Davidson Sings 'Smiles' Other Instructors Laugh

Who has the biggest smile on the campus? Another article in this issue states that Coaches Howie O'Daniels and Chuck Pavelko have been seen wearing that famous Pepodent smile. I don't want them to feel outdone, but they should take a look at H. P. Davidson, music department director.

That perpetual smile on his map is caused by the astounding influx of musically inclined students this quarter. In days past, Davy was able to count the members of the school band, glee club, and dance band by himself. Now, however, he has to go to the accounting office and have one of the girls add up the total whenever he wishes to know how many musicians are present.

Davy has reason to smile, for he has prospects of a wonderful musical season. A total of 55 students are signed up for the school band. This organization plays at athletic events, assemblies, and other student events.

The number of crooners who tried out for the glee club totaled 65. Davy announced that every one of these fellows is a potential Bobby-Box Idol. The glee club furnishes soothing vocal refrains at student gatherings and other affairs. From the glee club are picked two quartettes, the "Varsity" and "Collegiate." These two groups sing at club meetings in the nearby communities besides singing on the campus. Like butter, they are always in demand and will have a full singing schedule this year.

One of the most famous musical organizations on the campus is the dance band, the "Collegians." Every time the orchestra plays, the local shoemakers can be sure of extra business, for much shuffling and tapping of feet accompanies the music. Davy is blessed with 30 Collegians this year, making a total of 150 students in the music department.

Wouldn't you smile too?

Contact Office Will Handle All Vets' Problems

For veterans with tales of woe, the place to go is Room 20, Administration Building. This is the contact office for the Veterans Administration in San Luis Obispo county. The contact representative in charge is Bill Hill with Carl Haun assisting him. Leo Philbin is training officer for students under Public Law 16.

Veterans with troubles, such as insurance, pension, hospitalization, medical care, compensation, vocational rehabilitation and training, and loan provisions of the GI Bill should contact one of the above representatives.

The office will assist persons in the preparation and execution of forms and documents necessary to make claims for benefits, or obtain other services authorized by laws administered by the VA. These men will also assist veterans in obtaining evidence covering births, deaths, marriages, and divorces, when necessary to adjudicate claims, without cost.

INFIRMARY HOURS SET

Until quarters are made available for a resident nurse, the school infirmary will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. A doctor will be present from 8 p.m. to 5 p.m. The infirmary is located just east of Cafeteria No. 2.

Student Body Cards Ready

John E. Jones, student manager, announced yesterday that student body cards will be distributed today and tomorrow, September 18 and 19, in the lobby of the Administration building. All persons under any public law and those students who paid for their cards at the time of registration may obtain their cards at the designated time.

Purchasers of student body cards are entitled to free admission to all student body functions, including athletic games and dances and a free subscription to school paper and the yearbook. Furthermore, it entitles owners the right to participate in elections and carries discounts at the local theaters.

New School for New Parents

Campus "Moms" and "Pops"—either new or expectant—are invited to attend the Parenthood Study Groups which begin at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the San Luis Obispo Junior High school library. Dr. Phillip A. Bearg, county health officer, announced today.

The 12 week series of meetings is open to all new and expectant parents free of charge. The first discussions in this group will concern the problems of pregnancy while later meetings will consider the problems of the growing child.

"Anatomy and Physiology of Pregnancy" will be the subject under discussion tonight. Other topics for the first few weeks will include "Nutrition," "The Baby's Layette," "Labor and Delivery," and many other interesting subjects.

Beginning with the next meeting, a half hour of free sewing and knitting instruction will be available from 7 to 7:30 p.m.

These study groups are a community project sponsored by an organization of young married women, and conducted by the county health department as part of the city adult education program.

Pot Luck Supper For Married Students

Poly Grove will be invaded Sunday, Sept. 22, at 4 p.m. by the married students and their families. A share in the good food assembled by the members of the Student Wives' club will be the objective of the invading forces. Each family is asked to come armed with their own silver (plate will do) and a dish to contribute to the supper.

Following the supper the group will find entertainment in the reception room of the Hillcrest building.

Former students extend a special invitation to the new married students and their families to join in the fun next Sunday in Poly Grove. Marjorie Grotzke is in charge of the details. Contact her at trailer 109 for further information.

Assembly Tomorrow Football Field, 10 a.m.

Poly's first assembly for the fall quarter will be held tomorrow morning at 10 a.m. The football field has been chosen because it is probably the only spot where the entire student body can assemble.

President Julian A. McPhee's welcoming address to the students will be the major feature of the assembly. Cheer leader Gil Brown will use the opportunity as a practice session for Poly yells and songs. The band, under the direction of H. P. Davidson, will make its first appearance of the year. Everyone is urged to be at the football field as promptly as possible.

Poly Students Sleep Where?

Oh, for the life of a hermit. This was the thought of many students as they viewed the housing situation on the Cal Poly campus. According to Bill Troutner, in charge of resident students, there are over 950 students now living on the campus. In addition, there are many students living in private homes in San Luis Obispo, over 90 located at the Las Higueras Housing Project, and approximately 150 students residing at the local USO building which is now owned by the city.

All students living in the Dorm, lounges and in the gymnasium will soon be located at Camp San Luis Obispo. This information isn't as bad as it may sound to you ex-soldiers. Students assigned to live at the camp will reside in guest houses and an officer candidate houses. Barracks will not be used to house Cal Poly students. It is being planned to have Greyhound bus service between the camp and campus.

Main reason for the delay in moving students to the camp is that the U. S. Army is returning Camp S. L. O. to the California National Guard. The camp will be unavailable as housing for Cal Poly students until this transaction is completed.

Poly Will Dance At Block P Hop

Do you have two good feet? If so, you can put them to good use Friday, Sept. 27, at the Poly dance to be held in Crandall Gym. This is the first dance of the school year and is being sponsored by the Block P. The dance is being planned as a school spirit-lifter to get Poly students ready for the football game with Santa Barbara the following day.

There is a note of mystery to the whole affair as it isn't known whether or not the gym will be empty of beds and lockers. If these items are still present at dance time, it will provide a modified obstacle course for the GI's. The orchestra to furnish music will be announced at a later date.

The situation is crowded, gentlemen, be sure to get your bid in soon for a date with that gal.

Adult Evening School Classes Open to Polyites

Cal Poly students were today issued an invitation to attend the San Luis Obispo adult school by its principal, Fred L. Petersen. Individual instruction is offered in all classes. It is permissible to enter at any time during the school year.

Subjects which may be of particular interest to Cal Poly students are English, Spanish, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Arithmetic, Drafting, Machine Shop, Welding, Shorthand, Typing, U. S. History, Woodshop, and Radio Theater.

A complete schedule will be posted on the official bulletin board at Cal Poly. Further information may be secured by calling 663 or 2070. There is no tuition or registration fees. This public school stands ready to help you with your educational problems. If you have relatives, they are also welcome.

The adult school is located on Marsh street and is open every evening from 7 to 9 p.m. Schedules are available at the office or will be mailed upon request. New classes will be organized upon sufficient demand.

Students Please Check Receipts

During the din of confusion caused by the registration of the large number of students last Tuesday and Wednesday, and in attempting to answer all the questions of the group, several shortages of cash occurred. Students are asked to please check whether they were issued receipts without actually giving the cashier their money or were given too much change. The cashiers are personally responsible for the money, and they would appreciate having the fellows check. Any students affected should contact Donald Nelson in the accounting office.

Reception for Student Wives

A reception honoring the wives of new students will be held Thursday, Sept. 19, at 8 p.m. by the Student Wives' club. The reception will be held in the recreation room of the Hillcrest building.

Former members will be on hand to extend a hearty welcome to the new girls. The club was organized for the purpose of assisting wives in becoming better acquainted, and to sponsor social events of particular interest to married students. The wives of new students will enjoy meeting experienced campus dwellers who can advise them about the technique of installing a baby's crib in a trailer, or how to make one room do the work of six. It is rumored that an authority will lecture on how to do the whole weekly wash with a single dime.

Dad is hereby requested to combine studying with baby sitting so that Mom can take a night off to join the fun in the recreation room tomorrow evening.

Poly to Play Host to FFA

California Polytechnic College will be host to more than 800 high school boys October 3-5 when the 18th annual state convention of the Future Farmers of America comes to the campus. This meeting has been held here each year since 1933 except for one war year.

The visitors will be housed in some of the "temporary" quarters utilized by Cal Poly students prior to registration, such as gymnasium, or in some of the temporary classroom buildings. Army tents of sufficient number to house the Future Farmers have been purchased, but like other war asset goods, may take some weeks in delivery.

Highlights of the state FFA convention will be the election of more than 100 boys to the "State Farmer" degree, announcement of six regional Star State Farmers, and one Star Farmer for California from the regional winners, election of state officers for 1946-47, and a ceremony honoring the contribution of the FFA to the war program.

The student body will be host to the visitors for an open-house or "fun night" program. This will probably be in the gymnasium if that building does not have to be used for housing. It will take place from about 8 o'clock until 10 o'clock Thursday night, October 3, and will be the opening activity of the convention. The band will be out under the direction of H. P. Davidson, and there may be some boxing and wrestling and refreshments if plans can be developed.

General convention sessions will be held in the engineering auditorium on Friday morning. After lunch, committee meetings will be held, then additional convention assemblies. The annual banquet will be in the evening. Meal times for the Future Farmers will be set later than the student meal schedule.

Virtually all of the visitors will be student leaders, principally presidents and other officers of local FFA chapters in 170 California high schools. Many will be future Poly students, and this will be their first contact with the college, so the host function is considered important.

The convention will be under the direction of Harold Coelho, Los Banos, state FFA president, and his group of state officers; and Byron J. McMahon, chief of the state bureau of agricultural education, San Luis Obispo, who is state adviser. Details are being handled by George P. Couper, assistant to the chief.

English Instructor To Address Masons

Wednesday evening, September 18, at 7 p.m., Mr. Semans, English instructor, will address the local Masonic dinner club. His talk will bring out a comparison between the meetings of the Continental Congress and present meetings of the United Nations.

Sir Bess Should Hand Out Cigars Again

Vernway Ideal Lad Hazel presented Sir Bess Gettie of Taylaker II with a bouncing baby bull on September 10. So far, the off-spring has not been named. We understand that godfather George Drumm calls the little one "Butch," while the boy's father is holding out for Sir Bess Gettie III.

Hazel was purchased at the Washington State sale for $1,000. She is from the herd of Iver Youngquist. Since coming to Poly she has completed an outstanding milking record (twice daily) of 22,440 pounds of milk and 816.3 pounds of butterfat. She is classified as "excellent" and is the outstanding cow in the Poly Holstein herd.

Sir Bess, of course, is an old campus hand. He is the dominant sire of the Holstein breed.

Hazel was brought here to provide Poly's herd with a future herd sire. She and Sir Bess have come through in great style. Both parents are to be congratulated for their youngster.

"Never Let a Mustang Walk"

One of the more sensible traditions at Poly is the slogan "Never let a Mustang walk." Techmen don't use their thumbs. It isn't necessary. Ours is a friendly campus and student body, and one of the examples of that friendly attitude always is to pick up a member of the school whenever you are going in his direction. Let's apply this tradition from now on. My soles are thinner than your tires.

Courtesy Or Funerals--Which?

This campus is overcrowded—not only with students, but with automobiles, motorcycles, and assorted vehicles. At least twice during the past week this paper almost had another story.

Sooner or later somebody is going to get injured or worse, unless every driver, and every pedestrian, on this campus learns to be courteous. Sure, we have laws and ways to enforce them. But no law is as effective as voluntary courtesy.

The law says that the speed limit is 20 mph. Anything faster is a flagrant discourtesy to others who are using the streets. Even at two or three in the morning someone else is undoubtedly just getting back to Poly.

There are several stop signs on the campus. It is a discourtesy to ignore them. Every intersection, marked or not by stop signs, is a trouble spot. Courtesy rather than a demand for right of way is the safe course.

Courtesy means that cars will be parked in the designated places. Dormitory row (College Ave.) is a convenient place to park, but those hills are mean places to avoid pedestrians if your vision and maneuverability are cut down by parked cars.

Courteous drivers will leave their cars behind the dorms and walk to class. A four block walk between classes won't hurt most of us. (Incidentally, it's a lot cheaper.)

Courtesy is the responsibility of pedestrians. Walk on the left of the road or on the sidewalks. Be alert; a driver might not guess correctly next time you swerve out into the middle. Courtesy applies to bikes and their riders just as much as it does to the rest of us.

COURTESY SAVES LIVES!

El Rodeo Staff Will Meet Tomorrow

The first meeting of the 1947 yearbook staff will be held Thursday afternoon, September 19, at 4 p.m., in Room 16, basement of the administration building. John Shea, editor, is encouraging all men interested in joining El Rodeo staff, to meet with him at this time. Previous experience is desirable, but not essential.

Photographers are needed to assist Chuck Chapman, picture editor, who is now busily engaged in taking pictures of "Gym Flat" and the USO "Flop House." Writers, ad layout men, artists, cartoonists, and men with experience or who are interested in layout work in preparing the book for printing, are needed to fill in the many vacancies that exist in the present staff.

A yearbook of over 200 pages is planned for this coming year. Every student body card holder is entitled to, and will receive, a copy of the 1947 edition at the close of the school year in June 1947.

STAFF MEETING OF MUSTANG ROUNDUP

On Thursday evening at 7 p.m. there will be a meeting of the staff of the Mustang Roundup, campus monthly magazine, in Room 16 of the Administration Building. Anyone besides the staff who is interested in doing any work, art, layout or photographic, is welcome to attend, Harvey Kramer, editor, announced.

Poly Men Will Go To National Convention

The state bureau of agricultural education is busy this week with plans for taking a delegation of more than 100 Future Farmers of America to the 19th national FFA convention at Kansas City, Mo., October 21-24. The group will include at least two Cal Poly freshmen, John and Roy Mallory of Madera.

The group has chartered three special Pullman cars which will be spotted in the Kansas City yards and used for housing throughout the convention. The cars will leave California on October 18, and probably return October 26 or 27.

Four high school vocational agriculture teachers, Harold Stoker of Hollister, Arthur J. Godfrey of San Luis Obispo, Ralph Early of Napa and Max Kipf of San Bernardino, will assist in supervising the group. Byron J. McMahon, state adviser, and George P. Couper, assistant to McMahon, will be in general charge of the delegation. The latter are located at the college here.

Job Opportunities

Any student who is an experienced linotype operator should contact Robert E. Kennedy, publications advisor, immediately in Room 19, Adm. Bldg.

Regular part-time employment equal to two full days work per week can be arranged to meet the operator's class schedule. The work would be done in the college print shop located on the campus. Union wages will be paid an experienced operator.

Dear John...

Letters expressing the opinion of students are welcomed by the EL MUSTANG. Unsigned letters can not be used, but the name of a contributor may be withheld upon request as long as the true identity of the writer is known by the editor. Letters should not exceed 150 words in length. Letters may be placed in the EL MUSTANG box in El Corral.

Dear John:

Do you have ants in your pants. Maybe not, but I have ants in my lunch tray. Isn't it rather ridiculous that an agricultural college is overrun with ants?

Students aren't the only characters that are crowding Cafeteria No. 1. Who gets to eat is almost a toss-up between the fellows and those six-legged beasts. A rumor is making the rounds that frosh will be assigned to hold down upper-classmen's trays so the ants won't carry them off—trays that is.

Why don't the agricultural inspection students get on the ball and hold a lab session in the cafe for the sole purpose of exterminating these monsters who are attempting to deprive Poly students of the very staff of life?

Joe Phistaris

Dear Editor:

The lack of adequate facilities in town and the rising prices, coupled with the fact that the question has been raised before, brings this letter in the interest of student body. Why doesn't some enterprising young man contact the proper authorities and open a campus barber shop, charging the minimum price allowed by the State of California? Such a venture should be sanctioned by the school, would be welcomed by the students and would keep three or four barber chairs full, making a paying proposition for someone. I can't even shear sheep or I'd take it on myself.

Give Free Advice To the Forlorn

Have you a problem? Here is a list of the men to see who will try to solve it. Housing headaches are the concern of Major Deuel, room 107 Ag. Ed. Bldg., and of Mr. Troutner, room 112 Ad. Bldg. Medical questions will be handled by the school physician at the infirmary, special medical problems will be taken care of by Mr. Troutner.

In matters of employment see your department head and then Major Deuel or Mr. Troutner. Take your special problems in instruction to Mr. Egan, room 133, Ad. Bldg. Records are the province of Mr. Winner, room 102, Ad. Bldg.

If you need a loan see Mr. Nelson, room 108, Ad. Bldg. Veteran's problems are handled by the Veteran's Office, room 20, Ad. Bldg. For regular student affairs see Mr. Davidson in room 117 of the Ad. Bldg. For special student activities see Mr. Troutner.

If you have a problem which these men cannot answer, drop a note to the "Dear John" column of this paper, leave it in room 16, Adm. Bldg., or leave in El Mustang box in El Corral.

Radio Script Writing Part of Journalism

An opportunity for students interested in radio script writing and production of radio programs to write radio copy and go on the air regularly is being offered to students taking Technical Journalism, Journ. 301, according to Instructor Robert E. Kennedy. Although the course is not scheduled for the fall quarter, students interested are advised to see Mr. Kennedy in Room 19, Adm. Bldg. and arrangements will be made to schedule a class.

If I told you that you had a nice figure would you hold it against me?

Student Body Prexy's Honored

Leon Garolan, student body president was given an honorary membership in the San Luis Obispo Rotary Club at a recent luncheon. Similarly honored by this prominent service club were Joe Osgood, president of the high school student body, and George Skance, junior college student-body president.

The Rotary Club began offering honorary memberships to the three student body heads this year. These memberships carry all the advantages that a regular member has. In addition these lucky gentlemen get a free luncheon each week. However, they are not exempt from fund raising fines, which we understand are assessed whenever a member opens his mouth.

ED NOTE: Maybe this is a good idea.

These memberships carry the responsibilities of carrying the ideas of the student body to the club, and on to the community. These men will serve on regular committees and act as the club's contact with the students of the local schools and their problems.

Reserve Library Room Now Open

Students will find the books from which the instructors assign supplementary reading in the reserve book room (207) in the Administration building. These books may be borrowed for two hours. They may now be taken from the reserve room as long as they are returned within two hours. The reserve book room will be open from 8 a.m. to 12 m., from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. on Mondays through Thursday. It will also be open during the day on Friday and Saturday and on Sunday evenings. A guide file is now available showing the instructor, whose class is using the book, and the author and title of each book.

The main reading room of the library (208 Adm. bldg.) is open during the same hours as the reserve book room. It is also open during the noon hours on Monday through Friday.

Mr. Whitman has promised this paper a short review of books of general interest each week. His reviews start next week; they will cover books that are not used in formal classwork by the instructors. Mr. Whitman reports that the first review will be on Panser's "Get A Kick Out of Living." One of the chapters of this volume has the intriguing title: "Belly Laughs Aint Refined."

Writers Needed For Three Campus Publications

Students interested in working on any of the three major campus publications are advised to contact the respective editors of the publications.

The weekly newspaper needs experienced reporters, editors, cartoonists, and columnists, according to Editor John Patterson. Any students interested are advised to contact Patterson in his office, Room 16, Basement Adm. Bldg.

Mustang Roundup, monthly pictorial-literary magazine, will have its first edition of the fall quarter off the press in two weeks. Artists, photographers, feature writers, fiction writers, poets, humorists are needed immediately. It was announced by Harvey Kramer, editor. Students interested should contact Kramer or Harry Endo, assistant editor, in the Publications office, Room 16.

John Shea, editor of the 1947 yearbook, El Rodeo, has been working this summer on plans for the new annual. Students interested in working on this publication are advised to see Shea in the Publications office.

Students who have taken Journalism 101 and who wish to continue with an advanced course, either Journalism 102 or 103 are advised to contact Kennedy as the classes were not scheduled. Journalism 231, applied, may be taken by arrangement, and will earn the student from 1 to 3 units depending on the type and amount of practice work done.

El Mustang Staff To Organize Year's Work

The staff of El Mustang, Poly campus newspaper, will hold a meeting at 2 p.m. Friday, September 20, in Classroom 5. Editor John Patterson and Advisor Robert E. Kennedy will meet with the present staff and any other students who are interested in working on the paper.

Paterston announced that the purpose of the meeting will be to get a complete staff organized. He also said that the policy of the paper for the coming year would be explained to the new members of the staff, and that a system of coverage for campus events would be worked out.

All students who wish to work on the staff of El Mustang are urged to attend the meeting.

Tough Mustang Squad Makes Mentors Happy

By DON MOORE

Those smiles that Coaches Howie O'Daniels and Chuck Pavelko are wearing are caused by the addition of thirty more gridders to the Poly football squad giving Cal Poly one of the largest civilian football squads in history. Our coming season is looking better all the time with some really good football material showing up at scrimmage practice.

Lew Bewley, flashy back with Poly's Navy team last year is back in uniform again, civilian this time. The addition of thirty more men to the squad brings the total to eighty men and a problem of enough gear to outfit them all. Still the smiles on the coaches' faces persist, for the possibilities for a great team this year are greater with more men from which to choose.

Last week's practice showed a "possible" first string, as noted by observers, to start against Santa Barbara next week. Bob Proccal, 180 pound letterman and Don Dulits, 205 pound letterman, at ends; Ossie Dusina, 207 pound letterman and Bob Bennett, 210 pounds, at guard; David Cool, 250 pounds and Cy Hewig 200 pounds at the tackle positions with Lawrence Wylie, 177 pound center. This line will average around 204 pounds.

It is difficult to determine which players actually will start against Santa Barbara or how long they will stay in position with so many good prospects in line, but this year's Mustang team should make a good showing against all opponents.

Rumor has it that Santa Barbara is expecting to have a push-over in their first game of the season with Cal Poly and have stated as much to the newspapers. Personally, I'm driving to Santa Barbara on the twenty-eighth to cheer our Techmen on to victory over the Gauchos.

Caravan Planned for Santa Barbara Game

Under the able guidance of Cal Poly Yell Leader, Gil Brown, and members of the Rally Committee, a motor caravan to Santa Barbara is being planned that will make residents of that illustrious city sit up and take notice. "Although we won't cause as much commotion as an exploding atom bomb, we can really let them know that Cal Poly students are in town," said Yell Leader Brown.

The caravan is being planned to transport a rooting section to our first scheduled football game of the season. The caravan is expected to be composed of from 75 to 100 cars—each filled with joyous and energetic Poly students. Section D in the Santa Barbara stadium has been reserved for Poly rooters. A student body card will give free admission. Final plans for the caravan will be announced at a later date.

Frish: It's ten miles to Poly.
Boph: That's only five miles apiece.

BACK AGAIN... Lew Bewley, outstanding halfback on last year's Cal Poly Naval team, returned to join this year's varsity squad. Bewley is one of the fastest backs on the team, and is an experienced grid player. He played a year of frosh and a year of varsity football at Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas. Lew's wife, Betty Jo won the national baton twirling championship in 1939 and 1940.

Intra-Mural Program to Be Delayed

The Intra-mural sports program which was discontinued at the close of the spring quarter will be delayed this fall pending the development of a satisfactory housing situation at Cal Poly. The sudden influx of new students has caused great concern and slight confusion among the administration heads.

Vern Meacham informs us that the administration feels the housing problem holds priority over intra-mural sports, and rightly so, and consequently such a program will be curtailed for a time.

During the three or four weeks necessary to adequately house the new students in and around the campus a program of intra-mural sports will be formulated that should be of great interest to our growing student body. Plans have already been drawn up and are in the process of rapid completion in the near future for a super athletic field on the site of the old baseball field. With this new addition to the athletic facilities and with the use of the gymnasium for sports activities instead of a dormitory, intra-mural sports will commence for the benefit of those who will be interested. When the situation permits and the program has been drawn up, it is hoped that there will be a great deal of interest shown for this form of recreation.

Local Softball Season Ending

A week ago today marked the completion of the softball play of the S. L. O. town leagues. In the American league, the El Corral team played the first half of the series but dropped out during the second half when most of its players left for their three weeks school vacations, leaving them out of the running.

In the National league, Watson's sponsored team of Cal Poly players, winners in the first half of the series, came back to repeat in the second half with a perfect score of six wins and no losses. The Cal Poly Faculty team came from their first half cellar position to end up in a tie for second place at the end of the series. This amazing reversal was a source of interest to the spectators, and the faculty nine should receive commendation for playing good ball.

This week, the town league will have its Little World Series playoffs. Monday's winner of the Dennis Dairy vs. Pepsi-Cola

AMVETS game will play Watsons for the championship on Wednesday or Friday night at the Mission field in S.L.O.

According to Lou Goddard, manager of Watson's team, Jerry Carter will pitch the championship game. Jerry has pitched excellent ball during the entire season and should be hot for this game. The team lineup may have a few changes but will include most of the boys who carried the team to the championship in the first and second halves of the series.

Then there is the guy that wanted to marry Dorothy Lamour for her money.

Poly Corn Crop Startles Iowans

Iowa is the state where bars and hotels are named "Tallcorn." Crops students at Poly are now convinced that one of the new housing projects here (perhaps, the farm machinery shop) should be called the "Tallcorn Arms."

It's true that not all of the stalks in the "west forty" exceeded ceiling height. Never-the-less, none of the boys had trouble finding stalks that topped seventeen feet. The crop was cut to the resounding cry of "FIMBER," and used for ensilage, since the school couldn't find a steeplejack to pick the ears.

Busy Crops Teachers Judge County Fairs

Poly students haven't been the only busy persons these past few weeks. Besides preparing for their fall courses, Paul Dougherty, Stanton Gray, and Ralph Voorhies, crops instructors at Cal Poly, have acted as judges at two county fairs.

Mr. Dougherty and Mr. Gray judged the fruit and vegetable exhibits at the Merced County Fair, September 11. On September 15 these two instructors, with Mr. Voorhies, performed the duties of judges at the San Luis Obispo County Fair held at Paso Robles. It was at this fair that the Templeton Farm Center made available to the crops department of Cal Poly a large variety of fruit and vegetable samples from its exhibit. These products will be used by the crops instructors for classroom work.

To keep his schedule full, Mr. Dougherty attended the Seed Council held September 17 at the Davis campus of the University of California.

CAMERA CLUB MEETS

George F. Kelley, president of the Campus Camera Club, will preside over the first meeting of the fall season which will be held at 7 p.m. tonight, Sept. 18 in Room 23, Administration building basement.

"Officers have already been elected; as a result we are expecting big things this quarter. James McGrath and Robert E. Kennedy are the faculty advisors. All persons interested are cordially invited," Kelley stated.

Vets Jam All Schools In Southern Calif.

Every "little red school house," and big one too, will be crammed to capacity when fall terms open in Southern California, according to estimates recently made by Los Angeles administration officials.

Approximately 36,000 veterans in the area are in school, or training on the job, under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill).

More than 72,000 others have applied for, and received, certificates of entering school, or training, sometime in the future.

New applications each month average between 14 and 16 thousand.

Putting all these figures together, V. A. officials say this fall there will be about 150,000 Southern California veterans either in school or training, or with certificates waiting to take advantage of these benefits offered by the SRA.

The State of California, through its Industrial Commission, has approved a few less than 9,000 firms, or employers, for on-the-job training, and State Board of Education has approved more than 700 private and public schools for veterans.

Do our Poly instructors get around? You bet! Not to be out done by the crops instructors who did some fancy judging last week, Harry Parker, meat animals teacher, assumed the role of judge last Sunday and gave his decision on exhibits of beef and sheep in the junior division at the San Luis Obispo county fair held in Paso Robles. At last report no appeals has been made.

She swallowed a nickel but the Dr. made her cough up five dollars.
