S.A.C. Hears Reports From Committee As Year's Work Begins

The Student Affairs Council met last Tuesday night for their first meeting of the year. The main purpose of the meeting was to hear progress reports from the General Manager of the 1947 Poly Royal, and of the awards and constitution revision committees.

Milton Brown, Chairman of this year's Poly Royal, reported on the work done to date in preparation for the annual show.

Brown stated that most of the work done so far fell into the category of either public relations or organizational work. He promised that the committee would soon announce the details of the selection of this year's queen. He stated that the worst snag to date was in the plans for the barbecue.

"We are still struggling with this problem, but we expect to have it satisfactorily answered in the near future," he continued.

The report of the awards committee was read and after a good deal of discussion the matter was referred back to the committee for further study and action.

The chairman of the constitution revision committee, Blick Wells, announced that a good deal of work had been accomplished. He stated that the next meeting of the committee would deal with that setting up a controlling body which would work in close conjunction with the administration. Blick announced that the next meeting of the committee will be tonight at 7 p.m. in room 209 of the Administration building. He emphasized the point that all those who are interested in these sessions.

It was announced at the S.A.C. meeting that all meetings concerning students or faculty members, whether on or off campus, should be scheduled through C. O. McCormick's office. This move is made necessary because of the conflicts that are now occurring between a great many activities.

Other matters discussed or acted are welcome to attend the committee, a report on the World Student Service campaign, and a report on future assemblies.

New Instructor Introduced at Crops Club Meet

At a recent meeting of the Crops club, Paul Dougherty, head of the crops department, introduced Dr. Carter, a new soils instructor, who has recently become a member of the faculty. Dr. Carter has been connected with the Soils Conservation Service and the Soils Reclamation Service for quite a few years. Although Dr. Carter has not yet started to teach, he has invited any student with a problem to bring the problem to him for a possible solution. Paul Dougherty also expressed his desire that some day a soils major might be added to the curricula.

In compliance with a request made by Robert Kennedy, Mustang faculty advisor, that every club should have a club reporter, John Colombini was nominated to fulfill the request.

Frosh Council Plans Election

With Guy Ferrell officiating, the Freshman council members held a meeting last Wednesday to discuss the future meetings and events of the Frosh class.

Having only two officers and one executive member left (Guy Ferrell, Lefty Downing, and Bill Othart) it was decided to have nominations for a new Freshman president and vice-president at a meeting to be held next Tuesday at 6:30 in the A.C. Aud.

Those who have nominees for the above offices should present them at that time. Music and a movie will precede adjournment of the meeting.

Novel Setting Featured at Dairy Dance

With praise coming from all quarters, the Dairy Club's dance last Saturday night exceeded all expectations, and gave to the several hundred dancing guests a most unique and original dance setting. Eucalyptus branches were suspended from the center rafters of the gymnasium to give the appearance of a tropical garden—the colored fluorescent lighting that filtered through the leaves added color and warmth, and Don Neaton's Collegians gave out with music that made everybody want to dance. The wishing well in the center of the floor had many couples making that 1947 wish, which they hope will come true.

Credit for the unusual decorations goes to decorations Chairman K. Freeman, Bill Armstrong, social chairman, and the handful of club members who really gave out with the "real" Cal Poly spirit. Dave Finley and Ray House did a fine job serving cokes and chocolate milk from the refreshment stand in the bleachers.

Among the faculty members present were Mr. and Mrs. George Drumm of the dairy department, and Dr. Slinger of the English department. Out of town guests included Mr. Fisher, Jim's father, and his brother Ed, who came up from Fullerton; Bill Armstrong's wife, who came in from La Verne, and John Shen's mother, father and brother, who came up from Glendale.

Prompt Aid for Income Tax Ills

"What should I do about my income tax?" was the topic for discussion in Mr. Beck's accounting classes last Friday.

Mr. Archie R. McCormick, deputy in charge of the local internal revenue office, was present and explained the various ways of making returns and also answered questions in regard to specific problems. Mr. Robert D. Leitcher, deputy collector, was also present.

Mr. McCormick brought out the fact that many students here are entitled to refunds on taxes withheld from their earnings and that his office at 1135 Chorro street is only too willing to assist them in making their returns. Any student or faculty member may obtain assistance by calling at his office.

Poly Project Lambs Top All Records at South S.F.

Two hundred project lambs from Cal Poly's Animal Husbandry department topped all time records for commercial lambs at the South San Francisco livestock market last Friday, Jan. 17. The lambs, bought by Swift and Co. were sold at twenty-five cents a pound. This price goes down as the record price in the northern California yards. The lambs were described as exceptionally hard and their dressing percentage was very high.

'Hard Times' Friday Evening

Are you out of money and find that you need that green lettuce to go places and be on an equal footing with the rest of society? Well, here is the chance to be one of the crowd and on an equal basis with everyone else. Yes, the "Hard Times" Dance tomorrow evening will be the place to meet and make friends with those in the same class you find yourself.

The dress? Wear the oldest rag you have—that worn out shirt and pair of pants, and that faded wash dress is the formal dress for the evening. Times are really hard, so with that in mind the Agricultural Engineers, sponsors of the dance, think that the young lady and gentleman who give the best appearance of being down on their luck will be given prizes to help them on the road of life. There will also be a chance for other couples during the intermission to get in on this increase of good fortune.

Music for tomorrow evening's dance will be furnished by the Collegians, Poly's dance band.

Gama Pi Delta Frat Reorganizes

The first post-war meeting of the Gamma Pi Delta Fraternity was held January 15. Officers elected were: Al Park, president; Al Quist, vice-president; Benton Caldwell, secretary-treasurer, and George Forester, sergeant-at-arms. Meetings will be held the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

The next meeting will be held January 28, at 7 p.m., in room 214 of the administration building.

Most of the lamb owners and several members of the third year sheep production class were present at the sale. Spelman Collins, Poly sheep specialist, took the students to the South San Francisco market to see the marketing and to visit outstanding sheep producers in the Sacramento Valley in a three day field trip.

EARLY START

The men left during the small hours of Friday morning and reached the livestock market in time to see the sale. They were then conducted through the Swift packing plant, and treated to luncheon by the packing company.

The next stop was at the University of California campus in Davis. Professor Robert Miller, U.C. sheep specialist, greeted the boys. They were provided with housing facilities for two nights on the Davis farm, and were shown through the sheep plant facilities and campus.

VISIT SHEEPMEN

On Saturday, January 18, the class visited the ranches of five sheepmen in the Davis area. They first saw the ranch of Howard Vaughn, president of the California Wool Growers and breeder of Suffolk and Corriedale sheep. Vaughn's ranch is near Dixon.

They then went to the A.T. Spencer outfit at Winters. Spencer is an outstanding California breeder of Romeldales.

SURPRISE LUNCH

The next stop was at the Fred Coble ranch, also at Winters. Mrs. Coble graciously fed the entire bunch of thirty two visitors a welcome lunch of chicken and beans. The Coble ranch specializes in Suffolks.

SEE NEW PASTURE CROP

Their last visit was to the ranch of William Campbell at Dixon. Campbell runs 1100 head of Corriedale, Suffolk and Columbia sheep. He is also the first user of Birds-

Poly Collegiate FFA Organized

A Collegiate Chapter of the Future Farmers of America was organized on the Cal Poly campus at a meeting held last Thursday.

The only other organization of this kind in the state is at the College of Agriculture at Davis.

The primary purpose of this group is to meet and discuss problems and present information pertinent to prospective agricultural teachers. Students who intend to become agricultural teachers are eligible for membership in the Collegiate Chapter of the FFA.

Officers elected were President, John Jones; Vice-President, Loren McNicholl; Secretary, David Flipse; Treasurer, Al Parks.

Although this Collegiate Chapter has no active connection with the High School FFA, it is registered with the State FFA Association and will lend its efforts to the furtherance of Future Farmer work, as well as agricultural teacher training.

Meetings will be held on the second Tuesday of each month.

'Dear John' Gets Letter Of the Week

By JOHN PATTERSON

It is with fear and trepidation that the editor looks at his mail. Most of the time your editor knows that the letters will be bad news. But once in a great while someone comes up with an item which makes life almost rosy. This week the editor found such an item, and rather than bury it on an inside page we are going to produce it here. The rest of the "Dear John" column is rather discouraging to anyone trying to go through life as an optimist. But look at this:

Dear John:

A lot of students are asking themselves and others why Cal Poly does not become a co-ed college. According to our poll it is a unanimous vote for co-education.

Below are listed some of the reasons why we think Cal Poly should become co-ed:

- 1—The morals would increase 100 per cent.
a. Manners.
b. Appearance.
c. Language.
d. Social Education.
- 2—It would make Cal Poly better known.
a. Increase enrollment.
b. It would mean that degrees now offered would become more widely recognized.
- 3—Financial status would increase.
a. Increase student participation in intercollegiate activities.

Therefore, we of the Co-educational movement believe that something should be done about this matter as soon as possible.

If there is any opposition to our plan, we would like to talk it over with you.

"The Co-educational Movement" (Signed) President, S. L. Litzle, Jr. Vice-Pres., J. K. Stark Sec.-Treas., W. O. Phlegley Ex.-Sec., G. P. Hovley

The only thing the editor doesn't like about this letter is that the Co-educational Movement doesn't list their address. El Mustang will probably be swamped with applications to join the movement and we have no place to refer the applicants.

Then too, there is the last paragraph of the letter. That seems to this timid soul full of threats, unwritten perhaps, but none-the-less present. "... talk it over with you." Do they mean with a horse-whip or what? Perhaps this item is not as rosy tinged as we had hoped.

Where's the Rally Committee

We hope the Rally Committee of California State Polytechnic will not take it amiss if we suggest that they get busy and provide some support for our basketball team.

This team may not have won many games but they are undoubtedly one of the scrappiest, fightingest quintets in the league. They deserve the support of the entire student body.

It is the duty of the Rally Committee to lead and to mold that support. We know that the difficulties are immense but a few yells rendered while the team is in the locker room at the half hardly adds up to the discharge of the Rally Committee's responsibilities.

Come on gentlemen; let's show some of the great spirit which our hoopsters deserve.

The Power of the Press

The desk of the editor of El Mustang is the place where a great deal of propaganda of various sorts finally lands. Some of this material is interesting, some of it worthwhile, some of it is commercial, and some of it is political. The editor reads almost all of it; he promptly forgets most of the items.

This week he received, among other samples of words, a letter from "The Fact Finders", a copy of The Astec, and a copy of The Silver and Gold. These three items have a thread of continuity. Ordinarily your editor would throw away the letter, and, after searching for usable jokes in the two student papers, file them.

The letter, signed by one R. M. Angier, Analyst, seems to be concerned with communism in the schools and some of the bureaucratic tendencies of the Administration of the U. S. The Astec contains an editorial concerning the letter, presumably the same as the one we have, written by R. M. Angier. The Silver and Gold, organ of the University of Colorado, has a good deal of space devoted to an organization on the Boulder Campus which is called the American Youth for Democracy. This organization is alleged, by some, to be tainted by the red ideas of communism.

There isn't a great deal of point to all of this discussion, except that it is interesting to notice how the epithet "communism" arouses most of the people of this country. Because this is true, which perhaps is strange in a land where s. o. b. is becoming a rather common endearment, the results are amusing to watch.

It would not surprise us at all if future editions of The Astec contain letters to the editor concerning the communistic trend of that editor. At least, he will be accused of being a rabid "New Dealer." Perhaps he is even a member of the Democratic party. This editor takes exception to some of the things he says in his editorial. But that is a personal opinion of a matter which does not really concern the editor of El Mustang.

The columns devoted to the A. Y. D. in The Silver and Gold have reached a point where this editor is confused. Probably some of the issues of the paper are missing in our files. At any rate, any outside reader who misses an issue and doesn't keep up with how their battle is running is lost unless he indulges in some little research.

Which brings to mind a bit of self criticism. Your editor perhaps had better wonder how the issues of El Mustang look to those who are not right on the campus of Cal Poly. Are we guilty of writing obscure innuendo and of creating teapot tempests?

And as for the letter. We have no doubt but what R. M. Angier is receiving a great many answers to his letter. We feel that most of the staid and stodgy business men who get the epistle will immediately begin to investigate the texts used in the schools of their many localities. They will probably tremble at the thought of having their children contaminated by the "red plague of Moscow."

All of this from a few words. Some of them written to arouse people to great efforts of action; some, no doubt, written to fill space, and some probably written in great and unthinking haste.

Cleopatra and Mark Antony were floating down the Nile on her flower-bedecked barge. Cleopatra was lying on a couch; Antony was standing before her orating.

"Cleopatra," he said, "love for you surges through me like a raging forest fire that consumes the countryside. Furthermore, O Goddess of the Nile—"

"Mark," Cleo interrupted impatiently, "I am not prone to argue."

Dear John...

The "Dear John" column is open to the letters from anyone connected with the school. Letters should not exceed 200 words. All letters must be signed by the contributor's correct name. Names will be withheld upon request.

Jan. 16, 1947

Dear John:

I would like to qualify your request for contributions for the Mustang. Your request should read "Only professional or otherwise experienced men need apply."

It seems the copy I turn in does not meet with your approval or come up to your high standards. Perhaps I had better quit wasting your time and mine with useless dribble.

But my hat is off to the Mustang.

Harry C. Mellon
EX-Reporter Los Lecheros
P. S. I wonder if this (My last contribution) will get printed.

Ed. Note:

We are sorry to see that Harry is leaving us. Professional men are not what El Mustang needs. We can use any reporter who is willing to learn a little bit about newspaper style, and who has some background in an English class. "Learn by doing" is still the college motto. That means that material that isn't what we need must be rewritten until the reporter learns to write in something like "news" style. We are afraid, Harry, that you had the wrong slant on student publications.

Dear John:

Are the instructors' children exempt from campus traffic rules? It seems that a certain daughter in a '46 Buick nearly ran down another vehicle because she ran through a college stop sign doing 25 miles per hour.

Also are instructors able to cut up the new campus road with trailers and discs while students cannot work on their cars for fear of making a mess?

"What is good for the goose is good for the gander."
Name withheld for obvious reasons.
Curious.

Dear John:

Damn these people that won't return text papers.

The reason that we are in school is to improve ourselves and improvement is through the correction of mistakes. Even a minutes glance at an old text paper in the Prof's. office doesn't help at home-work study.

What are they trying to do? He tyrants?

LOOKIN' ON...

with GLENN ARTHUR

Before I start tearing people down and building others up, which will be one of my objectives in this column, I should introduce myself. I'm just an ordinary Poly student who wants to see a bigger and better Poly and who gets gripped at all of the complaining about this rag and how it is run. There are nearly 1500 students cavorting around this campus and only ten or fifteen of them take a real interest in this rag. I will personally answer any "Dear John" letter after I have investigated the writer and found him worthy of answering.

If the SAC committee on improvements needs any suggestions, I have a few that they could consider, if they would. For instance, the parking situation is intolerable but areas are slowly but surely being provided for all of the heaps. There is a definite need for street lights all over the campus, and that should be high on the list for immediate installation. There should be white lines on all of the roads around the campus, especially on those screwy corners around the Ad building. Another improvement that is not necessary but would add to appearances would be lights on the clock tower of the Ad building. It would help a poor guy like me (who has to hock his watch every so often) to keep up with the time so I can regulate my "study" hours.

I guess it is in order to hand out a bouquet to the Los Lecheros for a very nice job on their dance. The decorations showed that a lot of work had been done. From where I sat it looked like everybody was having a good time. Of course the leche-jug that was served at the bar coated my ulcers, and I never can go to sleep when my ulcers are unhappy.

It has been brought to my attention that there are quite a few students here on the campus still carrying the torch for their high school by wearing letterman sweaters. It is high time for you gents to realize that you are no longer a big frog in a little pond but merely a little frog in a big pond. If you are so proud of your athletic accomplishments in high school how about showing them off for Poly; we need some boxers swimmers, basketball players, baseball players, and with spring practice coming up very soon, football players will be needed. But to really get to the point about letters from other schools, it is against Poly tradition. Things might happen if said letters and sweaters are not removed very, very soon. It gets mighty cold walking in from Avila in the wee hours. Could be.

I saw one of the oldtimers so excited at the COP game he was refereeing from the second row bleachers. If he had been in the front row, there would have been a couple less COP players and the closest ref would have been limping. It sure would be a madhouse if everybody got so worked up, but I hope that this rabid roster picks up where he left off at the next game.

Who is the Frosh president? Somebody should get on him so that he will get a band of Frosh up to clean the "P" and get some white-wash on it. That is strictly a Frosh job, and brother, it has been neglected sadly this year. Maybe the Frosh could round up some of the punier Sophs to do the dirty work but cleaning the "P" is a must. Right now it is a disgrace to Poly.

As you dear readers will undoubtedly find out, I write about anything, so you may find a sports item in this column now and then. Right now I'd like to put in my two-bits' worth about our basketballers. Even though they lost by more than a few points to COP and dropped a close one at Fresno, those kids played their heads off. There are some boys out there that can play on my team any time. IF we only had one player that was 6'4" tall, these last three games would be to our good. Those kids are going to play with all they have got right on through the season, win or lose.

Drop Third CCAA Cage Tilt; Poly Seeks Southern Wins

Fresno Downs Poly 62-52

Cal Poly's Mustangs dropped their third straight 2C2A tilt last Saturday evening to the towering Bulldogs of Fresno State College by a score of 62-52. With such giants as John Toomasian, Vern Higgins, and George Becknell controlling both backboards, the "Mott-men" could do very little to overcome the 18-9 lead piled up by Fresno after 7 minutes of play. A couple of set-shots and fouls by "Hank" Moroski, plus one-handers by Leo Rosa and "Whitey" Tilstra helped to keep the Mustangs in the game during the first half.

The second half began with a flurry of Fresno tallies that found Poly trailing by 19 points. John Toomasian, high scorer for the Bulldogs with 12 markers, sparked the drive. The 6 foot 8 inch negro boy, Vern Higgins, whose rebound work was outstanding throughout the evening contributed to the attack.

With less than ten minutes of playing time remaining in the game "Hank" Moroski put on one of the most spectacular offensive performances ever seen in Fresno County. After being closely guarded throughout the game, Moroski let loose with an avalanche of field goals from every part of the floor. His drive-in plays and jump shots amazed the wide-eyed fans, and also narrowed the Bulldog lead to 10 points as the game ended.

High point men for the Mustangs were Moroski with 25 and Tilstra who chalked-up 11. Fresno scoring honors were almost evenly distributed among the starting team. Toomasian with 12 was tops over Higgins who made 11.

Ski Club Approves New Constitution

At a meeting of the Ski club held last Monday evening, members approved and accepted a new constitution for the organization, and unanimously approved as faculty advisor Miss Margaret Doud, chemistry instructor.

Plans were discussed for the coming weekend trip to Yosemite National Park, January 31 and February 1, 1947.

A special meeting has been announced for tonight, at which time final arrangements for the trip will be made. All members who have made a trip deposit are urged to attend this meeting.

Mustangs Meet Chapman, Poets in Weekend Tilts

Couch Bob Mott's men go south this weekend for two games. On Friday evening they take on Chapman College in a return engagement. Saturday night the Mustangs tangle with a powerful Whittier quintet. At present the Poets are leading the Southern California College Conference.

Chapman will present a much improved team and since their first meeting Poly hasn't clicked with a winning combination. The Mustangs have presented a very formidable offense in all games, but their defense has not held up. Despite this, they have not been outfought and show plenty of fight from the word go, down to the final whistle. The probable starting lineup for Friday night will be: Rosa, forward; Roberts, forward; Ball, center; Moroski, guard; Tilstra, guard.

Poly Wins Two, Gets One Draw In Gaucho Bouts

Cal Poly and Santa Barbara boxers furnished an evening of good boxing last Friday night when the two schools met for the first time in an Inter-Collegiate boxing meet before 1100 fans in the Santa Barbara Armory. The boxing card was made up of seven inter-squad fights and an exhibition bout between Hany Matthews, 140; and Bill Cormier, 140, both of Santa Barbara College. Following is the program and results:

Herman Fogata, 122, Santa Barbara, decisioned Art Gugliemelli, 122, Cal Poly, 3 rounds.

Bobby Garcia, 132, Santa Barbara, former 2C2A runner-up, decisioned Wiley Day, 137, Cal Poly, 3 rounds.

Russ Barr, 153, Cal Poly and Bill Gressett fought a 3 round draw. Wm. Ljunggren, 160, Cal Poly, decisioned Cliff Gilbert, 152, Santa Barbara, 3 rounds.

Sam Cathcart, 157, Santa Barbara, scored a TKO over Nat Schuster, 161, Cal Poly, 1 min. 30 sec. 3rd round.

Buck Levine, 157, Santa Barbara, decisioned Fern Sanchez, 155, Cal Poly, 3 rounds.

Howard "Hot" Rosen, 159, Cal Poly, decisioned Wally Cole, 162, Santa Barbara in 1 min. 45 sec. of 3rd. round. Decision resulted from NCAA rules code. Cole threw his left shoulder out of joint and in case when a fighter cannot continue after the first round the decision goes to the man ahead on points at the time.

Trouble: Some folks are so fond of trouble they can't enjoy honey for thinking of what might have happened if the bee had stung them.

C. O. P. Whips Poly Quintet

by JIRO KAI

Led by 6' 6" Jack Toomay, the Tigers from College of Pacific clawed their way to a 89-57 victory over Poly at last Friday's match. The Tigers, who were hotter than a two-dollar pistol, couldn't seem to miss the hoop. At half time they led Poly 39-22.

With Rosa and a newcomer, Ray Roberts, of Fullerton, hitting the bucket, Poly started to come to life during the first stages of the second half. The Mustangs drew close to the COP score, and with ten minutes left in the game, trailed by 12 points.

Then fireworks started. Toomay, who had been out, came back into the game and Pacific was off to the races. During the last ten minutes of the game COP outscored Poly 39-17. Leading the parade for Pacific was Toomay, who scored 20 points. He was followed by Franz with 15 points, and Dunlap with 13.

The only bright spot in Poly's defeat was the playing of guard Hank Moroski and Ray Roberts. Moroski, fighting hard all the way, was closely guarded the entire evening and was held to a lone field goal. He did, however, make good on 11 out of 12 free throws. Roberts made seven field goals, most of them difficult shots, and one charity toss to pace the Poly score.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By JOE GRIFFIN

Last Friday afternoon Cal Poly's boxing team left the campus for Santa Barbara to take on the Santa Barbara Gauchos. They didn't realize at the time that two of their boys were not only going to have to fight an opponent but also the referee and one judge. That one judge must be thinking of running for office down there; he certainly was a crowd pleaser.

I went along mainly for the ride and the possibility of seeing a couple of good fights. All the fights were good, but I witnessed some of the rottenest officiating I've ever seen. I would be willing to bet anybody that Friday night when three people turned in for the evening, two of them couldn't sleep because their consciences wouldn't let them and the other just laughed himself to sleep. These first two were the referee and one of the judges, and the guy who laughed himself to sleep was the Gaucho boxing coach, Joe Lantagne.

It was really sad. When they put two college boys in a ring and come up with a biased decision it shows you how big some people aren't. To top everything off, it was explained to the fans before the fight that the boys were fighting under National Collegiate Athletic Association rules and all fights would be decided on points, the points being given for leadership in several departments, mainly on aggressiveness and ring leadership. I think they interpret aggressiveness in Santa Barbara by how long you hang onto your opponent and generalship by how many times you swing with your eyes closed when your opponent has you cornered. Anyway, that's the way it looked.

Little Art Gugliemelli, Poly's 122 pound freshman from Walla Walla, was the first victim of two very raw decisions. The first round was fairly even, but for points Art took it being the aggressor. In the second, Herman Fogata, Art's opponent, led the fight and took that round. They came out at the bell for the third, and Fogata ran into a hard left, followed by a right that spun him halfway around on his heels. After that Art was complete master of the situation. Before rendering the decision the referee had a chat with a fourth party and then walked over to Fogata's corner and raised his arm as the victor. I thought the house was going to come down, a Santa Barbara crowd at that.

The crowning event of the evening was the fight between Russ Barr, 152, for Poly, and Tommy Gressett, 147, Santa Barbara. Gressett must have a reputation down there because he received the biggest ovation of the evening. This could be one case where an ovation did save a man from losing a fight. In the first place the match was a little uneven because of Barr's reach. Coupling his reach with a good left jab, Barr kept his glove in Gressett's face for three continuous rounds, never once losing control of the fight. I am not taking anything away from the Gaucho fighter because he was a good little boy, but he had too little in too many places. At the end of the fight after some more hokus pokus with the fourth party, who incidentally was not a judge, but the announcer, the referee called the two boys out and the big hearted fellow gave Barr a draw.

After the fights were over, I talked to one of the judges, but all he could offer was sympathy. The other judge, the one that did the damage, must have had to get home to the wife right after the fights because he couldn't be found. The Santa Barbara coach was talking to Chuck Pavelko and Dr. Voltmer, and it was all he could do to keep from laughing. Every dog has his day, but this dog will be pretty well taken care of by the middle of October.

S. B. has a return engagement down here around the last of the this month. When they pull out of San Luis Obispo, they will go back with only the laurels they EARNED, no more, no less. The only things we are liberal with here to visiting teams is friendship and goodwill, and it is only right to expect the same in return.

Sky Men Make Plans

The newly formed Mustang Flying Association, which was to have begun operation the 15th of January, has been held up because of regulations which must be complied with. As a result it will be about the first part of February before full operation of the club will be under way. The club charter arrived last Saturday from Sacramento and the Mustang fliers now have the power to operate as a non-profit corporation.

One of the two planes that were purchased from Government surplus is being checked and painted in the Aero department. This plane is scheduled to be ready to fly within the next few weeks, when the other plane will be moved in and checked and painted.

The instructors for the club will be members who were pilots in the service. The following named men are working for their CAA instructor rating: Al Wilson, Chris Wood, William Bode, and Fred Adams. These men will charge $1.50 an hour for their time as instructors. The rate for the use of the planes will be $3.00 an hour.

Fifty members are now enrolled in the club and only these members will be allowed to fly. Applications for Associate Membership are being accepted and when 25 have been received the club plans to purchase another plane.

Anyone desiring additional information concerning the Mustang Flying Association should contact any of the above mentioned students of the Aero Dept.

Deadline Near on Reinstatement of G. I. Insurance

There are only a few weeks left during which veterans who held wartime National Life Insurance policies and let them lapse may have them reinstated without a physical examination.

Deadline for reinstatement of NSLI term policies which lapsed before August 1, 1946, is February 1 of this year, eight days from today.

A letter of application for reinstatement should be sent to the appropriate office of the VA (Bill Hill). This should be accompanied by a statement to the effect that the veteran is in as good health as he was at the time the insurance was in force, and by a check or money order for two monthly premiums.

After spending Saturday night at the University farm the boys returned to Cal Poly on Sunday.

Charles Ackerman, student at Cal Poly, accompanied the class to shoot motion pictures in color of the highlights of the trip.

Students' Wives

The Students' Wives club is making plans for a fashion show to be held in February. Olive McElvain is in charge of fashions and Irene Rogers is in charge of general arrangements. Irene reports that arrangements are underway and that several local men's and women's stores are backing the affair. The stores included are: Kipper's, Rue Mae, Riley's, Wickensen's, and Mission Tailoring. The styles, of interest to both men and women, will be presented. Try-outs for models were held Tuesday evening, Jan. 21 at 8 p.m.

Tonight, Thursday, January 23 will be the regular meeting night. President Joe Roney extended an invitation to all the members to attend a business meeting at 8 p.m. Husbands of the members are invited to come at 9 for the program which will include a talk by Edna Cook, British War-bride. Dee Mills is chairman of the refreshment committee and she will be assisted by Sue Drake.

The Glee Club is still meeting on Monday evenings at 7:30. This group has presented several programs and expects to fulfill engagements in the future. Contrary to a previous announcement, Mrs. Winn is continuing to conduct the group.

The Folk Dance group will meet next Thursday, Jan. 30. This group is increasing in numbers and hopes others will come out and join the fun.

Meeting Starts Poly NRA Plans

The prospective members of the Poly Gun club met in room 214 to discuss the forming of an organization to give men interested in shooting a chance to fire on the Poly range last Monday night. Dick Stratton was in charge of the meeting and told of the information he had received from the NRA concerning guns and ammunition.

John Perosi, of the local chapter of the NRA, told the 58 men present what rifles were available, and how much they would cost.

It was decided to form a steering committee with Stratton in charge with the 9 NRA members of Poly helping him.

Air Cond. Majors Plan New Policy

Meeting last Thursday, the Air Conditioning students started plans for an active year. At that time, new club officers were elected. Replacing John Miller as president was Everett Miller, and other officers elected were: Vernon Banta, vice-presy; John Van Dyke, secretary; M. C. Dixon, treasurer; Bob King, sergeant-at-arms.

The policy of the year was discussed, which will include the dividing of club responsibilities among several committees, thus giving every member a chance for active participation.

Elementary, My Dear Watson, Or Is It?

Paul T. Watson, Heron Hall habitant has something new to ponder. Watson, according to the Heron Hall reporter, was relaxing at the Fremont recently and in the process removed his shoes to allow his pedal extremities to share the freedom of his soul. Came the end of the picture, and no shoes, empty, were to be found. After a period of search fifty per cent of the absentees was found, but fifty percent remained AWOL.

Watson walked back to Heron Hall with the missing brogan definitely not on his foot. But at the dorm he found his shoe.

Record Year at Poultry Plant

During the past year, 858 pedigree birds who reached maturity from their 1945 hatch produced the amazing average of 257 eggs for the year. Included in this group were 81 birds who laid over 800 eggs, and 8 birds who laid over 920 eggs for the year. The entire flock was uncultured during the year, and 748 birds completed the laying period. This record is impressive when compared with last year's record of 243.3 eggs for the year here at the plant, and with the average of 158 eggs for the state of California.
