Governor Requests Money For Cal Poly Improvement

Governor Earl Warren has requested the state legislature to include a total of $146,860 in the 1947-48 fiscal budget for construction and improvements at Cal Poly, it was learned here today. Included in the request are items for the Voorhis unit located near San Dimas, Los Angeles county.

If the legislature approves the budget, money for the work will be available after July 1st.

Largest expenditure proposed is the $29,985 for modernizing and equipping the engineering shops for which $168,111 has already been authorized by the legislature.

Other projects listed are: $6850 for miscellaneous farm improvements; $8750 to replace and extend fences at the farm unit; $5000 for prefabricated classroom buildings; $6100 for alterations and equipment at the quantitative analysis and light laboratory; $1000 for concrete floor in welding shop; $1000 for construction of brooder houses; $1500 to replace milk house cooling equipment; $8000 for additional equipment for new farm shop; $1500 to move and repair farm sheds; $4000 to construct greenhouse for tropical plants; $3000 to construct three manure pits; $2000 to reconstruct grove at athletic field; $3000 to install sprinkling equipment along college avenue; $3000 to resurface tennis courts; $1000 for study of development of irrigation by present damsite; $15,975 equipment for new maintenance engineering department; and $8250 for print shop equipment.

Proposed expenditures at Voorhis are: $2500 for miscellaneous repairs; $10,000 for repairs to swimming and irrigation pool; $5000 to construct green house for tall shrubs; $10,000 to construct lath house with store front; $9000 to replace citrus orchard irrigation system.

Young Farmer Barn Dance Friday Night

By Chuck Hitchcock

The Young Farmers are sponsoring a barn dance tomorrow evening at the Hillcrest recreation hall. The dance will start at 9 p. m. right after the basketball game and will last until 1 a. m. Stags and couples will be admitted for 50 cents. A door prize will be given.

Portrait Proofs Available Friday

All students and faculty members who have had portraits taken by Emmett McLain, the commercial photographer, are advised that proofs of their pictures will be available in Room 16, basement Administration building, Friday, Feb. 28.

To facilitate selection of the best proof, and to accept reprint orders from those who wish to order, McLain will have a receptionist in Room 16 from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and from 2 to 6 p. m. Friday. Those unable to get their proofs at that time are advised to drop in at the McLain studio, 1013 Chorro street, on Saturday.

Because of the necessity of meeting engraving deadlines for the yearbook, it will be necessary that all proofs are returned not later than Monday, March 2. Any proofs not selected by customers by that date will be selected by the yearbook staff for inclusion in El Rodeo.

ASK LEGISLATURE FOR 64 MORE POLY EMPLOYEES

If the legislature approves Governor Earl Warren's request for an additional 64 employees for Cal Poly, the college will have a total of 232 full time employees and 11 part time persons sometime after the bill becomes effective July 1, it was disclosed here today.

If the lawmakers approve, the new positions will be open after July 1. Highest salary proposed is the $5480 annual pay for an assistant dean in charge of agriculture.

Other jobs proposed are: Assistant dean in charge of industrial subjects, $5220; assistant dean in charge of related subjects, $5100; 32 instructors for agriculture, industrial education and related subjects at salaries to be determined later; 2 junior librarians at $200 per month each; junior typist, $140 per month; graduate nurse, $190; registrar and recorder, $325; placement secretary, $250; director of guidance, $400; 7 clerks at salaries ranging from $140 to $190; janitor, $150; groundsman and gardener at $160 each; painter, $230; and one head farmer at $240. Present employees number 168 full time and 11 part time persons.

POLY'S CANDIDATE FOR CONFERENCE HONORS... Hank Morooski, right, has already been selected by the San Diego Union-Tribune for "all-conference" guard, and he undoubtedly will be selected by sports writers in other conference cities where he has sparked the hopes of the Mustang cage squad. Seen with him here is Coach Bob Mott inspecting the trophy which Hank won as the "best sportsman" at the San Jose State cage clinic. If Hank can score ten points in Friday and Saturday nights' games he will have set a new Cal Poly individual scoring record, breaking Bernard Goodbody's present record of 244 points.

Fashion Show Brings Plaudits To Wives' Club

Thirteen Cal Poly students found the number 18 wasn't unlucky last Friday night when they had the pleasure of escorting a bevy of the most beautiful and most fashionably dressed members of the Student Wives club at the unique fashion show presented to the public at the city recreation building.

Narrator for the unusual fashion show was Lynn Medbury, editor of Milady of California magazine, who was highly complimentary of the way in which the Student Wives, under general direction of Mrs. Olive McElvain, presented the show.

Theme of the show, which played before a capacity audience, was the dream of "Mrs. Collegienne" of the latest fashions parading before her Cal Poly trailer unit. Her dream began immediately after her husband left for classes. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stratton played the part of the married couple and went into an unrehearsed "clinch" at the finale.

The stage set was designed by Mrs. Ruth Melly and Mrs. June Glenn. Myron Glenn had charge of lighting. Mrs. Kay Ackerman, former professional model from New York, directed the modeling. Mrs. Irene Rogers was general arrangements chairman and publicity was handled by Mrs. Marjorie Grotzke.

Models were: Virginia Aldrich, Pat Kurtz, June Glenn, Arlene Tallman, Eva Mooneyham, Ruth Johnstone, Betty Weller, Betty Moeller, Dagmar Trubenbeck, Sue Drake, Eleanor Donin, Barbara Carter, Martha Jones, Sadie Parker, Dorothy Mock, Norma Thomas, Betty McLaughlin, Barbara Kimball, Rita Griffith, Pat Grube and Ada Lonborg.

Male escorts were: Ted Weber, Bob Trubenbeck, Dave Huntley, Bill Chabot, Neil McCarty, Merrill Edward, Ed Durbin, Ralph Parker, Glenn Arthur, Don Rogers, Albert Auf der Heide, George Tallman and Paul Watson.

Split Assembly Set for Tomorrow

Dick Lavery, student body vice-president, announced today that a split assembly will be held tomorrow in the Engineering Auditorium. The agricultural group will meet at 10 a.m. and the industrial students will hold their session at 11.

All students are urged to attend. If sufficient numbers do not turn out, Lavery stated that assemblies in the future would be jeopardized.

A complete program for both sessions has been arranged. Feature attraction will be musical selections by Archie Stinson and Mrs. Stinson. Archie is a Poly student who has gained quite a reputation in San Luis Obispo and environs for the music he and his wife produce.

Yearbook Group Pictures To Be Taken March 4 and 5

"Group picture day for the 1947 El Rodeo officially starts Tuesday, March 4, and will continue for two days, ending on Wednesday, March 5," stated John Shea, El Rodeo editor. Starting at 8 a.m. on Tuesday morning, the Freshman Class will report to the rear entrance of the administration building to have their group pictures taken. Due to the great number of men in the Freshman class, four different pictures will be made.

"Pictures will be taken approximately five minutes after the appointed hour and late-comers are out of luck. There will be no retakes and if you want to appear in El Rodeo, you should be on time for your particular group picture."

Because of the tight schedule, it will be absolutely essential that every student who belongs to one of the organizations or groups listed in the schedule on page 3, be at the appointed place at the exact time. Five minutes will be taken to arrange the group, five minutes to take the picture, and five minutes allowed for the photo crew and members of groups to get from one scheduled place to another.

The administration has authorized (Continued on page six)

Last Chance! Get Yearbook Pics Tonight

Tonight is the last night that Emmet McLain will take portraits for El Rodeo. He will be in room 16, basement of the administration building, between the hours of 5:30 and 8:00 p.m.

Those seniors (degree, technical, or vocational) who will graduate in June, and those who will complete their work at the end of the summer or fall quarter, should have their portraits taken. Others who need to have portraits taken for El Rodeo are officers of all classes, musical organizations, fraternities and clubs. Football lettermen, basketball players, faculty members, and Poly Royal officers, are also required to have portraits taken for the yearbook.

Speaker Program Adopted by Poly Campus Y Group

By Gordon Landry

George Miller, district YMCA secretary, was guest speaker at the College YMCA Steering Committee meeting held February nineteenth. In his talk, Miller elaborated on the duties of Student Y Councils and outlined the possibilities of social events in cooperation with the local Junior College YMCA group.

Pierre Anderson, vice-president, discussed the general program of the College Y group here, and it was generally agreed that the organization at present should center around a speaker program. Tentative plans were drawn up to secure speakers for talks on Atomic Weapons and on Union-Capital relations, with emphasis to be placed on the future business prospects of students.

Avon Carlson, president, made the following chairmanship appointments: Keith Sanford as national representative, Edwin Rose and Jame Jessup as membership, Gordon Landry as publicity, and Clifford Bonner as social chairman.

CAMPUS CRASH INJURES TWO POLY STUDENTS

One student was seriously injured and another received minor injuries Wednesday afternoon when the motorcycle on which they were riding collided with a car driven by Bill Gibfort at the intersection of Canyon Road and Santa Lucia Road on the campus.

Lloyd F. Fleisch, son of Mr. Lloyd Fleisch, Montague, Calif., driver of the motorcycle, was reported in a critical condition at the French hospital. His passenger, Lowell Fields, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fields, San Jose, was treated at the college infirmary for cuts and bruises. Gibfort was not injured in the crash, although his car was extensively damaged.

The motorcycle going east on Santa Lucia, above the Poultry unit, collided with the car which was going south on Canyon Road.

Comes the Revolution?

This editor has heard several comments about his promised editorial on the organization known as the American Youth for Democracy. Some of these comments run along the general line of "Why worry about it, it doesn't concern this campus." That may be so, at present. Nevertheless the AYD is an outfit that concerns itself with establishing chapters on various campuses. They want one here.

The American Youth for Democracy established the "Thomas Paine" chapter on the Boulder campus last fall. Ever since that time, if we can judge by the amount of space devoted to the chapter in Silver and Gold, it has created a storm center of controversy.

Those who would abolish the AYD have stuck mostly to the charge that the organization is a communistic outfit, and that the AYD follows the "party line" implicitly in all matters.

And those who are in favor of the AYD maintain that the organization is not communistic in any sense. In fact, at the dread word of "communism" these people break out into a rash, stoutly cry that they are untainted, and finish their rebuttal with charges of "fascism" for the detractors of the AYD.

What this editor has never been able to see is this: What is wrong with having an organization of believers in communism on a college campus? Don't misunderstand us; personally, we do not believe in communism, most particularly in the perverted brand of communism pursued by the Russian government. (If we may be allowed to digress a moment, let us say that our dictionary does not define communism in a way that is applicable to the set up as we understand it in the U.S.S.R.) To go further, what is wrong with having an organization on a campus that advocates the type of government now in power in the U.S.S.R.? We are concerned with colleges; a college is the place to acquire information. Information on Russia and Russian government should be valuable, therefore, why not have such an organization on various campuses?

The Bill of Rights guaranteed freedom of speech. Freedom of speech concerning political philosophies is included.

The AYD has, in a manner similar to the journalistic style of Hearst, or the olden days of the Denver Post decried certain conditions that exist on the college campuses of America. As was previously mentioned, we only have a small bit of their propaganda to use in our study. We have not the space to quote their arguments, unfortunately, but their philosophy lies somewhere to the "left of center." Henry Wallace is one of the authors they quote. The National Citizens PAC is claimed as the friend of the AYD. They advocate the use of aroused public feeling in forcing those (whom they say are to blame) to alleviate housing shortages; to eliminate discrimination because of financial, racial, educational, and philosophical reasons. They are avowedly opposed to a military security program, are bitterly opposed to Spain's government, and they decried the presence of our troops in China.

We feel that this organization should be allowed freedom of speech and freedom of organization.

We do not agree with a few of their stated aims. (We don't seem to agree with some of the aims of any major political group.) What we dislike most about American Youth for Democracy is their methods of promoting their ideas. Frankly, they seem to follow the "mob violence" system. They use the tactics that are familiar in left wing labor circles, in left wing guard squads and European organizations. This editor is supposedly learning something about publicity methods. This editor prefers to hear or read the platforms of a political group, to study the planks, and then to use methods of enlightenment, rather than methods of hysteria, to convince others of the values of the selected program, planks and platform.

DOWN THE MIDDLE

with YOUR PREXY

At the first writing of this column, I began by telling of the assembly. However, after being in assembly, however, after being informed that the program has been changed, I presume my story also has to be changed.

Friday's program will include several vocal selections by Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stinson, distinguished vocalists. Having heard them sing before the Rotary club, I know they will put on a professional performance.

Dick Lavery has had signs up all week advertising the assembly. The faculty have received notices of the assembly which they were requested to announce to their classes. And, of course, El Mustang covered the story. Perhaps this time we can have a crowd in the aud and probably if we do not, tomorrow's assembly may be the last one for a long time.

At the last SAC meeting, the group voted to furnish $100 to the Poly rodeo team to represent the college at the intercollegiate rodeo in Tucson. This money will cover entrance fees for the four man team and probably furnish them with money enough to take them to Barstow. From there on they'll hitch the horses to the cars and pull them over the hills.

Also discussed and approved at the last SAC meeting was the recommendation that the college sponsor an open house for the S. L. O. service clubs, such as the Rotary, Kiwanis, etc. The open house may be in the form of a dance, exclusively for the clubs, or some other entertainment the various departments may suggest. SAC representatives were instructed to bring the matter up with their groups and bring back concrete suggestions at the next meeting.

This will be an excellent opportunity for Cal Poly to furnish some free entertainment to the professional and business men of the community, and display our wares. Everything else we have here open to the public has a price tag attached. To better our relations and have the leaders of S. L. O. conscious of the fact that a college does exist here will be the function of the open house.

Dear John...

The "Dear John" column is open to the letters from any one connected with the school. Letters should not exceed 200 words. All letters must be signed by the contributor's correct name. Names will be withheld upon request.

Dear John:

Eddie Cantor pleads for the return of his Pabst Blue Ribbon bottles—the Coca-Cola company pleads for the return of empty "coca" bottles—now it's our turn to plead for the return of milk bottles. The Cal Poly Dairy Department wants all their empty milk bottles returned soon or else there won't be any more milk available to the counter-trade. The five cent deposit that covers all bottles would buy enough new bottles to take care of the shortage, but new bottles are not to be found. So let's lend a hand, milk drinkers, and return those bottles.

Thanks,
Cal Poly Dairy Department

OFFICIAL NOTICE

A state U. S. History and government examination will be held Thursday, March 20, 7-9 p. m. in the Engineering Auditorium. This exam is only for those students who have completed the U. S. History and American Government courses.

M. E. Smith, of Pol. Sci. department, will give a series of four lectures for students wishing a general review on U. S. Government. These lectures will be scheduled Monday through Thursday (March 2-6) from 6:30 to 7:30, in Adm. 214.

LOOKIN' ON...

with GLENN ARTHUR

Last week one of the boys met me coming out of the El Corral and steered me around to look at the flags in front of the Ad building. He said he was tired of looking at the tattered State flag every morning from his classroom window. The State flag isn't too unsightly now, but in a short time it will be in need of a replacement.

I see that a San Diego paper has picked Hank Moroski as all-league guard. Unless I miss my guess, Hank will be a unanimous choice in every league city for a guard spot on the all-conference team. I have seen all of the home games and Hank could have played on any of the opposing quintets. My hat's off to you, Hank, as the best basketball player to ever don the Cal Poly green and gold, and I've seen a lot of them come and go in my stay here at Poly.

LOOKIN' ON: Can you tell me what is wrong with the Junior class? They have not had one meeting this year, not even one to choose their officers. Who is supposed to get things started? I do not have the time to go farther into this subject, otherwise I would. Anyhow, you can do it better than I can.

(Signed): Jim Coleman

Well, Jim, since I received your letter, I understand that the Juniors have called a meeting. It took your letter to wake them up so I thought if it were published it would keep them awake.

El Rodeo is really going to be tops from the glimpses I have seen of it. Any of you men that don't have one coming should get on the ball and get one right away. All the men with student body cards starting in the fall quarter have one coming on the house but the rest have to shell out for one. It will be worth the money. I want to wish all the staff of the book a lot of luck because I know what they have to go through to get the darn thing out.

This Week's Kettle of Fish goes to Al Wiemers. Why weren't you with the wrestling team? Thought you had to study but from what I've seen you surely haven't been hitting the books.

Poly Personalities

Manuel Sallegue

Manuel Sallegue, Animal Husbandry major, is virtually a man without a country. According to a Philippine Government ruling, because he served in an American Unit, the 2nd Philippine Regiment, Sallegue relinquished all rights as a Filipino citizen. He has not applied for American citizenship papers because he hopes to return to the Islands after completing his course of study here. Fortunately he is entitled to educational benefits under the G.I. Bill.

Leo Philbin, veteran's counsel, gained little satisfaction from the Immigration Authority in attempting to clarify Manuel's predicament. Their only advice was to write directly to Washington.

So concludes the short, short story of Manuel Sallegue, a guy who, as a Filipino citizen, was drafted into the U. S. Army, and in the process lost the one thing all of us take for granted; his citizenship.

Poly Phase Holds Meeting Today

By Ed Durbin

Refreshments and movies are scheduled today at the Poly Phase Club meeting which is being held in the Ag. Ed. building, room A, at 4 p. m.

The SAC has asked the clubs whether or not they will support a graduate manager and if so, how the student body can raise the money to pay him. Most of the club members wanted to know more about the duties of the graduate manager and how much the student body would have to pay for his services.

John Seaton, president, asked the members if they would like to have a dinner dance at the Monday Club sometime in the near future.

Book Reviews

This week a friend loaned me a delightfully humorous little book by H. L. Mencken, called "The Christmas Story."

In it he describes the efforts of two "free thinkers", a police lieutenant and his buddy, to give the bums of Baltimore a real Christmas party, devoid of any speeches on religion or prohibition—this was in the early 1900's. There was to be no hymn singing or confessions. In fact it was to be quite a party. Everyone was to have all he could eat, all the beer he could consume, along with plenty of cigars to smoke. Entertainment was to be furnished by a group of troupers from a burlesque show. Various firms of Baltimore donated turkeys, chicken, sauerkraut, etc.

It turned out to be a marvelous party but in the late evening the entertainers were fatigued and it was decided that a quartet would take over. The volunteer four began with such numbers as "Sweet Adeline", "Don't You Hear Dem Bells?", etc. It was not long before a conference was held with the musicians and the quartet began with "Are You Ready For The Judgment Day?" Immediately the audience joined in and an old-fashioned hymn session was in process. During a brief intermission one of the bums arose to his feet and began in a quavering boozy voice to confess his sins. It was too much for the sponsors of the party; they could stand no more.

This story well illustrates that we are creatures of habit, or as Mencken puts it, "whenever the bums smell coffee, they begin to confess." One cannot read Mencken without adding to one's vocabulary. The author has a style of writing that makes the simplest story a thing of beauty; his mastery of words is complete.

Poultry Plant Outlines Years' Replacement Plan

By Herb Bundensen

The replacement program at the Poly Poultry plant is now in full operation. Besides replacing birds lost last year due to culling and death, and replacing old hens, the plant intends to expand some 500 birds. Leghorns now being raised are from Poly's own pedigree flocks, and each bird is carefully wing-banded as it is taken from the incubator.

Records are kept of the bird's dam and sire, and of its entire life. The plant has recently received eggs purchased from Park's Breeding Farm, in Pennsylvania, which will be incubated here. New Hampshire eggs will also be purchased from Art Howard, prominent California breeder of New Hampshire Reds. Cornish males are being raised and will be crossed later with New Hampshire hens to produce an excellent bird for the meat projects.

New this year will be a flock of Barred Rocks, to be raised mainly for student study and for records to be compared with other popular breeds. Approximately 100 Broad Breasted Bronze turkeys will be raised to whet Thanksgiving appetites.

One hundred and fifty Beltsville White turkeys will also be raised. This is a smaller breed of turkey recently developed at the Beltsville Agricultural Experiment Station in Maryland. These turkeys have been developed to meet the average consumers pocket book, and also to relieve him from eating turkey two weeks after Thanksgiving. Beltsville White toms average 15 pounds, in comparison to the popular Broad Breasted Bronze toms, which average 25 lbs.

Guest Speaker at Y. F. Meeting

The Young Farmers will meet this evening at 6:30, in room 214, adm. building. Along with their regular business, a speaker, Mrs. Cook, will be present at the meeting. Mrs. Cook was formerly an English W.A.A.F. and will relate at the meeting some of her experiences while in the service.

President Othart states that all students interested, whether Young Farmers or not, are invited to attend the meeting.

New Architectural Club Formed at Poly

The Architectural Club was established February 18th with John Crowson as president, Dick Banta as vice president, and Dick Pool as secretary-treasurer. The organization adopted a constitution, and selected Gerald Ellis, architectural instructor, as adviser. Membership will be limited to students taking architecture on the campus.

D. A. V. MEETS IN S. L. O.

Members of the D. A. V. and veterans eligible to become members are urged to attend the meetings. Meetings are held the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month in the Veterans Hall at the county courthouse. Please bring your wife, sister, or mother; they are also welcome.

'Davie' Explains Glee Club Tour

By Otho Budd

Limelight of the Poly music department is now centered on the music tour coming up in April, according to H. Davidson, music department head. As some students are doubtful of the purpose of this tour, "Davie" has furnished the following information:

"The glee club tour is arranged to make the name of Cal Poly better known throughout the state. It is the glee club tour because the main emphasis is on the glee club. This group works throughout the year, learning and perfecting songs for the tour. However, other engagements are fulfilled around San Luis and vicinity.

"The Collegians will also go on tour. They play on the programs with the glee club and also for noon and evening dances. In this manner some of the expenses of the tour are defrayed. The members of the club and orchestra have to pay their own way during the whole tour. They foot their own food and hotel bills. The student body furnishes transportation in the form of a bus, and gas for private cars which must be taken to accommodate all the members.

"The small cash donations and the returns of the dances help some in keeping down expenses. However, the home concert must supply the greatest return. The success of the home concert determines how much each member of the glee club and the Collegians will get back on the expense account of the tour.

Seniors Plan Program For Commencement

President Julian A. McPhee has been requested by the Senior class to invite Governor Earl Warren to be commencement speaker at graduation exercises to be held here June 4, it was announced today by Avon Carlson, senior class president.

The request to President McPhee was in the form of a resolution passed at the February 20th meeting of the class. In case that Governor Warren cannot attend, the class requested that an attempt be made to get either Roy Simpson, superintendent of public instruction or Jerry Voorhis, former Congressman and donor with his father of the Voorhis unit at San Dimas.

The senior class hopes to hold out-of-door exercise on the athletic field, weather permitting, or in case of inclement weather, at the auditorium of the San Luis Obispo high school.

PURPLE HEART MEETINGS

Veterans eligible to wear the Purple Heart are invited to attend meetings of the Military Order of the Purple Heart. Meetings are held the first Thursday of every month in the "Veterans Hall," in the basement of the county courthouse. The next meeting will be held March 6.

"All in all, the tours are a great deal of fun for those participating, a good experience, and a builder for Poly's name. I hope this explanation will help to clear up some of the students' questions."

Horticulture Club Holds Barbecue

By Paul Tritenbach

The Horticulture club held its winter barbecue last Sunday afternoon at the Agroyo Grande county park. Dick Stratton, Jim Dixon, Chuck Burroughs and Bill Smith handled the arrangements for the meal. Guests of the Hort club were C. O. McCorkle, Wilbur Howes, their families, and the wives and friends of the members.

The Horticulture club held its weekly meeting last Thursday morning. Authorization for two pages in the annual was given. Howard Brown, Ornamental Horticulture instructor, mentioned the serious flat shortage in the department. He pointed out that the shortage would be greatly alleviated by the return of all flats now in the possession of on-campus families.

Student speaker at the meeting was Harry Endo. He discussed the problems of a veteran planning to enter the nursery business, and covered many of the reasons why such ventures fail. Bob Ferguson "defaulted" on his talk, but he will speak at the meeting this week.

The landscape unit has been humming with more than usual activity this week. A concrete curb has been installed by the Ag. Mechanics class, and the sales house is nearly completed. Work has been started on the landscaping of the two "tin shacks" behind the nursery.

Poly Boxers Meet Gauchos Tonight

Mustang Pugilists Set to Upset Santa Barbara Team

The Mustang boxing team will attempt to win glory for Poly by defeating the Gauchos from Santa Barbara tonight in the Poly gym.

Earlier in the year the Gauchos defeated the Mustang mitmen 4-2. However, the Poly team has added power and experience, and is gunning for wins in many of the weight divisions.

Last Friday night the Gaucho sluggers punched the Bruins from UCLA into submission by winning 5-2.

Outstanding man for the Blue and Gold team is Bobby Garcia, defending 2C2A champion in the 130 pound class. Garcia showed that he still packs dynamite in his left when he won a TKO over Dick Stewart of UCLA. Garcia, in 1942, scored three consecutive KO's when he won the conference title.

Tonight Garcia will be opposed by Les Risling. Les will be making his initial appearance in the ring for Poly. His previous experience has been in high school and in the service. Risling may spring the surprise of the evening by outpointing Garcia.

Gene Pimentel, of Poly, will have a hard fight when he takes on Billy Steele in the light-heavyweight division. Gene will be out to win prestige for the Mustang boxers, and may upset the Gaucho dope sheet.

Our most impressive boxer, Dave Risling, will represent Poly in the 155 pound class. Dave will be opposed by Jim Watt. Risling should have no trouble in winning and will show boxing fans real boxing talent when he opposes Watt.

Also fighting in the 155 pound class will be Russ Barr of Poly and Sam Cathcart of the Gauchos. Barr, one of the most improved men on the team, will be opposing an aggressive and game fighter in Cathcart. The decision will be close, but Poly supporters are picking Barr to win.

Lou Martini of the Mustangs will oppose Buck Levine in another 155 pound clash. Martini shows plenty of promise and may spring a surprise on the Gaucho slugger by outpointing him in the three round bout.

In the 145 pound division, another Santa Barbara flash, Tommy Gressett, will oppose Howard Posson of Poly. Gressett, former Denver Golden Glove champ, has more experience than our man, but Posson is game and packs a terrific punch which, if landed on the champ, Gressett, will quickly terminate the bout.

Bill Quimby from Hoopa, California, will spot Roy Steele 16 pounds when the main event is fought. Quimby will weigh about 175 pounds against Steele's 195. Quimby is fast and packs a punch. He has fought in high school and also in service team meets. He, although being smaller, should give Poly fight fans plenty to yell about.

Howard Rosen, at 165 pounds, from Cleveland, Ohio, will tangle with Bob Kinniston of the Gauchos. Rosen's only defeat was when he fought Gene Pimentel in an intra-squad bout. Rosen dropped a close one to the heavier and more experienced Pimentel at that time.

In the curtain raider will be hard-hitting, agile Art Guglielmelli from Walla Walla, Washington, for Poly at 122 pounds. He will be opposed by Herman Fogata at 121 pounds. Art dropped a close one to Fogata earlier this year and has hopes of reversing that decision tonight. The railbirds think that Guglielmelli may surprise Santa Barbara by scoring a win over the highly touted Fogata.

The Steele brothers will be remembered by football fans as both played end for the Gauchos last fall. Sam Cathcart was a star back on the football team also.

This program is only tentative and Santa Barbara may substitute some of the performers upon arrival. This would be due to their meet the following night with S. F. State.

Coach Pavelko states that the men are in top shape and all are raring to go — so a "slam-bang" evening of entertainment is insured.

Tryouts for Baseball Being Held Daily

Coach Bob Mott and Lou Bartola are putting the Poly baseball team through the paces at the local army camp. About 50 men have reported for practice and any man that possesses baseball ability is urged to turn out. An intra squad game is scheduled for Sunday. Especially needed are pitchers, catchers, and first basemen. Bob Mott stated. He went on to add that any .500 hitter that could field and throw would make the team. The following is the schedule that the team will play.

Wrestlers Win Four Matches In AAU Meet

The seven man Cal Poly wrestling team won four and lost eight matches in the Senior AAU Tournament last week-end.

Fred Adams, Champion in the Jr. AAU meet, lost his first match, then went undefeated until the finals when Dierdoff, of San Diego State defeated him on points. Adams had the match "clinched" when he had his opponent in a legal double wrist lock. Adams released his winning hold when Dierdoff "howled" in pain.

Dick Hutchinson in the 135 pound class won his first bout but lost his second by a fall to Ellisius of the Whittier A. C.

George Clark, Poly's 220 tackle, in the heavyweight division won one and lost one in his class.

Bob Croce in the 190 pound class lost to Spear of the Whittier A. C. Spear then proceeded to win the championship of his class.

Bob Hunt, 165 pounds, won a decision over Harris of San Diego State. Hunt lost his second bout to Perry of the Los Angeles A. C. Perry then went undefeated and was proclaimed the winner of the 165 pound class.

Hollis Barnes at 155 and Don Martin at 145 pounds lost close decisions to their opponents.

There was a young maiden, a Sioux,

She displayed her cute knees,
As she strolled past tepees,
And the braves all hollered,

Poly Mermen Are Submerged by San Jose Swimmers

By Roy Bethel

Holding their first collegiate swimming meet since 1941, Poly was submerged 61 to 13 by San Jose Spartans in the Mustang pool. Three Cal Poly records were topped by the San Jose swimmers.

Dick Thompson, Mustang back stroke specialist, gave Poly its only first when he won the 150 yard event with a time of 1:55.1.

Other points picked up by the Mustangs swimmers were by Ray Kemp, who received three for second place in the diving; Martin Engler placed third in the 50 yard free style and the 100 yard free style for one point each. Bob Connolly, who placed third in the 200 yard breast stroke, picked up another point, as did John Wingate for a third in the 440 yard free style, and George Sweet, third in the 150 yard backstroke.

Pelcham, Wolfe, and Daly of San Jose set a new pool record in the 300 yard medley relay with a time of 3:24.8. The 200 yard breast stroke pool record of 2:05.1 was broken by Ridloff with 2:39.2. Hodgins, Daly, Bogart, and Ridloff narrowed the old pool record for the 400 yard relay of 4:12 down to 4:05.6.

The Poly swimmers are planning a return meet with San Jose some time around March 21.

Track Schedule Now Announced

Track Coach Dr. Carl Voltmer urges all who are interested in track to sign up in his office and report for daily workouts.

Practice jump pits have been constructed and practice so far this season has been devoted to easy running and loosening-up exercises.

The first track and field meet of the season will be an intramural affair, on March 28. Full particulars will be issued later. Voltmer added.

The following track and field schedule has been arranged.

March 28	Intramural meet — here
April 12	San Francisco — here
April 19	Open
April 27	Santa Barbara relays — there
May 3	Santa Barbara and Occidental — Santa Barbara
May 10	2C2A championships — Fresno.

Tennis Team To Appear on Local Courts

Having completed a month of practice, the Cal Poly tennis team will commence its playing schedule March first, meeting the team from San Luis Obispo Junior College on the latter's courts.

Players representing Poly will be chosen from among the following group: Bob Brunner, Bill Curtis, Greg Ebat, Les Grube, Marshall Miller, Al Mills, Dave Rose, Ned Rose, Townsend Rose, Rodney Rush and Don Seaton.

The squad, which so far has devoted the bulk of its time to ironing out fundamental weaknesses, has been handicapped by the lack of courts (only two on the campus) and the extremely poor condition of the courts.

The most important engagement of the season for the tennis team will be the CCAA tournament to be held at Fresno on May 10. Poly will be represented in this tournament by two singles players and two doubles teams.

Meantime, a series of practice matches will be played. During March: March 1, SLO Junior College, on their courts; March 8, SLO tennis club, at the Junior College courts; March 22, Santa Maria tennis club there; Mar. 29, Los Angeles City College, there.

During April a home and home series will be played with Santa Barbara definitely, and a probable one will be played with Fresno State College.

Victory-Hungry Mustangs Seek Initial 2C2A Wins

Cal Poly's "off-beaten", but never out-fought basket ball team will be host to the Bulldogs of Fresno State on Aztecs of San Diego on Saturday night in the Poly gym. Friday evening, and wind up their season in a finale with the Both contests will be 2C2A Conference games. The starting time for the games will be at 8:00 p. m.

Fresno State with a 62-52 victory over the Mustangs in an early season game is an improved outfit. They hold a recent win over San Jose State and will be slightly favored Friday evening.

Leading the Bulldogs will be John Toomasian, tall center, and high point for the team this year. John, a dangerous man in the pivot post, also is a dead shot with either hand. Toomasian's two-six foot running mates, George Becknell and Paul Kercher, are both accurate shots, and are very effective underneath the back boards. (Both backboards, that is.)

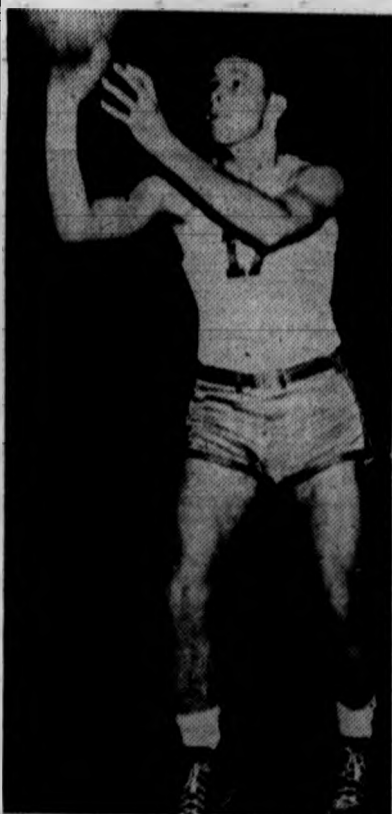

San Diego holds two decisive wins over Polymen and has upset both Santa Barbara and San Jose in recent conference competition. The Aztecs are now in second place in conference standings, and intend to remain there, come Saturday night.

Kenny Hale, Don Nuttal and Big Bill Hutchinson, are chiefly responsible for the Aztecs recent return to form and will be among the starters against Poly.

Kenny Hale is former "All-American" forward, and a very shifty man on the court. "Dead-eye" Don Nuttal has been high scorer for the Aztecs in many games this season, and is definitely a threat in every game he plays. "Big" Bill Hutchinson is the rebound expert on the squad.

Among the San Diego players is a fellow named Bernard Goodbody. He is a former Cal Poly student and played basketball here under Coach Howie O'Daniels. Goodbody is the holder of the "All-Time" scoring record at Poly, having garnered 244 points in one season. "Bernie" may be here to see his record smashed by Hank Moroski, who, to date, has racked up 235 points. Hank can set a new school record by scoring a total of 10 points in his remaining two games.

Moroski will also be the man to watch because he is a leading candidate for "All-Conference" honors. In the C. O. P. game, Hank received a tremendous ovation as he left the floor. The partisan Stockton crowd did so in appreciation of Moroski's outstanding floorwork and shooting ability. Don't forget! Keep your eye on number 19 for Poly. That will be Moroski, Poly's finest hoop star.

ROLLAND TISTRA... fast and shifty guard on the Mustang hoop team. "Whitey," as he is known to his friends, is a set shot artist and is capable of hitting the hoop from all angles. Tistra hails from Champaign, Ill., and was former navy star before entering Poly.

Mottmen Drop Two Games On the Road

By Morosky and Bethel

A capacity crowd of more than 1,000 spectators saw the College of Pacific annex the California Collegiate Athletic Association championship as they downed the Mustangs at Stockton last Friday night by a 83-53 count.

Leading the onslaught was big John Toomay, top man in the 2C2A individual scoring race. Toomay found the hoop with 4 field goals and 7 free throws for a total of 15 points.

The Mustangs, minus the services of center Ray Ball, managed to stay in the game during the first 12 minutes, at which point they only trailed by one point; the score was 14-13. The "big-boys" from Stockton then found themselves and proceeded to score almost at will, and piled up a 36-20 score at the intermission.

On the bright side for the "Mottmen" was the outstanding play of little Lee Rosa, who took scoring honors for the night by dropping 18 tallies through the basket. Runner-up for the Mustangs was Hank Moroski, who hit for 14 points and played his usual aggressive game.

The gallant Polymen, trying desperately to stop the champions, committed 24 personal fouls, but the "champs" just couldn't be stopped as they swished 21 free throws through the cords.

After losing to the College of Pacific the night before, Cal Poly was looking for an upset win over San Jose last Saturday. The Mustangs played a good game all the way, but came out on the short end of a 59-47 score.

San Jose scored first and took the lead which they held during the entire game. During the first half Poly was able to narrow the lead to within two points several times, but this was as close as they could get to taking the lead. The score at half time was San Jose 21, Cal Poly 16.

With Moroski out on fouls the last five minutes, and Tistra following him out shortly afterwards, the gallant Mustangs was unable to change the lead to their favor.

Robinson and Inman of San Jose were high scorers of the game. Robinson scored 16 points and Inman 14. Ball was high point man for the Mustangs with 12 points. Moroski following with 11 points played his usual excellent floor and defensive game.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By JOE GRIFFIN

Well, things in general are looking up around the college. Everyplace you go someone has a smile or a good word and that always brightens things up.

The only dark spot on the campus, or should I say gloomy spot, seems to be around Crandall Gymnasium. Dr. Voltmer has a harried look; you don't see much of O'Daniels Pepsodent smile; Chuck Pavelko has that distant look in his eyes, and Bob Mott seems to be preoccupied also.

I wondered what caused these gloomy reactions, so I did a little inquiring. From what I gathered, the reasons were financial. I'm taking it for granted that you are all familiar with the fact that the State of California and our athletic Department have nothing in common, financially speaking, as far as intercollegiate competition goes. As far as the future is concerned, the pie is being cut seven ways from Sunday with all departments getting their just share of the appropriation. Now we realize that there are many things that come before athletics, and any improvements that come our way for the academic side of the picture is welcome.

In the first place this is an institution of learning and not a muscle factory. But it does seem a shame that so many people, students included, overlook the fact that to get our INITIAL start for a successful future in the athletic program we have undertaken, we must have a source of revenue. All of the athletic department's problems seem easy to solve until the question of money is brought into the picture. Our check book is full of blank checks but the balance on hand doesn't allow for any action. This is a subject with which everyone from President McPhee on down through the chain of command is concerned.

An attempt was made to arrive at something definite to work on at a meeting held last February 4, but people became just a little more confused. President McPhee contributed the only definite statement of the evening, when he summarized his views by plainly stating that this college is not going to become a doormat for other conference members because of financial reasons.

The future prestige of our college depends partially on how we shape up in the field of athletics and, gentlemen, this requires much more action than using a slide rule and a lot of wishful thinking to arrive at a conclusion. Next week I'm going to outline these problems to you and we will go over some possible solutions. These problems will affect every member of the student body in one way or another so any and all opinions will be respected.

As you all know, there is an intercollegiate boxing match taking place in the gym tonight between Santa Barbara and Cal Poly's leather pushers. One of these fights is going to be a dilly. Dave Risling's brother, Les, is taking on Santa Barbara's pride and joy, Bobby Garcia. This Garcia and Risling match has the possibility of being the best fight of the evening. The last time we fought Santa Barbara, I went to cover the fights and watched Garcia go through his paces. He is a well-finished boxer and cocky as a banty rooster. I think that Cal Poly will have the answer to this problem tonight. So clean up the homework early and drop into Crandall gym and see the fireworks. The fights start at 8 p.m.

The swimming team didn't do so well against San Jose State last Friday night. Dropped quite a few points but two of the boys were in pretty fair shape and turned in a nice performance. Dick Thompson was the class of the meet, and took the backstroke in a breeze. Bob Mallory, a breast stroker, is a little shy on a few of the fine points but will come along. Howie O'Daniels has some hopes that they will show up well in the final meet but says he's looking for a good free style man. There is your chance, men, if you can swim and think you can develop, see O'Daniels.

"HERE N' THERE"

The intramural basketball players will be represented on an intramural All-Star team to be picked in the next few days. Intramural volleyball will be started the first of next quarter. Competition will be open to any and all.

Press Club Meets Monday to Hear Edward Kennedy

By R. W. Saunders

An internationally famed journalist, Edward Kennedy, will be the principal speaker at a dinner meeting of the Cal Poly Press club to be held at the Gemeda Tea Room, Monday night, March 3.

Kennedy, who is now managing editor of the Santa Barbara News Press, was the European bureau chief for the Associated Press during the war and received considerable notoriety when he was alleged by army intelligence to have released the VE Day news prior to official authorization. Subsequent information has corroborated his stand that he was violating no censorship ruling nor any ethical standards of journalism when he released his story to the American people.

Other guests who will attend the banquet will include President J. A. McPhee.

John Patterson, temporary president of the Press club, announced that a short business session will precede Kennedy's address. According to Patterson, the main item of business will be to adopt a constitution for the club.

The Poly Press club was reorganized in January to act as a service group on the Poly campus. The membership of the organization comprises students who are at present working on student publications, including both the editorial staffs of El Mustang, and El Rodeo, and students working in the college printing shop. R. E. Kennedy, journalism instructor, and "Bert" Fellows, Director of Printing, are acting as club advisers.

Howard Vaughn Addresses Boots and Spurs Meeting

By T. T. Brannum

Howard Vaughn was the speaker at the February meeting of the Boots and Spurs meeting held last Thursday. Spelman Collins, who introduced him, described him as one of the "top men" in the United States sheep industry. Vaughn is president of the California Wool Growers' Association, Vice-President of the National Wool Growers' Association and operates a flock of purebred Suffolk sheep as well as feeding lambs and steers on landino clover pasturage.

Speaking as a sheepman of 25 years' experience, he urged prospective sheepman and livestock men in general to get a thorough education with emphasis on chemistry and biology first, and second to take advantage of acquaintance with successful livestock men. Vaughn also recommended that no one enter the sheep business unless he has a genuine interest in sheep, and "lives sheep" twenty four hours a day.

According to the speaker, the raising of sheep on irrigated pasture in California offers one of the brightest opportunities for future livestock men today. Speaking from his own experience, he emphasized the importance of trading in any livestock enterprise. Vaughn was employed by a trader for fifteen years before securing his own business, and counts the knowledge he gained while so employed almost invaluable.

As an example of things not to do, Mr. Vaughn told of graduates of both Poly and the College of Agriculture at Davis that have failed to take full advantage of their facilities by not engaging in large enough enterprises to utilize all their resources.

The present period of high prices makes it impractical to enter any form of livestock business as a proprietor now, but Mr. Vaughn pointed out that working for an established stockman will give one much valuable knowledge if he does not maintain a critical attitude in his thinking of his employer.

Appointment of New Farm Supt. Announced

The appointment of Erle S. Campbell as general farm superintendent of the college was announced this week by the administration. Campbell, who has had more than 28 years practical experience as foreman and superintendent of a number of very large California farms and ranches, is expected to take over his new duties between March 1 and 15.

Campbell will relieve James Merson, head of the agricultural engineering department, of his duties as farm superintendent. Merson has for several years carried on the duties of both positions.

A graduate of Exeter high school, Tulare County, in 1917, Campbell served in the first World War. Prior to that experience he had helped his parents farm a 120 acre diversified farm in Tulare county. During his years of experience in farm and ranch work, Campbell has done everything from tractor driving to the successful operation of a 22,000 acre stock ranch in Lake county owned by the Detert estate. His experience also includes ownership of a dairy ranch near Modesto and the operation of a commercial dehydrating business.
