Mustangs Drop Opener To Santa Barbara 19-6

By DON MOORE

The Mustang grid squad, much the wiser after last week's game with the Santa Barbara Gauchos, are holding practice this week, determined to overcome weaknesses in their passing attack and passing defense which was the cause of their 19-6 defeat by the Santa Barbara College at the La Playa stadium Saturday night.

The Techmen showed a display of power as indicated by their ground gains of 28 yards, as against Santa Barbara's 197 yards by the same route. Cal Poly's 12 first downs to the Gauchos' 9 first downs indicates a much more even game than the final score.

Poly Shows Power

Ray Fowler, 160 pound left half, ran the opening kickoff back 21 yards, starting the Mustangs off on a series of lightning line plays which advanced the ball to the Gauchos 17 yard line before it was lost on downs. Starting on their own 15 yard line, after a penalty, Jim Yates, right half, Bud MacDougall, fullback, and Fowler moved the ball on a series of line smashing plays to the Santa Barbara 17 yard line. Santa Barbara stiffened their defense, holding for three downs and breaking through to spill Lew Bewley for a ten yard loss on the fourth.

Santa Barbara clicked in it's first play with a 38 yard gain, via the aerial route, from quarterback Billinger to Willie Peters, end. In the next three plays Billinger made a yard and Mel Patton, halfback, carried the ball the remainder of the distance for the first touchdown. Sam Dimas, fullback, kicked the conversion point.

Loss Scoring Chance

Poly lost a scoring chance in the last part of the first quarter with a fumble which the Gauchos recovered on their own 30 yard line. On the first play after the fumble and recovery, Tom White, Gauchos quarterback, made a brilliant run of 40 yards to carry the ball to the Mustang 39 yard line. The Mustangs held for four downs and took over the ball on their own 20 yard line. The Gauchos took over the ball in the first half of the second quarter on the Poly 27 yard line where a short pass, a 15 yard run by Patton, a three yard smash, and a two yard pounce by Tom White made the second touchdown for Santa Barbara. Dimas missed the extra point.

The remainder of the half was highlighted by the predominance of penalties and incomplete passes by Poly and the half ended with the Gauchos in scoring position.

Came Back Fighting

In the second half Poly looked like a different ball team and after an exchange of punts they made a sustained drive from their own five yard line with Fowler picking up the first fifteen yards on a punt return. Yates blasted his way through the Gauchos line for a gain of 38 yards. MacDougall picked up two, Fowler made 8, MacDougall added 5 more, and then Yates plowed through for 25 yards, taking the ball to the 17 yard line. From the 17, MacDougall straight-armed his way through the Gauchos defense to cross the goal line standing up.

Reserve Officers to Meet Here Oct. 3

All officers are invited to attend the next meeting of the mid coast counties' Reserve Officers Association, to be held in room 214 of the administration building at 7:30 tomorrow evening.

Frosh Meet; Pick Leaders Tomorrow

With only one-third of the Frosh class present for the meeting last Thursday night, the largest Frosh class in the history of California Polytechnic met and nominated 12 candidates for the class officers.

Those nominated were: President: Woodrow Wayne Wilson, Chino, Calif.; Ray Mallory, Madera, Calif.; Al Miller, Tranquillity, Calif.; Vice President: Harry Osborn, Tulare, Calif.; John Leslie, Van Nuys, Calif.; Sec.-Treasurer: Ronald Jones, San Bernardino, Calif.; Robert O'Farrell; Yell Leader: Clyde Downey, Soledad, Calif.

Freshman adviser Spellman Collins presided over the meeting since there were no volunteers from the group. Leon Garolan, student body president, acted as secretary.

The election will take place in El Corral by secret ballot from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow, Oct. 3. Those eligible for voting are students credited with less than 3 quarters of attendance in a college.

Gil Brown led the Frosh class in some of the finer Poly yells, not forgetting the bee song.

Garolan explained the high school, J. C. and Cal-Poly dance policy, and Brown announced the Block P dances. Milton Brown also gave a little pep talk urging Frosh students to attend and participate in the activities of the various campus organizations.

CAMERA CLUB TO MEET

George Kelley, president of the Camera Club, announced that there will be a meeting of the Camera Club, Wednesday, October 2, at 2:00 p.m. in room 23 of the Administration Building. Anyone interested is urged to attend.

Yell Leader Praises Mustang Rooters

Does Cal Poly have any school spirit? You bet! Those of you who went to Santa Barbara Saturday know that we outshined the Gauchos in all ways. From the car caravan to the singing of the Alma Mater, Poly rooters did not lose any of their wonderful football spirit.

"When I arrived at the 'Y,' stated Gil Brown, Poly yell leader, "at least 40 cars from Cal Poly were decorated and ready to go. When we left on the car caravan, it contained well over 100 decorated cars. After we joined the Santa Barbara rooters, the combined caravan numbered about 350 cars, the majority being filled with Poly rooters. The caravan stretched out at least three miles along the highway."

Another showing of Poly students' spirit was at the joint rally held on the beach with Santa Barbara rooters. Polyites greatly outnumbered the Gauchos, as could be seen when the yell leaders led the group in yells and songs.

The spectacle of the rooting section at the game Saturday night was a sight to behold. In regard to the Techmen's spirit at the game, Gil commented,

Collegians Set For Approaching Musical Season

The Collegians are back, and Poly students will soon be able to dance to the smooth rhythms which are typical of that outfit. With fifteen excellent musicians to work with, Director H. P. Davidson announced that the organization will be in wonderful form for their first appearance. This will be the Homecoming Dance on October 25.

The rhythm section of this hot outfit includes Jim Cox of Red Bluff on the drums, Orrin Gobby from Riverside on the bass, Joe Parker, whose home town is Los Angeles, with his guitar, and Don Seaton, the hipless Hawaiian, at the piano. The brass section is made up of three trombones played by Darrol Davison of Redwood City, Darrel Rumley from Tulare, and Bob Roney, who hails from Santa Monica, and three trumpeters, "Bucket" Waterman of Daly City, Jim Stewart, who comes from Anaheim, and Bob Raybourn from Three Rivers.

The reed section is comprised of five saxophone men who double with clarinets when the music demands it. They are John Tisdale and Wally Clark, who are both from San Diego, Don Bushring of San Jose, Wayne Smith, one of the Bakersfield Smiths, and Pete Edwards from Santa Barbara.

Don Seaton, manager of the Collegians, stated that the entire group was making rapid progress in performance. The group is holding two practice sessions each week and by the time "Homecoming" arrives they should be one of the mellowest dance bands that Poly has ever had.

Dairy Students To Attend Sale

Several dairy students will attend the California State Holstein consignment sale at Merced, which will be held Saturday, October 5.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH

It happened in Miss Marston's English 105 class. Miss Marston stated that "languages change, that the public changes them, and that if students stuck together, the errors now corrected on their papers might some day be in good usage."

From the rear of the class came the complaint, "Then it's people like you who are holding up progress."

Poly to Meet Football Team

The second assembly of the school year will be held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock on the athletic field. Purpose of the assembly is to present members of the Poly football team to the student body. Coach Howie O'Daniels will make the presentation.

William Smith, head of the local Community Chest, will speak on the purpose of this great organization, and the coming drive for contributions to continue its wonderful work.

Gill Brown, Poly yell leader, will lead the assembled faculty and students in group singing and will also lead in the practice of some of the school yells. The band, under direction of Harold Davidson, will play several numbers.

The assembly will be one hour in length.

Glee Club Elects Officers, Plans Tour

Sixty-five Poly students are practicing every Monday and Wednesday evenings to form one of the most successful choral groups ever had at Poly.

Under the able direction of Harold P. Davidson, who has thirty-five old members in this group of sixty-five, we are assured of hearing an excellent blending of men's voices.

Officers elected for this glee club last week were: Al Quist, president; Roger Righetti, vice president; Wayne Misemer, manager; John Van Dyke, secretary; and Gail Allen, librarian. Gill Brown is the accompanist of this group.

Items discussed at the last meeting included plans for a tour to be made next spring, the type of uniform the glee club will use, and the idea of an exchange of choral programs with other state colleges here in California.

Doughertys Entertain Crops Club Members

Members of the Crops Club, their wives, and guests, were entertained at an open house last Sunday afternoon from 5 to 6 p.m. at the home of instructor Paul Dougherty in San Luis Obispo.

Refreshments consisting of coffee and cakes were served by Mrs. Dougherty.

Crops Club Elects New Officers

Dave Risling was elected to the presidency of the Crops Club by unanimous vote a week ago Tuesday in elections held by the club at its meeting in Poly Grove. Retiring proxy, Bob Garver, turned over a figurative gavel to Risling immediately following vote tabulation.

Under Risling's leadership, voting was continued to determine the filling of remaining vacancies in club positions. Running without opposition, Don Day was selected for the post of vice-president. In the contest for secretary, Bob Mills won over Don Palmer by a narrow margin, while in another close race, freshman Herman Lederer nosed out Max Coulter and Art Gilstrap for treasurer.

Voting for rally committee positions was featured by a six way competition, with the Bracker brothers, Howie (Vitamins) and Lou (No-Vitamins), being the victors. Howie and Lou, as well as Lederer, are members of the frosh class. Art Gilstrap and John Colombini, upperclassmen, were elected as representatives to the Student Activity Council.

The session, opened by Paul Dougherty, with introduction of crops department instructors Stanton Gray and Ralph Verhies, was attended by approximately 90 men. A greatly increased membership over the previous years led to the decision that all elective officers would hereafter be for terms of one quarter duration, with the exception of SAC representatives who will continue to serve under the previous policy of nine months tenure.

Band Members Select Officers

At a recent meeting the band took time out to elect their officers for the coming year. Don Whitson is the new president. Don still plays the bass drum; he was pounding away in the Poly band of 1940. Bob Strong was elected manager. He has had experience at this job as the former manager of the Pasadena Junior College band.

Bob Roney and Bob Raybourn will be this year's student directors. H. P. Davidson, music instructor, announced that due to similarity of their names he is going to call one of them Southern Pacific and the other one Santa Fe (Ed. Note: This is liable to result in a new arrangement of "Chatanoooga Choo Choo" which we expect may be played to the tune of "Sentimental Journey.") Milt Riggs from Santa Barbara is the new secretary of the band.

Our fifty piece band will make its next appearance at the assembly on Thursday. They will also play that evening for the state F.F.A. convention. At present the group is working on some of Poly's school songs, several marches, and some swing tunes. "Davy" stated that the band would appear at the Occidental game in uniforms.

Truck Crops Students Enjoy Field Trip

For the purpose of studying problems in picking, grading, and packing tomatoes, Truck Crops 101 made a 44 mile round-trip to the Meltschauer Bros. ranch south of S.L.O. last week.

Poly Men Merit Praise

The game with Santa Barbara is a "page in history." We think that the team played a good game and that they did their best to come out on top throughout the game. We won't take time to do any "Sunday morning quarterbacking."

We are going to make some comments on the activities of the Poly rooters on the trip. Nearly everything we have heard about the great group that cheered the Mustangs has been good. The rooting section, as a whole, received high praise from everyone to whom we have spoken.

The trip down was orderly, and apparently there were no accidents. The bunch that gathered at the Y was large and spirited. We were surprised and proud to see so many cars from Poly. We had by far the larger number of cars in the parade. We had more noise, more spirit and more rooters at the rally.

At the game our gang out-cheered the Santa Barbara rooters consistently. According to Poly tradition we joined with Santa Barbara during the songs. (With that Gaucho gal out in front, how could anyone fail to get in rhythm?)

We have heard of no accidents at Santa Barbara or on the way back. Some of the boys had a little car trouble, and there are probably a couple of newly nicked fenders around the campus. But the fear of serious or even of minor accidents was certainly not justified. Our drivers are to be commended for their careful driving.

Yes, we saw one or two of the lads do some fancy flat-hatting, but we don't believe that Santa Barbara has much to complain about on that score.

A few of our rooters were, perhaps, a little too full of artificial spirits. A few members of the cheering section did some subdued booing. However, the great majority did more than just behave themselves. Most of our spirited outfit was courteous in the best of Poly tradition.

We firmly believe that the showing of our school on the field, in the stadium and in the city of Santa Barbara augurs well for the game this week, and for the rest of the season.

J. M. P.

Look For Silver Lining

We have heard quite a few complaints about the campus concerning certain conditions here at California State Polytechnic College. It might be well to remember that slogan: Things are tough all over.

Poly was the first college on the coast to provide more than token housing for married students. We have continued to lead in the housing situation. The army camp, the use of Las Higueras Housing units, and the new construction prove that the administration is to be congratulated on the excellent way in which they are taking care of our students.

Where many schools have been forced to lower their standards in the matter of selecting new faculty members, Poly has been fortunate in being able to command top men in each field of instruction. There is a critical shortage of good teachers throughout the country, and yet the administration is getting more than its share of the best men available.

Perhaps you don't realize it but the bookstore in El Corral has had better luck in supplying student needs than most college bookstores have had. True, the process of getting texts and supplies was painfully slow. Never-the-less O. F. Luckainger is to be thanked for his foresight and proficiency in acquiring most of the needed material.

Certainly we are short in classrooms and in teaching equipment. But remember that we aren't holding classes in tents, nor are we using wheelbarrows as substitutes for tractors.

Much of the construction now going on is of a temporary nature. It will serve our purposes during this period of critical shortages. There are things about the campus that aren't right. Poly has done so much better than most colleges that we ought to show a little forbearance and see if our other troubles aren't cleared up in short order.

J. M. P.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

"They'd better watch," says local R. R. Engineer Jerry Bixma, meaning that Poly auto jockeys had better stop, look, and listen at the Highway R. R. crossing near the southern end of the campus.

CLEEK'S CONDITION BETTER

George Cleek, Poly's head janitor, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks, is slowly improving in health at the San Luis Sanitarium.

We all are hoping he will be back with us soon.

Dear John...

Dear Editor: It has always been a tradition at Cal Poly for all students to sing the Alma Mater at the end of each game. I don't know who the two freshmen were that left just before the end of the game with Santa Barbara. They should remember that they are a part of Cal Poly, and that, as such, they are subject to Poly's traditions.

I hope that in the future the entire rooting section will stay until we have sung "All Hail." If anyone knows who these two fellows were, or knows of anyone else who didn't abide with our tradition, please tell them what the score is. Win or lose, we are proud of our college; win or lose we always sing the Alma Mater.

Gill Brown,
Yell leader.

Dear Editor: I think that our students were very discourteous at Santa Barbara by not appearing in their best clothes. Some of them looked as tho they had just come out of the barn. On the other hand I felt that Santa Barbara was lacking in hospitality when they made no effort to allow us to sing our Alma Mater at the close of the game. Even in high school days we made an effort to extend this courtesy to the visiting team regardless of who won. The same thing applies to yells. Don't let us be guilty of snafueing our visitors yells with our own or allow our band to interrupt the enthusiasm of the visitors. After all we will want our visitors to return.

Crispin M. Wood

Dear John:

What I want to know is: How does a guy get service at our local fountain? We have a nice store in the basement and the people working behind the sandwich counter during the noon hour aren't too awfully slow in filling orders.

But my troubles are at the fountain, and not during the twelve to one rush either. Most of the time there are three or four alleged waitresses at the bar. Wait a right. Okay, one of them washes dishes. Why should it take ten, twelve, or twenty minutes to get my order? Or the order of a lot of guys? Half the time all of the stools aren't even full. Then it takes up to fifteen more minutes to fill the order. And when I finally get it, it's often not what I ordered.

Why don't these women use a little system in getting orders. Mostly the person who gets waited on seems to be interested in ulcers, children, chickens and whatever has the fancy of the gal at present. (Name withheld on request)

SATURDAY IS WASHDAY

It's "blue Saturday" instead of "blue Monday" for residents of Hillcrest Acres (Hilldiver Bar-racks.)

When Saturday rolls around, all dinks are stowed, books are shelved, and out comes the family wash. To view what rich suds and a ten day rinse in clorox (no advertisement) will do for men's unmentionables, take a look at the Hillcrest clothesline. This is, however, another case of "look at but do not touch."

No, no, Crusher...

HARPO'S BIZARRE

Patience Rewarded

I know it was hard waiting a whole week just so you could read this column again, but it was worth waiting for wasn't it—or was it? Since last week everyone has been clamoring for me to write more—I guess that makes me a "Clamor Boy." (Pause here to air the typewriter.)

Correct English Dept.

On reading the column head, Miss Marston, of "English at Work" fame, approached me and said I had spelled "Bizarre" wrong. So promising to make amends and immediately proceeding to the nearest "Flunk and Hangnails" book of correct spelling, I found that spelled the way I have it, "Bizarre" means something odd, grotesque, or fantastic. Guess I didn't spell it wrong after all.

Dear John:

Is this a college campus or a city dump? If you take a look around the buildings and roads, you see nothing but paper, cigarette butts, apple cores, and other assorted trash.

I believe two factors are responsible for this shameful disgrace.

The first factor is that the students are so lacking in school spirit and up-bringing that they don't care what the campus looks like. When they finish a cigarette, they throw the butt down—no matter where they are at the time. You see these disgusting looking butts in classrooms, in the halls, in the rest rooms, on the sidewalks, on the lawns, and every other place imaginable. If these persons must take a drug, the least they could do is hide the evidence.

The paper situation is just as bad. When these stupid people receive a letter, they open it and then throw the envelope down. Why should they be worried if the campus looks like the aftermath of an armistice celebration. When teachers return papers to them, these people wad up their paper and throw them down, hoping the resulting piles of paper won't block the doors.

The students, however, are not the only ones on which to pin the blame.

With a huge increase in enrollment, it could be expected that there would be a larger litter problem on the campus. Why haven't containers been furnished, at strategic locations, for the disposal of waste paper, apple cores, etc? This would greatly ease the situation and, by a sponsored program, the students could be taught to throw trash in these containers, resulting in a much cleaner and more beautiful campus.

Book Reviews

This week, Librarian Whitman has reviewed another of the library's choice books by Luther C. Goodrich entitled "Short History of the Chinese People."

"On our new book shelf this week is the small book that may interest many readers because of the importance of China in the present world situation. This is one "short" history that is really short—only 282 pages yet it manages to give a panorama of the outstanding events in Chinese history, from pre-historic times to the present day Republic."

It's a smart man who hasn't let a woman pin anything on him since he was a baby.

So we lost the game! Our day will come, let us not be discouraged. Outside of coming out on the wrong end of the score, wasn't it a nice drive there and back? "Howie" wore out three sets of teeth gnashing them at the boys—but he gets a special rate on them during football season. ("Davey" goes to the same dental-sawbones, but his sets have a different mounting so they don't click and interfere with his goldarn—I mean, golden voice.)

All I will say on the game is that I think the fellows did a swell job, and gave their all for dear old "Alma Mammy." I'll say no more, because all I do is sit in the stands, and it isn't my place to do anything but cheer for the team. There are too many people, who do the same thing, that condemn the team, the playing, the coaching, and tell how they think it should be done. Nuf sed!

Neither Snow, Nor Rain, Etc.

The lads in our campus Post-office have asked me to give them a mention or two, why anyone wants mention in this column is beyond me. Usually people pay me to leave them out of it—anyhow, they have had so many complaints, they have come to me in desperation. So, if you want to get your mail promptly, have it addressed properly and whether it is General Delivery or what—remember: that our P. O. was made to accommodate an enrollment of about 500. So do not speak harshly of or to the boys behind the little window, as I have it on good authority they are now equipped with a big club for such occasions.

Brains Inc.

Remember that aptitude test we had to take? Mr. Semans tells me a genius is rated 100, average intelligence 70—but I broke all existing records with a 40. Oh well, life begins at forty—I guess that's what comes from writing a column.

There must be some bowling enthusiasts at Cal Poly even though they didn't show up for the meeting last week. Bob Harris has been negotiating with the El Camino Bowling alley manager, to form a Cal Poly bowling league. All the arrangements have been made and the only lacking features are the active participants.

Bob requests that all men interested in forming a league, meet with him at 6:30 p.m. Thursday evening, for a meeting strictly devoted to organization of the league. The financial questions can be settled at that meeting and the games will start Monday evening, next week.

The games will not continue much after nine o'clock and should prove to be an inexpensive and interesting form of recreation. All men who are interested see Bob, Thursday evening, at the alley, 1115 Santa Rosa, S.L.O.

Coach Bob Mott requests that I again call attention to the baseball picture to be held in the school auditorium, tonight at 8 p.m. The picture, as reported last week, is a three reel presentation by the American League, including, "Inside Baseball," 30 minutes, "Circling the Bases," 20 minutes, and a 30 minute reel of the "World Series of 1945."

The movie is free to all students and their wives and friends. Take an hour and a half from your studies and enjoy some good baseball, through the courtesy of the American League and the Cal Poly athletic department.

This Saturday, the Mustang griders will face the San Diego Aztecs. According to all statistical reports, Cal Poly will be the underdog in this game. The Techmen will be facing a strong team but with the lessons learned at Santa Barbara last week the Mustangs may romp home as victors.

The Poly rooting section may necessarily be small because of distance, time, finances and studies, but for those who can make the game we print the following information.

The game will be played at the Balboa Stadium in the heart of downtown San Diego. The Balboa Stadium is situated near the High School in Balboa Park. The kickoff will be at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 5th. San Diego is approximately 330 miles from San Luis Obispo on U. S. Route, 101, about 6 hours driving time from Cal Poly. Poly student body cards will be accepted at Balboa Stadium. See you in San Diego.

Balling Test Lures Thirsty Students

Stanton Gray took the students of his first hour fruit production class to the Poly vineyard, on their first outing of the year last Thursday. The problem was to determine the sugar content in a variety of grapes. The "balling test" was used, and proved very interesting and efficient.

The most enjoyable part of the test came when the grapes to be tested were chosen. This was done by tasting the grapes to be used in the test. A certain student, one Jim Snow, was the champion taster. Anyway, one would have thought so by the grapes he consumed... pardon me... tasted.

In the final quarter the Mustangs again started on a march to the goal line but were stopped on the ten yard line when and ill-fated pass from Vern Bebernes was intercepted by Harold Duddrige, halfback. The Gauchos kicked out of danger and on the second play, Duddrige again intercepted a pass, thrown this time by Bewley. After several short gains, Sam Cathcart, halfback, broke away on the Poly 48 yard line and went over for Santa Barbara's final score.

Just before the final gun, "Pinky" Bebernes connected a pass to Jack Bolton, end, who was downed on the Gaucho 21 yard line. The game ended with Charles Hargrove adding a five yard gain.

Jim Yates, smashing right half, was the outstanding ground gainer for the Mustangs, amassing a total of 100 yards gained in 18 rushing plays. Ray Fowler carried the ball 8 times for a total of 47 yards gained, and Bud MacDougall ran the pigskin 8 times for a gain of 33 yards and scored the lone Poly touchdown.

Percy and Bull Make Choices

"Too much bull," wailed one P. V. Grainbrain on Saturday evening, "Too much bull, Taurus that is, crept into my calculations on this week's game! As every student of the zodiac knows, it's the forequarters of the bull that must be studied to get the real picture. Someone must have given poor Taurus a stout boost from the posterior angle just as I took that last back azimuth. Anyhow, philosophized our boy, "Moore didn't take me up for a milkshake."

And with that the distraught P. V. dismissed his debacle of hoghide prophesying for the last weekend of September. However, it doesn't relieve the writer of moral guilt in the stinkeroos he touted to the public (on P. V.'s word) in these columns last week. So before Grains-in-the-brain could melt away into the milling exit march he was horse-collared none too gently and presented with the demand of giving out with a new deal.

For Perc's sake (and ours) let's take the scientific attitude that nothing is conclusive without sufficient trial, and bear with him for another week. If it turns out a loused up deal this time, Taurus will have to go, to be replaced by SSir Bess II. Surely old Bess could do no wrong. Fearlessly then, our boy comes up with these:

Former Poly Student High Bidder at Sale

Don Bullington, former Cal Poly student who is now in the dairy business at Mt. Herman in Santa Cruz county, brushed aside all competitive bidding in the recent Elbow Creek Guernsey sale and got the two highest selling animals. One was a May heifer calf by Foremost Souvenir purchased at $1700, and the other was her maternal sister sired by Elbow Hollis which was purchased for $1400. Both are out of a famous Mid-West show cow, Stella of Walnut Corner.

Don was the owner and exhibitor of a grand champion fat lamb which sold at one of the highest prices recorded in the west while at Poly. He was engaged for some time in the breeding of Hampshire sheep, but is now concentrating on his dairy herd.

Down the Lane

By TED LAINE

Time was when the steed carried the man because that was a speedier method of transport than for mere man to go afoot.

However, in this day of advanced means of locomotion, the old way of getting about are not only outmoded, but apparently forgotten and open to dispute. At least the Gauchos emphasized the point by the manner in which they out-footed the hardy Mustangs last Saturday evening.

The Poly rooting section rooted and exhorted the team in excellent fashion. In fact they beseeched to the extent of pleading, groans, tearing of hair, and near tears. It was all to no lasting avail. None of the oral and moral support could lend mercurial powers to the heels of the beefy Mustangs. It was simply a case of too much fleet-footed speed on the part of the Santa Barbara gridders.

Nevertheless, everything considered, Poly rooters came away

Air Show Slated At Santa Maria

A top notch air show is scheduled for Hancock Field at Santa Maria on October 12 and 13. The show will feature army and navy planes, all of the latest light plane models, jet planes, and helicopters. One of the highlights of the show will be Tex Rankin's Air Circus.

The USC chapter of the Alpha Eta Rho aviation fraternity is sponsoring a benefit air show dance at the Veterans Memorial Building in Santa Maria on Saturday evening, October 12. The dance is for the benefit of the American Legion's Veterans Rehabilitation Fund. Jimmie Grier will provide the music and Jeanne Taylor will be featured in the vocal spot.

from the game with the consolatory opinion that they have a powerful team to follow this season; a team that will give good cause for exhilarating cheers during the remainder of the fall's football parade.

Change in Mail Service Planned

According to Bill Troutner, the mail may be delivered to the dorms, in the near future. Troutner stated that an answer to a letter sent to the U. S. Postoffice Department, requesting this change, had not been received as yet, but was expected any day.

The plan is to have the San Luis Obispo Postoffice deliver the mail directly to the dorms, and put in a sealed box. Then the dormitory superintendent will give out the mail at certain hours.

It is also planned to have a small branch office here at Poly. This office will be open about two hours a day for mailing letters, buying stamps, money orders, etc.

OFFER TRANSPORTATION

"All out for Poly," is the spirit taken by the Ornamental Horticulture Club, and is shown by the trouble taken to arrange rides for all members to all Poly games played away from the campus.

Hort. Club Chooses Coleman as Proxy

Election of Ornamental Horticulture Club officers was held recently with the following men being elected: Bill Coleman, president; David Pitts, vice president; Raymond Larson, secretary-treasurer; Bill Borroughs, Poly Royal representative; and Archie Ahrendes, SAC representative, with Bill Drake and Jiro Kai assistants.

A talk on the responsibilities and duties of the officers was given by Wilbur Howes, club advisor.

After the meeting, the freshmen were hurriedly dismissed, and "Mad Genius" Stratton gave out with his views for the frosh initiation. His plans are not available for publication at this time.

Young Farmer Club Holds First Meet

By CHUCK HITCHCOCK

Much enthusiasm was shown last Wednesday evening at the California Young Farmers' meeting to which approximately 50 eager beavers attended. Chapter Advisor, Carl G. Beck, spoke on the history of the chapter and seemed much pleased with the interest that was shown by the fellows. Chapter President, Don Flester, talked on the various activities of the year, emphasizing the fact that in one week the Chapter would be acting as host for the F.F.A. convention.

This convention is crowding the chapter quite a bit, but work seems to be what these boys want. An entertainment committee consisting of Flester, Stanshar, Sulter, Thompson, Custard, Osborne, Breecher, Lesley, Griffin, Milton, Tasing, and Groppety was assembled and they met last Thursday evening. A refreshment committee of Anderson, Hass, and Hoelworth was also chosen.

The most important task of the evening, the job of electing officers, was also taken care of. The newly elected president is Bill Orthart, a fellow with plenty of zest who has all the possibilities of making the chapter an excellent president. Al Park was elected vice president, Jim Jessup was elected secretary, and Chuck Hitchcock will be the new reporter.

Appreciation notices were given to the old officers and especially to Don Flester for his excellent work as president for the preceding year. Don will long be remembered for he bang-up job he did as president. The first and third Thursdays of the month was decided to be the meeting days of the chapter from now on.

Block P Dance Huge Success

By DAVID ESCAMILLO

Marred only by the astonishing appearance of a character adorned as a typical collegiate, with books in arms and smoking a pipe, the Cal Poly Block P Dance held at the Crandall Gym Friday night defied prediction, and was a pleasing success. Failure of our drug store wolves in obtaining dates, and general scarcity of girls in town had campus rumors saying that lack of partners would make the dance a dull affair. It wasn't so!

Other than students' wives, and some of the students' girl friends, no one can explain the presence of the other many girls. They were there, so who really cares where those cute things came from, except those who want to know their source.

Joe Rose and his Pismo Beach Band provided the music, so everybody, smooth dancers and jitterbugs alike, had their fun.

Crepe paper, used in decorating, some how fell onto the floor, and became raveled in passing feet, giving dancers the appearance of trudging in snow shoes. Noticeable were jitterbugs who were constantly eyeing the gym's basketball hoops with a gleam as they whirled and threw their partners out in fast-time steps. Among those present were junior bobby soxers from the high school who tried mixing with adults. Then there was the group of boys who misinterpreted the door sign, and were asking about the "Free Girls."

New Student Wives Welcomed

The new student wives were officially welcomed to the Students' Wives Club Thursday evening, Sept. 19, by the club officers and Mrs. C. O. McCorkle, who is the group sponsor. The turn-out so far exceeded expectations that a frantic call was made for additional chairs which were gallantly supplied by Arthur Colwell.

President Anita Banning introduced several guests including Miss Stokel of the Health department, Mrs. Cooley from the Junior College, Mrs. Dye, and Mrs. Scott representing the Junior Matrons and their nursery school. All of these guests extended invitations to the wives to take advantage of various community activities. Pat Kurts and Donna MacDougall discussed the advantages of purchasing produce, poultry and dairy products on the campus.

Gil Brown and Jack Spaulding created a stir at the meeting when they extended an invitation to the club to establish a women's cheering section for football season.

Donna MacDougall was chairman of the refreshments during the social hour which followed the meeting. Included on her committee in addition to Mrs. MacDougall were Margaret Maxon, Phyllis Vanoncini, and Ella Marie Amato.

Students' Wives Club to Meet

The regular business meeting of the Students' Wives Club will be held Oct. 3 in the Club Room of the Hillcrest building at 8 p.m.

Several items of business are slated for discussion. The group will vote on an amendment which was proposed at a previous meeting. Plans will be made for the October social event for husband and wives.

A high-light of the evening will be provided by the Poly yell leaders who will be on hand to instruct the club members in songs and yells so they can take an active part in backing the Mustangs in future games.

Liz Stratton and her committee of hostesses will be on hand to welcome all students' wives who can attend the meeting.

Crops Instructors Continue Judging

Instructors Paul Dougherty, Stanton Gray, and Ralph Vorhies of the crops department plunged once again into the county fair circuit last Friday evening when they journeyed to Templeton to serve as judges at the Templeton Farm Center community show. Exhibits judged by the instructors were those concerning crops, fruits, and vegetables.
