Sanctify yourselves

Motivational speaker Will Keim shares advice with an assembly of Cal Poly Greeks Wednesday in Chumash Auditorium on methods they can take to improve their negative image. See page 3.

Poly football player arrested
Social sciences senior pleads not guilty to three felonies, three misdemeanors

By Travis Swafford
Staff Writer

A Cal Poly football player pleaded not guilty Thursday in San Luis Obispo County Superior Court to six charges, including sexual intercourse with a minor and providing drugs and alcohol to minors.

Anthony Trueba, 22, was arrested and charged Wednesday night with one felony count of having sex with a minor and two felony counts of supplying marijuana to minors. He also faces a separate misdemeanor charge of molesting a 16-year-old girl and two misdemeanor counts of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Trueba, a starting offensive lineman for the Cal Poly Mustangs and social sciences senior, is being held on $15,000 bail in County Jail in lieu of $15,000 bail.

FILE PHOTO

By Ted Holz
Staff Writer

A consolidation of student influence will result from the county redistricting plan that passed Tuesday. The plan places all of Cal Poly under on supervisor's jurisdiction.

Whether students will take advantage of their potential impact is not certain. "To have an effect, students need to get involved and take an active interest," said ASI President David Kapic.

The redistricting places all dorm students and most off-campus students in the 5th District, which is represented by Board of Supervisors Chairman David Blakely.

"Mr. Blakely has been a real positive impact for the students in my dealings with him," Kapic said.

Blakely was instrumental last week in obtaining funds for the Neighborhood Cooperation Week sponsored by the Student-Community Liaison Committee, Kapic said.

The effect of redistricting will depend on the individual student, Blakely said.

I would like to encourage students to become more involved in the political process," Kapic said.

Kapic said that in the past, student influence has been diminished because many students have not voted.

"That's one area I want to see changed in the coming year," he said.

For the past 10 years, half of the Cal Poly campus was in the 2nd District and the other half was in the 5th District.

The new system will increase the effect of the student vote, Kapic said.

"I think overall, the redistricting is very positive for students," Kapic said.

City Councilwoman Penny Rappa, however, said the plan will cause confusion because four districts contain parts of the city of San Luis Obispo.

"I do hope that people won't be discouraged, and I hope they take the time to vote," Rappa said.

ASI forms group for referendum

By Tracy Condron
Staff Writer

The ASI Board of Directors meeting Wednesday night focused on two important issues — the upcoming sports referendum and the effects of budget cuts on the Robert E. Kennedy Library.

First, ASI President David Kapic and ASI Marketing Coordinator Bruce Sherman announced they are in the process of creating a committee that would provide unbiased information on the sports referendum.

The committee has a $10,000 budget for gathering and distributing information on this issue. Money will be spent on flying a marketing coordinator with experience in athletics to San Luis Obispo from Utah to help the committee and on hiring ASI's auditing firm.

The $10,000 will come in part from Instructionally-Related Activities and partly from President Warren Baker's budget.

The committee would be made up of eight students — preferably upperclassmen — from diverse backgrounds to assure the information will be as objective as possible, Kapic said.

Kapic said the sports referendum is one of the most important issues at Cal Poly. He said he wants this group to take an in-depth look at the issue and "put out information for them (the students) in a non-biased manner so they can make an educated decision and get out there and vote."

The information uncovered by the committee is expected to be available to students prior to voting, Kapic said.

The voting date has yet to be set.

Second, the board discussed Library Services.

Dean of Library Services David Walch gave a special report to communicate with students on the struggle confronting the library.

"The library is facing perhaps the most serious challenge that I have observed during the 10 or 11 years that I've been here at Cal Poly," Walch said.

The library cut back its hours from 84.5 hours to 79.5.

Redistricting creates student voting force

By Ted Holz
Staff Writer

A consolidation of student influence will result from the county redistricting plan that passed Tuesday. The plan places all of Cal Poly under on supervisor's jurisdiction.

Whether students will take advantage of their potential impact is not certain. "To have an effect, students need to get involved and take an active interest," said ASI President David Kapic.

The re
China turns down offer of Tibetan peacemaker

BEIJING (AP) — China Thursday rejected the Dalai Lama's request to return to Tibet as a peacemaker, saying he first must fully accept Chinese rule.

"This doesn't prove it, but it's a working model," Thomas Sellers of the University of Minnesota said Wednesday at the Eighth International Congress of Human Genetics.

Male smokers with the genetic susceptibility get smoking-related cancers an average of 18 years earlier than men who smoke but aren't susceptible, Sellers said.

Mexico and international human rights groups have complained that torture remains a problem in the western Mexican state.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Roman Catholic Bishop Alfonso Humberto Robles Cota, president of the Nayarit state Association for Human Rights, says torture remains a problem in the western Mexican state, the daily La Jornada reported Thursday.

Mexican officials have vowed to try to stamp out the use of torture. The attorney general's office has said that it is increasing the number of ... in prosecutions and will require that officials or lawyers be present when suspects are questioned by federal police.

"We don't know exactly how much longer it will be before he develops real AIDS symptoms," said attorney Martin M. Ber­man.

The boy received the blood transfusion in December 1983 as part of his treatment for a blood disorder, according to the suit, which was filed Tuesday.

Smokers' cancer risks affected by genetics

WASHINGTON (AP) — A study of inheritance patterns in the families of lung cancer victims suggests that 52 percent of people carry genes putting them at special risk for smoking-related cancers, researchers said.

The forms of cancer that have been linked to smoking include cancer of the bladder, kidney, cervix, colon, nose, mouth, esophagus and larynx, Sellers said.

Postal employee kills supervisor, workers

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — A fired postal employee killed his former supervisor and another person in their home, then killed two workers at the post office and set off explosives before surrendering this morning after a 41/2-hour standoff, authorities said.

Edwards Air Force Base

An Air Force helicopter on a survival training exercise crashed and burned Thursday, killing three people. Two others parachuted to safety, a base spokeswoman said.

The suspect, Joseph M. Harris, 35, of Paterson, would be charged with four counts of murder, plus kidnapping and other charges, said Bergen County Prosecutor John Fahy.

The forms of cancer that have been linked to smoking include cancer of the bladder, kidney, cervix, colon, nose, mouth, esophagus and larynx, Sellers said.

AIR Force crash kills three men, two survive

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — An Air Force helicopter on a survival training exercise crashed and burned Thursday, killing three people. Two others parachuted to safety, a base spokeswoman said.

The helicopter was on a routine parachute-drop mission with experienced survival school jumpers, Santos said. The two survivors were treated for minor injuries at the base hospital.

The boy received the blood transfusion in December 1983 when he was 4 years old as part of his treatment for a blood disorder, according to the suit, which was filed Tuesday.

The suit alleges Children's Hospital of Orange County and the Red Cross, which was said to have supplied the blood, negligently failed to warn the boy's parents of the potential danger.

The boy, whose name and whereabouts are being kept confidential, has tested posi­tive for exposure to the AIDS virus but has not yet shown symptoms of the disease, his attorney said.

The forms of cancer that have been linked to smoking include cancer of the bladder, kidney, cervix, colon, nose, mouth, esophagus and larynx, Sellers said.

Boy says transfusion infected him with AIDS
FOOD

From page 2: carbohydrates is crucial. An athlete's need for protein may be just slightly higher than the needs of others, current research shows.

By Amy Alonso

Motivational speaker Will Keim told Cal Poly’s Greek community Wednesday night to say what they mean, do what they say and admit when they don’t.

This is how Keim said members of this community will be able to shed the negative images they have accumulated.

He challenged all present to take off their greek letters and pins if they weren’t willing to leave the presentation and do what they said they were going to — improve their image and be responsible for their actions.

Keim, who has spoken to greek communities on campuses across the United States, spoke to fraternity and sorority members in Chumash Auditorium before it’s too late. “If you don’t do it, the university will (take action),” Keim said.

Keim urged students to know their limits and to get help if they have a problem.

He supplemented his point with a somber statistic that he asked everybody to think about. “Two-thirds of women raped, are raped by men they know who are related to them,” Keim said.

Keim made his third request by stating, “If I was God, I would blindfold everyone going through Rush.” He encouraged the group to make friends based on others’ similar values, not appearance.

“Tasting has got to end,” Keim told the group. “If you don’t do it, the university will take action,” Keim said.

The changes are designed to bring the co-op program closer to the academic curriculum of each school at the university, said Martin Shibata, assistant director of Career Services.

Shibata said the overall structure of the co-op was altered in response to a review done by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC), where Cooperative Education and Placement Services first merged about two years ago.

The review board felt co-op should have a closer academic tie to the university," Shibata said. “Students Affairs and Academic Affairs got together and constructed a model designed to address this need creating a stronger association between the programs and the individual schools here at Cal Poly.”

Up until now, the co-op program has been run through one centralized agency, where all decisions regarding a student’s work assignment were handled by one department, Shibata said. “The end result will be a program more academically rooted and stronger as a whole,” said Richard Equinoa, director of Career Services.

The new co-op model also calls for upsising the unit requirement from 6 to 12 units per quarter.

“Right now we are still at the very early stages, working out the mechanics of the new model with each department before the changes go into effect in January,” Equinoa said. “We are hoping to eventually work the program deeply into the academic process, shifting the emphasis to the schools and making the co-op program stronger by providing more faculty involvement.”

The new co-model for life also calls for upsising the unit requirement from 6 to 12 units per quarter.

“The students will now sign up for their co-op directly through CAPTURE,” Shibata added.

“The program is designed to cultivate industry contacts, provide professionals-level work experience, increase prospects for employment after graduation and make the students better able to handle the front end of the process, taking care of the student preparation, employer development and job placement,” Shibata said.

“The program is designed to cultivate industry contacts, provide professionals-level work experience, increase prospects for employment after graduation and make the students better able to handle the front end of the process, taking care of the student preparation, employer development and job placement,” Shibata said.

“The students will now sign up for their co-op directly through CAPTURE,” Shibata added.

“The program is designed to cultivate industry contacts, provide professionals-level work experience, increase prospects for employment after graduation and make the students better able to handle the front end of the process, taking care of the student preparation, employer development and job placement,” Shibata said.

The new co-model also calls for upsising the unit requirement from 6 to 12 units per quarter.

“Right now we are still at the very early stages, working out the mechanics of the new model with each department before the changes go into effect in January,” Equinoa said. “We are hoping to eventually work the program deeply into the academic process, shifting the emphasis to the schools and making the co-op program stronger by providing more faculty involvement.”

The new co-model also calls for upsising the unit requirement from 6 to 12 units per quarter.

“Right now we are still at the very early stages, working out the mechanics of the new model with each department before the changes go into effect in January,” Equinoa said. “We are hoping to eventually work the program deeply into the academic process, shifting the emphasis to the schools and making the co-op program stronger by providing more faculty involvement.”

The new co-model also calls for upsising the unit requirement from 6 to 12 units per quarter.

“Right now we are still at the very early stages, working out the mechanics of the new model with each department before the changes go into effect in January,” Equinoa said. “We are hoping to eventually work the program deeply into the academic process, shifting the emphasis to the schools and making the co-op program stronger by providing more faculty involvement.”
Agriculture majors are socially acceptable members of Cal Poly
By Tracy Condron

...and she looked at me as if to say, "If you only knew who I am and what I've been through..."

"I'm just your run of the mill, average girl who also happens to be (cough) gulp...a Mustang Daily reporter."

So now to my point. The agriculture department receives the support and respect it deserves.

If, in the past, there had been such distasteful criticism written, then perhaps many of our great poets and artists may have been discouraged before they even had a chance to be heard. I question the authenticity of your article. Some of the statements you say were mentioned seem highly unlikely to have been said. I would per­sonally like to know the name of the employee who asked you why you didn't wear ear­rings. I've seen people there of all ages and styles wearing colors, materials and styles of all types.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I question the authenticity of your article. Some of the statements you say were mentioned seem highly unlikely to have been said. I would per­sonally like to know the name of the employee who asked you why you didn't wear ear­rings. I've seen people there of all ages and styles wearing colors, materials and styles of all types.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I appreciate you recognizing their dedication and commit­ment to the hundreds of stu­dents involved with the Work­place Program who serve as counselors and board mem­bers.

...and for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"

I welcome personal growth - I think others do also. And for using your coffee shop to promote artistic creativity and appreciation of the creativity in San Luis Obispo!"
Cal Poly survives heat, beats Fresno State, 2-0

By Neil Pascale

Cal Poly's women's soccer Coach Ketti Coleman was, well ... kind of happy about his team's latest victory — a 2-0 decision over Fresno State.

Sure, it was Poly's 10th victory in 11 tries. Plus, it was a win on the road in 95-degree heat.

Nevertheless, Coleman was merely satisfied with Poly's victory. Not overjoyed.

"It was like running a business," Coleman said. "If we're not profitable, nobody is going to bail us out."

In preparation for the upcoming big game, Coleman was hoping he could rest his starters during the Fresno game. Coleman got his wish as Poly jumped out to a 2-0 lead, and the defense held the rest of the way.

For the last four years, the Poly-UCLA contest has determined the league's championship. In 1985, Fresno State, a Division I university, the Mustangs were crushed.

"That Fresno team was better than U.O.P. is," Church said. "They had three players go to the NFL — (Los Angeles Rams' wide receiver) Henry Ellard, (Kansas City Chiefs' wide receiver) Stephanie Paige and (former San Francisco 49er quarterback) Kevin Sweeney."

Church said Poly's team six years ago was not as good as the team Cal Poly now fields.

Also on the bright side for the Cal Poly Mustangs, Pacific is 1-4 for the season — including a loss to Sacramento State, a Division II team.

"We're looking at Fresno as an athletic event similar to football, basketball and all the other programs," Davis said. "Those were cut 20 percent, so we cut rodeo 20 percent."

Davis said the only state money involved in the rodeo program is the funding for the coach, which amounts to $53,637, including fringe benefits.

The cuts to the coaching budget will be effective fall quarter, Davis said. In response, the Cal Poly Rodeo Boosters must raise $11,000 to offset the cuts.

Rodeo can't steer clear of budget cuts

By Mark Marden

Cal Poly's budget balancing act between funding for athletics and academics is weighing heavily on the rodeo program.

"U.O.P.'s defense looks vulnerable on paper, but they've played quality opponents," Church said. "This is not the mismatch you'd think."

"Look at the scoreboard on our last game," Davis said. "Stephan Paige and (former San Francisco 49er quarterback) Kevin Sweeney."

"Church said Poly's team six years ago was not as good as the team Cal Poly now fields."

"This is not the mismatch you'd think," Harris said. "I hope Cal Poly doesn't surprise us."
From page 1
hours per week.
With this decrease, the library is now closed on Saturdays. The five hours were cut from Saturday's hours because fewer people go to the library on Saturday than any other day, Walch said.

Also, the library is discouraging community usage, cutting back 10 percent on the journal collection, leaving 25 percent of their positions vacant and looking into possible fund raising, Walch said.

Before adjourning the meeting, Chairman of the Board Dennis Albiani announced applications are being accepted for ASI committees.

The board will be holding its next meeting on Oct. 16, at 7 p.m. in the University Union, room 220.

From page 5
situation and solicit contributions, Davis said. So far, $1,000 has been raised.

Davis said he has happy with the response thus far.

Robinson said he isn't panicking. "I'm confident they can raise the money."

To raise the needed money, the rodeo boosters are planning two or three fund-raisers, said booster member Jo Ann Switzer.

"I think the boosters will come up with something because Clay has done such a good job," Switzer said. "There are a lot of possibilities but nothing in concrete."

Robinson was hired six years ago, bringing with him a degree in exercise physiology, a master's in athletic administration and a philosophy stressing the importance of academics.

"We are academic. We're educational — that's our goal, while providing students the opportunity to participate in intercollegiate sports while they're here," Robinson said.

Josh Graham, a first-year Cal Poly rodeo program student, said education is number one with Robinson.

"He always asks how classes are going, and he makes practice available at 6 a.m. so we can get to class," Graham said.

One reason for lowering the coaching budget was to avoid possible pressure to cut the program entirely, Davis said.

"If we lose full funding for the coaching position because of additional budget cuts, we would have to look carefully at discontinuing the program," Davis said.

"Rodeo is a 43-year tradition at Cal Poly, and Davis said he doesn't want to see it end."

"World champion professional cowboys have come out of this program," Davis said.

"Also, he said, many students are drawn to Cal Poly because of the program's status and end up leaving with quality educations.

Robinson's class load provides the School of Agriculture enough state money to fund not only his position but nearly one other as well.

"He is more than earning his position," Davis said. "In fact, he is subsidizing the school by over half a position."

Presently, Davis said no plans for further cuts are anticipated.

From page 2
SUNDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1991
10:30 A.M. - 4:00 P.M.
From page 1

Trueba again denied the sexual allegations when he was interviewed by police Wednesday. He also said that the other charges have been exonerated.

Karen Gray, assistant district attorney in charge of the case, was unavailable for comment.

Remember this...
In the old days there were fewer conveniences for starting trouble.

Trueba's employment ended Sept. 12, McMaster said.

On Sept. 13, while being interviewed by Hodges, Trueba initially denied all the allegations. Later, however, he did admit to taking two Transitions residents to a party and giving them marijuana, according to police reports.

Trueba again denied the sexual allegations when he was interviewed by police Wednesday. He also said that the other charges have been exonerated.

Karen Gray, assistant district attorney in charge of the case, was unavailable for comment.
A new and unique men's and women's clothing store with a sense of adventure has opened on the Central Coast. A store where you'll rediscover style that features rich natural fibers and fabrics.

When we envisioned a clothing store just right for the Central Coast this is what we had in mind.

Soft & smooth or rough & durable textures ideal for cool Central Coast mornings and warm afternoons. Name brands you'll recognize and some you won't. Take a journey to the edge of adventure, travel to the Timber Bay Company.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Item</th>
<th>Discount/Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Women's Sweaters</td>
<td>40% Off</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Men's Denim Jackets</td>
<td>40% Off</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Swiss Army Knives</td>
<td>20% Off</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fossil Watches</td>
<td>20% Off</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Flannel or Chamois Shirts</td>
<td>19.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women's Cotton Twill Pants</td>
<td>19.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women's Suede Skirts</td>
<td>39.99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Men's Walking Shorts</td>
<td>14.99</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>