Poly Salvages Split: Women’s basketball falls to .500 in Big West, 8

After the Altar: Is wife rape a crime?, 6

TODAY’S WEATHER

High: 67°
Low: 39°

Students doing more than COUGHing

By Stacee Dorning

While cigarette smoking has already been outlawed in California bars and restaurants, a group of Cal Poly students are working to make California colleges smoke-free as well.

The Campus Advocacy and Mentorship Program has started a campaign to change smoking laws on California State University campuses.

The CSU Board of Trustees recently passed legislation that gives university presidents the power to pass smoking policies. The passing of this legislation has opened the door for student-run campaigns to promote anti-tobacco awareness campaigns, urging administrations to pass campus-wide smoking regulations.

Multiple Cal Poly and Cuesta College students have come together in the group COUGH, Campuses Organized and United for Good Health. COUGH is a MUSTANG DAILY STAFF WRITER

Manufacturing engineering junior Servando Diaz had a hard time coming to Cal Poly and finding himself in the racial minority.

By Dale Quinn

When manufacturing engineering junior Servando Diaz arrived at his dorm room, he found his name taped to his door. While other students quickly made friends with their neighbors, Diaz said he noticed that his neighbors would pass his room upon reading his name.

“The Internet just tells me, and they were judging me by name alone,” he said.

They didn’t even know me, and they were judging me by name alone,” he said.

He grew up on a farm outside Los Banos, where he interacted primarily with other Hispanics, but at Cal Poly he found himself in the minority. This, and the pressure of being away from home, seemed too much for him.

Before school had started, he considered leaving Cal Poly.

On the first day, I called my parents and said I couldn’t do it,” Diaz said.

Diaz’s story is not unique. Most minority students who come to Cal Poly face similar challenges.

Black History Month

See MONTH, page 2

Forum addresses black struggles

By Paige Havercroft

A decades-old celebration of the black experience will have a twist this year, as speakers address problems still plaguing many black Americans.

A four-part lecture series entitled “The Color Policy: The War on Drugs” will address issues ranging from the impact drug convictions have on black communities to an analysis of how prison exploits the indigent and people of color.

The series will begin with an open-discussion setting, said Tiffani Hamilton, animal science senior and Multicultural Center (MCC) student coordinator.

All speeches will be held in Phillips Hall in the Christopher Cohan Center for free and will be open to the public.

The genesis of the series came out of a three-day conference organized by the Drug Policy Alliance.

Ethnic studies professor Charles Cheney attended.

“The conference really inspired me because there was a lot I didn’t even know about,” Cheney said. “It is devastating the impact the war on drugs has on black and brown communities.”

The program will begin with former ACLU attorney Alicia Young on Feb. 7 at 2 p.m. Young will discuss the consequences of felony drug convictions on black communities.

She was assigned to the ACLU’s National Drug Litigation Project, Hamilton said.

Other Black History Month events include “Another type of Groove,” an open-air night, in the Yosemite Hall lounge on Feb. 13. The M.C. will present “Taste of Africa” for the third consecutive year. Black students will be able to share their experiences in the Sun

Fraternity recruitment week starts today

By Paige Havercroft

Cal Poly’s 18 fraternities will be putting the best face on their organizations as representatives try to lure prospective members to their booths.

The wooden boxes are up in the University for fraternity recruitment week, which begins today and lasts through Feb. 15. An all-Greek barbecue for potential members will kick off events at 7 p.m. in the University Union.

The recruitment is the second such event of the academic year, the first being held during fall quarter.

The events are a way for those interested to learn more about each fraternity’s mission, said Interfraternity Council chairman and aerospace engineering junior James Callahan.

“The event is a way for Cal Poly guys to get acquainted with the Greek system,” he said.

After they become familiar with their fraternity of choice, those still interested will attend events ranging from bonfires, luau and casino nights, said Callahan, who himself is a member of Delta Chi.

There are no specific criteria set forth by the IFC. Each looks for different qualities, but all look for men the leaders feel will fit in, Callahan said.

“Each fraternity is looking for something different, but as a whole we just want good quality members who want to build friendships, be involved with intramural sports and social and philanthropy events,” he said.

Community involvement is key to the IFC’s mission, Callahan said. Volunteer activities include tutoring and raising money for various scholarship programs, he said.

“Many people think that frats are just about drinking and social events, but we do a lot of community work too,” said Callahan.

In fact, Callahan estimates that the Greek system performs about 90 percent of philanthropic work in San Luis Obispo County, which can make the experience beneficial in its members’ future endeavors.

“It is a good resume builder,” Callahan said. “People gain valuable experience for the job force when they take on leadership roles.

There are no specific criteria set forth by the IFC. Each looks for different qualities, but all look for men the leaders feel will fit in, Callahan said.

“Each fraternity is looking for something different, but as a whole we just want good quality members who want to build friendships, be involved with intramural sports and social and philanthropy events,” he said.

Community involvement is key to the IFC’s mission, Callahan said. Volunteer activities include tutoring and raising money for various scholarship programs, he said.

“Many people think that frats are just about drinking and social events, but we do a lot of community work too,” said Callahan.

In fact, Callahan estimates that the Greek system performs about 90 percent of philanthropic work in San Luis Obispo County, which can make the experience beneficial in its members’ future endeavors.

“It is a good resume builder,” Callahan said. “People gain valuable experience for the job force when they take on leadership roles.

see RUSH, page 2
MINORITIES
continued from page 1

About what they could call her. "I'm somewhat ashamed that I've been accustomed to the treatment and racism," Tribbett said. In her sophomore year, unwel­come and unhappy, Tribbett serious­ly considered leaving Cal Poly. But with the first increase of black stu­dent enrollment in years, she found the support group she needed. For many students like Duc and Tribbett, the MCC in the University... "If you can put up a sports complex, then you can spend more money to change campus climate," she said. For Duc, this means reaching out to as many Latino students as possible. Whenever he sees incoming freshmen, he encourages them to go to the MCC and find some­thing that interests them. Even with the efforts of students and the program of the MCC, it is difficult to tell if the campus cli­mate has improved. "It's hard to assess if things are better or worse, but I think there's room for improvement," Fabionar said. "I wouldn't characterize this as a healthy environment for stu­dents of color."

RUSH
continued from page 1

They can say they helped run a business. Recruitment week is a good way for the Greek system to break down negative stereotypes as well as find new members, he said.

T he p atent n umber fo r inventor John Standard per­ refrig erato r on July 14, 1891?

*Physics Colloquium - Dr. Rand Worland, from the University of Puget Sound Department of Physics, will speak on hologeraphic interferometry Today at 11 a.m.

in building 52, room E26.

*Intramural Tournament Sign Up - Students can sign up now at the Rec Center front desk for a table tennis tournament Wednesday, a bowling tournament

Feb. 20 and a whiffle ball tournament
March 8.

*IEEE BBQ - IEEE will host a BBQ Thursday on Dexter Lawn during UU Hour.

Louis Obispo community with other students. They will cook their favorite dishes and explain the sig­nificance in their background.

Based on previous years, organiz­ers expect the month's events to be successful. "Last year we had a really good turnour," Hamilton said. "The pro­gram was really well-received."

Black History Month events are sponsored by the MCC, the women's studies program and the cell development, psychology and political science departments, she said.

The roots of Black History Month can be traced to Dr. Carter G.
Woodson. Woodson established the Association for the Study of Afro­American Life and History and founded the Journal of Negro History. February is recognized as an impor­tant month for the American black population because it marks the birthdays of Frederick Douglass, Abraham Lincoln and W. E. B.
Dubois. The creation of the 15th Amendment and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People also took place this month, according to www.mustangdaily.calpoly.edu

SPECIAL SPRING BREAK PACKAGES

Includes RT air, airport/resort transfers, 7 nights at resort, schedule of tours, activities & side excursions. Prices quoted are quad occupancy.

Ask about many other options. Hawaii from $566; Acapulco from $629;
Cancun from $729; Montego Bay, Jamaica from $809. Also 5 day
Carnival Cruise, last call 2/3 for $205 quad, $230 double!

Book soon as Spring Break specials sell out quickly. Call, e-mail or see us today for all student discount travel.

Send your special someone a message to let them know you care.

TRAVELTIME / American Express

Phone: 783-7000 E-mail: slo@ttvm.com

Located in SLO at Broad & Marsh. Free Parking at the door

Send your special someone a message to let them know you care.

Valentine's Day

Terms: February 19, 2003

Be my Valentine

2 per line
30 characters in line

Deadline: Tuesday, February 19, 2003

Mustang Daily Classifieds
Bldg. 26, Room 226
750-1143

SPECIAL SPRING BREAK PACKAGES

Includes RT air, airport/resort transfers, 7 nights at resort, schedule of tours, activities & side excursions. Prices quoted are quad occupancy.

Ask about many other options. Hawaii from $566; Acapulco from $629;
Cancun from $729; Montego Bay, Jamaica from $809. Also 5 day
Carnival Cruise, last call 2/3 for $205 quad, $230 double!

Book soon as Spring Break specials sell out quickly. Call, e-mail or see us
today for all student discount travel.

TRAVELTIME / American Express

Phone: 783-7000 E-mail: slo@ttvm.com

Located in SLO at Broad & Marsh. Free Parking at the door

Send your special someone a message to let them know you care.

Valentine's Day

Terms: February 19, 2003

Be my Valentine

2 per line
30 characters in line

Deadline: Tuesday, February 19, 2003

Mustang Daily Classifieds
Bldg. 26, Room 226
750-1143

SPECIAL SPRING BREAK PACKAGES

Includes RT air, airport/resort transfers, 7 nights at resort, schedule of tours, activities & side excursions. Prices quoted are quad occupancy.

Ask about many other options. Hawaii from $566; Acapulco from $629;
Cancun from $729; Montego Bay, Jamaica from $809. Also 5 day
Carnival Cruise, last call 2/3 for $205 quad, $230 double!

Book soon as Spring Break specials sell out quickly. Call, e-mail or see us
today for all student discount travel.

TRAVELTIME / American Express

Phone: 783-7000 E-mail: slo@ttvm.com

Located in SLO at Broad & Marsh. Free Parking at the door

Send your special someone a message to let them know you care.

Valentine's Day

Terms: February 19, 2003

Be my Valentine

2 per line
30 characters in line

Deadline: Tuesday, February 19, 2003

Mustang Daily Classifieds
Bldg. 26, Room 226
750-1143

SPECIAL SPRING BREAK PACKAGES

Includes RT air, airport/resort transfers, 7 nights at resort, schedule of tours, activities & side excursions. Prices quoted are quad occupancy.

Ask about many other options. Hawaii from $566; Acapulco from $629;
Cancun from $729; Montego Bay, Jamaica from $809. Also 5 day
Carnival Cruise, last call 2/3 for $205 quad, $230 double!

Book soon as Spring Break specials sell out quickly. Call, e-mail or see us
today for all student discount travel.

TRAVELTIME / American Express

Phone: 783-7000 E-mail: slo@ttvm.com

Located in SLO at Broad & Marsh. Free Parking at the door

Send your special someone a message to let them know you care.

Valentine's Day

Terms: February 19, 2003

Be my Valentine

2 per line
30 characters in line

Deadline: Tuesday, February 19, 2003

Mustang Daily Classifieds
Bldg. 26, Room 226
750-1143

SPECIAL SPRING BREAK PACKAGES

Includes RT air, airport/resort transfers, 7 nights at resort, schedule of tours, activities & side excursions. Prices quoted are quad occupancy.

Ask about many other options. Hawaii from $566; Acapulco from $629;
Cancun from $729; Montego Bay, Jamaica from $809. Also 5 day
Carnival Cruise, last call 2/3 for $205 quad, $230 double!

Book soon as Spring Break specials sell out quickly. Call, e-mail or see us
today for all student discount travel.

TRAVELTIME / American Express

Phone: 783-7000 E-mail: slo@ttvm.com

Located in SLO at Broad & Marsh. Free Parking at the door

Send your special someone a message to let them know you care.

Valentine's Day

Terms: February 19, 2003

Be my Valentine

2 per line
30 characters in line

Deadline: Tuesday, February 19, 2003

Mustang Daily Classifieds
Bldg. 26, Room 226
750-1143

SPECIAL SPRING BREAK PACKAGES

Includes RT air, airport/resort transfers, 7 nights at resort, schedule of tours, activities & side excursions. Prices quoted are quad occupancy.

Ask about many other options. Hawaii from $566; Acapulco from $629;
Cancun from $729; Montego Bay, Jamaica from $809. Also 5 day
Carnival Cruise, last call 2/3 for $205 quad, $230 double!

Book soon as Spring Break specials sell out quickly. Call, e-mail or see us
today for all student discount travel.

TRAVELTIME / American Express

Phone: 783-7000 E-mail: slo@ttvm.com

Located in SLO at Broad & Marsh. Free Parking at the door

Send your special someone a message to let them know you care.

Valentine's Day

Terms: February 19, 2003

Be my Valentine

2 per line
30 characters in line

Deadline: Tuesday, February 19, 2003

Mustang Daily Classifieds
Bldg. 26, Room 226
750-1143
National/International News
Tuesday, February 4, 2003

Mustang Daily

on defense and homeland security. shower billions of additional dollars of the government's biggest social programs, spending plan Monday that would for baby boomers' retirements.

Since the end of the Cold War, the closely tied defense and space industries have seen major consolidation as companies vie for fewer contracts and win the work by bidding low.

Powell sees Arab leader, says U.N. will not shrink from war
WASHINGTON — Photographs of mobile biological weapons installations and transcripts of overheard conversations among Iraqi officials are part of the evidence Secretary of State Colin Powell will present to convince allies that Saddam Hussein is defying the United Nations, an administration official said Monday.

Powell testified before classified U.S. intelligence on Monday to choose what he will make public on Wednesday. He is expected to display the photographs and refer to transcripts of conversations, an administration official told The Associated Press.

At the White House, meanwhile, presidential spokesman Ari Fleischer told reporters that the United States has a "wide variety of means" to support U.S. assertions that Iraq has weapons of mass destruction.

At the Pentagon, a defense official said a fourth Navy aircraft carrier will be sent to the Persian Gulf. The USS Theodore Roosevelt, based in Norfolk, Va., is wrapping up pre-deployment training and is likely to head toward the Gulf within several days, the official said.

Powell, in an article in Monday's The Wall Street Journal, said there would be no "smoking gun" in his presentation designed to show that Saddam has defied disarmament demands. But he stressed that U.N. weapons inspectors were harassed and shadowed by Iraqi government "minders" who monitored what those interviewed said to U.N. inspectors.

International Briefs

Israel's Sharon, Mitzna discuss coalition plans JERUSALEM — Prime Minister Ariel Sharon on Monday told the leader of the rival Labor Party that Israel's two largest parties must join forces in a broad-based government to face the Palestinian conflict and economic problems.

Labor leader Amram Mitzna, who met Sharon for the first time since a Jan.
28 general election, rebuffed Sharon's request, Israel Radio said.
Mitzna said throughout the campaign
he would not join a government led by Sharon and his hawkish Likud Party.

"Sharon's positions are non-starters," said Avraham Shohat, a member of parliament with Labor.
"We can't be in a government where everything that we told our voters will not be fulfilled." Likud swept to victory in the Jan.
28 elections, with voters endorsing Sharon's hard-line approach to the Palestinian uprising. Likud won 38 seats in the 120-member parliament, while Labor, the second-largest party, fell to 19. It was the worst showing for Labor since its founding in 1932.

Sharon spoke to Mitzna on security and political issues between Israel and the United States. The prime minister also told Mitzna about his "open and secret contacts with Palestinians who want to speak peace," a statement from Sharon's office said.

Caving Afghan style with dynamite and patience
AFGHANISTAN — The explosion set off a concussion that was strong enough to blow a man down, even half-a-mile away.

Seconds earlier, a U.S. Army engineer had shouted "fire in the hole" three times, then ignited the blast he hoped would bring down the inside of cave in rugged southeastern Afghanistan. U.S. forces wanted to prevent rebel fighters from ever seeking shelter there again.

But the rock on Adi Ghur mountain is hard. The blast succeeded only in partly collapsing the ceiling, even on the second attempt.

In a campaign christened "Operation Mongos," troops of the 25th Airborne Division have been searching and blasting caves throughout the region, where last week they engaged suspected rebel fighters in the biggest battle in Afghanistan in 10 months.

After killing 18 enemy fighters, troops found what they believe is a supply hub for forces in the area, a

North Korea says its military fully ready in case of U.S. attack SEUL, South Korea — North Korea said Monday its military and people are fully prepared to counter what it called U.S. plans to invade amid a nuclear crisis on the Korean Peninsula.

U.S. officials say they do not have any intention of invading North Korea.

"Our military and people are in full combat readiness to cope with U.S. imperialist warmongers' indiscrimiinate military and political moves
under their strategy to dominate the Korean Peninsula," the North's official Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's offici-
al Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.

North Korea's main communist
party newspaper, Rodong Sinmun, also urged the country's army reservists to remain alert and unite
under their strategy to dominate the
Korean Peninsula," the North's official Radio Pyongyang quoted a military official as saying.
Tom Welling  Kristin Kreuk
SMALLVILLE
Tuesdays after Gilmore Girls

Cal Poly's home for The WB

WB
KWCA
San Luis Obispo
Beck keeps electricity in rare acoustic album

By Sean Martin

The chameleonic artist wrote the 12 tracks for his latest album, "Sea Change," in a weeklong musical binge after he and long-time girlfriend Leigh Limon broke up, according to Anthony Bozza's recent article in "Rolling Stone."

While the album is a departure from Beck’s folksy-electronic-bluegrass hybrid, it is a success. "Sea Change" is that stripped-down, soul-haunting album that most artists do, usually successfully.

Beck does not hide behind his two turntables or murky metaphors this time; it is just him, his acoustic guitar and straightforward, honest lyrics.

Beck, stripped of electronic instruments, produces an introspective album perfect for lonely listeners.

Beck doesn’t hide behind his two turntables or murky metaphors this time; it is just him, his acoustic guitar and straightforward, honest lyrics.

The album’s first single off the album, "Lost Cause," makes the record’s direction painfully obvious. Besides setting the pace musically, the song speaks of the heartbreak that permeates the album. The choice alternates between "Baby you’re lost! Baby you’re a lost cause" and "I’m tired of fighting! Fighting for a lost cause."

This is the ballad for every promising relationship that has ended after one member has slowly turned into the person you never thought they were capable of becoming.

The preceding song, "Lonesome Tears," is the album’s high point. Beck sings "How could this love/ever turning/never turn inside me?/How could this love/ever change/never change the way I feel," showing his despair over his love’s turn for the worse. The symphonies crescendo in the song is a perfect representation of the buildup of those emotions.

"Already Dead," in the fashion of "Lost Cause," is also worth a listen. "Paper Tiger," with the interjection of electric guitar, is one of the more diverse tracks on the album. "Little One" is worth noting if only for its melody.

A man who is down in the dumps writes the lyrics to this album, and it shows. It is not excessively depressing; let’s call it tastefully done. It is the kind of album that won’t dominate your CD player.

"Sea Change" should be saved for only the right moments and moods, but its utility in those instances make it a valuable addition.

Unwritten Law amps up sans amps

By Steve Hill

Loyal fans hold a collective breath any time a tradition rock-orient­ed band decides to journey into the acoustic dimension. Just think about the first time that you heard Nirvana was going unplugged. Did you think it would actually work?

So it was with mild apprehension that I followed Unwritten Law into a world devoid of amplifiers or distortion pedals. The San Diego-based quintet, traditionally known for driving punk anthems like "CFK" or the mainstream hits "Callin'" and "Seeni' Red," took to the hills for their most recent release, "From Music in High Places."

Recorded for the MTV special of the same name, "High Places" trans­planted the band to Yellowstone National Park, a venue revered for peace, serenity and beauty—three words that have, undoubtedly, never been associated with Unwritten Law.

Some Newly Remediated Songs

"High Places" serves its purpose well. This slowly turned into the person you are. From the opening pound of "Before I Go," it is clear the band has adapted to its surroundings. The song holds a new sense of urgency, with singer Scott Russo’s somber lyrics and "High Places" trans­planted the band to Yellowstone National Park, a venue revered for peace, serenity and beauty—three words that have, undoubtedly, never been associated with Unwritten Law.

So it was with mild apprehension that I followed Unwritten Law into a world devoid of amplifiers or distortion pedals. The San Diego-based quintet, traditionally known for driving punk anthems like "CFK" or the mainstream hits "Callin'" and "Seeni' Red," took to the hills for their most recent release, "From Music in High Places."

Recorded for the MTV special of the same name, "High Places" trans­planted the band to Yellowstone National Park, a venue revered for peace, serenity and beauty—three words that have, undoubtedly, never been associated with Unwritten Law.

So it was with mild apprehension that I followed Unwritten Law into a world devoid of amplifiers or distortion pedals. The San Diego-based quintet, traditionally known for driving punk anthems like "CFK" or the mainstream hits "Callin'" and "Seeni' Red," took to the hills for their most recent release, "From Music in High Places."

Recorded for the MTV special of the same name, "High Places" trans­planted the band to Yellowstone National Park, a venue revered for peace, serenity and beauty—three words that have, undoubtedly, never been associated with Unwritten Law.

So it was with mild apprehension that I followed Unwritten Law into a world devoid of amplifiers or distortion pedals. The San Diego-based quintet, traditionally known for driving punk anthems like "CFK" or the mainstream hits "Callin'" and "Seeni' Red," took to the hills for their most recent release, "From Music in High Places."

Recorded for the MTV special of the same name, "High Places" trans­planted the band to Yellowstone National Park, a venue revered for peace, serenity and beauty—three words that have, undoubtedly, never been associated with Unwritten Law.

So it was with mild apprehension that I followed Unwritten Law into a world devoid of amplifiers or distortion pedals. The San Diego-based quintet, traditionally known for driving punk anthems like "CFK" or the mainstream hits "Callin'" and "Seeni' Red," took to the hills for their most recent release, "From Music in High Places."

Recorded for the MTV special of the same name, "High Places" trans­planted the band to Yellowstone National Park, a venue revered for peace, serenity and beauty—three words that have, undoubtedly, never been associated with Unwritten Law.

So it was with mild apprehension that I followed Unwritten Law into a world devoid of amplifiers or distortion pedals. The San Diego-based quintet, traditionally known for driving punk anthems like "CFK" or the mainstream hits "Callin'" and "Seeni' Red," took to the hills for their most recent release, "From Music in High Places."

Recorded for the MTV special of the same name, "High Places" trans­planted the band to Yellowstone National Park, a venue revered for peace, serenity and beauty—three words that have, undoubtedly, never been associated with Unwritten Law.

So it was with mild apprehension that I followed Unwritten Law into a world devoid of amplifiers or distortion pedals. The San Diego-based quintet, traditionally known for driving punk anthems like "CFK" or the mainstream hits "Callin'" and "Seeni' Red," took to the hills for their most recent release, "From Music in High Places."

Recorded for the MTV special of the same name, "High Places" trans­planted the band to Yellowstone National Park, a venue revered for peace, serenity and beauty—three words that have, undoubtedly, never been associated with Unwritten Law.
Sanctity of marriage: Is wife rape a crime?

C on a husband rape his wife? If so, it is a crime. This marriage has become, in fact, how it is thought to be. In the majority of states, the husband is considered the master of his house, and the wife is his property. This idea has been challenged by women in the past, but the concept of “wifely submission” is still prevalent in many cultures around the world.

The concept of wife rape is not new. In fact, it has been around for centuries. The idea that a wife has the right to refuse sex to her husband is still a common practice in many cultures today. This is often referred to as wife refusal, and it is a form of female power that is often overlooked.

In our legal history on the subject, only three states in the letter policy. Not only is the letter (“Writer misa’id; exJu­­­­­” — “Evil shark needs to be dealt with” Jan. 29) and I applaud his… (see Causes for World War II). He must be tixi basy attending those Cal Poly College Republican meetings to sit down and read a history book. If he bad, he may have noted that Canada held its ground when we attacked them in the French-American war. I gue… “... making) inur stildiers waffles.” — Andy Fahey, Emily Wong

The lack of access to higher education, the economic dependence of women on their male partners accounts for many of the difficul­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­­…
COUGH
continued from page 1
statewide, grassroots, student campaign to advocate and establish a healthier educational environment through tobacco awareness and legislation.
This campaign has already reached 20 of the CSU campuses.
Of the involved campuses, 16 enforce anti-smoking policies that surpass those of California's mandatory smoking policies.
California law requires there to be at least a 15-foot distance from a state building while smoking.
Although the California State University system is owned and operated by the state, this law does not include college campuses.
Organizations like COUGH have made it their mission to raise awareness about college camppuses and gain student support for their cause, said Carrie Johnson, local COUGH supervisor and Cal
Poly kinesiology student.
Although this anti-tobacco campaign began very recently at Cal Poly, the Cuesta branch of the campaign was launched last semester.
"We want more and more student support," Johnson said. "This is a tight community, so hopefully Cal Poly will get the same positive feedback as Cuesta."

The campaign began with a short-term goal to allow each CSU campus to have the authority to set its own smoking policy.
The board of trustees accomplished this goal during the vote last quarter.
Next, the campaign set both medium and long-term goals, to first make all CSU campuses smoke-free and eventually to extend that policy to all California colleges and community colleges. Johnson said the campany centers on awareness, and COUGH has begun by surveying students in the University Union.
They are gathering signatures of those in support of a smoke-free campus.
After enough signatures are gathered, COUGH will develop policy proposals and resolutions, which will then make their way up the chain of command until they arrive at the Cal Poly Board of Trustees, who have the ultimate vote on Cal Poly's campus smoking policies.
Cuesta College's campaign has gone through all of the required steps and is now waiting to present their case to the board of trustees.
"Things have gone very smoothly," said Anna Sturgill.
Cuesta student and COUGH member. "We haven't run into any barriers at all. The more support we get, the better off we'll be."
Although COUGH's main focus lies on college campuses, members work hard in hand with the American Lung Association, giving presentations on tobacco awareness at local high schools and elementary schools.
COUGH stands behind its anti-smoking campaign not only for health reasons, but also because of the financial burden tobacco has given to college campuses.
Johnson said.
It is estimated that it costs anywhere from $10,000 for a small campus to $150,000 for a large campus to clean up cigarette butts each year, according to a COUGH fact sheet.

Summer in Spain
Spanish Language Immersion Program
General Information Meetings
Wednesday, February 5, 6pm
Oyclde P. Fischer Science Bldg, (33), Rm. 226
Thursday, February 6, 11am
Erhart Agriculture Bldg, (10), Rm. 221

Classified Advertising
Graphic Arts Building, Room 226 Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, CA 93407 (805) 756-1143

Help Wanted
Camp Wayne for Girls Northeast Pennsylvania (6/19 - 8/16/03). If you love children and want a caring, fun environment, we need female staff as Directors and Instructors for: Tennis, Golf, Gymnastics, Swimming,
WaterSkiting, Sailing, Team Sports,
Cheerleading, Ropes,
Camping/Nature, Drama, Ceramics,
Photography, Videography, Silk
Screen, Batik, Printmaking, Sculpture, Calligraphy, Guitar,
Jewelry, Piano, Aerobics, Martial
Arts, Baking
Other positions: Group Leaders, Administrative/ Driver, Nurses
(RN's). On campus interviews Feb.
18 at UU #219
Apply online at www.campwaynegirls.com or call Classifieds are killer!

Golfers help wanted 2 days a week. Salary and commission. Will train.
Roger Dunn Golf 481-3866

Technical writing student 4 web project. Now and Spring quarter.
Call Brady Radovich 756-5835

We're #3! CLA is the 3rd largest college! Get involved! Be an ambassador Applications in bldg.
47-31

Help Wanted
Golfers help wanted 2 days a week. Salary and commission. Will train.
Roger Dunn Golf 481-3866

We're #3! CLA is the 3rd largest college! Get involved! Be an ambassador Applications in bldg.
47-31

Classifieds are killer!

Classifieds
756-1143

Send your Valentine a Valentine
February 14, 2003

Classifieds
756-1143

Classifieds are killer!

Classifieds
756-1143

Classifieds are killer!

Classifieds
756-1143

Classifieds are killer!
Cal Poly Women's Basketball

Mustangs split at U N L V Tourney

By Sean Martin
MUSTANG DAILY STAFF WRITER

The Cal Poly women's basketball team pulled an escape job at home Thursday night that would have made Houdini proud.

After being down as many as 13 points in the second half to the Big West Conference-leading Long Beach State 49ers, the Mustangs went on a 22-9 run in the last nine minutes of play to win 61-56.

Senior guard Kari Dupperon got the change underway at the midpoint of the second half. Her three-pointer pulled the Mustangs within eight points.

After Long Beach State's sophomore guard Candice Wilson made a free throw, freshman forward Sarah Greive got the Mustangs back in the ball game. She scored five points on the team's next trip down the court, hitting a 12-foot jumper and getting fouled, getting two free throws since Long Beach was over the foul limit. After making the first free throw, she missed the second, but was able to score two more points in the paint. This stretch got Cal Poly within four points with 8:30 to play.

The Mustangs took the lead for good on senior forward Heather Journey's jumper with 5:32 left. Cal Poly did anything but coast from there. They never led by more than three points until Journey iced the game with another jumper with 19 seconds to go.

Head coach Faith Minnigh said the team's panties after their impressive comeback.

"(This team) was gutsy," she said. "They're fighters. They really came together tonight. They executed some plays I drew for them perfectly."

The comeback was sparked by the Mustangs' rejuvenated shooting. They shot an impressive 45 percent in the final 20 minutes, compared to 21 percent in the first half.

"We really just got better looks (in the second half)," senior guard Megan Turner said. "Our post players were getting in better, deeper positions and our guards were able to hit them there.

Cal Poly's emphasis on the inside allowed Journey to shoot the ball 14 times and score a season-high 14 points.

Dupperon's outside assault complemented Cal Poly's post play. She had three-pointers for a game-high 19 points.

Long Beach State's constant foul trouble was to the Mustangs' benefit. The 49ers committed 21 personal fouls, sending the Mustangs to the free line 23 times, 17 more times than the visitors.

Cal Poly only converted 12 of those shots, but that still gave them a 10-point advantage from the line.

Long Beach State coach Dallas Ballard, who received a technical foul in the second half, was obviously upset with the refereeing.

"I was not happy with the amount they went to the line," she said. "We outrighted them, outnumbered them, but they got to go to the line more. I've never had a team not go to the line once in the first half. This game was taken away from us."

Minnigh declined to comment about the calls.

The win was especially enjoyable because it gave the 49ers' their first loss in conference play.

Turner called the victory "the best feeling in the world. We definitely have a great team effort. So many times we could have given up, but we wanted the win more to defend our home court."

On Saturday, four UC Irvine players scored in double figures as the Anteaters pulled away in the second half to beat Cal Poly 73-61 in a Big West Conference game in Mott Gym. Senior guard Wendy Cabble scored 19 points and junior guard Kristen Green added 17 for the Anteaters, who used a 25-3 run to start the second half and established firm control of the game.

With the win, UC Irvine improved to 12-7 overall and 5-3 for third place in the Big West. Cal Poly fell to fourth place at 4-4 and is 8-10 for the season.

Cal Poly was led in scoring by senior forward Heather Journey with 14 points. Sophomore guard Michelle Henke added 12, while sophomore guard Heidi Wittstrum and freshman guard Courtney Uphoff each came off the bench to score 10 points.

The score was tied at 35 at halftime before Irvine went on a 25-3 run to open the second half. Cal Poly missed its first 11 floor shots and scored just three points in the first 12 minutes after the break.

The Anteaters led 65-38 after the run and Cal Poly could get no closer than eight points the rest of the way. Irvine made 48 percent of its shots while holding Cal Poly to 33 percent. Rebounds were even at 42. Green and Vazlen each had nine boards for UC Irvine while Henke, Journey and junior forward Lucy Tanneberg each had eight caroms for Cal Poly.

Cal Poly's 1990 NCAA West Conference-leading Long Beach State 49ers were vying for the team's praises after their impressive comeback.