ASI Announces Additional Payment Options for Rec Center Membership

ASI is pleased to announce that in the near future, Cal Poly faculty and staff will be able to pay for their annual Recreation Center membership through automatic monthly payroll deduction. "We have heard from the Cal Poly community the need to reevaluate the membership fee options for faculty and staff," said Lindsey Lee, Recreational Sports coordinator – membership and staff services. In order for eligible faculty and staff to obtain the lowest possible monthly rate of $40.67, they will need to purchase an annual membership in a lump sum of $488 or sign up for monthly payroll deduction for a minimum term of one year. "ASI is excited to offer this option to faculty and staff," said ASI President Katie Morrow. "We hope this opens the Recreation Center experience to more members of the Cal Poly community." Full-time students will continue to pay the same quarterly fees, which equate to $36 per month. In collaboration with President Jeffrey D. Armstrong, on-campus partners, the university and State Controller, ASI is working hard to implement this process as soon as possible. Ideally ASI hopes to have this service available before winter quarter. ASI will provide additional information as it becomes available. For more details about the Rec Center, visit ASI online.

Faculty and Staff Urged to Register for Nov. 6 Vote

If you are not already registered to vote in the Nov. 6 election, you can do so easily at an ASI-sponsored voter registration booth, available 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. daily on the UU Plaza through Monday Oct. 22. Or register online by visiting the Secretary of State's website.

As noted during President Armstrong's remarks at Fall Conference, Proposition 30 is on the fall ballot and will have an impact on the amount of state funds Cal Poly will receive in the future. For more information, you can read the Secretary of State's Official Voters Guide on Proposition 30 online.

In addition, President Armstrong, county schools Superintendent Julian Crocker and Cuesta College President Gil Stork co-authored an opinion piece on Proposition 30 in Sunday's edition of The Tribune, which can be read online.

Cal Poly to Participate in Great California Shakeout Earthquake Drill Oct. 18

For the past two years, a few Cal Poly units have participated in the Great California Shakeout, a simple drill that could save lives when the next big earthquake occurs. This year, at 10:18 a.m. Oct 18, the entire university community – including faculty, students, and staff in and out of class – is being urged to participate voluntarily. The campus emergency management organization will conduct its own drill during the event. A text message will be sent using the PolyAlert Notification System requesting all recipients to drop, cover and hold for 10 seconds wherever they are. Faculty and staff are encouraged to use the drill as a "teachable moment" regarding earthquake preparedness. Flyers with information on what to do are available at the Environmental Health & Safety website or the Great California Shakeout website. Questions should be addressed to David Ragsdale, director of Environmental Health & Safety, at ext. 6-6662 or

Cal Poly Engineering Receives $250,000 Gift for Student Labs

Cal Poly's College of Engineering announced a $250,000 gift from 1953 Mechanical Engineering graduate Jack Dawson. Now retired, Dawson served as president of the Dawson Company, founded by his father in 1948. The company is a manufacturers' representative and distributor of residential, commercial and industrial plumbing, and heating and cooling equipment. Inspired by the recent establishment of Cal Poly's Critchfield Mechanical HVAC&R Laboratory, Dawson and his wife, Barbara, made their gift to fund an endowment for shop expenses and student technicians in the Student Fabrication Labs run by the Mechanical Engineering Department. Retirements

Walter Harris

The Admissions, Recruitment and Financial Aid department will host a retirement reception honoring Walter Harris from 2 to 4 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 23, in the Performing Arts Center lobby. Harris began his career in 1973 as an EOP advisor. In 1990, EOP outreach advisors merged with Relations with Schools to become University Outreach Services, where Harris served as coordinator. University Outreach Services became part of the Office of Admissions and Recruitment in 1995, and Harris served as coordinator of recruitment until 2002, when he became the associate director of Admissions & Recruitment. He helped create Cal Poly's Partners Program in 1998, with collaboration from the Retention and Outreach Office. Harris has been directly involved in supporting the recruitment and graduation of numerous students. He earned a bachelor's degree in social sciences in 1973 and a master's in education with a specialization in counseling and guidance in 1975 at Cal Poly. Recruitment has taken him up and down the state and across the nation, and he is well respected by his peers in the CSU system. The campus community is invited to help celebrate the retirement of the "ultimate road warrior."

Cal Poly Employees Urged to Seek Flu Shots

With the arrival of fall and the flu season, Cal Poly employees are being urged to visit the American Lung Association's flu vaccine finder website. Last year, Americans missed more than 70 million workdays because to the flu. The average person with health insurance can expect to pay more than $130 fighting the ailment, with visits to the doctor and medication. On the vaccine finder site, enter a zip code for a list of nearby pharmacies (including Costco, CVS, Rite-Aid, Vons, Target, Kmart, Wal-Mart and the San Luis Obispo County Public Health Department) that are offering flu vaccines. The site gives users the option of narrowing a search to specify the type of flu vaccine (i.e., flu shot, intradermal, high dose or flu nasal vaccine). The site also provides addresses and phone numbers, so that users can check hours of operation and verify the health insurance programs accepted by each pharmacy. Students can visit the Student Health Center on campus and receive a flu vaccine for $9.

Nominations Sought for Distinguished Scholarship Award

Nominations are being sought for Cal Poly's Distinguished Scholarship Award. Students, faculty and alumni are encouraged to nominate Cal Poly faculty for the award, which recognizes the scholarship and creative activity of junior and senior faculty across all disciplines represented at Cal Poly. Nominations must be submitted by Nov. 2. For more information or to submit a nomination, visit the Distinguished Scholarship Award website.

Cal Poly Surplus Items Available Via Online Auction

Cal Poly surplus items can be purchased on line at the auction site Public Surplus. New items are being listed regularly. Appropriate surplus items may be available for interdepartmental transfer. See the website or call Gage Sahl at 6-5449 for details and availability.

Green Campus Program Urges Conservation for Energy Awareness Month

October is "Energy Awareness Month." Last year, Cal Poly used about 43.3 million kilowatt hours of electricity, which cost the school $4.4 million. That's the equivalent of 30,000 metric tons of CO₂, or the emissions from burning 3,400,000 gallons of gasoline.

The Green Campus Program encourages all employees to reduce energy usage by turning off the lights when you leave the room, shutting down your computers when you leave the office, and unplugging all electronics not in use. During the month of October, submit a photo, video, or short description of what you are doing in your department to save energy to greencampus@calpoly.edu. The employee with the best submission will have a $100 Amazon gift card delivered to them at the end of the month. Find out more about the many energy awareness month activities taking place in San Luis Obispo.

The New Subway is Now Open

The much anticipated Subway restaurant is now open at the Dexter Building. Subway is open from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily, offering fresh sandwiches on their signature breads along with chopped salads, smoothies and even espresso drinks. This Subway was uniquely designed with two stations built into one space, making it faster and more convenient for customers to get in and out. There's even a Grab-and-Go window open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. daily, serving pre-made classic subs. A grand opening celebration will take place soon; visit the Campus Dining website for more details.

New Starbucks at Campus Market

There's a new Starbucks kiosk on campus, inside Campus Market. The new kiosk is serving your favorite espresso drinks, drip coffees, teas and snacks. For more information visit the Campus Dining website.

International Photography Competition for Faculty and Staff Announced

International Education and Programs (IEP) invites the campus community to celebrate International Education Week by participating in the first annual Cal Poly International Photography Competition for Faculty and Staff. The photography competition will highlight the research, teaching and travel-abroad experiences of Cal Poly faculty and staff. IEP supports efforts to internationalize Cal Poly's campus. A nominal submission fee will be charged, with proceeds benefiting the International Education Endowment that provides students with the opportunity to study or do an internship abroad. The show will be held in the UU Gallery located in the Epicenter from Nov. 5-16. The opening will be Monday, Nov. 5 at 4 p.m., when award winners will be announced. Visit the IEP Photography Competition website for more information and a submission form.

Science Café to Explore Community Design and Public Health Oct. 18

Kennedy Library will host "On Foot! Community Design and Public Health" from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Oct. 18 in the second-floor café area. The event is a hands-on workshop on designing and building an ideal community with a focus on walk- and bike-ability, using found objects. James Rojas, founder of Place It!, a design-based urban planning initiative, will lead the workshop with Landscape Architecture Assistant Professor Beverly Bass, City and Regional Planning Assistant Professor Kelly Main, Kinesiology Assistant Professor Heather Starnes, and STRIDE Community Liaison Stephanie Teaford. The group will discuss how community design impacts public health and explore concepts and designs with participants. This Science Café is co-sponsored by the Landscape Architecture Department, City and Regional Planning Department, HEAL-SLO, STRIDE and the Kinesiology Department. The event is free, and everyone is welcome. Light refreshments will be served. More information about On Foot! Community Design and Public Health and the Science Café series is available online.

Pride Center and PFLAG to Present Oct. 18 Reading of New Play '8'

With license from the American Foundation for Equal Rights (AFER) and Broadway Impact, PFLAG (Parents, Family, and Friends of Lesbians and Gays) & the Cal Poly Pride Center are proud to announce a one-night-only reading of "8," a play chronicling the historic trial in the federal constitutional challenge to California's Proposition 8, written by Academy Award-winning screenwriter and AFER founding board member Dustin Lance Black.

The one-night-only reading will take place at 7 p.m. Oct. 18 at the Alex & Faye Spanos Theater. Directed by Virginia Anderson, whose directing credits include "A Streetcar Named Desire," "Falsettos," "Boy Gets Girl," and others, this production will feature local actors from Cal Poly and the San Luis Obispo community. The show will highlight Cal Poly's Liberal Arts and Engineering Studies and Theater & Dance departments, who are contributing heavily to the production and bringing special effects to the reading that will help the audience to experience the controversy that surrounds this historic and groundbreaking trial. Tickets are $9 for students and $11 for the general public (parking included). Buy tickets online, or visit the Performing Arts Center box office at Cal Poly.

Alumna to Speak Oct. 19 on Entrepreneurship in the Liberal Arts

Michela O'Connor Abrams, the College of Liberal Arts' 2012 Honored Alumna and president of Dwell Media, will speak Oct. 19 on "Learn by Doing – Entrepreneurship in the Liberal Arts." The event will run from 2 to 3 p.m. in the Graphic Arts Building (Building 26), Room 106. Students and faculty from Journalism, Art & Design, Graphic Communication, Communication Studies, as well as those studying entrepreneurship, advertising and marketing are encouraged to attend. Dwell Media is an award-winning media company founded in 2000. O'Connor Abrams' 10 years of leadership at Dwell has led to recognition for General Excellence at the National Magazine Awards, finalist status in the corporate category for the prestigious National Design Awards, and national commendations for circulation growth and newsstand sales. A 1980 Journalism graduate, O'Connor Abrams in 2011 launched Dwell on Design, the largest design show on the West Coast, hosting 25,000 design professionals and enthusiasts. In 2012 she was the recipient of EWIP's highest honor, the "Exceptional Woman in Publishing Award" bestowed upon women who are the best leaders and innovators in media and publishing. O'Connor Abrams was also honored by the CLA as the CLA Distinguished Alumni Speaker for 2011. The talk is free and open to the public. A Q-and-A period will follow. It is a presentation of College of Liberal Arts Week. For more information, contact Terry J. San Filippo at ext. 6-1216 or tsanfili@calpoly.edu.

Recreation Center to Host Cal Poly Craze Oct. 19

College of Liberal Arts Sets Homecoming for the Mind for Oct. 20

The College of Liberal Arts will host its second annual Homecoming for the Mind from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20 at

HOMECOMING FOR THE MIND
A College of Liberal Arts Festival

the Spanos Theatre Patio and Lawn. Attending the Cal Poly Homecoming festivities? Come to campus a few hours early to see what the College of Liberal Arts has been up to lately. The festival-like setting will showcase the knowledge, skills and achievements of the CLA. It's the perfect place to take in music and dance performances, see how puppets and costumes for theatre productions are made, listen to readings from members of the English club, and view displays of senior and student projects from our 17 departments and programs, as well as faculty research. Homecoming for the Mind is a free event, and everyone is invited. Food can be purchased from Curbside Grill, Cal Poly's first mobile restaurant. For more information on the event, visit the College of Liberal Arts online.

Cal Poly Professor's Play to Receive Staged Readings Oct. 20 and 21

A new play, "Mayhem, America," by Cal Poly Theatre and Dance Professor Al Schnupp will be given staged readings at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20 and 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 21, in the Performing Arts Center's Philips hall. The cast is comprised of Cal Poly faculty and staff. Actors include: Steve Luber, Al Nunez, Denise Leader Stoeber, Karen Christian, Sarah Bridger, Erma Stauffer, Vladimir Prodanov, Jnan Blau, Ginny Anderson and Nina Truch. There is a $2 entry fee, with all proceeds being donated to ArtsObispo. The play is set in the small town of Mayhem in 1912 as a committee of 10 eccentric people meets in City Hall. In celebration of the town's anniversary, they are to design a time capsule, select items to be placed into the capsule, and plan the internment ceremony. As they deliberate, secrets are revealed, repressed rage is expressed, prejudices are exposed, and quirky relationships are redefined. There are also moments of kindness, generosity and goodness as they try to identify what makes their town unique in the mad, mad world of America.

BravoSLO! Free Performing Arts Showcase Set for Oct. 21

Back by popular demand, the Performing Arts Center is offering a preview of its upcoming season at BravoSLO 2012, a free performing arts showcase featuring the many organizations that perform at the Cohan Center and Spanos Theatre throughout the year. On Sunday, Oct. 21, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. the PAC invites you to enjoy mini performances all day in Harman Hall and the Pavilion; talk to participating performance groups at their lobby exhibits; and pick up information about their upcoming seasons. In addition to enjoying instrumental and choral ensembles, dance groups, film shorts and the Forbes Pipe Organ, attendees will be eligible to win from an assortment of door prizes and receive complimentary coffee, tea and pastries courtesy of BlackHorse. As an added bonus this year, all patrons will be entered to win a $500 PAC gift certificate. Attendees can increase their chances of winning by purchasing tickets at the PAC box office during BravoSLO; for each ticket patrons purchase onsite that day, they gain an additional entry for the gift certificate. BravoSLO 2012 is a fantastic, free community arts event that has something for everyone. Bring friends and come be part of the excitement. Find out more online.

Oct. 22 Entrepreneurship Forum to Highlight Diverse Startup Teams

Diverse startup teams will be the topic of the Cal Poly Center for Innovation & Entrepreneurship's Oct. 22 forum. Panelists, alumni, community and students will converge upon the Performing Arts Center Pavilion at Cal Poly from 4:45 to 7 p.m. for an evening of discussion, student exhibits and networking. The topic, "Engineers are from Mars, Business Types from Venus, and Who Knows What Planet Designers are From: Diverse Startup Teams," will explore the players it takes to bring a venture from idea to launch. Panelists will discuss the pitfalls and rewards of truly cross-disciplinary teams, as well as why diversity is championed in the startup environment. "When companies only have one kind of person, they are not very resilient," said Roberto Monge, forum speaker and Cloud Solutions Architect at RightScale. "They'll all have similar weaknesses and strengths. Embracing diversity of viewpoints and talents is critical to building a company that is resilient and beautiful." The October Forum is the first event of the 2012-13 Entrepreneurship Forum series that unites the Cal Poly and San Luis Obispo entrepreneurship communities, and is free and open to the public. Register and find more information at the center's website.

Cal Poly to Host Kathryn Cathcart for Vocal Master Class Oct. 23

Kathryn Cathcart, music director of the San Francisco Conservatory Opera Workshops, will present a vocal master class at 5 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 23, in Room 218 of the Davidson Music Center on campus. Several of the Cal Poly Music Department's leading voice students will perform and be critiqued. The public is welcome to attend. A longtime employee of the San Francisco Opera and Opera Center, Cathcart served as that organization's former director of musical studies from 1988 to 1997, assisting in the selection and artistic supervision of the many young artists' training programs, including the Merola Opera Program, Western Opera Theater, and the Adler Fellowships. Cathcart has served on the coaching staffs of the Cologne, Germany, and San Francisco operas and has conducted opera in Europe, North America and South America. She has also frequently appeared as a vocal recital accompanist and collaborator. She headed her own organization, the San Francisco Concert Opera, for several seasons, presenting lesser-known works from the operatic repertory in concert form. Cathcart helped launch a revision of the young artists' program of the New National Theatre in Tokyo, where she continues to coach and teach. She also teaches and conducts at the International Institute of Vocal Arts in Chiari, Italy. Cathcart holds degrees from St. Olaf College and Northwestern University. She recorded a CD with soprano Susan Stokes that was released in 2001. The free master class is made possible by Cal Poly's Opera Workshop and is sponsored by the Cal Poly Music Department, College of Liberal Arts, and Instructionally Related Activities program. For more information, visit the Music Department Web calendar.

Safer to Host Run to Remember Oct. 24

Cal Poly's Safer (sexual assault and relationship-violence prevention program) will hold its annual Run to Remember 5K fun run Wednesday, Oct. 24, in UU Plaza. The event aims to celebrate the life of every survivor of sexual assault and show the community's commitment to ending violence. Cost to run is $5, with 100 percent of proceeds going to help fund Safer and the San Luis Obispo County SARP (Sexual Assault Recovery and Prevention) Center's programs and resources. Registration will begin at 5 p.m., and the run will begin at 6 p.m. There will be live music, speakers (including San Luis Obispo mayor Jan Marx and Cal Poly ASI President Katie Morrow), spoken-word performers, and more. All Cal Poly staff and faculty members are welcome to attend and bring family and friends. Visit Safer online for more information.

Penn State Professor to Discuss the Mayan Calendar Oct. 24

Dr. Douglas J. Kennett, professor of Environmental Anthropology at Penn State University, will present "The Mayan Calendar and the End of Time" from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 24 in the Performing Arts Center Pavilion. Kennett will provide an overview of the Mayan calendar system and discuss his current research program designed to determine if the coefficient used to correlate the Mayan and Christian calendars is correct and that the Mayan calendar's great cycle will indeed end this year. Emphasis will be placed on the historical significance of the Mayan calendar and the importance of accurately correlating it with the Christian calendar for understanding the collapse of Classic Maya society between A.D. 850 and 1000. The event is sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts and the Social Sciences Department. The event is free and open to the public. For more information contact Dr. Terry Jones or the Social Sciences Department at ext. 6-2752.

Oct. 25 Talk to Address Effects of Physical Activity

Cal Poly presents Dr. Gregory W. Heath, Guerry professor of health and human performance and assistant provost for research and engagement at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, at 11 a.m. Oct. 25 in Fisher Science, Room 286. Heath will provide an overview of The Lancet Series on Physical Activity, which address the health impact of physical inactivity on selected non-communicable diseases; the current prevalence of inactivity among adults and adolescents; a review of the determinants and correlates of physical activity; a summary of the evidence of physical activity interventions that work; use of cellular phone technology in promoting physical activity; why some people are physically active and others are not; and how to address the pandemic of physical inactivity from a systems approach. This event is open to Cal Poly faculty, staff and students. For more information, contact Kristina Wong in the Kinesiology Department at ext. 6-0673 or kwong04@calpoly.edu.

Cal Poly Faculty Chamber Recital Set for Oct. 26

The Cal Poly Music Department will present a faculty chamber recital at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 26, in Room 218 of the Davidson Music Center. This marks the third year of chamber recitals in which faculty join forces to perform masterworks of chamber music – both beloved gems and lesser known works. The concert will begin with Johann Sebastian Bach's Sonata No. 1 in G Major for Viola da Gamba and Cembalo, performed by Jeanne Shumway, cello, and Paul Woodring, harpsichord. The first half will conclude with a piano duet. Susan Azaret Davies and Music Department Chair W. Terrence Spiller will perform Franz Schubert's "Fantasia" in F minor, Op. post. 103. After intermission, Davies and soprano Katherine Arthur will perform songs by Hugo Wolf. Davies will then join Shumway and Paul Severtson, violin, for a performance of Ernst Bloch's "Three Nocturnes." The evening will conclude with two pieces by Jeremy Cohen: "Habanera" and "Tango Eight," performed by Brynn Albanese, violin, and Ken Hustad, bass. Admission is $5 at the door. For more information, visit the Music Department Web calendar.

Kennedy Library to Exhibit Personal Archives of Architect Julia Morgan

Cal Poly's Kennedy Library announces the opening of its fall exhibit, Atelier Morgan: The Personal Archives of Architect Julia Morgan, with a reception from 3 to 4 p.m. on Nov. 9 in the library. The reception will be followed with a lecture by historian Victoria Kastner from 4 to 5 p.m. in the Business Rotunda. Both events are free and open to the public. California's first licensed female architect, Morgan designed more than 700 structures in California, including Hearst Castle. The exhibit will feature visual representations of Morgan's craft and design aesthetic, alongside Cal Poly student architecture work inspired by her design. The Kastner lecture is part of the College of Architecture and Environmental Design's 2012 Hearst Lecture Series. Kastner is the Hearst Castle historian and author of two books:

"Hearst Castle: The Biography of a Country House" and "Hearst's San Simeon: The Gardens and the Land." Read more about the exhibit online. (Image Credit: Julia Morgan Studio Portrait, Paris, c. 1900 | Courtesy Special Collections, Kennedy Library)
