Fellowship Keynote For Successful Living

Tolerance and Fraternalism Mark Good School Citizen.

(By Coach A. P. Agosti.)

Upon being asked to contribute an article in the Block "P" edition of the Polygram it occurred to me that a topic of vital interest to all of us would be necessary before it would be readable. Consequently, I have chosen one which is quite close to my heart. It is called fellowship, and is one of the dearest things in life.

First of all a man should be impressed with the importance of the practice of Fellowship with all mankind and especially with his Block "P" brothers. As a motto to guide you in case of uncertainty, I will suggest the following, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Secondly, we are made for cooperation, like feet, like hands, like rows of upper and lower teeth. To act against another is contrary to nature and in the case of our institution, it would weaken its stability. Every issue of the school or every worthy issue of one of your Block "P" members should be as vital to you as if it were your own. In order that the Block "P" club may be held together by cohesion or natural organization we must practice good fellowship and cooperation in every sense of the word.

Furthermore, adapt yourself to each and every member of your group. Love them, and do it sincerely. Immediately expel from our minds all unfavorable impressions that you may have received. By so doing you will practice fellowship and build rather than destroy. In case a fellow student does wrong through ignorance, teach him or bear with him. Fraternalism is brotherly love, and always remember that men are gregarious and live with and for one another. As you are a component part of a social system, let every act be a component part of social life. An act against this tendency will be of the nature of mutiny, just as in a popular assembly a man acting by himself stands apart from general agreement.

In no place can you show your true appreciation of fellowship as in this school among our fellowship students. Do not allow your own convenience to divert you from doing for others as best you can. If you wish to practice fellowship keep constantly in your mind the fact that you will serve a friend whenever the opportunity presents itself. In this way you will not only assist those with whom you come in contact, but you can materially elevate yourself in the estimation of your friends.

All of us, consciously or unconsciously, choose a goal in life, and it is well to remember that Fellowship is one of the best tools in the attainment of any objective.

Jay Cees to Hold Dinner Dance at Atascadero Inn

The annual Junior College dinner dance, high-lite social event of the year, is scheduled for Friday night, May 20, at Atascadero Inn. A seven course meal followed by a four-hour dance program will be the entertainment of the evening.

At a special meeting of the two Junior College classes, sport formal dress was voted upon as the official costume of the evening. The ladies will wear evening dresses, while the gentlemen will dress in the seasonal white flannels and dark coats. As this is the final social event of the Junior College year, a large attendance is expected.

Mules Place at Santa Maria

Several Poly Mules placed in the track meet held Saturday, April 30. Three Class "A" men placed, while one Class "B" man won points. Wilbor placed fourth in the mile, while Nevin took fourth in the half, and Bower fifth in the 220. All their men were in Class "A."

All-School Tag Day To Build New Block "P"

That S. A. C. members believe Wednesday the eleventh a good day for business is evident from the fact that the council has selected that date for the big All-School Tag Day to be held for the purpose of raising funds for the building of a big redwood Block "P" on the hill behind the campus.

What is the origin of the "Tag Day" idea? This question has been asked numerous times. Following is a brief explanation of why the "Tag Day" idea is being revived this year.

About four years ago, a suggestion was made for improving the Block "P" situated on the hill behind the campus. At that time a plan was proposed for constructing a concrete Block "P" to replace the present one which is merely lime. In order to do this, it was evident that a fund would have to be raised to pay for the expense of material and supplies, the labor being furnished by students. The suggestion of a tag day was followed through and a day set aside for that purpose. Tags were printed by the Poly-print shop and were sold to members of the student body for twenty-five cents.

In this way $49.50 was raised for the fund. This was insufficient, however, to carry through the proposed project, and was set aside until further action could be taken. Nothing had been done since that time, however, until this year when the matter was brought up in the Student Affairs Council and thoroughly discussed. It was decided to put in a redwood Block "P" and to hold another "Tag Day" to raise a sufficient amount to complete the project. It was also agreed that this "Tag Day" should be sponsored by the entire student body and not by the Block "P" Club.

Finally discussion in the S. A. C. meeting regarding "Tag Day" resulted in setting aside of Wednesday, May 11, for this purpose and to charge the small sum of ten cents for each tag.

Loyalty and school spirit can be shown by buying as many tags as possible.

There is no doubt but that many ex-students and alumni will return in the future and will rejoice to see a splendid Block "P" on the hill behind the campus. It will be a mark of progress of which this institution may be proud, and those who contribute toward this fund may in later years point with pride to that mark and say: "I helped to make that Block 'P'."

Seniors To Publish Last Issue of Polygram

High school seniors will sponsor the final issue of The Polygram this year. This will be a souvenir edition, containing several pictures of interest, the Class Will, the Prophecy, a review of the past year, with news and features furnished by Seniors.

Arthur Macfarlane was appointed editor-in-chief of the Senior Polygram by Karl Monsen, class president.

Macfarlane will be assisted by a staff of eighteen special writers including the following:

Bonehandle Elliot, Stanton Bryson, Jack Hyer, Sol Mondrus, Martin Villers, Don Walker, Sterling McLean, Francis Hopkins, Irwin Lingschied, James Bogert, Carl Johnson, Roy Jones, Frank Piper, Karl Monsen, Clark Bower, Paul Carver, Bob Robinson, and Kenneth Hartson.

Watch for the Senior Polygram. It promises to be a novel as well as interesting issue.

County Orchestra To Make Debut May 13

The All-County Orchestra will make its first public appearance at the San Luis Obispo Senior High School, Friday night, May 13.

After a series of hard practices held at various high schools throughout the county, the leaders and musicians are looking forward to a successful program.

"Pop" Smith, Poly orchestra leader, is well pleased with the All-County Orchestra and thinks it is one of the first steps for the advancement of student musicians.

State Judging Contest Finals on Poly Campus

More than 200 high school vocational agriculture students will be on the California Polytechnic campus Saturday, May 14, for the annual state final contest for California Future Farmers in judging livestock, dairy cattle, and poultry.

Eighteen teams of three boys each are eligible to compete in each of the three contests, and most teams will bring alternates. Many schools nearby will send their entire agriculture section to watch the judging contests.

Ability to shrewdly judge farm animals and poultry is one of the most important educational features of vocational agriculture training. In the opinion of I. E. McFarlane, department head here. The prospective farmer who knows the best animals or birds to buy and sell and how to select breeding stock, has a good foundation toward success, he believes.

Livestock classes to be judged will include hogs, beef cattle, sheep and horses. Three breeds of dairy cattle will be judged in this contest, and leading breeds of poultry will be included in the poultry judging competition.

State specialists in livestock, dairy and poultry on the California Polytechnic staff, and leading judges from elsewhere in the state, will place the animals and birds and listen to oral reasons. Julian A. McPhee, chief of the bureau of agricultural education, and regional supervisors, will be in charge of the contests.

Only the state championship livestock judging team will enter national competition this year, competition in dairy cattle and poultry judging having been postponed. The Tomales high school Future Farmer team which won the state title here last May won the national dairy cattle judging title at St. Louis last fall against 32 state teams.

Seniors Enjoy Ditch Day At Cambria Pines

Thirty enthusiastic seniors with their faculty advisers left Crandall Gymnasium Tuesday morning, May 2, for Cambria Pines Lodge to celebrate the traditional Senior Ditch Day.

Events of the day were many. A baseball game, in which Dr. Crandall and Mr. Macfarlane were the mainstays of the winning team, was one of the biggest features. Both Dr. Crandall and Mr. Macfarlane performed like veterans, hitting and fielding in true "bushball" fashion. Dr. Crandall was the hero of the game in the last of the ninth. There were two away, and the score stood 12 to 13, in favor of the team in the field, when "Home-run" "Bucket" Hartson trudged sloppily to the plate. "Bang!" He hit the first ball pitched for what looked like a sure home run over the left field fence. (P. S. The fence had been taken out.) But as Dr. Crandall was in a hurry to end the game and do justice to half of a fried chicken, he pulled a "Tarsan," climbed a handy pine tree, speared the ball with one hand, and ended the fracas.

"Chow call" was sounded and all hands gathered in the dining room where the seniors were served a delicious chicken dinner, with strawberry shortcake and strawberry ice cream for desert. Frank Carroll and Francis Hopkins raced to see who could consume the most chicken. Hopkins finally winning after eating eleven chickens to Carroll's nine.

In the afternoon members of the class enjoyed ball games, tennis, cards (more ice cream!) and horseback riding. John Hyer walked off with the equestrian honors by taking two "brodies" within fifty yards of the barn. He then decided the horse was too gentle for him and led it back to trade in on a more spirited steed.

Nine gallons of Volle's ice cream, a gift to the class from the manufacturers, tested the capacity of every senior. Mr. Macfarlane proved the champion of history by eating approximately two gallons.

Finally, when no one could even think about ice cream (with the exception of Champion Macfarlane), without suffering, it was decided to call it a day.

Block "P" Alumni Make Good Showing

California Polytechnic's Block "P" club has been instrumental in supplying valuable athletic materials to other junior colleges, state colleges, universities, and professional athletic clubs. Among the former club members, several have risen to great heights as athletes in larger schools.

Gib Rambo, ex-'29, who was for years a basketball and track star at Poly, has this year starred as one of Fresno State College's outstanding football, basketball, and track men. He has earned his numerals in track and football and a letter in basketball.

Art Johnson, ex-'23, who at one time was Polytechnic's right guard, is carrying on at Fresno State College with Gib Rambo, has earned his football numeral.

"Spider" Simmons, ex-'31, for two years a varsity football, basketball, and tennis man, is stationed at Fullerton Junior College, but he says that he wishes he were back at Poly.

Bill "One-Shot" Van Voorhis, ex-'31, one of Poly's former "big boys," has found a steady berth on the Golden Bear's junior varsity crew. He was at one time a Poly football and basketball star.

Fred Louis, '26, a versatile athlete while at Poly, has taken up wrestling at the University of Chicago, where he won recognition as a championship wrestler in the 115-pound class.

Milt Burnham, ex-'31, formerly a Poly quarter-back, is now flying the colors of Santa Barbara State College, where he starred on the freshman football squad.

Orville Condray, ex-'31, a hard hitting half-back of several Poly football teams, this year is attending the University of San Francisco, where he is hailed as a coming scorer of the next season.

Gordon Hazelhurst, ex-'31, with Orville Condray, has reserved a regular position at left end on the football team of the University of San Francisco. He is an important man on the U. S. F. baseball team. Gordon has accounted for many athletic victories for Poly.

Floyd Jordan, '31, Poly's Peppiest yell leader, has maintained his school spirit in the University of Washington. These are but a few of the many ex-Block "P" men who have carried on and proved their mettle.

Honor Roll Gains; Study Hall Loses

Depression may have hit other campus grounds, but not the last six weeks' Honor Roll. The list of honor students for the last term is longer by far than that of any other six weeks' period this year. This fact may, no doubt, be construed by some to indicate that financial embarrassment is a spur to intellectual activity. Be that as it may, a most encouraging situation exists at present, with twenty-nine students on the Honor Roll and only five slated for the night study hall for deficiencies in scholarship.

Six men hold the distinction of having made honor grades for the entire year. The junior college division claims five: Delbert Chambers, Joel Davis, Will Dawson, Robert Houston, and Carl Smith. Stan Bryson of the Senior Class in the high school division alone holds this honor.

Glee Club Notes

The last out-of-school concert was given by the combined Poly Glee club at the Arroyo Grande Union High School last Friday afternoon, May 6. The program included songs by the entire glee club, selections by the double quartet, and other numbers by J. E. Morhardt, Jr., Ray Wilson and Harry Borah.

The concert ended with the group singing "On Mustangs."

Early Olympic Games Strictly Regulated

Racing Most Popular Event; Eligibility Rules Are Enforced.

(By Coach Ray McCart.)

Since the attention of the world is turning toward the Olympics in Los Angeles this coming summer, it is interesting to contemplate the history of the Olympian games and how they came into being.

The first recorded Pan-Hellenic celebration was held at Olympia, Greece, 776 B. C. and then every fourth year until abolished by a Roman emperor in 390 A. D. During these centuries the games became very popular, and a large stadium and magnificent buildings were built. Before each festival, heralds journeyed through Greece announcing a sacred truce among all warring peoples so that visitors and contestants might go to and from the games unmolested.

Even in those times rules of eligibility were enforced with probably as much discussion and disagreement as at present. All entrants for the games must have an examination, they must be of Greek blood, never have committed a crime, must take an oath to compete fairly, must have kept training for ten months before the games, and must have spent the last month in Olympia. (I wonder if any Romans swore they were Greeks, or if any Greeks who had been caught speeding conceded the fact.)

Races were the most popular events at the first Olympics. The distance of the foot races depended on the length of the stadium. One length was about 200 yards and the men raced down and back 24 times. Boys were expected to race about half the distance covered by the men. The short runs had four in a heat with the winner competing. Later races in armor became popular.

The Pentathlon consisted of five events—running, jumping, throwing the javelin and discus, and wrestling. This was the method of determining the best all-round gymnast. The jumps consisted of the broad jump and the hop-step and jump. Javelin throwing was popular. The javelin was 8 to 10 feet in length, of varying weights, and had thongs wrapped near the middle of grip. The discus was thrown without complete turning of the body. In the wrestling events a common method used was to try to throw the opponent to the ground without falling with him.

Boxing was a part of the events. In this the Greeks wrapped their hands with thongs of rawhide and, without gloves, would fight until one was knocked out.

Later horse racing with chariots and still later, with jockeys, became a part of the games.

Originally the contests took only one day, but finally the time was increased to five days. Women were not permitted to attend at first. The victors of the Olympics were greatly honored abroad and in their own locality. The reward at the games was a crown of wild olive branches or a palm branch. These brought as much joy to the contestants of that day as do the gold medals and watches received now.

Kramer Wins Election; Hopper Vice-President

Loel Kramer, first year J. C. man, won the election for student presidency over Sterling McLean, Pete Armendaris, Henry Vervais, and Frank Barbara in the student election held April 27. Karl Monsen and Francis Hopper tied for the vice-presidency, Monsen, however, withdrew as he does not intend to return next year, giving Hopper the office.

Fewer than half of the entire student body turned out for the last election. Returns show that 155 voted this time, which is a decrease from the election held for the last semester officers at which time 183 voted.

Retiring student officers are: Loren Foote, president; Sterling McLean, vice-president.

PROCLAMATION

To the people of the State of California:

A definite indication of an advancing civilization is a growing tendency to revere and appreciate the nobler sentiments of people toward each other and to all lower forms of life.

The nation-wide "Be Kind to Animals Anniversary" from May 17 to May 28, 1932, therefore offers to the American people an opportunity to again pay tribute to recognize the need for the furtherance of a deeper and more profound humane attitude in the interest of all life.

Kindness to animals is something which should appeal to all classes of society, old and young. In being taught the principles of humaneness, the child is learning a lesson that will bring forth fruit in after years in every aspect of his experience. He will become a better citizen with a wholesome regard for the rights of others, for kindness to animals carries with it the idea of larger friendliness for one's fellowmen.

As Governor of California, I urge all schools in the state, and all representatives of the church and other organizations to observe this period from May 17 to May 28 and to exemplify this spirit of friendship each day throughout the year in a more kindly humane attitude toward one another and toward the animals whose inability to speak a language understandable to many of us, places them under our guidance and protection.

In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand and cause the Great Seal of the State of California to be affixed this fifth day of April, A. D. 1932.

(Signature) JAMES ROLPH, JR.,
Governor of California.

Attest:

THE FUTURE OF SPORTS AT POLY

Time: The night before the Far Western Conference Championship game with the Fresno State Bulldogs. The rally is on. Poly spirit is running high! Everyone is asking: "Are we going to win that game tomorrow?"

"Well, I'll say we are! Who said Fresno State could beat us anyway? They're not so good! Wait till McLean starts running wild through their line We'll show them!" The rally proceeds with this stirring spirit backing the players.

Now why can't Poly be playing in such competition? Why can't the players have the student body behind them? The reason: in the first place, many good athletes go to other schools in preference to ours. Why does this happen? It happens because the students at Poly care to little for the athletic program that they would rather go to the beach during a football game or go to the show during a basketball game. Not until the student body will back athletics wholeheartedly will they advance much. If the student body would get behind and push the athletic program along, and if each student would bring new material in from his home town, we could be playing in games such as the one mentioned above.

Wouldn't you as a student feel proud to cheer a team that was made up of fine, strong, husky fellows that were fighting for you out there on the field with all their heart in the game? You bet you would. You'd feel mighty proud to go home and describe the game and tell what a wonderful team you had. Well, you students can make it that way if you co-operate with the athletes, and now is just as good a time to start as any. To tell the truth, this student body backs no athletic games with the possible exception of Homecoming. Now, why can't Poly students back ALL the games as they do in the Homecoming game? Can't that spirit last for more than just one game during the year? If it did, the future of Poly in athletics would be doubly increased.

The fellows that are coming back next year for sports as well as to get their education are worthy men. Most of them have played for Poly one or two years in some one of the major sports. The future is bright for these fellows, and it seems that we, as a student body, should make it brighter. Poly is now in a new conference for next year. The competition will be as strong as ever with Moran, Salinas, and Santa Maria J. C. as our opponents. Now these men would like to see new material here at Poly next year.

Listen, fellow students. We can have a coming championship team if we all fight together. Who knows but that we may be playing Fresno State College in a few years from now, if only more students will turn out for athletics so that we can have a substantial team. Come on, fellows, the drive is on for bigger and better teams. Let's have more support behind athletics.

POLY CHATTER

News and Notes Furnished by Reporters of the Various Organizations

Galley Slaves

El Rodeo is now off the press and has been sent to Los Angeles for binding by Weber-McCrea Company. This year's El Rodeo will have a blue leather cover. The Galley Slaves breathed many sighs of relief as the pages were packed up, and are looking forward to the finished yearbook as an unusually good job.

"Greasy Mat" Davis was seen industriously cleaning the mats of his machine yesterday. We wonder if Davis is going to write letters to his beloved on the machine.

Plans for the annual Galley Slaves "day off" have been under discussion for about two weeks, but a date when all the gang can get together is hard to find. However, the Slaves plan to take a full day sometime this month for a fishing trip at Salmon Creek.

The work of cleaning the type cases will soon be commenced. As the "big" jobs are now off the press, the remaining few weeks will be spent in getting the type fonts in order for the new students who will be here next fall.

Kaf Skits

"Pop" Hartzler has been almost unbearable for the last two weeks. Investigation revealed that he is "grandpoo" for the first time. As a celebration, "Pop" provided an old fashioned grab box and invited the "Kaf" force to make a grab.

Walt Whittier has made a decided step towards becoming a "gigolo." Ask Walt. He'll explain.

Careful investigation shows that, due to the financial depression, Dale and Barbara have been finding less gum on campus chairs while engaged in washing them, than they did last year at this time.

Sharps and Flats

The last few weeks of school always hold many engagements for both the band and orchestra. Wednesday evening, May 11, the band was scheduled to play for the annual "Home Night" in Crandall gym.

Cal Poly band and San Luis High band will get together for a joint concert at Mitchell Lot in San Luis Obispo, on Saturday evening, May 14. The combined bands will number nearly 100 pieces.

The orchestra will appear for the last time at the graduation exercises Wednesday evening, May 25, at the Elmo Theater.

Bert Sibley, trumpet player, is now with the "Rhythm Boys," a dance orchestra under the direction of Frank Abbott, former trombone player in the Cal Poly band.

Eddie Clays also expects to play in this orchestra, which is engaged at Baywood Park.

Heron Hall Items

Several hall members recently were seen counting turkeys at Atascadero by moonlight.

According to the latest reports, Harry Aldro, bell-hop at the Anderson Hotel, is the latest subscriber for correspondence work on "How to write love letters."

Carl Johnson is suffering from a malady resembling curvature of the spine caused from leaning over the side of his car on the home trip from Senior Ditch Day.

Norris Whitehill and Bert Sibley have been serenading the dorm with a banjo and violin. Because of the romantic quality of their selections, they have been requested to play for Hog Calling Contests.

Sterling McLean has become another Anthony, and has been walking around in a daze of late in anticipation of the evening he will spend with Cleo—Patra.

Clark Bower, popular resident of Heron Hall, has been suffering from poison oak.

DeMolay Notes

Cal Poly DeMolay's held their bi-weekly meeting last Wednesday night with Henry Vervais, vice-president, presiding. A letter from the Grand Council was read indicating that that body was heartily behind the Polytechnic organization.

A proposed constitution was read, but was rejected as incomplete. Herb Enberg and Harold Gilliland were appointed to make a second draft of a new constitution conforming to the requirements for a regular DeMolay chapter.

The next meeting will be held in Jespersen Hall, Room 21, on Tuesday night, May 17.

All students interested in the DeMolay unit are invited to attend this meeting.

Wingovers and Tailspins

When the autogyro buzzed over Friday, some wit remarked, "Quick, Henry, the Flit!"

It was rumored that Manteca Terror Miller sneaked out of Compton at a late hour to visit a brunette in Grand Central. However, as he returned with his A. C. pin on his chest, the lady must not have been at home.

The cutaway of the Wasp motor will be a thing of beauty. Although Casner regrets that he is handicapped by the lack of brighter colors.

"Put down where you roost, boys."

All those who signed up in Arrigo Balboni's "Gold Book" have been busy this last week paying up their life insurance policies.

Flashovers & Short Circuits

Fred Louis was recently graduated from the University of Chicago. He is now resting up before taking a position with one of the large corporations in the East.

C. Earle Miller, who is now operating Number 8 Power House at Big Creek, recently spent a few days visiting old timers here and looking over the scenes once familiar to him. He addressed students of electricity one morning, and of course, was well received by them. Miller was graduated from the Westinghouse training course last fall and has a neat, worthwhile diploma.

Don Eveleth and his wife, the former Margaret Word, expect to be around this way during the summer. Both are attending Western Reserve University at Cleveland, Ohio.

Does anyone remember Joe Shaffer? He was one of the federal men years ago and was prominent in school activities at that time. He dropped in the other day looking well indeed. Health apparently good. He is in the automotive business and had missed the depression.

Elven Hansen, John Doser, and Raymond Boysen called recently. All are busy at their jobs in Los Angeles.

Ed Hartzler, X-Ray expert in San Francisco, sends us a card announcing it's a boy! Congratulations!

Thanks to the Westinghouse Company, the electricians have received a big package of their recent publications. They were also the recipients of a dozen electric meters while visiting the Los Angeles branch of Westinghouse a few weeks ago.

Poly Phase Club

Officers of the Poly Phase Club for the ensuing school year were elected at the Friday evening meeting of May 6. George Halvorsen, who has always been one of the main "stand by's" to promote enthusiasm in the organization, was elected to lead the club thru its various activities during the coming year.

As Halvorsen is one of the outstanding students of the first year's electric engineering class, Poly Phase members are looking forward to a very successful administration.

Bob Oberg, a member of the four year division group, was elected vice-president. Oberg's records indicate that he will give the president much support in his various undertakings.

Harley Cox was chosen secretary-treasurer, and will undoubtedly keep a good watch over the club's funds.

These officers will be duly installed, as well as all incoming members of the club, Friday evening, May 13. A very shocking initiation has been prepared. Eats will follow the installation of officers. All members of the Poly Phase club are urged to be present.

Chase Hallers

Chase Hallers are considering throwing a house-warming party in the near future, using the spaciour day-room for dancing, and other amusement. "Blonde Manteca Terror" Miller is getting his tux out of the moth balls, in anticipation of operating the panatrope for this gala occasion.

George "Swede" Halvorsen, the Colonel House of the Kramer Administration, is busy preparing epithets for his new book, "If I Were President."

And then there is the one about McLaughlin going up to Santa Clara on May Day to see his uncle!

George Brokaw, the Hall's most notorious fighting gunman, led an army of fifty out to the National Guard range to stop bullets for the visiting riflemen. Brokaw reports no casualties.

And just to prove that even the "high ups" have their trials and tribulations, there is the case of Loren Foote finding it necessary to have a chauffeur.

Annual Poly Picnic Proves Huge Success

Six hundred and seventy-five winners, six hundred and seventy-five rolls, two hundred and twenty-five fruit salads, ten gallons of ice cream, fifteen gallons of coffee, and ten cases of bottled milk contributed to the pleasure of the Annual School Picnic held at Atascadero Lake on May 2.

Swimming attracted more interest than any other sport of the day, although football and baseball were also enjoyed by many. In the morning the high school baseball team defeated the junior college men by the score of 8 to 1. In the afternoon the faculty team played the high school men who won in the morning game.

In the afternoon the women made a good showing in a baseball game umpired by Martin Peruzzi, Jr.

Committees appointed by Loren Foote, president of the student body, who managed affairs of the day were:

Games: Micky Jozovich, Captain; C. Deuel, Loei Kramer, Martin C. Matinsen, Vernon Mencham, Henry Vervais, Wilbur Russell, George Halvorsen, Sterling McLean, and Clarence Elliot; Transportation: Harley Cox, E. Knott, Bill Phelan; Lunch: George Nehrbass, Margaret H. Chase, J. W. Stout, Allan Vandam, Keener Jones, Lou Wallace, Loring Jackson, Joel Davis, Erwin Hovde, Robert Robinson, Frank Barbara, Delbert Chambers, Homer Ewing, David Fleming, Dick Martin and Fred Mendenhall.

Aero Club Makes Trip To Southland

Members of the Cal Poly Aero Club made a trip to the airports, aircraft, and aircraft engine factories of Los Angeles and vicinity, April 29, 30, and May 1.

Friday's itinerary included: United Airport, Pacific Aeromotive, Irvin Chute Co., Curtiss-Wright, Grand Central Terminal, Kinner Airplane and Motor Corporation, and Balboa Parts (I) Co.

Saturday morning was spent in the Textile Department of the Goodyear Rubber Company.

From there the boys went to Minn Field, official Los Angeles Municipal Airport, and then on to Clover Field in Santa Monica.

The Douglas Company which is also located at Clover Field, seemed to be the chief point of interest on the whole trip. The men roamed about the factory all afternoon, marveling at the various types of construction, graduation methods, etc.

Especially interesting was the new "gull-wing" observation plane, the bi-plane torpedo-plane, the "Dolphin" amphibian, and the new monocoque patrol-boats.

Fighting planes being built for the Chinese government had lacquer Chinese characters painted on the rudders.

Every Aeronaut agreed that the excursion was interesting, educational, and entertaining.

Jespersen Dorm Notes

Al Kettle and Ray Nelson are fast becoming acquainted with Morro Bay's never ending supply of "babes." However, at their last attempt at their pastime called "Let's you and me get acquainted" they tasted of the bitter dregs of disappointment. It is reported that they tried to force themselves into the company of two fair maidens who "screamed" after giving Al and Ray a barrage of the most honest words to which they had ever listened. They also learned that it is not the sun that can toast one.

Most men get into trouble by writing letters to women. But according to Harley Cox, Vernon Lawrence accomplished the same result with a photograph.

Social circles were given a jumpy piece of gossip to chew on when it was discovered that the meek and modest John Ross, the man woman-hater, member of dear old Jespersen, had finally succumbed to the fatal charms of a certain siren from Santa Maria. She is said to own an Essex car.

Cliff "Pickle" Dill, Gilbert Dewar, and Charles Eaton have invented a brand new game called "Splash You're It." According to the contestants you splash a sponge in water until it absorbs all the water it will hold. The next thing to do is to find an unsuspecting victim. The three aforementioned gentlemen staged the first contest of this kind in the quiet premises of Mr. Hopper's and the Dills' respective domiciles. After the conclusion of the tournament it was hard to decide just who was the winner. The judges therefore called it a draw.

Homelock Shermas takes this opportunity to plead for the return of a cake of soap that was purloined from Joel Davis after he had partaken of a refreshing shower. He also wishes to announce to the public that Mr. Davis had just been awarded the combined Nobel and Pulitzer prizes for Optimism. Mr. Davis took a shower in the morning and forgot his soap in the bathroom. Right after lunch he ran back to see if it were still there!

Twelve Neophytes Receive "Plenty" In Block "P" Initiation

Strenuous Week-end Given Block "P" Candidates April 15th to 17th

Block "P" members enjoyed the annual week-end outing at Arroyo Seco, April 15 to 17. Promptly at four o'clock on Friday, all members left in assigned cars, with each neophyte carrying three eggs. After two hours of riding over bumpy roads, with Neophyte Hartson running back to look at signboards, the campsite was reached.

The initiates were immediately sent out in quest of fire-wood, made to clean camp, to cook, and to assist the old members in any way they could. A roll-call was sounded every few minutes at which time each new member was required to give an account of himself. The last one in line was required to assume the angle to receive a healthy swat.

Candidates were dubbed with special tongue-twisting names by Sir Francis Hopkins. Any impiteness or neglect in using the appropriate title of "mister" was rewarded with blistering chastisement. After what seemed years of waiting, initiates received beans and coffee made by Neophytes Oliveras and Enberg, under the supervision of "Mister" Carroll, who was armed to the teeth with big clubs.

As soon as the bonfire was roaring, new members were given two minutes to think up and enact a play. As the "drama" was a decided failure, individual acts were required.

Hank Vervais was persuaded to give a muscle dance, with Herb Enberg singing as an accompaniment, "Was That The Human Thing t' Do?"

"Bucket" Hartson was required to declaim upon, "How Long Is Piece of String." Ben Munoz then explained why a green tomato is red. About that time Karl Mosen contracted the bright idea of breaking eggs in neophyte pockets. After this, a ten minute intermission was allowed for the washing of egg yolks from hands, faces, and hair.

During the time out, four bruised and battle-scarred initiates succeeded in running away and remaining outside of camp most of the night until they finally worked up nerve enough to return.

Hiking and swimming were main events on Saturday. Everybody turned out and explored the canyons and numerous caves washed out by high floods.

In the evening Karl Mosen renewed his egg-breaking activities. Finally two bright initiates took their eggs into a nearby canyon and made them crack-proof by boiling.

After a pile of wood had been gathered the regular initiation commenced. A pile of liver was laid out on a flat rock. New members were then lined up and when the signal was given, plowed forward on hands and knees, to the rock to pick up a piece of liver with their teeth and dash back. After this performance the tender youngsters were sent back into the canyon to await a call from the higher-ups. Each member was individually blindfolded and led back to receive his private initiation.

After the initiation, club members enjoyed several excellent speeches by John Ball, B. R. Preuss, Louis Taylor, Vernon Mescham, James Cushingham, E. Z. Mortard, Jr., and Coaches A. J. Agosti and Ray McCart, members of the faculty who accompanied the group. Several members of the club also gave short, interesting talks. Everyone then was served pie and coffee.

On Sunday morning, after an excellent breakfast of flap-jacks made by Vandam, and bacon and eggs, fried by Hopkins, everyone packed up and journeyed home.

This trip is something that will always be remembered by all members of the association. Everybody showed a wonderful sporting spirit and even the neophytes agree that they had a splendid time.

California Polytechnic Letterman For 1932

Block "P" Club Constitution and By-Laws

Art. I—Name and Purpose.

The name of this organization shall be the Block "P" Association, whose purpose shall be to foster Athletics, encourage school spirit, promote better fellowship and other school activities, and at all times to work toward a greater Polytechnic.

Art. II—Membership.

Full Membership shall be limited to those who have earned the official California Polytechnic School letter in the five major sports. The letter of either the High School Division or the College Division will constitute valid membership.

Associate Membership—A man having earned his manager's letter is qualified for membership in the club, but he can neither vote or hold office in the association.

Art. III—Government.

The government of this organization shall be carried on by a president, vice-president, secretary and a treasurer legally elected as hereafter provided.

Art. IV—Election of Officers.

The officers of this organization shall be elected at the last regular meeting of the school year, to hold office through the ensuing year. It shall be necessary to obtain a majority vote for election.

Art. V—Committees.

There shall be a committee, known as the greater Polytechnic School Committee, composed of three duly elected members whose duties shall consist especially in corresponding with alumni members of this organization, and such other duties as the organization shall see fit to assign them.

Art. VI—Meetings.

There shall be regular weekly meetings.

Hank Vervais, when age five, was driving through the country with his father. On seeing some cat-tails growing along the road, he cried, "Oh, daddy, look at the hot-dog garden."

ings, time and place to be decided upon in the first meeting of the year.

Absence from regular meetings shall be prohibited. Three absences in a semester will constitute adequate grounds for suspension. It shall be the duty of the President to bring absentees before the regular monthly meeting of the Kangaroo court. This meeting shall take place at the last regular meeting of each month.

Art. VII—Finances.

Sec. 1. The duties of this organization shall be $2.00 per year, payable within two weeks after the first meeting of the year. Failures in this respect are subject to suspension.

Sec. 2. New members shall pay an initiation fee of $2.50 but no dues for that year are required. This initiation fee must be paid before the man may be admitted to membership.

Associate members are also subject to dues and initiation fee before becoming members of the organization.

Sec. 3. Fines may be levied at the discretion of the member.

Sec. 4. Assessments may be made by three-fourths majority of the active membership.

Art. VIII—Regulations.

Sec. 1. All voting in connection with election and finances shall be made by secret ballot.

Sec. 2. A special meeting of the Kangaroo court may be called by a majority of the membership.

Art. IX—Quorum.

One half of the active membership shall constitute a quorum.

Art. X—Amendments.

Amendments may be made to this constitution at any time by a three-fourths vote of active membership. Roberts Rules of Order shall govern all business meetings.

CHANGES IN BASKETBALL RULES

Already one of the fastest of all games, basketball will be speeded still further as a result of changes in the rules made by the Joint Committee at its annual meeting April 9. The two most important changes are designed to put a stop to stalling. The new rule reads:

"A two-inch line known as the center line shall be drawn laterally across the court, bisecting the center circle; when a team obtains possession or control of the ball in its own back court it must advance the ball over the center line within a period of ten seconds, unless the ball has been touched by an opponent, in which case a new play results and timing begins again when possession and control is regained in the back court; when the ball has been advanced over the center line it must not be returned back over the center line until a try for goal has been made or possession of the ball has been lost.

"When the offensive team obtains possession and control of the ball in its offensive half of the court or if the offensive team shoots for the basket and recovers the ball it may pass the ball back over the center line but once. "The penalty for failure to comply with the foregoing sections constitutes a violation and the ball goes to opponents out of bounds at the nearest side line.

"Rulings on touching the center line shall be made in accordance with the present practice in regard to out-of-bounds decisions.

"Touching the center line shall be construed as over."

The other rule relating to the free-throw lane and circle is worded as follows:

"When a player gains possession of the ball in the free-throw lane with his back to the basket he must throw or dribble the ball out or try for a basket within three seconds."

J. C. Meet Proves Merit of New Conference

Poly Loses Meet for Lack of Wins in Field

Saturday, April 23, marked the opening of athletics in the newly formed Central California Coast Conference when a track meet was held at Santa Maria. Besides the Santa Maria J. C. team, Moran, Salinas, and Poly J. C.'s competed.

Santa Maria won the meet with a scant margin over Moran. Poly was a close third. The Mustangs sailed through the track events in fine fashion and were ahead in the meet until the field events were run off. In this division of the meet only four points were captured by Poly.

Boyce Phillips accounted for two of these four points by taking a third in the javelin throw. Tennant captured one point by placing fourth in the discus. Casner, Jones, and Joe Miller tied in the pole-vault for fourth place and each brought in half a point.

Richard Jackson and Loring Jackson were high point men for Poly, each accounting for eight points. Loring's points came from a first in the 440 and second in 220. Dick won the 880 and took second in the mile.

A summary of what Poly accomplished in the meet follows:
880—D. Jackson, 1st, 5; G. Halvorsen, 2nd, 3; B. Phillips, 3rd, 2; L. Kramed, 4th, 1.
440—L. Jackson, 1st, 5.
220—L. Jackson, 2nd, 3.
Mile—F. Barbara, 1st, 5; R. Jackson, 2nd, 3.
Hurdles (high)—R. Tennant, 3rd, 2.
Hurdles (low)—R. Tennant, 3rd, 2.
Broad Jump—R. Wilson, 2nd, 3.
Discus—R. Tennant, 4th, 1.
Javelin—B. Phillips, 3rd, 2.
Pole vault—J. Miller, 4th, ½; C. Jones, 4th, ½.
Total—38.

Jr. Pentathlon Finals Scheduled Here May 14

San Luis Obispo County finals of the Junior Pentathlon will be held at California Polytechnic from nine in the morning until noon of May 14.

The purpose of the Junior Pentathlon is to develop an interest in outdoor sports. It is believed that this kind of contest will develop more perfect athletes as it will bring out for competitive sports more boys and girls between the ages of ten and sixteen. At these ages excellent opportunity will be afforded for instilling high ideals of justice, sportsmanship which will build character.

Events in this meet will be as follows:

Dash, 75 and 50 yards.
Running broad jump.
Running high jump.
Basketball throw for accuracy and time limit.

Sports in Mexico

The radio will now be used to assist Mexico's sport movement. The Ministry of Public Education has ordered the department of physical education to broadcast a series of weekly sports programs of an informative nature. The broadcasts are to be used to impart instruction in the several sports being emphasized. These sports include baseball, basketball, football, and tennis.

Did You Know

That Karl Monsen is the "oldest" member of the Block "P" club?

That the Block "P" will sponsor the Junior Olympics to be held here May 14?

That Lester Ruben has decided to buy a pair of kangaroo slippers so that he may go out for track next year and win his letter?

That Frank Barbara has refused to go out on any more "blind dates"? It is said that the reason may be found "up north."

McCart's Mounders Take Paso Robles

"Lucky seven!" The seventh inning proved the best inning for Poly's nine when they defeated Paso's Bearcats 9 to 5, April 11, at Paso Robles. Although both teams collected 10 hits, Poly's were bunched and victory resulted.

Josovich turned in the best record for Poly with two hits and three runs out of four times at the plate. Cox managed to get two hits and two runs out of three chances.

Mustangs Conquered By Santa Maria J. C.'s

Santa Maria's strong J. C. nine downed Poly 15 to 9 Saturday morning, April 23, at Santa Maria. The game was a riot of heavy hitting with Santa Maria having the edge by a slight margin. Hopkins and Cox both hit homers for Poly, while Kahn of the Saints duplicated their stunts.

Hansen pitched a good game for the Mustangs, allowing only one walk and striking out eight batters.

Mustangs Gallop Over San Luis Hi's Tigers

Poly's "Mustangs" pulled the claws of the San Luis Hi's "Tigers," when they downed the Tigers 7-1 on the Poly diamond Tuesday, April 26. Oliveras and Stevens were the big guns for Poly, each hanging up a two-bagger. McLean got two hits out of two times at bat.

The game started even up with the first two innings ending in a scoreless tie. Poly broke away in the third and gathered in a run. In the remaining innings Poly seemed to score at will. San Luis Hi's lone score came in the fourth inning.
