Teachers Dine At Santa Maria Inn

New Faculty Members Made Welcome By Former Membership.

Members of the Poly faculty and staff who have been here before, entertained in honor of the new members at a dinner party held at Santa Maria Inn on Friday night, October fourteenth. Although the membership was not all present, wives, husbands, fathers and mothers were eligible guests, so fifty-two people were served.

The newcomers were officially welcomed by means of toasts given by Mrs. B. R. Crandall, Miss Margaret Chase, Dr. D. W. Wilder, Captain J. C. Deuel, Coach A. P. Agosti, Mr. C. E. Knott, Mr. H. G. Warren, and Mr. P. W. Thompson, and initiated (by proxy) in the person of Miss Dorothy Hanson. Miss Stella Carse acted as toastmistress.

Special music was furnished for the occasion by Mrs. E. D. Dunning, Mrs. Carl Pate, Miss Margaret Hansen, and Miss Dagmar Goodell.

Following the program, panatropes music was provided for dancing.

Guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Funk, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Selph, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rider, Mr. and Mrs. G. Montijo, Mesdames M. V. Knott, E. W. Mitchell, Carl Pate, the Misses Ethel Abbott, Leah Gene Kraemer, and Dorothy Hanson, and Messrs. Henry Flgge, J. J. Hyer, and Raymond Traver.

Financial arrangements were in charge of W. O. Smith. Misses Margaret Chase, Hope Jordan, Marlen Knox, and Elsie Haskin formed the committee on invitations, and Miss Knox also printed the place cards.

Band Will Have Their Own Uniforms

At last our band is going to look like a real honest-to-goodness band.

After a very heated discussion among its members in regard to the problem of their uniform, a delegation of four went to Dr. Crandall to get the official approval. They got it, so now our band will be seen with their new long pants, of ordinary army khaki color, with a black stripe one inch and a quarter, down the sides. The usual khaki shirt and black tie are to be worn with them.

Heretofore, the band has had to wear the ordinary Poly uniform, but from now on, there will be no mistaking the members of this exclusive organization.

Staff Cartoonist Weds At Stanford

The marriage of Jack Wachtel and Miss Peg Webster last Friday at Stanford was a complete surprise to the students of Poly. Like the proverbial Arab, Jack had folded his tent, and stolen away.

It is not known where the newlyweds will make their home as they seem to have gotten too far away to write back.

Mr. Warren's brother Charles Warren, a teacher in the Compton Union High School, is planning a course similar to his brother's here. Charles Warren has had a broad experience as he was an Army mechanic in the aviation department in France.

Student Affairs Committee Prepare For Homecoming

A S. A. Committee meeting was held Tuesday at fifth period in room six of the Administration building, with Fred Graves presiding. The main purpose of the meeting was to call in the reports of the various committees for Homecoming day.

The post card committee, formerly appointed by Miss Chase, was left in charge as its work had not been completed.

The banquet committee has considered three places, the Andrews Hotel, the Episcopal Ladies Guild, and the Methodist Ladies Guild. It was left to the committee to decide upon the place.

The two Athletic Managers are nominated by the S. A. C. and voted upon by a joint meeting of the Junior-Senior class. The two men nominated were Joe Marsalek and George Isola. If approved by the Junior and Seniors, these men will act on the athletic committee, assisting the Coach in deciding many matters of significance.

Since so few members of the student body really know the composition, functions and object of the S. A. C., its members, and finances, and the management of publications, Athletics and the Co-op store are carried on, it was moved and seconded that a report on the history and operations of this group be organized by Miss Chase and given Wednesday at assembly by representatives of the organization concerned.

It was suggested that a report of each meeting of the S. A. C. be published in the Polygram of what is going on in the meetings.

Owing to the growth of our school, Coach Agosti expressed his thought that it would be advantageous for a Junior College football team to play only Colleges, and the second team to play high schools. This would not only increase the prestige of the school, but would tend to bring about better football games and bring better athletes to our school as students. For two years we would probably go through a starvation period and get many beatings, but we would benefit by it in future years, because of increased strength.

Dr. Crandall said he had the permission to invite the president of the student-body to the Rotary Club for luncheon. He will take one member of the S. A. C. each week.

The question was brought up as to whether the Junior Farm Center boys would receive refunds for their enrollment fee of two dollars and fifty cents each, at Riverside. It was moved and seconded that the boys be refunded this fee.

A report of each Student Affairs Committee meeting will be given in the Polygram.

The committees for Homecoming appointed so far are:

Post Card Committee—Earl Williams (chairman), Florence Cubitt, Fred Elliott, Wilbur Jacobson, Kenneth Green.

Machine And Forge Shops Reshingled

The Machine and Forge shops are now being reshingled with Pabco black fireproof shingles.

Pabco shingles are made of a composition paper, tar, and crushed natural slate. They are cut into strips about three feet long and ten inches wide, when laid they have the impression of a natural slate roof.

The roofs of the three faculty houses by the dormitory have just been covered with Pabco shingles.

Chico Staters Enjoy Hot- Foot Hop Given By Galley Slaves and Nite Hawks

"There is the best of feeling between Chico and California Polytechnic. They are the only ones that entertain our boys and the boys surely enjoy coming here," says the Coach of Chico State Teachers College.

We're glad Chico enjoyed the "Hot Foot Hop" given in their honor. And why not? Everything was fine. Three cheers for the "Peppiest Klub on the Kampus!" Well, so far so good. What? Can the Nite Hawks play? They can! And how!

The decoration committee deserves credit for the artistic touch added by Chico's colors of red and white. Those serving were: Pauline Fitkin, Florence Cubitt, Jerry Cowell, Ed Smith, Dave Carpenter, and Ed Purcell. Let's give Bob Wilkins credit for the clever signs.

The refreshment committee were: Florence Lee, Carolyn Mercer, and May Prewer. Nothing needs to be said in regard to the punch. "Gargle Here." And they did!

Miss Hefferman A Visitor

Miss Helen Hefferman, State Commissioner of Rural Education, with Dr. Cook of the Federal Department of Homemaking was a visitor on the campus last week.

Miss Hefferman was formerly superintendent of elementary Rural Education only, and in this capacity, completed some very outstanding work, until, with the reorganization of the State Educational department, she was made superintendent of the Rural High Schools also, together with her former duties.

Former Students Visit Here

Larry Henry and Louis Thorpe, who were students here last year and are now attending U. S. C. Prep. at Los Angeles, passed through San Luis on Friday, October 14.

They were on their way to Palo Alto where U. S. C. and Stanford met on the Gridiron.

The boys arrived here late Friday afternoon, and were entertained that evening by Miss Grace Oldman who gave a dinner for fourteen of their Poly friends in their honor.

The boys left at midnight for the north, and returned to Los Angeles Sunday night.

Vicente Jimenez Amieva, a former student of Poly, visited the school and old friends on Thursday, October 13. With him was his father, lately of Mexico City, now of San Francisco who is very interested in the school since the entrance of his two sons, Vicente, and Cayetano. Cayetano was taken ill here, about two years ago, and was sent to San Francisco, but died there.

Mr. Amieva gave a very interesting talk to the boys of the school who are from Mexico City, and its vicinity.

Vicente is now working in San Francisco. He was a student of California Polytechnic two years ago.

And what ghostly shapes were these that we saw tip-toeing their way up the side of a hill near Avila last Wednesday night? Lady teachers, beware of the eyes which lurk in the shadows.

Notice to students—This is not as sinister as it seems, but our lady teachers are surely some hikers.

NOTICE

In this issue appears the first of a series of articles being submitted by Miss Abbott's College English class. This group of students has been carrying on discussions concerning topics of current interest, formulating conclusions in themes, some of the best of which are to appear in the Polygram.

Dr. Crandall Tells Of Scripps College

Saxophone Band Makes Its Initial Appearance At Assembly.

Poly's Saxophone Band made its first appearance at assembly held in the Civic Auditorium on Wednesday, October 19. They opened the assembly by playing three selections: A Noyel Novelette, The Shepherd's Dream, and Moonglade.

Dr. Crandall then told the students of his trip to Long Beach to the State Superintendent's Convention, and told of the stress laid on vocational education shown by a talk given by Will C. Wood. Since 94 per cent of the population are working at a trade, they should be taught to be leaders as well as followers.

Dr. Crandall also told of his visit to the dedication of the Claremont Colleges Corporation, formed of Pomona College and the new Scripps College for girls, partly endowed by Miss Ellen Scripps. This is formed like the Oxford University, England, being a large unit made up of smaller colleges. "This is an important step in the history of American Education," says Dr. Crandall, "because it is the first institution of its kind to be formed on American soil."

There were 125 collegiate representatives at the dedication, at which Dr. Crandall represented his own Alma Mater, Alfred University, New York, and the youngest of Junior College divisions, that of our own California Polytechnic.

The first assembly held in the Civic Auditorium was held two weeks ago, and the program was opened by the Polytechnic Orchestra playing several selections.

At this time, Mr. Valliet, District Manager of the Standard Oil Co., gave a very interesting talk on the Boulder Dam situation. He told of the advantages and disadvantages of this situation, and several reasons why this should go through.

At the next assembly, the function, organization etc., of the S. A. C. will be explained.

Class Officers Complete

After the ten minutes given to class meeting at fifth period on Wednesday, October 12, all classes have elected all their officers and are busy with their work for the year.

The officers for the Senior class are: Earl Williams, President, Elmer Harper, Vice-President; Pauline Fitkin, Secretary; and John Pimentel, Treasurer.

Junior officers are: Storme Wade, President; Mrs. Charlotte Smith, Vice-President; Joe Marsalek, Secretary; and Gordon Hazlehurst, Treasurer.

Freshmen officers are: Marcella Johnson, President; Bill White, Vice-president; Bob Jeffries, Secretary, and Harry Lee, Treasurer.

The weather bureau report for San Luis Obispo is now being taken at Poly. Every day, Mr. Agosti may be seen taking the report at 2:30 P.M. and this is the only weather report for San Luis Obispo now and is published in the papers.

EDITORIAL

Who, here at Poly that saw the game Saturday can honestly stand up, and say that it was not a good game? There is not one, because it was a good game, and our Mustangs took their beating with a smile and without a whine. Even Chico had to admire the spirit our team showed, and we all should be proud of them. To think that a team the size of ours was able to hold a team the size of Chico is remarkable, and we should not feel downhearted in the least, especially when we stop to think that Chico is not only a large team but also held the conference championship, which means that they have to be very good in order to hold that position.

Let's all be out on the bleachers again this afternoon, yelling as we never yelled before, when our team comes through for a victory over Paso Robles.

Homecoming Day

How many of you students reading the Polygram now know that here at Poly there is an old tradition called Homecoming? On this day all the alumni are back with us for a good time. We always give them a dance, a supper, a football rally and big football game of the year, and show them a general good time.

In the past years Poly students have never disappointed their alumni in courtesy or in showing them a real good time. We will all be alumni some day, and will come back and have Poly as our host, so let's play our part this year, and put over a real honest-to-goodness royal welcome for our alumni who will be with us over the week-end of the fourth and sixth.

BARRACKS BREEZES

Gene Kurtz was a very surprised boy when he arrived at the barracks on Saturday evening, after dinner, for instead of the empty room to greet him, he found his mother and father. Glad? That is no word for it. They spent a very enjoyable time during their stay.

Cyrl Emle has turned over a new leaf and has cleaned his room for the first time. He was astonished to find that he had a rug on his floor.

A large amount of fruit has been enjoyed by the boys in the Barracks. There has been plenty of grapes and apples, pomegranites, and other fruits consumed.

Does Miss Carso look any different? She has parents now. They arrived in San Luis last Saturday night, having driven out from Iowa in eight days. They are living in the Harris apartments on Plaza St.

The Poly-Y holds interesting meetings for boys every Sunday morning from 8:45 to 9:30 A. M. All boys are welcome, members or not. After the meeting there are cars to take you to your church.

Come out, fellows, we want you all. Household Arts Building.

POLY CHATTER

AUD DOINGS

Sparky, the boy from the wide open spaces, has been seen over at the auto-wrecking yard across the street. "Boys," he said, "In a few weeks I will give you a surprise." He is making himself a Lincoln. It is said, it takes three old cars to make a good one. Well, Sparky is building a car to surpass anything on the market for $135.00.

Suff. Suff. What's that splay smell now? On investigation there were forty-three quarts of pickled peaches and grapes seen in the kitchen. Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Prewer had spent the afternoon canning this treat for winter.

Thomas Martel, on receiving three letters at supper was so elated and cured of his home sickness, that he slipped off his chair, but this didn't dampen his enthusiasm in the least.

Boys! Are the corners of your rooms clean? Dan, our janitor, said to Mrs. Warren, "the boys are keeping me in spending money." You understand, for each room that he is forced to clean, Dan gets twenty-five cents an occupant. Take heed to this warning.

Emmett Schuyler has been promising a elder treat for the last year. He has been seen swiping pickles out of a barrel. The penalty will be a barrel of elder.

Room 1 was the scene of a reunion. The old gang was in full force with Nelson Brown as an accompanist on his banjo. Oh, the singing and the music they had.

Wilfred Frederickson, self-styled "Man-of-the-West," but better known as Sparky told us that he worked in a lumber camp this summer, splitting logs. This led us to thinking that he was a lumber-jack. A couple of boys who happened to be out in the woods let the cat out of the bag for Sparky, they said that his job was splitting kindling for the camp cook.

Funk, former boarder of the mess hall, joined our cafeteria Thursday. Mrs. Warren, not knowing he had transferred, Funk was expecting to be thrown out in the street. Fortunately for him, Mrs. Warren is smaller in size than he is.

What was that terrible odor Friday night? Oh, yes! we located it. Christy had been working in the silo after school.

Truesdale has learned the wisdom of the saying, "When Mom Warren speaks you step" especially in the dining room.

DORM DOINGS

What do you know about that. A successful trip to Pasadena was made in Ham Smith's, "Gas Maniac." His passengers were Burum and Swain.

Much interest has been derived from the pool tournament.

You should have seen how close Fairbanks came to making bologna out of Thompson's dog. It seems the dog ran into the road so fast that his brakes failed to hold. Thus the poor pup was rolled and, bumped. At last

STUDENT OPINION

A Chance for School Service

Poly can boast as few schools can of possessing a sun dial. But can it boast of it as a thing of beauty? It certainly can not. Not that the sun dial itself is ugly, but its immediate surroundings, which should be taken as part of it, are certainly not beautiful.

Standing as it does on barren ground in the midst of the parking area, with no curb, grass, or flowers around it, the sun dial looks as out of place as a fish on dry land.

The University of California's sun dial is one of the beautiful spots of the campus. Surrounded with grass and flowers, it is a place to point to, and a spot to which the class that erected it can point to with pride.

In our case, the landscape class could lay out the plans for the curb, and plans for the most effective planting scheme. Then the carpenter shop class could put in the concrete curb, and the horticulture class could plant the grass and flowers.

With these improvements, I think that Poly's sun dial would be a place of beauty, as well as a place where the time of day was shown.

the car got off and the dog ran hastily to his own grounds.

Yes, and a dimly lighted Ford delivery drove up in front of the Dorm one moonlight night. Now, we wonder who was the lady driver, and who were the several companions?

We are tempted to wonder about Al Hedstrom. Is he getting nabbed by one, two, three, or is it four girls?

Al, our yell leader, has a new one in the personage of Eunice Smith. Step lively, Al!

Quite a few of the Dorm fellows showed their stuff at the last dance whereas at other dances they have been wall flowers. Keep it up, fellows.

Has Billy Swain found himself a girl yet? We hope so.

What's the matter with the pretty usher, Herb?

The Dorm Club is planning another Dorm Jinx for this year. Frank Abbott has been elected manager for the Jinx, and much is expected from him.

Why was Bill Swain so uneasy in the Elmo last Sunday night?

We wonder why—

Al is so short?
 Girls don't like Fords?
 Albert Blackburn doesn't like California?

There is always somebody without a uniform?

The dances only last until 11 o'clock?

Burum—tell us all about your trip to Pasadena.

(Note: After this edition of the Polygram, no Dorm Doings will be accepted with out a name. Several things have been turned in with out a name on them. If you want it put in, put your name on the paper with the article. If you wish, your name will be withheld from the paper.)

Ann Lee (to Mr. Funk who had stumbled over a stone): Did you fall?
Mr. Funk: How utterly imbecille. Of course not. My body losing motion produced an impact with a stationary substance, which by the law of inertia resisted the force applied to it and destroyed my equilibrium. So not being able to defy or break the laws of gravitation, I succumbed to the inevitable and assumed this horizontal position.
Ann Lee: Oh!

Mr. Ball: We had a case of kidnapping at our house last night.

Mr. Dunning: Have the police done anything?

Mr. Ball: Naw, I didn't call them. The baby had just gone to sleep.

Miss Curse: Did you get a hair cut?
Miss Hansen: No, all of them.

Teacher: What kind of birds are frequently held in captivity?
Al Hedstrom: Jail Birds.

Harriett: Nothing doing. I'm just as sensible as I look.

Junk man: Have you any old junk, ma'am, that you want to get rid of?

Mrs. Selph: Yes, come in, my husband will be here any minute.

Edward E.: I shall never marry until I meet a woman who is my direct opposite.

Mr. Agostl (to chemistry): If this chemical explodes, I will be blown through the roof. Come closer, so you can follow me.

Lady: Isn't it wonderful how a single policeman can dam the flow of traffic?

Boy: Yes, grandie, but you should hear the bus drivers.

Mr. McFarland: Where do all bugs go in winter?

Edward S.: Search me.

Boss: Well, did you read the letter I sent you?

Office boy: Yes, sir; I read it inside and it said, "You are fired," and on the outside it said, "Return in five days," so here I am.

He: Please.
She: No.
He: Oh, please!
She: No!
He: Oh, please, do.
She: Positively, no.
He: Just this time.
She: I said "no."
He: Aw, Ma, all the boys go bare-footed now.

Cal Poly Bows To Chico College 19-0

Mustangs Give Wildcats Enough To Think About In First League Game.

Chico State Teacher's College defeated Cal Poly 19 to 0 in the first coast conference game on Poly Field Saturday, but to do so the Wildcats had to put forth their very best effort against a team that caused them plenty of worry throughout the fray.

Although put at a disadvantage through illness and injuries the patched up Mustangs showed a vast improvement over previous games and gave their heavier opponents all kinds of battle from start to finish. Not once did they cease fighting, and threatening to put over a victory for their Alma Mater.

In the first quarter both teams went scoreless with the Mustangs fighting ferociously in their effort to score. Chico intercepted the pass that looked like a Cal Poly touchdown, but again the Mustangs threatened only to be halted by the northern stalwarts. Clink was backing the line in wonderful fashion, giving Chico's backs enough to think about. Eddie Smith packed the oval four out of five plays and usually netted substantial gains. Captain Roberts was calling them right at quarterback while Norman Young, a mere mite of man just fifteen years old and weighing hundred and thirty-five pounds, showed how to block on the line of scrimmage.

Chico found it almost useless to try the ends because it was like suicide with men like Tate and Barbara and Harper and Sinclair on the flanks.

Score: Chico—0 Cal Poly—0.

The second quarter was remarkably well played and though it was Chico and not Cal Poly that scored, the Mustangs really had the edge. Several attempted punts were blocked by the green and orange who came very near scoring in this period of the game. Tate and Harper were going strong and spilled the Wildcats behind the line often, so they began punching at the center of the line and that is where they found us weakened. Carter was missed, being one of the biggest men on the line.

The half ended 6 to 0 when a Chico man went over guard for a touchdown.

There was no scoring again in the third quarter, but Chico's line attack began to tell on the Mustangs. Their chief gains were over guard and center.

Hazlehurst, Lutzow, Webster, Truesdale, Wright, and Bowman deserve a lot of mention for their work against the two hundred pounders.

After marching the ball within scoring distance in the last period, the Wildcats went over on a deceptive cut-back play and then added the extra point with a perfect drop-kick. Chico then kicked off to Roberts who took it to the center of the field. The Mustangs started forward passing and made a few long gains. Just when it looked as if there might be a Cal Poly score, a red and white man intercepted a short pass and breezed away to an unearned touchdown. This ended the game.

Mules Tangle With Paso Hi Bearcats

Lightweights In Return Game With Paso Robles Today On Poly Field.

Paso Robles High School comes here for a return game with the Mules this afternoon at four o'clock.

Be it known that the lightweights won over the Bearcats in their first meeting in Paso Robles. The score that day was 13 to 12. If the Mules have their way about the matter (we think they will), the tally will be much heavier than the first time. Sounds interesting enough so let's be on hand to cheer for the second eleven. They're the men that make a winning squad.

No lineup is definite at this writing, but nearly every second and third stringer will get a chance to show his wares.

Third Team To Clash With Mission Hi Squad On Gridiron Wednesday

The third team, henceforth to be known as the Burros or Jackasses, will get their big test of the season Wednesday afternoon in a clash with the fast Mission High School eleven.

The Burros are a scrapping bunch. They have proved that in scrimmages with the first and second teams. The Mission squad is no slouch, having turned back both the San Luis and Paso Robles lightweights by big margins and also trimmed a few of the smaller high schools in the county.

The starting lineup has not been definitely decided, but whoever is picked will have to do some hard playing as there will be a number of substitutes anxious to get in the contest.

This will be the last game on home grounds before the big Homecoming game with the Santa Barbara State College Roadrunners.

Referee—Fitzpatrick (St. Mary's), Umpire—Shirley (S. L. O.), Headlinesman—Bruce (Chico), Timer—Traver (Cal Poly).

SPORT BRIEFS

Don Eveleth, former Mustang player is now playing tackle with the Cal Aggies at Davis.

Bill Pierce, a halfback who was with us last year, is holding down the same position at Taft Junior College. Bill will return to Cal Poly next year.

Pete Traver is back with the team and we're looking for John Brommer to get back into the harness.

We can't call Russell Carter, "walrus" since he has had the measles. Guess it won't be long till he weighs his hundred and ninety-five pounds again.

Chico must have had us pretty well scouted before the game last week. There are over fifty of their alumni in this vicinity.

Hank Hankenson, Morris White, Johnnie Carrol, Thornton Lee and Eric Varian were down to watch their former teammates do battle with Chico.

Cal Poly's giant left hander who tried out with the Seals last spring will get another chance to make good. We'll venture to guess that Thornton Lee will be wearing a San Francisco uniform next summer.

Bakersfield Next On Mustang Sched.

Cal Poly Expects To Repeat Contest Of Last Year Which Was Won 31-0.

Next on Cal Poly's gridiron of battles comes the Bakersfield Junior College. The game will be played at Bakersfield on October twenty-ninth.

This will be the second meeting of these two schools, the Mustangs having routed the Renegades on Poly Field last year by overwhelming count of 31 to 0.

Bakersfield Jaycee has a better team than last year according to reports of this year's games, but Cal Poly players enter the contest as favorites to win.

Coach Agosti is taking about two teams to Bakersfield. Unless some other arrangement is made, they will leave early next Friday morning in private cars.

National Characteristics

[The Junior College students of Miss Abbott are going to write articles on modern subjects to be run in a special column in the Polygram. The first of these articles was written by Rolla Twisselman, and is called "National Characteristics of America."]

"Our critics state numerous characteristics which they think are national. One critic says we are materialistic. Another says we are lawless. Then one of our European critics comes forth with the statement that we boast too much. We are accused of being too efficient, or rather, they accuse us of thinking we are efficient when we aren't. Others say that there is too much speed in America. That we're in such a hurry to get somewhere or achieve something that we don't see the beauty along the way.

"Some writers find fault with our skyscrapers and others say we have no art. We are accused of having no culture. 'Dollar chasers,' say the Europeans. Still another critic says we live too much in the present, that we have no thought of the future or future generations.

"There is only one thing our critics agree upon, and that is that America should use Europe as a model.

"Perhaps if some of our foreign critics should come over to America and try to make a living they would sing a different tune. We are materialists, they say, yet did they ever take into consideration the number of tourists that visit Yosemite, Yellowstone, Grand Canyon or any of our National parks? We go there for recreation, but our chief motive is to go where there is beautiful scenery. Does this seem materialistic? Furthermore, look at our radio programs. A large percentage of them are made up of the better class music. Last year some of the great operas were broadcast and the expenses were paid by donations from radio fans.

"Boasting seems to be considered one of our greatest sins. I think we have something to brag about. We are one of if not the richest of nations. We have surpassed other nations in the use of machinery. We provide free education.

"We are credited with being too much in a hurry. I think that is due to our being so young. We want to achieve something. We are energetic. Another thing is that there is so much competition that we have to hurry in order to be the early bird.

"We are accused of having no art. This is due I think to the fact that we have had no time to develop it. I don't think we are lacking in a sense of beauty. The European nations are older. They have established a system. They have an inheritance of art to fall back on while everything we do has to be new. While we were fighting Indians, building railroads, and developing our country, the Europeans were painting or getting culture. I think that at the present there is a very noticeable trend toward the artistic. We are beginning to put up beautiful buildings. We want beautiful cars, and our magazine covers are becoming artistic.

"I think that in the future, America will continue to grow. We will develop an art distinctly our own. Some of the greatest thinkers will come from America. We will do away with the poorer class. Our religion will be strengthened by discoveries of science. The church that will be most popular will be the one with the best music. The preachers will not be 'do not-ers,' but will be counselors. Crowded cities will be done away with and the Americans will become a nation of health worshippers. The jazz age will pass and in its place will come the age of learning and beauty. This change will not come at once, but will be very gradual."
