Fun Night To Feature Mitt And Matt Bouts

A capacity crowd of fight fans is expected to fill the Poly gym tonight at 8 p.m., when the Block P club presents its first evening Fun Nite smoker of the year. A good card of ten bouts is promised by student Boxing Coach Dave Risling, with at least one wrestling match and novelty bout thrown in for laughs.

Appearing on the fight will be the following men:

RUSH BARR—155 lbs. of Alhambra. Looks very good and will undoubtedly represent 155 lb. class for Poly-boxing team. He boxed for the San Gabriel A. C. before entering the Navy where he boxed several times.

HARRY ENDO—130 lbs. of Long Beach. He looked classy in the first smoker a couple of weeks back. Has a terrific punch and is experienced. He did his leather while in the Army. He is the boy that will box the flash from Santa Barbara State on Jan. 16th.

JIM LEWIS—140 lbs. of Fresno, boxed for Fresno State before entering the Army where he boxed under the Santa Barbara State boxing coach.

WILEY DAY—140 lbs. of Birds Landing (Sacramento Valley) he boxed at Cal Poly before entering the Navy. He was a Lt. (j.g.) in the Navy and did some boxing in the Navy.

JIM KEOM—155 lbs. of Los Angeles, boxed in the Navy where he went to the semi-finals in the Third Fleet tournament.

GENE PIMENTEL—175 lbs. of S.L.O., Poly football backfield man, boxed at Poly before the war and at Redlands University. He is expected to hold down the light heavyweight class.

BOB KRETCHMER—155 lbs. of Hollywood, a smooth boxer with no previous experience before boxing Harry Endo in the Main event of the first smoker. He did such an excellent job in holding Endo to fairly even terms that we're expecting a lot from him.

HOWARD ROSEN—155 lbs. of Cleveland, Ohio, received his boxing experience in the Army. He looked very promising in his first bout here at Poly.

ROY GARCIA—155 lbs. of Atascadero. A terrific puncher who won his weight championship while in the San Diego Training Center.

DON HOVELY—150 lbs. of Simi, Calif., boxed a little at Poly. Shows a lot of promise and is a hard worker.

JIM COLEMAN—130 lbs. of San Francisco, a novice boxer who shows promise of becoming a good boy.

LEE YATES—155 lbs. of Porterville, brother to Jim Yates, a rugged south paw, with no previous experience, but looks to be a good fighter.

DICK FOX—135 lbs. of San Jose, no previous experience prior to the first smoker. Looked very good in his first match against Garcia.

BILL LJUNGGREN—155 lbs. of Porterville, no previous experience. Fought a terrific battle with Lee Yates in the first smoker. A rugged in-fighter.

KEN GLICK—155 lbs. of Los Angeles. Boxed Wiley Day in the first smoker and proved himself to be a rugged boy and contender for the 155 lbs. class.

New Flying Club At Poly Elects Wood as Prexy

Fifty members of the Aero Engineering department met last Tuesday and organized a campus flying club. Heading the new organization is Crispin Wood, president; Alfred Nilson, vice president; Bill Bode, treasurer; and Lawrence Wells, secretary. Directing the club are faculty members M.C. Martinson, Eugene Egan, and A.L. Turner.

Charter membership of this non-profit group totals 50, including students and instructors. Purpose of the group is advance active participation in flying and all phases of aeronautics and to obtain pilots' licenses for the members at the lowest possible cost.

Instruction under the plan will be arranged so each member will be progressively advanced through the stages of ground school correlated with flight training. Safety and regard for property will be stressed, with all flying to be done under qualified supervision. Civil aeronautics regulations, local field rules and club flying rules will be strictly adhered to.

General club policies will be made by the board of directors and officers as will the expediting of Public relations officer is William Public relations officer is William B. Carter, and assisting is Willis E. Leach. Flight operations officer and his assistants have yet to be appointed.

Future expansion of the club will be limited only by the number of Poly members interested. It was disclosed by Wood, Nilson, Bode, Wells and M.C. Martinson who are credited with spark-plugging the new group.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

The Veterans Administration has issued the following statement: It will no longer pay late registration or late filing fees in which the lateness was the fault of the student. If the VA is at fault it will pay.

Leo Philbin in Adm. 18 is designated as the man to see if any student-veteran wants further information.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

The bottom is falling out of things around Poly lately, according to Amelia Gianolini, popular young lady in charge of the general office.

Wednesday the bottom fell out of a gallon bottle of ink in the general office. As the janitor was cleaning up the mess he was heard to mumble under his breath, "the mop is mightier than the sword."

Poly Royal Group Starts Planning for Annual Event

Officers of the 15th annual Poly Royal were elected last evening at a meeting of the Poly Royal Executive Committee. These officers, whose duty will be to direct all activity concerning Poly Royal, are: General Superintendent, Milton Brown, Electronic Major Assistant Superintendent, John Jones; Secretary, John Elder; Treasurer, Cy Hovig; Director of Publicity, Paul Madge.

Postal Clerks Ask Students to Call for Mail

The clerks in the Cal Poly post-office are holding mail for some twenty persons. Many letters are from the Veterans Administration. The Post Office requests that the following people please pick up their mail as soon as possible:

A.P. Babcock, Edw. F. Bettencourt, John Dart, R.T. Daniels, K. Glick, Ray Humphrey, James G. Hanna, Russel L. Haughey, Everts L. Horton, Harry F. Kramp.

Wm. H. Neale, Stuart Porter, Ervin L. Royse, R. Rohrer, L.B. Reinshaw, M. Sinkard, Wm. O. Short, C. Schmidt, Geo. C. Walker, Harold R. Wilson.

Poultry Club Hears Spencer

Lawrence Spencer, president of the board of directors of the Poultrymen's Cooperative Association, spoke recently to poultry students on some of the better poultry practices which he has used with success in the past.

He advised poultry students to specialize in the industry and not have their farms too diversified. Students should have in mind more than two or three acres when thinking of locating a poultry plant, with a view toward possible expansion. He also added that since he has been in business there has not been a year in which he has not realized a good profit.

IT MAY BE SO. BUT I DON'T KNOW

The San Luis Obispo Chamber of Commerce isn't going to like this.

Chicago should lose its title of the "windy city" and L.E. McFarland, maintenance superintendent at Cal Poly, believes San Luis can rightfully claim the honor.

Last Monday McFarland and a crew of four men watched one of our local "zephyrs" toss an upright piano from the bed of a non-moving truck onto the lawn of Heron Hall where the piano was destined to brighten the atmosphere of the lounge.

Today, McFarland alternates in whistling "High on a Windy Hill" with "Yes, We Have No Piano."

POLY MAN WINS CONTEST

Richard Livingston, animal husbandry student, brought national recognition to Cal Poly by winning 12th place in the 1946 Saddle and Sirolo Club medal essay contest writing on the subject of "The Livestock Industry's War Contribution." Winner of the contest was A. Stewart Bledsoe, State College of Washington.

Members of the Poly Royal executive committee are representatives chosen from all departments of the agricultural and industrial divisions of Cal Poly. They have the important job in aiding in the arrangement and presentation of Poly Royal, besides keeping members of their respective departments up to date on all information pertaining to this big event.

The Poly Royal show, which was first held in 1933, is planned as a "county fair on a college campus" and has attracted national attention because of its unique nature.

Organized as a show of, and by, Cal Poly students, Poly Royal is the outstanding event of each school year, and attracts thousands of visitors and alumni annually.

Main features of Poly Royal are the rodeo, the baseball game, and the Coronation Ball, which all makes the colorful two-day event. Exhibits and displays are set up by the various departments of the agricultural and industrial divisions for the purpose of giving the public an insight on the training given at Cal Poly. Judging contests of all classes of livestock are held.

The practice was started in 1941 of having students of other California state colleges select their most beautiful coed, who would assume the role of Queen of Poly Royal. She is provided with a Poly escort and four lovely princesses. To date San Francisco State, Fresno State, San Luis Obispo, J.C., and San Jose State have been represented.

New Mail System Will Start Soon

Latest report from Bill Troutner, student housing authority, mail will soon be delivered to the dormitories. The boxes for the dorms have already been made, but the padlocks are lacking. However, they are on the way.

To avoid any mixup in the new system, students are advised to have their addresses changed before the first of January.

Students holding offices in the student government or students living at the different barns may apply for special permission to keep their boxes.

Mail deliveries for Vet Village and Poly Crest will begin Friday.

POLY HENS PLACE HIGH

Cal Poly's two entries in the seventh California Egg Laying Contest at Modesto placed second and seventh in the ratings for November. There are thirty two entries from seven states in this contest, with seven breeds of poultry represented. Each entry is comprised of 25 pullets.

Poly's first entry laid 508 eggs during November, the first month of the contest. Poly's second entry laid 500 eggs for the same period. The first entry made a profit of $17.70 or 70.8 cents per bird during last month.

Season's Greetings

We wish to take this opportunity to wish all of our readers a very merry Christmas and a happy New Year. We hope that each and every one of you is able to get home for Christmas, and that you are all able to celebrate enough on this occasion to make up for any yuletide festivities that you may have missed during the war. The next issue of El Mustang will appear on January ninth. Until then we hope that nothing but the best will be your lot.

A Christmas Message

This is our Christmas issue. Christmas is more than a welcome holiday to break the monotony of scholastic routine. Throughout the world the twenty-fifth day of December is remembered as the birthdate of a great man. Christ is remembered by every people and every faith as the first democrat. To those of us who claim the Christian faith, Christ is more than a man; he is the Son of God. But Christ is acclaimed by those of other faiths. Some hold him to be a prophet, others say he was an oracle. No matter what your faith may be, you will celebrate his birth because of his great principle, the golden rule.

That guiding idea is the foundation of democracy. The entire earth is emerging from a titanic struggle to prove that Christ's fundamental law is true and accurate. We may pray that the war is finished, but actually we know that only a phase of the war is completed. The struggle to have every man, woman and child free of any despotic reign over conscience, faith, expression and nourishment is only started. No matter what your position if you do not always protect the rights of all men then you are not helping the forces of democracy; in fact you are doing a part in the return of earth to the darkness of tyrannical despotism.

You do not have to be a great teacher or statesman to have a part in the "fight for freedom" This country and this world is composed of individual men. It is these individual men, as a mass, who shall decide whether we as individuals may enjoy certain rights.

This is a good time to stop and consider the immortal truth of Christ's words - - - to live these words, and to fight that others may live by them:

Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

MacDougall, Samuels Honored

Gridmen Elect Captain, Most Valuable Man

Presentation of the "most valuable player", Clarence Brown Jeweler wrist watch award, was made last night between halves of the Poly-Chapman basketball game to big Marshall Samuels, tackle of the 1946 Mustang eleven.

Selection of Samuels for the award was made by balloting on the part of grid squad members. At the same balloting smiling Bud MacDougall was elected honorary captain for the past turf season. MacDougall was Poly's 200 pound bone-crushing fullback who stood out in all departments of play. He hails from Seattle, Wash., where he prepped at Ballard High School for three years and was named to the All-City football team in 1940.

Samuels is a product of San Antonio, Texas, public schools where he was an outstanding prep football player, and captained his high school team during his senior year. Marshall stands 6'2" and packs 230 pounds of dynamite.

Unlike MacDougall, who graduates next June, Samuels is just starting his football career here at Poly and is one of Coach Howie O'Daniels' big guns for next year's entrance into 2C2A football competition.

This award by Clarence Brown Jewelers is a new award initiated this year by the local concern to foster the high ideals of sportsmanship. The award is not intended necessarily for the outstanding player of the squad as far as public opinion is concerned, but for that player who is annually deemed by his team mates as having been the most valuable to the team throughout the season.

Football Players Enjoy Barbecue

Last Sunday afternoon an air of festivity surrounded Estrada Garden, on 101 highway just north of town, as Cal Poly's athletic department honored the college football squad with a steak barbecue. Dr. Carl Voltmer, Leo Rogers, student athletic manager, Vern Meacham and Coaches Howie O'Daniels, Chuck Pavelko and Bob Mott all pitched in not only as sponsors but doubled as cooks and bottle washers.

Meacham and O'Daniels spent a good deal of their time working over the barbecue pits, preparing the steaks, which were delicious, and for which they were commended by all on their super preparation technique. The meal was rounded out by coffee, cokes, baked beans, lettuce salad, and apple pie.

Attending as guests of the athletic department were President and Mrs. Julian McPhoe, Mr. and Mrs. C.O. McCorkle, George Baker, Sports Editor Telegram-Tribune, and Robert E. Kennedy. The majority of the ball players brought either their wives or their girl friends.

The Kick of the Mustang
El Mustang staff had a reorganization meeting the other day. I heard, indirectly, that my efforts to bring the news to the public had not been the success which you thought it was. Or did you? Or am I mixed up?

Poly Athletic Board Names 1946 Grid Award Winners

By Joe Griffin

Cal Poly's athletic board announced Monday morning the award of the Block "P" to 22 members of the 1946 gridiron team.

Listed by positions and according to relative time played, the following men were among those honored. Ends: Jack Bolton, Harold Winslow, Don Dulitz, Bill Bronson, and Bill Hume; tackles: Marshall Samuels, Cy Hovig, David Cool, and George Bonito; guards: Bob Bennett, Joe Griffin, Al Weimers, and Ossie Dusina; center: John Fitzgerald; quarterbacks: Lee Rosa and Pinky Bebernes; halfbacks: Jim Yates, Ray Fowler, Gene Pimentel and Byron Culver; fullbacks: Bud MacDougall and Charlie Hoffman.

Three men stood out in the total time played department. They were Jim Yates, John Fitzgerald and Bud MacDougall, all of whom played over 300 minutes, and considering the caliber of material Coach Howie O'Daniels had available, this is exceptional. Of these three "iron" men the only one that will be lost to Poly via graduation will be MacDougall, who finishes his studies in June.

Practically all of the squad, according to Coach O'Daniels, will return next year.

New Policy for Letterman Awards

Dr. Carl Voltmer, head of the college athletic department, has announced a new policy concerning awards earned in the field of athletics at Poly. In the future all men meeting requirements for their first varsity letter will receive without cost one school sweater.

This policy will be effective for all major letter awards, but will apply only for the first award attained by an individual in any major activity. A man winning letters in more than one sport, or more than one letter in any one sport, will receive only one sweater award.

Poly Underdog To Chapman 5

As this goes to press the Mustang quintet is definitely the underdog for Wednesday night's encounter with Chapman college cagers from Los Angeles. In five starts this season the Chapmanites have won three tilts, losing only to Pepperdine and Redlands.

Coaching his first year of collegiate basketball, Coach Mott has only two men who have played varsity basketball for Poly, and only one of these, Floyd Lieser, 6'1" forward from Santa Barbara, is a letterman. The other, Willard Moore, 6'2" Negro from Kansas City, Mo., is the most promising center on the squad.

In the first game of the season played last Friday night, the varsity topped the best cage squad the alumni could floor by a score of 66 to 34. Lee Rosa, 5'9" forward who won the "All-Conference award playing for San Luis Obispo High last year, shared high point honors with Rolland Tilstra, 5'10" forward from Champaign, Illinois, who had naval air station cage experience in addition to high school experience. Both scored 12 points.

Moore was third in scoring with 10 points and was followed by another newcomer, Hank Moroski, 5'11" guard, who played high school ball in Brooklyn, N.Y. Ray Ball, letterman from San Luis Obispo High School and Junior College, entered school for the winter quarter starting last week, but already has made the starting lineup, playing center and forward. He made letters in both basketball and baseball playing for St. Mary's preflight last year.

POLY GOES TO CLINIC

Ten varsity basketball players have been selected by Coach Bob Mott to participate in the annual San Jose State College basketball clinic to be held there Jan. 2, 3, 4. Making the trip will be Lee Rosa, Rolland Tilstra, Hank Moroski, Ken Andrus, Will Moore, John Wright, Floyd Lieser, Bill Hume, Ray Ball, John McManus and Manager Valdez Bates. Rosa, Tilstra and Moore will compete in the free throw contest.

Camp Cagers Off To Big Start In Intramural Play

Camp SLO jumped into a commanding lead in the intramural basketball dormitory league last Monday night when they eked by Dauntless dorm in a nip and tuck 27 to 26 court scuffle. Baxter paced the winners with ten tallies through the hoop.

The win was the third league victory for the camp men, having tipped Hillcrest and Seagull dorms previously by 39-37 and 28-26 counts. In a three way tie for second place in the same league are Buffalo, Deuel and Hillcrest dorms all of which have managed an even split in their two games apiece.

Club-league intramural activity has to date seen four contests run off on the Crandall gym floor. Score of the Crops club-Block "P" game, having been played last night as a preliminary to the Poly-Chapman scrap, couldn't make press time for this edition. However, in the remaining three games the agriculture department entries had it all over those from the industrial side of the college. Dairy club walloped the A.C. club 45-21; Poultry club measured Poly Engineering 24-18; and Young Farmers trimmed Aero club 27 to 10. Connelly of Dairy club stood out in pouring 15 points through the hoop against the Air Conditioning team.

Students' Wives

The regular meeting of the Student Wives Club was held Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. President Jo Roney conducted the meeting during which an amendment to the constitution was voted upon by the membership. According to this amendment a social program for each year will be set up in advance with the approval of the membership. Vice-President Irene Rogers announced that she and Glenna McCarty will serve as co-chairmen for the Campus Kiddie Christmas party.

Following the business meeting husbands of the members joined the audience and were entertained by a quartet from the Cal Poly Glee club. The Morro Bay Elementary school demonstration group presented a series of folk and square dances.

Drama

Ruth Anderson has accepted the directorship of the club drama group. A new play has been selected and parts will be assigned. All interested members are eligible to try out.

Music

Regular practice sessions of the Symphonettes are held on Monday at 7:30. Several Christmas concerts are planned by this group.

The Symphonettes gave two performances last week, for the Masons and the University Women's Club. Three selections were rendered and received with enthusiasm. The girls will sing at the regular meeting tonight and following that will be a book review, and then refreshments will be served.

IT'S A GIRL

Last Friday the 13th was a lucky day for Mr. and Mrs. James E. Jessup. They were greeted with an 8 pound 7 ounce baby girl at the San Luis General Hospital.

The Jessups reside at the Cal Poly Housing project, Poly Crest, located on the campus.

Jim is a former Whittier High student and now enrolled at Cal Poly as a Meat Animal major. He is the secretary for the Young Farmers Association and is on the executive council of the Poly Royal committee.

Ski Club Will Meet After Xmas Vacation

Students who are interested in joining the reactivated Poly Ski Club are urged to attend the meeting scheduled for Tuesday, January 7. Many students have expressed interest in reactivating the Ski Club, which was discontinued during the war. According to Al Auf der Heide who was active in the Ski Club in 1939 and '40; "The apparent interest in skiing should warrant early action in reviving the club and its activities."

Pre-war activities included week end trips to the various ski centers of the state extending from Los Angeles, Yosemite, and Sequoia areas, east to Reno, Nevada. A four man team represented the club in non-conference collegiate competition with teams from various western colleges. The team participated in such events as slalom and downhill racing, while others of the club devoted themselves to the improvement of their skiing technique and form.

The meeting will be held at 7:00 P.M. in Adm. 23.

Student body cards for men who enrolled this quarter will be available immediately after Christmas vacation according to John E. Jones, student body manager.

Boots and Spurs Club Holds Special Meeting

The Boots and Spurs club held a special meeting last Thursday evening. A complete list of Cal Poly winners in the fat stock classes at both the Grand National and the Great Western was announced. Reports from several committees and SAC representative Bob Meyer were given. A movie on cooperative marketing of livestock was shown. It was announced that the next regular meeting of the club would be held on January 12.

SPECIAL RATE TO ROA

All members of the Officers Reserve Corps who are attending college may now join the Reserve Officers Association at a special rate of $1.50. This includes a year's subscription to "The Reserve Officer" which is the official ROA magazine as well as receiving all other rights and privileges of membership. The membership fee for non-student veterans is still $5.00.

Straw berets are now worn in Paris. Everywhere else they are eaten with cream.
