State FFA Judging Finals To Be Held Here May 8

California State Future Farmer judging finals will be held at Cal Poly Saturday, May 8, according to J. I. Thompson, livestock specialist of the state bureau of Agriculture. Livestock belonging to Cal Poly will be used for the judging classes and will be fitted and shown by Poly students. Students will also assist in guiding the groups of student judges and tabulating the final scores. The 188 teams of three men each will arrive on the campus Friday, May 7 and will spend the night here.

George Drumm and Elmer Hansen, Poly dairy instructors, reported that besides themselves, S. W. Mead, Davis; Clarence Reed, San Carlos dairy; Buellton; Victor Gray, Van de Kamp Guernsey herd, Woodland Hills; Laurence McDaniels, Holstein fieldman; D. T. Batchelder, dairy extension service; Tom Dewar, Patton State hospital; and Howard Smith, Tulare dairyman, will act as official judges of the dairy cattle events. Kenneth Boyle, Poly dairy manufacturing instructor, and James Emmerson of Arden Dairies, San Luis Obispo, will be the officials for the dairy products judging.

According to Thompson, official judges of the livestock classes will be: C. E. Howell, Davis; Harold Wilson, dean of the Voorhis unit of Cal Poly; Vard Shepard, dean of agriculture instruction at Poly; Dr. Dean Lindley, Poly veterinarian; and animal husbandry instructors Lyman Bennion, Harry Parker, Spellman Collins, Rollin Lander, and Lyle Hoyt.

Leo Sankoff, poultry instructor, and former Cal Poly students Harry LaBaw and Charles Hagemaster will judge poultry.

Agriculture Mechanics exhibits will receive official placings from James Merson, Tom Campbell, and Robert Wallace, all from Cal Poly Ag. Mechanics department.

Trees will be placed by Dr. Warren Tufts, Davis; Dr. William Gregg, Davis; C. A. Suneson, Davis; and B. H. Denbigh, superintendent of vo-ag in Los Angeles. Dr. E.H. Stanford, Davis; C. A. Suneson, Davis; Curtis Baryman, assistant San Luis Obispo farm advisor; and Kenneth Wade of the Poly soils department will judge the agronomy exhibits.

POLY ROYAL PUBLICITY

Poly Royal Superintendent Roland Wentzel, members of his staff and the Varsity quartet appeared before the Arroyo Grande Rotary Club last night. Both groups were well received.

Poly Pictorials Cover The Earth

"Stoist smanafan gadst Poly Royal!" Which means, in Agravian, "That Poly Royal pictorial really covers the globe!"

The latest report from the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity and the publications office is that a pictorial has been sent to over 700 cities in the state of California. How about that?

It also says here that every state in the union including all its territories and 15 foreign countries from India to Lebanon, have been served with our Poly Royal pictorial. That is, persons residing in these many spots have been sent a pictorial by students here.

Altogether, there have been some 14,000 pictorials sent to the places mentioned, by Cal Poly students. Add to this number 100 more covering an extensive mailing list which includes officials, alumni, agricultural students throughout the U.S., etc. Total: 15,000 Poly Royal pictorials on the loose publicizing our "country fair on a college campus."

MUSICIANS PLAN FOR POLY ROYAL EVENTS

Poly's music department is anticipating a busy weekend during Poly Royal next week.

The band will start off by meeting Queen Pat Walker at the airport when she arrives Thursday afternoon. Friday morning the green and gold horn tooters will open the student body assembly. On Saturday during the barbecue, the band will present an hour and a half

Election Day Features Impressive Array of Candidates

Monday, April 26, is election day at Cal Poly. It is the fevered hope of all eight candidates for the three offices of the Associated Students that all of the 1900-odd student body members vote for the men of their choice on that day.

The polls will be located in the north end of El Corral and will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. All men desiring to vote will be required to show their student body cards. A check list will be at hand to prevent a man voting two, three, or four times, as has been the desire of some rabid fans in the past.

The votes will be counted by the Election committee Monday night, directly after the election, and the results will be posted on the bulletin boards Tuesday. In case a runoff is necessary, it will be held on Wednesday in the same manner as the election.

A majority of votes will be required to elect. If a majority vote is not obtained, and there are more than two candidates for any one office, a run-off election will be required between the two candidates with the highest vote count.

A majority will be considered as one more than half of the votes cast. For example, if 2000 votes are cast, the winner must have at least 1001 votes to win.

Remember—student body cards must be shown in order to receive a ballot.

Notice To Veterans

All veteran students under PL 348 will be dropped from Veteran Administration subsistence rolls at the end of the 1947-1948 school year which closes on June 4, 1948, unless they indicate that they will re-enroll for the Summer quarter.

MARTY ENGLER... candidate for President of the Associated Students.

RAY HOUSE... without cut, candidate for Vice-President of the Associated Students.

Ed... Mr. House's cut does not appear because his photo did not make the engraving deadline. Mr. Engler's cut runs larger because it was made by a different concern at a different time.

Two Candidates Withdrawn From Race

Two candidates for student body office have dropped from the running. John Robinson, candidate for the Vice-presidency, has dropped because of a change in educational plans.

Larry Wells, candidate for the Presidency, has dropped for reasons of his own.

Just what effect these two withdrawals will have on what will evidently be a red-hot election is not certain as El Mustang goes to press.

Barbecue Tickets To Go On Sale

Poly Royal barbecue tickets will be on sale starting Friday, April 23, one week in advance, in the student store and at the information desk. The price of the tickets will be $1.00 per person.

The barbecue will start at 11 a.m. Saturday, May 1; and serving will continue until 1:30 p.m.

H. Clay Potts, member of the staff of Oklahoma A & M, and a well known barbecuer, will be in charge of the meat preparation.

Spirit Runs High As Big Show Prepares For Stand

By Dave Goodman

Just about everybody has heard some of the pre-Poly Royal broadcasts that Bob Bertram and I have been putting on. The idea of this story is to give you an impression of the feeling that we run across while meeting and interviewing the different instructors and students.

The men that were on the programs were, I think, the people on the campus most interested in the school and Poly Royal. These were the men who are putting many long hours into getting exhibits ready for the show and losing sleep and play time in order to give the visitors a good show. Naturally, these men are just a few representatives from each department. If we talked to every man working on the Country Fair it would take the full broadcasting day of KPIR.

Everybody seems to have it, this fever to put out the best exhibit in the whole show. There is the bigger feeling too, that this Poly Royal will be bigger and better than any that have gone before.

fore—best looking queen, toughest competition in the rodeo and judging contests, best-tasting pit-type barbecue, and best coronation ball of them all.

The way I figure it, there are three reasons why the men are so enthused about Poly Royal: First, because it's spring, the time when people naturally get interested in doing some extra work; then there is the feeling of school spirit and the desire to put on a good show in order to help raise the prestige of Cal Poly; there is also the big point of getting out and showing off what you can do in your own field. A man has to be really interested in his line of work before he spends long hours washing a sow with soap and water, or snipping the wool from a lamb in order to get in shape for the judging contests. The same feeling is true among the men who make an airplane wing strut, radio receivers, or Poly Royal pictorials.

The spirit is here, the materials are present, the teams are ready. This probably will be the biggest and best Poly Royal that this state has ever seen.

'MIKE' TOURS DEPARTMENT LABS FOR PRE-POLY ROYAL BROADCASTS

By J. R. Blesse

"Afternoon, folks, here we are again bringing you excerpts of Poly Royal. Today we find ourselves at the Avila 203 class."

"I have a man behind the seventh sandbox, under a lovely sandpack, fondling a sad looking starfish, you lucky people."

"And what is your name, young man?"

"Joe Spfnat."

Ah, you recognize the sensuous voice of your bearded roommate, do you? That is our pre-Poly Royal-broadcast team of students Dave Goodman, announcer, and Bob Bertram, technician, digging into every hole they can find, bringing the local area first hand information on what to expect at this 16th annual "country fair on a college campus."

Goodman and Bertram are in affiliation with radio station KPIK working to bring you these on-the-spot pre-Poly Royal Broadcasts. KPIK will also carry these broadcasts throughout Poly Royal spotlighting all the events of the two days, Goodman stated.

These broadcasts were started Monday, April 19, and will, as previously stated, continue through Poly Royal. According to announcer Goodman, the on-the-spot broadcasts have proven very satisfactory so far. Already aired via KPIK have been conversations with men of the Agriculture Inspection and Electrical Engineering departments on Monday, April 19. Printing and Mechanical Engineering students were heard on Tuesday. The Dairy and Electronic departments on Wednesday, and the Sheep husbandry and Architectural departments on Thursday.

Those yet to come, according to schedule, are: Friday April 23, Hog husbandry and Air Conditioning departments; Monday April 26, Machine Shop and Thoroughbred unit, Tuesday April 27, Beef and Crops departments; Wednesday April 28, Aeronautics and Publications departments; and finally, Thursday April 29, the Athletics department.

Station KVEC is planning coverage of a number of events during Poly Royal.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB INVITES STUDENTS

The International Relations club held another successful meeting last Tuesday evening and listened with interest to Kalkosow Borouhian colorfully sketch the religious, economic, social and political aspects of modern Iran.

Next Tuesday, April 27, at 7 p.m., in Adm. 212, the Nasrallah brothers will acquaint the club with Lebanon and neighboring Arab countries.

All students are invited to the club meetings and to get acquainted with the outside world at this critical time in international affairs.

Behind The Scenes At Local Theaters

By Harold Hoffman

"Western movies will be kept down to a bare minimum, at the Fremont theatre." This statement comes from L. Rosenberg, manager of the three downtown movie houses.

In an interview to El Mustang, Rosenberg shed some light on "behind the scenes" activity of the local theater.

He states that it is the management's policy to reserve the Fremont for class A pictures entirely. Asked about his observations as to Poly students' likes or dislikes of certain types of pictures, Rosenberg states that he has no accurate way of checking this, as the same reduced tickets are also sold to high school and other students.

The management is glad to get suggestions, however, from individual students, groups or clubs as to choice of pictures. Revivals of some of the better old movies will also be considered. The showing of these would be confined to the Obispo or Elmo theaters.

"Titles and names make or break pictures." This applies generally, but it also holds true in San Luis Obispo, especially if a picture has not been publicized much, so that the public is left guessing as to the story.

"Killer McCoy" and "The Senator Was Indiscreet" are two good examples, says Rosenberg, for an unlucky choice of title. "It seems they just didn't care to see Rooney as a killer, not knowing that he was anything but a killer in this movie."

As for the "Indiscreet Senator," did the smell of politics in the title keep people away? Nobody knows.

How soon do new pictures come to San Luis? This depends on a number of things. Some movies

Biological Science Offers Opportunities

The Biological Science department at Poly offers many interesting courses. A student graduating from an approved college or university who has majored in some of the courses at Poly may find an interesting future waiting for him.

Washington State University, for example, offers fellowships and assistantships to students majoring in bacteriology, botany, entomology, plant pathology and zoology. These fellowships and assistantships are offered for one of three reasons: teaching, doing research work or counseling in the department.

The Civil Service also offers a secure future to Biological Science majors due to the shortage of men now available for different positions.

P.L. 16 Limits Veteran Educational Period

There has been some confusion about the length of time for education granted to students under P. L. 16. To help clarify this, Bill Fowler of the local Veterans Administration office gave the following information.

These students are not given an unlimited amount of time. Once their vocational objective is decided upon, the VA determines the time necessary for that course of study. When this time is completed, the student should have reached his objective. He is then no longer under P. L. 16.

During the time of schooling, each student must carry 12 units unless he is physically unable to do so.

are shown parallel with New York or Los Angeles. Some come weeks or sometimes months later and there are quite a few that make the Fremont before they hit the big city.

Says Rosenberg in summing up: "We are trying to get the best pictures available in the shortest time possible."

The Fremont has made arrangements for the "latest" crop of Hollywood "super duper colossal," some of them still in production.

Works Of Art To Be Exhibited During Poly Royal

A Poly Royal art exhibit is to be held as part of the Science and Humanities division exhibitions in class rooms 4, 5, and 6, and is to be sponsored by the classes in Art in Everyday Living. It was reported by James S. Smith, instructor of arts.

Students, student wives, faculty, faculty wives, office and maintenance staff are eligible and urged to submit any of their own artistic efforts, the art committee reports. Entry blanks may be obtained from Smith's office, room 6, in the new office building, or from the information desk in the Administration building, the chairman of the committee said.

It was decided by the committee, that the time and place for submission of entries, will be April 27, between 3 and 5:30 p.m. on April 28.

The designs must be an original composition, not a copy, and of course, all possible precautions will be taken to protect the exhibits from damage, Smith reported. The entries will be paintings, graphic design, sculpture, ceramics, leather crafts, metalcraft, weaving and photography. Everyone is encouraged to contribute their talent to the exhibition, Smith said.

New Dorm Lighting To Be Installed

Florescent lighting is to be installed in Duvel dormitory, Heron Hall, and the electrical engineering laboratory according to E. C. Glover, E. E. department head.

The installation and survey of several types of florescent lights in the two dormitories has been completed by the illumination and construction classes. Fixtures, and materials for wiring the circuits will be purchased, and the construction classes will make the installation.

Surveys have also been made on the lighting in the E. E. laboratory, electronics laboratory, administration building, present library reading room, and gymnasium, and plans have been completed for the relighting of the E. E. laboratory.

During Poly Royal the E. E. department plans to demonstrate the type of experiments and jobs carried on in the shop. Glover said that students will be on duty Friday and Saturday to conduct tours and explain the pieces of equipment in the exhibits.

Poultry Contestants Select Birds

As the deadline for starting entries to the Poultry show and contest approaches, Poultry students are busy selecting their favorite birds. Students without projects are already making arrangements to reserve priority to some birds while others are waiting impatiently for Tuesday morning when they can enjoy wide and unrestricted selection.

Unconfirmed rumors state that a group of students will launch a big surprise with "the skating rooster" which they have been training to roller skate for quite some time.

Dairy Instructor To Speak At Marysville

Elmer N. Hansen, dairy instructor, will leave by Southwest Airways Saturday May 8 to serve as official classifying judge at the Brown Swiss dairy cattle field day to be held at Marysville on May 9. Hansen's topic will be "Developing a Dairy Herd."

After explaining the type classification rules, he will classify A. R. Bean's Rosalinda Herd. Fred S. Iltse, National secretary of the Brown Swiss association, Beloit, Wisconsin will also be present.

Ag. Engineers Plan Banquet For April 29

According to James F. Merson, head of the Agricultural Engineering and Mechanics Department, the next meeting of the Ag Engineering club will be held Monday April 26, at 7 p.m. in Adm. room 208. All Agricultural Engineering and Agricultural Mechanics majors are urged to attend as Poly Royal plans will be completed at this time.

In addition to its many other Poly Royal activities, the Ag Engineering club will be host to a banquet for farm machinery manufacturers and dealers Thursday evening, April 29.

Professor Harry B. Walker, former head of the Agricultural Engineering division of the College of Agriculture at Davis, will be the principal speaker and his topic will be "Agricultural Mechanization Problems; Here and Elsewhere," Merson said. All who wish to attend the Agricultural Engineering Poly Royal Banquet, should contact Bill Reddick or attend the meeting on April 26.

At the meeting of April 15 a very interesting film was shown on the building of the Hoover dam.

Notice To Graduates!

Dean of Admissions, C. Paul Winner, announced that all students expecting to graduate at the end of the Spring quarter should go to the recorder's office, Adm. 102, and make application for graduation training prior to April 29.

This application is to insure that the student receives a diploma. The list of names of students who are

Poultry Club Hears Editor

Ronald Hartman, editor of the magazine Pacific Poultryman, was the featured speaker Monday evening at a meeting of the Poultry club. Hartman spoke on the modern methods of chick hatching.

Hartman spent Tuesday visiting the poultry plant and sitting in on classes. He is the co-author of a book on hatchery management which is in use here at the present time.

The Poly poultry department was featured on the front cover of the January issue of the Pacific Poultryman, and in an article in the same issue.

Students eligible for graduation and who have made application for graduation will be sent to the engraver April 30. Graduates who have not made application for graduation will not receive a diploma.

Varsity Nine Faces League Leaders Next Week In North Country Jaunt

By Bob Coghlan

It will be "do or die" next week when the fighting Mustangs from Cal Poly journey north to meet the league-leading Tigers of the College of Pacific. A single game will be played next Tuesday starting at 2 p.m. with a double-header Wednesday at 12:30 p.m.

Holding a 7-2 record in league play, the Tigers need only to win two of the three games to clinch at least a tie for the league title. Already fallen before the power of the Tigers have been San Diego three straight games, Santa Barbara two games out of three, and the Fresno State Bulldogs, two out of three. The only team left with a chance of overtaking the Tigers is the Mustangs from Cal Poly. Two wins up north will put the Mottmen in a tie for first place.

Both teams will be gunning for that first game, and what a game that ought to be. Playing on one of the finest ball fields on the west coast, the Tigers will start their ace pitcher, Stan McWilliams of basketball fame, who last week threw a no-hitter at Fresno to beat the Bulldogs 8-1. Four weeks ago he hurled a three hit game against San Diego State to win 5-0, and two weeks ago he hurled a five hitter at Santa Barbara College to win 5-1.

Throwing against the swift right hander will be one of the best left handers in college baseball today. Last week against Santa Barbara he sent fifteen batters to the bench via the strike out route, a new 2C2A league record. His name is Don "Lefty" Garman, a 5 foot 8 inch 150 pounder who throws a curve that would put Mae West to shame.

As in all series the first game is the most important one to win. It not only gives a one game lead but it also creates confidence. Both coaches know this and will be using all the tricks in the book to bring home a winner.

McWilliams' battery mate will be Herb Markall, a transfer from San Francisco J.C. Veteran Sonny Adkins will be on first base with Laurie Monroe moving from second last year to third base this year. Don Brown, football star up from Stockton J.C. is playing second. Petey Chalmers, outstanding in winter ball this past season will start at shortstop, although Eddie LeBaron, Pacific's little All-American of the gridiron, is giving him a tough battle.

In the outfield, Jim Totvick is in right field and batting cleanup, with George Regale in left field, and Jim Enos in center field. The pitching staff will be made up of Lou Bronson, Jim Enos, Jerry Haines, Bill McFarland, and Stan McWilliams and John Guilfoyle of the basketball squad.

Starting lineup for the Mustangs will be: Fraser, center field; Jacobson, left field; Hebernes, third base; Buhlert, right field; Coghlan, short stop; Rosa, catcher; McCutcheon, second base; Luker, first base; and Garman, pitcher.

Gauchos Take First Conference Series; Mustangs Run Hot And Cold

By J. T. Morosky

The University of California at Santa Barbara (that's the way they like it) took two of the three 2C2A games played at Laguna Park last week. All the encounters took place under the arcs and were with a variety of hits, runs, and errors.

The Mustangs dropped a close one in the opener, which was a seven-inning affair by a score of 10-9. Cal Poly shelled starter Bob Elliot from the hill in the very first inning with a six-run barrage, but Mustang hurler Don Crawford was unable to hold the lead. Three walks, an error and a two-run single by Gaucho Frank Bushman pushed across the tying and winning marker with two away in the seventh.

In the second game, some masterful hurling by Don Garman plus 16 Mustang blows enabled the Mottmen to emerge on the victorious end of a 14-9 score. Garman fanned 15 Gauchos and was invincible in the clutch. Dale Scott, ace hurler of the Gauchos, was the victim of the 16 hits and 10 Santa Barbara errors. Dick Bulhert, Gene Fraser, Lee Ross and Bob Coghlan played a tune on the fences with their stickwork. Pinky Bebernes who returned to the line-up after a head injury received in a collision with Joe Blake in the first game, came back strong and batted in three of the Mustangs runs.

In the final game Friday night, the Gauchos piled up an early lead and were never headed. Pitcher Hal Abbott held the Mustangs to eight hits and only four runs. The 17-4 result was the worst beating the Mustangs have taken in two years of conference play.

A tension that was undoubtedly caused by the importance of the three game series resulted in several outbreaks during the three games. The ill-feeling caused by these outbreaks may have been avoided if the officials would have executed their authority properly.

The series ended amicably and proof of this will probably be witnessed when the Gauchos come up to play the Mustangs at the Poly Royal game on April 30.

Drag out the pugilist's hand-book, Herm. This week we are going to give a sermon to our collegiate boxers turning towards the Plamo ring. That's OK, Ringling; you can take off those Spaulding mittens. This is not aimed at you or any of the boys you coach, but it is aimed at a certain student who is trying to make a bid for Uncle Mike Jacob's shoes.

It seems a member of our student body is trying to induce members of the Poly boxing team into the Clamland ring. Not that we want to call anyone nasty names nor do we have anything against the Plamo pavillion. Quit laughing Herm, but the local promoter is definitely mis-interpreting the rule book to the men he's after.

Right here on page 64 it says: "Any college student whether in or out of college, who participates in a boxing contest other than one between colleges (Olympic tryouts excepted) will be ineligible for further college participation in college ranks."

There you have it gents—plain as the noses on your faces. No matter what the Plamo promoter tells you, you're through collegiately.

So, lads, if you think it's worth a couple of skins to get your ears enlarged, go ahead. But first take notice of what Ned Cronin once wrote in the Daily News. "Anyone leaving his ivy clung college cottage to enter the pro ring ought to have his head examined. The reason is clear. No security. For every Tunney or Lewis, there's ten thousand stumble bums." So be it Doctor Anthony, I rest my case. But before any of you local boxers pack your elgar boxes and head for the Rose Garden, remember to think twice and look at the rule book once—might pay off later on!

Poly enjoyed one of its most successful week-ends in many moons last week. Not since "Zuncho's grandfather ran first at Naratoga, the track, not the battle, has so much attention been drawn to the green and gold colors. Coach Dick Anderson's mermen led the charge with two out of three victories. The track men running hard under the whip of Coach Ed Jorgensen polished off the Westmont crew with little strain. Coach Gene Smith and his netmen broke even with a win over Fresno and a loss to COP, while Coach Hob Mott and crew were bringing home the first conference victory for the Mustangs in baseball.

That series of games at Santa Barbara made a liar out of a couple of "horsehide wheels" who last week said, "Trouble with college baseball is that the boys just don't have the spark the pros offer." Shades of Ebbets Field, if the fans didn't get their money's worth at Laguna Field it was due to the shortage of Mustang on the hot dogs, not lack of spark on the field.

With nothing better to do these fine spring days, the San Jose writers are pulling for a new conference which will include them along with COP, Nevada, USB, Santa Clara and St. Mary's. That's good. I'd like to see them enter that group, then it will be interesting to see how one-sided scores can get.

And then there's the one about the Poly rooter who stood up following a very costly Mustang error Friday night and yelled, "We came here to bury the Gauchos, not to praise them."

Jay Vees Handcuff Santa Maria JC, 10-2

Ray Sepeda showed fine form Monday afternoon when the Colts gave him good support and good hitting for a 10-2 win over the Santa Maria J.C. nine. Sepeda hurled all nine innings giving only six hits and striking out seventeen batters.

Scoring for the Colts came in the second, third, fifth, sixth and eighth innings. Santa Maria tallied once in the seventh and once in the ninth. In the fifth frame for the Colts, Brown started off with a single to right, and then took second on an error. Gasser was safe on an error by the pitcher and Brown held third. Paul Simpson hit a three hundred and twenty foot home run scoring three runs.

During the sixth frame, there were five straight singles by Sepeda, Belli, Beetle, Brown, and Gasser. Later Gorgysca was safe on an error. Results of the inning were five runs, five hits, one error. Big stickers for the Colts were Simpson and Gasser, who batted in three runs and two runs respectively. Simpson also scored two runs, likewise Gasser. Gasser, Simpson, Belli, and Danforth have been the leaders of the Colt aggregation to date. Both coaches commented on Keaton's catching for the afternoon.

Racquet Artists Win One, Lose One

The Mustang tennis team traveled to Stockton last week only to be turned back by the College of the Pacific racketmen, 5-4.

The men from Poly found the going tough all the way, but nevertheless won two singles and two doubles matches from the highly vaunted COP Tigers. The doubles combination of Hank Pfister and Don Hamilton of COP, who defeated Bob Redden and Art Chaffee of Poly, might well receive national intercollegiate recognition this year as they are one of the top doubles combos in the country.

COP, which won the 32A conference title last year, is rated to repeat their performance this year. Sunday found the Mustangs on the Fresno State courts where they emerged victors over the Bulldog netmen, 7-2. Ken McCarthy, Bulldog net ace, did not see action against the Mustangs because of a sprained wrist.

Ron Johns, who played a controlled fire-ball brand of tennis, won four out of four matches last weekend.

Match results follow:

COP 5 Cal Poly 4
Singles: Hamilton (COP) vs. Redden (CP), 6-1, 6-0. Collins (COP) vs. Chaffee (CP), 5-3, 6-2. Arbuckle (COP) vs. Ebat (CP), 6-4, 6-3. Levy (COP) vs. Charles

Colt Errors Cost Game To Vikings

Last week while the varsity nine was journeying to Santa Barbara, the San Luis Obispo junior college took advantage of ten Colt errors to hand the Colts their first loss in two starts 8-3. The Vikings scored three runs in the first inning, then came back with four more in the second to build up a 7-0 lead, then scored one more tally in the sixth. Poly's scoring came in the second, fourth, and fifth innings.

Crows started on the mound for the Colts, but after five hits and a handful of errors he was replaced by Murphy, who gave up only one hit and one run. Murphy struck out eight batters in four innings. Ray Sepeda pitched the last three innings; struck out seven batters, gave up no hits.

Giacomassi scattered six Colt hits and pitched the route. The longest hit off Giacomassi was a three-bagger by Dave Gasser in the fifth inning with one man aboard.

Ken Ball, shortstop, was the only Colt infielder to handle a chance without committing an error. He made one put out, four assists and helped execute a double play.

Diamondmen Cool Camp Cooke Nine

The Cal Poly baseball team downed a stubborn Camp Cooke nine by a score of 4-2 last Sunday afternoon at Lompoc. Paul Plats, stocky righthander of the Mustang mound staff, held the soldiers in check for nine innings by allowing only five hits while fanning 13 batters.

The Mottmen tagged pitcher Joe Simpson for a pair of markers in the third frame when Bob McCutcheon singled and promptly stole second. Paul Plats drew a walk; both runners advanced on a passed ball and scored when Simpson uncorked a wild pitch.

Camp Cooke broke into the scoring column in the fourth inning when Al Redson singled sharply to left and completed the circuit when the ball got away from Carl Jacobson, Mustang left-fielder.

Both teams broke into the scoring again in the sixth frame with one tally apiece. A walk to Dick Bulhert plus a couple of base-knocks by Bob Coghlan and Lee Rosa produced the Mustang run. In the only bad inning that Plats had all day, an error, a wild pitch, and singles by Jake Estrada and Ike Phillips gave the soldiers their tally in the sixth.

The Mustangs put one more run across in the top of the ninth when Plats tripled to left and "Pee Wee" Fraser sent him scooting home with a bingle over short. Big Paul finished the game as he retired the last seven men in order.

The score by innings:
Cal Poly 0-0-2 0-0-1 0-0-1 4-8-3
Camp Cooke 0-0-0 1-0-1 0-0-0 2-5-1

JOBS TO BE AVAILABLE THIS SUMMER

John E. Jones, placement secretary, announced today that jobs will be open for men who graduate this June. Jones said that all men who have placed an application with his office should not stop trying to find a job. The job they may find for themselves may be better than the one they would get through the placement office, stated Jones. Also, said Jones, all students who want summer employment should place an application at his office, room 125 Adm.

Spring Gridiron Being Pounded Under Pressure: Full Squads Scrimmage

The spring gridmen ended their third week of practice last Friday afternoon with a full scale scrimmage. For the first time this season Coaches Chuck Pavelko and Sheldon Harden took to the sidelines and let the boys fire at will with no holds barred.

Running from a T-formation, both teams look sharp and ready to put on a real exhibition for the Poly Royal fans. With the recent sunshine the team has rounded into shape fast and will be able to play at their peak for the annual Spring show.

The Poly Royal tilt will enable some of the local fans to catch a glimpse of what's in store for Poly opposition next season. With many new faces appearing on both the WATCH IT . . .

Most of us are concerned in one way or another with our annual "production," Poly Royal. We've been spending many and weary hours working on our "show window," and apparently we're doing it for a reason.

The reason of course is that we have some pride in our school and that we would like to present it in a favorable light to the visiting public. Preparations are progressing in a large way. We have seen improvements and we have heard about other ones, and we believe that this Poly Royal will be the best yet. It will certainly be the biggest.

However, in being host to a probable 7,500 people, there are definite responsibilities, but don't say, "Now let's all be good boys and put on our good behavior." Nuts!

The responsibilities of a host usually go without mentioning, but please gents—watch such things as loud language of a doubtful nature and scanty appearance in dorms which will probably be crowded with visitors.

Then too, there is the problem of how to meet, and pass, (get that—AND PASS) the pretty young things which we might see on our campus. My! my! On our campus we can't get enough of this problem because we need training and practice in this field. However, we must temper our practice with finesse.

Consequently and finally, gentlemen, the college's reputation is in your hands. Take good care of it. —D.J.

VOTE . . .

In a democracy, governments are said to represent the people. But simple arithmetic shows that if, for instance, only 30 percent of the people vote, and the elected candidates win by the skin of their teeth, then they actually represent about 16 percent of the people.

Such results undermine the very meaning of democracy, for instead of a government that ought to represent the people, we reap a representative body of one small faction.

There must be a missing link in this procedure—a link that no constitution mentions, no laws define, and no authority, however strong can enforce. This unwritten law depends upon the maturity of every citizen, and trusts that the people's feeling of responsibility and conscious participation in state affairs will square matters and insure a truly democratic and representative government.

Two kinds of people refrain from casting their votes: The too irresponsible, and these are excusable, and the good but so arrogant people that they believe it a pity to waste their precious vote on anybody but themselves. How many such people we have at Poly shall be found after ballot counting in the coming election of student government officers.

The candidates we have so far are a nice bunch of trustworthy, competent students which makes it difficult for most of us to make a clear choice. Feeling that anyone is as good as the other, we are tempted to take a passive attitude and let things go.

Even if there was only one candidate, then for Pete's sake let's all vote and back him up with such impetus that he will always remember that there is an alert student body behind him of whose confidence he is worthy and to whose interest he is responsible.

DAY NURSERY OPENS FOR POLY ROYAL

Mothers and Fathers your worries are over. That is, if you have been wondering what you are going to do with your offspring this Poly Royal.

It has been brought to the attention of John Patterson, of the Poly Royal pictorial Pattersons, that there will be a day nursery Saturday, May 1, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Hillcrest lounge.

Mrs. Besse Weekes, R. N. San Luis Obispo high school nurse, and her assistant, Mrs. Les Sahm, wife of a former Poly student, will reign as "mothers for a day."

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Last week's letter from Dresden Smith brought forth a sharp comment from those of your staff who seem to be "in the know" about the home concert. Your counter attack was well written, and your statistics were probably correct, but you dodged the issue presented in Mr. Smith's letter. Regardless of the number of seats sold or not sold, Mr. Smith did see people standing. . . .

Couldn't this situation have been avoided by selling reserved seats?

Finally you stated that the buying of tickets was discouraged. The discouragement offered to me was that they had run out of student tickets, and that I would have to pay the full price of a regular ticket.

I feel that Mr. Smith had firm grounds for complaint, and that the two articles following his letter were designed to make him look ridiculous in order to draw attention away from a situation that needs straightening out.

Signed: Dean H. Luxton

Ed Note. El Mustang did not intend to ridicule Mr. Smith nor did it purposely try to excuse a mistake. Our editor's note was factual. The letter following Mr. Smith's letter was signed. However, we agree with Mr. Luxton in that a similar situation will need better handling.

Dear Students,

Are you prepared for the new social order? Are you awake to the underlying causes of the critical situation we are encountering today?

Last Friday I attended a meeting that was held in the Presbyterian Educational building. The topic being discussed was Technocracy Inc. The main speaker of the evening was dressed in a gray uniform as were the rest of his fellow Technocrats. He gave a snappy hand salute and started in with his speech. I was a little surprised, so I looked around to see if there were any officers present.

The first topic of his speech was "control". We must have control—Namely control of Canada, United States, Central and South America, Greenland, and the surrounding islands. However, the control must come quietly and quickly. No rough stuff. He continued about incidentals like money, working hours, and housing to name a few. Money would be eliminated and consequently all debts, taxes, insurance, etc. Working hours would be reduced in direct ratio to the diminishing total of man-hours required. Ultimately, under planned operation, working hours could be reduced to four hours per day, four days a week.

All houses would be redesigned, regular machines for living, for the entire population. The houses would measure up to the standards of modern technology. There would be no mortgages, taxes, or financial assessments.

At this point someone asked if a few windows could be opened as it seemed a little stuffy.

Technocracy's work is based on a scientific analysis and synthesis of the social mechanism of the entire North American Continent. "It derives nothing from and is opposed to democracy."

Any individual who is a citizen of the country of the North American Continent in which he resides is eligible for membership in Technocracy Inc.—with the following exceptions: No aliens, no politicians or supporters of any political party are eligible for membership. What he meant was that this new social order is just for us superior North American Continenters.

Those of you who didn't have enough of the last war and who are interested in selling out your government be sure to attend the next meeting of Technocracy, Inc. 8109 S. Vermont Avenue, Los Angeles 44, California.

Dear Editor:

. . . . For the third time this year, I have been forced to purchase books at the local bookstore. I am not a veteran and therefore must buy my own book. When is somebody going to do something about the excess profits that apparently are being made from the high prices that prevail at the store? On several occasions I have purchased articles at the bookstore only to find that they could be had at a more reasonable price at the bookstores in town. . . . Bill Hower

FROM THE DESK OF THE EXCHANGE EDITOR

The people and the government of the United States are afraid of inflation. Public speakers over the nation call for action to prevent it. The President called a special session of Congress to deal with it. We have good reason to be afraid. We have read of its results in China, and we had a taste of it after the last war.

But most people immediately say, "What can I do? I am only one person." That's true, but you can do something.

Let's look at our own campus. One of the "Campus Hangouts" raised the prices of hamburgers last fall to 20 cents. Some students acted. They told this owner that he would be boycotted if he Rank & File...

—BY JIM CARLEY—

This column is in no way affiliated with the guidance center when it comes to finding positions for the graduate students. However, here is some advice given as gratuity for those lucky June graduates. (For those who find it difficult to leave dear old Poly they can always turn to writing a feature column.)

If you want to make easy money forget your major fields and go into the wholesale business. If you choose to work in your major fields you will find that the road you travel contains a lot of hard work, and presents slim chances of getting rich.

However, if the advice that is here so generously given is heeded—you may enjoy prosperity and all the things that go with it. Why work when more money can be made by letting the other fellow do the work?

A wool grower sells his wool at the market. The wool is processed and made into a suit. Now let us say that it costs about 20 dollars to make this suit. It is sold to a wholesaler for 25 dollars. The wholesaler sells this suit for 50 dollars. He has made 100% profit, and all he has done has been to store this suit for a short time and then ship it.

There are many times when the suits change hands immediately without the need of storage. So why work when you can do so well as a "middle-man"? If you are really interested in this inexhaustible source of revenue but doubt the possibilities why not take a little time and study the automobile field?

Here one may find the ultimate in wholesalers. These omnibus barons exceed by far those oriental barkers found in the fabulous 'Thieves Market of Shanghai'. Their profit may go over the 100% mark every day of the week, depending on the gullibility of the customers.

I hope that I have aided some of the graduates in choosing a pleasant occupation. If I ever come to your bazaar it is hoped that you will give me the usual discount, and we will call everything even. We are all interested in making an honest dollar are we not?

File Thirteen - - -

An inmate in one of our local institutions for the mental jitterbugs stayed in his room all day completely nude except for a high silk hat. The head doctor visited him and asked why he wore such an unusual costume.

"Well," said the inmate, "no one ever visits me here, I'm all alone, so why wear clothes."

"That sounds quite sane and rational, but why do you wear the top hat?"

"You never can tell, somebody just might drop in!"

The San Luis Obispo Little Theater could easily be mistaken for a Poly camp meeting. Just about the whole cast of the present play, and most of the back-stage workers are either students, or wives of students or teachers.

OIC with the long snake whip is Mrs. Celia Leary, wife of our English instructor by the same name. Directing a play must be something like running an army: no worries at all, just sit back, let nature take its course, and go nuts on the half-shell.

The two citizens of SLO in the cast are Jim and Margaret Fleishman. Maggie plays the part of Mary, the woman who causes all the troubles, and Jim takes the part of her father. Nice switch.

The other gals in the show are Ruth Smith, also married to an English teacher; and Betty Jo Bewley, of the high kicking drum majorette Bewleys. This show has all kinds of talent. Tough that most of it is hidden by the new look.

By the way, the play is titled, "The Partners," a story of old California during the gold rush days. The production is due to open during the Fiesta de las Flores next month. All beards worn by the cast, (male) will be the real thing.

Ye olde hero will be played by John Robinson, Science and Humanities major. His partner will be Elmer Mettler, a freshman in Sols. Dave Morgan, EE major will portray an Englishman who isn't quite sure about the whole thing.

Tom Sutton, Animal Husbandry major from North Carolina, will play the loud talking, hard drinking Senator. The villain, (hisssssss) is Jay Davis, another AH man.

Sam, the ex-circus performer, who gives it all up for Betty Jo, is played with true realism by Myron Knecht. (can you blame him?) There is also a Chinaman in the melodrama who does little, but seems to have a good time doing it, who looks an awful lot like my twin brother.

The mob of miners and their ladies will be made up from the Friday night square dance group of Hillcrest lounge.

didn't drop his prices. He refused and was boycotted for two days. His prices were reduced. Yet, if these students had not acted those prices would have remained and, like in a football game, the loudest moans would have come from the sideline.

Unfortunately, most people are too weak to act alone. They will wait for someone else to start to act. "Live today," they cry, "someone will take care of tomorrow." But someone else won't. We are the masters of today and tomorrow.

Pimentel Carries Torch For Freedoms; Agrees With Government Official

Student Body President Gene Pimentel, an honorary member of the San Luis Obispo Rotary club, today told reporters that he was in agreement with comments made by Harper Sibley, former president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, at last Monday's meeting of the Rotary club.

"Sibley believes that there will always be a fight for freedom, and that peace cannot be brought about by police powers," Pimentel said.

"When a man who has served on many high governmental commissions, as Harper Sibley has, makes the statement 'that police control eventually eliminates freedom of the press, freedom of speech and civil liberties,' he is expressing sentiments dear to every believer of democracy," Pimentel stated.

Pimentel reviewed the remainder of Sibley's talk as follows:

Running the gamut of contemporary world problems, Sibley told Rotarians that the "fight for freedom will last forever."

Sibley an active member of many governmental commissions and an intimate acquaintance of many high ranking government officials, owns two ranches in San Luis Obispo county and spends a portion of each year here. Last year, he and Mrs. Sibley, who is equally prominent as a leader of national women's organizations, toured eight countries of Europe during August, September and October. They also toured the Holy Land mostly on foot last year in order to gain a more complete understanding of the problems surrounding the Palestine partition, Sibley stated.

Criticizing John L. Lewis for his "dictatorial methods," Sibley stated that he has served with Lewis on several commissions and considers many of the national labor leader's present actions as a direct result of being "frustrated in his search for power."

Sibley recalled on one occasion an interview with President Franklin Roosevelt immediately following a hearing which the President had granted Lewis. "Lewis came out of the President's office obviously in an ill-temper, and in discussing the matter with the President I learned that Roosevelt had been forced to tell Lewis that the union's contributions to the Democratic campaign funds did not give Lewis the right to dictate terms to the government," Sibley stated.

Sibley prefaced his remarks on Lewis with the statement that he has interests in several coal mines, and that he considers Lewis' method of selecting all mine union officials directly instead of allowing the union members to elect their own representatives a definite breach of democratic processes.

Referring to the Palestine problem, Sibley pointed out how many races and religious groups in the United States live more or less harmoniously, but that the situation in the Holy Land is exactly the reverse. "Although the Arabs, the Jews and the Christians all trace their lineage back to Abraham, they do not live as brothers in Palestine. Even the Christians do not cooperate among themselves," Sibley stated.

In summing up the European recovery problem, with particular reference to Germany, Sibley said that there are three methods of handling the problem, open to the United States. "First," he said, "we could pull out completely, but that would result in chaos. Secondly, we can keep on sending food, but refuse to offer the Germans any opportunity to help themselves; which is the situation as it exists today," he stated.

The last method, and the one which Sibley recommends, is the Marshall Plan for helping them to rebuild their own future, with a pooling of all the resources of Western Europe.

Sibley stated that his observations in England indicated that the situation there is critical. "They are in a predicament of being forced to export the very things which they need."

In Poland and Czechoslovakia the vast majority of the people are against communism, but the police state controlled by Russia holds the people in terror and subjection, Sibley claims.

Sibley sees the struggle in the world today as one between those devoted to freedom, and the police control of Russia, which eliminates freedom of press, freedom of speech and all personal liberties.

"The Marshall Plan is an attempt to save those who are not yet under that police control, but it will not be the financial power of the United States which will achieve

Installation Of Power Transformers Completes Contract

Arrival of the long overdue transformers this week, has enabled the Leonardi Electric company to complete its contract at Cal Poly, according to information received from C. E. Knott, industrial division head.

The contract included the wiring of 188 trailers in the Veterans housing site, and the installing of necessary transformers on power poles. The hanging of these transformers eliminates the need of the Diesel engine generator which has been supplying power to the Farm Machinery building. The greater portion of the Diesel generated power to the air strip hangar has also been eliminated. At the hangar transformers will facilitate the use of single-phase motors, 120 to 240 volts. However, a diesel engine is still required to supply power to three-phase motors of 220 and 440 volts.

Eckert Speaks At Student Assembly

Dr. Ralph Eckert, formerly an instructor at the College of Pacific and a former assistant to Dr. Robert Keys of the University of California, gave a lecture to the student body at the assembly held last week. His topic was "Making a Success of Marriage."

At the same assembly Jay Tucker presented the student body with a $25 Savings bond, donated by the Alpha Phi Sigma.

The assembly concluded with the singing of the Alma Mater.

the desired result, but rather the inspiration to those people of our own freedom," Sibley concluded.

Graduate Praised For His Success In Honduras

Paul Dougherty, crops department head, has announced that he has received word from Knowles A. Ryerson, Dean and Director of the University of California at Davis, that Don Feister, Poly graduate of 1946, is spreading the Cal Poly theory of "learn by doing" at the Escuela Agrícola Panamericana in Honduras.

Ryerson, who is traveling through Honduras, stated that Feister is in charge of and teaching a fruit production program at the school. Ryerson commended Feister on doing a "grand job" for the students there and stated that the boys like him very much. He added that the school is doing a great deal in instructing the people of the Latin American countries to take pride in work with their hands.

This weekend the Mustangs travel to San Jose to vie against the powerful Spartans. The San Jose mermen are in second place in the conference, being put there by the College of Pacific. The Mustangs lost a meet to the San Jose boys earlier in the year, but with the squad showing more and more improvement with every meet, a close tussle is very probable.

DO YOU LEAD A DOUBLE LIFE?

(Everybody does!)

And to make the transition easier, Arrow brings you that dual purpose shirt—the Doubler, which looks as well without a tie on a golf course as it does with a tie for a dinner date.

Doubler is made in crisp Gordon oxford cloth, the favorite fabric of American college men, and bears the Sanforized label (assurance of less than 1% shrinkage.)

Drop in after class and pick out a couple of Arrow Doublers. They come in white and blue oxford, and are sized like regular shirts. Price $4.00.

WHY...I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"I think Chesterfield is the best cigarette on the market. I've smoked them for about 20 years. It's mild and it's got more real tobacco taste."

"Liggett & Myers buy the middle leaves... it's the best leaf... it's mellow... it's got to be ripe. They consistently pay above the average to get the tobacco they want."
