

HOME COMING DAY

Third Annual Home Coming the Best Ever

With a goodly showing of alumni back to help to cheer the Poly team on to victory, the events of Homecoming Day were extremely satisfactory.

Friday evening, at seven o'clock, the whole Polytechnic student body assembled in front of the Civic Auditorium for the big serpentine. There were about three hundred students present.

The serpentine was led by the band, then came the football players in automobiles, followed by the serpentine led by Frank Quinonez, our yell-leader.

The serpentine went down Monterey Street, stopping at every corner for yells. The procession turned at Chorro Street, coming up Higuera Street as far as Morro Street and back to Monterey. Next they went through the Monterey Theater stopping inside to give a yell. The serpentine disbanded at the Auditorium to reassemble in front of the Administration Building out at the Campus, where a big bonfire was waiting us. Here the captain of our football team, George Sparks, and Albert Hankerson said a few words, and two of our Alumni, Jack Babcock and C. Earl Miller, expressed their pleasure of being with us again and their good wishes for the game.

Dr. Crandall in his talk referred to the recent rapid growth of the school, and spoke about the beauty of the Ad. Building in the light of the fire.

The rally was closed with yells and the school song.

Saturday night, at seven o'clock, a banquet was held at the Dining Hall in honor of the Alumni and football players.

The banquet was attended by about one hundred Alumni and about fifteen football players.

The chairman of the banquet, Guy Baldwin, introduced the speakers. All of them expressed their pleasure at being here with us again and in winning the game. Among the speakers were: Guy Baldwin, Dr. Crandall, Mr. Agosti, Miss Chase, Dr. Wilder, Doris Bergh, the Messers Vancouvering, Le Grange, Leslie Davis, Chester Davis, Wm. Spiers, Geo. Isola, Walter Lumley, E. Hodges, J. M. Johnston, and Rae Mayhall, Miss Alta Mayhall, and Mrs. Crandall.

Mrs. Elmer Dunning sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. J. Stanley King. Telegrams were received from Perry and Martin Martinsen and from Sophia Huetling, now Mrs. Pat Tharum.

An approximate list of those in attendance at the banquet is as follows:

Alumni attending the banquet were: Einar Anholm, Jack Babcock, Guy Baldwin, Dora Bergh, Lynn Broughton, B. Buhay, Mary Chaves, Mrs. Archie Cheda, Forrest E. Coyner, Alden Davis, Chester Davis, Mr. Leslie Davis, Mrs. Leslie Davis, Le-Grande Derfer, Rachel Gould, Ernest Hodges, Evelyn Johnson, Bill Lee, Fred Lewis, Walter Lumley, Alta Mayhall, Rae Mayhall, Menecke, C. Earle Miller, Alfred Miosal, Herbert McKeen, Mr. Ohmonde, Mrs. Ormonde, Jack Rollins, Clyde Shirley, Ruth Smith, A. F. Spring, Robert Steiner, Rudolph J. Tanner, Belle Tomasini, Louis Tomasini, Eugene Van Shaick, Martin Van Counering, Virgil Wimmer, Sam Wright.

Faculty present were: Mr. Agosti, Mrs. Agosti, Miss Chase, Dr. Crandall, Mrs. Crandall, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Dunning, Miss Jordan, Mr. McFarland, Dr. Wilder, Mrs. Wilder.

The following students were there: John Brommer, Jack Charvo, Pablo Del Rio, Charles Demarest, Gaston

Seeing America First

Miss Chase and Miss Jordan spent nearly eight weeks traveling through the eastern states and the south-eastern part of Canada, June 16, 1926, marked the beginning of this eventful trip when Miss Chase and Miss Jordan boarded the train for Pittsburg.

Upon arriving in that city, Miss Chase bought her new car. Driving through the Allegheny mountains, the two ladies visited Mt. Vernon and enjoyed the many beautiful scenes there. After going to Washington D. C., they went to New York where Miss Chase says the traffic is no worse than that in Los Angeles. As the Exposition in Philadelphia was not in complete readiness, they did not wait for it, but took a steamer up the Hudson to Albany. From there they drove west, across the whole length of the state, visiting Rochester, Syracuse, and Niagara Falls on the way. Crossing into Canada, they visited the Thousand Isles, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal.

The old French city of Quebec, they found to be mostly hills. Passing through Lebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, they saw many beautiful lakes and streams. Taken in general, the roads were very good, about two thirds of them being paved.

Going to Prince Edward Island, they found a soil of a beautiful red color. Where there was grass and green plants, quite a beautiful contrast was noticed.

Taking a ship at Yarmouth, they went to Boston, and then to Albany again. Going by car through the Berkshire hills, they had an opportunity to see and enjoy the beautiful scenes which could not have been seen if the trip had been taken by train. Cities near New York were very crowded from the large number of tourists there.

Going south the whole length of New York, they passed through Ohio and Indiana where the roads were found to be very poor. They had visited Chicago on the way east, and arrived in time to enjoy its bad climate. From here, the car was shipped and our tourists took the train to Feather River and then home.

"The air here in California is drier and the sun shines more brightly. The service stations are clean and neat here, but those in the eastern parts are neither as pleasing to the eye nor as neat," says Miss Chase.

Miss Chase and Miss Jordan arrived in San Luis Obispo on August 20, having traveled around 5,300 miles by car, 3,000 miles by steamer and 4,500 by train.

Both are very much satisfied with California after their long trip.

Escobosa, George Isola, Kenneth Krames, Elmer Harper, Orvis Hotchkiss, Marvin Lutzow, Harris Miller, Neyman Pickard, Leonard Sinclair, George Sparks, Lewis Thorpe, Elmer Tognazzini, Dan Wright, Samuel Weir, Eric Varian, William Pierce, and John Pimentel.

The dance Saturday evening was one of the best dances given this year. It started at eight thirty, but it didn't get peppy until nine o'clock when all the Alumni and football men arrived from the banquet.

In order to give the San Jose players, the Alumni, and the new students a chance to get acquainted, most of the dances were tag dances. This proved very satisfactory, for the Alumni mixed right in with the rest and had a real good time.

The hall was very prettily decorated in green and orange, and the punch was fine. All of the committees are to be commended for the splendid effort put towards making the party a success.

The music was furnished by "Palm-quist Orchestra" from Santa Maria, and they surely could play.

Manners—the final and perfect flower of noble character.—Winter.

POLY DEFEATS SAN JOSE STATE COLLEGE

Mustangs Shut Out Teachers On Homecoming Day In Conference Tilt By the Score of 13-0

The Mustangs registered a win for Poly by defeating the strong San Jose Teachers on Homecoming Day. The game was a conference affair and was the fourth victory Poly has enjoyed since the beginning of the season.

Where Are They From

Only thirty-four of Poly's new students are from San Luis Obispo. The others come from all parts of the State, from other States, and Mexico.

San Luis has the largest number of students represented however, with Morro Bay next, having seven representatives.

There are six from San Francisco; five each from Porterville and Hanford; four each from Bakersfield, Lindsay and Pismo; and three each from Atascadero, Arroyo Grande, Fresno, Laton, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Tulare, Wasco, and Washington.

There are two students here from Mexico, two each from Hollywood, Martinez, Pacific Grove, Pleasanton, Santa Cruz, Santa Barbara, Templeton, and Venice.

One student comes from Portland, Oregon, and another from Salt Lake City, Utah and another from Aloo, Oklahoma. The following California cities and towns are represented by one student each.

Adelade, Atwater, Avila, Alhambra, Bay Point, Coalinga, Bradely, Burbank, Berkeley, Corcoran, Crockett, Escalon, Elsinore, Earlimart, Fillmore, Fairmead, Fellows, Glendon, Lemoore, Mt. Pleasant, Morgan Hill, Monterey Park, Marysville, Martinez, Merced, Nevada City, Nipomo, Oakland, Ontario, Osdie, Pismo Robles, Palo Alto, Parlier, Pasadena, Pomona, Ranchoburg, Rocklin, Sonoma, Spencerville, San Diego, Saticoy, Stradford, Santa Margarita, Simi, San Miguel, Santa Monica, Santa Anna, Santa Monica, Taft, Turlock, Tracy, Venice, Ventura, Visalia.

It would have been more interesting, if some of the students would have given their former homes. For instance one of our boys came to America from Barcelona Spain, only a few years ago. Two of our girls have come from Turkey.

Addresses Journalism Class

Miss Alta Mayhall, '23, of the Oakland Tribune Staff talked to the journalism class at seventh period yesterday.

Miss Mayhall was the first journalism student of Poly. At the time there was no regular journalism class, but Miss Mayhall's English teacher helped her and she obtained practical experience as society reporter for the San Luis Obispo Evening Telegram.

Ag. Demonstration

Last Saturday we had for our visitor, Earl Coke, Assistant County Advisor. He talked to the first and second year students of agriculture, as to how to treat the wheat seed to prevent it from causing smut, a plant disease which has caused our Agricultural Industries to lose thousands of dollars.

He also told us how to plant the wheat and the quantity of seed necessary.

Uniforms

Men, you should have a little more pride in wearing your uniform. Why not look your best by tying your neckties, wrapping your leggings straight, wearing a hat, and shining your shoes, and by not wearing a mixed uniform?

Don't you know that people judge Poly by our appearance?

Profit in Baby Beef

Whatever the Ag boys do in their mathematics class, they surely deal with big figures in their projects. Ten boys took cattle raising last year. The calves cost them $4,797.47 and the feed $6,707.34, making a total cost of $11,504.81. The total sales figure was $12,887.85.

Seven of the boys made profits which total $1,739.95. One boy lost $334.23; another, $204.81; a third, $16.84. As the cattle were insured the losses were not great.

Carol Cavanaugh made the largest gain in the class, $505.04. He paid $508.40 for his calves, and the feed cost him $604.52 making a total cost $1,112.92. He sold them for $1,707.96.

Louie Morganti paid the most for his calves, $843.50, and he paid $1,100.17 for his feed, making the total cost $1,943.67. He sold them for $2,036.05.

Although the boys usually buy Herefords, this year two boys bought Aberdeen Angus. Gerald Rickwecker bought ten head of Aberdeen Angus from the Peabody ranch for $402.75, and Kenneth Shelly bought nine from the same place for $393.

Some of the calves were wild at first, and made the boys climb fences hurriedly, but now they are quite gentle due to the attention and care which the boys have given them.

Most of the boys borrow the money from the Bank of Italy or from the Citizen's Bank.

Eleven boys who are raising hogs borrowed $1,498.44 from the Bank of Italy. The greatest amount borrowed was $216.75.

Visits School

George G. Radcliff, Chairman of the State Board of Control, visited school Friday morning, Oct. 15, for the first time in four years. He and his wife, during their short visit, were the guests of the Crandalls. They left immediately for Watsonville to visit the schools there. Mr. Radcliff spoke very favorably of the school.

The State Board of Control has charge of the expenditures and purchases of the school. Before the assembly votes on an appropriation for the school, this board must make recommendations for or against it.

Target Practice

Target practice will continue as usual, Saturday, October 30. The Sophomores are due to fire the preliminary shooting.

Dramatics Advances

The two Dramatics classes are advancing nicely. In the seventh period class there are seven students, and the ninth period twelve students. Both classes are studying under Mrs. Evabelle Long-Fuller. The ninth period class has just started and have not started on any particular work. The seventh period class has started a one act play, "The Confessional," by Oscar Wilde.

The class is now studying voice, breathing work, bodily expression, bits of action of all kinds, and small scenes taken from different plays. A number of plays will be studied and also go into the study of plays of different countries, also stage make-up. Good dramatic ability has been discovered in both classes.

Printed by the California Polytechnic School Print Shop.

Editorial

The lack of a proper football practice field has been the greatest handicap under which Coach Agosti and his squad have had to train. The condition of Poly Field is discouraging, many injuries being sustained in practice. The Mustangs get less scrimmage than is necessary for the development of a good team just because the Coach can not afford to take the chance of losing some of his best men by putting them through too much scrimmage on the hard field provided them.

Mr. Agosti and his men labor for two hours each afternoon that Polytechnic may have a team to compare with those of the largest schools. The need of a turfed field is evident and now is a good time to start thinking about it.

School Spirit

Fellow students, do you really know what school spirit is?

Do you feel in your hearts the love for Poly? I have only been here for two months and I feel as if I have been here for years.

Do you know that a school without spirit is like a room without windows? School Spirit helps us not only in our sports, but also in our studies.

Without our support our team can not bring honors to this school. Our boys have shown lots of spirit by going out and practicing football every night. No one would say that all the school should go out for practice, but we can at least go out to the games and show that we appreciate the work of the team. There are always some who, when there is a game, go to other amusements instead. If we win, these same fellows go around saying, "We won"; if we lose, they go around criticizing our players.

About ten or fifteen minutes after the game starts, we all stand up and we stop yelling, not realizing that in order to have our team win, we have to give them "pep" all through the game. Lots of students do not think that it takes brains to run a rooting section. There are two principal things which we have to remember in order to make any school affair come out successfully: cooperation of students, and School Spirit.

Don't you know that our boys are playing for our benefit as much as for theirs? They are taking chances of being hurt just to bring honors to this school.

We have the material, one of the best of coaches, and practically everything except one thing, and that is enough School Spirit.

Don't you think we should show our appreciation of the team's efforts by going out to the games and supporting the players?

Don't you think that it is only fair that we should do our part by going out and yelling for them?

How can the yell-leader produce effective cheering when there is nobody to back him up, when ten of us go to one end of the field and another ten to the other end?

Let's get behind him and support him and let us think of this matter

Write For The Polygram

Within the student body, there has been criticism to the effect that one class seems to be monopolizing the Polygram.

The Journalism class feels responsible for the paper, but does not mean to monopolize it. Any student in school is welcome to contribute to the Polygram. If any person hears or sees something that should go in the paper, he may either tell it to some member of the staff or write it up and hand it into the editor. Although the members of the staff try to see all and hear all, quite often something slips by unnoticed.

The members of the Journalism class are inexperienced in this line of work, but are learning fast. After the staff has had a little more practice we expect to have one of the finest papers put out by any school.

As long as this is a student project, we, as a student body, believe it should be treated as such. We already know that many of the students can write good material, by a few of the poems and songs that have already been handed in.

Cooperation is one of Poly's old mottoes, so come on, students, cooperate with the "Polygram."

GERALDINE COWELL.

Yells

The students of Poly showed the faculty just how well they could yell at the assembly, October 20. The yelling was the best done this year.

Besides the yelling, Frank Quinonez led the students in the school song. Mrs. Fuller had them sing it first under her direction, and then Frank tried it. After the start, which was rather weak, they sang quite well.

Coach Aosti urged the students to get behind the team and sell tickets for the games.

Friday, enthusiastic minor pep rallies were held the first part of each period during the day.

Poly's Orchestra

The orchestra's first appearance on October 18 was a great success. Everyone was delighted with the way they played and the size of the orchestra. Poly is indeed lucky to have so many talented people. Many schools larger than Poly do not have as large an orchestra as we have.

seriously and try to build School Spirit in our own hearts. If we have none, nobody can put it into us.

Love of your school like love of your country should be part of your life. Let us all move as one unit and not as a hundred units.

Let's get behind our coach, team, yell-leader and faculty and "yell," "yell," "yell."

GASTON ESCOBOSA.

(Editor's Note.—This article was written before the last two games, but is being published because of its merits. Polytechnic has certainly showed the spirit at school activities the past two weeks. The way things have pepped up lately the school must have anticipated this editorial.)

POLY CHATTER

Ellen Margaret is rapidly recovering from a serious operation for appendicitis. She returned home last Saturday, and will probably be back to school in a number of weeks.

The Journalism class misses Shirley very much. She is out of school with a severe case of quinsy. We will certainly be glad to have you back, Shirley.

Mr. Tennant was out of school Thursday with tonsillitis.

Jenny McClellan has been working in the office.

Two new students have entered school, Berke and Jack Rummier.

Lenore Buechler who was hurt in an automobile accident the first of the school year, has returned to school and is doing some stenographic work for Mr. Rathbone.

Fred Lewis has been carrying his hand around in a sling, and is unable to drive. His hand was scratched in some way and infection set in.

Muriel Longfellow, a last year's student, has returned from Arizona to continue her studies here. We welcome you back, Muriel.

Melvin Jones, formerly an Ag student, was a visitor Friday, October 15. He is now attending Tulare High School.

Rust and Perry have bought a 26 hand ford (sold 26 times) a Jr. 16 (not eight, because 16 can ride in it). They have swiped two lanterns for headlights. One morning they got up at four o'clock to go riding. They must be proud of it because it's the first morning they have been up before the bugle call.

We wonder why William Farley has become a woman hater. For information ask Raymond Perry.

Ellsworth Hald '25, writes from Flagstaff, Arizona, that he is attending State Teachers College, taking a course in physical education. He would like to hear from some of the old Polyites.

AUD NOTES

I would just as soon wake up asphyxiated as frozen. This was one of the strong arguments which was brought up by Sinclair at the Aud Club meeting.

Sign on Thorpe's door Wednesday night, "Dear Chuck: If I'm studying when you come in, please wake me up."

Funny things will happen in the Civic Aud. Sunday night Able found out that he was too heavy, for his bed, when he woke up, spread all over the floor. Scotty was sleeping on the pool table Monday morning when roll-call was blown.

May Prewer was quite badly burned about the face Sunday when the oven with which she was working exploded, shooting fire toward her, burning her face and hair. Fortunately her mother and a boy were close by to put the fire out.

Dripping with sweat, mud and blood all over him, Larry Henry, the dashing half-back marked his exit from the football field at Santa Maria.

Larry played hard all through the game and is well worthy of the praise which he received. Many of the breaks were picked up by Larry so we will call Larry the hero of the game. He seemed to be the center of attraction especially with the fairer sex.

If you don't know him, he was the boy in the Poly uniform who played so hard in the band all through the game, picking out the breaks in the music.

Friend: What kind of work do you do?

Mr. Preuss: I'm a teacher.

Friend: I don't work either.

Aud Club

Since Jack Yates, past president of the Aud Club was called home, the vice-president, Earl Roberts, took office as president. This transfer leaving the chair of vice-president vacant, a meeting was held on Monday, Oct. 18, 1926, for the purpose of election of a new vice-president which resulted in the election of Leonard Sinclair. The secretary-treasurer was elected at an earlier meeting in Larry Henry.

A committee was also selected to represent the boys in their school affairs. Charlie Demarest was made the chairman of this committee and Bob Hubler and Gaston Escobaso committee men.

The constitution adopted at the meeting of October 4 is as follows:

Article I.

The name of this organization shall be the Aud Club.

Its purpose shall be to promote good fellowship among the Aud Club members, encourage school spirit, promote social activities in the Aud Club and to work for the betterment of the school as a whole at all times.

Article II.

Membership.

Membership shall include all members that live in the Civic Auditorium and any other student who might be voted in by the Club.

Article III.

Government.

The government of this organization shall be carried on by president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, legally elected as hereafter provided.

Article IV.

The Election of Officers.

The officers of this organization shall be elected at the first stated meeting each semester for the ensuing term.

Section 1. It shall be necessary to obtain a majority vote for election of officers.

Sec. 2. All voting in connection with election of officers shall be by secret ballot.

Article V.

Meetings.

There shall be stated meetings every two weeks on Monday night at seven o'clock. Special meetings may be called by the president.

Article VI.

Finance.

Section 1. There shall be regular semester dues. The amount of which will be fifty cents ($0.50) each semester.

Sec. 2. Assessment may be levied by three-fourths majority of the active membership.

Article VII.

Amendments.

Amendments may be made at any time by three-fourths majority of the active membership providing they first be posted on the bulletin board at least one week before being voted upon.

Conclusion

This constitution was drawn up by the Constitutional Committee consisting of six committee men:

Thorpe, chairman; Sinclair, Sparks, Schuyler, Jeppesen, Holst, and Yates. Drawn up September 29, 1926. Adopted October 4, 1926.

Ag Projects

The boys in project work are doing fine so far. There are two boys who have beef. The animals are slowly being put on full ration which will put on the fat that is needed. There is now over 200 tons of good alfalfa hay that will be consumed by the beef for the coming period.

Some of the boys of the Ag. department have entered the pig feeding contest which the Kiwanis Club is sponsoring in this community. The boy who puts the most gain on his pig with the least amount of feed gets a free trip to Davis at the beginning of next school year.

A number of field projects are to be taken up by the boys soon. Barley and peas will be the main projects. There are some wheat, oats and some vegetable projects.

"Is that all?" asked Mr. Dunning of Mr. Rathbone when the latter purchased 100 hogs for Poly from the Arroyo Grande country.

Alfred: Why have words roots?
Miss Carre: How else could the language grow?

Miss Carse: And why don't you have your lesson today?
 Lola Roberts: Because I had company last night.
 Miss Carse: Well, why don't you have your lesson today, Charles?
 Charles McCarthy: Because I was the company.
 Escobosa: What is a place kick?
 Sparks: A kick all over the place.
 John: What does a Poly student have to know in order to graduate?
 Dr. Crandall: He should be able to count to twenty without taking his shoes off.
 Chuck: Will you have some pie?
 Thorpe: Is it compulsory?
 Chuck: No, apple.
 Larry: May I ask to see you home?
 Ardith: Please do, I've been dying to refuse you all evening.
 Avalyn: I'm just a little love bird.
 Bob: That's funny, I was told you were just a little cuckoo.

Glorifying Campus Flivers
 (Signs seen on the Campus.)
 Though my features are bad, I still have a perfect frame.
 Excuse the noise, I've got rings in my head.
 Baby carriage: I go anywhere you push me.
 Did you hear? The wheels spoke. No one killed in this wreck. I make walking a pleasure.
 Seven days in this Lizzie makes one weak.
 Danger: This can contains gasoline.
 Accept no substitutes.
 Pay driver on demand.
 Use no hooks.
 Little Bo-creep.
 This side up.
 The uncovered Wagon.
 Pray as you enter.
 We make her what she is today.

Thorne: There's a big black bug on the ceiling.
 Mr. McFarland: Well, step on it and leave me alone.

Sparks is so bashful that when a girl holds his hand he says, "Is that necessary?"
 Soup: What was all that noise when you came in.
 Keeno: I can't say whether night fell or day broke.
 The teacher who comes ten minutes late is very rare. In fact, he is in a class by himself.
 The people that are the funniest around school just now are the seniors, trying to keep from being mistaken for freshmen.
 He: Say is it true that in the air service you are retired as a colonel after 15 years?
 She: No m'lud, after two years you are retired as an angel.

Frosh (rushing into library): I want the life of Caesar.
 Teacher: Sorry but Brutus beat you you to it.
 Teacher: Can any child tell the meaning of the word "unaware" which I have just read?
 Little Girl: Unaware is the very last thing you take off when going to bed.

POLY IS VICTOR

The first quarter was hotly contested, both sides fighting and holding in the pinches. When the game was but a few minutes old, Poly scored three points on a place-kick by White. The Mustangs were given a scare when the Spartans got away with some snappy passes and had the ball six inches from the scoring zone. The green and gold warriors showed the metal men are made of by holding the opposition for four downs, and then punting out of danger. A few minutes later the quarter ended.

The San Jose lads played a clean game and looked best in the second quarter when they resorted to passes as a means of gaining ground after attempts at bucking the line had failed. Neither team scored in this quarter.

The Mustangs opened the half in brilliant style and forced the Teachers to play a defensive game. San Jose punted out of danger several times, but Poly scored another three points on one of White's place kicks. The score at the end of the third quarter was 6 for Poly and 0 for San Jose.

Pete Traver received the ball on a punt and went 58 yards before being downed by a Purple and Gold jerseyed man. The interference at this stage of the game was good, and the Mustangs spilling a lot of men to help Traver make the gain. With but a yard to go Poly tried three line-bucks to no avail and then failed to criss-cross for a score. Zanoli was the husky who packed the leather over for the touchdown. White converted for the extra point. The game was Poly's, 13 to 0.

Most fans agree on Carrol and White as the outstanding players for the game although the whole team worked like a clock.

Poly Wins from Santa Maria

California Polytechnic's Mustang herd invaded Santa Maria Saturday, October 16, where they trampled the rival Santa Marians under, 10 to 0. A large crowd of spectators saw Poly take the long end over Santa Maria for the first time in three years. The whole Poly lineup was alert and each man played his position like a veteran. First, Pierce would shoot around the end for a long gain; then, Zanoli would plunge through the line for more yards. Roberts, midget safety man, played a stellar game at quarter and gained forty-five yards at a time running back punts. On one occasion he brought the fans to their feet with a dash toward the opponent's goal from a kickoff. White played a snappy game and his passing attack was good with Captain Sparks and Johnnie Carrol receiving them. On the defense, the whole line held like a stone wall, and, on the offense, they charged like a battering ram and opened large gaps in the enemy line. The four utility

COACH INTERVIEWED

Reveals Basketball as a Favorite Sport

As football season wanes, our attention is gradually turning to basketball. Mr. A. P. Agosti, Poly athletic mentor, reveals the fact that he chooses the indoor game as his favorite. With so much likely looking material, a large turnout of candidates is expected. This speaks well for Poly. Since the Coach is strong for this sport, the coming cage season will in all probability prove an interesting one.

Coach Agosti is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural College. While at school he played football and basketball. He took additional work in Physical Education at Stanford University. This is his sixth year as Coach at Poly, and he has always held the respect of the faculty and students. Mr. Agosti is one of the organizers of the California Coast Conference of which his teams are members. He was vice-president of the league for 1922-23, and for the past two years has been its president.

When asked if he was a Californian, our coach responded "Californian by adoption, otherwise I'm a Webfoot."

Thorpe is so dumb that he thinks a table of square root comes from some tree.

backfield men did well while they were in.

From the beginning, the Mustangs had the edge on the Red and White squad and the fighting was done for the most part in Santa Maria territory. The ball was bucked into scoring distance and White dropped it neatly over the bar with his educated toe for three points. The Santa Marians displayed flashes of good playing and proved they were a well coached team.

Poly showed up best in the second quarter when she started a goalward march, and Bill Pierce showed his former teammates how to hit the line by packing the pigskin over for a touchdown. The convert was successful. In this same quarter the Mustangs threatened to score again. With only one yard to go they fumbled to boot away six or seven more points. The half ended 10 to 0.

The coach contemplated using his second string eleven and had them run through signals. The regulars played a good game so very few substitutions were made. Many penalties and a fumble prevented further scoring.

In the last quarter Poly opened an aerial attack and marched down the field. Penalties for backfield in motion or offside kept the score down. We won 10 to 0.

Score by quarters:

Mustangs	3	7	0	0-10

SPORT BRIEFS

An editorial in the Modesto Collegian entitled "True Sportsmanship" tells of the clean playing of Poly and M. J. C. in the game between the two schools. Poly continues to build up a reputation for herself.

Thirteen new men are out in uniform as the result of a call made by Coach Agosti. The regulars will have to work hard to keep their positions as some of these are former high school players, and have the weight. If all the fellows stay with us, some good material will be developed for future teams.

Poly students in general, and Coach and players especially, wish to thank Mr. Motto for the feed he gave the players for beating Santa Maria.

Our Coach is a happy man these days and there is a reason. His Mustangs beat Santa Maria after losing two years straight, and, on the same day, his Alma Mater, the Oregon Agricultural College, defeated U. C.

In the last five years Poly won two, lost two, and tied one game with Santa Maria. We hope to win again next season.

Military

Three military companies have been organized: Company A, Company B, and Company C. The commanders of A. company are Eric Varian and Frank Quinonez; of company B are, Louie Morganti and Elmer Tognazzini; and of company C, Lewis Thorpe and Gaston Escobosa.

The three companies as a whole have shown a great improvement, but as an individual company, Company C has made the best showing. One day this week, probably Friday, a special Battalion review will be held.

On November eleventh, 125 of our men will parade downtown with rifles, and the rest, without rifles. Company C is going to put in a whole platoon commanded by first commander, Gaston Escobosa. Anyone who has seen the first turnout and also the last one can see the improvement.

At the State Capital

The coach and eighteen of his men left early this morning for Sacramento where they will engage the Junior College of that city in the third conference game. They went by train and expect to be in good condition to meet the Senators on Saturday.

Next week the squad goes to Chico for another conference game to be played on Armistice Day with the Chico Wildcats.

Mules Start Schedule

The Mules met the San Luis eleven yesterday on the new high school field in the first of a series of games being scheduled for them by Coach Agosti. Each Wednesday the lightweight eleven will play a neighboring high school team.

Talks Over Radio

Monday night, October 18, Evabelle Long-Fuller gave a talk over the radio on Dramatic value. Two of her pupils who are taking private lessons appeared on the program. She also sang the San Luis Obispo song composed recently by Mrs. Gillian Brown for the Monday Club. Mrs. Brown accompanied her on the piano.

The program was a San Luis Obispo program broadcasted by San Luis Obispo people at the Santa Maria broadcasting station. San Luis Obispo should be proud of the talent possessed by a number of her citizens.
