Work Progressing On New Athletic Field

Work on the new Cal Poly athletic field began last Thursday when the Tyson and Watters Construction Co., Sacramento, began clearing the area of trees and other obstructions prior to leveling.

The field, which will include a football practice field, softball diamond, track, and room for the installation of other athletic equipment, will be bounded on the west by the railroad tracks, Mt. Bishop road on the north, the veterans' housing units on the east, and by Poly Grove on the south. College avenue will be eliminated. First on the list of changes is the reversing of the diamond from its present position to the north-east corner of the area. Home plate will face southwest under the new setup.

Work on the project, which is progressing as rapidly as possible so that the baseball diamond will be completed before the rainy season, was given a priority by the Civilian Production Administration because of the large number of veterans enrolled in the school.

The infield of the new baseball field will be completed with a drainage and sprinkling system and will be topped by one foot of loam and covered with grass.

Poly's new track will be a quarter-mile in length and will be composed of clay and sand. It will be in what will be left and center fields. The track will have an approach on the home stretch which will allow the 440 yard runs to finish at the end of the backstretch, doing away with the rounding of the final curve.

A grandstand is being planned but will not be erected immediately. Plans, however, are being made to have bleachers erected to be used until a cement grandstand is erected.

Lecture Series On Child Care Started

The first of a series of five lectures on child care was given last night at the Junior high school, by Dr. Philip Baerg, county health officer. The subject of last night's lecture was "Care of the child from birth to six months."

The next three lectures will cover the care of the child up to six years of age. The last lecture of the series will deal with the special problems of the care of the second child.

These lectures are given every Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the Junior high school. Married students and their wives are welcome.

Poly Students Select Their Representatives

Students of Cal Poly chose their representatives for the Student Court and Poly Royal executive committee last Thursday when elections for these positions were held.

The Student Court will be composed of: Jim Coleman, Don Flester, and Jay Tucker representing the agricultural division; and Melvin Bell, James Madden, and Crispin Wood representing the industrial division. One member, from the Associated Students at large, will be appointed by the president of the Associated Students, Leon Carolan. Term of office is for the remainder of the school year, until the student leaves school, or until recall.

Duties of the Student Court are limited to hearing those cases in which the general welfare of the Associated Students is involved. Cases to be heard by the court are referred to it from any of the following sources: student affairs council, administrative council, office of the President of California State Polytechnic, or from any individual presenting his case in writing. Recommendations of the

Poly to Show Stock at S.F.

Cal Poly will have a large representation of dairy stock and fat animals at the Grand National Live Stock Exhibition to be held in the San Francisco Cow Palace from November 15 to 24.

George Drum announced that the school will be represented by a string of our best dairy cattle. The animal husbandry department will show steers, hogs and lambs at the fat stock exhibition.

There will be 88 exhibitors in the dairy show from states as far east as Illinois. The 555 animals entered in the dairy exhibits will represent the finest breeding and production in the country.

The fat stock exhibition will be no less impressive. Some of the finest steers, hogs and lambs in the country will be shown at the Grand National.

Poly has continually placed high in the awards and both the dairy and animal husbandry departments are confident that our animals will again be considered excellent.

The show, to be held in the Visitation valley arena just south of San Francisco is considered to be one of the best in the country. The exhibits will be interesting and educational. It will be worthwhile for any student at Cal Poly who is in the bay area during the show to visit the exhibition and to compare Poly's stock with the best.

American Veteran's Committee To Meet

The regular business and organizational meeting of the AVC will be held at 8 p.m., Friday, November 8, at Veteran's Hall, County Court House, San Luis Obispo.

All World War II veterans of all the services, including the merchant marines, are invited.

A pedestrian who insists on getting his rights usually gets his rites.

Pepperdine, Poly Clash In Inglewood

Cal Poly should have a large rooting section to support the Mustangs at the game with Pepperdine this Saturday evening according to Gil Brown and Jack Spaulding, Poly yell leaders. The game, to be played under the lights at Sentinel Field this Saturday, will have one of the largest cheering sections that has ever attended an off-campus game, if the indications shown during the week come true. The San Dimas unit will have a large percentage of its student body present and several hundred San Luis Obispo rooters will also be there.

H.P. Davidson announced that the band would be there to present another one of its fine shows. Betty Jo Bewley, Poly's popular drum majorette will be on hand to show some more of her talent at twirling batons.

The game will start at 8 p.m. in Sentinel Field at Inglewood. Gil Brown went down over the weekend to arrange for the seating of the large contingent of rooters that Poly will bring. He stated that the arrangements for our cheering section are most satisfactory. He praised the cooperation of the Pepperdine student officers.

All students who can make the trip are urged to attend. Brown requested that all of the Poly rooters bring the usual, or unusual, noisemakers, and that they all wear the school colors. He asked that the members of the cheering section continue to exhibit the high degree of sportsmanship that they have previously shown at football games.

Crops Men Study Wheat Culture at Carrisa Plains

Twenty-three members of the field crops 101 class, accompanied by Paul E. Dougherty, participated in an all day field trip last Saturday to the San Luis Obispo county wheat belt near Shandon hill country and also on Carrisa plain.

Travelling by college bus the group first visited the Alley Bros. ranch east of Atascadero where Walter and Bob Alley gave impromptu demonstrations and discussions on their experiences at wheat farming on the hilly land. Of considerable interest to the visitors were home inspired improvisations that the Alleys have devised for factory manufactured equipment to meet the demands created by the topography on which they operate. Bob Alley is at the present time studying at the Cal Poly ag school. Following a brief lunch stop the party drove to Carrisa plain and the Beck ranch where fallowing operations and inspection of equipment and storage facilities were made. Kenneth Beck, former Poly student, is engaged in working the Beck ranch along with his father, Nels Beck. Young Beck was on hand to greet and escort the class about the ranch.

Nov. 28th Thanksgiving

THE SPECTRE OF FINAL EXAMINATIONS WILL OVERHANG THE FESTIVITIES OF THANKSGIVING DINNERS FOR CAL POLY STUDENTS. THANKSGIVING VACATION WILL START WITH THE LAST CLASS ON WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27. SCHOOL AND FINALS WILL BEGIN AT 8 A.M. ON DECEMBER 2.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

The library will be closed from 12 m. Saturday, November 9 until 8 a.m., Tuesday, November 12.

Former Dutch Partisan Speaks at Assembly

Miss Henrietta Roosenburg, active during the war in the Dutch underground resistance movement, spoke yesterday at the Poly stadium before an assembly of faculty members and students. Miss Roosenburg, a graduate of the University of Leyden in languages, literature, and history, enlisted in the underground resistance movement early in the occupation of the Netherlands.

Bought by the Gestapo because of her activities in helping the Jews and helping edit an underground paper, she went into hiding for a time. She then became a courier, carrying military and political information into neutral and allied countries.

In March, 1944, she was arrested by the Gestapo in Belgium. After months of interrogation, she was condemned to death for espionage. Her execution was stayed and she was transferred to Germany and confined to various concentration camps until she was liberated in May, 1945.

As a student, Miss Roosenburg was active in several student societies. She is a member of the International Student Service and in student relief in Holland.

Miss Roosenburg, who was introduced by Dick Lavery, vice-president, associated students, is at present employed as a secretary in the Ministry of Education, Arts, and Sciences of the Netherlands' Government.

During the past summer, Miss Roosenburg attended the World Conference of International Student Service and of World Student Relief. She is traveling in this country under the World Student Service Fund.

Cy Hovig, associated student treasurer, presented the monthly financial report of the student body.

Music preceding and following the assembly was presented by the 50-piece Poly band.

Coach Mott Starts Intramural Basketball

According to Coach Bob Mott, basketball play will feature the next phase of the intramural sports program. Present plans of the college athletic department call for a league, or leagues, to begin operations just as soon as the various campus clubs and dorms can organize their quintets.

Teams wishing to use the gymnasium for organized practice sessions may contact Coach Mott at the athletic office for specific dates and times.

Poly Phase Club Plans Activities

The Poly Phase club met in its regular business meeting, Thursday, October 30.

A collection was taken by the secretary for the Community Chest drive and turned in to the committee.

It was decided that the Poly Phase club would enter a basketball team in the current intramural tournament.

In the near future the club will have its annual initiation of new members at a picnic. All freshmen electrical engineering students are urged to attend the next meeting, today at 4, to learn the details.

Further plans were made in preparation for the first Poly Phase club dance, which will be held on November 15, at Crandall gym. Door prizes and other feature attractions will highlight the hop.

Year Book Staff Holds Meeting

The nucleus of the 1947 El Rodeo staff was formed on October 22, with thirteen aspirants for the several vacancies on the staff meeting with John Shea, editor. Tentative appointments to the staff were Avon Carlson, assistant editor; Ralph Parker, sports editor; Shirley Jackson, classes; Kent Freeman, graduates; Ed Wallace, faculty; Wes Witten, departments; Alton Salman, advertising; Bob Rowe, art editor; Bernard Epstein, photographer; Bill Oihart, organizations; Harry Endo and H. E. Pembroke, activities.

Chuck Chapman is the photo editor, and Cy Hovig is in charge of all advertising. These two men worked with John Shea on the yearbook during the summer.

Does Poly Want a Funeral?

The traffic situation on the campus is still bad. In spite of numerous warnings many drivers and pedestrians still seem to believe that the roads about the campus are for the exclusive use of the big "I".

We suggest that the Student Court start a system of enforcement as their first activity. The law of averages is going to catch up with someone very quickly if immediate steps aren't taken to insure the following of other laws.

The only group of students that has shown any improvement are those who drive motorcycles. Most of these men have done a good job of obeying traffic regulations and of observing highway courtesy in the last few days. We congratulate them.

It isn't fair to say that the rest of the drivers and pedestrians on the college grounds are not obeying the traffic laws. The fact remains that every violation is emphasized and aggravated by the overcrowding of our roads.

What do the residents of this college need to make them realize the seriousness of the situation? Perhaps a funeral would wake them up.

—J.M.P

Guarantee Free Speech

This editorial is directed to all members of the school who are connected with Poly's pigskin efforts. For the last week we have heard nothing but complaints from these gentlemen. We herewith make our answer.

In nearly every college in the country the Fall term is highlighted by each school's team of football players. Many school papers seem to believe that it is the duty of the paper to print nothing but praise about its team.

We can't quite see it that way. A newspaper should print the facts as it sees them. We have promised to avoid the practice of "bleacher quarterbacking" on the editorial page. We aren't qualified to pick apart the efforts of everyone concerned and draw out learned conclusions.

We do, however have a man on the staff who does have the necessary qualifications to present his views about football, and other sports. That man is entitled to present his views on the sports' page. We do not censor his material, nor do we tell him what to write. We may not agree with everything he writes. He will, never-the-less, continue to print his opinions. This paper will always defend his right to print what he believes to be the story.

Anyone who wishes to take exception to the opinions of our authority is welcome in the Dear John column of this paper.

—J. M. P.

"Aw - - - - what makes you think he'd be a good end?"

The Kick of The Mustang

By Bedrose

So the spirits spilled the type? Sounds as if our august editor is trying to alibi out of the responsibility of last week's paper. Grem-lins? Dear John: If you don't print my column this week, I'll print my own paper. Remember?

I wonder just how many of the 'four sins' the two local alumni affairs committed? The older generation is certainly adept at showing these impressionable freshmen that 'Forever Amber' can be taken in several interesting ways.

The football game with Whittier was a nice occasion. The rooters were to be congratulated on their sportsmanlike attitude. Three down and thirty two to go during the first quarter.

I know why Larry was called away from the game. An excellent reason. But who was the bum who held her coat in the wrong position? That Chief still puzzles me. What was the pitch, Smitty?

Saddest story I have heard all week: Pat is still complaining about the gentlemen who stole his 'milk' last Saturday. 'And they are all, all honorable men...' I think that is the quotation I want.

What is the deal on those red hats? Somebody told me that such a fedora is a 'hunter's style.' What in the world is there to hunt for around SLO?

A certain group of students, past and present, has me wondering just what a B.S. degree stands for. I saw Tom Leonard, '46 and various other members of the SMOE for vice president campaign down at Joe's after the Whittier game. They were well equipped at the time. Imagine my surprise to hear and see the same group of gentlemen patrolling the campus the next day. The equipment was different. And the ratio was two to one. At that, SC has some nice coeds.

I finally do agree with the editorial staff. The big disappointment of this week is not seeing Betty Jo Bewley in action. Davy, if you and Lew don't make sure that she appears at Pepperdine.....

Is Lee bashful? After getting the bow-tie campaign well under way he wears no cravat at all for the last game. By the way, was that really your Mother?—

This business of wearing letter sweaters should be jumped on at once. Remember kids, you are big boys now. High school days are over. You are proud of that letter? Well, Poly is very proud of the letters she awards. When in Rome.....

The 'Hey, Norm' deal is getting monotonous, according to certain sources of information. Likewise: "I don't wanta."

Dear Dauntlessites: Where does the line form on this Norma Jean setup. Or is 'setup' the word I should use?

Just what is Tom Fitzgerald trying to keep quiet?

Dear John...

Dear John:

After the game with Whittier, I believe that there is a matter which should be brought to everyone's attention. This is a matter that I, and a few others on the campus, feel should be remedied forward so that it can be remedied immediately. I repeat, immediately. So lend me your ear, friends, and listen to what I have to say.

Why in heck don't we give the yell leaders a break and be lead instead of leading. After all, fellows and girls, it is a tough job trying to lead a few hundred people in an organized rooting section. Did I say organized? Excuse me, but the Cal Poly rooting section is anything but organized.

So what do you say we all try to follow Gil and Jack? In my estimation they are doing a bang-up job. Let's get behind them 100 percent and do a little organized rooting. I am sure that Gil or Jack will accept any or all suggestions you make. Think it over, but you don't have to sleep on it.

An ardent rooter,
Darrel K. Rumley

Dear John:

From: Office of Chow Hound.
To: Noodle Noggles.
Subject: FOOD

Dear Noodles:

We've been enjoying your food for quite a spell now, and it has been pretty good. But PLEASE, if you can't find anything but candle-wax to fry eggs in, why don't you try boiling them?

ED FLEMING
Chief Chow Hound

DEAR JOHN:

I think my last letter to the editor was misinterpreted. When I referred to the meals they served at breakfast I was pertaining to the way it was cooked not the quality, quantity, or price. As for the lunch and dinner, they couldn't be better, that's why I can't understand the breakfast deal. I'm not saying the eggs are cooked too much but it's the first time I ever cut mine with a knife.

Book Reviews

For interest and important facts to the Ag students Librarian Whitman brings us this review of "Seaman A. Knapp" by Joseph C. Bailey. Whitman will, at times, review books that may appeal to only a few of the students, but books that should be of real value to those few.

Next week Whitman will review a book about engineering.

"This week's review is on a book about one of the world's leading agriculturists, Seaman A. Knapp, the founder of farm demonstration work. Mr. Knapp had great faith in the American farmer as the "backbone" of our democratic system and he realized that if America was to prosper our farms should be owned by those who occupied them.

"He knew that security for the farmer could not be attained until inefficient agricultural practices were no longer in use.

I wonder if the editor eats his breakfast in Hall 2?
Editors Note:

No, the editor eats in the other cafeteria. He does, however, have spiced down at number two. According to reports, the cafeteria serves over 200 students for breakfast. Because of the food shortage, eggs are, and will continue to be, the staple commodity that is served. It is impossible to serve these eggs to everyone's taste. A. R. Naggie has announced that for your special benefit he will have the chef cook eggs to your order, if you care to step out of line and wait for them. Could anything be fairer?

Poly Faces Pepperdine In Toughest Game

With the coming clash against Pepperdine college Waves looming as the toughest contest of the season, Coach Howie O'Daniels' footballers have been bearing down with all stops out this week. The conflict will take place at 8 p.m., this coming Saturday on the Sentinel field turf in Inglewood.

Analysis of results recorded by the two opponents so far this year indicate that the Los Angeles gridders will enter the affair as slight favorites to tide over the Mustangs. Poly followers, much encouraged by the locals' showings in the last two games, however, contend that it will be anybody's ball game and that the spot is tailor made for the green and gold to deliver a second loss to the Angelinos' doorstep.

Both squads are at the present time riding the crests of three game winning streaks. The Waves sole loss was at the hands of Arizona State (Tempe) 18-12 in the second week of the season. Against their one mutual foe each school fared almost equally well, as Poly posted Whittier 18 to 2, and the same Post aggregation bowed to Pepperdine 18-0.

A large turnout of Mustang student rooters is expected to be on hand for the opening kickoff. Since Sentinel field has a seating capacity of only 5000, let it be a word to the wise that everyone be there early. The stadium is located at Inglewood boulevard and Kelso in Inglewood.

Track, Field Tryouts Start Next Week

Initial fall track and field turnouts will begin next Wednesday, according to an announcement made last Tuesday by Dr. Carl D. Voltmer of the athletic department. All those intending to come out for workouts are directed to report to athletic office at 4 p.m., next Tuesday.

Deuel Dorm Cops Intramural Palm

Campus intramural softball activity came to an untimely end last week with the initiation of construction operations on the new Poly ball park. Nevertheless, Deuel dorm came up with rightful claim to the title by virtue of a forfeit victory over Jespersen hall in the final game that could have been played on the old diamond.

Actual resolving of the championship occurred in the second round of competition, two weeks ago, when Deuel bested the crops club entry 7-6 in a hotly contested extra inning battle. Dauntless dorm shoved hapless Jespersen into the cellar with a 9 to 0 drubbing in the same week of play.

Conference Officials To Meet Here

Athletic officials representing College of the Pacific, Fresno State, Santa Barbara State, San Jose State, San Diego State and Cal Poly will meet here Sunday afternoon, November 10, to discuss scheduling and conference problems.

Cal Poly will become a full-fledged participating member of the California Collegiate Athletic Association in December. This year the Mustangs have played two SC&A teams, but neither game was figured in this year's league standings.

Down the Lane

By Ted Laine

Climbing another 40 points over the weekend, P. (Perseverance) V. Grainbrain upped his percentage score healthily over the 700 line for the first time of the rapidly aging gridiron season. The mystic Mustangite has earned the addition to his appellation in rags to riches fashion.

Only one miss cropped up in his last ten game brace. That was the scoreless tie that Stanford and OSC came up with on the latter's home field.

Though well aware that next weekend is clearly the toughest he has yet to face, Persevering Perc bouyantly bounds into still another round in quest of that elusive day of perfect pickings. Featuring the bill in his choice on the mythical national title squabble between Army and Notre Dame.

CP Air and Ground Attack Leaves Sailors at Sea

Cal Poly's Mustangs added another win to their record last Saturday afternoon when they powered through and over the San Diego Naval Training Center eleven 34 to 6 at the southern naval station. Reserves again saw considerable play and turned in performances that will have the first stringers on their toes to retain their starting position status.

It was only in their aerial game that the gobs exhibited any possibility of giving the collegians a semblance of competition. Meanwhile Coach Howie O'Daniels' crew functioned equally well on ground attack and on passing to score five touchdowns and four conversions in the course of the afternoon's romp.

Bud MacDougall and Byron Culver, fullback and halfback, shared scoring laurels as they tallied 18 and 12 points respectively. Halfback Jerry Carter racked up the odd and last touchdown by being on the receiving end of a 20 yard pass from quarterback Vern Bebernes. One of MacDougall's six pointers was also via a 20 yard toss by Bebernes. Ends Bill Hume and Jack Bolton each tallied conversions, snagging pitches from quarterback Lee Ross, while reliable Don Dulits big end, hoofed the pigskin for the final point. The sailors' lone tally came in the second quarter over the aerial lanes.

Statistics bear out the one sidedness of the tilt. Poly led in first downs 13 to 7, in yards rushing 187 to 58, and in passing 200 yards to 120 for the navy. Mustang backs turned in a creditable punting chore as they averaged 45 yards on four boots, one of MacDougall's traveling 58 yards to roll out of bounds on the tars' three yard line. Halftime score stood at 13 - 6.

Students' Wives

On Thursday evening, November 7 at 8 p.m., the Cal Poly Students' Wives club will hold its regular monthly business meeting.

The main issue of the evening will be elect three members to the nominating committee.

On Saturday night, November 9, the Students' Wives club held its monthly husband-wife social affair. It was a dance in the Recreation room of the Hillcrest building.

Mrs. Richard Stratton and her committee decorated the room in the Hallowe'en theme and apple cider and pop-corn were served as refreshments.

The many couples enjoyed dancing to the music of a three piece band. At intermission Mrs. Herbert Winn played the piano while the group joined in a community sing. The door prizes were won by Mrs. Wayne Keast and Ralph Money.

HALLOWE'EN RAIDERS

The cry of 'Trick or Treats' resounded throughout Vets' Village on Hallowe'en. Those who failed to heed the call for tribute found that a good deal of the first had to be devoted to tracking down and replacing essential items of decoration and equipment. The raiders were the children of the village; they ranged from two and one-half to seven years of age.
