Enrollment Reaches New High

Whiting To Teach Shop Mechanics

Joining the industrial instruction staff this quarter is Francis Whiting, a former Naval machine shop instructor.

With a brand new photostatic discharge in his pocket, acquired early last week, Frank Whiting said that he is finding Cal Poly a very friendly and cooperative school, and a place that makes one feel good to come to.

His history is one of academic industry, starting with graduation from high school in Marshall, Minnesota, in 1926, followed by two years as a member of a surveying party. Next he received a BS degree from Stout Institute in Menomonie, Wisconsin, which is a state teachers college specializing in industrial and home economics training. For six years after, he taught sheet metal work in the Eau Claire Junior High taking a year's leave of absence in 1937 to secure a masters degree in education from the University of Minnesota. Back home again in Minnesota, he taught high school machine shop until February, 1943, when he went to work in the win Cities Ordnance plant as a machinist. In September, 1943, the University of Minnesota asked him to set up a training school for navy machinist mates, where he stayed until February, 1944, training some 2,000 sailors. The Navy commissioned him a Lt.-J. G., and put him to work instructing machinist instructors, which lasted until just last week, when a call from Poly brought him here.

Student President Welcomes Students

With the greatest of pleasure, I take this opportunity to welcome all new students to California Polytechnic college.

From the first day you arrive here, you are part of a fine student body. This carries with it a great measure of responsibility. Part of that charge is the attendance of assemblies, the support of our teams, participation in athletics, and good will toward all the other fellows on the campus. Pride in your college is another great duty.

We are a happy lot of men here at Poly. It is campus custom to speak to everyone you meet. A nod, a word or a wave of the hand is in order at all times, either here on the campus or down town.

We shall try to make your stay at Poly as enjoyable as possible by planning social events, staging sports contests and games, and otherwise keeping you entertained. Our responsibility is scheduling these events. It is yours to participate and thereby get as much enjoyment as you possibly can from them. With the active cooperation of all students enrolled, we shall easily meet this end.

Ad Santel, Student Body President

Officials Expect 400 New Students To Enroll

Anticipating the largest enrollment of regular students on the San Luis Obispo campus of the California Polytechnic college, administration representatives today revealed that upwards of 400 new students would file through the registration lines today and tomorrow, bringing the total enrollment for the Spring quarter within the neighborhood of 700 students.

In order to facilitate the handling of the large group during the registration process, new enrollment methods have been adopted by the administration, in order that the students can be enrolled and ready for classes by Wednesday morning with the least amount of confusion.

With an enrollment increase of civilian students of 1400 per cent during the past year, 75 per cent of which are returning veterans, Cal Poly marks the end of the war-time era.

During the war years, California Polytechnic college trained 3,560 Naval pre-flight students and 800 Naval Academic Refresher Unit students, thus being able to keep her entire faculty and facilities intact during these years, besides serving the needs of her country.

Now, with her part of the fighting over, Cal Poly is ready to resume her all important role in peace time education.

In order to facilitate the large influx of new students, Cal Poly has planned an extensive building program. Starting in the pre-war years with the construction of an administration and an engineering building, the administration is planning to continue this building program with the erection of a $300,000 library. Following this in rapid order will be various other shops and class room buildings.

Registration procedure for new students and all persons not enrolled during the Winter quarter is as follows:

I. If you plan to stay on the campus and have not been assigned a room, report to Major Deuel in the Agricultural Education building, room number 107.

II. On the morning of March 11, 1946, as soon after 8:00 a. m. as possible, report to the Northwest door of the Administration building to secure permit to register.

III. When you have secured your registration permit, go directly to the Engineering building, and take necessary examinations. Your examination schedule is not complete until you have completed the physical examination in addition to written examination required of agricultural or industrial students.

IV. On the morning of March 12, 1946, be in the Engineering building auditorium by 8:00 a. m. to take the psychological examination.

V. Just as soon as the psychological examination is completed, report to the West door on the end of the West wing of the Administration building to pick up registration permit and pay fees.

More Departmental Plans Revealed For Poly Royal

The bi-monthly meeting of the Poly Royal executive committee sponsors was held in the J. C. room of the cafeteria last Monday, March 4. Faculty sponsors attended with their committee chairmen and gave reports on the progress of their various departments. M. C. Martinsen, aero department head, told of the hope of getting the C. A. A. license for the flight strip on the campus in time for Poly Royal. This will allow out-of-town guests to fly directly to the campus for the "Country Fair."

Rodeo plans are rounding into fine shape and there will be thrills and spills with the spirited horses and steers that will be in the chutes, according to Gene Egan, assisting Jim O'Neill, who is the chairman of the Rodeo committee.

All departments were heard from and the competition between Dick Leach's 1000 egg hen and Paul Dougherty's 1000th orange, brought out some fine features that will be presented at the 14th Annual Poly Royal, May 3 and 4.

General Superintendent Les Vanoncini said there wasn't enough cooperation among the students and faculty in their efforts for a bigger and better Poly Royal and that to insure its success, some changes had better be made. Lack of student participation has made it necessary to ask the wife of one of the 10 year students to assist the Student News Bureau in Poly Royal activities.

A newcomer to the faculty ranks and guest of the committee was James MacDonald, 1942 Poly Royal superintendent, who is now back in school in the Air Conditioning department.

March 18 will see the executive committee meeting in the Navy cafeteria for the first time since it was officially opened to the students last Saturday. Faculty advisors and all student committee members will attend.

Back On the Farm and in the Driver's Seat — That's Les Vanoncini, general superintendent of Cal Poly's 14th annual "country fair on a college campus" to be held here on May 3 and 4. San Jose State college will provide the queen of the student body during the Poly Royal celebration. With Vanoncini are (left to right) Lt. Comdr. Jim McGrath, Kenneth Holmes, Vanoncini, Charles Cook and Al James, all former students who have returned to finish their training.

A Challenge To Students

It is with regret and hesitancy that this editorial is written. Regret, because all expectations of the student body have been in vain. Hesitancy, because today our enrollment has increased by approximately 400, and perhaps, among these new students, we have acquired more liveliness, increased eagerness to help and cooperate, and general "all around fellows" instead of more of the slacking, complacent group that has been here for the past two quarters.

Because many students are veterans and are married, students, in a survey poll, suggested that this may be one cause of lack of spirit. However, many of the players on the basketball team are married, and yet they cooperated. Many of the leaders of student activities are married, and they too, cooperate. A large percentage of veterans are not married, but they do not participate in activities.

When three FFA speakers representing various sections of southern California spoke before an assembly last Thursday, 159, only 159 students and faculty members attended — even after notices were posted in conspicuous places, and an article appeared in El Mustang.

That sort of spirit isn't fair to Cal Poly or the speakers. Some might say they studied for exams; however, many of those that attended also had exams for which to cram, but they found other time to do so. It is a sad plight for Cal Poly to have as student body members such a disinterested lot of students.

Students, during the Spring quarter, have the opportunity to represent Poly by playing on the baseball team and turning out for spring football practice. Various musical groups are planning expansion, thereby increasing the need for more musically inclined students. There are many openings for students on the staff of El Mustang.

There is your challenge. Are you, personally, equal to it? Or are you, too, going to sit back and let "George" do it.

11 March 1946

MEMORANDUM: Attendance At Student body Assemblies, Meetings, and Participation In Student Affairs.

TO

All Students at California Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, California.

1. There has been a noticeable lack of cooperation, spirit and participation in student activities on this campus.

2. Certain individuals have been overheard to say that they don't have time for anything other than their studies and elbowing at Joe's. This will cease immediately.

3. These individuals will, repeat, will continue with their fine work in the class room and their relaxation at Joe's; however they will devote some additional time to the extra-curricular activity at California Polytechnic.

4. California Polytechnic is expanding and during this critical period of conversion from war-time to peace-time duty, it is the responsibility of all personnel to give their utmost efforts in developing a finer spirit of cooperation in the performance of departmental activity.

5. Paragraphs 3 and 4, above, will be complied with at all times.

Introducing Our Dr. Of Pistons

May I borrow a crescent wrench? Sorry son, the state does not allow me to lend tools. That would be the answer you would get from Jim Carlington, Cal Poly's doctor of slapping pistons, leaky pumps, stubborn motors and anything else that goes wrong mechanically.

Jim has been head mechanic here at Poly for almost three years. Before coming to Poly, Jim was an auto shop instructor at Los Molinas High School, Tehama county for one year and for seventeen years prior to that time he owned and operated an auto repair shop and service in the same town.

It is Jim's job to keep Poly's fleet of tractors, trucks and cars in working order. This is a tough job, because some vehicle is always breaking down. He doesn't do all the work himself, as he has several able students who assist him during their spare time. Besides repairing, it is also Jim's job to see that there are cars available for administrative and field trips and plenty of tractors to keep the Crops department happy.

Though Jim is not allowed to let students use the auto shop tools or facilities, he usually finds time to listen to a student's mechanical troubles and give him some expert advice.

When asked if he was married, he thought for a minute and said, "Yes, I am. I have a flock of kids totaling three, and only one wife."

Grades Not Ready For Distribution

The recorder's office announced today that Winter quarter grades will not be processed and ready for distribution for several weeks, and a notice will be posted on the post office bulletin board when they are ready. "Until such time as this notice appears, it would be appreciated if students would refrain from asking for their grades from the recording office," Recorder Winner said.

Any students withdrawing at the end of the Winter quarter should leave a self-addressed, stamped envelope in the recorder's office, and his grades will be mailed to him.

Bill Hill, Veterans administration field contact representative is located in the basement of the Administration building. For any information pertaining to the Veterans Administration, contact Hill in room 20, Administration building.

Thesis Kits Available In El Corral

Any veteran currently enrolled at California Polytechnic college who is eligible for a bachelor of science degree in June, 1946, should go to the recorder's office, room 102, and obtain a form with which to purchase a "veteran's thesis kit."

These kits will provide those who are now working on their thesis with the necessary materials. They have been made up at El Corral.

The Grapevine

by WINESTEIN

Boy, boy, what a livewire bunch of students we have at this college, (sarcasm). About a quarter of the student body attends the assembly, less attends the dances. Howie blew off some steam at the assembly last week, and it is just what a lot of us have been thinking. Of course Howie wasn't pointing his finger at those present, but at those drinking coffee in the store or up in their rooms in the sack. There sure are a lot of deadbeats on this campus. I can only hope that the new quarter brings some changes in student attitude, student government and student activity. It sure is a minus factor now.

* * * * *

HATS OFF TO the basketball team who came through last week to take the City League title. The old men of the campus had to bend their joints after a four year layoff so that Pold would be represented. Eight men suited up for the last two games . . . a mighty lousy turn-out for a student body of almost 400 . . . so hats off to Wineroth, Maxson, Arthur, Moore, Sweatt, Roth, MacDougall and Bates . . . nice going, fellows.

* * * * *

The publications department received a blow last week when Mervel Mayer decided to quit school. He has been doing a bang-up job as business manager of the El Mustang. His enthusiasm has been one of the prime factors in getting a large paper. Now maybe there won't be so many ads, but without ads we'll be without a paper. Sorry to see you go Mervel . . . we need more guys like you in the Poly student body.

* * * * *

This being the first issue after the turn of the quarter, I would like to welcome the new students. Don't get downhearted men, Poly always gets better as time goes on . . . it grows on you. Poly has something that is not found at any other school, but up to now I haven't been able to put my finger on it. Enjoy yourselves and don't take your books too seriously . . . good advice from one who knows.

* * * * *

As for the old students, I hope all of you passed your finals. Now that they are over you can just forget all about what you learned last quarter, 'cause you won't be having ex's on that stuff again. Don't forget to go in the north end of the building in the morning and the south end in the afternoon or is it vice versa . . . who's mixed up?

* * * * *

Looks like matrimony for one of the members of the El Mustang staff. Sure must have been love at first sight 'cause they have only known each other for a couple of weeks. The date is set, but can't let that information out in this issue . . . will check it for sure. These ex-Marines are truly the lovers!!! Come to the next dance for a formal announcement.

* * * * *

I found out about getting a post office out here at Poly . . . have to have 1500 students to have our own. So I guess that it will not come about in my stay here, but with the increase in enrollment each quarter it won't be more than a few years . . . few years, I'll be a few years yet, maybe I'll see it after all.

* * * * *

The barber shop will be held up by the union at last report. Even if we got a barber out here it still would be a buck a throw. At least somebody reads this column and tries to get some action. Might get something to work sooner or later.

* * * * *

Have heard it bandied about the Harry Parker is going to take the MA lab in the new quarter. The cowboys at Poly seem to think it a good idea. Harry has always been a favorite and knows his subject.

* * * * *

There's a box down in the El Corral for gripes and news for the El Mustang. I hear numerous gripes and suggestions uttered verbally, but nobody seems to have nerve enough to put anything in writing. The staff of this rag would welcome some interest in the paper even if it is nothing but criticism . . . then we would know that somebody reads some of the copy.

* * * * *

DO YOU KNOW THAT every student holding a student body card can attend the SAC meeting? It might be a good idea if some of the more alert students attended and lived up procedures. At present there is a lull in SAC activities.

Here's Your First Sports Quiz Questions

Due to the fact that a large number of new students are enrolling today and that last week was finals week, making it almost impossible to work on this quiz, we are going to extend the deadline on the last set of questions to Sunday, March 17. So that all new students may enter this contest, we are going to explain the rules once more. This quiz is open to all students and faculty members (excluding, of course, members of the El Mustang and coaching staff). There will be twelve questions printed weekly over a period of five weeks, making a total of sixty in all. Naturally, the contestants answering the most correctly out of sixty will be declared the winners of the contest. The questions will come out every Monday in this paper, and the deadline for handing them in will be on the following Sunday. All answers will be placed in the El Mustang box in the El Corral.

So far, we have three prizes. For first prize we have a five dollar purchase order from Smith's Sporting Goods. The El Corral has donated a three dollar purchase order for second place. And for third place we have a dinner for two at Paul Perrot's.

Below are the questions for this week:

1. Who ran the fastest unofficial mile ever run?
2. Where is the world's largest bowling contest held?
3. Who holds the world's hundred sprint in swimming?
4. What national league batter was the last to bat four hundred?
5. Who was light heavyweight boxing champion of the world from 1930 to 1934?
6. In what sports are the following terms used?
  - (1) A "maiden"
  - (2) Two "for his heels"
  - (3) Chuckers
  - (4) Paddock
  - (5) Fault
7. What Pacific Coast Conference team has the longest undefeated string of football victories?
8. In 1900 the score of a football game was 5-0. How was this score made?
9. Who is bantam weight champion in the world of boxing?
10. Who is the present professional tennis champion of the world?

Sports Roundup

By Bill Roth

This week the spotlight falls on none other than Major J. C. Deuel, baseball coach here at Cal Poly.

The Major, as he is respectfully called, is by no means a newcomer around Polyville. Except for three and a half years during the war, he has coached baseball at Poly for the past twenty five years. Many good players have been developed by him during this time, including Thornton Lee, star pitcher for the Chicago White Sox. Earl Escalante, now pitching for the Hollywood Stars, was also tutored by the Major.

Besides teaching baseball, Major Deuel has also played a lot of ball. In his younger days, he played for York, Pennsylvania, in the old Tri-State league, as a third baseman and a short stop. He also played semi-pro ball in Vermont and Northern New York. While in the Canal Zone in 1914, he caught for the league leading 29th Infantry team and led that league in hitting. "They made a catcher of me down there because no one else would handle those 'spit ballers' which were prevalent in those days," says the Major.

"It is a little early yet to make any predictions on any individual players," stated the Major, "but with the spirit displayed so far, the team should make a good account of itself." He makes it clear that no positions are sewed up yet, and that we can still use anybody who wants to try out. As the Major says, "In order to make the team, a man has to be able to hustle, run, throw and most important of all, be able to HIT!" He makes it plain to all players that the game is for fun and exercise, and that emphasis is placed on sportsmanship.

During the war Major Deuel was a Special Service Officer and was instrumental in staging some excellent all star games in football and baseball at Gowan Field, Idaho.

Records Show Poly Teamwork

City League basketball wound up last week with several interesting results. Mainly that Poly, winning the tourney, did not produce the highest scoring men and that the high point men were mostly from teams that were low on the winning list.

This can be a compliment for O'Daniels' Mustang five because it is indicative of better teamwork, spirit and cooperation between the players.

Sweatt carried the most points for Poly, 90, Moore followed close behind with 89 and Arthur scored 79 for the season's play.

The high ten of the league follow:

Oberholser, Octanes	124
Ball, Octanes	104
Maughmer, S. L. O. Jaycees	101
Ross, Native Sons	99
Sweatt, Cal Poly	90
Moore, Cal Poly	89
Arthur, Cal Poly	79

Annual Spring Formal Friday

By Fred Leavitt

Cal Poly, that up and coming institution, is now one up on the calendar. Since the calendar was first made, spring has been coming on March 21. This year the local chapter of the California Young Farmers have decided to change things. Spring will officially arrive at Cal Poly at 9 a. m., Friday, March 15, when Gil Brown and his orchestra sound off with the opening fanfare of the annual Spring Formal dance.

Chairman Mack Thompson and Mel Eberhart, his assistant, are piloting the Young Farmers in decorating Crandall gym to fit the theme "Spring Is Here", with a little of the great outdoors to please our wild and wooly student body.

A special intermission feature is planned, and with the Young Farmers, the most active campus group sponsoring the gala affair, good judgment tells you this is one affair no one should miss.

Hollister Contestant Wins Speech Contest

Frank Darling, FFA oratorical contestant from Hollister took first place honors and medal at the annual state FFA semi-final speaking contest held here last Thursday, March 7. He spoke on the subject, "Safety on the Farm."

Second place honors went to John Leslie, Van Nuys, who spoke on the subject, "The American Farm Home and Mother." Douglas Prestage, Porterville, placed third with the subject, "The future of the American Farmer." Jerry Didier, holder of the American Farmer Degree, presented medals to the winners. Darling will meet the winner of the northern division contest in San Francisco on March 28 to determine the state FFA public speaking champion.

Judges for the contest were Eugene Brendlin, local vegetable grower, packer and former high school ag teacher; Ralston Crew, assistant county farm advisor and Hubert Semans, Cal Poly faculty member. B. J. McMahon introduced the contestants.

New Students Registration Procedure

VI. When you have finished at the accounting office, go to the second floor of the Administration building by the stairs at the South end of the building.

On the second floor you will:

- Secure registration cards.
- Complete Spring quarter's class schedule.
- Turn cards in on the way out of the building by the stairs at the North end of the building.

Regular classes begin on Wednesday morning, March 13th at 8:00 a. m.

If you have any handicap that would endanger your life or the lives of other students if you were assigned to work on a machine, please make the fact known to your department head as soon as possible.

Student Wife's Club To Meet

Bill Troutner, in charge of housing, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Student Wives' Club last Thursday evening. His talk included plans regarding housing for married students.

The club has been asked to help with flower arrangements for Poly Royal, and a committee consisting of Mesdames Hoffman, Melly, MacDougall and Walkup has been appointed for this purpose.

Refreshments of coffee and pie were prepared and served by members of the Ladies' Faculty club.

A special meeting of the club will be held Thursday, March 21, in classroom 14 at 7:30 p. m. The group is open to wives of all students and anyone interested in joining should contact Blanche Lancaster.

Students Ride In Tucson Rodeo

Four students, competing for the 1946 title of intercollegiate rodeo championship, will leave Cal Poly Thursday for Tucson, Arizona. The cowboys doing the riding are Jim O'Neal and Frank Morrow, and ropers Jim Stout and Bob Doner. These boys have been practicing at Morrow Bay every Sunday for the past few months and should offer serious competition to any of the western universities in the rodeo.

The University of Arizona cowboys will be defending their title, and will compete against Cal Poly, Mexico University, New Mexico Agricultural College, Texas Tech, Texas A & M, and the University of Wyoming. The show in 1942, which was the last rodeo held, had eight schools contending for the title. Arizona won with a total of 16 points followed closely by the University of Wyoming.

For this year's show, as in the past, the six events open for intercollegiate competition for title include: bronc riding, steer riding, calf roping, wild cow milking, team tying, and the wild mule race. The points are awarded on a 5-3-1 basis for first, second and third place winners.

A cup has been awarded by Tucson business firms to the high point individual as well as the high point school.

Davy Proselytes

Can you sing or play an instrument? H. P. Davidson, director of music, extends a cordial invitation to all new students who sing or play an instrument, to try out for the band, orchestra, or glee club.

"We can use a number of men in the band and orchestra, and a few more in the glee club," Davidson stated. "The orchestra, known as the 'Collegians' in prewar days, is to be reorganized this quarter. We are assured of a number of returning collegians next fall, but we want to get a nucleus of the orchestra started this spring!" he added. Any men with dance orchestra or band experience, may meet in the music room, classroom one, at four o'clock on Monday, Wednesday or Friday of each week, or see Davidson in room 117. The band plays for assemblies, sports, and various school functions. The collegians furnish music for school dances and other social activities. The glee club meets on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 8:30 to 9:00 p. m. They have a well balanced calendar scheduled for the remainder of the school year.
