Liberal Arts Dean Finalists to Visit Campus May 10-11, 14-15 and 17-18

Provost Kathleen Enz Finken has accepted the recommendations of the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts Consultative Search Committee, chaired by Tal Scriven, to invite three finalists for the position to visit campus over the next two weeks. The candidates and their visit dates are:

- Shannon M. Miller, Ph.D., chair and professor, Department of English, Temple University, May 10-11
- Kathleen A. Tiemann, Ph.D., interim dean, College of Arts and Sciences, Chester Fritz Distinguished Professor of Sociology, University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, May 14-15
- Douglas L. Epperson, Ph.D., dean, College of Liberal Arts, Washington State University, Pullman, May 17-18

Faculty, staff, students and the campus community are invited to attend Open Forums on May 10 for Miller, May 14 for Tiemann and May 17 for Epperson. Each will run 11:10 a.m. to noon in the Performing Arts Center Pavilion. Biographies, curriculum vitae, and interview schedules of the finalists are available <http://www.academic-personnel.calpoly.edu/content/announce>.

Two Faculty Members to Receive Cal Poly's Annual Distinguished Scholarship Award

Cal Poly has named a professor of biological sciences and a professor of recreation, parks and tourism administration to receive the university's Distinguished Scholarship Award for 2011-12, the ninth year for the award program. Biological Sciences Professor Christopher L. Kitts and Recreation, Parks & Tourism Administration Professor William W. Hendricks were recognized for exemplifying the teacher-scholar model by involving students in their research and applying Cal Poly expertise in direct contributions to the city, county and state in which Cal Poly is embedded. Kitts and Hendricks will be honored at spring commencement ceremonies Saturday, June 9, and will be recognized during the university's Fall Conference General Session on Monday, Sept. 10. Kitts was honored for his high-caliber and innovative work in microbiology. His work has created unique learning opportunities for students in the biological sciences and has included collaboration with students and faculty from the College of Agriculture, Food and Environmental Sciences, College of Engineering, Chemistry Department, Statistics Department, and Biological Sciences Department. Hendricks was chosen for his research specializing in the human dimension of natural resources management, focusing on outdoor recreation conduct as it relates to the quality of recreation experiences and enhancing visitor experiences while safeguarding the environment.

CMS/PeopleSoft HCM Outage Set for May 17-23

Beginning at 5 p.m. Thursday, May 17, PeopleSoft HCM (Student & HR Administration) will undergo a major systems upgrade. This will affect various campus administrative services such as Employee and Student Self Service, Enrollment Registration, Admissions, Degree Progress Reports, Financial Aid, Student Finance, Student Payroll System, Human Resources, and Temporary Faculty Processing. During the upgrade, the PeopleSoft HCM system will be unavailable. It is expected to be back up no later than 8 a.m. Wednesday, May 23. The upgrade is required to maintain vendor support of applications and improve reliability of the system. During this outage, the Common Financials System (CFS) will remain available. PolyData (Data Warehouse) will remain available throughout the outage with PeopleSoft HCM data as of 7 p.m. May 16. For information during the outage, visit cms.calpoly.edu or contact the ITS Service Desk at ext. 6-7000 or servicedesk@calpoly.edu.

Reception Set for May 18 for Architecture Dean R. Thomas Jones

President Jeffrey D. Armstrong, Provost Kathleen Enz Finken and the College of Architecture and Environmental Design invite the campus community to a reception honoring Dean R. Thomas Jones' service to Cal Poly. After serving as the College of Architecture and Environmental Design's dean for nine years, Tom is stepping down to join the Architecture faculty in expanding the College's Learn by Doing programs. The reception is set for 5-7:30 p.m. Friday, May 18, in Engineering West, Room 105A. For more information, contact Donna Parker at ext. 6-1414. To RSVP, email nmason@calpoly.edu by May 7.

Cal Poly Professors Receive 2012 Award for Excellence

A research paper by Cal Poly professors Norm Borin and Douglas Cerf has won a 2012 Award of Excellence from the Emerald Literati Network. The awards celebrate exceptional research published in the Emerald Publishing Group's scholarly journals and books each year. "The Consumer Effects of Environmental Impact in Product Labeling" appeared in the Journal of Consumer Marketing (Vol. 28, Issue 1). It investigates the impact of different levels of environmental messages on product labels. The paper was one of three selected by the Journal of Consumer Marketing's editorial team to be honored with a Highly Commended Award. Borin is a professor of marketing, and Cerf is area chair of accounting, both in the Cal Poly Orfalea College of Business. The paper was co-authored with R. Krishnan, professor of marketing at the University of Miami. Read the paper online here.

Dean Phil Bailey Received Faculty Excellence in Advising Award from CSSA

Phil Bailey, dean of the College of Science and Mathematics, received the Faculty Excellence in Advising Award during the California State Student Association meeting held May 5 at Cal Poly. In addition to his role as dean, Bailey is a professor in the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry. He has taught almost every term during his more than 42 years at Cal Poly. He joined the faculty in 1969 after earning bachelor's and doctorate degrees in chemistry from the University of Texas (Austin) and Purdue, respectively. He became associate dean in 1973 and dean in 1983. He also served as interim vice president for academic affairs in 1989-90. He is the senior science dean in the California State University system. Bailey has been honored with several awards over his teaching and administrative career, including the ASI Advisor of the Year award and the Provost's Leadership Award for Partnership in Philanthropy. He has received on- and off-campus honors for his support of African-American students in particular and underrepresented students in general at Cal Poly.

Retirements

Donna Davis

Donna Davis, academic advisor/Connections for Academic Success Program coordinator with Student Academic Services, is retiring after almost 30 years at Cal Poly. Davis began her Cal Poly career in 1979, working until 1981 as the recruiting coordinator for the Placement Center (now Career Services). She returned to campus in 1984 as a career advisor with Career Services. In 1998, she accepted a position as the coordinator of the Outreach and Retention Center. In collaboration with the Office of Admissions, she helped create Cal Poly's Partners Program. In 2000, the Outreach and Retention Center (now Connections for Academic Success) moved under Student Academic Services. Davis is also an EOP academic advisor and has advised several student clubs, served on numerous universitywide committees and served as co-chair of the Black Faculty and Staff Association. She earned her bachelor's degree in history and a master's in education with an emphasis in counseling and guidance at Cal Poly. Student Academic Services will host a retirement celebration honoring her from 1-3 p.m., Thursday, May 31, at the Albert B. Smith Alumni and Conference Center. The campus community is invited to attend.

Sondra Gorman

Sondra Gorman, administrative analyst/specialist in the Biomedical and General Engineering Department, is retiring after 27 years with Cal Poly. Gorman has served six years in the Biomedical and General Engineering Department and previously held positions in the College of Engineering Dean's Office, Aerospace Engineering Department, and Mechanical Engineering Department. She is an integral member of the college's Administrative Support Network, which shares and recommends best practices among CENG administrative support staff. Her valuable experience and expertise in the college regarding campus procedures is unmatched. Gorman received a College of Engineering Outstanding Staff Award in 2007. Please join us in a celebration of her retirement from 1-3 p.m. Tuesday, May 22, in the Bonderson Building, Room 104. Refreshments and cake will be served.

Cal Poly Senior Project Wins Packaging Industry Award

A two-part, display-ready asparagus shipper developed by two Cal Poly students in 2010 won the AmeriStar award from the Institute of Packaging Professionals (IoPP), considered by industry professionals to be the most prestigious packaging competition awards in North America. More than 150 packages were submitted and judged on package innovation, sustainability, protection, economics, performance and marketing. Orfalea College of Business students Evan Cernokus and Sean Sliger created the design as their senior project. The effort was a partnership with Los Angeles-based Gourmet Trading Co. The students were tasked with revitalizing the labor-intensive packaging previously used by the company to transport bunches of asparagus. Gourmet Trading Co. adopted the new design, which is loaded in the same manner as a traditional 11-pound asparagus shipper but makes it possible for store employees to display the produce on a shelf without using a box cutter. The top of the box can be removed simply and efficiently, saving retailers time and money, and preventing injury without additional training or safety precautions.

Cal Poly Graphic Communication Students Win Phoenix Challenge College Competition

A team of Cal Poly Graphic Communication students took first place in the 2012 Phoenix Challenge College competition in San Antonio, Texas. The Cal Poly students competed against an international field of colleges and universities including Appalachian State University, Clemson University, Dunwoody College of Technology, Eastern Kentucky University, Ryerson University, the University of Western Michigan, and Waukesha County Technical College. Cal Poly team members Audrey Van Camp, Chris Hernandez, Kendra Jaqua, Eli McNutt, and Kaela Soohoo took first place for its packaging redesign of Cal Poly Chocolates. The students spent a year performing market research, designing, preparing prepress electronic files, and printing the packaging under the mentorship Professor Malcolm Keif. The students then presented and described their project to the Phoenix Challenge judges. The students redesigned nine Cal Poly Chocolates' packages, although only four were required for the competition.

ASI Rec Sports to Offer Youth Swim Lessons

ASI Recreational Sports will offer summer youth swim and water polo lessons at the Recreation Center. Swim lessons consist of two-week sessions with nine 40-minute classes in each. There are six levels to choose from for children 12 months to 14 years old. You and your child may attend a free swim assessment session at the Recreation Center to determine which class level is appropriate. Water polo lessons will be two-week sessions of eight 60-minute classes and are offered for boys and girls ages 10-13. Swim lessons begin June 18, and water polo begins July 9. The entire community is eligible to enroll their children; a Recreation Center membership is not required, though space is limited. Registration begins May 14 at the Recreation Center front desk; online, phone, or mail-in registration is not available. Each session is $55. Learn more about ASI's Summer Youth Programming on the ASI website. For questions, contact the Recreation Center at ext. 6-1366 or aquatics@asi.calpoly.edu.

Poly Trekker Registration is Under Way

Registration for Poly Trekkers Summer Program 2012 is now under way at the Orfalea Family & ASI Children's Center. This exciting program is for school-aged children who have completed kindergarten through the fourth grade (approximately 6 to 10 years old). The program will run June 18 to Aug. 17 (closed July 4). The program is offered Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Extended care will be offered August 20-22. There are many different scheduling options for this summer, including the full nine-week program or individual one-week sessions to fit in with a busy summer schedule. Also offered are Monday-Wednesday-Friday or Tuesday-Thursday only options for the full nine-week program. Poly Trekkers includes a highly qualified staff with a superior ratio of one adult to every 10 children. A nutritious breakfast, lunch and snacks are included in the program fees. The children participate in art, crafts, recreational games, field trips (on and off campus) and fun. For more information or to register, contact the Orfalea Family and ASI Children's Center at ext. 6-1267.

Nominations Sought for Courtney Elizabeth Smyth Memorial Scholarship

Nominations for the Courtney Elizabeth Smyth Memorial Scholarship are being sought from faculty and staff for students who have overcome personal tragedy or hardship that suggests an inner strength and a commitment to maintain academic progress. Letters of nomination are due May 18 and should include the nominee's name; a description of the nominee's personal strengths and potential for success; and insight into the character of the nominee and his/her ability to excel under personal adversity. Student must be planning on enrolling full time in the 2012-13 academic year. Office of the Registrar to Hold Open Forums on Degree Progress Report on May 11, 16, and 24

The Office of the Registrar will hold a series of open forums to familiarize the campus community with significant changes in the Degree Progress Report that coincide with the PeopleSoft upgrade. Staff and faculty members who use this advising tool are encouraged to attend to learn about these changes. The same content will be covered at each forum, to be held on: May 11, 10 to 11 a.m. in UU 220; May 16, 1-2 p.m. in Dexter Building, Room 227; and May 24, 11 a.m. to noon in the Math and Science Building, Room 204. Note: Attendance at one of the first two forums is preferable, as they occur prior to the upgrade. For more information, contact Helen Bailey at ext. 6-6313 or hbailey@calpoly.edu.

Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship to Host May 14 Forum

The Cal Poly Center for Innovation & Entrepreneurship (CIE) will host its last entrepreneurship forum of the academic year – The LAUNCH – from 4:30 to 7 p.m. May 14 in the Performing Arts Center. Attendees are invited to share in the excitement as the center reveals the SLO HotHouse Summer Accelerator student founders and introduces a new generation of young entrepreneurs. Alongside them will be members of the CIE Founder's Circle who will provide insight into their ventures and what to do and what not to do in the early stages of an entrepreneurial venture. The program will begin with Pitches, Exhibits and Networking (PEN), followed by a panel discussion with student entrepreneurs. The event is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served. Space is limited. Register by Friday, May 11, for a free parking pass. Register online now.

PolyLearn Gradebook Workshop to be Held May 15

Avert end-of-semester headaches and avoid the rush for getting help with the PolyLearn Gradebook by attending a one-hour workshop set for 2-3 p.m. Tuesday, May 15. Nearly 300 faculty members began teaching in PolyLearn Moodle this quarter. Those who are new to PolyLearn should not wait until the end of the term to become familiar; there simply won't be enough time for the PolyLearn Support Team members to support everyone individually during the last week. Register online here for the May 15 workshop. Or visit the Gradebook Support Site here.

Human Resources to Host Wellness Presentation on May 16

A Blue Shield representative will be on campus May 16 providing techniques to cope with stress and sleep deprivation. This presentation is the first of a series of Wellness Presentations that Blue Shield will provide for all employees (whether or not they are enrolled in Blue Shield). Take advantage of this opportunity to learn tips on how to minimize stress and live a healthier life. The presentations will be held in the Chumash Auditorium. Presentations will be offered at 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. and will last no longer than one hour. Space is limited, so call Human Resources at ext. 6-6871 to reserve a seat.

Blackboard Must be Turned Off May 31

Congratulations to the nearly 750 faculty members who began teaching in PolyLearn Moodle this academic year. Content from existing Blackboard courses needed for future quarters must be removed from Blackboard by May 31. Faculty will no longer have access after this date. Failure to act will undermine Cal Poly's faculty and students in Fall Quarter if PolyLearn Support Team members are inundated with "emergency" requests to assist with Blackboard content recovery while also trying to provide timely course development support. There are a variety of support resources available. The PolyLearn Support Team has scheduled four file transfer workshops. Register online here. A variety of resources are available at the File Transfer Support Site. The question transfer web site offers support and request submissions. Take It SLO, Cal Poly's a cappella ensemble, will present its spring concert at 2 and 6 p.m. Sunday, May 13, in Room 218 of the Davidson Music Center on campus. The 13-member student ensemble will sing popular songs they have arranged, including selections from their latest CD, which will be available for sale at the concerts. The group's members are students from a variety of majors. Admission at the door will be $7 for the public and $5 for students. For more information, visit the Music Department Web calendar.

Cal Poly Early Music Ensemble Presents 'Treasures of Tudor England' May 18

The Cal Poly Early Music Ensemble will present "Treasures of Tudor England" at 8 p.m. Friday, May 18, in the Pavilion of the Performing Arts Center. Conducted by Thomas Davies, the 12-member vocal ensemble will perform a wide variety of works – both sacred and secular – from the pen of Henry VIII to William Byrd, the favorite composer of Queen Elizabeth I. The first half of the concert will feature music from the great cathedral tradition. Anthems for Protestant England by Orlando Gibbons, Richard Farrant, Thomas Tallis and Christopher Tye will be paired with works for Catholic England, highlighted by Byrd's great "Mass for Five." Secular music – from traditional madrigals by John Dowland, George Kirby and Thomas Morley, to works by Henry VIII – will be featured in the second half. The audience will also be treated to special surprises by Michael East, Thomas Weelkes and Thomas Ravenscroft. Paul Woodring will accompany the ensemble on harpsichord and organ. For more information, visit the Music Department Web calendar.

Gender Equity Center to Present First Gender Symposium May 19

The Gender Equity Center will hold its first Gender Symposium on Saturday, May 19 on campus. It's the first of what the center plans to make an annual event. This year, the symposium will focus on exploring gender and how it relates to and intersects with religion, race and culture. Dr. Jason Laker, professor of Counselor Education at San Jose State University, will be the keynote speaker. Cal Poly students, faculty and staff members will facilitate workshops and panel discussions. Participation is limited to the first 90 registrants, so reserve your space now. To register or for more information about the event, visit the Gender Equity Center online or contact Nick Bilich at nbilich@calpoly.edu.

Cal Poly to Host UNLV Psychology Professor for May 22 Talk on Racial Identity

Psychologist, professor and author William E. Cross will present "The Trayvon Martin Tragedy and the Psychology of Being Black" from 11:10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 22, in Chumash Auditorium at Cal Poly. Cross is a professor in the Department of Educational and Clinical Studies at the University of Las Vegas, Nevada, and creator of the seminal model of black racial identity development. He is the author of "Shades of Black," one of the most frequently referenced texts on black identity. His model conceptualizing the stages of black identity development has generated an ever-expanding number of essays, commentaries and empirical studies. In addition, his ideas have stimulated the growth of identity development models for application to a wide range of groups including gays and lesbians, Hispanic/Latinos, Asian Americans, feminists, and white European Americans. For more information, contact Roslyn Caldwell, associate professor of psychology and child development, at ext. 6-2686 or rmcaldwe@calpoly.edu.

Cal Poly Choirs and Symphony to Perform "Rule Britannia" May 26

The Cal Poly Choirs and Cal Poly Symphony will perform music by two of England's greatest composers – George Frederick Handel and Ralph Vaughan Williams – at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 26, in Harman Hall of the Performing Arts Center's Christopher Cohan Center. Titled "Rule Britannia," the concert will feature Handel's coronation anthem "Zadok the Priest" and two works by Vaughan Williams: "Fantasia on a Theme by Thomas Tallis" and the cantata "Dona nobis pacem." Baritone Paul Tipton will be the guest soloist. A native of Nashville, Tenn., he has been described by the Atlanta Journal-Constitution as a "dignified and beautiful singer." He enjoys an active career in opera, oratorio and chamber music and has performed and recorded throughout the United States. Tipton has worked with conductors Masaaki Suzuki, Helmuth Rilling, Nicholas McGegan, Ton Koopman, Leonard Slatkin, Ted Taylor, Paul Hillier and Craig Hella Johnson.
