Poly Enters Great Western For 20th Consecutive Year

For the twentieth consecutive year Cal Poly's animal husbandry department is ready with the final coat of polish on fat steers, wether lambs and barrow hogs to be shown at the Great Western Livestock Exposition in Los Angeles, Nov. 27 to Dec. 2. Cal Poly has not missed exhibiting at the Great Western since 1934 and boasts several Grand Champions in the western competition. To date, Poly students have shown four Grand Champion and four Reserve Champion steers, four Grand Champion and three Reserve Champion carloads of steers.

Showing Shorthorn steers include: Michael Angst, senior, Los Angeles; Warner Parker, sophomore, Arcadia; Donald Love, junior, Burlingame; and Sheridan Atkinson, junior, Gasella. Peter Defty, sophomore, Menlo Park and Richard Kline, junior, Batesville, Ark., plan to show a carload of Hereford steers. Showing in the lamb division are:

Louis Honka, junior, Lemon Grove; Don Tison, senior, Arvin; George Elkhoff, sophomore, Stockton; and Bill Stuckey, junior, Archibald, Ohio. These students will show three Southdown wether lambs, one Hampshire wether lamb, one Suffolk wether lamb and three cross-bred wether lambs.

In the hog division, Les Goen-veld, junior, Glendale and Jerry Hansen, junior, San Carlos, will show a pen of three Durocs and a pen of three Poland Chinas; Bill Plate, junior, Redwood City and Ted Trompeter, senior, Costa Mesa, will show a pen of three cross-bred hogs.

Poly Takes Ogden Show

California Poly's livestock judging team grabbed its third straight win in intercollegiate competition by taking the thirty-sixth annual Ogden Livestock show last weekend.

Only recently the Poly team walked off with top honors at both the Pacific International at Portland and the Grand National at San Francisco's famed Cow Palace.

It was the first time in the history of the three West Coast shows that a college has won all of them in one year.

Second place at the Ogden event went to Utah State Agricultural College (Logan), and third to Fresno State college. Other competitors were Brigham Young University (Provo, Utah), Colorado A & M (Ft. Collins) and the University of Wyoming (Laramie).

Roy Fellows of Soledad was high individual in the contest and Bert Thurner of El Monte was (Continued on Page Three)

State Examines College Budget

A projected 1955-56 budget of $8,404,127 for the three Cal Poly campuses is now under study in Sacramento, according to latest word from the capital city.

This figure is based on an expected "full time equivalent" enrollment of 4,359 students on the San Luis Obispo and San Dimas campuses. The home campus is preparing for a 3800 enrollment here next year.

The total proposed budget for the 10 California state colleges is over $82,000,000—a 32 per cent increase over the current year.

The budget staff has recommended increasing the fee for out-of-state students to $75 per semester, a recommendation that was endorsed at a meeting of state college presidents in Sacramento Monday.

Estimated enrollments and budget requests for next year include:

Chico state 1475 students, $1,480,580; Fresno state 3900, general and professional $2,657,555, agricultural $415,286; Humboldt state, 900 students, $1,304,804; Los Angeles state, 4500 students, $3,106,064.

Long Beach state, 3200 students, $2,127,017; Sacramento state, 2700 students, $1,895,038; San Diego state, 5500 students, $3,421,000; San Francisco state, 6,950 students, $3,757,025; San Jose state, 2,771 students, $6,722,704; Cal Poly, 4,359 students, $8,404,127.

These figures would place the San Luis Obispo campus sixth in enrollment, and the combined campuses fifth in total enrollment.

The proposed allocation for Cal Poly represents about 10.5 percent of the total budget.

Rose Parade Float Entry Underway

The "My's the Limit!" will be the theme of Cal Poly's float entry in the 1955 Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, was the announcement made today by the southern campus at San Dimas. Once again, both schools are combining their efforts for the yearly entry.

According to the San Dimas release, work on the float has already begun, under the direction of student chairman Harry Bond, junior OH major from Oakland. The frame from last year's float has been stripped and is now being repaired, and the chrysanthemums are being kept under close surveillance for signs of too early blooming or frost damage.

This is the seventh year that Cal Poly has entered a float in the Rose Parade. The college entries, all student designed and built, have won five first places, one third place and an honorable mention in the Education Division.

Nedra Prouse Selected 1955 Poly Royal Queen

Miss Nedra Prouse, brown eyed, Long Beach State coed was named 28th Annual Poly Royal Queen by students gathered for a special assembly in the engineering auditorium last night.

The announcement was made shortly after 10 p.m. by General Superintendent Don Love.

Long Beach State coeds Lynn Lorens and Margo Robertson will serve as princesses along with Altarena McKinnon from the local junior college, and Pat Tagliabue from San Luis Obispo high school. Also in the race for princess were Verna McCulloch and Ann McElhinney from the junior college and Marina Grosshauser and Rowena Dorrough of the high school.

A packed house greeted the nine royal candidates last night where they were introduced to the student body. The Music department's Majors and Minors and Collegians under the direction of H. P. Davidson were also featured on the program emceed by Ag Journalism major Ed Slevin. Balloting was held after the assembly under the direction of the ASB election committee.

The Long Beach trio was selected by a special Poly Royal committee from a group of fifteen finalists in the southern city. More than forty girls originally turned out for the race.

San Luis Obispo junior college and high school representatives were selected by the Poly Royal committee in the same manner as the queen candidates.

Arriving on yesterday's north-bound Daylight, the girls were met at the station by a welcoming committee including Poly Royal and student body officials, Poly administrative and faculty representatives, and San Luis Obispo civic leaders. Radio station KVEC recorded a special broadcast at the station, and KVEC-TV will interview the girls late this afternoon.

Most of the girl's time today will be spent posing for publicity pictures. Tonight the royal party will be feted at a buffet dinner by the Poly Royal board in Library 118 A, B, and C. They will attend tonight's football game as special guests and will be introduced at half-time and at the Thanksgiving dance.

Busy Days For Architects; Instructor Voices Comments

The present plan for keeping architectural students occupied around campus received the smiling approval of AE instructor Rudolph A. Polley this week as he commented on the effectiveness of the department's field trips, banquets and the work to be done around the architectural units. Polley also commended various clubs for their promotion of social events.

Another of Polley's strong points centers around the versatility of the architecture majors. By taking these field trips and conducting informative banquets, views of the other side are given and helps the overall education of every one concerned.

At the present time, some of the majors are working during their off hours on a new project at the unit. They're in the process of constructing a modernized patio and adding a new look to the architecture hall.

Let's Have a Party!

Everyone is invited to an after-the-game party sponsored by the Block "P" society tonight at Carpenters hall, 811 Palm Street. The affair will be free of charge. Mkip, Costa's combo will provide entertainment.

SAC OK's El Mustang Issue; Polls To Open Nov. 22-23

Student body approval on the proposition to establish "El Mustang" as a foundation project is expected when students go to the polls Monday and Tuesday.

The Student affairs council approved the proposal Nov. 9 by a vote of 18-4, with two abstaining. Under this arrangement "El Mustang" would operate under the same conditions as any other foundation project. The primary editorial policy and the already established publication dates would remain the same.

The proposal guarantees that except for Poly Royal and one other issue each year, the editorial-news space shall average at least 80 per cent.

The proposition aims at a more realistic "learn-by-doing" process, whereby the staff of "El Mustang" would function under conditions characteristic of professional journalism.

Although "El Mustang" would be governed by its board of directors, any problems which might arise could be worked out between student committees and the foundation.

The proposal asserts that administrative control would remain "status quo" and that control by individual student pressure groups would be minimized.

The ballot will be worded as follows:

1. That El Mustang be given full approval of the student body to apply to the Cal Poly foundation to become a student project operating under a standard business agreement with the foundation similar to that in effect for other student projects, the project to start effective September 18, 1954.

2. That if the foundation application is granted, the El Mustang staff agree that:

1. Except for Poly Royal and one other special issue each year, editorial space shall average at least 80 per cent.
2. The paper will be available at no cost to all students, faculty and staff.
3. The paper will continue to follow its already established publication dates.
4. In order to implement the incorporation of El Mustang as a foundation project, the By-Laws of the Associated Students be amended as follows.

Delete the words, "subscription to the weekly publication, 'El Mustang'" from the following:

Art. I, Sec. 1, par. 4.
Art. I, Sec. 2, par. 2.
Art. I, Sec. 3, par. 2.

Delete from Article VIII, Sec. IV, par. 1 (b) the following:

"Editor of 'El Mustang' selected by the board and approved by the Student Affairs Council."

Change Article VIII, Sec. VI, par. 1 (d), which now reads: "Two members elected by and from the established publications and publicity staffs" to read:

"Three representatives at large."

Cal Poly Sheepmen On Annual Tour Near Bakersfield

More than 50 Poly students interested in sheep husbandry left on a field trip into the southern San Joaquin Valley early this morning.

They were to stop first at Wasco to observe some 500 rams owned by sheepmen of that area. Other stops include the Pascal Ansalobehere ranch, also near Wasco, and the ranch of Bill Othart at Pismo, Othart is a former Poly student.

The daylong tour of sheep operations in the area will conclude tonight at the Noriega Hotel in Bakersfield with a traditional banquet dinner. Highlighting the evening will be an address by Judge Frank Noriega, who just turned over his post as president of the California Wool Growers to Lloyd Avilla of Red Bluff.

Following a night at the hotel, the group will travel to Arvin southeast of Bakersfield to see the lambing camp of Judge Noriega and other operations in the area.

"All The Way In One Play" ... Poly's pom-pom girls and songleaders will be displaying their high-spirited efforts tonight when the Mustangs face the Humboldt State college Lumberjacks. Lead by Sally Eckrote, the three-some has added quite a color to the Cal Poly rooting section this year. Pictured left to right are: Sally Eckrote, Sally Berg and Janet Downing.

News In Brief . . .

Many Repay VA Loans

Over 12,000 veterans have already repaid their loans in full as of Oct. 25, 1954, the VA announces. Their combined original loans amounted to $72,823,895 and the liability of the VA was reduced as a result by over $34,000.

Dance Tonight

There will be a Thanksgiving Dance at Crandall gym after the Humboldt State-Cal Poly game tonight. The Poly Royal Queen and her court will be there. Student body cards will be required for admission to the dance. Music will be furnished by the Collegians. This dance is sponsored by the Air Conditioning Club.

New Fertilizer Formula

A new fertilizer formula is in development with the assistance of Dr. Bruce Kennelly, chemistry instructor for the ornamental horticulture unit, according to OH Instructor Dr. H. C. Smith. The formula is an entirely new fertilizer with less chlorine content than the usual commercial products.

Since Cal Poly has enough soluble salts in their soils, this will be a complete liquid fertilizer by having the minus part of chlorine content, adds Dr. Smith.

Draft Deferment

Selective Service examinations for student deferment will be given December 9. Application blanks should be picked up at your local draft board.

FFA Field Day

Conducted tours of Cal Poly's poultry department and ornamental horticulture unit featured the south coast region FFA field day held here Saturday under sponsorship of the Cal Poly Young Farmer chapter.

Earl Von Dollen of San Miguel, Poly agricultural engineering major, introduced Gilbert A. Hutshings, regional FFA advisor, Robert S. Smith, state president of the California Young Farmers, and Poly ASB president George Martin, who spoke before the gathering at 1 p.m. in the dairy judging pavilion.

Christmas Formal

Plans for a bigger and better Christmas formal are under way, the mechanical engineering society announced this week.

The big dance of the season will be held December 4 at the Veteran's Memorial hall. Now is the time to make those dates.

John Bartly, dance chairman, has announced that the theme of the dance will be "The Night Before Christmas," but will say no more. Judging from past formal sponsored by the ME Club, Poly is in for a treat comp Dec. 4.

Teachers Needed

Any student or faculty wives who hold teaching credentials and who are interested in doing substitute teaching should contact the office of J.N. Regier, Superintendent of San Luis Obispo City Schools. He is particularly interested in obtaining more substitutes on the secondary level.

Anyone who would like to have the opportunity to talk with Miller may make an appointment in Adm. 130, Dean Chandler's office.

Worried About Thesis? It May Become Famous

Not all senior thesis problems are forgotten upon graduation. A prime example was pointed out this week by Dr. C. Smith, ornamental horticulture instructor.

"Practical Treatments to Increase Seed Germination of Woody Shrubs in California," a senior thesis turned in last year by former OH student Martin Koobation, is being used this year as a manual in OH 121, nursery practice.

There have also been numerous requests for the paper from several South American countries.

The thesis contains, among other data, valuable information on seed scarification, and a list of California shrubs whose seeds should be treated and how they should be treated.

"This particular thesis could be of great help to commercial planters and growers," said Smith.

Fog Prevents National Telecast Of Poly Tractor Square Dance

Cal Poly's famed tractor square dance team attracted nationwide attention last week when their performance at the state Farm Bureau convention in Long Beach went over the United Press Wire Picture and several California television stations.

Their second performance of the convention was to have been televised nationally over CBS until a blanket of fog rolled in at the last minute and obscured the sun.

TV technicians had to gather up their equipment and abandon the telecast. Ironically, conventioners were wearing name tags that advertised Long Beach as the city "where the sunshine spends the winter."

Poly Stenographer Press Club Winner

Sandra White, an employee in the Poly general office, held the winning ticket in the Press club donation drive.

The lucky number 881 gave her the opportunity to attend the Los Angeles state game last weekend via the Southern Pacific Daylight. Unable to make the trip, she accepted the $40 alternative.

It was the first time that the stenographer and part-time Poly switchboard operator had ever won in a contest. Peggy Grossini, another stenographer in the general office, sold her the winning ticket.

The drawing was held 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 10, in El Corral fountain.

second high man. Other members of the team, coached by Dick Johnson of Oceanside, were Les Emigh of Rio Vista, Bill Corkill of Fallon, Nevada, and Jerry Biggs of Sacramento.

Cal Poly's victory added four awards to the rapidly expanding All trophy display. A bronze plaque for the team's overall achievement was awarded by the Ogden Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Other awards included the Gold Victory trophy from the Swift Packing Company (high team in market classes), the Golden Barrow trophy from the Amalgamated Sugar company (high team in swine), and the Golden Ewe trophy from the Utah Registered Breeders association (high team in sheep). The Polymen placed second in beef cattle.

Thurnher was awarded a trophy cup by the National Wool Growers association for placing high man in sheep. Fellows, who placed second high individual in cattle and third high in hogs, received trophies awarded by the W. P. White company and the Ogden Livestock show.

Vard Shepard, head of the college agricultural division, has announced that the college will send a livestock judging team to the international show to be held in Chicago in December. Further details on this are expected to be made known sometime next week.

George Hunter, Poly agricultural journalism major and former "El Mustang" editor, has earned an expense-paid trip to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in New York City in December.

Hunter was selected for the honor upon his performance on the six-man Poly "field" team that covered the state Farm Bureau convention in Long Beach last week.

Handling news releases concerning California delegates, the Poly journalist will travel on the CPB's special convention train, which will go east via New Orleans and Washington, D.C., returning via Niagara Falls and Chicago.

Hunter is a part-time employee of the San Luis Obispo Telegram-Tribune.

Mum Experiments At Poly OH Unit

Ornamental Horticulture students at Cal Poly, guided by department head Howard Brown, are in the midst of a chrysanthemum experiment which could change the seasonal variety to a year around plant. According to Brown, the "mums" experiment involves the use of artificial light and placing one plant in a three inch pot.

Ordinarily, mums which are planted in a large pot are a fall flower, but when planted individually they become year-round plants. They may also be adjusted as to when they flower by using artificial light such as in the Cal Poly experiment.

Yoder Brothers of Ohio have sent the OH department cuttings of 15 varieties of mums at no cost. The Yoder Brothers wish information on the varieties as to which plants adopt themselves to the different climatical conditions. It started out as a foundation project, but now part of the varieties have been turned over to Bill Simpson, senior OH major, as a project.

Poly IRE Investigates Electronic Computers

The first of four sessions on electronic computers was held on campus last night when the student branch of the Institute of Radio Engineers heard Mary Shio-wits of the National Cash Register company discuss "programming and logical design."

Rodger Mison of Canning-Mison and Associates will conduct the second session, which will be held Jan. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 208, according to Herb Leach, IRE president. All four meetings are open to the public.

The third session, concerned with the components of computers, will be headed by Chris Wamless of Ramo-Woolridge Corporation on Jan. 20.

Bill Chase, a 1951 Poly graduate now in the East with the Electronic Division of the National Cash Register company, will conduct the final session on Feb. 3. His presentation will concern maintenance and field experience.

Dean Committee Gives Info: Dec. 2 Is Preschedule Date

Winter Quarter pre-scheduling planning meetings will be held on December 2, 11 a.m. to noon, to give all students and advisers an opportunity to make arrangements for pre-scheduling day, Saturday, December 4, the instructional deans committee announced today. Advisers will distribute and explain the use of scheduling materials at the December 2 meeting, including the official "white pre-scheduling card".

The following is from information received from the instructional deans committee on pre-scheduling:

This card must be used by students to report their Winter Quarter program and obtain course and section approval before completion of the regular Winter Quarter registration forms which will be given to students in the registration line on January 4.

Obtain White Cards

Students who fail to attend the December 2 pre-scheduling meetings will obtain their white pre-scheduling card from the Recorder's office upon presentation of either a receipt for the payment of the regular $2 fee for the failure to meet an administrative appointment or an excuse which will be obtained from their division dean.

Instructions for Winter Quarter pre-scheduling and registration, including the time and place for all meetings, will be sent to each student through the college post office and to advisers through their departments.

Sign When Completed

The adviser will sign the student's white pre-scheduling card as it is satisfactorily completed. In some cases this step may be completed on December 2, while others may find it necessary to complete this step on Sat., December 4.

After obtaining the adviser's signature, the student will sign up for class sections with the department and then return the white pre-scheduling card to his adviser, who will re-issue it to the student on January 4, registration day.

Every class and section sign up must be acknowledged in the space provided on the card, but the student will be permitted to sign up for sections until he has obtained his adviser's signature on the white pre-scheduling card.

Avoid Congestion

On pre-scheduling day, Saturday December 4, students should report as scheduled to avoid congestion and waiting.

Students having Saturday classes or who are engaged in a college activity on that day should obtain a note from the staff member in charge if they desire to appear at a time other than as scheduled.

Students who fail to sign into sections on Sat., December 4, will have no assurance that they will be admitted to any particular section during Winter Quarter.

Pre-scheduling activities on December 2 and 4 will not eliminate the necessity for each student to clear through the regular registration line Tuesday, January 4 in CR 17, and then report to his adviser.

Separate registration instructions will be sent to each student regarding the January 4 registration activities.

Students subject to selective service should carry and complete at least 15 units every quarter. Old students who fail to complete pre-scheduling activities may do so Tuesday, January 4.

PL 550 students must register for a minimum of 14 units with at least 12 units being in addition to preparatory course units and units being repeated.

Good-bye Gauchos

CCAA About To Fold Up: New League "Inevitable"

Death of the California Collegiate Athletic association appeared imminent this week following Santa Barbara's final decision to drop from the league.

The Gauchos board of athletic control voted unanimously Saturday to petition immediately for membership in the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic conference, which includes Whittier, Occidental, Cal Tech, Pomona, Claremont, and Redlands.

The board's action followed student body vote of approval which materialized shortly after Cal Poly Mustangs buried the outclassed Gauchos squad under a 47-6 score in early October.

Meanwhile the possibility of CCAA survival jumped from the frying pan into the fire when rumors circulated that Los Angeles state would also withdraw.

Coach "Silver Fox" Roy Hughes, who coached the Mustangs to a 47-0 victory over the L. A. state Diablos last weekend, substantiated the rumor, but pointed out that the CCAA would probably fold up anyway upon the action taken by Santa Barbara.

Only last year the Pepperdine Waves dropped from the CCAA because of overbalanced competition. This year they scheduled the smaller schools and were boasting one of the unbeaten teams in the nation until edged by the Gauchos on Nov. 8.

The demise of the CCAA could possibly lead to the formation of a six-member league embracing San Jose state, College of the Pacific, Loyola, San Diego state, Fresno state, and Cal Poly. The latter three are presently in the CCAA.

Coach Hughes admitted that this was only a possibility, but added, "If we're going anywhere, let's go up."

With such an arrangement the Mustangs might suddenly shift from "big fish in a little pond" to "little fish in a big pond".

Certainly this would not be true if the Mustangs produced another team like the one last year, which gained national recognition as the highest scoring team in the nation.

Sparked by such standouts as Little All-American Stan Sherris, now playing with the Pittsburgh Steelers pro-football team, the Green and Gold powerhouse tallied 895 points to their opponents 68.

Although both Pepperdine and Santa Barbara have decided upon entering a conference with enrollment comparable to their own, Coach Hughes observed that enrollment figures are not always indicative of the calibre of a team.

Failing to agree with the theory that a student body of many males is responsible for a good football squad, he pointed out that Rice university (Houston, Tex.) has a student body of only 1,280 males. Cal Poly, with 2800, would hardly enjoy any more than the prestige of meeting them.

Poly Dorm Chief In 1936 Olympics

"When they offered me the job I decided to stay at Poly," resident dorm superintendent James Wilkinson said when questioned about his stay at Poly as a student and staff member.

He entered Cal Poly last year as an All student to fulfill a life long dream, and was planning to return as a student this year but when offered the job of resident dorm superintendent, he took it.

Wilkinson was chosen as a representative to the 1936 Olympics in Berlin where he and three other western representatives showed and demonstrated the typical American games of football and baseball to the Europeans. All time included he spent approximately two months in Europe seeing the country.

Wilkinson was raised in Bremerton, Washington, and went to college at Washington State where he graduated in 1934 as a PE major. He then went to the University of Oregon where he was a graduate assistant in PE.

He coached for three years in northern Washington before going to Dallas High school in Oregon where his team won the state championship in football.

Wilkinson entered the navy in 1942 as an enlisted drill instructor and eighteen months later he received his commission. During his time in the navy he spent two years in the Pacific working with radar.

While teaching in San Diego he was recalled into the navy when the Korean war started, and was discharged in May of 1953.

Wilkinson is married and has three children, one boy and two girls. Their favorite hobby is riding the three horses that they have.

In his spare time he is commanding officer of the naval reserve unit here at Poly, which recently participated in the Veteran's Day parade in San Luis Obispo.

Cage Coach Likes Turnout; Madsen Among Missing

Following two weeks of practice, Basketball Coach Ed Jorgensen feels optimistic about the outlook of his squad. "However, they still have a long way to go to field a capable team against the scheduled strong competition," says Jorgensen.

"I hope that Larry Madsen, first string center on last year's team can see his way clear to come out, as he would greatly increase our strength. Larry's rebounds and fine passing would certainly bolster the team and help fill a much needed gap," said Jorgensen.

"In discussing basketball with Larry last week he gave every indication that if he could find time from his busy engineering schedule and working hours, he would certainly like to come out with the team," added Jorgensen.

"I am looking forward to the use of Jim Cox and Jerry Duncan when football season is over," remarked Jorgensen. "Also, Al Morlarty could be a help if he can find time to get some practice—he has good hands and should be able to master the passing techniques," said Jorgensen.

The team as a whole is working hard but their timing and passing aren't up to par. Several newcomers are showing promise in the practice sessions. Among them are forwards Ernie Hall and Bill Freeman and also guard Nonny Grandberry.

The Mustang hoopsters will have to work hard for their first tilt of the season this coming December 1 against the powerful Fort Ord quintet. This contest will be played in Crandall gymnasium.

Among the several returning letterman from last year's squad who have shown a lot of improvement are: forward Gene Knott, guard Jim Gilbert and forward Wellman Branstrom.

Poly Hosts Pomona In Water Polo Meet

Looking for their second win of the 1954 season the Cal Poly water polo squad hosts the Pomona Sage hens Saturday morning at 10 in the Poly pool. They might possibly play the Sageshens today at 8 o'clock depending on whether or not the Sageshens are successful in cancelling a previous meet.

The Mustangs have played UCLA and lost the opening contest 8-3. For their first win of the season they ran over the Diablos of Los Angeles state 13-2. Next on the list was Fullerton junior college who defeated the Green and Gold 9-3.

Done Reeve and Steve Olmstead, both forwards, played one of their best games against Fullerton as Reeve tallied for four goals and Olmstead threw in one to end the scoring for the locals.

Hampered by the loss of goalie Dave Callender, who has withdrawn from school, Anderson is scoring the team for a possible replacement.

The biggest meet scheduled for the Mustangs is the state tournament which will be held at Los Angeles state on the fourth of December.

"There will be four teams entered in the meet: San Francisco state, Los Angeles state, San Jose state and our squad," said Anderson.

Wrestling Tourney Soon Underway

The novice Intramural Wrestling Tournament, slated to get underway Tuesday, November 30 at 7 p.m. is open to all beginners, according to intramural chairman, John Rodenmayer.

A sign up sheet has been posted in the gym since last Monday and it will be available for sign up until November 29. As for eligibility, anyone who has earned a varsity letter or an intramural award in wrestling is ineligible. Also, any professional wrestler is ineligible. This tourney is only for beginners.

Tonight's Captain

Captain for tonight's contest against Humboldt state is speedy halfback Jim Miller. Miller, a graduate of San Luis Obispo high school, came to Poly in the fall of 1951. While at Poly he has played on the varsity for three years.

Beginning his athletic career in high school Miller also took part in basketball and track. While a junior in high school he was voted the most valuable man on the team and the next year was rated all-conference.

A physical education major, Miller hopes to coach when graduated from college.

Annual Fall Rodeo Features Matched Riding And Roping

Last Saturday Cal Poly held its second annual rodeo at the rodeo arena on the Mustang campus. Sponsored by the Rodeo club and judged by members of the Cal Poly rodeo team the feature event of the afternoon was a matched calf roping contest between two animal husbandry instructors and a matched saddle bronc riding contest between two students.

Bob Miller, animal husbandry instructor, won a three calf average from Roy Harris, also of the A.H. department. George Daly captured the bronc riding match and Ralph Bappington placed second.

Other events of the afternoon were bareback riding, calf roping, dogging and team roping. The bareback riding event was won by Louie Esparsa with Norm George second and Ed Berryessa third. With a winning time of 16 seconds flat Ronnie Bligon took the calf roping contest while Jim Holmes came in second and John Tyson third. Jim Holmes won the bull dogging event with a two steer average of 19.2 seconds. Holmes threw his first steer in 8.7 and his second in 10.5 seconds. Ed Mayfield finished second with a total of 39.7 seconds. Ronnie Bligon and Bob Mohr captured the team roping with a total of 76.2 seconds on two steers.

Tony Araujo and Pat Valladao, members of the rodeo team, were the judges, while Jerry Anderson and Jim Lyons handled the roping and bulldogging events.

The bucking horses were furnished by Manuel Cardosa of Cayucos and the roping and dogging stock by members of the Rodeo club.

Possible members of future rodeo teams who were also entered in the events were: Bud McCoy, Ted Trompeter, Skip Parker, Harry Witt, Ron Bligon, Jack Marshall, George Daly, Jack Sutton, Bill Melton, Ed Mayfield, Chuck Pennington, Lew Kouss and Ernest Hooper in the bare back riding; Joe Williamson, Chuck Bates, Tom Ellery, Ed Berryessa and Wayne Vaughn, calf roping; Harry Witt and Joe Williamson, bulldogging; Joe Williamson, Bill Caldera, Jerry Anderson and Jim Holmes, team roping.

A tip of the hats for the 1954 Mustangs... all of you who saw the Fresno game realize that EVERY member of the team on the field played their hearts out... in our opinion there wasn't a man who didn't do a good job... we've heard a lot of moans about fumbles and penalties but has anyone ever seen any team, pro or college, that has never fumbled or had penalties called against them??? We agree that Fresno received the "brakes" but that is all in the game of football... again we agree that the officiating could have been considerably improved but that is also to be expected, especially in the sweet little town of Fresno... as the Brooklyn Dodgers have been saying for years—"Wait until next year, we'll get them".

"Precious Perry" captured the leagues' honors in total offense and scoring by running up 117 yards in carries and scoring 13 points in Cal Poly's last CCAA game against Los Angeles state... Jeter's closest opponent for conference honors was Sherrill of L.A. state who managed to escape with one whole yard both in running and passing during the L.A.-Poly game...

In the scoring column Driscoll of Fresno state was the closest contender with a final total of 86 points to Jeter's 41... good going Perry and congratulations from all of us.

Next Thursday morning at 11 o'clock twelve men will be going on the gridiron for the last time wearing the Green and Gold of Cal Poly... these seniors have put in many hours of rough practice during four years and we think they deserve a lot of credit for their hard work... let's take a look at our graduating football players... while looking over the list you will notice a few names you haven't heard very often... these men work just as hard as the ones on the first string and therefore should be given equal credit... tackles, Bob Heaston, Dick Mathias and Bob Aston; guards Joe Boanich, Vic Buccola and Jack Frost; and Newt Wakeman; center Fussy Wilkins; quarterback Bob Neal, and halfbacks Bob Chadwick, Jim Miller and Thad Murrin... let's all be at the game Thursday and show them that we appreciate all the work they have done and all the credit and prestige they have brought to our college.

We came back from the Los Angeles game with the team, via special Greyhound, Saturday and got an inside view on how a victorious team looks... during most of the trip there was "community singing" which covered about every department in the college—from animal husbandry to the engineering... such subjects as the trees, oceans, birds and the bees and numerous mechanical subjects were sung about... the "choir" leader for most of the trip was Bob Neal all sing like the birdies sing Chadwick who seems to have a wide repertoire of hymns... such inspiring individuals as Abraham, Jacob and Isaac were frequently mentioned along with others who are not well known... every once in awhile Bob would call on brother Bud to give a few encouraging words of wisdom and as usual Bud Chadwick came through with flying colors.

It's about that time when people start talking about all-conference selections... here is who this reporter thinks will make it from the 1954 Mustang squad... we pick five—Bob Neal, quarterback; Perry Jeter, halfback; Bob Heaston and Dick Mathias, tackles and Joe Boanich, guard.

Time to stick the 'ole neck out again on game predictions... California over Stanford... UCLA over USC... Idaho over BYU... San Jose state over Fresno... Cal Poly over Humboldt, 38-7.

Mustangs Host Humboldt In Post League Clash

Playing their first home game after five weeks of absence the Mustangs of Cal Poly play host to a victory hungry Humboldt eleven at eight o'clock tonight. The Mustang-Lumberjack series was started in 1938 with the locals edging out the northerners 13-6. This was the last time a Mustang squad has beaten the Lumberjacks. In 1941 Humboldt slid into a victory by a 6-0 score. From 1939 to 1941 the Humboldt state teams captured the contests, 13-9, 13-12, and 6-0. Tonight's game will pick up where the series was left off 18 years ago.

Humboldt Sports 5-4 Record

So far this season Humboldt has met nine teams, winning five and losing four. They lost their opening game to Willamette, 19-10 and then went on to take the next four contests against the Oakland Gaels, Sacramento state, Southern Oregon and Cal Aggies. The Stanford Braves then moved in and dumped the Lumberjacks, 31-13 with Chico state winning 18-7 and San Francisco defeating them 14-7. The Lumberjacks finished up their league play and clinched a third place in the Far Western conference by beating the University of Nevada, 21-14.

Cal Poly will be going into tonight's contest with a five won, three loss record. The Mustangs lost to Fresno state by a 16-13 score and the fans saw one of the best college games ever played in this territory. First, blood was drawn by the Hughesmen when Dan Delgado went off tackle for a 44 yard touchdown run. Jeter converted but the kick was no good. In the second quarter the Mustangs started a drive from their own 30 yard line and in eight plays hit pay dirt with a pass four yards out from Neal to Cox. Jeter converted and split the goal posts to make it Cal Poly 13, Fresno 0. Fresno scored late in the quarter with halfback Don Driscoll going 54 yards for a Fresno TD. PAT was no good and the Green and Gold were still in front at the half. Fresno tied up the score in the early minutes of the third quarter when Blitrick passed to Galloway for 34 yards and a Bulldog touchdown. Steinborn converted to even up the score.

Field Goal Breaks Poly

The rest of the third quarter and the whole fourth quarter saw both teams moving up and down the field toward pay dirt but eventually stopped and then the other team taking over. With four minutes and ten seconds to go in the game Cal Poly fumbled a Fresno punt and the Bulldogs recovered on the Mustang 40 yard line. With 15 long seconds to go in the game John "The Toe" Steinborn kicked a perfect field goal from nine yards out to break the tie and also the Mustang back. Final score after 60 minutes of rough and tough football—Fresno 16, Cal Poly 13. Recovering fast, the Poly eleven traveled to Los Angeles the next week for their last league game of the season. In one minute and 15 seconds of the first quarter the Mustangs had what would have been the winning score of the ball game. Jeter broke away for a 61 yard tromp on the second play of the game and the city born Diablos never regained from the shock. Point after point was added until the mercy of LeRoy Hughes overpowered his memories of the week before and he sent in the second team. The score board then read 19-0 with still three minutes left

Cal Poly Colts Bow To Coalinga In Final Game

Winding up their 1954 football season the Cal Poly Colts suffered a 19-6 defeat at the hands of the strong Coalinga junior college Falcon's in last Friday night's tilt.

Halfback Bob Bolinger made the only Colt touchdown as coach Tom Lee's charges marched from their own territory to the Falcon's 15 yard line. Bolinger then took a pitch out around end and went the remaining 15 yards to paydirt in the third quarter of play.

The Falcons scored two TD's in the first half tallying one on the ground and the other via air. Coalinga hit again in the final quarter of play climaxing a drive by passing for the final touchdown of the game.

The Colts failed to win a game this season as they have dropped three games and tied one tilt. In Hancock College of Santa Maria, their tussle they fought to tie 12-12. Then followed a loss to a strong College of Redlands squad 41-7. After that the Colts played the Hartnell College Panthers of Redlands and lost 31-7. In their last tilt of the season suffered a 19-6 defeat losing out to the Coalinga J.C. Panthers.

Coach Tom Lee named several junior varsity players that could well bolster the strength of next year's varsity squad. Heading the list was Don Tucker, flashing quarterback whose passing and ball handling has been good this season. Speedy Half Bob Bolinger is expected to be seen on the varsity roster next year.

Coach Lee also named halfbacks Bill Retzer and Pat Lawrence, and John Bryne, tackles Pete Massacchi and Roy Ferrari, guard Bill Lyon and center Johnny Yoxsimer as good prospects for the varsity squad.

In the first quarter,

A somewhat mystified Los Angeles team left the field at the end of the contest still wondering how they ever lost by such a score. The Mustangs, all three strings, piled up 320 yard on the ground while the Diablos backed to a yardage of -80. With the combined efforts of quarterbacks Hob Neal and Jerry Duncan the Hughesmen compiled 156 yards via the air to 99 of the city boy's. Total offense shows the Mustangs a strong favorite with 476 compared to Los Angeles' 89.

USC Final Match For Poly Kickers

Cal Poly's soccer team will end the season Saturday when the University of Southern California invades the practice football field starting at 11 o'clock.

These local kickers dropped two games last weekend—a 3-1 game to Cal Tech and a 6-0 loss to UCLA. The Mustang booters are now tied with Cal Tech for second place in the league.

Playing outstanding ball last weekend were Francisco Bazo and Manuel Cutti.

On November 6, Cal Poly's soccer team shut out Pomona college 6-0 as Andre Andronicou of Greece punched in three goals for the Mustang cause. The local kickers tallied four goals in the first half with Andronicou scoring two and Turaj Garhemani of Iran and Juan Castillo scoring the others.

In the second half Davalos tallied along with Andronicou to put the locals well in front.

Hobson New Tennis Champ

Advancing through the Fall tennis tournament in a breeze Vern Hobson has established himself as Cal Poly's top tennis player by beating Javier Ascarruns to capture the championship.

Defeating W. L. Hobbs, Hobson moved into the finals of the tourney as Ascarruns won by default over George Hunter and then went on to face Hobson on the local courts last weekend.

Ascarruns gave Hobson tough competition as he forced the ace racketman to go three sets to capture the crown. Hobson won in the first set 6-3. Ascarruns came roaring back to take the next one 6-1. With the match all tied up Hobson settled down and breezed through the last set to defeat Ascarruns 6-1.

All in all the tennis tourney was a complete success. "I was very pleased with the tourney and the big turnout by the students and I hope the racketmen that participated will continue to practice so they will be in good shape when tennis season rolls around in February," said Tennis Coach Ed Jorgensen.

Coach Lee Announces Boxing Tourney

"Beginning the first day of the winter quarter, January 4, 5 and 6, the sixth annual novice boxing tourney is slated to be held," says Boxing Coach Tom Lee.

Those interested in trying out for the squad should contact Coach Lee as soon as possible. Lee can be found in his office in tunnel three at Poly stadium.

Coach Lee is looking for men in the 125, 132, 139, 147, 156, 165, 175 and heavyweight divisions with a possibility of throwing in a 119 pound division if enough men turn out for that weight.

Lee has lined up several physical education majors to train and second any men who are planning to turn out for the team or novice tourney.

The trouble with letting off steam is it usually only gets you into more hot water—Look

A student government officer at the University of San Francisco wrote to the University of California concerning the use of the honor system during exams, received this reply: "The University of California abandoned the honor system several years ago when it became evident that the professors had the honor and the students had the system. —Dick Friedland in San Francisco Chronicle

Do's And Don'ts For Bulletin Board

The bulletin board in the basement of the Administration building took on a new and un-cluttered look early last week with Miss Sally Stevens, assistant activities officer, releasing a list of do's and don'ts to keep the board well organized with all notices bearing a timely-dated stamp.

Only three by five inch cards are to be used and each Monday the new cards will be stamped so as to know just how old they are. Cards over two weeks old will be removed except for those offering services and transportation for a certain weekend.

Students are asked to post their notices within the listed categories: rides north, south, east; wanted, books, miscellaneous; books for sale; miscellaneous for sale; vehicles for sale; anything for rent; and miscellaneous items.

Helping Hand For Yearbook

You are in demand if you've a creative art ability and an interest to learn about the art editing of a college yearbook. Students are needed to help the art editor of the 1955 edition of El Rodeo, Cal Poly's huge yearbook. Any interested are asked to contact Bill Angel, p.o. box 548, Cal Poly.

The easiest way to break up the average argument is to drop an intelligent remark into it.

Rodin To Represent Theologian Council

Dr. Robert J. Rodin, biological instructor, will be the faculty representative on the Poly campus for the Rockefeller Brothers Theological Fellowship Foundation by virtue of his recent appointment by President Julian A. McPhee.

The foundation is designed to provide one year scholarships for outstanding college graduates who would like to study theology for a year to find out if they want to enter the ministry. Recipients may go to any approved theological seminary.

"I was an educational missionary in Pakistan and now am advisor to the Christian Fellowship Club on the Cal Poly campus," said Rodin in explaining his appointment.

The instructor was on a much expedition to Africa a few years ago and recently turned down an appointment to be dean of science in a Formosan University.

Grandfather never had it this good

Most people today work only two-thirds as many hours as their grandfather did. Yet they earn at least three times as much each day.

If, for example, your grandfather had been on Union Oil's payroll in 1890, he'd have put in an average week of at least 60 hours. For which he'd have received about $2.25 a day.

If—for comparison—you had been with us last year, you'd have averaged $2.25 also. But for an hour's work, not a day's! And you'd have worked only 40 hours a week.

How can Union Oil, or any company, pay more money for less time on the job? Because new and better tools and engineering have radically increased a man's capacity to produce as they shortened his work week.

For every worker at Union Oil there is now available an average of $77,000 worth of these improved tools—trucks, pipelines, wells, refineries. This gives each employee 340% more to work with than in 1890.

For the most part these tools have been purchased with money the shareholder-owners have plowed back into the business out of profits.

Who profits from profits? Everyone does! That's why you get so much more out of life than your grandfather did.

Vote "Yes" For El Mustang

November 4, 1954, the first issue of El Mustang was published for the students of Cal Poly. Since then both Cal Poly and El Mustang have made tremendous strides of progress.

During those years, however, it was always evident that some factor was missing—the publication wasn't in line with Poly's "learn by doing" policy—campus coverage was not complete.

By your voting yes on the proposal next Monday and Tuesday, the following points will be assured you in publication of El Mustang:

1. Policy differences may be ironed out through joint meetings between both parties (El Mustang and the student body).
2. Readers dictate policy of paper, by their acceptance.
3. Policy cannot be dictated through budgeting moves.
4. All possibility of student pressure groups will be removed.
5. Increased coverage, as more time may be spent by qualified personnel.
6. More realistic atmosphere of working conditions as actually found in the field.
7. Emphasis of the Cal Poly "learn by doing" philosophy.
8. Still free to students and faculty.
9. No more administrative control than at present.
10. El Mustang jobs open to any qualified student.
11. Raise the prospective employers opinion of graduates on the staff, as well as the college in general.

We feel that not only will El Mustang benefit by this move, but the entire student body as a whole will benefit by having a newspaper that serves them better.

However, it is still up to you, the students, to decide on what kind of paper you want. If you want the best, then vote "yes" on El Mustang's proposition Monday and Tuesday.

A Special Day In Our America

The holiday has been long anticipated... Thanksgiving in 1954. The time when we check the midnight oilers and make final adjustments in readiness for those nearing finals.

This time home we will probably remember to bring back at least a few of the miscellaneous items which we forgot during the last minute packing rush in mid September. And, too, fill on the special day's delicacies as only Mom can prepare them.

The highways and short routes home will be well filled. More so than the usual holiday, this is the one when we all like to get together... from Grandpa in Charlottesville to Aunt Bea in Oklahoma, we'll all be hurrying for the special gathering.

Let's make this a real day of Thanksgiving. A happy day and not one of sorrow... let's save on the throttle, drive carefully and arrive in one piece.

Yes, so comes a period of rest... the time when we, through our American way of humble reverence, idle the wheels of the human machine and give special thanks for an endless vineyard of blessings. The day when we stop and remember that our America through even the bitterest of turmoil remains the greatest nation in the world.

And as we observe the special day, let's open a history book and recall the landing of the buckled-shod Pilgrims at Plymouth and their bountiful harvest those centuries ago. When you finish the story it might do you well to turn to another page and find the words which describe that first Thanksgiving. "They, being a humble people, fell down on their knees, hugged the ground and gave thanks to the Hearer of Prayers."

Count your blessing? It won't be Thanksgiving unless you do.

DISCOUNT TO STUDENTS

Poly's Pulse

by Bill Galliher
SAC Writer

The SAC has approved the request of El Mustang for a student body election to determine if the students are in favor of granting permission to the newspaper to negotiate with the Foundation as a student project.

The major arguments in favor of the proposition concern the El Mustang directly and the student body indirectly. As a student project, the operation of the newspaper would represent more nearly that of a professional-type organization and therefore provide a more realistic training situation. Advocates of this policy also claim that more incentive would be instilled in the group by receiving non-credit project-type monetary compensation for their efforts on the El Mustang staff.

The one major benefit to be realized by the student body is the guarantee of El Mustang that a better newspaper will be provided.

Opposition to the proposal claims that the student body will be losing a faction of their profit making organizations by allowing them to be released from student body control. They claim that the profit made by the newspaper, which is returned to the ABB general fund, helped considerably by defraying approximately 84 percent of the cost of last year's El Rodeo, Cal Poly's yearbook.

(Editor's Note: It should be pointed out that Mr. Galliher's figures are not accurate as above—$5,000 from yearbook sales, $2,000 from yearbook advertising, some $1,000 from club-page sales out of an $8,000 total expenditure for El Rodeo does not leave El Mustang paying "84 per cent of the cost of last year's El Rodeo.")

These are major arguments, pro and con, of the El Mustang proposal. The administrative staff of the college has refrained from giving opinions of facts on exactly what will be required of the newspaper under the project system. A stalemate has been reached in trying to determine if more administrative control will be imposed upon the El Mustang as a project.

(Editor's Note: Insofar as administrative control of El Mustang has been concerned in the past, there has always been an absolute though seldom-used faculty veto available.)

A general student body election will be held November 22 and 23, to decide this issue. Exercise your right to vote, and vote with what you personally believe to be the best interests of the student body in mind.

The Offbeat

By Litch

In the spotlight this week stands the Marching Band. This never-tiring group of musicians has played for all the home games as well as for numerous other functions. Everyone surely should be well acquainted with our band by this time. At their latest football game at Fresno, the band carried out closely, synchronized maneuvers under the baton of Drum Major, Phil Johanknecht.

During the six minutes allotted them at half-time they formed stick figures of the Fresno Bulldog, Cal Poly Mustang, followed by a dachshund. All this was carried out while they were playing the refrain of "Where, Oh Where Has My Little Dog Gone?" The whole stunt was very well carried out!

Tonight the band will be before us for the last time as a Marching Band this year. The theme for this game is to be "Rain". It seems very appropriate. The stunts are to be different, however, they will follow the theme. Starting at the Winter quarter the Band will become a Concert organization. They will stress the playing techniques rather than the marching angle. The next big goal for which they will be aiming is the annual concert at Poly Royal.

Each year just before the Christmas vacation begins, the Glee Club is busy planning stunts to be presented at the Home Concert and on the annual tour. The stunts are presented to provide a change in atmosphere from the regular program. This year's chairman of the Stunt Committee is Dick Wurrow. His helpers include Pete Howes, Larry Glandon, John Jeffreys, and yours truly. This committee has been thinking up ideas for stunts. Anyone with any original "brainstorms" for a good stunt should tell them to one of the committee members. We have high hopes of having a good repertoire of stunts for this year.

The big date to remember is December 4. That is the night of the Christmas formal. This year it is being sponsored by the ME Society. The theme, which is supposed to be very "hush-hush", is "The Night Before Christmas". The music will be by the Collegians. So, be sure to jot the date down. We'll see you there!

The 1955 annual Music Department tour is already being planned and arranged. This year the Glee Club and Collegians are traveling to the San Francisco area. The dates set are from March 20 to 26.

Have you noticed the Music Department bulletin board? Gordon Kittington is responsible for keeping it up to date.

Along The Line

at Ken Lowery's Cafeteria

Bill Walek won the ten bucks—missed the score 4 points—Bill Simpson ran second—9 points away. I noticed 9 out of 10 were picking Fresno. But who wants to talk about football?

Had a long letter from Chuck Lang the other day. He's assistant to the president at Bemidji State Teachers College, same town, Minnesota. He didn't much mention the weather but the envelope was still cold. Did you know Chuck used to play semi-pro football?

Bill Vasels owns a men's clothing store in Riverside now. And I guess most of you know that Jim Smith has joined Bill Leary on the L.A. State faculty.

I should cut this column short—I got my bill from El Mustang this morning, and I feel like the guy who had so many bills he put them in a hat and drew them out one at a time till he ran out of money. He got a nasty letter from one unpaid creditor and after explaining his system in a letter to them, he ended thus: If you don't stop writing nasty letters to me, I won't even put your bill in the hat next month!

Don't forget, when you want good food, I'm around the corner from the Bank of America.

RAINFALL

Cal Poly's official rain gauge measured exactly 2.00 inches from the storm that swept in over California Monday.

This places the season total at 2.77 inches.

Polly Chatter

by Sandie Rahn

This week was election week for Student Wives and the new officers are as follows:

Jo Ann Kipp, president; Dorothy Conner, vice-president; Bobbie Sinnott, secretary; and Margaret Folsom, treasurer.

Slides of the Homecoming parade were shown at this meeting, followed by refreshments which featured hot, homemade apple pie and coffee.

The new officers will be installed at the December 7, meeting and new committee chairman will be announced at that time.

The Dance Class has had two meetings now and aside from sore muscles, everyone seems to be enjoying it very much. The next meeting will be held Tuesday the 22nd, at 7:00 p.m. in the Engineering Bldg.

Here's a tip for Crops majors: If you could get the foundation to pay you with wheat on a checkerboard you could be rich! If you asked them to place one grain of wheat on the first square of a checkerboard, two on the second, four on the third and eight on the fourth, and so on, doubling the number for each succeeding square. For the completion of the board, the foundation would owe you 4,000 billion bushels of grain (assuming that there are 5,000,000 grains in a bushel). The wheat production of the world averages about 2,000,000,000 bushels a year; you would have control of the entire wheat production of the world for the period of some two thousand years!

College Spirit

By Richard G. Lathrop Jr. EL Major

What is college spirit?
A rooster's cap,
A winning team;
A girl to pin,
A date to get;
This is college spirit.

A cove in El Corral,
Hull sessions too,
The remembrance
Of "grais" since gone,
Brings to mind
The halls of Cal Poly.

The Mustang's lanky gait;
The cheerful "Hi"
That greets you here.
The math classes,
The physics lab,
Are top't with midnight oil.

What is college spirit?
It's all of these,
And more yet, too.
It's learning yet
Doing, also.
That is college spirit.

Thumbs Up - Thumbs Down

Dear Editor:

As in accordance with previous years, Cal Poly will enter a float in the Rose Parade January 1, 1955. Part of the money to build the float is provided for by this campus and the float is built by the San Dimas campus.

This year we are fortunate to have the opportunity to help the San Dimas group build the float. Aside from the fact that it provides work with the Dimas men; its also been rumored that there are humans of the opposite gender in the LA area.

Those who are interested in the activity and would like to participate Dec. 20-21 please inquire in the student body office.

George Martin, AMB Pres.

Mr. George C. Martin
President, Associated Students
Cal Poly

Dear George:
Last week-end must have been sad for the Mustangs. In comparative statistics, we should have come closer to Cal Poly than the score you rolled up against us indicated. Who knows, maybe the Bulldogs are strong this year.

Aside from this, I was wondering if there would be any possibility of Cal Poly returning our yell leader's megaphone that was taken by your rooters during our game. We've been using an old high school megaphone since that time. If you could do this small thing for us, we would appreciate it very much.

Sincerely
George Allen, AMB Proxy
