ARIELLA COHEN | CLASS OF 2022

For this project, I wanted to create images that inspire sustainable fashion in a new and unique way. I decided to create sets that represent each of the elements, air, water, earth, and fire, with everything sourced sustainably. That includes the clothing, backdrops, and any props involved. The images portray the environments we will destroy if we don't shop or create clothing sustainably and provide an example of how a fashion photography shoot can be done in a way that doesn't harm our planet.
