OUTCRY is the national journal of Animal Liberation and Beauty Without Cruelty in Australia. Founded by Animal Liberation (Victoria) in 1980, it has grown from a four page newsletter to a 20 page journal with 5,000 Australia-wide distribution. The journal focuses on factory farming and animal experimentation, but also deals with other animal issues. It seeks to establish connections with the environment and feminist movements. Regular features include book/film reviews, IN TOUCH, and Claws Up/Claws Down. Past feature articles have included: Mulesing in Sheep, The Plight of the Kangaroo, Dingoes, Live export of 6 million sheep yearly to the Middle East, Rodeos, Life inside an Australian Pig Factory, Tissue Culture as an alternative, etc.

OUTCRY is produced quarterly and is available from the address above. Subscriptions are $6.00 per annum general (individual), $8.00 per annum for non-profit organizations, and $20.00 for commercial organizations. Add $7.00 for air mail delivery.
