Season Concert Tickets Go On Sale Next Week

Membership tickets for the Community Concert Association will be on sale in H. P. Davidson's office, Room 117, Administration Building, or in the Music Room, from October 14-18.

Student season tickets will cost approximately $3.00 for the three concerts in San Luis Obispo and the three concerts in Santa Maria. Each ticket holder may attend all six concerts.

This year, one of the outstanding artists will be Dorothy Maynor, famous colored singer.

No single admission will be sold to the concerts, and after October 18, it will be impossible to purchase season membership tickets.

In past years, many famous artists have appeared in San Luis Obispo and Santa Maria in connection with the community concert series. Among them have been Kenny Baker, Eugene List, and the Don Cossacks Chorus. Just what artists will be selected this year and what times they will be here, other than Miss Maynor, will not be determined until the membership drive is over.

Poly Rooting Section Set

Plans for the activities of the cheering section at the Occidental game this Saturday are rapidly being completed, according to Gil Brown and Jack Spaulding, Poly's yell leaders.

The Student Wives Club has formed an auxiliary rooting section to aid the Mustangs to victory. The girls are making pom-poms to increase the color of their cheering section. The ladies and their husbands will have a section of the stands reserved for them.

The band will make its first informed appearance at the game, under direction of H. P. Davidson.

A third section of the bleachers will be reserved for the rest of the Cal Poly student body.

It is requested of the student body that it is to be courteous to the visiting school. Both their team and rooters are to be shown a good time. Neither penalties, plays nor individuals are to be booed. Occidental will sing its Alma Mater, immediately after the game. Poly will follow with "All Hall."

Young Farmers Play Host to FFA Group

By CHARLES HITCHCOCK

If last Thursday, Friday, or Saturday you saw some younger looking fellows on the campus with blue ribbons on their chests, it was not because they had won first place in a stock show. They were delegates from many various towns and cities to the Future Farmer convention.

A young farmer committee arranged the first evening's entertainment which included various types of music, humorous stories, movies, and an act in which a delegate "accidentally" got his hair full of pie. The CYF committee served refreshments.

Three delegate sessions were held during Friday and Saturday, and after the second session, the delegates were given a tour around our campus.

Boots and Spurs Club Organizes

In the first meeting of the Boots and Spurs club this fall, held Oct. 7, the following officers were elected: Bob Metzger, president; Dick Arnold, vice president; "Snuffy" Smith, sec. - treas.; Bob Myera, S.A.C.; Dick Williams, agt. at arms; Gene Johnson and Jim English, rally comm. and Al Park, reporter.

Business taken up at the meeting concerned the dance this Saturday following the Occidental game, with Ade Harter as chairman.

A discussion about the Cal Poly Rodeo team decided that it would be a desirable source of publicity and entertainment for all concerned. Jim O'Neil was placed in charge.

An attendance of about eighty club members heard the new club constitution read and discussed briefly.

PROGRAM SALESMEN NEEDED

Anyone interested in making a little spare change by selling football programs on a commission basis for all home games see Glenn Arthur or Mr. R. E. Kennedy in Room 18, Adm. Bldg. before Friday night.

Record Crowd Entertained At Assembly

Over 1300 students were entertained last Thursday, at the assembly held on the football field, by three members of a local well-known Chinese family of musical fame, all of whom attended Cal Poly in past years.

First member of the family to be introduced was Helen Louis Jean, from Chicago. Helen Jean graduated from Cal Poly in 1921. She entertained the students with a piano selection, which was the Cal Poly school song at the time she attended.

Next to be introduced were her two brothers, Walter Louis, a San Luis resident, and George Louis of San Francisco. The two brothers played two lively tunes on their guitars.

The family was introduced by William T. Shipsey, attorney in San Luis. Shipsey told the students a brief history of the Louis family, which proved interesting.

During the assembly, Leon Garion, student body president, read a letter to the student body from C. E. Knott, head of the industrial division at Poly, which stressed the importance of safety at the nearby railroad crossings.

Howie O'Daniels, Poly football coach, presented the individual members of the team to the assembly.

The program ended after Gil Brown and Jack Spaulding led the assembly in several school songs and yells, including the Alma Mater.

Guest Speaker Appears at Poultry Club

The poultry club met last Thursday afternoon to transact their current business and honor a guest speaker, Jack Elfort, former P.C.A. branch manager and poultryman.

Dave Bullock gave a speech on his recent trip to the New Mexico Aggie campus, in which he was very critical of their set-up as compared with Poly.

Guest speaker Elfort's first statement was an admission that he was a graduate of New Mexico, causing Bullock considerable embarrassment.

Mustangs Meet Oxy Tigers In First Home Game Saturday

By TED LAINE.

Though coach Howie O'Daniels' herd of Mustangs will be galloping into a comparatively unknown quantity next Saturday night when they square off with the Bengals of Occidental College, one known factor will be that the Poly squad will be out to avenge the 6 to 20 loss inflicted by the Los Angeles school in 1942. That year saw the only previous gridiron meeting between the two opponents.

Ballots to Be Recast in Frosh Elections

The Freshman class will continue its efforts to get organized with a general election tomorrow. In last week's election there was no majority vote cast in the race for president. The vice president race was also undecided. Ray Mallory, Bill Othart, are the candidates in the presidential runoff. Harry Osborn and Ray Harding will fight it out for the job of vice president.

Robert Ferrel won the post of secretary-treasurer, and Lefty Downing was elected yell leader in the primary election last week.

Voting procedure in the general election will be the same as for the primary election. The election will be held tomorrow, Oct. 10, in room 17 of the administration building.

The tabulation of last week's vote follows:

- President:
Ray Mallory, 72.
Bill Othart, 68.
John Wright, 61.
Woodrow Wilson, 26.
Al Miller, 6.
Harold Siversky, 4.
Vice-president:
Harry Osborn, 99.
Ray Harding, 68.
John Leslie, 42.
Howard Bracker, 22.
Secretary-treasurer:
Robert Farrell, 123.
Ronald Jones, 93.
Yell leader:
Lefty Downing, 200.
Richard O'Neil, 3.
Tom Beland, 1.
D. A. Nielson, 1.
Bruce Pearson, 1.
R. C. Tracy, 1.
Howie O'Daniels, 1.

Assembly, Rally Next Friday

Poly's next assembly will be Friday at 11 a.m. The assembly will combine business with a pre-game rally. The band will be present, and the yell leaders will rehearse yells and songs to be used at the Occidental game. The team will be present to tell the student body what to expect when they meet the Tigers on Saturday. Mr. Beck announced that the speaker will be William Smith.

Ag Inspection Club Election

The first meeting of the agricultural inspection club was held October 1 for the purpose of electing club officers, and drafting rallymen.

Officers elected were: Fred Leavitt, president; Lawrence E. Rossi, vice president; Wilber C. Mayhew, secretary-treasurer; Avon E. Carlson, student affairs councilman. The drafted rallymen are William P. Mally and Allen W. Gardener.

The meeting was under the social guidance of Doctor Essig, new agricultural inspection teacher at Cal Poly.

The unknown quantity label comes from the fact that this weekend's contest will be the season's first for the orange and black of Oxy and also their first after a two year wartime lapse in intercollegiate competition. Nevertheless, reports from the metropolitan area indicate (as at all colleges this fall) that a record turnout, including 11 returning lettermen, checked in to Coaches Ray Dennis and Payton Jordan on opening day.

Leading the visitors' attack will be Ray Vernon, highly regarded, 170 pound, all Southern California Conference halfback of 1942. In the line will be another all-conference standout in the person of tackle John Osterman who last played in 1942. The Bengals' probable starting lineup will average 188 pounds—186 in the line and 177 in delivery section—indicating a relatively light but fast and shifty aggregation. To quote the Occidental paper's sports page, "Although the Cal Poly roster presents a heavier average... it should be more than equaled by the high caliber of... this year's Oxy squad." That is a moot point that will be better answered about half past ten o'clock on Saturday evening.

For the Mustangs the starting lineup will probably be the same as last week at San Diego, with the possible exception of Walmers or Griffin at left guard, replacing Dusina, who is nursing a charley horse. Also the quarterback slot is wide open with either Ebernes or Lee Rosa getting the call at game time. Probable starting lineups:

Cal Poly	Position	Oxy
Dulits	L.E.	Coots
Bonita	L.T.	Osterman
Dusina	L.G.	A. Fain
Fitgerald	Center	Boggs
Bennett	R.G.	Lauricella
Hovig	R.T.	E. Fain
Bolton	R.E.	Pearson
Rosa or Ebernes	Q.B.	Tamsey
Fowler	L.H.	Carter
Yates	R.H.	Vernon
MacDougall	F.B.	Fieldman

Officials: Homer Oliver, Atascadero (UCLA); Frank Holt, San Luis Obispo (DePaul); Pat Bryan, Santa Maria (Nebraska). Game time 8 p.m.

That Was No Lady, That Was Initiation

Poly's first initiation for the fall quarter was inaugurated by the ornamental horticulture club last Friday.

The new members were adorned to signify every flower from the Shasta daisy to the Gypsy rose—no—not Lee.

Ray Sutton's glamorous fascimile of Gravel Gertie won him first prize in the costume contest; a shining blue ribbon made of crepe paper.

Poly to Honor Oxy At Football Dance

The football dance to be held in Crandall Gym next Saturday after the game will honor Occidental College. The dance will be sponsored by the Rally committee. Get your date now and tell her to wear sport clothes.

Here Are the Answers to Your Medical Questions

A misunderstanding of the medical setup at Cal Poly has caused students to undergo unnecessary difficulty when they request medical attention. Bill Troutner, in charge of resident students, has furnished the following information which he believes will settle this problem. The information is in the form of questions, with answers, which he thinks are on the minds of many students.

Q. What should I do when I become ill? A. Contact your dorm superintendent or Major Deuel.

Q. How long do I have to wait before seeing a doctor? A. Doctors are on call at all hours. Emergency visits will be made to the dormitories and the students' homes within five miles of the campus. A doctor is also on duty at the school infirmary from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Q. What illnesses are covered by the school medical service? A. All diseases are covered except chronic diseases contracted one year prior to entering school. Dental problems are not covered by this service.

Q. What if I need medicine or first aid attention? A. The doctor will furnish medicine for immediate use until a prescription is filled. The doctor will also furnish necessary first aid equipment and supplies such as iodine, bandages, tape, etc.

Q. My shoulder is bothering me and I would like to have an X-ray taken. Is this possible under the school medical service? A. X-rays of the shoulder, collarbone, and extremities are furnished at the doctor's office. All other X-rays are at industrial rates.

Q. How is physio-therapy handled? A. All cases, if necessary, are handled in the doctor's office.

Q. I have an illness that needs services of a specialist. Would this service be covered under the school medical plan? A. No. Services of specialists and doctors, other than school doctors, is not covered by the school medical service.

Q. What would happen if I had an appendectomy or some other major operation? A. You would be sent to the local hospital where the operation would take place. The expense of the operation and the time you spent in the hospital would not be covered by the school medical service. You would very likely be moved to the school infirmary the second day after the operation, so your expense would be the operation and one day at the hospital.

Q. What would be my expense if I became a hospital case but remained at the school infirmary, located east of Cafeteria No. 2? A. You would have no expense; such cases are covered by the school medical service.

Any student who has further questions concerning medical service can have them answered by placing the questions in El Mustang contribution box, Room 18, Adm. building.

It's Better to Be Safe . . .

It is time someone voiced his opinion concerning the traffic condition as it exists on the Cal Poly campus. The situation, instead of becoming better, is actually becoming more intolerable as time goes on. This trouble may be caused by ignorance of the law on the part of new drivers on the campus. If so, the following information should help to enlighten them.

A stop sign on the campus has the same meaning as anywhere else. It means STOP! It doesn't mean to shift into second gear and go on. The speed limit on the roads about the campus is fifteen miles per hour. That is the maximum—not the minimum—speed. Reckless driving will not be tolerated.

This campus is more crowded with students and automobiles than in all its history. In the past, students have been killed and injured because of automobile accidents on the campus. It is natural to assume that, because of the large increase on the campus, more students will be killed and injured this year than in years past.

With this fact in mind, it's time something was done. The following suggestions are being offered in an effort to solve the problem.

All drivers should be notified, by posting large signs in prominent places, of the speed limit on the campus. The excuse of ignorance will not be acceptable. The student president should appoint a body of students to assume the duty of traffic maintenance. Any violation observed by them should be taken before the student court. Fines should consist the suspension of the driving privilege on the campus for a specified period of time.

If this doesn't ease the situation, a request should be made to the proper officials, giving the circumstances, and requesting that a uniformed officer be placed on duty on the campus.

The above suggestions are drastic. It may be that they will not be needed. It may be enough just to remind drivers on the Poly campus of the existing condition.

Remember, you may be the first casualty!

—P.E.M.

Dear John . . .

Dear John:

I was again very much pleased with Poly's representation at the game in San Diego last week. At least fifty members of the student body were able to make the 700 mile trip. These boys formed a nucleus of rooters that had an entire section of the stands cheering for the Mustangs. Many of the spectators were service men. A lot of these men were former Poly students. A good portion of the section were Cal Poly Alumni. Most of them promised to be here for Homecoming. We had a good representation there, and all of them showed a great deal of spirit.

I was glad to see several of Poly's faculty and wives present. It was great to have the "Chief" and his wife there.

I think the singing of "All Hall" was extremely effective. The rooting section sang the song beautifully, and with the team standing at attention it was an imposing spectacle. Again, I want to thank all of you who were there; Cal Poly proved again that it shows an outstanding amount of school spirit.

Fold up your weep rags and gather 'round! For here I am again, you lucky (?) people. Didja miss me? Not even a little? Daffynitions

In case any of you don't know, or are in doubt of how the different classes are rated, below are the ratings:

Freshman—Knows not and knows that he knows not.

Sophomore—Knows not and knows not that he knows not.

Junior—Knows, but knows not that he knows.

Senior—Knows, and knows that he knows!

These definitions are purely a figment of my own imagination, are theoretical, fictional, and any similarity to persons about this campus is purely coincidental.

Comparisons
I can remember the day—many long years ago—when I looked upon a senior with a certain awe—aw nuts! I used to wonder vaguely how it must feel to be so old and so wise. Now I know.

Strangely enough, it feels not very much different from being a few years younger and a bit more ignorant. (Heaven forbid!)

People, seniors for example, whom you see now and then, and perhaps know distantly and maybe envy a little, are much more attractive at a distance. Some of them are horrible at five feet. (I resent that crack you are about to make, and you're no beauty yourself.)

Uh-H-H I Don't Remember
"Doc" Houk says, when it comes to memorizing formulas, if you have a good memory—it works okay, but if you have a memory like his, it doesn't work so good—but "Doc" how about a memory like mine, where nothing works. What then?

less they had real literary merit. There are stories of hunting and polo and runaways, horse trading, and of fantasy. Will James, Donn Byrne, James Boyd, and John Steinbeck are among the authors. The collection is varied in its selection and will be of interest to many readers whether they are horse enthusiasts or not.

Unconstituttooshunall

I had a good story (at least I thought it was funny) to put in here, but unfortunately the powers that be are censors first and humorist afterwards. So—no story. Freedom of the press, BAH! (Not that it was too good, it's the principal of the thing.)

I'll Go Now

As a parting sally let me say that the bigger the summer vacation, the harder the fall—

Pool Opens; Schedule Made

Beginning this afternoon, the college swimming pool will be open each week to students from 4 to 5:30 p.m. on Mondays through Fridays, according to an announcement made by director of athletics, Dr. Carl D. Voltmer. Towels will be available to students at the above hours.

In addition to student hours, Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. have been set aside for the exclusive use of faculty wives, students' wives and office girls employed at Cal Poly. Sunday afternoons from 2 to 5 o'clock the pool will be open to faculty members and students and their families. No guests will be eligible except those who are members of faculty or student families. Towels will not be furnished swimmers on Wednesday nights nor on Sunday afternoons.

According to Dr. Voltmer, a varsity swimming team will be organized later in the season. Announcement of such turnouts will be made at a future date in the columns of El Mustang.

Book Reviews

The book which Ainsley Whitman, librarian, reviews this week should have a special interest for Polymen. His selection for the Mustangs is "A Treasury of Horse Stories," which was edited by Margaret Self and published by A. S. Barnes in 1945.

"This collection includes stories about thoroughbreds, draft horses, light harness horses, standard breds, ponies, wild range horses, flat racers, steeplechasers, and trotters. There are amusing stories as well as the dramatic ones; there is even a special murder story for good measure. Most of the famous horses are here including Pegasus and some of the Centaurs. None of the stories or poems were selected un-

Mustangs Beat San Diego, 21-13

ROSA'S PASSES WIN GAME

There's a football hero on the California Polytechnic college campus today.

It's San Luis Obispo's own Lee Rosa, 160 pound quarterback, who led the badly underrated Mustang eleven to a 21-13 victory over the favored San Diego State Aztecs before a crowd of 6,000 fans in Balboa stadium in San Diego Saturday afternoon.

Not only did Rosa toss the three touchdown passes that gave the Mustangs their victory, but he handled the ball in the key-quarterback spot in Poly's T-formation on every play except one during the entire game.

Late Starter
After witnessing Cal Poly's 19-6 defeat by Santa Barbara college the week before, Aztec scouts had pegged Jim Yates, right half, and Bud MacDougall, fullback, as the men State had to stop. Not only had they overlooked Rosa as a scoring threat, but even Coach Howie O'Daniels hadn't made up his mind to start Rosa in place of Vern Bebernes until a few moments before the game started. That O'Daniels' last-minute decision to start Rosa was a break for the Mustangs is attested by the fact that on the first play in which Poly had the ball in its possession, Rosa faded back and tossed a 30 yard pass to Jack Bolton, right end, who out-distanced the Aztec backs in a 45 yard sprint to pay dirt.

Ossie Dusina did the opening kickoff honors for the Mustangs and Barney Newles, State halfback, took the pigskin on State's 10 yard line and ran it back to his own 31 yard stripe. When two tries at the heavy Mustang line netted the Aztecs only five yards, Stewart Worden got off a 25 yard third-down kick which was taken by Ray Fowler, Mustang right half, on Poly's 30 yard marker where he was downed in his tracks.

Behind Safety Man
Rosa's accurate pass to Bolton, who had slipped behind the Aztec safety man before he snagged the ball, brought groans from the San Diego rooters and dazed the Aztec eleven so badly they were almost unaware that they had been caught with their moleskins down. Bud MacDougall kicked the extra point to give the Mustangs a 7-0 lead.

To prove to the Aztecs that the score was no fluke, the Mustang eleven held the Staters behind their own 30 yard line for three downs following the second kickoff and forced them to punt out of danger. Yates, who took Worden's punt on his own 17 yard line, returned it to the Poly 21 yard stripe.

With Yates, MacDougall and Fowler alternating, the Mustangs marched down the field in a sustained drive that netted them four first downs and put the ball on the Aztec 20 yard line. This display of ground gaining power which eventually gave the Mustangs a total of 156 yards gained from rushing plays as compared to State's 55 yards on rushing, proved to San Diego rooters that the "underdog" Mustangs had power they hadn't expected.

Intercepts Pass
On the Aztec 20 yard marker, third down and eight yards to go for a first down, Rosa tossed an ill-fated pass which was intercepted on the goal line by Al Sawaya who was brought down on his own two-yard line. Sawaya's interception was one of two of Rosa's 18 attempted passes to be snagged by the opposition. Rosa's passing record shows a gain of 175 yards on 11 completed passes, with only five failing incomplete during the day.

Standing behind his own goal line, halfback Newles booted a 40 yard kick which was taken by Rosa on the State 40 yard stripe and advanced to the 39 yard line. Again showing their power, the Mustangs knocked off three first downs in a row to put the ball on the Aztec one yard line at the beginning of the second quarter. Inspired by their rooters, the Aztec eleven did a masterful job holding Yates, MacDougall and Rosa for no gain on four attempts to cross into pay dirt from the one yard line.

Aztecs Score
After an exchange of kicks, the Aztecs started a passing attack which clicked off a long 30 yard gain with Kaiser on the receiving end and Barry tossing. Another pass, Bryant to Heaton, good for seven yards put the Aztecs in scoring position on the Poly three yard line. Bryant crashed through the line for the tally, but the conversion attempt was blocked by the Mustang line, leaving the score, Poly 7, State, 6.

The half ended with the Aztecs on the Poly nine yard line after Barry had intercepted a pass from Vern Bebernes and had completed one of his own for 15 yards to Radovich.

Coming back after the half-time intermission, the Aztecs started down the field with renewed vigor, picking up four first downs, two on rushing and two on passes, to put the ball on Poly's three yard line from where Barry crashed through to put State in the lead, 12-7. Newles's conversion kick was good, and the Mustangs trailed, 7-13.

Behind, but far from whipped, the Mustangs came back after the kickoff to pick up three first downs on rushing and passing plays, taking the ball to the State 34 yard line. On another attempted pass, Rosa was nailed for a nine yard loss and MacDougall kicked to the State 19 yard line where Moesser fumbled and Al Wiemers, Poly guard, recovered.

On the first play following the recovery, Rosa tossed a 15 yard pass to Gene Pimentel, another former San Luis Obispo High star, who went over standing up for the tying score. But the talented toe of Don Dulitz, Mustang veteran end, put Poly out in front again, 14-13.

Winslow Recovers

After an exchange of punts just before the end of the third quarter, Harold Winslow, Poly end, recovered Barry's fumble on the State 12 yard line. Pimentel and MacDougall alternated for four yard gains apiece, and then MacDougall went over the goal line. The play was nullified on a backfield in motion penalty. Rosa then chucked a short four yard pass to MacDougall and followed it up with a five yard touchdown pass to end Winslow. Rosa heaped insult on injury when he faked a kick for the extra point and tossed another pass to Bill Hume, left end, to tally the final point of the game, giving Poly a 21-13 score at the end of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter the Aztecs made repeated attempts to get back into the ball game with long passes, five of which were incomplete, five completed, and

Down the Lane

By TED LAINE

Evidently our Honorable P. Vaughn Grainbrain has taken definitely progressive strides in his system of football prognostication. Though still not altogether perfect, P. V. made the readings well enough to pick five out of seven selections correctly, the only true lemon being his tabbing of the Trojans in USC's magnificent el foldo against Ohio State.

Rumors have wafted about the Poly campus to the effect that erstwhile El Mustang sports chief, Don Moore, pulled out of school solely because of the humiliation involved in doing no better than Grainbrain at the forecasting racket. Moore also hit five out of seven on the same slate of games last week.

Perc V. could not be reached for comment last night, however, he did sometime during the darkened hours slip the following predictions underneath the publications office door.

- UCLA to beat Stanford.
- St. Mary's to beat California.
- OSC to beat USC.
- Oregon to beat Montana.
- Washington to beat WSC.
- Detroit to beat USF.
- Santa Clara to beat Portland.
- CAL POLY to beat Occidental.

one intercepted. Once during the final stanza the Mustangs marched to the State 12 yard line and a first down, only to have a pass intercepted to break up the scoring threat. Final score, Poly 21, San Diego State 13.

Block P Makes Concession Plans

Poly lettermen met again last week at the regular Block P club meeting. Twenty-five men, headed by President Leo Rogels, discussed and made plans for the "chow wagon," which will make it's appearance at the first home football game on the night of October 12.

Work on the "chow wagon" started during the summer quarter, with Jack Coyle and Roy Mats and the Aero boys doing most of the work to date.

Hot dogs, coke, and peanuts will be sold from the wagon and in the stands by Block P members during the four home games. Proceeds will be split with the S.A.C. and the Block P association.

Some Cards Are Still Unclaimed

There are some mighty foolish students on this campus. Here it is, three weeks since student body cards were first issued this quarter, and nearly 100 cards are waiting at the information booth, adm. bldg., for their owners to pick them up.

These tickets assure the owner of certain privileges: free entry to Poly games, reduced rates at high school and junior college games, special rates at the local theaters, and possession of a Poly yearbook.

BASEBALL FANS GATHER

Baseball fans gathered together last Wednesday night to see two reels of films dealing with inside information on this sport, and one reel of the 1945 World Series. Special thanks go to the American league and the Poly athletic department who made the showing of the films possible.

Students' Wives Club Activities

After practicing Poly yells under the guidance of Gil Brown and Jack Spaulding, students' wives who attended the meeting Thursday evening, Oct. 3, feel they are qualified to take their places in the cheering section at coming football games.

When the shouting had died down, the regular business meeting was opened by President Anita Banning.

Plans were formulated for a bridge-whist social meeting of the club October 17, under the chairmanship of Margaret Weinstein.

Vera Jessup was selected to act as chairman of the Halloween party for husbands and wives, to be held October 26 following the Whittier game.

Lis Stratton, assisted by Norma Thomas and Jo Roney, acted as hostesses at the meeting.

BRIDGE CLUB TO MEET

The bridge club group of the students' wives club will hold its second meeting October 10, tomorrow night. All students' wives interested in playing bridge are invited to join the group. They will meet in the Hillcrest Building's recreation room at 8 p.m.

GLEE CLUB ORGANIZED

Ethel Winn, in charge of the students' wives glee club, announced that this group had met for an organizational meeting Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the club room. Great things are expected from this group if the singing last Thursday night was an indication of talent available in the group.

WIVES MAKE POM-POMS

The students' wives club has been asked to make pom-poms to add color to the Poly cheering section. All students' wives who wish to make a pom-pom are asked to furnish their own materials and come to the club room either tonight or tomorrow night. Material needed is two packages of crepe paper (green and gold), thumb tacks, a darning pin, and a broom stick or any suitable stick to be used as a handle.

Poly Poultry Pupil Pursues Pugnacious Predatory Pest

Last week, Ben Caldwell, fresh poultry student, pursued and killed a bob cat on the poultry range. Caldwell was feeding the pullets on the range when he spotted the bob cat on a small knoll. The cat was undoubtedly looking over the pullet crop. Bob immediately set out in par-suit, club in hand. After chasing the cat up and down the gum tree windbreak, he finally cornered it in a gully up against the fence. Our boy and the cat made up their minds to attack simultaneously, and after a short engagement, "Caveman" Caldwell struck the blow which ended the fracas. Closing in, he finished the job with a few more well placed blows. The cat weighed eleven pounds and measured about three feet from tip to tip. Ben is having the hide tanned, so he will have a memento of the battle.
