take the responsibility.

By Valerie Ardeles
Daily Staff Writer

Cal Poly Campus Dining was recently awarded the 1995 Waste Reduction Award Program (W.R.A.P.) award by the California Integrated Waste Management Board for its recycling efforts.

Campus Dining was named as one of the 305 statewide 1995 W.R.A.P. recipients, the only winner in this county.

"It feels real good," said Director of Campus Dining Alan B. Kushman "I feel real good for the staff for working so hard and doing the right thing.

The award is presented to winners for their voluntary efforts to reduce, reuse and recycle in order to improve the environment. This is the first time Campus Dining has applied for the award.

Campus Dining began its recycling program in 1988, Kushman said.

"We... recycle a lot of products such as cardboard, polystyrene, glass, cans, plastics and aluminum," Kushman said.

The program started primarily because of personal feelings of the Campus Dining staff about the importance of recycling, Kushman said, noting that he has been recycling since he was in high school.

"It's something I've always believed in," he said.

Shortly after Campus Dining started its program, the California Integrated Waste Management Act passed. The act, passed in 1989, mandated that cities reduce waste by 25 percent by 1995 and by 50 percent by 2000. Failure to comply could result in a fine of up to $10,000 a day.

"We were already working toward this (waste reduction)," Kushman said. "We're doing a significant part to help meet this."

"We're recycling 40 to 50 percent of our waste on campus.

The recycling of cardboard contributed to this figure.

To help with recycling cardboard, Campus Dining bought a bailer in the early 90's for approximately $9,000, Kushman said.

Before then, EcoSlo picked up Campus Dining's cardboard in a truck.

"We just needed a better program," Kushman said. "The trucks were always breaking down from the weight, the storage was unsightly and we weren't getting any money from EcoSlo for our cardboard.

"Now we bail our cardboard," Kushman said. "We get paid for the cardboard, and we get to pay for the bailer and labor.

The most recent addition to the program's recycled products is polystyrene. According to Kushman, this wasn't an easy addition to make.

"Polystyrene was our biggest headache," Kushman said. "It was difficult to find someone to recycle it. Finally, ECOLO agreed to recycle it for us."

However, ECOLO had a few conditions, one being that the Cal Poly football is wasting no time getting ready for next season.

By Bette Bassett Schafer about whether the savings and loan at the center of Whitewater could issue stock.

Schafer concluded the S&L — represented by Mrs. Clinton's law firm — could indeed do so. Schafer had said during the 1992 presidential campaign she wasn't pressured by Mrs. Clinton and had only one conversation with her.

According to Gearan's notes, the aides at the meeting, and it was, Schafer's and Rodham's aides, including new deputy chief of staff, debated whether Clinton should take the responsibility.

By Pete Test
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — White House aides dealing with Whitewater were speculating Wednesday that they dare approach a state bank regulator to "make sure her story is OK." It was touchy business, one said — if it came out they "were done."

It came out Thursday, two years later, at a Senate Whitewater Committee hearing. Months after the committee had asked for them, the White House turned over handwritten jottings taken by Mark Gearan, who was President Clinton's communications director at the time the meeting was held, on Jan. 7, 1994. A week earlier, Justice Department prosecutor had been appointed to take over the criminal investigation of Whitewater.

White House lawyer Jane Sherborne told the committee Thursday that the notes had been hard to locate because Gearan inadvertently took them with him when he left the White House to run the Peace Corps last September.

One area under discussion in the meeting of presidential aides: First Lady Hillary Rodham Clin­ton's contact with Arkansas securities commission Beverly Bassett Schafer about whether the savings and loan at the center of Whitewater could issue stock.

Schafer concluded the S&L — represented by Mrs. Clinton's law firm — could indeed do so. Schafer had said during the 1992 presidential campaign she wasn't pressured by Mrs. Clinton and had only one conversation with her.

According to Gearan's notes, the aides at the meeting, and it was, Schafer's and Rodham's aides, including new deputy chief of staff, debated whether Clinton should take the responsibility.

By Pete Test
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — White House aides dealing with Whitewater were speculating Wednesday that they dare approach a state bank regulator to "make sure her story is OK." It was touchy business, one said — if it came out they "were done."

It came out Thursday, two years later, at a Senate Whitewater Committee hearing. Months after the committee had asked for them, the White House turned over handwritten jottings taken by Mark Gearan, who was President Clinton's communications director at the time the meeting was held, on Jan. 7, 1994. A week earlier, Justice Department prosecutor had been appointed to take over the criminal investigation of Whitewater.

White House lawyer Jane Sherborne told the committee Thursday that the notes had been hard to locate because Gearan inadvertently took them with him when he left the White House to run the Peace Corps last September.

One area under discussion in the meeting of presidential aides: First Lady Hillary Rodham Clin­ton's contact with Arkansas securities commission Beverly Bassett Schafer about whether the savings and loan at the center of Whitewater could issue stock.

Schafer concluded the S&L — represented by Mrs. Clinton's law firm — could indeed do so. Schafer had said during the 1992 presidential campaign she wasn't pressured by Mrs. Clinton and had only one conversation with her.

According to Gearan's notes, the aides at the meeting, and it was, Schafer's and Rodham's aides, including new deputy chief of staff, debated whether Clinton should take the responsibility.
From page 1

polystyrene had to be extremely clean," Kushman said.

“We use chicken wire cages to hold the polystyrene waste and we hosed it off until it was
clean," Kushman said.

Campus Dining not only recycles what it uses, but also purchases recycled products.

“We can purchase all kinds of things that are made of recycled products," Kushman said, noting that napkins are one recycled product that Campus Dining purchases.

“We’re always looking to purchase additional things that are made of recycled products," he said.

Although pleased with the progress Campus Dining has made in recycling, Kushman said he hopes to go further and he encouraged others to recycle.

“We’re persevering to make this work, but we still have to go further," Kushman said. "This planet is ours and is going to be our children’s. Recycling is a mind-set and habit that we all need to get into."

Students can contribute to recycling, too.

One way Kushman suggested is for students to make sure they don’t contaminate recycling bins by putting non-recyclable items in them.

Students can also help by volunteering to pick up bins.

“We need more bins around Campus Dining to collect them all."

“At one point in the meeting, Gearan scribbles, ‘Try to poke holes in their story.’ At another point, Ickes is quoted as saying, ‘item by item — make sure her story is OK.’”

From page 1

Washington should approach
Schaefer. In the end, Clinton advisers were simply seeking to influence the statements of a White House witness.

But White House spokesman Mark Fabiani said presidential aides were simply seeking to have Schaefer repeat comments she made that were supportive of
Mrs. Clinton’s Whitewater role.
WASHINGTON — Federal regulators cleared the way Thursday for The Walt Disney world's largest media company, creating the last hurdle to the $19 billion deal. The commission voted 5-0 to remove the radio stations and a newspaper property in each of the 20 markets. Each market has more than 50 separately owned broadcast outlets, they said.

Quello said the FCC’s newspaper-broadcast rules “no longer reflect the realities of the marketplace.”

Federal regulations prohibit one company from owning a newspaper and a radio station in the same market. Legislation overhauling the nation’s telecommunication laws, which President Clinton signed Thursday, would not change that.

Capital Cities/ABC Inc., creating the last hurdle to the $19 billion deal. The commission won’t let Disney’s newspaper-publishing arms be part of the deal.

The commission might be able to keep the Fort Worth and Pontiac-Detroit properties. The FCC said it would re-examine its newspaper-broadcast cross­ ownership rules within the year.

"We hope that it will allow us to retain the properties in the two cities," said Disney chief Michael Eisner, who otherwise applauded the FCC’s action.

Even though all five commissioners voted to clear the deal, two of them - James Quello and Rachelle Choong - opposed the FCC’s decision not to let Disney's Fort Worth and Pontiac-Detroit properties be part of the deal.

Both said there is ample media competition in the two markets. Each market has more than 50 separately owned broadcast outlets, they said.

"If you can incorporate grammar and learning with games, it makes it more fun for everyone," Rothstein said. The students from Taiwan are also interacting with Cal Poly students, who are working toward their Teaching English as a Second Language (TESL) certificate in an English 498 practical assignments class.

"While the foreign students learn English, Poly students get hands-on experience with students from other cultures. Everyone benefits," Abbott said.

Abbott said other activities on the agenda are visiting local high schools, interacting with teens in the area and learning about American culture.

The students' best experience of American culture may happen after their schoolwork is done. At the end of the day, they will go to their homestay families who will be housing each of them for the two weeks.

COUNCIL: Development would be outside urban development boundaries

"While the foreign students learn English, Poly students get real hands-on experience with students from other cultures. Everyone benefits," Abbott said.

Abbott said other activities on the agenda are visiting local high schools, interacting with teens in the area and learning about American culture.

The students' best experience of American culture may happen after their schoolwork is done. At the end of the day, they will go to their homestay families who will be housing each of them for the two weeks.

Ingrid English of Gulliver's Travel is housing two of the teenage students.

"My family loves to travel and our children enjoy meeting people from all over the world. It's a good learning experience to have them stay with us," English said.

Abbott said their trip will not be all work and no play. They already went to Universal Studios and Disneyland.

COUNCIL: Development would be outside urban development boundaries

"While the foreign students learn English, Poly students get real hands-on experience with students from other cultures. Everyone benefits," Abbott said.

Abbott said other activities on the agenda are visiting local high schools, interacting with teens in the area and learning about American culture.

The students' best experience of American culture may happen after their schoolwork is done. At the end of the day, they will go to their homestay families who will be housing each of them for the two weeks.

Ingrid English of Gulliver's Travel is housing two of the teenage students.

"My family loves to travel and our children enjoy meeting people from all over the world. It's a good learning experience to have them stay with us," English said.

Abbott said their trip will not be all work and no play. They already went to Universal Studios and Disneyland.

COUNCIL: Development would be outside urban development boundaries

"While the foreign students learn English, Poly students get real hands-on experience with students from other cultures. Everyone benefits," Abbott said.

Abbott said other activities on the agenda are visiting local high schools, interacting with teens in the area and learning about American culture.

The students' best experience of American culture may happen after their schoolwork is done. At the end of the day, they will go to their homestay families who will be housing each of them for the two weeks.

Ingrid English of Gulliver's Travel is housing two of the teenage students.

"My family loves to travel and our children enjoy meeting people from all over the world. It's a good learning experience to have them stay with us," English said.

Abbott said their trip will not be all work and no play. They already went to Universal Studios and Disneyland.
In the blank of an eye...

Editor

The so-called "Decency Act" has such broad language that our right of freedom of speech guaranteed under the first amendment is in grave danger. Many people are protesting this frightening attempt to muzzle free speech by making their web home pages "black." If you have a web page or are thinking of making one, you too can join the protest.

By putting a following command line in your web pages, either at the start of the page or after the 'Decency Act' which attempts to censor freedom of speech.

It is my opinion that eventually much of the "Decency Act" will be declared unconstitutional. However, between now and then many people may suffer fines or even imprisonment for voicing their opinions electronically. I oppose this and feel that our right of freedom of speech guaranteed under the first amendment is in grave danger.
Softball team opens season this weekend

By Reini Sklor
Daily Staff Writer

Looking out into a field of aspirations, the Cal Poly softball team steps up to the plate and a challenging new season.

The team has some big cleats to fill, after being ranked in the top 25 last season, out of 190 Division I teams nationally, and reaching 16th in the National Softball Coaches Association-USA Today Poll.

Coach Lisa Boyer said last year's team played with steadfast determination.

"I attribute their success to dedication," Boyer said. "We had a group of players who worked extremely hard."

That great effort continues, as a fresh group of players joined the veterans of last season for muscle pumping practices throughout fall quarter and January.

The team consists of two seniors, two juniors, six sophomores, and seven freshmen.

Pitcher and business sophomore Desarie Knipfer said this year's team and the previous season's are alike in that they are both young and hard working.

"We went into last year thinking that it would be a good learning experience, but it turned into so much more," Knipfer said. "It looks the same way this year."

Softball takes time and discipline, but the team's unity is one of the most rewarding aspects, said outfielder Jenny Lee.

"Practices are difficult, but so far it has been great," Lee said. "I always look forward to being with the team."

The relatively young group has its eye on the ball and a return trip to the playoffs, Boyer said.

"The team expects to go to the playoffs," she said. "If we play well consistently and as a unit we can have a very successful season."

Expectations meet reality on Saturday, when the team faces UC Santa Barbara in a double header. Cal Poly beat the Gauchos two out of the three games last year.

"They have recruited some new players," Boyer said. "Saturday's games should be very good."

The relatively young group has its eye on the ball and a return trip to the playoffs, Boyer said.

"The team expects to go to the playoffs," she said. "If we play well consistently and as a unit we can have a very successful season."

Expectations meet reality on Saturday, when the team faces UC Santa Barbara in a double header. Cal Poly beat the Gauchos two out of the three games last year.

"They have recruited some new players," Boyer said. "Saturday's games should be very good."

The team seems to be focused and excited to play by watching them practice, Boyer said. The players said that competing with Santa Barbara will provide a strong foundation for their season.

"The game will give us a chance to prove that we've worked really hard and are ready," Lee said. "It will be fun to see how we do."

"It's a test to start out strong and see where the rest of our year is headed," Knipfer said.

Women's tennis face Santa Clara Saturday at home

By Peggy Curtin
Daily Staff Writer

The women's tennis team is hoping to rack up win number two when they host the Santa Clara Broncos Saturday.

The Mustangs are just coming off their first win of the season, a 6-3 victory over Idaho, following five tough matches against UC Santa Barbara, Washington State, Boise State, Northern Arizona and New Mexico.

"I'm not satisfied with our record," Women's Head Coach Rob Rios said. "We've been the underdog in most of our matches so far. Hopefully, things will turn around starting Saturday."

Last year, Cal Poly defeated Santa Clara soundly, 8-1.

This year the two teams have played a common opponent, in Idaho, which shut out the Broncos 6-0.

"I think if everyone focuses on their game, we should get the job done," Rios said.

The key matchup against the Broncos will be at No. 1 singles with Cal Poly's Kristen Simpson and Santa Clara's Lindsey Coker, who both have very contrasting styles.

The Mustangs will be without No. 4 singles player, Allison Light, who has one win in both singles and doubles. As a result,
Football

From page 8

Pacific.
- Defensive Lineman Brandon Elliott (6-4, 240) from St. Bonaventure High School.
- Defensive Lineman Chris Rainey (6-0, 200) from the University of Pacific.
- Linebacker Kamasi Calvin (6-2, 235) from Moorpark College.
- Defensive End Rico Felice (6-2, 250) from Gavilan Junior College.
- Defensive End John Hewitt (6-3, 255) from Calaveras Junior College.
- Defensive End Brent McKeel (6-4, 210) from Westchester High School.
- Defensive End Steven Prejean (6-2, 230) from Loyola High School.
- Defensive Back Kiko Griffin (6-0, 195) from Cal State LA.
- Defensive Back Curtis Thomas (5-11, 185) from Laney Junior College.

Design Engineers, Product Engineers, Software Engineers Wanted!

Get complete monthly updated job listings from 20 of Silicon Valley's top Electronic Manufacturing companies delivered to your doorstep now. Our job listings contain thousands of detailed job descriptions from engineering, manufacturing, design, management, etc. which will NEVER get posted in the newspapers. To get your neatly money order to SVJL, PO Box 8291, Fremont, CA 94537, c/o SLO.

YMCA Summer Employment

Yosemite Concession Services Corp.

Yosemite Concession Services Corp. offers you the opportunity to live & work in one of the world's most beautiful sites. The "Yosemite Experience" is a tradition of exceptional guest service. If you have the ability to work hard and smile, now is your chance to join our team.

A representative will be on campus Thursday, February 15th, 1996.

We will be accepting applications for a variety of positions in all areas of hospitality service in our hotels, restaurants, retail, recreational and support facilities. Housing available for applicant only.

For further information and an application contact your Career Placement Center. All Applicants will be subject to pre-employment drug testing.

Program Trainer

Yosemite Concession Services Corp.

Equal Opportunity Employer M/F/D

Program Trainees

Fireman's Fund Insurance Co.

Fireman's Fund, a leading property and casualty insurance company, is seeking grads to work as Program Trainees at its home office in Novato, CA (30 miles north of San Francisco).

After a structured training program, you will be responsible, as part of a team, for developing automated solutions to complex business challenges and problems. This includes writing and analyzing programs in COBOL, "C" and 4GL for existing applications. We require a bachelor degree in MIS or Computer Science; minimum 3.0 GPA; two semesters of a programming language; and the ability to work with another's code and as a team member.

If you would like more information - as well as something to eat and drink - please join us on February 14th from 6:00 pm- 7:30 pm in the Sandwich Plant and sign up for an interview on February 15th.
Campus Clubs

GERMAN CLUB
FRIDAY FEST IN SPAIN CALL 804-335-740 FOR MORE INFO.

I.B.C.
MEETING EVERY THURS.
11:00AM 3-11-4
GUEST SPEAKERS FROM INTL.
COMPANIES INTO MOST EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES, STUDIES-ABROAD,
VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES.
PARTICIPATION IS ENCOURAGED.
THREE WAYS ARE WELCOME.

POLY REPS!
MANDATORY MTG
THE 2-73 4:00PM ALUMNI HOUSE

SBBS PRESENTS
BLACK PROFESSIONALS IN BUSINESS
AND INDUSTRY: AN ALUMNI PANEL
TUE 2/13 7-8:30pm ALUMNI HOUSE
AND INDUSTRY: AN ALUMNI PANEL
PARTIES AND MORE! ALL MAJORS have high academic standing, foreign CD's only $12.98 - Open M-Sat Till 8
Rotary Ambassadorial Scholarship preliminary app. call John Grace @ for the '97-'98 academic year! Must in spending ly r abroad, and official interview the last week of Feb. For COMICS 779 Marsh, 544-NEMO
Inquiries must be recvd by 2/15/96.
CITIZEN DOG
IN T H E BLEACHERS
by Steve Moore

NEWS OF A DREAM AFFAIR
by Joe Martin

MISTER BOFFO
by John Martin

"Don't make me guard the rottweiler," he said.
"I'm just a stinkin' poolede," he said.

"we should have listened to the little guy."
SPORTS

Cal Poly signs 20 recruits

By Jeff Deach

"Sign on the dotted line.

Those words were spoken around the country Wednesday by football coaches, as it was the first day student-athletes could officially sign a letter of intent. The letter determines where the recruit will play college ball for the next few years.

Cal Poly announced that 20 student-athletes had signed letters of intent to play football for the Mustangs next season with one more letter expected in the next few days.

Coach Head Coach Andre Patterson said most of the Division I schools around the country want their recruits to sign on the first day and was surprised by the turnout.

"This is the earliest this many student-athletes have signed their letters," Patterson said. "It allows us to focus more on the team and the players," Patterson said. He is proud of the job his coaching staff has done in recruiting some great individuals.

"They are not only good athletes, but good student-athletes as well," Patterson said.

According to Jim McNeil, director of Athletic Media Relations, Cal Poly will have 10 student-athletes coming out of high school this season and four transferring from the defunct University of Pacific program.

Of those coming out of high school, three are from San Luis Obispo County: Salinas, from Arroyo Grande High School and Chico, and Justin, both from Atascadero High School.

McEwan was named to the All-County and All-League teams in 1994 and 1995. He was also named to the All-CIF First Team and to the All-Region preseason team for Blue Chip Magazine, a national recruiting magazine for coaches, in 1995. He's pretty excited about playing for Cal Poly," McEwan said. "It's a big step up from high school.

McEwan said he chose Cal Poly because he liked the football program and the fact that his family could see him play.

In 1994, Loney was named to the All-County First Team, All-League team and was listed in All-CIF selection. He was San Luis Obispo County Player of the Year and Los Padres League Offensive Lineman of the Year.

"I feel good about my decision because (Cal Poly is) a nice campus and the coaches are great," Loney said. "The program is also on the rise."

Patterson said the recruiting process started for the Mustangs when they sent out more than 2,000 letters of intent.

Cal Poly had 52 recruits visit the campus during the three-day period. Twenty-nine students showed interest in Cal Poly and 13 of those 29 students have signed with the Mustangs.

"Loneo was listed as a Lineman Aniel Bautista (6-2, 280) from Citrus who has signed to play for Cal Poly."

"Offensive Lineman Glenn Rudy (6-5, 270) from Loyola High School."

"Wide Receiver John Goldston (5-11, 175) from Delano Central College."

"Running Back Craig Young (5-11, 190) from the University of Azusa."

SCHEDULE

TODAY'S GAMES

- Baseball vs. University of San Diego at USD, 3 p.m.
- Wrestling vs. Boise State University at Cal Poly, 7 p.m.
- Basketball vs. University of San Diego at USD, 1 p.m.
- Women's basketball vs. Southern Utah University at Southern Utah, 7:30 p.m.
- Men's basketball vs. Southern Utah University at Southern Utah, 7:30 p.m.
- Softball vs. U.C. Santa Barbara at Cal Poly, 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.
- Men's tennis vs. University of Nevada/Reno at Cal Poly, 1 p.m.
- Women's tennis vs. Santa Clara University at Cal Poly, 1 p.m.

SUNDAY'S GAMES

- Basketball vs. University of San Diego at USD, 3 p.m.
- Softball vs. Cal State Northridge at Cal Poly, 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.
- Men's tennis vs. Fresno State at Cal Poly, 1 p.m.

NATIONAL BRIEFS

Browns moving to Baltimore

Chicago (AP) - The NFL and the city of Cleveland agreed Thursday night on terms that will allow Art Modell to move the Browns to Baltimore.

Owners will vote Friday to ratify the agreement.

The agreement was reached in talks involving two NFL committees containing 12 owners. League spokesman Joe Browne said all 12 had agreed, meaning 11 more votes are needed when the proposition goes before all 30 teams.

Under the proposal, a new team would be in place in Cleveland by 1999 with the Browns immediately moving to Balti­more while leaving behind their name and colors.

The league also would provide about $48 million to Cleveland as a loan to help build a new stadium. It would be paid back by the New York Giants co-owner Robert Tisch. And while the Browns would lose a ticketing point in the negotiations, it could be in the ow­ners' meeting.

The approval of the Browns' move to Baltimore would come on the eve of a trial scheduled to begin Monday in Clevel­and on a suit the city filed against Model seeking to keep the team in town.

Even Cowboys owner Jerry Jones, who believes owners can do what they want without league interference, said, "I'm concerned about how meaningful my vote is, because I don't think we can keep them from moving."

Several measurements of the money were provided to Cleveland, which al­ready has $175 million from "taxes," a sum enough to help other cities with stadium problems.

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"I feel good about my decision because (Cal Poly is) a nice campus and the coaches are great. The pro­gram is also on the rise."

Dan Longe

Atascadero High School

MUSTANG DAILY

SPORTS HOTLINE (805) 756-SCOR